Student Day Set By Methodists

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Methodists throughout the nation will honor their sons and daughters of college age Sunday, June 13 by officialy observing Methodist Student Day with special worship services.

An important feature of these special services in local Methodist churches will be the receiving of offerings to provide scholarships and loans for worthy young people now attending or preparing to enter college. Such offerings last year made possible the awarding of 500 scholarships worth approximately $160,000 for the academic year 1947-48.

Awards for 1948-49 are expected to exceed this number. Since 1945-46 when National Methodist Scholarships were first provided, more than 1200 awards worth $360,000 have been made.

Beatrice Mason Dies At Home

Beatrice J. Mason, 58, widow of the late Dr. Ernest A. Mason, died Saturday a her thome following a short illness. Mr. Mason born in Columbus, Ohio, came to California in 1921 and settled her family on 52nd Place. She has been affiliated with many social and civic organizations, but is best known for her work with the Women's Political Study Club.

She is survived by a daughter, Emily Mason Hickman, two sons, Wilbur and Ernest Mason and a sister, Mrs. Clarence A. Jones.

Church Leaders Praise Wallace Peace Fight

Henry Wallace was praised as a "leader in the cause of peace among people throughout the world," by A.M.E. Church leaders in one of the most significant pronouncements to come out of the 33rd Quadrennial Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church meeting whach was held recently in Kansas City, Kansas, at the Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hall.

Characterizing Wallace as an example of a Christian leader "who stands up for the rights of the Negro people nd the Jewish people as well as Protestants and Catholics," nine bishops signed the statement, which was released shortly after Senator Glen H. Taylor, Wallace's running mate, addressed the Conference on his fight against Jim Crow in Birmingham, Alabama.

Important Signers

The statement wass igned by Bishop S. L. Green of the 9th Episcopal District, Alabama; Bishop W. A. Fountain Sr., of the 12th iDstrict, Oklahoma and Arkansas; Bishop A. J. Allen of the 3rd District, Ohio and West Virginia; Bishop J. H. Clayburn of the 13th District, Kentucky and Tennesseee; Bishop R. R. Wright of the 6th District, Georgia; Bishop H. Y. Tookes of the 10th District, Texas; Bishop G. H. Baber of the 4th District, Chicago, Michigan, Indiana; Bishop D. Ward Nichols of the 1st District, New York, and Bishop D. Ormonde Walker of the 5th District, Missouria, Colorado, Kansas, California.

The complete text of the statement follows:

"We, the following Bishops of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, in recognition of Henry Wallace as a Christian and as a leader in the cause of peace among people throughout the world, apart from political reasons, but as a Christian who stands up for the rights of the Negro people and the Jewish people as well as Protestants and Catholics, hereby commend the Honorable Henry A. Wallace for his contribution to the cause of a living Christianity to which our daily lives are dedicated."

Holy Pentecostal church is holding its meetings at the Elk Hall, 4016 S. Central, Wednesday, June 9, at 7 p.m., sponsored by Prophetess Turned and others.

Good speakers and good singing will be featured. Phophetess Turner is asking for 10,000 good women and men to work with them. Women who want to do something. Women who want success. Women and men who stand for Righteousness.

Do not pray over it. You plainly see your condition, it is time to work and not faint. God is calling you to wake up . Read 68 Psalms, 31st verse — build your house now.

Prophetess Turner, a divine healer, will pray for the sick. The public is invited to come out and hear this wonderful woman of God, who claims the power to raise the dead, give sight to the blind, and heal all manner of diseases; tuberculosis, goitres, cancers and rheumatism. She professes to recove pain within five minutes by the laying on of hands through the power of God.

Bible evidence according to Acts 2-4. Acts 3-9, 36 to 41. She advises: "Read your Bibles and get faith and be healed of thine infirmities. Prayer changes things."

Many have beep healed by letters, according to her claims. Write P. O. Box 734, Los Angeles 53, California.

Goodwill Singers Will Tour Soon

Professor J. Earle Hines, and the Goodwill Singers appear in Sacramento, California, June 7, where they will stage a concert at the Shiloh Baptist Church of that city.

During their recent tour of the Southwest, Professor Hines and his sensational singers broke all previous records.

The singers plan a tour of the nation, climaxing the tour with an appearance in New York. Under contract to Capitol Records, their sales of releases soared over the 100,000 mark last week, and continue to climb.

Professor Hines, who is arranger and conductor of the group, has won nationwide fame for his work with choral groups. He is the organizer and director of the Echoes of Eden Choir of the St. Paul Baptist Church here.

Mrs. Mattie S. Nelson In Services Sunday

The women of Bowen Memorial Methodist Church (East 36th and Trinity) will present Mrs. Mattie Scott Nelson in vesper services on Sunday, June 6, at 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. Nelson, first Negro layman elected by the Southern California - Arizona Conference and only Negro elected representative from the West Coast to the General Conference which convened in Boston, Mass., recently, will bring a report on the General Conference as she saw it. There will be participating guests from the Southern California-Arizona Conference, the District and the local churches. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Senior and Youth Choirs of Bowen. A reception will follow the program in Lovinggood Hall—local church hostesses will have charge. The public is cordially invited. Rev. John C. Bain is minister.

Baha'i Public Meeting

Spiritual Integration is the subject on the lecture to be given by Mrs. Virginia Foster at the public meeting of the Baha'i World Faith to be held at their Los Angeles headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue, on Sunday afternoon, June 6, at 3:00 o'clock.

The Baha'i Movement imparts life. It is the cause of love and amity. It bestows upon man a new spirit, a new light, and a new motion.

Jewish Labor Council to Conduct Bazaar

The American Jewish Labor Council, which is composed of 20 trade unions, AFL and CIO, will conduct a three day bazaar June 5, 6 and 7 at Parkview Manor. This constitutes one of the many projects that are now going on to aid the Freedom of Israel struggle. The funds from the bazaar will be used for this purpose.

Plant workers composed of Mexicans, Jews and Negroes, organized to produce bazaar materials. In the furniture industry $3000 worth of furniture was made specialyy for the bazaar; the jewelry trade is making a similar contribution.

Organized to combat anti-Semitism and discrimination generally but more particularly in shops and factories, the Council will also give a portion of the proceeds to fight initiating laws such as the Buckley bill. And the cooperatives of Jewish workers in Europe also receive their support. The public is invited to this gala and worthy event. There will be dancing, entertainment, refreshments and numerous bargains.

CARE Gifts Bring Thank You Notes

Many Angelenos are receiving letters of thanks from Princess Elizabeth in Buckingham Palace this week as a result of their giving gifts of CARE food packages to her on her wedding day last November.

The gifts were sent by the Share Through CARE Committee, headed up by Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and were sent to hundreds of widows and children throughout England.

CARE, 217 West 9th Street, is continuing to send the extra food and textiles for clothing packages to the needy in all parts of Europe.

Rescue Mission Gives Food

The House of Prayer Rescue Mission for All Nations, 924 Hemlock street, rescues the poor and needy, gives food and clothes and free meals. Clothes, dishes, or furniture will be appreciated at the Mission. Call G. J. Jones, VA. 3326.

cal fellowship" will be held at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening, June 8, at the First Baptist church of Los Angeles, 760 S. Westmoreland, sponsored by the Church Federation of Los Angeles.

Dr. William Warren Sweet, noted author and professor emeritus of Church History, University of Chicago, will bring the message of the evening, "Ecumenicity Begins at Home." Special music will be furnished by the Boys Choir of St. Paul's Cathedral.

The Melodic Singers are rendering a program at the Victory Baptist Church, 48 and McKinley Ave. June 9, 1948 at 8:00 P.M. for the benefit of the Outdoor Life and Health Association asking all friends to come and support this hospital for they are really in need of funds. Hear such outstanding speakers as Dr. Leonard Stovall and others. The Melodic Singers will be the featured Singers on the program of which V. L. Hall is President.

Will Rogers Jr. Petitions To Adopt Navajo Lad

Nine year old Shazzie Endischee, a Navajo Indian boy, will be the adopted son of Will Rogers Jr. when the procedure necessary to such adoption is finally completed. According to Loren Miller, attorney for Rogers, the petition was filed last week, and it is believed the consent of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs will have to be obtained before the boy becomes a member of the Rogers family.

Rogers and his wife, Colleen Connell Rogers, have no children. The boy they propose to adopt was born on the Navajo Reservation in Arizona where the Rogers were visiting when news of the adoption was released. Young Will Rogers is the son of the late beloved humorist and philosopher, Will Rogers Sr., and he is part Cherokee Indian. Mrs. Rogers' father is a former Government Indian Agent.

Young Artists Present Concert

Dr. Anneliese Landau, music director of the Jewish Centers Association, announces that the winners of the Beverly-Fairfax Jewish Community Center's 1947-48series for young artists, "Musicians in the Making," are Joseph Schwartz, pianist; Howard Ross, tenor, and Marguerite Heller, pianist. The three young artists will be presented by the Center in a special concert to be held Sunday evening, June 20, at the Assistance League Playhouse.

"Musicians in the Making" is an informal series of concerts conducted by the Center to give an opportunity to young talented artists to be heard before the public. The series is sponsored by the Center's Music Committee of which Max Laemmle and Dr. Simson Marcus are co-chairmen. Tickets for this concert are now on sale at 8008 Beverly Boulevard.

Playground Bill Delayed by Red Tape Signed by Mayor

Mayor Bowron signed the ordinance condemning the property for a playground between 88th Place and 89th Street and between Avalon and San Pedro Streets. This ordinance was introduced to the City Council by Councilman Kenneth Hahn of the 8th District who has been fighting for the past three months through red tape and governmental procedures to obtain the first playground under the $12,000,000 bond issue.

After the Mayor signs it, according to the laws of the City of Los Angeles, it is published in a legal paper and the law does not become effective for thirty more days.

JORDON WINS STATE TRACK CHAMPIONSHIP

Sports of All Sorts

By Stanley Robertson, Eagle Sports Editor

Here and There . . . George Parnassus, manager of Enrique Bolanos, is this week bellowing about town that his boy Enrique was suffering from an injury that hindered him to such an extent that he could not perform against Ike Williams in the manner he whished he could. . . . Parnassus is also saying that Enrique was robbed; that he should have been given the decision. The things that Mr. Parnassus has been saying are becoming all to numerous in the fight game today. . . . Every time a fighter is decisioned, the manager of the fighter right away claims there's either something wrong with his boy or that the judges are "blind old men who don't know the first thing about boxing anyway." . . . Sitting at ringside the other Tuesday night, it was evident that Ike Williams wasn't the cold killer of old. . . . It was also evident that Bolanos had come a long way since the first fight with Williams, but it was More evident after sitting through the 15 round go that Ike Williams was still far and away the better of the two. . . . After seeing the fight pictures you'll agree. . . . Of course it's evident why Parnassus is claiming robbery and other things! Georgeie boy likes the sound his cut of Bolanos' purse of $18,000 bucks make in his jeens. . . . Georgie boy wants another rematch with Williams for Bolanos and he's going about it the way all modern day managers take; the ballyhoo method. . . . Parnassus knows that with such ballyhoo another Bolanos-Williams fight would draw a crowd in almost any city in the country. . . . So hence comes the wild ravings. . . . Personally I'd like to see Ike and Enrique hook up again so that Ike could quell the Bolanos fans forever by sending the Durango lad down the woozy road to Queer Street, but I'm not in favor of the Parnassus method of getting another fight. . . . Why should fans be urged to attend a rematch of a fight that was one sided, on the pretense that there was something foul or something physically wrong with one of the fighters? . . . Until such practices of fight ballyhooing are dropped by the managers of the game, the American fight game will still be in low repute by the Public. . . . Edwin Young of Jefferson won the city high school high jump championship for the third straight time when he won top honors at the finals at the Coliseum Relays. . . . Young, who happens to be one of the few top athletes who is a top scholar as well, will probably be jumping for Ducky Drake's UCLA Bruin Frosh come next spring. . . . Young was awarded a scholarship to the Bruin institution by the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, and I understand he has more than the grade average necessary for entrance into the tough Westwood institution. . . . Speaking of Westwood, for the first time in the history of the Bruin school, a Negro has been elected Head Yell Leader. . . . The young man who will be out in front of the Blue and Gold rooting section next year is Sherrill Luke, assistant Yell Leader last fall and a graduate of L. A. High where he was Yell Leader also. . . . Best of luck to the New Bruin Yell King. . . . The Daily News honored Jordan's Fred Thompson in its "High School Hall of Fame" last Tuesday. . . . Thompson was chosen for his outstanding ability upon the cinder path. . . . We'd like to congratulate the Daily News and especially the creator of "High School Hall of Fame," Maury Kapp for their fair and unbiased selection of top prep athletes. . . . Some of the other Negro prepsters who have been honored in the past are: Bobby Smith from Jordan, Ed Wallace of Dorsey, and Edwin Young from Jefferson. . . . By placing second behind Donnie Anderson of Cal in the 100 and 220 Friday night at the Coliseum in the Pacific Coast Track and Field Meet, Ernie Lighter of UCLA will get a free ride to Champaigne, Illinois, early this month when the PCC and the Big Nine hook up. . . . He'll be the only Negro on the Coast squad. . . . Off his performance in the Coliseum Relays a couple of weeks ago, Billy Anderson, former Dorsey High ace and now competing for the Lakland Army Air Base, should be considered the number 4 high hurdler in the nation behind Harrison Dillard, Craig Dixon, and Bill Potter . . . UCLA will lose due to the fact that he played at Iowa State last year, probably the best fullback to come to Westwood in many moon, Dave Williams, rugged 200 odd pounder from the Cornhusker state. . . . Williams is rough, tough, fast and aggressive—all the things a great fullback must have—but due to the rules against transferring from one school to another, he won't be eligible until '49. . . . Dave Minor will probably never wear another Bruin uniform. . . . He's interested in playing for an outfit such as the Oakland Bittners or Phillips Oilers. . . . Too much travel and grind for him to go with the Globetrotters he says. . . . Although he says he'll go back to Oregon in the Fall, John Finney will probably never play for another collegiate team. . . . Looks like the pros have too much to offer the great Compton back. . . . Bob Boyd is called by Loyola coach, Bill Sargent "the best pass catching end on the coast." . . . Billy English, member of the Loyola Frosh grid team last year, looked good enough in practice to be seriously considered a candidate for the star studded varsity backfield which includes Al Pollard, and his mates . . . Fritz Crisler calls the L. A. Don's new end Leonard Ford, "the best all around player I ever coached." . . . Ford's side kick Bob Mann will cantor for the Detroit Lions of the NFL this Fall . . . not the Washington Redskins as rumored . . . Two local institutions are having troubles with their track stars and coaches. . . . At Los Angeles City College, star sprinters Billy Mitchell and Fred Sims are off the National JC Champion Cub squad over disagreements with coach Wendell Smith. . . . Out along the Pepperdine trail, Lavert Patterson, the school's top half miler, and member of the Drake Relay winning Pepperdine two mile quartet, along with several others, has also parted company with Coach Eddie Weens. . . . Is the rumor which is floating about the athletic world true that Roy Cochran cast the lone dissenting vote that kept Lloyd LaBeach out of the Los Angeles Athletic Club? . . . According to the Club's rules, each new member must receive a unanimous vote to be accepted. Cochran was supposedly to have voted against LaBeach because the Jamaican Flyer would give him more competition than he wanted in the sprints. . . . Contrary to what was falsely reported in the L. A. Herald, Herb McKenley did not run to Boston last Saturday. . . . He hung around town resting for his coming race this Friday night at the Compton Invitational with Dave Bolen, the flying Colorado lad.

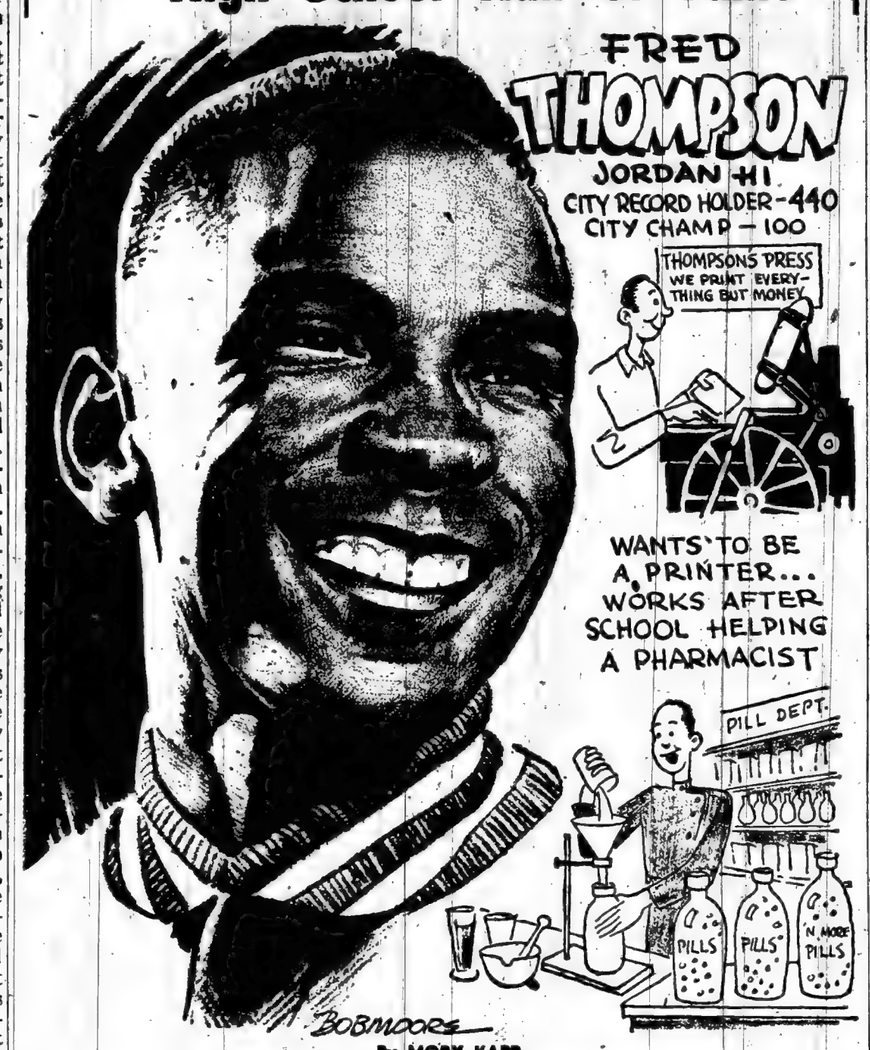
Fight On—Louis; Off—W. Winchell

POMPTON LAKES, N. J.—Weighing 217 pounds and feeling better than "I have since before the War," Heavyweight Champion of the World Joe Louis flatly denied reports made by Radio columnist Walter Winchell that the coming June 23 fight between he and challenger Jersey Joe Wolcott would be postponed due to the Champ's poor physical condition.



"I feel like a new man," said the Champion, "and I'm getting tired of the crports put out by the people who say that my physical condition is poor. I figure to weight around 215 when I climb into the ring against Joe Wolcott on the 23, and nothing in the World will keep me from being there," the Bomber remarked.

"As for Winchell's claim," Louis continued, "although I think a lot of the man, I'll have to say that it is silly and absurd. All the fat in the world couldn't keep me from a rematch with Wolcott."

On his Sunday (May 30,) Mutual Broadcasting System broadcast, Winchell was reported as saying that the June 23 fight in Yankee Stadium between Wolcott and Louis would be postponed due to the Champion's lack of getting into top condition.

Fred Thompson's amazing track and field career at Jordan High is one of the rarest individual chronicles ever seared out upon the cinderpaths by a prep performer.

Our latest Hall of Fame hero and newly-crowned city and state 440-yard kingpin, who helped the Bill Zazueta-Norman Forster Bulldogs to league, city and state championships, has been aflame ever since he was a freshman when (only 15 years of age) he—

Flashed to a 21.7 furlong that equalled the swiftest town ticking of the year; a 10 flat 100 that matched the speediest in the Eastern loop; and a 51.8 quartermile, one of the five fastest winning figures in the borough.

Since then, notwithstanding a six-weeks layoff last spring because of a pulled muscle, Fred has—

In 440, bagged the circuit blue ribbon twice, once as soph, once as senior; finished runnerup twice to the city champ, once to the state monarch, and then this term slashed school and city records with a slick 48.9, after which he drove on to one of the two official state titles.

(His 49.2 was .6 seconds better than the other winner, Jefferson's Luther Butler, 1947 state kingpin whom Thompson had beaten in the city final the week before.)

In 100, he hit 9.9 as a soph and this semester, in addition to a 9.7, matched the league standard of 9.8. He won the City 100 in 9.9.

In 220, on the first and only occasion Thompson essayed the distance since 1945, he cycloned out a 21 flat, an aiding wind, though, blowing off some of the luster.

In relay, he shared in two city champion mile octets, one of them smashing a Jordan record, and anchored two state 880 championship foursomes.

Fred's only 5 feet 9 inches, 154 pounds, but he possesses, in coordination with long, powerful leg muscles, the spirit of speed and a competitive heart which provide him an irresistible come-through kick in the stretch that makes him invincible—that makes him truly, as his admirers call him—the Fury of the 440.

Pearman Stars But NYU Beaten

NEW YORK—Although Olympic candidate Reggie Pearman came through with a blistering win in the 440 and anchored his relay team to second place, New York university's favored Violet track squad lost the 1C4A championships to a surprising Yale university squad by four points here Saturday night, 37-33. Michigan State placed third with 21½ points.

Scoring heavily in the field events and the dashes, the Eli's won their first crown since 1924 in the 74th renewal of the nation's oldest track and field meet.

Pearman, the long-legged bespectacled Negro (middle-distance man, raced the 440 in 47.9 to outdistance Fox of Seton Hall. Pearman came back later to run a blistering anchor lap on the NYU relay team but couldn't quite catch the flying Stanley Thigen of Seton Hall, the winner.

Lorenzo Wright of Michigan State won the broad jump with a leap of 24 feet 1⅝ inches. Stanley Thigen, another Negro contestant, running for Seton Hall, placed third in the 880 and anchored the winning relay squad.

Trotters Still Unbeaten

The hard hitting Los Angeles Globetrotter softball team extended its winning string to 15 straight Monday night at Hawthorne City Park when they blanked the West Pak Indians 9-0.

With Jimmy Potts and Tommy Miller dividing chucking scores, the Trotters only allowed their rivals 2 well scattered hits. Carl Green led the hitting department with 3 singles.

5500 Watch Bulldogs Come Through in Drizzling Rain As Jefferson Places Second

Special to the California Eagle

BERKELEY—Grabbing firsts in the 440, broadjump, and 880 relay, fourth and fifth in the 100 and 220, and a second in the 120 yard high hurdles, Jordan High School of Los Angeles won the 1948 California State Interscholastic Track and Field Championship here at the University of California's Edwards Field, before 55,000 fans who sat in a drizzling rain Saturday afternoon.

Coach Bill Zazueta's Bulldog spikesmen garnered a total of 22 points to edge Jefferson High School, also of Los Angeles, which placed second with 20 5/16 points. Compton High School made the meet a Southern California affair by grabbing third place with 18 points.

The amazing Bulldogs, Los Angeles City High School champions, won the meet as predicted, by scoring as follows:

1. Fred Thompson, L. A. City Champion, won the first race of the 440 by defeating Hollywood High School's George Adrian in a thrilling race by 3 yards in the time of 49.2.

2. George "Buddy" Brown, also L. A. City Champion, won the broad jump with a leap of 23 ft., 2¼ inches. Bobby Smith, favored to grab a second for the Bulldogs in the leaping event, went unplaced.

3. The Blue and White half-mile relay quartet of Commodore Childs, Bobby Smith, Ed Crawford and Fred Thompson, outdistanced Jefferson by four yards to win in 1:29.8. The time was slow due to the wet track.

4. Ed Crawford placed fourth and fifth in the century and furlong.

5. Lonnie Jackson finished second in the 120 yard high hurdles.

Jefferson High School probably lost the meet in the morning preliminaries when Oliver Gordon, leading in the 180 yard low hurdles, tripped and fell on the last hurdle and went unplaced. Jefferson racked up 20. 5/6 points by having their 880 relay team place second to Jordan by four yards. The team was composed of Oliver Gordon, Asworth Mingleton, Jim Jones and Luther Butler.

Luther Butler won the second race of the 440 in 49.9, Edwin Young tied for first in the high jump with Dick Bronback of Long Beach Poly at 6 ft. 3 in., Bill Johnson grabbed a second in the broad jump with a leap of 2 ft., 10¼ in. Paul Johnson (no relation) added points to the Democrat cause by placing third in the high hurdles, and Jim Howard tied for 4th in the high jump.

Other Negroes Star

Negro athletes placed in almost every event. The most oustanding being: Ed Wallace, L. A. City Champ half miler from Dorsey who lost a thrilling race to Firestone of Compton by inches in the time of 1:57.8. Wallace tried three times to catch the Compton ace in the homestretch but couldn't quite make it. Ollie Mattson of San Francisco's Washington High School, placed third in both dashes. Mattson is a member of the Oakland Bittner AAU relay team which boast Lloyd La Beach, and Louis Keyser, brother of Pepperdine College hurdler Thomas Keyser, placed fourth in the 120 yard high hurdles.

Williams' Purse in Legal Tieup

PHILADELPHIA—Frank (Blinky) Palermo, co-manager of Lightweight Champion Ike Williams left by plane for California last night to attempt collection of Williams' purse for his championship bou with Enrique Bolanos last week.

Williams defeated Bolanos at Los Angeles, but his purse was impounded by a claim of $40,000 put in by Los Angeles Promoter Joe Lynch. Lynch claimed he signed Williams for a nontitle bout with John Thomas, a West Coast fighter two years ago.

The fight never came off, but Lynch claimed he would have profited $40,000 on the mill, and asked that amount in damages. Williams' purse from the Bolanos bout was held up.

Palermo interrupted negotiations with Herman Taylor for a title bout with Beau Jack next month to make the trip to the coast. The bout would be staged in Shibe Park early in July.

More than 250,000 pounds of meat and poultry are consumed in Los Angeles daily, all of it stored and sold under the supervision of the city health department.

SPORTRAIT

Leonard Evans, L. A. City College Southland's Only JC Olympic Hope

By Chancellor Edwards

A long desired ambition to be able to participate in the Olympic Games was renewed for Leonard Evans, undefeated Los Angeles City College Cub broadjumper, when he established the nation's best mark in the hope, step and jump event of the 22nd Annual West Coast Relays held at Fresno's Ratcliffe Stadium on May 15, 1948, with a jump of 47 feet, 5½ inches.

A high school track man, Evans had hoped to make the 1952 Olympic team as a hurdler until a serious foot injury received while high jumping handicapped him. He still holds the Southern League "C" high jump record of 5 feet, 10¾ inches.

Defating second place winner, Don Barksdale, ex- UCLA athlete who represented the Oakland Bittners by 6¾ inches, he also outdistanced Bob Beckus of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the 1947 National A.A.U. Track and Field Champion in the hop, step, and jump, by 11¾ inches.

Having first tried out for the hop, step, and jump, only one week previous to the Fresno relays, the Cub jumper proved his ability by jumping 45 ft, 3 inches in his first effort in the event.

Undefeated in his regular event—the broad jump, during the entire 1948 track season, he also made his best mark, 23 feet, 10½ inches at the Fresno Relays.

Evans never practices for jumping events. "Constant training generally weakens my ankle, so I have to limit my training to short dashes, 40 or 50 yards, to build up pseed and muscle control, and to calisthenics to keep my muscles limber," he states.

Versatile in other lines of endeavor besides track, the Cub jumper designs his own clothes, and plays piano "from the Classics to Bop." He also sketches portraits, and proof of his ability is a second, place award, which he won in the American Legion Poster Contest in September of 1945.

Now a first year architectural major at Los Angeles City College, Evans plans to continue there for another year. Then he intends to finish at the University of California at Berkeley which awarded him a scholarship after his graduation from Polytechnic High School with the winter class of 1947.

A three-year "B" letterman at Polytechnic High School, he ran both the high hurdles and the low hurdles, and broadjumped. In the 1946 All-City High School Championships, he was triple first place winner. He was timed at 8:9 seconds for the high hurdles, 70 yard; and 13.4 for the low hurdles,126 yards; and his distance for the broadjump was 22 feet, 3¼ inches. His best high school broadjump distince of 22 feet, 7¼ inches was made at the Pasadena Relays.

Horse Show

More than 300 entries are now in the box for the Seventh Edition of the Los Angeles National Horse Show, which will be held at the Horse Palace on Riverside Drive, from June 15th to June 20th. There will be six evening performances and two matinees on the program.

ON THE TURF

— Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, OLD MEXICO—Before a holiday crowd of 7000 lovers of the Sport of Kings saw Darfi Air the good son of Arigotal-Dark Heroine, come back to the races after a long layoff to capture the main attraction called "The Poppy" at one and 1/16 miles defeating some of the best distances handicap horses south of the border. Taking the lead at the break, Dark Air was never headed although he had to be hard ridden to stall off the closing bid of his nearest rival Carioship who made a mild favorite by the fans. The winner paid the good price of $12.00, $6.40, $4.00 across the board. The secondary feature "The Memorial" at six furlongs was won by the outsider Ghost Hunt, beating such fast speed burners as ALMO Boy, Vettura, Ronnie Vee and others. Coming with a rush in the final sixteenth The Ghost won, going away paying $12.20, $6.40, $4.00. Caliente's leading apprentice rider J. D. Porter suffered a wrenched back when thrown by Top Tune in the paddock before the running of the eighth race. Before the accident Porter had ridden two winners. His injury was reported not serious and the fans hope to see him back in the saddle this Sunday. The daily double combination of Quepaso, a field horse and Wine Punch, who won the second and third races, paid $71.00 while the Quinelia holder of the Lucky One, two horses in the twelveth race received $76.00 when Whistler Carter was first and Wave High finished second. General Manager Walter C. Marty has lined up an all star card of twelve races this Sunday with two feature

Howard Clubs Oberlin, 71-56

OBERLIN, Ohio—A crack Howard University Track team, fresh from winning the CIAA championship earlier this month at Hampton Institute, defeated Oberlin College's rack team at Oberlin, Ohio Saturday by a score of 71 to 56 before some 6,000 spectators. The meet represented the first intercollegiate athletic event ever held between the two schools.

Two Oberlin Stadium records fell during the meet. The eight-year-old broad jump record of 23 feet 4 inches, established by Sam E. Barnes in 1940, was shattered by Tankard Marshall, Howard sophomore, who also won the CIAA championship in this event. Marshall leaped 23 feet 8 inches to establish a new record.

M. Logie, of Oberlin, broke the discus record, with a throw of 140 feet three inches to shatter the old record of 139 feet three inches.

William Collins, stellar sophomore performer, won individual honors of the day by breaking the tape in four different events. Collins won the 220 yard dash in 23.1 seconds; the 440-yard dash

Phil Thomas was Oberlin's outstanding single performer, winning both the mile and half mile events.

The summaries:
100-yard dash—Humphrey (H).
880-yard relay — Howard (Lee, Keane, Bright, Collins). Time—1:32.1.
220-yard dash—Collins (H).
440-yard dash—Collins (H). Time—51.7.
880-yard dash—Thomas (O). Time—2:06.7.
One-mile run—Bruce (H); Thomas (O). Time—4:28.1. (Bruce was only running exhibition.)
Two-mile run—Turlin (O). Time—10:36.6.
200-yard low hurdles — Lee (H). Time—26.5.
120-yard high hurdles—Walton (O). Time—16.1.
Pole vault—Rockey (O). Height—10 feet.
High jump—Blackwell (O). Height—6 ft. 2 inches.
Broad jump—Marshall (H). Discus—Logie (O). Distance—140 ft. 3 inches. New record, old record 139 ft. 3 inches.)
Shot put—Jones (H). Distance—41 ft. 1 inch.
Mile relay — Howard (Lassiter, Keane, Bright, Collins). Time—3:30.6.
Total points—Howard 71, Oberlin 56.

Negro Baseball Games Aired In Cleveland

CLEVELAND — For the first time in the hostory of Negro professional baseball, the games of one of the teams will be broadcasted by a large radio station, it was learned this week when radio station WSRS, a local station here, contracted to broadcast all the home games of the Cleveland Buckeyes of the Negro American League.

The deal to broadcast the Buck's home games was concluded on Wednesday, May 26, when Franklin Folts, director of WSRS, Ernie Wright, owner of the Buckeyes, and Bennie Nason, who will sponsor the program, met to sign the contracts.

Danny Landu, local sports announcer, and J. S. "Doc" Young, prominent member of the sporting fraternity locally, will handle the actual end of the broadcasting.

NOTES, NEWS AND NONESENSE

Raves, raves and nothing but raves coming in about lovely Lena Horne now appearing out at Slapsy Maxies, she is definately a show stopper, having to come back again, and again, she is a much different Lena that I can recall a few years ago, so charming, so graceful, so well poised and most of all the girl sings, she was well received with oldies like Honeysuckle Rose and Deed I Do . . . And so, Felix Nelson now has a Hemstead exchange in case you're not hep the guy along with his pretty blue eyed wife are now residing in their Laurel Canyon home . . . Nothing but big name attractions scheduled for the Cricket Club, the Revens, Sarah Vaugn, Billy Eckstein and Billy Holliday . . . The dancing of Tip, Tap and Toe going over with a bang at Tom Brenniman's new nite spot, also the music of C. L. Burk . . . Snowball Whittier tells us he's in love, so much so that he's gonna marry that little dimpled cutie you see him spending all his time with . . . You haven't heard anything, until you hear the tonsil tickling of Art Duncan at the Cricket Club, it's ultra, ultra! . . . The music of the Five Bits of Rythem naturally rocks things over at the Last Word, where the voice of Bobbie Caston has been, brought back by popular request . . . Letter from one of our faves Mable Scott with hubby in Las Vegas and appearing at the swanky El Rancho there . . . will return to L. A. for a short stay after completing engagement there . . . The band of Lionel Hampton heard weekly over that coast to coast network sounds swingsational as ever . . . Wispered conversations about the stick-up of a house of ill repute (as some folks put it) in which more than a coupla grand was lifted . . . And that's all I know about it brother! . . . In closing we wanta leave you with this "The better a woman looks, the longer a man does." . . . Gowns for the wedding of Jessie Mae Brown are being designed by the noted designer Julian Dempsey.

Lena Horne Solidly Sends Scribe With Singing at Slapsie Maxie's

HOLLYWOOD (NPB)—Add to laurels already won, a new stardom for Lena Horne. The beauteous Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer star, easily took on a new star when she opened Wednesday night as a night club entertainer at Slapsie Maxie's famed nitery on Wilshire boulevard. In debut, her success is assured.

Miss Horne, who has already won acclaim as a screen singing star, eclipsed anything she has ever done, in the way of song presentation, when she made her appearance as a night club favorite before a capacity audience in the swank Hollywood club.

While the audience was responsive, it was plain to newsfolk invited there for the opening, that each act on the program would have to win its approval through sheer excellence of performance.

This writer hastens to report that Miss Horne did this and more. The movie crowd of stars, producers, directors and technicians, are ordinarily known as "tough" on performers. They generally "sit on their hands" to keep from applauding an act.

Although the exact opposite was the order of things at the opening, it is this writer's opinion that the applause was free, voluntary and genuine that greeted each of her numbers and brought her back for encore after encore. Inasmuch as has already been reported, that Miss Horne was in rare form and toughed new heights, a further report on the happenings would have to include the prediction that your favorite movie singer is a definite cinch to emerge top vocalist in the night club entertainment field.

Regardless of how much the public has appreciated the singing ability of Lena Horne, the Horne heard here Wednesday evening will truly dwarf that appreciation into insignificance. Her stage precence, her entertainment technique and the quality tone modulations, give her singing a fine dramatic finese that spells entertainment at its ultime. Miss Horne must be regarded as a "new" luminary on the firmament of the nation's entertaining stars. Fresh from European triumphs, Miss Horne returns a much improved personality. She is graciously at ease, fairly oozing with confidence that comes with proven excellence.

Miss Horne headed a star-studded cast which included Jack Cole and his dancers, Paul Winchell, noted ventriloquist and his stooge Donohue and others. Lucius Henderson is Miss Horne's principal accompanist and arranger.

Dick Stabile's fine orchestra supplied the music for the show.

Monty's Crew to Broadcast Over Joe's Program

Monty Easter and his crew will be the guest band on the Joe Adams "Mayor of Melody" show over station KOWL next week. No definite date has been set as to the band's appearance on the popular record-spining air show, due to the fact that some of the musicians, in addition to their playing with the band, hold down daytime jobs. However, "The Mayor of Melody" expects to get the combo together for a Sunday airing.

Monty has the new up-and-coming young band that is the talk of music circles! Instrumentally, the Easter crew stacks up as a natural, and their playing proves that the band is far, far better than most present day crop of swingsters who list themselves "big time."

Easter boosters will rejoice at the issuance of Monty's latest recordings. "Boogie Woogie Man," "It's Heaven," "ooOh Lawdy Lawdy" and " I Love My Man." Nothing in the recordings that hasn't been done by Easter before, but it's done particularly well.

Rex Ingram Movie Role Exceptional

"The character of Mose in the new movie 'Moonrise' is the best ever written for a Negro," veteran stage and screen actor Rex Ingram declares in a July Ebony photo-preview of the Republic Studios' feature film which co-stars Dane Clark and Gail Russell.

Mose is played by Ingram himself who says the role is a strange and remarkable anom-

Eugene Jackson Is Now Leading Hot Swing Trio

ONE OF THE most-talked about musical trios in Hollywood today is the sensational Jackson trio, opening June 3 with George White's Scandals at the new Florentine Gardens theatre-restaurant. The aggregation, under the leadership of Eugent Jackson, who was one of our great child stars, has scored a tremendous success in the East and seems destined to hit the top of the musical ladder with their new style of playing.

Jackson, who played the role of "Chinkapin" in the movie, "Hearts in Dixie," and one of the leading roles in "Cimarron," gave up his picture career to enter into the music profession. He's a dancer. He can sing. He can act, and the guy plays about every musical instrument in the band. In the trio, however, he plays only the tenor sax, and from rave notices in various trade magazines and papers, he toots a tenor right up there with the best of them!

Following the close of their Florentine Gardens engagement, the Jackson trio will leave for New York where they have a contract to make nightclub and television appearances. Eugene is aided and abbetted by Jerome "Tyrone" Parsons, piano, and Freddie Jackson, drums.

So Proudly The Lab. Presents

It would take a lot to excell last year's series of one-act plays but if past performances are any record the public can well be assured that this year's productions of the Actor's Lab will be equally exciting. For the next two weekends the Lab will present four one act plays around the theme that Jim-Crow must go if we are o live in a world to grow . . . in understanding and unity.

Kenneth's White's original and timely play "Freight" is one of the most gripping of the series. Directed by Arthur Singer the all-Negro cast includes Joel Fluellen, Emmitt

LA TANYA'S the name and she's a teasing torso-twister currently appearing at the Last Word in the "Stars on Parade" show. La Tanya's appeared in many of the top clubs on the nightclub circuit, and is one of the top hip-hurlers around today. Hers is an act that's crowded with class!

NEGRO HOUSING FILM

Hollywood—Edward Dmytryck, director, and Adrian Scott, producer, two of the ten film writers, producers and directors, who won postponement from the Federal Court on contempt charges, are financing an independent film, entitled, "Albert Sears." The film is a hard-boiled-straight-forward message, dealing unflinchingly with the Negro housing problem. It promises to seep deep into the very foundation of prejudices and covenants as they have been practiced in this country.

Cannery activitles in the harbor area are beginning to pick up with the arrival of tuna from Mexico and South America.

SHARPS 'N FLATS

Les Jeunes Artists

Opportunities for musical expression are most important to our youth and perhaps more so if those individuals desiring expression have created their own opportunities. Les Jeunes Artists is an organization composed of teen-agers whose love for music has solidified a sincere and determined association. This group is the Youth Division of the Los Angeles Musicians Association, and has as its advisors Mrs. Marjorie Tucker and Mrs. Lucille Pulliam. On last Tuesday evening in Second Baptist Church, this group presented its first annual musical. The program consisted of instrumental, vocal, orchestral, and piano ensemble selections. The group was assisted by the Youth Choir of Phillips Temple C.M.E. Church, Clifford Holland, conductor. The performance opened with Sanit-Saens "Danse Macabre" and Moussorgsky's "Hopak" played by a piano quartet, consisting of Thelma Brown, Mary Drye, Joellen Johnson, Roy Thorton. Professor William T. Wilkens was the piano coach. These selections were metrononically precise. Laura Hall's rendition of "City Called Heaven" was sincere and moving. Meyerbeer's "Coronation March" and Ketebey's "In a Persian Market" were the offerings of the orchestra. This group displayed keen interest, and although not always euphonious they were thrilling to see and hear. Emma Jo Smith and Nelson Alexander, were contributors in the field of original composition. Miss Smith's work was reminescent of the style of Chopin or possibley Ravel, while Mr. Alexander's work was in the style of Ellington or Waller. Choral selections under the direction of Clifford Holland and Marjorie Carter were "Over My Head, I See Trouble in the Air," and James "Almighty God." The congratulations of the progressive minded lovers of the community are merited by Mrs. Carter who labored unselfishly to make this program a success.

Symphony at Jefferson

Complete with orchestra and soloists, the Highland Park Symphony Association, in cooperation with the newly formed Southwest Symphony Association, were presented in Guest Concert last Thursday evening in the Jefferson High School Auditoriuh. The orchestra under the direction of Chester A. Perry presented symphonic compositions by Rossini, Greig, and Schubert as well as other familar orchestral favorites. This group, of course, in no way compares with our highly professional Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, nor does its conductor engender any imaginative expression other than those recorded by the composer. The success of this concert was regarded by observers primarily as a motivating factor in the organization of a similar group in this area. Whether or not this incentive was affected will be determined in future months. At least we can say, that finally, Symphonic music has come to this area by way of this sincere group of community players. It will take the cooperation of all musicians and music lovers in this area to put such a program over, we know from the experience we had with the Jefferson Philharmonic Concert series. It must be launched with sincerity, seriously and unselfishly, and most assuredly cannot be successful overnight. Wathea Sims-Jones, contralto, and William Valentine, basso, were the soloists. We were sorry that our schedule did not permit a hearing of Mrs. Jones. Mr. Valentine's renditions were highly satisfactory.

Tea—Honoring
S. Luberta Chisholm

This event sponsored jointly by the Los Angeles Musicians Association and the Music Department of the People's Independent Church of Christ last Sunday afternoon in the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Garner, was most successful. The honored guest was entertained with piano and vocal selections by Opal Blye, Jacqueline Freeze, Gwendolyn Harriel, and Gerald Garrett. Miss Chisholm honored the assemblage with two very beautiful selections, one a French art song, and the other a Negro spiritual. This artist is the possessor of an unusually lyric soprano voice. Its belcano qualities, particularly in the higher register, are most pleasing and evoked a sincere ovation from those who attended. This distinguished Detroit musician, will be presented in Solo Recital on Sunday afternoon, June 6 at 5:00 p.m. in the Triangular Church of Truth, East 52nd Place at Wadsworth.

Hamp's Got a Complaint And It's a Good One Too

KANSAS CITY — The practice of labeling records made by Negro artists "race records" was hit this week by Lionel Hampton, whose recordings on the Decca label are familiar to thousands of record fans throughout the nation.

Hampton, who has "cut" many a "platter," brandeed the practice "un-American as well as illogical."

Pointing out the inconsistencies of this labeling system, Hampton said, "If a white band records his Decca hits, 'Hamp's Got a Duke' and 'Gone Again,' they are listed as 'swing' or 'popular' records, but when a Negro makes the same records for the same company, they are labeled 'race' records."

Speculation as to how the practice began brings to light many theories. It is remembered, for instance, that years ago many white "blackface" artists, imitating the great Bert Williams,

THEATRE — NITE SPOTS

J. T. Gipson, Theatrical Editor

HER FIRST RELEASE on Columbia Records are two charming little tunes, Candy Store Blues and Dolly's Lullaby. Essentially kiddies' tunes the nine year old artist combines the traditional blues with childhood dreams into pleasant lyric. Her amazing style and tonal quality is throughly grown-up and she is expected to skyrocket to fame sooner than said done. The Eddie Beale Sextet provides appropiate and delightful accompaniment.

Jim Wynn to Tour with T-Bone When He Starts National Tour

T-Bone Walker, at present, setting things on fire in San Francisco with his guitar playing and blues singing, returns to the City of the Angels on the night of June 11 to play at a dance at the C.I.O. hall. This will be the Bone's last dance hall engagement before beginning a nation-wide tour throughout most of the Southern States.

T-Bone is about as lucky as they come in getting superb musicians to background his playing and singing. He has always been fortunate in securing the services of top flight swing stars to accompany him on his tours. And when Mrs. Walker's little boy Aaron tees off on his forthcoming tour on the evening of June 11, he will be musically accompanied by the dynamic little band of sax-tooting Jim Wynn. Wynn is finally riding the tide of national popularity that is his long-awaited due. Working with T-Bone Walker on theatre-dance-nite club tours, Wynn has won a huge following of fans and friends.

Included in the Wynn group is Freddie Simons, who will join the band following his stint at the Downbeat club with the Marl Young band June 7; Shify "Esquire" Henry is a bassist and singer of the first water. He also wrote several of Walker's latest recordings. Eddie "Goo-Goo" Henry toots an amazingly wonderful trumpet; Robert "Snake" Sims is the band's featured drummer and vocalist when The Bone isn't on the stand) and of course Wynn is still one of the greatest Negro clarinet players in the Kingdom of Swing today. We use the word Negro, and will always use it as long as Benny Goodman and Artie Shaw are around. Tho Wynn isn't a Shaw or Goodman, he nevertheless plays a brand of clary that makes for easy listening and puts him in a class with the top in his profession.

aly for Hollywood. Ingram asserts:

"I even like the name—old guitar-p' g, no-good Moss. But in th movie the character finally comes into his own. He is a man."

"What we want in this role," director Frank Borzage told Ingram, "is the dignity in you as a person. Play yourself. Do this role honestly, the way you will feel will be right."

"The result," Ingram declares, "is the role Negroes have been waiting for."

ONE OF the principals in the Lab's exciting new production "Freight" is Joel Fluellen, veteran stage and screen actor. The all-Negro drama is playing for two weekends only at the Lab Workshop, 1455 N. Laurel, Hollywood. —(See Story).

Smith, Jay Brooks, Napoeon Whiting, Bob Davis, and Chuck Boswell.

Included on the bill of four one act plays will be James M. Cain's first contribution to the American theatre, "Trial By Jury." Directed by David Alexander with a workshop cast, this play is an expose of the viciousness of the Ku Klux Klan.

Roman Bohnen's hilarious monologue, "World By the Tail" and Ben Bengal's magnificent "Plant in the Sun," which is being held over by popular demand, are directed by George Tyne with a stellar workshop cast. These evenings of enjoyment are promised for two weekends only, June 4-5

TEEING OFF WITH T-BONE is what put that happy smile on the face of Jim Wynn who is just about the best ever who ever did it, according to EAGLE columnist J. T. Gipson. Smiling Jim is all set for a tour with T-Bone Walker through the Southern States, and we hope the smile is still there when they return.

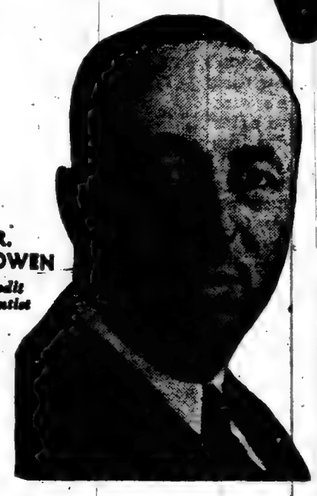
NOTES TO LOU: Have you guys oogled CONNIE LEE'S beautiful head of lustrous hair? Blacker than a yard up a stove pipe! . . . MARILYN DANCER (who chorus girl'd at the Rhumboogie club in Chi) is in town ON A VACATION visit. She's a chic chick with a neat pair of gams at one end of her (and a pair of dimples at the other) and just for the records IS REET, PETITE AND GONE!

YOUR THEATRICAL EDITOR records a word in affectionate respect on the death of JULIUS "STUFF" CROUCH'S Mother. OUR DEEPEST sympathies to STUFF. He lost a dear friend, of long standing, last week. THAT OF THE immortal soul is, I guess, the most disastrous loss one could sustain; but the loss of an old friend, if that friend is one's Mother, runs it a terribly close second.

HAL BROWN, recuping from a lung ailment at one of the LOCAL HOSPITALS, tells the col'm he'd like to be a Radio Announcer when released, "'Cause women SWOON over Radio Announcers!" . . . I don't care if HAL is no beauty—he is certainly better looking than JOE ADAMS. This, of course, goes for anybody who has a face! . . . POME: I know VAN JOHNSON is young and thrillin' . . . But what has he got that I would have . . . after a shot of Penicillin'? . . . JOHN LEE puts it this way: "Nobody ever asks you how you make your money. It's whether or not you've got it that counts!" . . . THE SUN comes up just for the privilege of seeing CONNIE ALEXANDER, a lovely bundle of feminine ecstacy. SHE'S GOT the kind of smile you see only in a dream, if I may wax poetic! . . . AURELIA WASHINGTON (Jim's Frau) would make a pretty Photographer's model, just in case a Photographer is interested in a pretty model. . . . JOE ADAMS (surely you know him by now; his name appears HERE WITH AMAZING REGULARITY) says the first thing he notices about a woman is her personality. G'wan, the first thing JOE ADAMS notices about a woman is whether or not EMMA's around! (She's his ah-tractive wife!!) . . . JIM WYNN's band at JACK'S BASKET ROOM is well ah'reet then! And the way that guy JIM toots that sax!!! . . . There's no truth to the rumor that the AL WASHINGTONS (she's the doting dghtr of the Westside professor of the same last name) are on the verge of of pfffft. "WE'RE VERY much in love!" (Her quotes, not mine.

THE BRONZEVILLE SCENE: ALMA NIXON, who winter-vacationed her, will return to her NAWTH CLINA home on the 5th. . . . JOSH WHITE (the famed BALLADIST) has been signed by COLUMBIA PICTURES to play a featured role in the film, "THE WALKING HILLS," which stars ELLA RAINES and RANDOLPH SCOTT. . . . This is White's first HOLLYWOOD venture for several years because HE HAS STEADFASTLY refused to play in any MOVIE WHICH detracted from the dignity of the Negro race. . . . JOE WASHINGTON, the school lad, sounds more like KING COLE than the King does himself, to hear the Hi school honeys argue it. . . . DARLENE WEBSTER (whose name should be spelled thisaway: "Darling") will enter LAW SCHOOL in Sept. She STENOGS for Attorney Walter Gordon, and wotta doll!!! . . . MILDRED SANDERS, the vocalist from FLORIDA, will rejoin the MONTE EASTER band after a short layoff. . . . THE DOLL you saw sippin' Scotch and Lemon juice (ugh!) in THE DOWNBEAT club the other sundown and looking like a MOOM PICKCHA actress, wasn't. She's from CANADA and works in one of the EASTSIDE beauty salons. Name's JULIE ANDERSON. . . . ACADEMY AWARD winner Jimmie Baskette showed up at the Ballerina ball SUNDAY LAST at the CONGO but Lena Horne didden. . . . BUDDY GARCIA is planning another of those maaad parties for his ranch (GOD'S LITTLE ACRE) up in San Berdoo. . . . ABIE ROBINSON and WENDELL GREEN are planning a paper of their own up in San Francisco. At present they're slaving on a sheet called the SUN! . . . JOE "Zizzie" JOHNSON, the famed producer of shows, is due in town any day. . . . Her friends are hoping those BILLIE HOLIDAY rumors aren't true. . . . T-BONE WALKER broke all opening nite records at the N'Orleans club, Frisco. He was reported ill a few days ago. 'Taint so. He writes: ". . . starting my nation-wide tour 6/14. Never felt better in my life!" No wonder. With all THAT MOOLA he's coining. . . . NELLIE LUTCHER closes at the RED FEATHER Sunday night. She'll go "UP NORTH" on a theatre-nitery tour a coupla wks hence. . . . Jimmie Witherspoon's recording of "CAIN RIVER BLUES" should put the SUPREME recording co. in the top income brackets. Watch that tune break juke-box records!!!



NOTES ON THE CUFF: That guy SMILEY TURNER!! How can we say all the NICE THINGS ABOUT him his singing deserves? He's headed STRAIGHT FOR THE BIG TIME. He doesn't make as much money as SINATRA, but he sings just as good! . . . The DELTA RHYTHM BOYS paused in town last wk just long enough to hello a few friends. They're on their way to a lucrative NEVADA engagement. . . . NELSON CRESWELL continues to head my list of all-around grand guys. Tops! . . . JOHN PETTIGREW, according to nite-life circles buzz, is readying PLANS TO ORGANIZE his own ork. That's the best news to come over the ticker tape since FDR's first election! John's a fine fello and superb musician! . . . JOHNNY COLLINS (of IVIE's chicken shack) hello'ing all those celebrities in his spot the other two in the ayem. . . . NADINE COLES is feeling much better. Was ill for a few days last wk. . . . They're trying to get a Cecil Hudson-Major Jones 10-rounder for the OLYMPIC. That would be a natural, if CECIL's in shape!! . . . JACKIE WILSON and CANNONBALL GREEN sippin' lemonade at the DOWNBEAT, but don't think they're softies—they can whup anything their weight!! . . . Howcum none of the papers on our side of the tracks didn't record the news of ELIHU and PAT McGEE's thoroughbred dog winning all those ribbons in a recent DOG SHOW out at the stadium? He raises 'em, and what beautiful animals!!! . . . Tiny Brown will form his own combo. He formerly bass fiddled with SLIM GALLIARD. . . . LORENZO FLENNOY's ne composition, "I Saw a Star" is delightful to the ears. Especially the way S. Turner toys with it. . . . BETTY TREADWELL's back on the nitery scene and the Backstage club has got her! Can she sing? Can the Duke of Ellington write a song! . . . MONTE EASTER's band is the most enthusiastic young group in town! And that guy ERIC SIMS on bass is the peak of perfection in bassology! . . . Right about here is where we sign the usual No. 30. I call it a column. You can call it whatever you like!

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN by the undersigned Tax Collector of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 8, Part 6, Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code and the written authorization of the State Controller, as follows:

That an agreement has been made between the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles and the County of Los Angeles and approved by the State Controller of the State of California to sell to said County under the terms set forth in said agreement, all of the right, title and interest of the State in and to all of the real property hereinafter described, all of which said property has been deeded to the State for delinquent taxes. A copy of said agreement is on file in the office of said Board of Supervisors.

That pursuant to said agreement the undersigned Tax Collector may issue a tax deed to said County 21 days after the first publication and the mailing of this notice, and the right of redemption will cease unless the property is redeemed or an installment plan of redemption is initiated before it is sold. For information as to the amount necessary to redeem or to pay the delinquent taxes in installments, provided the right to redeem has not previously been terminated, apply to H. L. Byram, County Tax Collector, 3rd floor, Hall of Justice. The real property covered by said agreement is all in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and is described as follows, to-wit:

Parcel No 1. Strong & Dickinson's Compton Ave. Tract. 4/19 M. Lot 33. Assessed to Pierce C. Chambers.

Dated at Los Angeles, California, this 3rd day of June, 1948.

H. L. BYRAM.
Tax Collector of County of Los Angeles, State of California.

Hugh Gordon Bookshop Opens; A Memorial To A Progressive Leader

Planned as a living memorial to Hugh Gordon, Los Angeles Negro historian and progressive, the Hugh Gordon Boob Shop opens its doors June 13th, at 1109 East 42nd place, Los Angeles. An afternoon reception is planned to which the public is invited. There will be speakers and entertainment.

Adele R. Young, for 10 years associated with the Progressive Book Shop in Los Angeles, and a well-known community leader, will manage the book shop. She plans a completely different kind of book shop, one which will not only offer the latest progressive books, as well as books on labor, Negro and American history, but a book shop which will play an active part in community cultural activities.

A splendid collection of progressive records and folk music as well as selected children's books, will be available. A continuing series of exhibits of Negro arts and crafts, book reviews, and forums is planned. A story hour for children will be an important feature. Miss Young will offer readers a personalized service in helping to build significant home libraries.

"I shall endeavor," states Miss Young, owner of the book shop, "to carry out the spirit of Hugh Gordon in all the activities of the book shop. He fought for economic and cultural freedom for the Negro; his book shop will do the same."

Boxers in Olympic Trial At Legion

The first Olympic Games boxing tournament held in Los Angeles in twelve years opened at Hollywood Legion Stadium last night (June 2) with top flight amateurs competing for places on the American Olympic team.

Director of bouts, George Latka, ran off two dozen bouts last night and expects to run off a like number on Thursday, with sixteen more on Saturday to wind up the meet. Entry blanks indicate that every community in Southern California will be well represented.

Leading the list with a total of twelve boxers is Steve Strelich, owners of Bakersfield Stadium, prominent amateur promoter. Entries from El Monte, South Gate, Orange County, Wilmington, Pico, Pasadena, Southwest Arena and Pomona were recorded early and last minute entries will probably bring the list up to the largest number in any tournament staged this year.

Labor School Fights Back on Clark Listing

SAN FRANCISCO — A protest, signed by an impressive group of labor representatives, educators, civic and social workers and community leaders, has been released by the California Labor School, Inc., in conjunction with its own protest against the action of Attorney General Clark in placing the labor school on his current list of subversive organizations.

Pointing out that the school has done valuable work in the Negro community and in the trade unions, the protest says in part:

"We firmly believe that the attack on the school is part of the same planned onslaught being directed against all democratic organizations. It is part of the nation-wide pattern that has given birth to the Taft-Hartley Law, the Mundt-Dixon Bill and other un-American measures. We propose to stand firmly by the school and defend it from these attacks."

events. The main attraction will be "The Argentina", at six furlongs. This race will bring together the best sprinters on the grounds and some news comers from up Bay Meadows way will also compete. The secondary event will be "The Venezuela" at one mile and seventy yards which might stead the color from the main attraction. We take off our hats to General Manager William Collier, the popular Don Domo of the Hare and Hound races who does things like Ringling Bros. Circus. His slogan: "It Pays to Advertise". That surpasses the early prediction flows to Caliente for the night races are held Wednesday thru Sunday. Some of the best Greyhounds in the country with speed of the winds can be seen chasing the mechanical rabbit nightly. Big prices payoff has took fans by storm.

Spring Musical By Zion Hill Senior Choir

In its avowed purpose of bringing to the community the best quality of sacred music, the music department of the Zion Hill Baptist church, 51st street and McKinley avenue, announces the presentation of its Spring Musical on Thursday evening, June 3, in the church auditorium.

Oratorio will be the mode of musical expression for the program. This form of music, in which biblical text is set to music, is the highest quality of sacred music and presents time-worn stories of value to religious institutions in varied musical settings.

Many of the immortal arias and choruses from the works of Handel, Cofta, Mendelssohn, Haydn, Rossini and Gaul will be presented in this offering. Choruses will be done by an augmented group of the several choirs of the church numbering more than one hundred voices.

Exceptional soloists of rare musical ability and experience, including Josephine Cooper, Mary Martin, Willie Valentine, Mansfield Collins, Carl Gigson, Flody Brewster and Mary Davis will render arias. Instrumental offerings will be made by Irma Jean Juniel and Don Lee White, pianists, and Robert V. Edwards, organist. Catherine Lindsey Colbert, organist, will be accompanist.

Walter C. Daniel is the dicertor of music of Zion Hill and will be in charge of the production.

Val Verde Woman Wins Election

VAL VERDE—Let by the Civic Club of this community, the citizens last week responded and elected Mrs. A. . Page to membership on the School Board by an impressive majority. Immediately following her election Mrs. Page stated she would work for "a better school in peace and harmony as far as it is possible."

A victory dinned sponsored by the Val Verde Civic Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Sears on Saturday, June 12, to honor Mrs. Page.

Grissom's Song Is Top Juke Box Favorite

Dan Grissom is the amazingly good vocalist who recently got himself elected "Favorite Singer" in the High School polls of California, who sang for years with the late Jimmie Lunceford band, is currently appearing nightly at the Last Word Cafe on a bill co-starring singer Bobbe Caston, and featuring the torso-twisting of La Tanya; the rhythm-rocking tunes of Fluffy Hunter, fresh from a record-breaking engagement at the New Orleans Club in San Francisco; Jimmie Witherspoon, acclaimed the new blues sensation of 1948, and the top tunes of Teddy Rudolph and his 5-Bits of Rhythm.

Grissom, who sings the blues as well as he toys with a ballad, is soaring the heights on the strength of one recording, a torchant titled "There Must Be A Recess in Heaven." The tune was written by Johnny Getz, and is already a juke box favorite throughout the country. Song lovers who get a catch in their throats at the mere mention of Dan Grissom's singing with the late Lunceford crew will delight in Dan's latest recording.

The show on the whole at the Word is a top nightclub attraction. J. T. Gipson, EAGLE theatre columnist was the pinch-hitting Master of ceremonies last week for a famed New Yorker who failed to show up due to other nightclub engagements in Harlem.

Lafayette Center Hosts Holy Name Choir

Monday, June 7, the Holy Name Choir of Holy Name church, will be guest of the Lafayette Community Sing, sololsts Louise Masza, Charlene and Charolette Dyreck. The Spanish dancing club will repeat some of their dances from the review by popular demand.

Prizes will be awarded Monday, June 7, to the largest family present. Plan now to attend. The Y's men club of which Toussant L. O. Jenning is president, desires more volunteers to assist with this program for the summer.

Funeral Service For L. C. Casey Friday, June 4

Funeral services for the late Lawrence C. Cosey, Sr., will be held Friday, June 4, at 2 p.m., from Angelus Funeral Home.

Mr. Cosey passed away Sunday, May 30, at 12:20 a.m. at Gneeral Hospital after an illness of two months.

He leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife, four sons, two sisters in Texas, other relatives and a host of friends.

Interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Smut's Amazing Defeat Threatens British Rule

vors a loose relationship with the British modeled on the sort of administration maintained by Eire. He is almost diametrically opposed to all that Smuts has stood for, and he is of sufficient intelligence, and possesses oratorical powers of the magnitude required to make his program known and accepted popularly.

Smuts has not always made friends with his policies and pronouncements concerning the native and other non-white members of the Union's population. The Union of South Africa is a country twice the size of Texas (native Texans please forgive us), and out of a population of 11,000,000, it boasts a mere 2,000,000 whites; 7,500,000 are natives. Malan cleverly marshalled the factors (including those of racial import) against his opponent, and what he does along the same line might well determine the future of South Africa, as well as, in an indirect but nevertheless important way, the whole British Empire.

The unvarnished facts about Dr. D. F. Malan are more clearly understood when one considers that were he an official in the United States government, he would be labeled a Jim-Crow racist, and an advocate of expulsion for the black man. He cannily and cynically campaigned on a strict nationalistic basis against the pro-Empire program of Smuts, and he made the most of the communist issue and a plan to restrict and confine the 7,000,000 blacks who are native to and in the majority in the Union of South Africa.

Malan himself has admitted that his election was "a surprise," pointing up more sharply the purely opportunistic flavor of his campaign strategy. He declaims a determination to accord equal rights to the Afrikaans and the English-speaking South Africans, despite the continuing reports that he is an avowed white supremist who plans to protect "the population against Asiatic immigration."

Under Malan, the South African Indians can expect little consideration in the future, or for their registered complaint against discrimination which has been filed with the United Nations. There will be state control designed, according to Malan to counter monopolies and cartels, but the rights of private property and enterprise will be respected. The full significance of Smuts' defeat and Malan's ascendancy will become a dominant part of the history of the last days of Britain's colonial empire. Stripped of its invented political foundation, the Malan program is nothing more than a plan to suppress the black South African and exploit him and the resources of the Union for the benefit of the whites. There was little to chose from between Smuts and Malan to begin with, but with Malan holding the Prime Minister's Portfolio, the days in South Africa can become still darker for the 7,000,000 Negroes.

Earlier this week it was announced in South Africa that Malan may break off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union. There is the further possibility that he will soon put a stop to Jewish immigration to the Union, and impose restrictions on the Jews already living there.

The Los Angeles city health department gives more than 100,000 immunizations to school children annually to prevent epidemics of smallpox and diphtheria.

Employment levels are lower in non-ferrous production, particularly in secondary smelters and foundries, where materials stocks are low and recovery will be impeded by possible work stoppages.

MEMORY

Memory is free, created in every human being to be cultivated as he sees fit. It gives stability to knowledge; it is the cohesion which keeps things from falling into a lump. Memory is not a pocket, but a living instructor, with a sense of values which should be guarded. It records your life, it is like a scripture written day by day, recording events and happenings in your life.

Although there are many that need not rely upon their memory because they have great presence of mind and are equal to any occasion, to us, that rely upon our memory, it means everything.

R. F.— Dear Prof. Herman: Received my answer to your letter two days ago, and the blessing you sent me was very successful. I can't begin to thank you for all that you have done for me, but you shall hear from me from time to time.

Mrs. E. E.—Dear Prof. Herman: I am a constant reader of your column and was pleased to note that you are giving personal and private interviews, but would you please help me with this problem. Will my plans be successful?

ANSWER. A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that you have planned to make several changes in your living conditions and working hours and are wondering if these will prove successful to you. At this time your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate your plans as proving very successful to you.

According to a report received by the California EAGLE, Marvin P. Smith, nationally-known photographer, who with his twin brother Morgan, operates one of the outstanding studios of photography in the east, has been arrested, and is now out on bail of $3000 for the possessio nof policy slips.

Acting on a tip, detectives arrested Smith and several associates who allegedly are important members of a ring that does a $1,000,000 a year business. Smith claimed the package in his possession containing policy slips belonged to a friend, and that he did not know its contents.

Because this would be a first offense, Smith should he be convicted will be subjected to a $500 fine and six months imprisonment. He served over three years with the Seabees during the last war, and he was a member of a special training group in the Naval Reserve during which service he toured Haiti making pictures.

Minns Finally Gets Honorable Discharge

WASHINGTON—Oreave Minns, former U.S. Coast Guardsman, has been given a service discharge under honorable conditions for physical disability in lieu of his previous dishonorable discharge. Minns, who had been stationed in Puerto Rico during the war, was tried and convicted by a general court martial for an alleged assault with intent to commit murder.

Sentenced to five years' imprisonment, he developed mental disorders, allegedly due to injuries inflicted upon him by members of the naval patrol at the time of his arrest in November, 1943.

Bakersfield Writer In Talent Magazine

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — Nathaniel Clark, of 1911 Q st., has achieved the signal success of having work published in "TALENT — Songwriters and Poets of 1947." Writing is one of the highest forms of art, and it is such contributions as his from every part of the country which have brought American literature to a point where it is recognized and acclaimed throughout the world, as much as American inventive genius and American industry.

Sasche Jacobsen Concertmaster For Bowl Season

Engagement of Sasche Jacobsen as concermaster for the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra, was announced this week by the Hollywood Bowl Association. Twenty-seventh season of Smyphonies under the Stars will open July 13, Music Director Eugene Ormendy conducting and with John Charles Thomas, American baritone, as soloist.

Contracts have been signed with 100 men and women for the Bowl orchestra which includes in its personnel the members of the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra.

The 1948 Bowl season of eight weeks will include the regular Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday night concerts and the Sunday noon broadcasts. Ormandy will conduct 16 of the programs and all of the Sunday broadcasts.

During the season the Mahler 8, Symphony of the Thousand will be heard July 29 and the opera "Mme Butterfly" Sept. 3-4, Ormandy conducting both events.

Household Workers Have Jobs Waiting

Miss Anna Louise Keck, supervisor of the hotels, restaurants and personal services section has been making a very careful check of the requests for household workers since the Household Employment Problems Forums recently held by the employment service and 33 local social work agencies.

According to Miss Keck's findings, there is a far greater demand for the services of men and women in household employment than can be met from among those currently seeking employment at local agency offices. There are on file 200 household openings, particularly for women, in good homes on a live-in basis.

These offers are from housewives who have well-organized homes, and whose families consist of from 3 to 5 persons. The pay is good and some work experience is sought. In several cases the family plans to go away for interesting summer vacations and will include the houseworker on the trip.

Employees interested in jobs con contact Miss Keck at RIchmond 6511, extension 440, or in person at the California State Employment Service, 506 West 11th Street.

Total employment increased by nearly three per cent from March to April in eleven large local firms producing oil well tools and equipment.

Spingarn Collection At Howard

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Howard University has acquired the distinguished Arthur B. Spingarn Collection of the works of Negro Authors—the most comprehensive of its kind in the world. With the addition of this valuable material, Howard's Negro collection over 30,000 items. It is now the largest and the most valuable research library in America for the study of Negro life and history.

The Spingarn Collection, which will be housed in the Moorland Reading Room and which will remain a special section within the Moorland Foundation, has over 5,000 items, dealing with Negro life and authorship. In addition to books, pamphlets, magazines, and newspapers, the Collection has hundreds of ephemeral pieces, such a programs, announcements, invitations, circulars, theatre bills, mimeograph letters, and pictures.

Many of the works in the Collection are to be found in no other library in America. Several hundred books have been inscribed by th authors. There are also manuscript letters from various authors accompanying a large number of the volumes. All of the works contain Mr. Spingarn's bookplate, which was designed by Aaron Douglas.

Mayor Bowron Suggests Law To Curb Strikes

Los Angeles' Mayor Bowron believes there ought to be a law prohibiting public utility strikes. In a press and radio release last week the Mayor said:

"We should have a law because the public is much more important than either the employer or the employes."

Pointing out that the threatened stransit trike and a walkout of house movers here were matters of far-reaching public concern, the Mayor observed:

"It is sincerely hoped that another strike on the bus and transit lines will be averted because the public is not of a temper to be subjected to all of the inconveniences of another strike and not do something about it."

Howard And Meharry Get Atomic Studies

A total of 38 biological and medical research projects in 29 non-governmental institutions have been selected by the United States Atomic Energy Commission for financing under the program of joint support of fundamental scientific research recently announced by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Office of Naval Research. These projects will be administered by the Office of Naval Research.

The Atomic Energy Commission has made available $1,300,000 for one year for the 38 projects at colleges and universities. The list includes Howard University and Meharry Medical College.

Greenwich Village Plan Catches on Here

Citizens of Los Angeles will have an opportunity to see art in the making when Cooperative Crafs and Arts sponsor their first annual outdoor art exhibit at MacArthur Park Saturday and Sunday, June 5th and 6th from 10:00 a.m. to 6 p.m.

For the first time in Los Angeles art history, artists will show their work in an outdoor exhibit. The public will have the rare experience of seeing artists at work demonstrating their techniques in pottery-making, life-mask making, sculpture, wood carving, sketching and painting.

New Kind of Tape

With the tremendous increase in home sewing throughout the nation, which has seen pattern sales increase from 41 million to 168 million in six years, comes a new kind of bias fold tape which reportedly makes sewing easier.

It has the fine appearance of percale and the smoothness of lawn, but better wearing quality than either.

Cornell Student Is Prize Orator

George H. Fowler of New York City was named winner of the coveted Stewart Lyndon Woodford prize for the best English oration by a Cornell university senior.

GEORGE H. FOWLER

Mr. Fowler is the first Negro student to win the award, which carries with it a cash prize of $120, since its establishment by the former New York governor in 1870.

When he receives his degree in June, he will also be the first Negro to be graduated from the university's three year-old School of Industrial and Labor Relations.

The young World War II veteran has been an outstanding member of the Cornell debating team and has presided as chairman over intercollegiate debates with some of the leading schools in the East. He was also treasurer of the student council of the School of Industrial and Labor Relations.

Mr. Fowler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. tSephen H. Fowler, Sr., of New York City. He is a member of the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.

Donald Wheeldin Instructs At CIO

As announced in the EAGLE last week, "The Negro People," The Labor Movement and the 1948 Elections" is the title of a course of six lecture-discussions starting June 10 at the CIO Building, 5851 Avalon Boulevard, Room 306. The instructor for the course is Donald Wheeldin, well known young Negro actor and trade unionist.

Wheeldin recently understudied the lead role in Deep Are the Roots, powerful anti-discrimination play. He has also conducted a number of successful classes in Negro History and present-day problems for Los Angeles unions.

The class will run for six consecutive Thursdays, begining June 10, from 8 to 10 p.m. The enrollment fee is three dollars. The course is one of nine being offered by the school in its first term in Los Angeles. Other classes opening the week of June 7 include: Labor Economics, Union Strategy, Dramatics and World Affairs.

Further information on this and other classes can be obtained by writing to the California Labor School, 112 West 9th Street, Room 812, Los Angeles 15, or by calling MA. 9-1231.

Legion Fireworks Sho At Coliseum July 4th

The American Legion's traditional fireworks show at the Coliseum will be held on July 4 for the 16th consecutive year, according to Lloyd E. Woods, Los Angeles County Council commander.

More than $25,000 worth of pyrotechnics will be exploded and burned during the spectacle to insure this year's show being the greatest yet staged, Commander Woods said. In addition, program prizes will be awarded including a Nash automobile and a television set.

MacFadden Named To Guard Post

Appointment of Lt. Col. John R. MacFaden as G-1 (personnel officer) for the 40th Infantry Division, California National Guard,, was announced recently by Maj. Gen. Daniel H. Hudelson, division commander. MacFaden, a public relations counselor in Los Angeles, resides at 2217 Borden Ave., Hermosa Beach.

He was called to active duty from the Officers Reserve Corps as a captain in January, 1942, and served as executive officer of the technical data section of the Army Air Force Materiel Command at Wright Field, Ohio.

BULLETIN NO. 102, JUNE 3 — BROKERS, TEAR OFF OUR NAME AND PUT THESE BARGAINS IN YOUR WINDOW

For Southern Slayer

Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina was urged last week by the Independent Progressive Party to speed the prosecution of Rudolph Serreo, admitted slayer of Robert New, National Maritime Union port agent and chairman of the Charleston, S. C., Wallace for President Committee.

In a message to Governor Thourmond at the state capitol, Columbia, Hugh Bryson, Independent Progressive Party state chairman declared:

"Members of the Independent Progressive Party of California were shocked by the wanton killing of Robert New in Charleston on May 9. We now learn that the victim of this cold blooded slaying is being slandered for his support of our democratic principles of equal rights for all while support is being given his murderer. Robert New, a native Georgian, courageously fought for the rights of labor, for the rights of white and Negro people and for political democracy."

"He fought for the bill of rights and the American constitution. We are alarmed at press reports revealing widespread efforts to 'justify' Serro's murder of New and prevent prosecution. We insist that Serreo be held without bail and that state and local authorities take all necessary steps to bring about a speedy trial of the murderer, that justice may be done."

In the first quarter of this year, one element of the real estate lobby, the National Association of Real Estate Boards, spent $32,976 to influence the Republican Congress. These organizations, which oppose rent control and all efforts to get housing for veterans or low-income groups, seem to have more money to spend in lobbying than the Republicans are willing to give the federal government to protect veterans from gyp builders.

ON THE SIDEWALK
By C. A. B.

I helped put the EAGLE to bed last Wednesday evening. Rushed around Thursday like a madman, cramming into one day's activities the duties performed, as a rule, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday; and at 5 p.m. was at Burbank where I took a plane on the United Air Lines for Denver, Colorado.

The Flight from Los Angeles to Denver is a five-hour jaunt. Believe me when I say it is a soul-stirring and ear-rumbling experience to leave the noisy, babbling tongues, dashing automobiles, police and fire sirens, for a trip up in the clouds, and to gaze down on a world below where houses look like specks on a green carpet or white sheet.

A trip across the sky, from one point to another makes a certain type of American citizen feel like an escapee from a pattern in American social life that limits and restricts his freedom of movements, which denies him the real educational advantages gained from travel and research enjoyed by others.

My visit to Denver, which is another story, will be found elsewhere.

For a long time Negro citizens have complained about their second class citizenship rating. Traveling by air or rail, one cannot help but observe that all along the line special arrangements have been made for Negroes.

No second class or special arrangements are made for Negro citizens in the performance of their duties as taxpayers and fighters. Even in the matter of signing loyalty pledges Negroes are not exempt.

However, those who control the wealth and power of the nation, and hence shape the government policy, turn their heads the other way when these certain American citizenship rights are violated by government agencies, railroads, air lines, public places of enjoyment, recreation, etc. etc. too numerous to mention.

NOT TOO POPULAR

It is not too popular, even with some of the Negro people, to be among those who

Honored by Iota Phi Lambda Sorority

CHARLOTTA A. BASS, Editor-Publisher of the California EAGLE flew to Denver, Colo., last week to have a national honorary membership conferred upon her at the first annual conference of the Far Western Region of the Sorority. Mrs. Bass, who is an honorary member of Alpha Phi Chapter in Los Angeles, was selected for this honor because of her outstanding record of service and achievement. Added to the distinction she bears as the publisher of the nation's oldest and most progressive weekly newspaper, Mrs. Bass is noted as the first woman to establish, edit and publish a weekly newspaper in her own plant. She is the first Negro who ever served on a grand jury in California, and in 1945, she came up with another first when she christened the Liberty ship, James Weldon Johnson before it slid down the ways at Calship. Presently a national co-chairmen of the Women for Wallace committee, she was the first of her race from this area to serve in the Electoral College. She was the Western Regional Director of the Willkie Campaign Committee in 1940. Shown in the group above during the actual pinning on of the membership insignia are: Back row, left to right, Corrine Lowry, Alpha Omicron, of Denver; Martha Henderson, Beta Mu Chapter, Denver; Georgia Ballinger, Beta Mu Chapter, Denver; Marion Jackson, Alpha Phi, and Geneva Collier, Beta Mu. Front row: Alice P. Allen, the national president of Birmingham, Ala., who is conferring the honor on Mrs. Bass, and Thelma Freeman, Far Western Regional Director, a member of Alpha Omicron Chapter of Denver. Mrs. Bass returned to the city on Monday.

Intimidation Attempted

By JAY MORGAN

With Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas elected to Congress from the 14th District on the basis of an unofficial margin of 152 votes on the Republican ticket, reports have been received by the California EAGLE that men representing themselves to be agents from the district attorney's office have visited several of the district poll workers in what is obviously an attempt to intimidate them into admitting that dishonesty is responsible for the mixup in vote totals reported.

Chief Deputy Registrar Benjamin Hite, when informed of the reports made to the EAGLE assured this reporter that the district attorney is not presently concerned with the matter, and he paid tribute to the general efficiency of the poll workers and pointed out that any discrepancies shown are probably the result of misunderstandings of instructions. He expressed

California Hotel Refuses To Accept Negro Delegates

The Independent Progressive Party announced today that it is taking under consideration the institution of a legal suit against the Hotel Californian of Fresno (under the same management as the El Rancho Motels) for violation of Section 51 of the Civil Code of California which prohibits discrimination against any minority groups by operators of hotels, restaurants or other public places.

The action will be considered, IPP State Director Elinor Kahn declared, because of the refusal of the Hotel Californian to provide hotel accomodations for both white and Negro members of the new party's state executive committee.

Simultaneously the IPP announced that the committee sessions, first scheduled for San Luis Obispo and then transferred to Fresno, would be held instead in San Francisco. The party's meeting to analyze results of the primary election and map the Wallace-Taylor campaign will convene at 2 p.m. Saturday, June 12, in San Francisco at the Hotel Richelieu.

CALIFORNIA HOTEL EATS CROW

Following the stiff protest of the Independent People's Party, the California Hotel at Fresno did an about face and will provide accomodations for the Negro and white members of the state executive committee who will meet in Fresno on Saturday, June 12 at 2 p.m.

The IPP meeting in San Luis Obispo was cancelled after the refusal of accomodations by one hotel, the cancellation of reservations made by telephone by the Sleep Off the Highway Motel in that city, and the flat statement of the San Luis Obispo Chamber of Commerce manager that no unsegregated facilities were available in that city.

On Friday, June 4, telephonic

Segregation Issue Delays Draft Bill

Acting upon a new and evasive principle of "segregation by request," a proposal advanced by southern Democrats, the Senate moved this week toward final passage of the 19 through 25 draft bill. Already cut from a five year to a two year duration, the bill is likely to be passed some time after the vote on the "request" amendment which is scheduled for shortly after noon on Wednesday.

The segregation amendment which was sponsored by Senators

New York and Massachusetts Railroad Workers Defeat Bias

(Special Correspondence)

NEW YORK—A telling blow against job discrimination among railroad workers, especially Negroes limited by tradition to jobs as cooks, waiters and dishwashers, was announced here this week by Joseph Guinn, general chairman of the Dining Car Employees Union, Local 370.

First Negro to be nominated for the U. S. Senate since Reconstruction days is Larkin Marshall, editor of the Macon World of Macon, Ga. Marshall was nominated by the New Progressive Party formed to support Henry Wallace. He is a local board member of the NAACP and prominent in church activities.

The history-making ruling, made public after a year's study and investigation by Massachusetts' FEPC Commissioner Elwood S. McKenney and New York's FEPC Commissioner Elmer A. Carter, gives dining car and kitchen help the right to work as stewards, conductors and engineers.

"My only regret about this," Quinn told reporters, "is that Chester Eaton did not live to see his dream come true."

Eaton, is was explained, was once chairman of the union's Boston & Albany Railroad unit. He died last February after appearing before Commissioner McKenney in Boston.

Complainants in the precedent-shattering action, 44 cooks and waiters employed by the New York, New Haven & Hartfodd Railroad, appeared before the commissions of Massachusetts and New York several times during the past year and charged that on grill cars (cafeterias on wheels) only whites were allowed to work.

On dining cars, they testified

Housing Action Conference Set

A call to "Action on Housing" Saturday and Sunday, June 26 and 27, has gone out this week to hundreds of organizations and individuals throughout Southern and Northern California.

Announcement of the Statewide Housing Conference, to be held in Fresno, at the California Hotel, was made by Msgr. Thomas J. O'Dwyer, chairman of the California Housing Initiative Committee, which is sponsoring the meeting.

Declaring that success in the housing initiative signature campaign is "only the beginning," the call warns that "the opposition is well-housed and well-heeled" and that supporters of the measure are going to have a fight on their hands.

The conference, scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, will feature a number of prominent authorities on the housing problem as guest speakers. Delegates will also have an opportunity to participate in roundtables and workshops aimed at achieving victory for the initiative in the November elections.

Murder Charge Reduced After Plea By Taylor

A charge of murder against Mary Tolliver, buxom widow of 1259 East 6th street, was reduced to manslaughter by Judge Vernon W. Hunt in Division 2 of the Municipal Court last Wednesday morning. Mrs. Tolliver was charged with having stabbed to death Cuba McCaskill of the same address the preceding Saturday during a quarrel in which the deceased threw an empty quart bottle at Mrs. Tolliver, narrowly missing her head.

U. S. IS VULNERABLE ON RACE MRS. ROOSEVELT DECLARES; 'A DISGRACE,' INSISTS MYRDAL

NEW YORK — The Negro's struggle for equality is facilitated not only by the Constitution and the laws of the land, but also by "the glorious American ideals of democracy, liberty and equality," Dr. Gunnar Myrdal, author of "An American Dilemma," told a distinguished dinner gathering at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel here last week.

The famous Swedish statesman and social scientist spoke under auspices of the Committee of 100, the fund-raising organization for the Legal Defense and Educational Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Sharing the program with Dr. Myrdal were Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Bartley Crum, publisher of the newspaper PM, Dr. Allan Knight Chalmers, Walter White and Roy Wilkins.

"Negroes are constantly gaining" in their pursuit of liberty, Dr. Myrdal asserted. "They have always many of the best whites fighting with them. They can fight wholeheartedly while their adversaries have a split personality. They have not only the law, but the national creed on their side.

"Gains are being made," Dr. Myrdal continued, "in spite of the fact that the treatment of the Negro people is America's greatest and most conspicuous scandal. . . . For the colored peoples all over the world whose rising influence is axiomatic this scandal is salt in their wounds."

Continuing discrimination against Negroes "hurts our leadership in world affairs

Racketeers Exposed By Police Broadcast On Local Stations

Racketeers fleecing the public through phoney get-rich-quick schemes will come in for rough handling Saturday morning, June 12, at 8:15, when radio station KHJ broadcasts a police-sponsored program exposing these rackets for what they are.

One of these schemes is the fraudulent practice of misrepresentation and high pressure soliciting by telephone of advertising space for various magazine and newspaper publications.

Fraudulent practices of this type will be discussed on the weekly police-sponsored radio program over KHJ at 8:15 a.m. Saturday, June 12, and a repeat broadcast may be heard over KGFJ Friday, June 18, at 9 a.m.

First Negro for U. S. Senate Former Californian

MACON, Ga.—The man who once succeeded in banning the viciously anti-Negro film "The Birth of a Nation" from California theatres is today waging a campaign for one of Georgia's two seats in the U. S. Senate.

He is Larkin Marshall, editor of the Macon World chosen as the Senatorial candidate of the New Progressive Party formed in the southern state to back the candidacies of Henry Wallace for President and Senator Glen Taylor for Vice-President.

Marshall is the first Negro to be nominated for the highest U. S. legislative office by a major party since reconstruction days.

He is a former resident of California, where in 1918 he persuaded the State Senate to ban D. W. Griffith's notorious Klan-inspired film. It was kept out of California for four years.

"Today the candidacy of Henry Wallace and Senator Taylor is our answer to the Klan and those who would perpetuate Jim Crow," Marshall says.

No stranger to politics, Marshall ran for county clerk of Alameda county, California, in 1918, polling 7,990 votes in a city that had only 1,250 Negroes registered to vote.

He pioneered in forcing employment of Negroes on the San Francisco-Oakland waterfront and during World War II led a march on Washington to obtain enforcement of President Roosevelt's executive order that Negroes should receive equal job opportunities. Two hundred women went into war industry at wages of from $131 to $148 a month as a result.

Negro Family Moves To Restricted Area

The first Negro family moved into the tract of land including lots on East 127th street, this week.

The lots in this tract are being sold by John H. Kelly, whose office is located at 1832 East 102nd street. This section had been definitely restricted to Caucasians only. But since the decision of the United States Supreme Court that restrictive covenants are unconstitutional, Negroes may move into this section as well as in every other part of the city.

The feeling, however, was so strong that Mr. Kelley used a police escort to take the family in.

"It's the law now," said Mr. Kelly. "And we intend to abide by it. I'll sell to any other Negro family who wants to move here, and get a police escort for them, too, if need be."

Hairston Named Employment Head at L.A. Junior College

Archie A. Hairston, recently discharged after five years as personnel relations officer in the Army, has taken over duties as employment director at East Los Angeles Junior College. He succeeds Edward R. Reinig.

Hairston, who lives at 1654 East 23rd Street, has been serving as personnel assistant for the personnel commission of the Los Angeles city schools. Before the war he was vocational educational counselor and a teacher of piano and voice at Jefferson evening high school.

In taking over his new duties, Hairston urged employers to get in touch with the college employment office if in need of technical, semi-technical, permanent, or part-time help.

"Our office is at present placing students in fields ranging from accounting, clerical, secretarial, engineering, architecture, advertising, recreation, sales, nursing, and marketing," he said.

Hairston attended both U.S.C. and U.C.L.A. studying counseling and guidance. He is a graduate of Atlantic Union College of South Lancaster, Mass. He went to high school in Huntsville, Alabama.

His wife, Mrs. Helen Hairston, also a U.S.C. graduate, is a pharmacist, and has a business at 16th and Griffith.

Vets Seek Loan Bill

With construction of homes for Veterans under the "G. I. Bill of Rights" almost at a standstill because no secondary market exists for the mortgages made by the original lending institutions, the Veterans Organizations Council of Altadena has launched a drive to have Congress provide this secondary market.

Figures released from the Veterans Administration in Washington reveal that only one out of fourteen veterans have taken advantage of the G.I. home loan program, and that today there are many thousands of applications on hand which cannot be processed until a secondary market is established.

Every veterans' organization in Los Angeles County has gone on record in favor of this G.I. home loan bill.

Private Tyson In Japan

Pfc. B. F. Tyson, son of Mrs. Viola Hale of 3204 Callway drive, Los Angeles, is a member of the 24th Infantry, now stationed at Gifu, Japan. The 24th Infantry is a part of the 25th Infantry (Tropic Lightning) Division, commanded by Brig. Gen. Everett E. Brown.

Pfc. Tyson is a light-heavyweight boxer on the 25th Division boxing team and fought in the recent Gifu boxing tournament.

Week of Services to Mark Henderson's Leadership

Beginning this Sunday, June 13, Second Baptist Church will commence a week of services honoring the seven years of splendid labor and achievement of its present pastor, Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, who returns to the pulpil after a three-week vacation trip in the east.

His itinerary included delivering baccalaureate sermons at Bishop College in Marshall, Texas, on May 23, and Tennessee State in Nashville, Tenn., on May 30. He also visited with Rev. Percy Williams in Chattanooga and Rev. W. Augustas Jones in Louisville, Ky., speaking at Mid-week Services for both of these pastors, who are dear friends of his. On Sunday, June 6, he preached the tenth anniversary sermon for Rev. Cornell E. Talley, pastor of the Central Baptist Church in Pittsburg, Penn., and terminated his extensive travels by attending the Commencement exercises of his first alma mater—Virginia Union University in Richmond, Va.

Preaches Sunday

Sunday, June 13, Dr. Henderson will preach at the 11 o'clock worship, and the Senior and Junior Choirs will present a Joint Musical program at 7:30 p. m. Each night during the week, the following outstanding ministers, their choirs, officers, and congregations will help Second Baptist give honor to her pastor:

Monday night, June 14—Victory Baptist Church—Rev. A. Peters.

Tuesday night, June 15 — Wesley A.M.E. Church—Rev. E. W. Rakestraw.

Wednesday night, June 16 — Bethel Church of Christ Holiness—Bishop W. A. Washington.

Thursday night, June 17 — Zion Hill Baptist Church—Rev. Grant Harris.

Friday night, June 18—Independent Church of Christ — Rev. Clayton D. Russell.

The music will be select and the whole program will be uplifting, and a fitting tribute to the pastorate of this God-inspired leader.

The general public is cordially invited to attend all the services every night during the week.

also. Negroes were never permitted to do anything but cook, wait tables and wash dishes. Jobs as stewards were reserved for whites and, like it or not, Negro workers had to take it.

When the AFL union was formed 10 years ago, an agreement calling for such segregation was signed, Quinn frankly admitted, but as the years went by offilcals of the union were made to realize that a tragic mistake had been made.

So after FEPC laws were passed here and subsequently in Massachusetts, Quinn and the union's secretary-treasurer, Claude H. Mason, turned to the newly-enacted right to work legislation which had caused so much discussion when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was "pushing" it through the legislature.

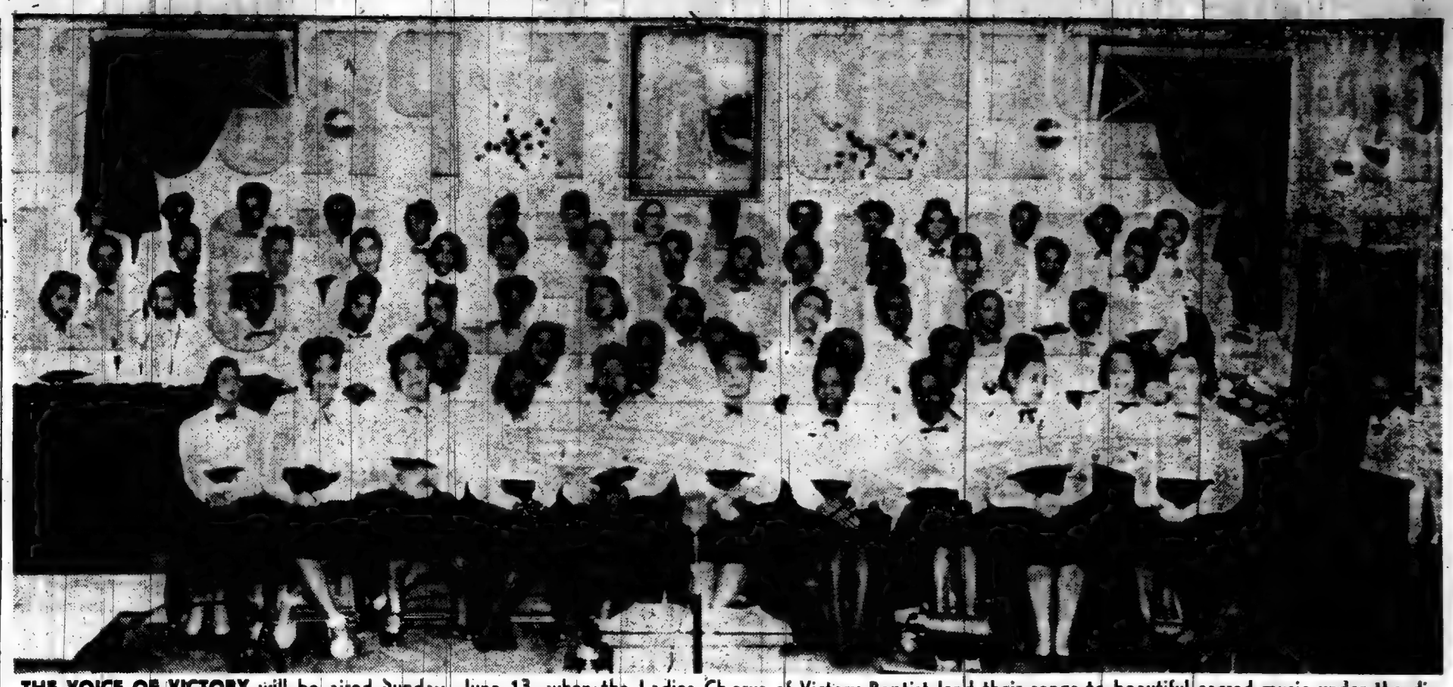
driver, who resides at the same hotel testified that McCaskill ran to his room crying, "get me to the hospital quick, Mary Tolliver has stabbed me to death," defense Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, representing the accused woman, pointed out that since she had been attacked first and the fatal cutting occurred immediately afterward, there was a complete lack of any legal element showing either first or second degree murder.

Judge Hunt agreed to the proposition of law involved and held the woman to answer on manslaughter after dismissing the murder charge. She must appear with her attorney in Department 42 of the Superior Court on July 1, to answer to the charge. The judge also fixed bail at the preliminary hearing. Attorney Taylor told reporters that the cutting was in self defense.



● Segregation

Russell (D., Ga.) and Burnet Maybank (D., S.C.) averted a threatened filibuster against the draft measure, and it is believed voting on the measure will be delayed by the many southern Senators who want to be heard in favor.

Senator Russell, in proposing the amendment accused the Navy of hypocracy, pointing out that the Navy policy had not wiped out segregation, and was in truth only a "paper policy." Maybank offered an amendment that would prohibit federal officials from setting up regulations designed to prevent the states from setting up their own policy or for admission to the National Guard.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge (R., Mass.) is the sponsor of a proposal that would permit 25,000 aliens to enlist with the understanding that after five years of satisfactory service, they would be eligible for American citizenship.

THE VOICE OF VICTORY will be aired Sunday, June 13, when the Ladies Chorus of Victory Baptist lend their songs to beautiful sacred music under the direction of Crisper Perkins over station KGFJ from 9:30 to 10 p.m. The Ladies Chorus is a section of the 100-voice choir from Victory Baptist church, 4802 McKinley avenue. Helen Williams will be featured at the organ.

support the leadership of Paul Robeson, W.E.B. Du Bois, and others who go to Washington and protest the passage of "The culmination of the Thomas-Clark-Hoover campaign before Congress in the form of a bill entitled: The Subversive Activities Control Act, H. R. 5852.

This bill is the brain-child of the Thomas-Rankin Un-American Activities Committee. It was designed, fashioned, and stitched into a legislative garment by two popular Republican gentlemen, Karl E. Mundt and Richard Nixon, the latter a Republican of California who was successful in the California June 1 primary election, in being nominated on both the Republican and Democratic tickets. This robe of theirs was then passed on to the Congress for a fitting. It got the sanction of the House.

The Mundt-Nixon bill is supposed to be a sort of flypaper afair to catch all Communists.

I am afraid if we sit idly by and allow this vicious thing to become a law, we will find that its real function is to deprive the people of freedom of speech, and to control their thinking.

We know the roles played by both Rankin and Thomas in their home state politics, and as members of the Senate of the United States, I can't imagine how Negroes and other minorities can expect anything short of persecution from such an act.

THE DRAFT BILL

The latest news from Washington is that the Draft Bill is now before the Senate. And believe it or not something will have to be done about it before our overworked senational reprepresentatives take a much-needde rest.

The South has called for segregated units in the army and navy. Certain Negro leaders are advocating disobedience, if the government permits the continuation of segregation against them.

From the American Revolution to the present time, Negro Americans have fought, first to build this nation, and then to protect its borders and to preserve it. And now they will unitedly fight to receive their inheritance of citizenship rights.

TRUMAN MAKES CHARGES

Echoes from the Truman cross-country caravan are heard charging the Republicans who control the 80th Congress with the responsibility for high prices.

That is all very true. Nevertheless this is the first time that Our Harry, in this "non-political" tour of the country which he is taking just before the Democratic convention, has said or done anything very vigourous is condemning those same Republicans. It takes more than a few admonitions now and then to keep Congress in line. F.D.R. realized this.

himself as being satisfied that the recount ordered by the Board of Supervisors will show that errors committed were made when totals for candidates were arrived at by adding Democratic and Republican votes together.

What the result, following the recount which is already under way, will be, cannot be accurately forecast, but speculation based on information received from official sources, indicates victory for Mrs. Douglas. The possible errors are expected to be found on the Republican ballots, and the recount can only affect the Republican nomination.

Several of the district poll workers who were interviewed by a reporter from this paper admitted that there was confusion in the polling places, and they explained that any errors made (particularly those showing total votes received to be greater than the number of ballots cast) were the result of that confusion. The precincts in which the recount has been ordered are 829-A and 835. At press time, it had not been possible to definitely identify the men who had represented themselves as being from the district attorney's office, but it is believed they were acting for one of the candidates who opposed Mrs. Douglas for the nomination.

PCA and IPP Merger Soon

The Board of Directors of the Progressive Citizens of America have called a special meeting for Tuesday evening, June 15 to be held at the First Unitarian Church, 2936 W. 8th Street at 8 p.m.

The agenda will be the canvassing of the reports from the various chapters of the organization with reference to merger with the Independent People's Party, and to hear and vote upon the results of negotiations that have been carried on between the PCA and the IPP folowing authorization of such negotiations at the last Board meeting.

A majority of the chapters have already voted in favor of the merger.

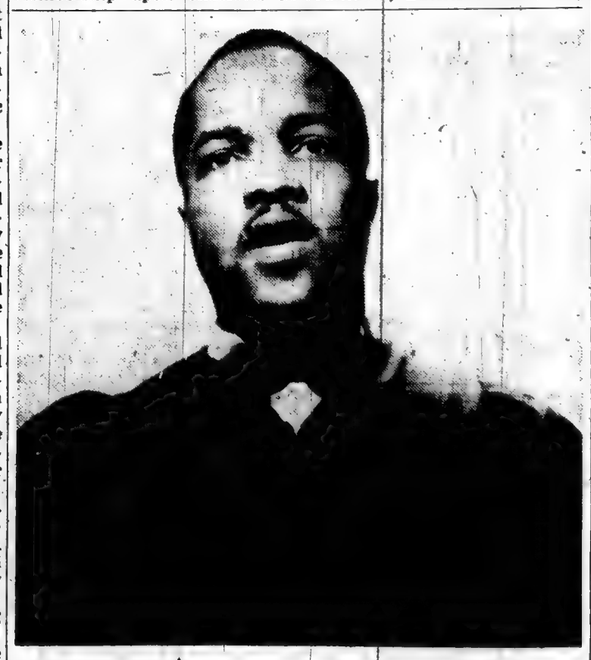
Iota Phi Lambda Launches Business Program at Conference in Denver



Iota Phi Lambda Women cope with a fast moving world through Economic Security, Education, Solidarity and Efficiency was the theme of the First Annual Conference of the Far Western Region, Iota Phi Lambda Sorority held in Denver, Colorado, June 3-6, 1948. Business sessions were chaired by Far Western Regional Directress, Thelma S. Freeman at the Young Women's Christian Association Administration Bldg., 1545 Tremont street. The growth and expansion of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority under the leadership of Thelma S. Freeman has been most outstanding. Within a ninety day period she had set up three chapters on the Pacific Coast namely Beta Iota, Portland, Oregon; Beta Kappa, Seattle, Washington, and Beta Mu, Oakland, California. Also, Beta Nu Chapter in Denver, Colorado. Alpha Omicron Chapter, Denver and Alpha Phi Chapter, Los Angeles complete the six chapters in the Far Western Region. Representattives from all chapters registered Thursday morning, June 6 with the exception of Portland, Oregon.

Conferring National Honorary Membership upon Charlotta A. Bass, outstanding business woman, editor of the California Eagle and honorary member of Alpha Phi Chapter, was the National President of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, Alice Patton Allen of Birmingham, Alabama who holds her Masters Degree in Business Administration from Chicago University; member of Alpha Eta Chapter; and a member of the faculty at Miles College. Witnessing this formal ceremony were members of the Mother's Friendship League composed of mothers and friends of the Denver Sorors. Alpha Omicron Chapter, headed by Sarah B. Sims and Beta Nu Chapter, headed by Edna Mae MacDaniel were hostess to the Far Western Regional Conference.

National Dean of Pledgees, H. Corinne Lowry, installed the duly elected officers of the Far Western Region who are: Assistant Regional Directress, E. June Smith, Beta Kappa Chapter, Seattle, Washington; Recording and Corresponding Secretary, Edna Mae McDaniel, Beta Nu Chapter, Denver, Colorado; Treasurer, Estelle Perry, Beta Mu Chapter, Oakland, California; Journalist, Lucille Wilson, Beta Iota Chapter, Portland, Oregon; Assistant Journalist, Edith Hawkins, Alpha Omicron Chapter, Denver, Colorado, and Director of Education, Marion B. Jackson, Alpha Phi Chapter, Los Angeles, Calif.

Founders Day was celebrated at Shorter A.M.E. Church Services; lunch at Campbell A.M.E. Church and a closed Candlelight Service at the home of Abigail Brown. On June 1, 1929, Lola M. Parker, Burdetta Trigg, Ophelia Harrison, Marjorie Tyndale, Mildred Hardin and Ethel Edwards (graduates of the Chicago Business College) and Harriett Chenault (graduate of the Business Dept. of Lincoln University) met in the city of Chicago and formulated the original plans for the organization of the First Business Sorority for Negro Women. The Educational Program opened to the public on June 4th was held at Whittier School on 24th and Marion. Dynamic remarks were made by the National President Allen and Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass.

Oakland, California will be the setting for the 1949 Far Western Regional Conference with Beta Mu Chapter as hostess. The National Convention will be held in New York City in August 20 to 25, 1948. Greetings were received from Pan Hellenic Council, Business and Professional Organizations, American Legion of Denver, AKA Sorority and the American Woodmen. Mrs. Lola M. Parker is President-Emeritus of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority and Alice Patton Allen, National President.

CECIL W. DANDY former assistance conductor and featured Tenor Soloist of the "Wings Over Jordan Ensemble" has been choosen as director of the Radio famous Senior Choir "Moments of Meditation." Brown Derby in $10,000 Suit For Refusing to Serve Dr. Hayes

HOLLYWOOD (NPB) — A suit to recover for damages exceeding $10,000 suffered when Joseph H. Hayes, M.D., was refused service at one of the film capital's famed cafes, has been filed by H. Leonard Richardson, plaintiff's attorney.

Defendant in the action to recover the enormous sum are the owners of one of the famed Brown Derby cafes. H. Leonard Richardson, the attorney who filed the action, said the refusal to serve a man of Dr. Hayes outstanding qualities, marks an all-time low in the effort of those seeking to circumvent the state's civil rights laws.

In asking for the large sum, Attorney Richardson's brief pointed out that at no time did his client resort to boisterous conduct nor was he under the influence of liquor.

Observers of civil rights violation cases before the courts point out that a chief line of defense is usually along the lines that the complainant had done something to warrant refusal of service.

In the case of Dr. Hayes, who is a member of the board of directors of the Westview Hospital Association, and a man of respectful character and dignified appearance, such a move on the part of the Brown Derby defendants would be to no avail, it was pointed out.

According to the lawyers' brief, Dr. Hayes, in the company of another man (not a Negro) on May 20, 1948, drove onto the drive-in section of the Brown Derby Cafe at 4500 Los Feliz blvd., and requested service of a carhop.

The carhop's answer was, "I cannot serve you, but I can serve him. "She made it plain that the refusal of service was because of his race and color. The Brown Derby cafes have a notorious reputation for flaunting the California Bill of Rights, where Negroes are concerned.

Attorney Richardson said the shock of being refused service under the particular circumstances were great and serious to his client. He told newsmen he did not consider $10,000 excessive in view of the deep humiliation suffered by a man of Dr. Hayes' character, reputation and sensibilities.

This Makes About As Much Sense As Chalky Wright Singing Trees

CHICAGO — Despite tie ups in foreign currency exchanges and frequent salary squabbles, Negro entertainers are riding a "Jazz Boo min Europe," according to a July Ebony feature which says that both Duke Ellington and Cab Calloway will make a tour abroad this summer even though they amy not be able to take home their pay!

"The box office low at home is responsible for the all-out European tours," Ebony insists. "But mixed with news of smash hits and broken box office records in Europe comes one discordant note. Complexity of foreign currency exchange has taught more than one entertainer that you may make it overseas but you can't bring it away with you—not all of it anyway.

The Ink Spots had to go on strike to get their money in London, and Dizzy Gillespie had to wire home for money on his Scandinavian tour! The Duke and Cab, howver, are expected to make the same kind of deal Louis Armstrong did. Satchmo protected his earnings by having half his pay for his French trip deposited in U. S. banks, leaving the other portion to cover needed money at Nice."

Biggest drain on entertainers at the present time are current high prices. Hotel rents in London for the Ink Spots were $400 weekly. They also had to pay $400 weekly for food and drink and the same amount for cars and taxis.

All time high was a reported $20 for one cup of coffee. And yet they continue to trek overseas.

Times of general calamity and confusion have ever been productive of the greatest minds. The purest ore is produced from the hottest furnace, and the brightest thunderbolt from the darkest storm.—Colton

Jeanetta Brown In Council Post

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, president of the National Council of Negrom Women, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Jeanetta Welch Brown of Detroit, Mich., as executive director for the National Council of Negro Women.

Mrs. Brown, the former executive director for the council in 1943-45, brings to it a great deal of training and experience in developing community programs. A former lobbyist for Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, she has been for the past three years actively engaged in social, civic and community programs in the state of Michigan.

She was the first Negro woman ever to be nominated for the Michigan state legislature, having received the largest number of votes ever cast for any Negro in Michigan. She served for two years as president of the Detroit Association of Women's Clubs, superintendent of the Bethel A. M. E. church and district superintendent of the A. M. E. church schools of the Detroit district.

Noted Negro Musician Retires in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA. — The ceurtain rang down on a half century of distinguished achievement, when announcement was made this week of the retirement of Mrs. Zella N. Breaux, for thirty years director of the music department in the Oklahoma City school system. The noted musician had reached the pinnacle of affection in the hearts of thousands whose lives she had touched and helped. Many eyes were wet with tears when they learned of the school board's action.

Mrs. Breaux, who is the daughter of the late Dr. Inman E. Page, for many years president of Langston University, and still later the principal of Douglass High School, Oklahoma City, started teaching music as assistant instructor at Langston University in her 18th year, where she remained 18 years, building up during territorial days a band and orchestra noted for its excellence all over the Southwest.

Coming to the Oklahoma City school system in 1918, this quiet, unassuming woman immediately set about the task of placing the Sooner Capital in the musical forefront of the Southwest. Her perhaps most enduring monument is the famous Douglass High School Band, nationally known. This musical organization rendered concerts at the American Negro Exposition, Chicago; the Texas State Rair. It also, some fifteen years ago, made a Western tour extending as fas as Denver as a special feature of the Middle Western Association of Elks.

In addition to this famous band, Mrs. Breaux organized a girls' drum and bugle corps and a high school orchestra and chorus. She also taught voice and John Anglin, Oklahoma City youth, who is rapidly gaining a national reputation with his marvelous tenor voice, owes his remarkable training to this outstanding musical genius.

During her long career in music circles of the Southwest, Mrs. Breaux has been the recipient of many honors. She is chairman of the Band Festival Committee of Oklahoma, was president of the Oklahoma Association of Negro Teachers in 1946 and awarded the honor of "Outstanding Woman of 1947" by the Oklahome City Negro Chamber of Commerce. She was also the recipient of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority "Finer Womanhood" award in 1941.

In addition to her labors in the realm of harmony, she is the owner of the Aldridge Theatre, Oklahoma City, and much rural and urban properties in several counties of the state from which she draws oil royalties. She is a trustee of Avery Chapel A.M.E. Church, a member of the board of directors of the Urban League and a member of the management committee of the YWCA.

"I have not definitely decided just what I will do in the immediate future," aisd Mrs. Breaux recently, when questioned about her future plans. "I have several suggestions running through my mind regarding some of the things I have hitherto been too busy to doy."

Examination for Dental Position

The Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Los Angeles, announces examinations for Dental Technician and Dental Hygienist with salaries ranging from $2160 to $2654 per year. Applications must be filed not later than July 7, 1948.

Permanent appointments, as a result of these examinations, will be made to fill positions at Veterans Administration stations at Long Beach, Los Angeles, San Diego, Van Nuys, and West Los Angeles, California. Positions at McCornack General Hospital, Pasadena, California, will be filled from these registers.

Applications may be secured from the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Wilshire and Sawtelle Boulevards, Los Angeles 25, California, or from Boards of U.S. Civil Service Examiners at any First or Second-Class Post Office where this announcement is posted.

Plans Set for Reorganization Of Youth Council

The Youth Council of the NAACP will hold an important conference with youths representing youths of various churches, clubs and societies, Friday, June 18, 7 p.m., at the 28th Street Branch YMCA, according to an announcement by Leon W. Steward, chairman of the NAACP Youth Committee.

The purpose of the conference is to set plans for reorganization of the council and make it the greatest year in its long history. Any young person between 17 and 25 who is interested may attend the conference. Each youth church or club group of that age range is urged to send delegates, the chairman said.

There's Still Time Today

Today (Thursday) is the last day for filing applications for the next civil service examination for policemen in Los Angeles. The exams will be held on June 19, just nine days hence, and during this year, 600 men will be appointed.

The police department is attracting qualified young men because of the generous pension and retirement benefits offered, and because there is full opportunity for every patrolman to advance in rank with in-service training given free.

Applications can be obtained in Room 11 at the Los Angeles City Hall, and if you hurry, you can get in on time.

Publishers Convention Invites Outsiders For The First Time

CLEVELAND—Public relations directors of colleges and national welfare organizations have been invited to participate in a panel discussion with editorial department executives of the leading weekly newspapers during the annual convention of the Negro Newspaper Publishers Association here June 17-19.

Invitations to major educational institutions, as well as to government bureaus and organizations like the NAACR and the Urban League, were sent last week by Charles H. Loeb, chairman of the Editorial Society of NNPA, and Thomas W. Young, president of the publishers group.

Also asked to participate are the half dozen or more public relations organizations that have come on the scene in the past few years to provide publicity and promotion machinery and counsel to individuals and groups.

This is the first time that any large group not directly connected with the newspaper publishing business has been invited to join in the newspaperman's deliberations, Mr. Young stated.

Ralph Blanchard Speaks Thursday

National Trends in Local Health and Welfare Planning will be the subject of Ralph H. Blanchard, executive director of Community Chests and Councils, Inc., New York, and president of the National Conference of Social Work, when he speaks at the eighteenth annual meeting of the Welfare Council of Metropolitan Los Angeles on Thursday, June 17, at 12 noon in the Biltmore Hotel Ballroom.

Danger Spot To Get Traffic Light Soon

Acting upon the request of Councilman Keeneth Hahn, the City Council voted to install traffic signals at the corner of Vernon and aSn Pedro Streets. This four-way corner has been a dangerous traffic bottleneck for years.

Not only will the signal be a safety measure for pedestrians getting off the "V" car line and the Main Street bus line, but it will be a safety factor for the motorists of oLs Angeles who have to travel down San Pedro or Vernon Avenue to their places of business.

It was pointed out that the fire station which is located near Vernon and Main Street, presents a serious hazard when it is answering emergency alarms and these signals will be beneficial, not only to the public, but to the Fire Department as well.

New Course on World Politics

In response to the sharpening of interest in foreign policy which is being set in motion by the propaganda for the Truman-Marshall Plan and the hysteria of the cold war, the Los Angeles division of the California Labor School in its opening term will offer a course entitled "The Trusts Against the People in World Politics." This course will be given on six Friday evenings from 8 to 10 o'clock, beginning June 11, at the Labor School headquarters, 112 W. 9th st., Los Angeles.

The topics of the sessions include the following: "Who Makes U. S. Foreign Policy?"; "Truman-Marshall Plan"; "Anti-Imperialist Forces in Europe"; "Palestine, Near East and Oil"; "Far Eastern Peoples and U. S. State Department"; and "The Home Front of U. S. Foreign Policy."

Red Cross Named Agency For Flood Victim's Relief

Los Angeles Red Cross this week, along with more than 3700 chapters across the nation, were receiving mercy funds to assist victims of the devastating, death-dealing flood ravaging the states of Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

Los Angeles chapter's disaster relief forces were ordered into action upon receipt of a wire dispatched from national headquarters in Washington, D. C., disclosing that the organization has "upped" its initial donation to the flooded region from $250,000 to $1,000,000.

"Red Cross has been named the official disaster agency throughout the stricken zone, and has given the governors of the states involved assurance that all Red Cross resources and attention will be focused on the Northwest through the crisis period and into the era of a complete rehabilitation," National President Basil O'Connor's wire here disclosed.

Flood relief donations are being gathered in Los Angeles at chapter headquarters, 1200 S. Vermont Avenue, Los Angeles 6, it was revealed by Chapter Manager Bowen McCoy.

ASTHMA

BRONCHIAL—CATARRH—SINUS

Don't be discouraged: Read what this famous doctor says:

"Difficulty in breathing is the most characteristic symptom of asthama. Inhaling and exhaling the necessary air for the body's use are accomplished mainly by the action of the diaphragm, which is a flat muscle separating the lungs from the stomach and intestines. When the diaphragm is contracted the patient exhales the air and poisonous gases, and when it is expanded, air is drawn into the lungs. If stomach or intestinal gases are pressing the diaphragm upward, the patient will have difficulty in forcing the pressure down sufficiently to inhale. A weak diaphragm will be unable to do its work properly under this condition, and there will be a struggle to draw enough air into the lungs resulting in the peculiar wheeze of the asthmatic when attempting to inhale. Of course, there are contributing causes such as irrtating dust and pollen of plants, also a deranged condition of the nervous system. The patient usually wheezes along to a good age, with the misery of seeing every proposed remedy fail, until he dies from the effect of drugs taken in an attempt to relieve his symptoms. It may be truly said that at first he is afraid of dying and then afraid he will not."

"If much bronchial mucus is present in the lungs, the cure will be slower but nonetheless sure. Advanced cases seem to yield as readily as those just beginning, so do not think you are an exception because you have tried everything from climate to vaccines, as I do not know of a single case coming under my observation where the cure was not complete and permanent if the patient followed instructions carefully. Probably the reason the old cases respond to this method of treatment as easily as the mild ones, is because the patient who has suffered so long will follow a strict regime without deviating in a single degree, whereas the patient whose symptoms are just beginning has hopes for a remedy which will relieve, and allow him to live without diet regulations. Do not waste time looking for an easier method; there is no other way.'"

Dr. Chas. A. Tyrell, M.D., eminent physician, says:

"The most rational and practical manner of dealing with this . . . breeding place of disease is to wash it out. With me it has passed beyond the theoretical stage, for I have in my office fully 15,000 letters from grateful patients who have used this process, under by direction, with the most astounding results; scarcely a disease known to humanity, but has been relieved, and i n95 per cent of the cases, cures effected, while tens of thousands of gratifying messages have reached me from time to time; nor is the testimony in its favor confined to the laity, for hundreds of physicians (including some of the most prominent authorities) testify to the wonderful beneficial results achieved by its use."

Daniel C. Munro, M.D., says: "If I were to write the story of all the cases in which colonic irrigations seem to lift the patient from the very jaws of death, it would fill volumes."

Residents of Los Angeles are fortunate in having the New Yorker, a haven for those who suffer, where the cause may be removed. New Yorker specializes in thoroughly cleansing and eliminating from the colon all waste matter causing toxic poisons. Rid yourself of toxic poisons. If suffering, come to our office at once. Against Move For Secession

A resolution castigating a few members in New England who are attempting to lead a secession move, and branding their disruptive activities as being in the interests of the insurance companies and against the best interests of the membership, was unanimously passed Friday, June 4, by the executive board of the Insurance Employes' Union, Local 178, of the United Office and Professional Workers of America, CIO, it was announced by James Kayser, Local 178 representative.

This resolution was in response to a completely false and misleading story published last Thursday in which it was alleged that leaders representing 25,000 members of the UOPWA were leading a "mass revolt" out of the UOPWA.

"This is not true in Los Angeles and it is not true elsewhere," said Bernard Lusher, UOPWA Southern California regional representative. "This move is the work of a few members who are either outright company agents or who have allowed differences of opinions to blind them to the real interests of the members of our union."

This forum series is conducted by the Center's Forum and Adult Education Committee, of which Mrs. George Stiller is chairman. The forums are open to the general public at a nominal admission fee.

Museum Book Shop Enters Second Year

A little unique book shop carrying highly specialized and interesting volumes in the fields of history, science and art, started as an experiment in extra service at the Los Angeles County Museum in Exposition Park, is proving to be a great success, according to James H. Breasted, director of the institution.

Since its inception two years ago the little shop on the right, inside the main entrance to the museum, has flourished under the supervision of F. Willmott.

Palaeolithic Note

Practical fire prevention began when primitive man first singed his bearskin britches by getting too close to his open fire. He advanced a little more when he began keeping his spears and axes away from possible injury from the flames.

Take a hint from your caveman forbears by keeping that burning pile of rubbish well away from frame buildings and fences as they can't back up when things start getting hot.

Mother of "Stuff" Crouch Passes in Louisiana

ALEXANDRIA, La. (Delayed)—Friday two weeks ago was a day of sadness in this Louisiana community when funeral services were held for Mrs. Alice Payton at the A.M.E. Church where she had been an active member for over forty years. Mrs. Payton, who was born here, and who was 71, at the time she passed, was the mother of Julius "Stuff" Crouch, nationally-known Los Angeles night club owner, and one of the most popular men in that community.

Mrs. Alice Payton

So great was the esteem in which Mrs. Payton was held, most of the community turned out for the funeral services. A faithful and diligent church worker, Mrs. Payton was a member of the Spellman Guild of the A.M.E. Church, an organization named in honor of Mrs. Altonette Spellman, wife of Dr. Frank Spellman, Alexandria's most noted physician and citizen. Telegrams of condolence from all parts of the country were received by the bereaved family.

Mrs. Payton had visited Los Angeles four times as guest of her son Julius, her last visit having been in 1947. Surviving to mourn their great loss are: a son, Julius "Stuff" Crouch of Los Angeles; a sister, Mrs. Inez Smith of Alexandria, La.; four grandchildren, Mr. W. J. Mines, Julius Mines, Howard Crouch, and Julie Crouch, and a great-grandchild, Pamela Roach.

Outdoor Association's Drive For Expanded Public Services

Calling for widespread community support of the Outdoor Life and Health Association's membership drive, Miss Calestine Shambrey, campaign chairman, pointed out this week that "the battle against tuberculosis is not primarily a doctor's affair; it belongs to the public." The drive, which opened June 1, ends July 15.

"Public Support of our campaign," she said "will help to insure the vital medical care and the important bed rest for the 36 patients now at our sanatorium, and will help to provide these services for additional patients. Remember 'Your Dollar will Save A Life.'

The Association, she declared, is now planning an expanded program which will see the addition of new buildings to provide more space for tuberculous patients. Five acres of land are available for this expansion, she said.

The recent transfer of female patients to Olive View and the County Hospital, Miss Shambrey explained, will not only increase the efficiency of the sanatorium, but will make available more beds for the patients of private physicians. Female patients, she pointed out, will use the facilities at Olive View Hospital formerly occupied by the men transferred to Outdoor Life and Health's home.

"This represents a definte step forward," she said, "since increased efficiency of operations at all three centers will result. This move has the approval of Dr. Leonard Stovall, director of our rest home, who cooperated with Dr. Francis Johnson, consultant from Olive View, in carrying out the plan."

For campaign purposes, the city has been divivded into ten sections, each of which will have its own chairman, as will each club group, church and fraternal organization. Mrs. Faustina Johnson will head the area chairmen, and Mrs. Betty Hill will act as chairman for the special funds division. Donations may be sent to 936 E. 28th st., Los Angeles.

Crosswalks Painted

Ralph T. Dorsey, Street Traffic Engineer for the City of Los Angeles, upon the request of Councilman Kenneth Hahn of the 8th District, painted crosswalks at the intersection of 52nd Street and Long Beach Boulevard, last week.

Councilman Kenneth Hahn told the Police Commission that this crosswalk is needed because of the many citizens leaving the Pacific Electric trains and crossing the street. He warned the people to use only the crosswalks when traveling across Long Beach Boulevard and to be careful to look both ways before crossing this busy street.

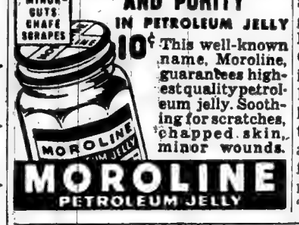
Attorney Builds 20 Year Record

CHICAGO — "Attorney Euclid Louis Taylor's phenomenal record of 114 consecutive murder trial victories in his 20-year courtroom career tops that of any U. S. lawyer Negro or white," a July Ebony photo-profile declares "including fame Jerry Geisler, Samuel Leibowitz and Clarence Darrow, the last of whom Taylor has even beaten in court."

"As assistant state's attorney in Chicago during the early thirties Taylor tangled with almost all of the Windy City's infamous gangsters," Ebony says, but his most celebrated case was that of Samuel Insull's extradition from Greece in June of 1932. The best legal brains in the world tried to block this move since it was the first extradition case of its kind, but papers drawn up by Taylor—then only two years out of law school—withstood every legal attack imaginable."

Bond Sales Jump Northrop Reports



U. S. Savings "E" Bonds are still a popular item with Southern California people, according to preliminary reports from the first major company to re-instate a payroll deduction plan for bond purchases.

Northrop Aircraft, Inc., re-instated the bond purchase program last week at the request of employes at its Hawthorne, California, plant. Nearly 500—about 10 percent of the personnel—signed up on the opening days, Paymaster Bill Wheeler reported.

Fireworks Pop Twice

A radical departure in staging their annual fireworks show that will benefit residents of suburban and city areas alike was announced this week by the Los Angeles County Council of the American Legion.

According to Lloyd E. Woods, council commander, the Legion will hold the traditional Fireworks spectacle this year on two days—July 4 and 5—instead of only on the Fourth as in the past.

July 4 has been named "Suburban Night" and special blocks of reserved seats will be set aside for residents living in outlying areas. In other years, difficulties in obtaining tickets prevented many children and their parents who resided out of town from seeing the show.

To facilitate purchase of tickets, they will be sold at Thrifty Drug Stores in all areas of Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura, and Santa Barbara Counties, and in parts of Riverside County.

Check Your Routes! Avoid Bad Roads

California motorists planning out-of-state trips this summer are likely to encounter the most deplorable road conditions in years.

More than 50 individual road construction projects, involving some 400 highway miles, currently are in progress along main arteries between this state and other leading travel centers.

Lengthy delays caused by detours and repair work can be expected on nearly all major highways if advanced routing is ignored.

New Chiropractors Graduated

Los Angeles College of Chiropractice held its commencement exercises last Thursday evening at the First Methodist Church of Los Angeles, California, with 350 graduates receiving their doctorate's degree. Most of them are distinguished veterans of World War II.

Dr. H. Arthur Steiner, professor at the University of California, gave the commencement address. Dr. Benedict Lupica, dean of the College, conferred to the graduating class, Doctor of Chiropractic Physician degrees, and also honorary Ph. C degree awards to the outstanding scholastic men and women students in the class. for their thesis on a subject of national scope on the latest "Physical Medicine Research."

Community Opposes Mundt Bill

76 labor, veteran, minority, senior citizens and community organizations unanimously adopted a resolution declaring "wholehearted oppostion to passage of the Mundt-Nixon Police State Bill as a basic threat to the very existence of American liberty," at the Clark Hotel last night, June 3, the California Legislative Conference and the Los Angeles Chapter of the National Lawyers Guild, sponsors of an emergency conference, announced today.

Guest speakers Robert W. Kenny, who reported on hearings in the Senate Judiciary Committee which he attended, Dr. Max Radin of the University of California Law School, Albert Maltz, noted writer, spoke on the dangerous aspects inherent in the Mundt-Nixon Bill.

Among the more than 200 representatives at the conference were 18 from the AFL, 22 from the CIO, 4 from the Railroad Brotherhoods, 5 from independent unions, 7 from the Townsend organization, 91 representing miscellaneous civic, veteran, youth, minority and political groups.

Pensions Upped $5

"The legislation just approved by Congress, increasing Social Security payments, means that the needy aged and blind of California, now receiving pensions, will receive a monthly increase of $5 sometime this year," George H. McLain, chairman of the Citizens' Committee for Old Age Pensions, stated this week.

McLain, who is the sponsor of the Aged and Blind Aid Constitutional Amendment, which will appear on the California November ballot, explained that Section 2025 of the Welfare and Institutions Code of the state of California, provides that any $5 increase voted by Congress will be passed on to the oldsters automatically, so that the present $60 maximum old age pensions will be upped to $65 a month.

Bohemian Now In 25th Year

In commemoration of their 25th birthday, the Bohemian Distributing Company is in the midst of plans for its silver anniversary which will be held at the firm's plant in Vernon on June 30.

The co-founders, J. S. Foto and Frank Vitale, built up their business from a syrup selling outfit to what is regarded as the largest distributor of beef, wine and spirits on the West Coast.

The original site of the Bohemian Distributing Company, a small shop, was at 815 East Fifth Street, Los Angeles. Physical growth started on a substantial scale in 1934 when the organization was transplanted to the present site in Vernon. The six-acre plot, keeping pace with soaring sales, eventually grew to 27 acres over which today sprawls a modern and completely equipped brewery and sales organization.

Industrial Progress In Fall Exhibition

Southern California's industrial progress will be depicted at the 30th annual National Metal Exposition and Congress in Philadelphia next fall by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and local utility companies, Frank N. Rush, chairman of the Chamber industrial development committee, said today.

The show is to be held at the Commercial Museum in Philadelphia October 25-29. Joining the Chamber in presenting the Southern California story will be the Department of Water and Power of the city of Los Angeles, Southern California Edison Co., Ltd., and the Southern California Gas Co.

MORE FAITH

How many times have you asked yourself the question, "Why haven't I got more faith?" So many of us wish we could increase our belief and trust, for faith cannot be pumped up just when we need it. Either we have it, or we do not.

But faith can be cultivated. Why worry, fret and fume, when you have a guide to keep you safe from harm and help you over the rough places. Thru great trials you learn to be strong in your faith, and you will be able to stand firm amid severe testings.

M. S.—Does J. T. intend to carry out his plans?

Answer—In all probability this person intends to carry out his plans in August. However, you must not be too hasty in accepting this proposition as he is a person that changes his mind periodically.

J. E.—Dear Prof. Herman: I want to thank you again and again for the wonderful help and advice you have given to me. Since I received your blessings, the peace and happiness I thought was in vain has really materialized. May God bless you always.

R. B.—How did the human language originate?

Answer — The origin of language is quite unknown; its beginnings lie too far back in the misty past of prehistoric ages. Scientists believe that men first learned to talk by imitating the sound that other animals made and that human speech developed from the natural cries of joy, sorrow, surprise or some other emotions.

R. C.—What does the future hold for my husband and I?

Answer—Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicates a favorable change in your financial condition in the very near future.

M. W.—The college I would like to attend requires very high credits due to so many veterans and students waiting to attend. What would you suggest?

Answer—This problem is confronting most colleges at this time because of the G. I. Bill of Rights which grants the ex-service man a chance to further his education since he previously didn't have an opportunity. Why not select a college where the waiting list isn't too long enabling you to study the course you wish to make your life's work.

Party Honoring Eagle Columnist Set for Sunday

The Sportsman Anonymous social club will stage a gala homecoming party Sunday afternoon, June 13, at 1918 So. Harvard Blvd. in honor of J. T. Gipson, EAGLE Theatrical Editor, who returned home recently after an absence of nearly four years.

Stars of stage, screen and radio will participate in the festivities, and a score of well-known entertainers and professional people will appear in person to sing, dance or play a number on the mammoth musical program being planned.

A silver offering will be taken at the door and some of the money made available to Gipson who will donate a bed lamp to each of the patients at the Outdoor Life and Health tuberculosis hospital, his favorite charity.

The public is cordially invited to attend, and the party starts at 3 p. m. Radio announcer Joe Adams will M. C. the entire proceedings.

● Hotel Refuses

reservations were made for hotel rooms and meeting rooms at the Hotel Californian, Fresno. Immediately thereafter all members of the Independent Progressive Party executive committee were notified of the change of plans. At approximately 4:30 p.m. Friday the manager of the Hotel Californian called the IPP State Office in San Francisco, asked if the party's committee meeting would include any Negroes and on learning that it did flatly refused accomodations in the hotel.

In response to a statement that Negro committee members of the IPP had previously stayed in the hotel, the manager responded by saying that they had been accomodated only because they held reservations "and the hotel did not know in advance that they were Negroes."

Decision to transfer the meetings to San Francisco and consideration of legal action against the Hotel Californian followed. The IPP in California and other new parties throughout the country have as one of the basic planks of their platform elimination of all restrictive legislation and enforcement of all existing equal rights statutes.

Prominent California Negro leaders on the party's state executive committee include Dr. Z. L. Goosby, vice-chairman, San Francisco dentist; Mrs. Charlotta Bass, Publisher of the California Eagle, Los Angeles and national co-chairman of "Women for Wallace," Hugh E. MacBeth, Jr., Los Angeles attorney and Dr. Matt Crawford, San Francisco.

The Doctor of Laws degree was conferred on Dr. J. J. Seabrook, president of Claflin College, Orangeburg, S. C. at Allen University commencement exercises.

County Leases Jail Oil Land

An oil lease has been accepted by the Board of Supervisors on County owned land in the vicinity of Castaic now used in part by the Jail department's Wayside Honor Farm, according to Supervisor Leonard J. Roach.

The County will receive a dash bonus of $139,380 for the drilling rights on approximately one-third of the 2100 acres that originally cost $150,000. In addition the County will receive a royalty of one-sixth of the production.

Built to relieve serious overcrowding in the County jail in the Hall of Records, the Honor Farm houses jail inmates whose exemplary conduct warrants less severe confinement.

The high bid accepted by the Board of Supervisors for the oil lease was submitted by George L. Bradford of Bakersfield.

Sgt. Phillips of USC Graduation

Sgt. H. Alonzo Phillips, 6th Army, O. R. C., of 11825 Parmelee ave., Willowbrook, has accepted the invitation of Pres. Fred D. Fagg, Jr., and the faculty of the University of Southern California, to attend its commencement ceremony on Saturday, June 12, at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

Sgt. Phillips, a graduate both of USC's school of public administration and of the ordnance school of military administration, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, expects to leave soon on a special assignment via Canada. He wrote the first thesis on Liberia in 30 years for USC.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

Segregation-Fascist Idea

The National Council against Conscription, in a 16-page report, declared that the proposed Russell-Maybank amendment to the U. S. Senate draft bill is "an essentially fascist idea." It would create a "white army and a black army instead of an American army," they said.

"Army division composed entirely of those who believe they belong to a superior race would be dangerous to America," the report stated. "Fear, intimidation, would lead Negroes to request to 'serve with members of their own race.' Seven-ninths of the total Negro population would have to register their choice before hostile Southern draft boards. They would have no semblance of choice. Draft board officials would choose for them, and few Negroes would dare raise a question, since to do so would mean reprisals against their families."

The National Council against Conscription while condemning universal military training, realizes nevertheless this method would fill many gaps now prevalent in the army. But the principle of segregation is what prevents those gaps being filled by volunteers, in the opinion of the Council.

"The mood of Negroes today is such that a vast proportion will not enlist in any segregated military program," the report declares. "So long as segregation in the armed forces continues, a well of resentment embitters 10% of the population to a point hitherto unknown, while the country as a whole is led to believe that a draft and UMT are the only way for the armed services to reach their authorized strength."

It all goes back to the old admonition of taking the beam out of our own eyes before we attempt to pluck the mote out of our brother's. We've been preaching democracy—even shouting it from the housetops—for the people of Europe. But we still stubbornly persist in practicing the most undemocratic methods in our own home.

"These policies lay the groundwork for ridicule in foreign lands of this country's professions of democracy," warns the Council. "The American army is today the greatest harbinger of prejudice in places where previously men had been judged on individual merit alone."

Racial hatred, prejudice, segregation are the surest instruments with which fascism can and will be foisted upon unsuspecting Americans. To ask that any American fight for democracy, and then refuse him the simplest fundamentals of democracy even while he is fighting, is stupid. To demand that he fight, is binding the shackles of slavery upon him and upon all his fellow-Americans, of whatever color of skin, who stand idly by and permit this outrage.

If we must have an army of thousands or millions, it must be an American army. An army where men are men, and where there is no difference because of race or color or religion.

A Gentleman's Agreement

In a "gentlemen's agreement," adopted after much wrangling in the Democratic County Central Committee last Tuesday evening, it was agreed that the regular organization of the new committee, due to meet and organize July 13, should be left until two weeks later, when the members attending the convention in Philadelphia could be home again.

Liberal members of the Committee accounted with glee how they were elected n spite of all the machinations of the elf-appointed County Council which ad set out to purge the Committee. An even 50 liberals, opposed by the Council, were elected. Besides, Mrs. Nettie Riherd, well-known Red baiter, failed of re-election. In her place Leo Gallagher, liberal labor attorney, was elected.

Roosevelt Supports Douglas

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr. said in a prepared address before the Westchester County (N. Y.) Democratic Club that he would support the "candidates, program, and decisions of the Democratic convention." He called for the eradication of want, starvation, joblessness, and inequality throughout the world and termed this program the "great crusade" of the Democratic Party.

Are We Moving Backward?

Negroes have never even hesitated to respond to the government's call to arms. Not only have they responded according to law—their response has been enthusiastic.

This matter of placing a bar against Negroes after the fashion of the Fresno incident must come to an end. The Independent Progressive Party meeting, which was scheduled for Fresno at the California Hotel, was cancelled when the management discovered that some of the delegates were Negroes. San Luis Obispo followed the same pattern, refusing to accommodate the meeting if Negroes were included among the delegates.

Ohio, the home state of Oberlin College, America's earliest liberal educational institution, almo mater of Paul Lawrence Dunbar, one of the nation's earliest renowned poets, went on record as refusing the Third Party, headed by Henry Wallace, a place on the ballot.

The Wallace-Taylor meeting found every door where meetings and eatings go on in Las Vegas, Nevada, closed in their faces this week, except the so-called notorious Flamingo Club.

The "Flamingo" issued an invitation to the Third Party, free from color strings. "Come in," said the management.

Not accusing—just echoing—"Is there greater honor and respect for Civil Rights among gamblers than among great business leaders?"

The Third Party movement, win or lose, should gather momentum as it moves across the nation, especially among Negro people. It is the only political movement in our time that has lifted the ban of discrimination against Negroes, and is sticking by its guns.

If Negroes have any foresight, they cannot help but understand that the people who protest the birth and existence of a Third Party, are their enemies. They are those who subscribe to segregation in the army and navy, who want restrictive covenants for housing, the barring of Negroes from hotels, cafes, parks, swimming pools, YMCA's, YWCA's, and "white" religious institutions.

While racial, religious, and other forms of hate are practiced against other racial and national minorities—none of them takes on the proportion as those practiced against Negroes.

Now, the Third Party with Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor in the fore, have launched a campaign that is fearlessly and uncompromisingly beating against the walls of hate and prejudice. The harder they fight, the greater grows the resistance by reactionary forces who would perpetuate the present American way of persecution of Negroes legally.

Negroes themselves, who desire freedom from fear from legally protected lynch mobs, from the poll tax, the Ku Klux Klan, the Gerald L. K. Smiths, the Thomas-Rankin Un-American Activities Committees, and the Mundt-Nixon bills, should join the forces of the Third Party, the Independent Progressive Party, in battling against these evils. And they should serve notice on their fellow race men who persist in being the tools and agents of those enemies, that they eventually will get their true classification and a place in the lions' den so richly deserved by them.

Last minute news reports say Fresno Hotel changed mind under pressure, will accept conference.

Stop Cross Filing

There will be a recount of Republican votes cast in two precincts of the 14th Congressional District, as ordered by the County Board of Supervisors.

In this district, Helen Gahagan Douglas, Democrat, had cross-filed on the Republican ticket, and received 150 more votes than the highest Republican candidate, Wallace Braden. Braden had also cross-filed on the Democratic ticket, but Mrs. Douglas out-stripped him in that contest by a huge majority.

The precincts where the ballots are to be re-counted are 829-A and 835. It is thought that the election board added the votes together, those on the Democratic and those on the Republican, and it was here that the mistake was made.

The confusion is all due to California's peculiar cross-filing election law.

Los Angeles' Slums??

Slums in the city of Los Angeles? Aw, there ain't no such thing. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has said so, for years and years. Anybody who says there are slums in L. A. is just a "Red," and ought to go back where he came from.

But nevertheless here comes Dr. H. C. Pulley, chief assistant City Health Officer, and declares that "Los Angeles must either proceed to make immediate plans for the housing of its low-income groups, or else prepare to see itself produce one of the nation's worst slums."

And Mrs. Curtis Albro, police commissioner of the city of Los Angeles, says that of all the juvenile arrests made in the central area of the city in 1947, more than 70% of them occurred in the section bounded by Figueroa street, Sixth street, and the river—the section which has the poorest housing and the highest population density.

As a contrast West Los Angeles and the San Fernando Valley, where there is plenty of space, have very little juvenile delinquency.

Crime, juvenile delinquency, poor housing, slums, go together everywhere, in whatever city you may live. That the members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce deny such conditions exist, or at best slide over them as something that is found in every city, is no reason why other alert Angeleños should bury their heads in the sand and refuse to see what is right before their eyes.

It is a good omen that members of the Police Commission and the Health Department are beginning to wake up to actualities. We could extend the area, however, which they say includes the poorest homes or houses in L. A.

That section in which the greatest numbers of arrests were made for juvenile delinquency includes the Civic Center, the City Hall where our members of the City Council could merely look out the window and see for themselves the broken-down, poorly ventilated tenement houses, rented by the room to entire families, with half a dozen families sharing the same bathroom, the same toilet.

Although these sub-standard homes exist right under the very noses of our city legislators, they could go a trifle farther in their investigations and fin sub-standard homes, or slum homes in the alleys back of virtually every so-called decent street in the city.

They can find them in the Central Avenue District, in the Watts District. They can find them on the Westside. In Hollywood. Perhaps even in Beverly Hills. Reconverted garages and chicken coops. Families living cooped up together with their in-laws in tiny apartments designed only for one person.

But why go on? The GI's, who had been promised so much upon their return from fighting for democracy, are thoroughly disgusted. So are the other American citizens, who are wondering why, in this greatest nation on earth, they can't find a decent place to go to and to take their families to. Why there are no playgrounds for their children to play in.

About the only answer is to take more interest in the government of our city. If we don't want Los Angeles to become the greatest American slum city, we as citizens of Los Angeles better get back of the plans of Dr. Pulley and other members of the Health Department, and of Mrs. Albro, of the Police Department, and see to it that those plans materialize.

Paul Cuffee, Patriot

From the New Bedford, Mass. Standard-Times

Standing in the cemetery in Central Village in Westport is the monument erected to honor the memory of Paul Cuffee, whose life has ever been an inspiration to colored people. Born on the island of Cuttyhunk in 1759, the youngest son of a former slave who married an Indian girl, he rose by his own industry and perseverance to become one of the leading men of his time, welcomed in the Bedford Village home of the wealthy William Rotch. He died in 1817, more than 130 years ago, yet the story of his life has ever been fresh in the memory of those of his race. His name, together with that of Frederick Douglass, has a place in the Negroes' Hall of Fame.

Dedicate Monument

It was not until 1913 tha a suitable monument was erected to honor Captain Cuffee bby his great grandson, Horatio P. Howard of New York. It was dedicated Sunday, June 15, that year in the presence of a notable company, including among them a number of the descendants of Captain Cuffee. The principal address was given by Miss Elizabeth C. Carter. The inscription on the stone reads:

1759 1817

In Memory of Captain Paul Cuffee
Patriot, Navigator, Educator,
Philanthropist, Friend,
A Noble Character

The inscription best describes the man who left the island of Cuttyhunk to make his home on the east branch of the Westport River, then a part of the Town of Dartmouth in which the present New Bedford was included. Captain Cuffee acquired a 100-acre farm through his industry, but soon turned his attention to shipbuilding. He had learned navigation and in the first ship that he built he engaged in the coastal trade. Larger ships followed in which he traded with Newfoundland and in later years he was engaged in the West Indies trade and with the coast of Africa.

Prisoner Of British

In 1776, during the Revolutionary War, his ship was seized on the high seas by the British and he was taken a prisoner to New York until released three months later. Two years later Captain Cuffee headed a petition to the Massachusetts Legislature, citing the fact that while the colored people paid taxes they were not privileged to vote. History does not record that Captain Cuffee's petition brought about the right of suffrage for colored people that was a part of the constitution adopted by the State in 1780. He did, however, bring to public attention this injustice under which colored people suffered.

Finding the town had provided no school building for his children, Captain Cuffee erected one at his own expense in 1797 and presented it to the town. He became a member of the Friends Meeting in Acoaxet in 1808. During the latter part of his life he became interested in the Negro settlement at Sierra Leone, visiting the colony, and also sought permission from the British Colonization Society to settle free colored people there.

Upon his death in 1817 Captain Cuffee left two sons and four daughters. He named as the executors of his will William Rotch Jr. and Daniel Wing of Bedford Village.

W. J. Wheaton Says

"When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There" Accompanied by the usual humming that concluded, or finished, Mary Ann's song, we made our presence known, and was greeted with a smile and a "welcome stranger" that made us aware that we had been week-ending. Also we remembered that we had little present for the two Mary Anns. Supper over, and table cleared, dishes put away, Mary Ann drew up her chair for the usual chat. You look better, are you feeling better, she asked. We assured her that we were near par. She shook her head, and there was a quizzical pucker of the mouth that seemed to say . . . maybe. Well I voted, and 'twasent no shucks at all. Little Mary Ann and the girls showed me how to work the machine and wrote what I told 'em on the card; some smart alecky fellow tried to stop me' en see my card and said that he wanted to show me how to vote. I thanked him, but told him I knowed how to vote.

"Them people in the voting place seemed kind 'er astopished when I writes my name 'en where I live. Thanks to you for telling me 'bout that nite school. I sure do think that none of us old folks that never had the chance for any book learning should feel 'shamed 'bout going to school. Roberta was telling 'bout one woman who was eighty years old going to nite school. I don't look eighty. Do I?

"No," we answered, "and never too old to learn. The great trouble with many of us is; we think we know it all when we graduate. Makes no difference whether it's from high school or college; we are just begining to learn. Knowledge is like a violin, or fiddle, as you term it, never mastered. Savants have sought the ultimate, but never found it. Only the veriest egoist can claim they have found the end of that road."

That's right, she said, and whenever I hears one of them blowhards talking like they know it all; well, I have got my opinion. I tells my grandchild never to get biggitty or uppity, but always try to learn more. I'm going to learn more 'bout farming. I'm going to make Josh study how to study to make our farm make us more than a living. I'm going to learn how to raise the best of everything we place on the farm. And if you're around, and I hope you will be, you'll be proud of Mary Ann. I'm going to see that my grandchild has every chance to reach her ambition to perfect herself as a teacher.

"Don't you know that the child says she wants to go back among our folk and teach? Well, I don't discourage her; for the Good Lord knows, we need it.

"Too bad 'bout them Arabs and Jews. Seems to me they both should respect that Holy Land where . . . What did you call Him? Oh yes; The Prince of Peace . . . It's too bad that He, who preached, taught, Peace and Love, should see that hallowed ground drenched with blood. Seems to me that both Jews and Arabs could live together in spite of their differences in religion. Which, after all, is not so different. But it's the same old thing . . . Human greed. Why I should'nt talk, when right in my own church I see things I know that's contrary to God's Commandments. Yes sir, I see 'em take the Holy Communion 'en go right out 'en not only break the seventh commandment, but a lot more. They's lots of church members, but few that practice the teachings of God and Jesus: that many of us believe to be God's Son. Here I been doing all the talking 'en you ain't said a word. Am I right or am I wrong?

We said, "not being a member of any sectarian church, and not being acquainted with their different curriculum, we could not say, nor express, an opinion. But we had our ideas what should command the moral respect of religious concepts. Further than that we could not say."

I 'most forgot to thank you for them tickets to hear them singers. Little Mary Ann thought them wonderful. I got the tickets you sent for Mary Ann 'en me to go hear the President: Diggity Dogity!! Who'd ever thot that me; Mary Ann, would ever hear the President speak. I certainly do 'preciate it, and my little Mary Ann can hardly wait for the time to come. Sorry you can't be along. Mary Ann's down at the school, they's practicing for some sort of play. Says to tell you she'll have tickets for you 'en you shan't pay any money; 'en she says she'll 'cept it if you offer it. So that's that.

We assured her that we would accept. "Don't you know that I'se getting to learn a lot about the men who are running for office. I'se reading lots. That man, Mr. Havenner, seems to be a pretty good sort of a man. Believe you said you knew him, 'en if you say he's alright; then I know hes' alright: 'cause you never tell me wrong. Mary says shes wished she could vote. Wanted to know how long it would be before she could vote. Seems so funny to me to see what little interest folks from back home take in voting. Back home they can't vote, 'en here, where they have the chance, they won't vote. Maybe they'll learn. When can you make arrangements to meet the folks I cook for, they sure want to meet you 'en have a talk with you. The Mr., he works in a office where there's lots of men 'en they have a club of some sort where they talk 'bout poltics 'en such."

When I tell 'bout you he certainly is anxious to meet you. Can you come to church with me next Sunday? Something special going on. Hope you can. We are making arrangements for the drive to raise funds for Booker T. Washington service center. Know you're interested. Believe you told me you're a life member. You're interested in the betterment of conditions of our youngsters like the rest of us. Come out 'en hear 'bout it. Know you can help; even though you're not well. The goungsters need mine 'en your help. Let's give it.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

HOW DOES IT LOOK TO YOU?

It has been ten years now since the Wage-Hour law was passed by the Congress fixing the minimum wage at forty cents per hour. In that ten year period, many things have happened, but none of them have been directed toward bringing the level of the worker's income in line with the ever-rising price spiral.

The price of food, clothing and other living costs have risen until the forty cent minimum is worth nineteen cents when you purchase food, and about twenty-four cents when you apply it to other living costs. Actually, few workers who are members of labor unions have been forced to balance accounts on a forty cent minimum, but there are large numbers of workers who do not have the direct benefit and protection of labor unions, and it is for them that the present campaign is being waged to bring the level up to seventy-five cents.

It is a simple and a logical deduction to conclude that had the forty cent minimum kept pace with the straight time hourly earnings in the manufacturing industry for instance, it would now be set at one dollar per hour. The Thomas McCormack Bill, designed to improve the ten year old Wage-Hour law, proposes to raise the minimum level to seventy-five cents. There is strong opposition to this move, notably from Senator Ball (Rep. Minn.), who has a most unsavory record on labor to begin with.

However, it is not Ball and his cohorts in Washington who are the ones who will influence the final determination in this matter; it is a rank and file position that will be decided on the basis of mass action or lack of it. Ball sets a sixty cent top with an escalator clause that would "permit" a seventy cent level, but would also allow a reduction to fifty cents. Unless he hears from the masses of workers who will be affected by the legislation passed on this matter, the odds are better than even that his philosophy will prevail.

This column is not unmindful of the problem presented in any present-day effort to get mass action. The workers who talk the bravest are the frightened men who hide the terror in their hearts and minds by denouncing alert, progressive action in unison with the witch-hunting Americanism committees. It is these frightened men who hold the key to the future; they can sacrifice their rights in fear, or they can demand them in the sure, steady voice of free Americans who refuse to succumb to the blandsishments and charm of pseudo-patriots selling fascism in a package wrapped in the American flag.

On the face of it, seventy-cents an hour is a reasonable wage level for today. The truth of the whole matter is there—on the face of it. It is simply a matter of justice; no worker should fear to give his support to a proposal to adjust his earnings to a level nearer the cost of living.

New Parking Rules For Vernon Avenue

New parking regulations on Vernon Avenue will be as follows:

1—No parking from 7:00 to 9:00 a.m. and from 4:30 to 6:00 p.m. on both sides of the street.

2—Parking only one hour between 9:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. during the daytime. Sundays and holidays excepted.

Socialism Does Have Some Advantages

By Paul French

A queer turn in the current of anti-Soviet lies has been given by some writers recently. Whereas the main line of liars has been scaring your pants off with the idea that the USSR is so strong that it may, at any moment, land a fully-equipped army by air at Seventh and Broadway, and seize every hock-shop on South Main street, a new branch of the liars' fraternity has now opened up with a line that the USSR is weak and wobbly, and we can lick it with one hand tied behind our backs.

Both kinds of lies are war mongering; the first one to scare you, the second kind to give you the idea that "our side" can lick "their side." Bill Henry, the Los Angeles Times' empty-headed vulgarizer of serious things, took the second line on May 24, saying that the Soviet is "not on a sound industrial basis." On May 27, the Times added an article by Paul W. Ward, designed to give the same impression.

Mr. Ward visited the USSR many months ago when reporting the Conference of Foreign Ministers, and his collection of falsehoods won him a Pulitzer prize for "reporting on international affairs." It also illustrates why the USSR doesn't like American reporters who, every time they are permitted to go there — "behind the iron curtain"—come back only to misrepresent everything.

According to Mr. Ward, Soviet workers are actual slaves — "wages are being slashed and the workday lengthened" and "a speed-up system enforced," etc., and the poor devils haven't any rights at all. Perhaps this all sounds very plausible to the employees of Henry Ford, who has come out for a wage cut (all American workers get a wage cut every time prices rise); to the workers of the Los Angeles Transit Lines the "lengthening of the workday" is something they have heard of right here, and every American worker knows what the speed-up is—the Steelworkers' Union says that with 18 per cent more man-hours in 1947 than in 1946, the Steel Trust produced 38 per cent more steel.

So wage cuts, longer workdays and speed-ups are something Mr. Ward didn't have to go to Russia to weep over. He could have found them right here. And as for the unions having "no say so" about this, look at our Taft-Hartley Law! However, the lie is that such things exist in the Soviet Union at all! The truth is that such bad conditions can exist only under capitalism, and cannot possibly exist under socialism in the USSR.

It is high time that you who are American workers, begin to examine the facts. How do you suppose Russian workers eat, live and work? How could they work if, as the liars say, they don't eat? If they are all dying off, how come Russia is "threatening" the "American way of life"? Somebody is lying to you, brother, that's plain.

Late last year, the Soviet—the liars said—devalued its money. In fact, the Soviet gave value to its money, and cured inflation completely. Here, we have a "dollar" that is worth only 60 cents. If "our" Wall Street government would do what Russia did, it would re-value our dollar, so you could buy 60 cents plus 40 cents of anything with it. That would raise your wages 66 per cent, obviously. How, then, does Mr. Ward make out that "wages are being slashed" in Russia, when the truth is that wages there have been raised 51 per cent since a year ago?

This wage arise was given by re-valuing Soviet money and by reducing prices. Rationing was ended, also; and right at the time it was tightened in England, where the workers are really going hungry. In Russia, as a result, the people bought 72 per cent more bread, 300 per cent more sugar, 52 per cent more cereals and 44 per cent more cotton and silk goods the first three months of 1948 than they did in the same period of 1947.

Starving workers do not—literally they cannot — increase their production. Yet Soviet workers increased industrial production by 21 per cent the first quarter of 1948, over the same period of 1947. Everyone knows that, when conditions are bad in industry, a large number of workers leave the factories and go back to the farms. But, in the Soviet Union, one million new workers entered the factories in the last year!

The result is, an unprecedented increase in industrial production, 32 per cent more in the first three months of 1948, than in the same time in 1947—a rate of industrial growth never attained by any country under capitalism, not even in the United States during war time. Cotton textile output gained 44 per cent, woolens 32 per cent, leather footwear 18 per cent. These are consumer goods, please note — improving living standards.

Living standards also improved in other ways than by money wages. Workers were paid for sick time taken off, for annual vacations, free high school, college and vocational education, free medical care (to everybody whether employed or not), nurseries and children's institutions, and grants to large families — added pay for added children, so all can live right.

More, there are no "real estate lobbies" and gyp contractors in the USSR. During 1946 and 1947, there were 170,000,000 square feet of housing space built in the cities (equivalent to 750,000 rooms 15 feet square!), and hundreds of thousands of individual private houses in rural areas.

Mr. Ward, who won a Pulitzer prize by falsely claiming that "USSR agriculture is still only slightly more productive than that of China or India," (L. A. Times, May 27) should explain how it happens that the International Emergency Food Committee was reported in the Los Angeles News of April 9, to have stated that:

"As of March 1, agreements concluded with the USSR by 14 countries, provided for exports of cereals this year from the 1947 crop, amounting to 3,200,000 tons. Two-thirds of this will have moved by June 30."

So Soviet agriculture is feeding millions of tons of grain to 14 other countries, Mr. Ward and other liars to the contrary notwithstanding.

U.N. Facts and Faces . . . . . YEMEN

The Imamate of Yemen is an ancient Kingdom in the southwest part of the peninsula between Asir and the British protectorate of Aden in Arabia. With an approximate area of 75,000 square miles and a population of 3,500,000 inhabitants, Yemen grows coffee and grain in the plateau of El Jebel, the most fertile part of Arabia. Its exports are coffee, grain, hides and charcoal. Its capital is San'a, an old walled city with eight gates. Yemen was admitted to the United Nations on 30 September 1947, and it was represented at the Second Session of the U.N. General Assembly by Prince Seif El Islam Abdullah. Its flag has a red background with five white stars and a white scimitar in the center.

Russia has cut in half the balance due on reparations payments from Hungary and Rumania. In a letter to Rumania, Premier Stalin said the decision was made "to assure the speedy recovery of Rumanian recovery." Molotov wrote a similar letter to Hungary.

Payment of reparations from Finland were previously cut by the USSR.

The Soviet-operated Radio Berlin, in the British sector of the German capital, has received an eviction notice from the British. The British want to use the station themselves, they said, and that the Soviets have had ample time to vacate before this. The USSR has been operating the station since 1945, although in the British zone.

The Russians have been setting up a radio station outside Berlin, but technicians say it will still take many weeks before it is completed.

President Truman, in his nonpolitical tour of the West, received the best reception yet at Butte, Mont., when he spoke to a crowd of 8000 in the high school stadium. He was saluted by the high school band when he entered the field.

Democratic leaders all along the route have voiced their dissatisfaction with the way Truman has snubbed them. He refuses to consult with them, or to permit any of them to ride on his train. When he spoke in Omaha, Neb., a handful of 2000 greeted him in an auditorium with a seating capacity of 10,000.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee has approved legislation authorizing a loan of $65,000,000 to finance the construction of a United Nations headquarters in New York City.

As the EAGLE goes to press, the 19-25 draft bill, drafting American youth between the ages of 19 and 25 for military service, was scheduled to be voted upon that day (Wednesday). The duration of the draft has been cut down from five years to two. But an amendment to restrict war profits was rejected. The bone of contention is an amendment by Southern Democrats, which would permit "segregation by request."

Forty-one veterans of Fresno have asked for damages amounting to more than $1,000,000 from the Bank of America and a former Veterans Administration appraiser for an alleged GI housing fraud. It was charged that over-ceiling prices were collected for homes constructed in a Fresno project, and that the houses were not built according to plans and specifications.

Members of Congress are liable to be recalled to Washington if they don't get all their work done before the national conventions. Robert Taft, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, advanced the idea, but others were not enthusiastic about it.

"There's gotta be a cut-off point somewhere," declared House Speaker Martin. "We can finish by June 19, if we try."

As a result of the further extension of Rural Electrification Administration lines in Virginia, many rural women are faced with the problem of what to do with their old kerosene lamps. In the country of Nottaway, a few miles southwest of Richmond, 68 colored homemakers solved the problem by converting their oil lamps to electricity.

GOVERNMENT ADVERTISES ANTI-BIAS THEATRE IN D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C.— The United States government is asking rent bids for the Belasco Theatre in this city. The bids for a ten-year conditional lease, will be received by the Federal Government on July 1.

There have been several prospective bids by interests who are anxious to open another legitimate theatre in Washington, but wish to open it on a non-bias operation. Named among the prospective bidders have been American National Theatre and Academy; The Washington Art Center, Inc., and Joseph H. Curtis, son of Harry Cohn, president of Columbia Pictures Corporation.

There are enthusiastic prospects that the 53 year old theatre will reopen.

NEW WARDROBE FOR EMPEROR HAILE SELASSIE

NEW YORK CITY—A Sebena Belgian Airlanes all-cargo plane left La Guardia Field this week carrying a complete new wardrobe for Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopa. The clothes were made by Kapa, Inc., 783 Madison Ave., New York City. According to an official of the air lines the Emperor wanted the conservative American styling.

The wardrobe included three dinner suits, six lounge suits, three sports jackets, two pair of slacks and two lightweight topcoats.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Miss Ida Fox(executive of the Council for Civil Rights in the Nation's Capitol, has revealed that Brock Pemberton, New York theatre man, and producer of the Broadway stage play, "Harvey," has agreed to discuss the issue of segregation on the air with her.

Miss Fox invited Mr. Pemberton to go on the air and discuss the issue with her, following a broadcast interview by Nancy Osgood over WRC, the morning of May 18th. During the interview, Mr. Pemberton defended the segregation policy at the National Theatre, where his play opened a four-week run, and condemned Equity's stand against it.

Miss Fox reports the producer has promised her he would debate the issue with her over a network emanating from Washington.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark — James Hawkins, Negro sharecropper was beaten, robbed and threatened with death by the operator of Cox Brothers plantation and some of his friends recently.

As a result he has brought suit in U. S. District Court here for $100,000, according to the Workers Defense League, whose lawyers are handling the case.

HAMPTON — The department of military science and tactics of Hapton Institute has announced 24 cadets, who, having satisfactorily completed the course of military training prescribed for the advance course, have been presented commissions as second lieutenants, Coast Artillery Corps, Officer's Reserve Corps.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A report prepared for the Federal Reserve Board by the University of Michigan's survey research center gave a clear picture of how a fourth of the nation's families have cashed their war bonds, depleted their savings and gone into debt in a futile effort to keep up with the ever rising cost of living.

DUBUQUE, Iowa—Students at Immaculate Conception Academy, Catholic academy for girls here, have resolved to boycott places of business in which intolerance of any kind is fostered. The resolution has been approved by the faculty of the school, and student committees have been sent to other Catholic schools of the city to solicit cooperation.

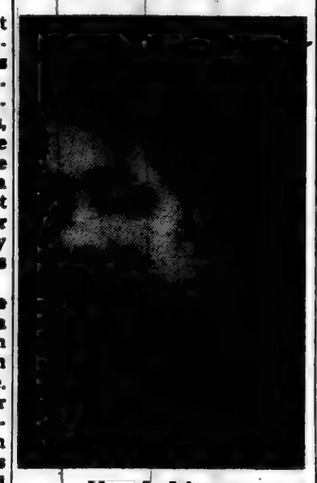
While the average corn yield in the South is only about 15 bushels per acre as compared to 30 for the U. S. as a whole, and 47 for Illinois and Iowa, 54 Negro farmers in North Carolina produced corn yields of 100 bushels or more per acre. Producer of the highest yield is William M. Chance, who got 131.1 bushels per acre last year.

Trail Blazers:

Mary L. Johnson

By PHYLLIS SCOTT

Vision, more people are beginning to realize, is a very practical and necessary attribute. Progress slows down, the economic force slackens, and vital, growing things die without it. But men and women of faith and vision seem to grow with greater rapidity because they can see the reality of the potential.



It was many years ago that Mary L. Jones Johnson recognized this. The merits of this public figure stand out singularly and have been duly acknowledged by leaders of Texas, particularly of Houston. For she has not limited her talents. She has developed them in such a fashion that she can meet most any situation without qualms or feelings of inadequacy. Thirty years in the professional field is the real story.

Her career dates back to the World War I era when, but a school girl in Houston, she began her first writing experience in the office of her uncle, C. N. Love. He was the founder and editor for 40 years of The Texas Freeman, the oldest Negro weekly in the state and one of the nation's strongest advocates of civil and political emancipation. A self-made man, he was dynamic as a writer and persuasive as a speaker.

Her development under his tutelage was amazing. In the style of our early New England writers she wrote bombastic and poetic simultaneously. She is as proficient with her treatment to eulogies and social items as she is to editorials and dissertations.

But her field, first and foremost, is in education. At Prairie View college she continued her writing as assistant to the editor-in-chief of the college journal and later assumed its full responsibility. After graduation she had the unusual experience of being the youngest faculty member of Prairie View and the first woman to hold the position of Registrar of the college. During this time she inaugurated a modern records and filing system.

It is said that Houston is one of the few cities in the entire country where the Negro populace absorb three high schools.

Mary L. Johnson

Our trail blazer has added a conspicuous leaf to the annals of educational progress in Houston; for she has not only taught in the state college and Houston Municipal college but the three senior high schools as well. She did her graduate work at the University of Southern California.

An outstanding authority on history and government she prides herself on Negro history. Yet her classes have always been constructive, positive without being boring. Students beg for her classes and that's the way it has always been throughout her teaching career.

She feels that the youth are "quick to sense their responsibilities. They will come into their own and rise to meet the occasion as in other times . . . but," she urged more strongly, "the field of mediocrity is overcrowded. There is no recognition given to this group. More than ever before stability and sticktuitiveness is needed for permanent position in our society. Too often, we launch out into different fields and shift around on various jobs without seeing it through to the finish."

She has always been identified with civic projects of uplift to the community, city, and state. Long regarded as an eloquent and resourceful speaker she has had wide experience as mistress of ceremonies, program sponsor, committee worker, and versatile writer. For years she has been an exponent of greater political consciousness and is happy to see the American people showing a mark of progress on a national scale.

In 1945 Mrs. Johnson was granted a leave - of - absence from the Houston schools for a much needed rest. She and her husband, General S. Johnson, moved to Los Angeles, where they own and operate the building which houses the Johnson's Confectionery and Service Bureau, 3623 S. Western ave.

Her work in the business has not permitted her to engage in the civic affairs of Los Angeles as fully as she was involved in Houston. But her home, warm and hospitable, has been the mecca of many an elaborate social function. With nothing akin to bravado Mrs. Johnson's rich experiences have kept her in demand.

Natives of Houston know her family well. She is from a long line of caterers, the daughter of the late Mrs. Mary L. Jones and niece of Mrs. C. N. Love of Houston, and niece of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hood of Los Angeles.

Thunder

Many strange things are done and said in the name of democracy. but the most indescribably monstrous crime of passion was committed in the hallowed halls of the House of Representatives last Wednesday.

The House Un-American Committee, aided and abetted by the assembled "Representatives, pushed through the Subservices Control Act of 1948 by a vote of 319 to 58¼ This act, the Mundt-Nixon Bill, is destined to live in the annals of crime.

Ostensibly aimed at the Communists, this bill provides penalties of imprisonment and fines for anyone who "knowingly or unknowingly" aids the "world Communist movement."

Inasmuch as there "gentlemen" have given notice that ignorance of the nature of communism is no excuse, we shall attempt to inform you as to what THEY mean by the term. We advise you to disregard the writings of Marx, Lenin and Stalin as these authors lack the perception of the Un-American Committee and necessarily their interpretations differ.

The Communists say the Government is subservient to the economic system regardless of political form, i.e. whether democracy, monarchy, dictatorship or what have you, and therefore cannot tolerate democratic attempts to replace the old economic system with the new.

Obviously the committee agreed for they hastened to draft a bill which in effect outlaws the Communist Party. Thus, while the committee seeks to preserve democracy, it establishes totalitarianism; meanwhile, the "totalitarian" party—the Communists—is trying to establish itself by democratic means, i.e. without force and violence. This presents somewhat of a paradox!

To digress further, we might add that a further contradiction appears in the Committee's opposition toward "alien ideology". It so happens that the theory and principles of democracy are a Greek importation! Surely our legislative giants do not wish to subvert the Constitution. Or do they?

In reexamining the personnel of this committee, we discover a number of old friends whose point of view on democracy is quite revealing.

High on the list (co-chairman, as a matter of fact) we find rootin' tootin' John Rankin of Mississippi. To the fourteen million Negroes of this land, he needs no introduction. His brand of "Americanism" is exemplified by the Ku Klux Klan, of which he is a member. All opponents of his point of view—described in the bill as "promoters of racial strife—are "Communists". He rated position number five on the Reader's Scope list of Dangerous Americans.

Rep. Karl Mundt of South Dakota and co-author of the bill, sees Americanism through the eyes of J. P. Morgan. Mundt opposed the Social Security Act and relief during the depression as—you guessed it—"Un-American." The Cross and the Flag, G.L.K. Smith's slimy sheet, features articles by this Congressman. High on the list of contributors to his political campaign are the Pews, Mellons, DuPonts and Col. McCormick of the Chi Tribune. Strikes against the interests of any of the above monopolists would of course be "Un-American".

Rep. Nixon of California seeks his due "credit" for the bill, and we are quite willing to oblige. In a Town Hall broadcast, he stated that the Attorney General requested the Committee produce a bill to curb the Communists as existing statutes are too weak to meet the problem.

There happens to be 27 laws dealing with sabotage, espionage, treason, conspiracy, etc. The laws are quite specific, requiring registration of foreign agents and organizations. The Mundt-Nixon bill reiterates these—with a difference: The Communist Party, which has never been successfully tried for violation of any of the statutes, is defined as a conspiracy to overthrow the government! Any organization with members of the party, or policies with which the Communists agree, must register as a front! Logically, anyone agreeing with the Communists that the world is round is subject to imprisonment for failure to register.'

That the bill is unconstitutional is beyond doubt, in view of Supreme Court decisions that the Communists do not seek to overthrow the Government by force and violence. But on the other hand, a precedent was established in 1920 by the Palmer Raids in which 10,000 people were arrested and six thousand were held incommunicado by the agents of the Attorney General of the U.S. These raids, which defied the 1st, 4th, 5th and 8th Amendments to the Constitution were executed pursuant to the passage of the Alien Deportation Act, the Sedition and Espionage act of 1917-18. Subsequent analyses of this episode revealed that the raids—camouflaged by anti-Communist hysteria—were actually directed against trade unions, Negro groups, and other minorities.

A parallel to the present situation is to be found in the fact that Eugene V. Debs—third party candidate on the Socialist ticket at that time—was imprisoned for violation of the Espionage and Sedition act of 1918. While serving his jail term he received one million votes for the office of President. His actual "crime" however was leadership of many trade unions of that period.

Too often we find our histories and other texts have committed the sin of omission or distortion of these discreditable incidents less we lose our faith in democracy. They do not accept the principle of free dissemination of ideas as the safeguard of public interests, but rather induce is to "love, not wisely, byt too well."

The only answer we can give, of course, is "my country, right or wrong. When right, to keep it right; when wrong, to set it right!"

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

"When the people of California bother to vote," remarked a political observer, "they usually see to it that those in office stay there."

That little word, "incumbent," I've been told, carries a weight of about 30% for the candidate thus labeled.

"Incumbent?" muse the voters. "Oh, that means he's already in office. Well, he must be good, else the people wouldn't have elected him in the first place."

Haven't you heard that kind of reasoning, again and again? I have. Sometimes the incumbent is all right. At other times he's all wrong. But simply because he has been elected once or twice, or even a dozen times, does not mean that he's wholeheartedly for the people. As every candidate should be whom we the people support.

That remark about the people "bothering to vote" is surely apropos. It was predicted that the vote in the primary election, June 1, would be light. But towards evening, so said the newspapers, the voting seemed to pick up a bit, and it would be heavier than expected. It was—guess what? Not quite 50%! Less than half. But that seems to be the usual percentage of voting anywhere in the United States.

And then we expect to combat some of those awful "isms" that have come here from Europe and are floating around in the air! Those "isms," if we want to fight them, must be fought at the ballot box, and no amount of haranguing or preaching, or even praying, will oust them in any other way.

One of the reasons given for this light vote in the last primary, was that the voters were confused by a complicated ballot and uncertain campaign issues. They didn't know, they couldn't tell whether they were voting for a Democrat or a Republican. Or an IPP.

That's because of the outrageous cross-filing system which prevails in California. In no other state in the Union can a Republican file as a candidate for office on a Democratic ticket. Or vice-versa. Yet candidates can do that here, and think nothing about it.

This cross-filing system works far more havoc at the polls than any poll tax can. It not only confuses the voters no end. It permits candidates to be nominated, and even elected, while posing before the people as upholding a set of principles the direct opposite of those to which they actually adhere.

Jack Tenney, you remember, two years ago was elected at the primaries by cross-filing on the Democratic ticket, although he himself no more represenedt the principles for which the Democratic Party stood than a panther could represent a deer. The liberal forces then went all out to get an initiative measure on the ballot to prevent this nefarious practice of cross-filing. But the people weren't interested. They really didn't know what cross filing meant. And they wouldn't take the trouble to find out. As a consequence not enough signatures were collected for the measure, and it was lost.

But it's a long lane that has no turning. The tables have been turned: In this last election, Helen Gahagan Douglas, a Democrat, cross-filed on the Republican ticket as a candidate for Congress in the 14th District. What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, you know.

And believe it or not, she won the nomination on the Republican ticket! One or two other Democrats have done likewise, but for the most part it was the Republicans who won out again in the system peculiar to California.

Mrs. Douglas' victory, however, seemed to hit the hide of the Republican elephant is a peculiarly sensitive spot. She is an outstanding liberal, everyone knows, and the fact that she was nominated on the Republican ticket—conservative to the n'th degree—is enough to make any Republican tear his hair, and cry aloud for vengeance.

That's just what the Republican leaders are doing. They're talking about errors in the counting of the ballots, about a recount, about a lot of things that could have gone wrong, in their opinion, and given the nomination—virtually the election—to the wrong person.

Some of those clever politicians are even saying now that the law which permits cross-filing should be repealed! Verily the shoe is on the wrong foot. And it is pinching hard. About the best way—in fact the only way—to teach those same politicians a much-needed lesson is to give them a dose of their own medicine. It's pretty bitter this time. But it seems to be working.

IPP FILE Court Action Vs Jim Crow in Ga.

Supporters of Henry Wallace continued their fight against Jim Crow in Georgia this week following of a civil action charging a Laurens county political leader and a superior court judge with conspiring to deprive 1,800 Negroes of their voting rights.

The Laurens legal action was initiated by a group of Wallace party supporters after it was revealed that more than 1,800 of the 2,477 Negroes registered to vote in the 1946 general election had been purged from the voting lists.

The suit charges that W. Herschell Lovett, political leader, Superior Court Judge R. Earl Camp and eight other officials, including two members of the Laurens county Democratic executive committee, had entered into a conspiracy last September.

The eight Negro citizens filing the suit asked a total of $80,000 damages and restoration of the purged names to the county voting list.

They said they were sent illegal notices to appear before the board of registrars and then removed from the list. White persons were not removed, they said.

Registrars who purged the list received $2,022 from the county commissioners, the suit charged.

In Savannah a fight for an unsegregated rally was directed against the city council and City Attorney John C. Wylly. Wylly said the council was acting "under the law of common sense" in demanding segregation.

Leading the fight are Miss Branson Price, Atlanta, member of the national committee of the Wallace for President Committee; Mr. and Mrs. Herman M. Rich, Atlanta; Robert E. Hawkes, port agent for the National Maritime Union, and Roy Greene, Savannah.

Henry Wallace's insistence on speaking only to unsegregated audiences has shown what personal action can do to help end Jim Crow, the National Alliance of Postal Empleyees has declared in a report on civil rights.

Speaking of the fight against Jim Crow, the report declares:

"The fact that Negro and white people can work together and cooperate without basic friction has again been demonstrated, very recently, in the program of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare and their sponsorship of a tour by the former Vice- President of the United States, Henry A. Wallace.

"Mr. Wallace addressed thousands of Southern people in nonsegregated audiences and vigorously denounced the system of racial discrimination and segregation without creating an untoward incident. This happened in the very heart of the lynch, poll-tax and share-cropping region of America."

Closely paralleling the Wallace program, the organization calls for an immediate FEPC in government service, elimination of segregation in the armed forces and militia, repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and abolition of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mrs. Bass:

While making a brief stop with the ship I was on in the harbor of Dakar I came into conversation with a colored man. He mentioned several matters pertaining to restrictions which seem as unbelievable to me as what happened in the South in the year 1947 had I told him about it. He but mentioned his side and as he was anxious to know what found place outside of his world I told him about the reputation of the editor of the "California Eagle." We were not allowed to go ashore due to our short stop therefore had no opportunity to observe conditions as I saw them in Madagascar. Insofar as this note pertains to the man I spoke with in Dakar I will only mention his desire. He was grateful for the things I told him. No matter how this is taken the fact rest upon his longing to know and wonder what can be done. I am enclosing the note he gave me.

Respectfully yours,
W. ANTENNE,

Resistence To Jim Crow Army Urged Gains Support

NEW YORK — A survey, conducted by the youth division of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, reveals that 71 per cent of the 2280 young men who responded favor the Randolph - Reynolds proposal of refusing to serve in a Jim Crow army. A total of 13,000 questionnaires were sent out for distribution through NAACP college chapters to male Negro students attending 34 institutions. Responses were received from students of 26 colleges. Only 15 per cent of those responding opposed the anti-Jim Crow proposal. Another 13 per cent was uncertain, and 1 per cent failed to answer this questilon.

Seminar On Vets Begin Here June 19

Seminars on Education and Training, sponsored by the Department of Veterans Affairs, have been planned for the benefit of county service officers, service center directors and the personnel of these offices to acquaint them with the many problems surrounding these important services to veterans.

Each meeting is scheduled for two days and will be held at six central locations throughout the state. The first of the seminars will be in Fresno and Los Angeles on June 19 and 20.

Future seminars will be held in Sacramento, San Diego, San Francisco and Redding.

Socially Prominent Attend Elaborate Reception Honoring The C. L. Coffeys

One of the most fashionable of current June wedding receptions took place last Sunday evening when the socially prominent Mrs. Frank A. Harvey honored the newlywed Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Coffey Jr. Mrs. Coffey is the former Ramona Robinson, only niece of Mrs. Harvey. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Robinson, pioneer family and noted educators of Pensicola, Florida.

Between the hours of 5 and 8 p.m. more than 200 guests felicitated the couple, at the Harvey home on 7th Avenue. The bride made a regal picture in her white gown of marquisette over a satin slip. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom and her wedding band. She carried a spray of orchids with white satin streamers. In the receiving line with the couple was Mrs. Harvey who was very charming in a chiffon gown of rose grey with corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Nathaniel R. Bates, cousin of the bridegroom, who was stunning in a blue taffeta gown, and Mr. Nathaniel R. Bates.

Wearing lovely formal gowns, the following matrons received as hostesses. Mmes. Howard Allen, Lee Hicks, Henry Kennedy, Byron Kenner, Leslie King, Joseph Oliver Sr., T. Curtis Smith, James T. Smith, Lee V. Steward, Fred Whiteman and Paul R. Williams. The junior hostesses were, Paulette Coleman, Jean Garrott, Yvonne Johnson, Odessa Jones and Norma Williams.

Assisting with the very elaborate affair were other aunts of the honoree, Mmes. Leonoria Athrop, Ivan Jones, Hugh Lowery, Charles P. Jones, and Mattie Turner of San Francisco.

The appointed room of the beautiful residence were enchantingly decorated in white fresh cut flowers. Exquisite pieces of ancestral crystal and silver ware were used in the dining room, where a four tiered white wedding cake was the center piece.

YUMA MARRIAGE

The popular young couple eloped to Yuma, Arizona, on Mothers' Day, May 9. The preceding evening a dinner party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Jones, announcing their engagement. The elopement news came as a surprise to many in the social set. The bride is a graduate of Los Angeles High school and attended Los Angeles City College. Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Coffey Sr., noted morticians of Shreveport, La., and Houston, Texas, is a graduate of Wiley College and at present is employed as a blue print reader and drafter.

The young couple will make their home in Los Angeles.

The late Frank A. Harvey Sr., uncle to the bride, was a member of the Harvey Brothers Firm, a civic leader and a member of one of the city's oldest and best known families.

Traditional White Satin Worn by Mary Robinson in Beautiful Wedding Ritual

Casa Rafael was the scene of a beautiful wedding reception Sunday, June 6, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Theodis Marshe. The young couple were united in marriage in a beautiful ceremony at Independent Church, minutes before the reception took place. The Reverend Clayton D. Russell presided the ceremony.

The bride, formerly Miss Mary Robinson, was lovely in a white satin gown with full length train and she carried a prayer book covered with orchids. The bridesmaids, wearing gowns of carnation pink and carrying bouquets of carnations, formed a picture of beauty. The maids were, Eloise Lee, Sammy Trail, Jerre Jones, Bernice Marshe. The ushers were, Barney Rivers, Horace Griffin, Jordan Daniels and Henry Marshe.

Mrs. Lois Williams took care of the entire ceremonial. Bridal music was played by Ronald Wharion, violinist, accompanied at piano by Sara Vaughn. "Because," "I Love You Truly," and other bridal hymns were played.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson of St. Joseph, Missouri, attended Los Angeles City College and is active in several club groups. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Marshe of this city. The groom is a graduate of Arkansas Baptist College and also attended L. A. C. C. He is a member of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity.

The young couple is now enjoying a honeymoon in San Francisco.

A POEM TO MR. & MRS. MARSHE

By MICHAEL ELLINGTON

SPOTLESS SWEETNESS

You are to me a dream from above,
A long sought sweet fulfillment:
I look at thee and smile in peace
And feel no longer restless.

I only see the days ahead
Enriched by being with you,
With things that you and I both love,
That keep me so close to you,
For understanding fills our day,
We never could be strangers.

Since you are my everything
My happy hours are with you.
So come to me and let me smile:
And learn of life in Heaven,
Which comes from love that we both share;

Our theme to spotless sweetness.

VACATIONING — Charming Netta Paullyn Garner, Mrs. George Robert III, is vacationing with her artist husband in their town house "Excelsior." Mrs. Garner returned from her activities at Lincoln University and in New York, Boston and Chicago, where she is doing research in Folk Literature through a grant from the Blackstone Foundation. Mrs. Garner will return east June 14.

'Y' Girls Ready For Summer Confab

Conference is one important part of the YWCA work with girls. Teen age delegates have been selected to represent Woodlawn Branch clubs at the summer conference to be held on June 28 to July 5 at beautiful Asilomar YWCA conference grounds at Ocean Grove, California.

Eight girls chosen from clubs organized in three high schools will attend. They are Joann Holbert, Shirley McCree, Dorothy Austin of Jefferson High, Shirley Qualls, and Maureen Taylor, Manual Arts, Joyce Overr, and Vera Mae Lee of Polytechnic.

Joyce Overr is delegation chairman. Mrs. Inez Allen, program director for work with teen age girls, will be the adult delegation leader. Girls from four western states and Hawaii will attend.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

A PLAYGROUND FOR national meetings was the role played by our dear old Sunny Cal last year, and all concerned had a grand time. In looking over an advanced summer schedule we find that the host role will not be played to as many groups, however some very interesting sessions will be going on through July and August. Of course, all eyes are turned toward the elaborate planning being done for the Phi Beta Sigma national calling to order during August. Already official Greek letter orgs have come to the front with invitations to entertain the visiting fraternity throughout the entire convention. Dr. C. W. Hill, local president, assisted by S. P. Johnson, Joseph Oliver Sr., George Garner, Arthur Houston and the many others who make up the chapter are all out to make this one of the greatest conventions in the history of Phi Beta Sigma. Am quite sure, all Angelenos will rally to the gents making their Los Angeles visit a very gay one. . . . Still on the convention beat, but in the regional bracket, will be the scheduled July gathering here in Los Angeles of Alpha Phi Alpha men of the Far West. During the 3rd, 4th and 5th L. A. will greet, for the first time in the history of Alpha, the general president and vice president. Barksdale Brown, regional head and Lionell McCade will be heading the group of official hosts. The Alpha Wives Club, will play a very important part on the entertainment front, for several social gatherings have been planned during this holiday gathering of Greeks. . . . Of course, Down San Diego way, the AKAs will also gather, regional like, and discuss facts of importance along the national line. It is a definite fact that the supreme basileus, Edna Overgray will be present at the session. Audrey B. Jones, Far Western Regional director will be in charge of the meeting. Plans have already been made to jointly socialize with the Alpha Phi Alpha brothers since both regionals are planned for the same time. By the way, the AKA Boule will be held in Washington D. C. this year and during the month of December with Howard University, the place of its originality as the scene of activities. . . .

Ruth Mars, an official delegate from Alpha Phi chapter to the regional conference of Iota Phi Lambda held last week in Denver made the round trip via the air way and is now back on the job. The national president attended the session and bestowed the national honorary membership on Mrs. C. A. Bass, editor publisher of the EAGLE, and by far one of the leading Negro business women of the country. Mrs. Bass, also made the trip via air. Marion Jackson, local pres., however made her way via the good old land, by train. . . . Before dropping the facts on national and regional greek gatherings, hear that the Deltas will gavel their session to order during August in St. Louis. In '49, they will be meeting in San Francisco. . . .

Camellia Girls Prep for Second Annual Review

The second annual fashion review to be staged by the popular Camellia Girls club will be held on June 13 from 3 to 7 p.m. at Club Congo. Fashions will not be displayed solely for Milady's interest but also for the many gentlemen attending for Joe King and his company will show the latest in fashions for the male.

The highlight of the show will be fashions in hats and bags styled from fresh cut flowers by Helen Jane. All fashions from morning to night will be displayed. Pete Collins will furnish music, and tickets to the affair priced at 50 cents may be obtained by calling CE. 2776 or AD. 14673.

The style committee is headed by Christine Hagnes, Margaret Potter and Doris Perry.

Venice Teacher Engaged To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Petty of Venice announce the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite, to Rollo G. Chrisman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Kelley, Santa Monica.

Miss Petty, teacher in the city schools system and dramatic artist, is a graduate of Xavier University, New Orleans and has done graduate work at the University of California at Los Angeles and the University of Southern California.

Mr. Chrisman attended Tuskegee and is manager of the employment office in his father's real estate and employment concern.

The wedding will take place in August.

Youth Festival Ceremonial To Be Outstanding Event Queens to Be Crowned

Period fashions will play an important role in the elaborate gowns being individually designed for Agnes Moreland and Mary Bowden, reigning Queens over the "Interracial Youth Festival," sponsored by the Laura Slayton Youth Foundation at Wrigley Field Sunday, June 20th.

Queen Agnes' graceful figure will be gowned in a picturesque regal creation and Queen Mary's gown is a traditional bouffant type to flatter her petite figure.

The Queen's Gowns are being designed made through the courtesy of the Moderne Dress Shop at 3625 So. Western Ave. Fannye Bulkey and Fredericka Pruden co-owners and designers have proven their sincere interest in youth and they contributed in no small way to encourage in youth a desire to strive for higher goals. These two sister dress designers have generously donated all material and workmanship on the Queen's gowns. They have also given much time to library research work to perfect the regal gowns, which will play an important part in the elaborate coronation ceremony and Honor Court where outstanding youth will receive their laurels and awards.

The final decision of the two outstanding boys of the year to reign has not been determined. Some of the youth who will be summoned to appear before the Honor Court of Queen Agnes and Queen Mary to receive deserving awards are: Yvonne Watson, Wilbur Scott, William De Valentine, Georgia Ann Laster, Marjorie Day, Fred Thompson, Litha Lee Brown, Calvin Rock, John Louie Earl, Ruby L. Knox, Shirley Woodby, Joyce J. Anderson, Eddie Lee King, Almita Johnson, Samuel L. Owens, Mary Ann Buford, and last but not least little 4 year-old Laverne Cryer. Additional names will be mentioned in next week's paper.

The deadline for excepting all youth awards is June 12th, and the public is asked to continue to assist in discovering young people deserving awards for meritorious work in all fields. Application blank for filing will be found on this page.

Highlights of the Festival will be the spectacular interracial pageant of colorful folklore presented by youth of many races in traditional costumes and native dances; sensational youth bands featuring drum majorettes and baton twirlers; youth choruses of many mixed voices; Boy Scouts flag bearers forming avenues with flags of the different nations as the youth of many races parade in the procession. Better than 1000 youth will participate in this spectacle.

All proceeds from this event will go toward the building fund of the Laura Slayton Youth Foundation. The prices of admission, tax included are: Boxes $1.20, General Admission .60, Children under 12 yrs., .25. Tickets are on sale at the Southern California Music Co., 737 So. Hill St., TU. 1133; West Coast Public Service Bureau, 4233 So. Central Ave., AD. 13751 and Brock's Service Center, 1246 W. Jefferson, RO. 0173.

Dresses of simple design usually wear and launder best. The fancier the trim and the more intricate the cut, the more time the dress will take on the ironing board.

Mexico Honeymoon Enjoyed By The Hoyt Browns

In a quiet ceremony, presided by Rev. Mansfield Collins of the Neighborhood Church, the former Carrie Hunter became the bride of Albert Hoyt Brown, on Saturday afternoon, June 5, at 3:00 p.m.

The bride, formerly of New York, chose a suit of Navy Blue with pink accessories.

The couple enjoyed a brief honeymoon in Mexico, before returning to their home in Los Angeles. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown of this city.

SHOPPING WITH DORIS

By DORIS AUSTIN

Hello There:

There's less than two weeks to shop for that man of the family, so if you haven't gotten a hint yet of what he wants most, try paying a visit to one of the men shops and looking through the long list of fine and practical suggestions they are offering. Perhaps you know "your man" well enough to get just what he wants, be sure of what you are buying or use the ever-good "gift certificate" of the amount you wish to spend and he may purchase his own gift. It is better to surprise him, make the gift sweeter, so to speak, but make certain it isn't too much a surprise.

Shop carefully, wisely and economically, make the purchase out of your own allowance or budget, it is not fair to give the gift and later present the bill as we oft times do on Father's Day. INTERESTING FOLK

Arriving Saturday from San Diego, will be Barry Tate, man of the hour for the happy bride elect, Nita Hippard. Barry will remain in the city until after the wedding, taking part in the many social gatherings planned. On last Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Warren Boswell and her daughter Flora honored Nita with a bridal luncheon. Places were marked for Jessel King, Mighnon Smith, Corine Kemp, Alice Watkins, Evelyn Abney, Sis Russell, Annette Taylor, Marilyn Hudson, Paulette Coleman, Dr. Alice Garrott, Nita's charming mother and others. I say others due to the fact that the other names did not stick with me, however we all had a grand time, the food was tasty and the luncheon took its place as another outstanding pre-nuptial gathering given in Nita's honor. . . . On Sunday morning, it will be a breakfast party at the Paul R. Williams home in honor of the Miss plus several other affairs that will help to keep her in a gay whirl until June 19, when she says I Do. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Burns of Columbus Ohio accompanied by their daughter Mrs. Ruth Wilson and granddaughter, little Nadya Wilson, are enjoying a visit here in L. A. The prominent Ohioans, who own and operate one of the leading embalming establishments of the city are being honored at several affairs. Included will be a very timely dancing party on Saturday night given by the Charles Corleys, friends of long standing to the Burns. Some 40 couples have been invited. . . . Speaking of visitors to the city, Dorothea Fearonce and Hazel Shumate, made quite a fashionable entrance and departure to the Lingerie shower, given by Marcela Miller Sunday. Reason for the departure was the plane schedule that brought Dorothea's sister, concert pianist Lois Towles, to our fair city. Am quite sure most of you remember Lois from her first visit a few years back when the AKA Boule was held here. A complete summer stay has been planned by the young lady. . . Another personality of interest who has made his return to L. A. is Jimmy Harris, who played in the show "Deep Are the Roots." Jimmy is waiting to play a role in another hit that is scheduled to be produced in late summer. In the mean time, he is spending his time at the Actors lab and other points of interest. . . .

HERE AND THERE

Don Barksdale, in the city over last week end, bidding good bys and the like to his friends, for this marked his last visit locally until after his European trek with the Olympic team. His Alpha frat brothers entertained with a dinner party at Dents Tea Room on Saturday night. A set of monogramed luggage was presented the famed athlete. Also sharing honors at the affair was, Bill Jones, coach of the winning Alpha basketball team. Lloyd La Beach and Herb McKinley were also at the affair. By the way, Ish Evans will travel to Europe as Don Barksdale's companion. The Olympic games, etc., will be his for the pleasure of it all. Speaking of Europe and the games, Bill Melton, who will be leaving in a matter of weeks for Switzerland, where he will attend the university as an exchange student, will in all probability, be among the spectators when Barksdale goes into action overseas . . .

The wedding reception, honoring the C. L. Coffeys, Ramona Robinson, was quite an affair last Sunday evening. Took note of Jean Garrott, registering the guests, Norma Williams, serving punch along with Mrs. Mae Oliver, Mrs. Norman Hopkins, who was smartly garbed, and a host of others. The beautiful floral work for the affair was done by Chuck and Louise Collier . . .

Jackie Dickerson chose Sunday to honor bride elect Thelma Jackson of Pasadena with a Crystal Shower. Thelma will recite vows in an elaborately planned ceremony on June 20. . . . Joyce Stewart and Jerry Jones were hostesses on Sunday afternoon at a shower honoring Margurite Kyle, bride elect of Ernest Browne. . . . The wedding reception for the James Harrises (Wilma Fox) also held sway Sunday afternoon. In fact last Sunday was typical of the June month, for receptions, weddings and pre-nuptial showers were the order of the day . . .

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Following the Jeff High graduation prom last Friday night, most of the grads had their first fling at night clubbing. When asking about the prom, we learned more about the Cricket club and the fine Raven quartet. The prom, however, was a very beautiful affair. . . . Jimmy Taylor did the honor, at the Phraterie semi last week, of introducing the fair maidens. . . . If you happen to be free on Sunday evening from 3 to 8, drop by 1918 S. Harvard Blvd., for a gala cocktail soiree will be holding sway honoring the return home of J. T. Gipson, EAGLE Theatrical editor. A program has been planned that is worth witnessing. The "Gip" took delight in telling ye scribe of the wonderful bed-lamps that will be given to patients at Duarte Sanitarium from proceeds of the affair. . . . Bob Edwards is up to his neck in planning a beautiful graduation for his 6th grade youngsters. . . . Rushing the beach season a bit last week end were, Philippa and Ivan Houston, Leonard Beavers, Fay Hill and Haywood Thompson. . . . Clara Taylor entertained the Doll Leaguers in grand style last Sunday morn. The girls enjoyed a breakfast meeting out of doors. . . . Before making deadline, must mention my visit to the Manhattan Place abode of Mildred Blount. La Blount, just back from her extensive Eastern trip, had much talk of Philadelphia, interviews with heads of vogue, a visit with her boss of yesteryear, John Frederick, etc. Of course, bridal veils and brides maids hats ended the confab. Believe me, Mildred is happy to be back home. . . . Til Next Week!

Duo Decimo Club Discuss Activities

The Duo Decimo club met in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Cummings Tuesday, May 20, 1343 W. 35th st. The members discussed "Women's Activities in the Community."

The club mourns the passing of its chaplain and faithful member, Mrs. Leslie B. Eaton.

Mrs. Gladys Moore was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. Haskin was the guest of honor.

The hostess entertained beautifully.

Mrs. Helen Guiles will entertain the club at the June meeting at her home, 3753 Woodlawn ave.

NORTHERN TRIP

Mrs. C. Jane DeNard reports a grand trip on return from San Francisco, Richmond, Alameda and Oakland over the Memorial holiday week-end as guest of Mrs. Matilda Parka.

LUCILE BUSBY, talented miss, will be sponsored by the Local Natl. Association of Colored Graduate Nurses in vocal recital Sunday, June, 13, 3:30 p.m. at Peoples Independent Church, 18th and Paloma. The public is invited to attend.

Billie Lynthecom Entertains With Fashionable Luncheon

One of the outstanding social events of the week end was an elaborate bridge luncheon given Saturday by Mrs. Billie Lynthecom, prominent real estate broker and civic worker, in her lovely home on East 50th street.

The ladies, all stunningly dressed enjoyed a very tasty luncheon preceeded by cocktails. Covers were laid for 16. Floral decorations were gardenias and sweet peas.

Guests included Mmes. Geneva Wallace, Alfretta Zetar, Georgia Hardimon, Nadine Hicks, Pearl Smith, Maude Bratton, Emily Woody, Beulah Wyndon, Viola Reed, Corene Judkins, Rita Smith, Willie Hurd, Estelle Sherwood, Gweldolyn Campbell, Janet Harris and Arie Walker.

Five changes of bridge were played with first prize going to Mrs. Nadine Hicks, second to Mrs. Rita Smith, and third to Mrs. Willie Hurd.

Surprise Birthday Party Given for Mrs. M. Hawkins

Mr. Willie Hawkins and Mrs. Ella White feted Mrs. Marion Hawkins with a surprise birthday party at the Last Word recently. A cocktail party held sway before the dinner at the home of Mrs. Josie Mae King, 1325½ E 48th street. Following, all the guests gathered at the Last Word.

A beautiful birthday cake was the center piece at Mrs. Hawkins' table. She had as her guests members of the Les Dames A'jour Social Club, their husbands and company. The following helped to make the affair quite enjoyable, Mr. and Mrs. Irin King, Mr. and Mrs Elmer Diaper, Mr. and Mrs. Cleuse, Mrs. C'artes Millard, Miss Darthella White, Mrs. Juanita Banks, Mrs. Rosa Session, Mrs. Rosa Govan, Mr. Jimmy Crittendon, Mr. Norris Green, Mr. Jimmy Simmons, Mr. Henry Parrico and Mr. James T. Kendricks. Mrs. Hawkins was the recepient of many lovely gifts.

Beautiful Ceremony Accompanies Les Petite Installation

Installation of officers was held at the lovely home of Mrs. Mildred Miles, who was re-elected as critic for her second consecutive term. Mrs. Esther T. Greenly, blue mother, was beautifully gowned in a stunning blue suit with a matching wide hat and smart accessories. Her only jewelry was a leaf of gold.

With the assistance of Mrs. Greenly, the affair was carried out in a beautiful manner. One of the visiting guests was Mrs. Mayme Gorins, who was very graceful in a garden print. Other guests included husbands and friends of club members.

Mrs. Ruth Lindsay, as the outgoing president, presented Mrs. Greenly with a crystal bonbon dish while Mrs. LaVern Williams gave her a token of crystal glassware in love and appreciation. Because it was the birthday of Mrs. Lindsay and she had successfully filled her office well during the past two years, club members presented her with individual crystal ash trays.

The hostess decorated her table with a pink and white birthday cake with other delicious dishes.

The members of the club express appreciation to their many friends for the fine cooperation shown them during the past year and hope for the same response this season. The new officers are LaVern Williams, president; Geraldine Dorsey, vice-president; Sue Harris, secretary; Louise Ateman, treasurer; Lillian Hemmet, recording secretary; Ruth Lindsay, business manager; Willie Mae Taylor, assistant business manager; Mildred Miles, critic; and Chaney Edwards, publicity chairman.

LABOR UNIONS OR BREADLINES

From the time of the Industrial Revolution to the present, abor and management have found it impossible to get along completely. Before the Industrial Revolution, the mass employment of orkers as we see today was unknown. Many of the people made heir own goods and those who were hired often worked in apprenticeship. However, some were hired—at wages that were much o low to provide a decent living. Hard times were synonymous o the people of Europe and the rest of the world as well.

Then came the Industrial evolution—a period in which he people turned to machines nd factories for their needs. A eries of inventions made it posible for one man or company o hire hundreds of people at any age he desired. The world had urned from hand-made goods to achine-made products. There as enough of everything now or everybody, but they just idn't have the money to buy he goods they produced. As a esult, suffering and poverty uled the working thousands. he economic system always aced complete collapse and the iving standard was dreadfully ow.

But here, another point interenes. The low standard of living, the lackness of pay, was the irect couse of the First World Var. Because the people of Gerhan, France, and England adn't the money to buy their wn goods—although they needd them badly—the large firms ound it necessary to compete for he open International Market. hat's where they became greedy nd the shooting started. Still, it as these same boys underfed nd underpaid boys of those naions who wen out and killed ach other for the interest of heir nation's businessmen. although they profited nothing nore than a white wooden cross nd the Tomb of the Unknown oldier when it was all over. And merica was right in the midst f the scramble. Even when the ar started between the European nations, our trade was so ital to us that we had to go o war for 'freedom of the sea.'

Now getting back to labor nions; after the Industrial evolution, sweatshops were pened for children, working ays of adults consisted of ten o sixteen hours, wages scooped own to a few pennies an hour. here was no way to protect the eople from hunger and the readful methods of employers t the same time. As a result, nen like Samuel Gompers (CIO) nd John L. Lewis (AFL) formed abor unions for the cooperation nd the unity of workers in order that they might not be exploited through poor pay and ong hours. Child labor, after nany years and until recently, as abolished completely by aw. Still, even in the thirties it eemed like Communism, Sodalism, or starvation. The Republican President from California at that time could only ee a 'few' unemployed when ctually there were millions. Even then the labor unions, although young and still lacking omplete cooperation of the orkers, triumphed in their truggle, or at least to a certain xtent. President Roosevelt introduced the New Deal and put ome of the millions to work of overnment jobs, while the labor nions battled management for a living wage.

Without labor unions today, he same conditions would exist s before the First World War.

There would be a great deal of competition for the foreign market, while if the people had money to buy their own badly needed goods, it would become unnecessary. Today the unions are doing a splendid job in combatting unemployment through the plan for a 40-hour week at a lower wage than for forty-eight hours. John L. Lewis has led the way in the fight against the powerful coal mine owners and in many other local unions. But the fight is not that of the labor unions alone; it is that of every American who wants a home, a family, and a ticket to the theatre once a week.

BIG BUSINESS OR SILENT CITIZENS?

Quite often we hear someone complain that 'Big Business' is to blame for problems in the community, state, and nation. But I challenge that statement with the contention that if our citizens were alert and conscientious, our leaders would think before granting special privileges to the men of industry. The businessmen protest their own interests; too bad the citizens can but won't do the same. However, it takes a letter to the congressman or senator or to the President more than once in a lifetime to safeguard our rights and freedoms. Instead of blaming big business for unwanted acts of our leaders, our citizens must protect their rights through letters and votes.

FREEDOM FOLLIES TOPS

The FREEDOM FOLLIES, a ninety minute show presented by the local YWCA in the auditorium of Thomas Jefferson High School on the night of June 5, held forth power and reality that could hardly be found elsewhere. The theme was centered about freedom and equality, and particularly Equality through Education. The drama department was represented by good actors and dances, America represented by words and portrayals of freedom and equality. The leaders of our nation would have been stirred within by the meaning and portrayals of the comedy.

FOOTNOTE: This week marks the termination of my first year with the CALIFORNIA EAGLE. Writing this column in dedication to and in memory of deceased John Kinloch has and will always be an honor to me.

Community Sing Performs To Large Audience

The Community Sing was a huge success Monday June 7 at Lafayette School Center. Over six hundred persons were on hand to see the repeat performance of the costumed Vacio dancing group. One of the few women magicians Jean Doran assisted by the youth was the star of the evening.

Francisco Regard will long be remembered for his rendition of Summer Time and Nature Boy. Leonella Romero, who recently received the University of Mexico C.Y.O. Social Workers' Award sang a duet with Evelyn Burwell, director of the sing! Bobbie Walker, member of the Lafayette Center Youth Chorus, sang and was enjoyed by the appreciative audience. Regan Callais, R.K.O. starlet also sang and received a large ovation!

The statue "Blessed Martin De Porres," was awarded to the largest family attendance for the past month—Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Valenzulla. Father Phillip of Saint Teuridus made the presentation. The gift was donated by Evelyn Burwell!

Talented Artists Lend Success to YWCA Follies

The YWCA Follies presented on Saturday June 5 at Jefferson High school auditorium was truly a success.

A large measure of the success must be attributed to the untiring and diligent work done by director Mike Stuart and Serretta Camerago, ho was responsible for choreography and dance. These two talented artists contributed their time without any monetory consideration because of their interest in young people. Numerous individuals eminent in the music world helped to arrange the musical scores.

Commendation must go to the interested public spirited friends who supported the event. Mrs. P. Price Cobbs, teenage chairman of the YWCA, and Mrs. Betty Hill, chairman of the 1948 Camp Committee express their appreciation to all supporters and contributors to this worthwhile cause.

Kindergarten Lab For Summer Study

A kindergarten Experimental Laboratory will be conducted during the summer session at Immaculate Heart College (Los Angeles). Teachers who are working towards a kindergarten credential and those who may be interested in a refresher course as in-service training may enroll in this workshop. A one hour lecture will be followed by one hour of demonstration with observation and participation under the guidance of a different director in each field of study.

Successful Scholarship Tea Closes Jefferson PTA Year

The Jefferson High School P. T. A. entertained with an elaborate, Scholarship Life Membership Tea on Sunday afternoon, May 23, at the home of Rev. George Robert Garner III, minister, musiciaa, and civic leader, and his wife, Netta Paullyn Garner, professor of music at Lincoln university, was the scene of the gala tea.

A doll parade, supervised by Mrs. S. T. Johnson, and a baby contest, supervised by Mrs. Lula Willis and Mrs. Hazel Whitaker Moore, were special events of the afternoon. Baby Theodore Sanford, Jr., won first prize and Baby Bertrand Steven Willis won second prize. Third prize was won by Maxine Maxwell. Other babies in the contest were the following: Gerald Henry, Maryilyn Love, Nemory Coates, Jr., Anita Washington, Baby Denkins, Arthur Jackson, III, Billie Sandra Butler, Baby Thomas, Janette Mae Allen, Patsy Ann Williams, Sharon Michael, Robert Hughes, Janis Walker, James McAdams, Leonard McAdams, Jewel Dewitty, Ronald McCoy, Diane Clay, Reynaldo Lopez, Jr., James Brown, Alice Stanley, Laymot Hill, Jerman Harrow, Betty Jean Scott, Janice Walker. Each baby was given an attractive appreciation gift. Prizes to the three winners were presented by Dr. Paul Fisher, efficient principal of Jefferson High school.

Assisting in pouring tea and receiving were Mmes. Elizabeth St. Charles Edwards, Ira Pulliam, W. J. Glover, Martha Stanford, Josephine Brown, Ida Miller, M. A. Christopher, Alice Parker, Rose Harrison Garner, and Hattie Chamberlain.

Faculty members who assisted at tea were Misses Melva C. Collins, Hanna Jensen, Pauline Kohn, Ethel McDonald, Mrs. Hazel Whitaker Moore, Mrs. Hazel M. Whedon, Girls' Vice Principal, Miss Elizabeth Hayes, Mrs. Margaret T. Bennett, Mrs. Bernadine Van Atta, Charles R. Stevens, Jr., Howard Provan, Steward Aspen, Dr. Paul Fisher.

Other entertainment during the afternoon included selections by the Jefferson High School Band with Stuart C. Aspen directing; piano selections by Lester Myart; vocal selections by John Wilson.

Oralia Avalos, Lily Lopez, Dorothy Gadberry, Vorece Isom, Joe Soto, Lester Myart, Robert Kwan, Bobbe McAdams, Shirley Mallott, and orchestra members were the pupils who assisted at the tea.

The Jefferson P. T. A., under the leadership of Mrs. W. J. Glover, president, has had a very successful year. Mrs. Ira Pulliam, in charge of the excellent tea program, also has worked for success in the group this year.

The members of the P. T. A. wish to thank the public for the superb co-operation.

New Girl Scout Troop Sponsored By Home

Three executives of Angelus Funeral Home, president-retired L. G. Robinson, president-manager John L. Hill and secretary-treasurer Lorenzo Bowdoin are the sponsors of the newly organized Girl Scout Troop No. 1004. Through the active sponsorship of Mr. Hill and the efforts of leader-organizer Mrs. Belle V. Gilliam, the girls have already accomplished much. They participated last week in a program at Foshay Junior High School featuring a court of awards and presentation of badges.

Recruited from the 36th Street and 6th Avenue schools, the girls were the proud recipients at a recent impressive ceremony of a troop flag and an American flag which were donated by their sponsors. The generous support and civic mindedness of the three Angelus Funeral Home officials is further demonstrated by the fact that these men are contributing their time as committee members. Mr. Hill, who is troop finance chairman, has already completed a comprehensive outline of future activities for the troop.

Camp Rally Set For YMCA

Tomorrow evening, June 11, over 300 boys, their parents and friends will gather at the 28th Street "Y" annex for their annual "Camp Rally."

Each year, prior to going to camp, the Branch Youth Division sponsors this big event consisting of still photos and movies of actual camp life of our kids in group singing, stunts and refreshments. The public is invited to come out for an evening of fun and merriment. The affair begins at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

Nearly 200 boys will attend camp Big Pines with 28th Street this year. Camp dates are July 15 to 22 and July 28 to August 3. Reservations are now being accepted at the Youth Division office, 1006 E. 28th Street. For further information call ADams 7193.

Invite Jim-Crowed Student To Study at Oslo University

CHICKASAW, Okla.—Mrs. Ada Lois Sipuel Fisher, unable as yet to enter the law school of the University of Oklahoma, has received an invitation from the National Union of Norwegian Students to come to their country to study law at the University of Oslo.

"We are quite aware of the difficulties which are connected with such a proposition," wrote Sigmund Stromme in behalf of his fellow students, "but we only want to show that we are against any discrimination and that we want to help any student in the world who is persecuted because of racial discrimination."

Meanwhile, after five days of testimony by experts branding the Jim Crow Langston Law School as "inferior," "indecent," "fraudulent" and "unconstitutional," Judge Justin Hinshaw announced here last week that at a later date he would hand down his decision on admitting Mrs. Ada Lois Sipuel Fisher to the Law School of the University of Oklahoma.

Graduate Honored

WACO, Texas—One of its most outstanding graduates and successful pastor of Brown Chapel A.M.E. Church in Houston, Rev. Leonard C. Graves was honored by Paul Quinn College during Commencement Exercises held at the Institution last week.

Olivette Miller Plays For Fisk University

It was a red letter day when Olivette Miller appeared at Fisk University on May 21 and had the unique distinction of being the first Negro harpist to play at that college. Olivette is the daughter of Flourney and Bessie Miller. While Mr. Miller attended Fisk, he wrote his first play, which was staged and produced by fellow students and was successful in raising the first money to start the building of Music Hall, now one of the famous buildings on Fisk campus.

Olivette played the harp informally for the faculty who poured tea for her after the performance. While in Nashville, she was the house guest of her cousin, Mrs. John Hope Jr., whose husband is on the Fisk faculty. She is to return to Fisk for the annual "Music Festival."

Los Angeles county's property tax rate of $1.4937 for general county purposes for 1947-48 was 39.04 cents lower than the $1.8841 for 1946-47, but 31.39 cents greater than the war-time low rate of $1.1798 levied for fiscal 1945, California Taxpayers' association said today, analyzing tax rate trends in California counties.

Boys Club Leader Given Citation For Work In Wilmington

WILMINGTON, N. C.—H. Carl Moultrie, Manager of the Hillcrest Housing Project located here, and the Sixth District Representative of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, comprising chapters in North and South Carolina, was recently awarded the "Boys' Club Silver Keystone" by the National Committee on Awards of which former President Herbert Hoover is chairman. The public program at which the award was presented was attended by prominent local officials including the Mayor of the City, E. L. White, L. D. Latta, President of the Wilmington Community Chest, and Franklin Wade, Regional Director of the Boy's Clubs of America who made the presentation.

The Citation which accompanied the award read as follows: "He (Moultrie) first became interested in the field of Boys' Club work in 1928, when he served as physical director of the Charleston Boys' Club, later serving as its executive director. Within two years, the Club had established such an excellent record, it was admitted into the Community Chest. In 1937, he built and managed the Wilmington, North Carolina, Boy's Club. He initiated its reorganization in 1943 at which tme the name was changed to the John H. Shaw Boy's Club. He was elected president of the board of directors in 1944, serving until 1947. He served as Chairman of the Committee to secure the $80,000 USO building for the Boys' Club headquarters in 1947 and also served as chairman of the Committee which secured $8,000 for the purpose of renovating the building. He was Housing Manager of Hillcrest War Housing Project in 1941. He is the District Representative of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Chairman of Legal Redress Committee, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; member of the Board of Directors of the Community Council; Vice President of the Negro Citizens Council and Special Representative to the Elks' Education Conference. In recognition of his outstanding service to boys, Boys' Clubs of America awards him the Boys' Club Silver Keystone."

Junior College Service Sunday

Dr. Glenn Phillips will deliver the Baccalaureate sermon at the service to be held at East Los Angeles junior college at 7 p.m. Sunday, June 13.

The ceremony will honor the 125 graduates of the school and will include in the program the call to worship, invocation, sermon, and the benediction.

Judy Spain to Appear June 20 At Independent

Judy Spain, six year old wonder child of the West and God's little helper, will appear in a recital on Sunday, June 20 at 6 p.m. at the People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma, in behalf of the Sunshine Group of the Women's Service department and the State of Arkansas. This is one of the presentations leading to the Annual All States Tea of the Organ Guild. Matilda Parker, vaptain C. Jane DeNard, sponsor.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Sunday School Lesson
By Rev. Ike Evans, D.D.

Subject: Esther's eZal for Her People. Lesson Text and Outline. Esther 4:10-17; 9:20-22, 26-27. Motto Text: Esther 4:14.

Introduction

The beautiful story of Esther is said to lie between the first and second expeditions to Jerusalem as told by Ezra. It gives a correct and vivid delineation of Persian court life in the time of Xerxes (436 to 465 B.C.) The dethronement of Vashti, the elevation of Esther, the counteraction of Haman's plot with his overthrow, the institution of the Feast of Purim, and the increasing fame of the persecuted Mordecai are thrillingly told.

Comments

1. Esther sent her case to Mordecai, that she could not, without peril of her life, address the king, and that therefore he put a great hardship upon her in urging her to it. Gladly would she wait, gladly would she stoop, to do the Jews a kindness; but, if she must run the raazrd of being put to death as a malefactor, she might well say, I pray thee have me excused, and find out some other intercessor. They had a foolish law; it made the kings themselves unhappy, confining them to their retirements for fear they should be seen. This made the royal palace little better than a royal prison, and the kings themselves could not but become morose, and perhaps melancholy, and so a terror to others and a burden to themselves.

Many have their lives made miserable by their own haughtiness and ill nature. It appeared, by the event, that she did come to the kingdom that she might be an instrument of the Jew's deliverance, so that Mordecai was right in the conjecture. There is a wise counsel and design in all the providences of God, which is unknown to us till it is accomplished, but it will prove, in the issue, that they are all intended for, and center in, the good of the church. The probability of this was a good reason why she should now bestir herself, and do her utmost for her people.

We should every one of us consider for what end God has put us in the place where we are, and study to answer that end; and, when any particular opportunity of serving God and our generation offers itself, we must take care that we do not let it slip; for we were entrusted with it that we might improve it. Esther believed that God's favor was to be obtained by prayer, that His people are a praying people, and he a praying-hearing God. She knew it was the practice of good people, in extraordinary cases, to join fasting with prayer, and many of them to join together in both. Those who are confined to privacy may join their prayers with those of the solemn assemblies of God's people; those that are absent in body may be present in spirit. Those who desire, and have, the prayers of others for them, must not think that this will excuse them from praying for themselves.

2. It would be for the honor of God as the protector of His people, and the honor of Israel as the care of Heaven, a confirmation of the fidelity of God's covenant, an invitation to strangers to come into the bonds of it, and an encouragement to God's own people cheerfully to depend upon His wisdom, power, and goodness, in the greatest straits. Posterity would reap the benefit of this deliverance, and therefore ought to celebrate the memorial of it. Let us not be niggardly in our returns of praise to him who bestows his favors so liberally upon us.

The Sabbath was appointed not on the day that God finished His work, but on the day that He rested from it. The modern Jews observe the thirteenth day, the day appointed for their destruction, as a fasting day, grounding the practice on the matters of their fasting and cry. But that refers to what was in the day of their distress, which was not to be continued when God had turned their fasts into joy and gladness.

3. The Purim feast was from Pur, a Persian word which signifies a lot, because Haman had by lot determined this to be the time of the Jews' destruction, but the Lord, at whose disposal the lot is, had determined it to be the time of their triumph. The name of this festival would remind them of the sovereign dominion of the God of Israel, who served his own purpose by the foolish superstitions of the heathen, and outwitted the monthly prognosticators in their own craft, frustrating the tokens of the lairs and making the diviners mail. It was not a divine institution, and therefore it is not called a holy day, but a human appointment, by which it was made a good day. The Jews ordained it, and took it upon themselves voluntarily to do as they had begun. They bound themselves to this by common consent. Mordecai and Esther confirmed their resolve, that it might be the more binding on posterity, and might come well recommended to them great names.

Comment on the Motto Text

The summons to a spiritual personality was received: Who knoweth whether thou. Mordecai spoke with deepest conviction and greatest urgency. Esther who heard was sincere in heart, sterling in character, sympathetic with her people, submissive to the will and Word of God. The station at a strategic post was realized: Thou art come to the kingdom. Had not an orphan girl by wonderful providence become queen of the world's mightiest empire? What did it mean? Greater power and greater responsibility! The service for a stormy period was recognized: for such a time as this. It was a crisis hour, not alone for her people, but for all the world. At the risk of her life she did her part so well that her fast and her feast are observed to this day.

PRESENTING THE CORBENETTES — Under the sponsorship of the Crusaders club of the First AME church, 8th and Towne, this accomplished choral group will be presented Tuesday, June 15. The Corbenettes have had extensive training under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Minnie Corbett, artist of wide musical background and experience.

First AME Zion Church Freed of All Debt Since Explosion a Year Ago

We, the pastor, officers, and membership of the First AME Zion church, take this method of again expressing thanks and deepest appreciation to our many friends, white and colored, in and out of the city, for their help given us since the explosion of the O'Connor plant, which badly wrecked our church and parsonage.

We are thankful to say that all debts made towards the repairs on both church and parsonage in connection with the explosion of the O'Connor plant, have been paid in full. And we are deeply grateful to our friends for their help, and to our faithful membership for their untiring efforts.

The special financial effort of this spring had nothing to do with the explosion directly. This special effort was to take care of some other minor repairs and general improvements, which were voted upon by the church membership, in a called conference. Such as painting the parsonage, putting an electric light sign up; building a ladies' rest room downstairs; building church school rooms downstairs; building a better equipped choir room and lockers, and several other things.

Some of these things have been done already and the final end to the special effort to take care of these improvements will be Sunday, June 20, at which time we will celebrate our first anniversary of being back in our church, and all our friends are invited. And all members who haven't already paid are kindly requested to give ten dollars on this date.

The pastor and family have returned from the General Conference at Louisville, Kentucky, and the commencement at Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., where their daughter, Thelma Victoria, finished and received her A.B. degree.

Rev. Marion will preach ten special sermons beginning Sunday, June 13. The first sermon subject will be "Christ, Open Our Eyes." Another will be "The Sure Guide to Glory" and "Bed Too Short, Cover Too Narrow." Rev. S. H. Marion, minister.

Revival at St. Stephen

A great revival is being held at St. Stephen A.M.E. Church, Crocker street near Fifth, beginning Sunday night June 13 at 8 o'clock.

Services will be held nightly, with the meetings conducted by the Evangelistic Council, of which the Rev. C. H. Reeves is president, and Evangelist Susie McBride Johnson is secretary.

Everyone is welcome. Rev. B. Albert Beauchamp, minister.

Two Negroes Made Priests

COLLEGEVILLE, Minn. — Two Negroes were among the candidates raised to the Catholic priesthood at St. John's Abbey here last week.

They are Father Bartholomew L. Sayles, O.S.V., and Father Harvey W. Shepherd, O.S.B. Both of the priests are members of the Benedictine Order, centuries-old society of Catholic monks, which conducts St. John's College here and thousands of similar institutions of higher learning throughout the world.

Both priests are also natives of New Orleans, La., and both studied at Xavier University in that city.

Quartet Sets Church Record

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Taking a rest between two of their many concert engagements, the members of the Golden Gate Quartet took time out to count the number of churches they had appeared at in the ten years they have been singing their famed spirituals and folk songs. The number they arrived at was approximately two thousand, which must be some sort of a record. Henry Owens, acting as spokesman for the Golden Gaters, explains how they arrived at the 2000 figure.

"From the time we organized in 1938 until today," Henry said, "we've been playing on the average of two hundred churches a year. Multiply that by the ten years and we've been together as a quartet and you get two thousand. And believe me we've had a lot of joy singing the spirituals."

OBITUARY

Mrs. F. E. Smith

Mrs. F. E. Smith was born to her parents, Carrie and Jarriet Brooks in the year of 1896, August 3, in Evasdale, Arkansas, the only child.

She departed this life at the General Hospital after several months of illness, Tuesday, June 1, 1948 at seven p.m.

Mrs. Smith lived in Wichita, Kansas thirty years before coming to Los Angeles, California eleven years ago. She was an active member of the New Hope Baptist Church in Wichita under the leadership of Rev. E. T. Flahback and Rev. W. C Cartwright.

She was a regular and faithful member of the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church of this city until her illness last November. She was ever ready to render her best service at all times.

Mrs. Smith leaves to mourn a dutiful mother, Mrs. Carrie Cash and a host of relatives and friends. She was loved by her many friends in Los Angeles.

Twilight Vesper Hour to Feature Victoria Rice

Victoria Rice, local concert violinist, will again present the "Twilight Vesper Service," Sunday, June 13, from 5 to 6 p.m., in the Memorial Chapel of the Conner-Johnson Mortuary, 1400 E. 17th street.

William J. Starks, dramatic tenor; Ernest Anderson, screen actor; and Mrs. Fannie Benjamin, organist, will be assisting artists on this unique program.

Special musical favorites are carefully selected by each artist and presented in their most artistic manner. Nothing but words of praise have been expressed by those that have attended these most beautiful and inspiring vesper services.

The Conner-Johnson Mortuary is sponsoring these services and are to be congratulated upon this forward step in bringing to the community these outstanding artists.

St. Paul Gives $233 To Duarte Sanitarium

The St. Paul Baptist Church made a contribution of $233.00 to the fund-raising campaign sponsored by the Outdoor Life and Health Association for the Tuberculosis Sanitarium in Duarte last Sunday. Dr. Leonard Stovall, founder and president of the Association was presented this very fine check at the morning service. Rev. John Branham is the wide-awake and progressive pastor of St. Paul.

Voice of Victory Series On Air Beginning Sunday

THE VOICE OF VICTORY is on the air. Victory Baptist Church, from its beautiful auditorium located at the corner of 48th Street and McKinley Avenue, will be the source of a weekly broadcast. The Voice of Victory will be heard each Sunday evening over KGFJ, from 9:30 to 10. This program will feature the voices of the famous Victory Trio; Josephine Cooper, guest soloist; and a chorus of more than 100 voices accompanied by Helen Williams, organist, and Samuel Carol, pianist. The voice of Myrtle Williams will be heard as announcer for the program which will be ably directed by C. Perkins. Rev. A. A. Peters, pastor of Victory Baptist Church will deliver the message over the air. Be sure to tune in to KGFJ on your radio dial from 9:30 each Sunday night, and all letters from listeners will be welcomed by the Voice of Victory, and by the progressive church which sponosrs this program.

Victory Baptist church is also happy to announce the appearance of the Smith Jubilee Singers in their spacious auditorium on Sunday afternoon at 3:30. These singers have gladdened the hearts of many of the local populace, and their fame is not confined to the limits of the City of Los Angeles. The usual welcome will be yours at Victory Baptist Church, and the Smith Jubilee Singers will give to all who wish to take advantage of this appearance, their expected and unfailing exhibition of good entertainment.

Nor will Victory Baptist Church wish the readers to limit themselves to attendance at their special programs and presentations. All of the regular services of Victory Baptist church are planned with the objective of giving a full spiritual fare to the church-going public. The doors, whenever opened, are opened for all who care to enter.

Lecture at Baha'i Faith Headquarters

Individual Conduct is the subject of the lecture to be given by Mrs. Adrienne Ellis Reeves on Sunday afternoon, June 13, at three o'clock at Los Angeles headquarters of the Baha'i World Faith, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue.

Baha'u'llah's vision of a united world begins with each man and woman. Individuals must have high moral standards and a new basis of belief if they are to become citizens of one world.

Crusaders Club of First AME to Feature Noted

The "Corbenettes" a colorful choral group of young ladies, who have created a sensation in Wisconsin and the surrounding states will make their first California appearance Tuesday evening June 15 at the First A.M.E. Church 8th and Towne Avenues. The concert is sponsored by the Crusaders Club of that church and is expected to attract music lovers from all parts of the city.

The "Corbenettes" are led by Mrs. Helen Minnis Corbett, nationally known directress of choirs, choruses, and glee clubs. Mrs. Corbett received her early training in music under private instructors in New Haven, Connecticut and later studied at Western University under the direction of Robert G. Jackson, and also at Fisk University. She has taken post graduate work at the Western Institue of Music of Denver, Colorado, and a the Chicago Music School. The Methodist Church Board under the direction of the late Rev. I. Garland Penn, employed Mrs. Corbett to head several college music departments in the South.

This group of attractive young ladies organized three years ago to sing Christmas Carols in the homes for the aged and the hospitals of Racine, Wisconsin. They are endorsed by the Mayor of Racine, The Racine Journal-Times, the Racine Association of Commerce, Ministerial Association, and other outstanding Civic associations. In her work with the group Mrs. Corbett has been especially praised for her lecture concerts and for her outstanding work with young people.

This concert will mark another achievement in the program for community service fostered by the Crusaders Club of the First A.M.E. church. Last year the group presented Jules Jackson Hayward, youthful pianist who leaves soon for study in Paris, France. The club composed entirely of men active in church and civic affairs, was organized fifteen years ago with a program of assistance for the aged and encouragement to the youths of the race. President Thomas Person and program chairman, O'Reese Corporal extend a cordial welcome to all music lovers to enjoy the "Corbenettes" concert.

One hundred two seniors, coming from as far west as California and as far east as New York City, heard the Rev. Sumpter M. Riley, pastor of Chicago's famed Indiana Avenue Methodist church, and the Rev. Ralph M. Houston of New York City in the baccalaureate and commencement addresses, respectively, at Clark university.

Rev. Riley challenged the graduates to direct their energies into making the right choice of a mission, of a mate and of a master as they go out into life and assume the full responsibilities. He emphasized the fact that the choice of a life's master superseded the other choices.

Ruth Matlock at St. John Baptist

Ruth Elizabeth Matlock, dramatic artist, will appear in recital Thursday evening, June 17, at St. John Baptist Church, 1319 East 22nd street, under the auspices of Heroines of Jericho, a strong fraternal organization, Mrs. Leola B. Wilson, M.A.G.M.

Miss Matlock is a graduate of A. & I. State College with post graduate work at Fisk University, Bachelor of Religious Education, National Baptist M. T. School. She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Matlock, and has won wide acclaim wherever she has appeared with her remarkable characterizations.

Ruth Matlock is now studying with the well-known drama coach, the Frank Hilliard Studio, of Hollywood. Mr. Hilliard says she has unusual dramatic talent. Her aim is to perfect the art of her profession, to bring inspiration, laughter and joy to her people. Mr. Hilliard, who has done much to encourage talent of colored people, is now grooming this young popular artist.

Miss Matlock is accompanied by Miss Joyce Collins, pianist of McCoy Memorial Baptist Church, and the Stars of Harmony, well-trained and popular quartette.

One Nation, One People

Vol. 2. Jesus Christ King. No. 2. The International Ethiopian Rescue & Relief Association, Inc. Holy Pentecostal church is holding its meetings at the Elk Hall, 4016 S. Central, Wednesday, June 9, at 7 p.m., sponsored by Prophetess Turner and others.

Good speakers and good singing will be featured. Prophetess Turner is asking for 10,000 good women and men to work with them. Women who want to do something. Women who want success, Women and men who stand for Righteousness.

PROPHETESS TURNER

Do not pray over it. You plainly see your condition, it is time to work and not faint. God is calling you to wake up. Read 68 Psalms, 31st verse — build your house now.

Prophetess Turner, a divine healer, will pray for the sick. The public is invited to come out and hear this wonderful woman of God, who claims the power to raise the dead, give sight to the blind, and heal all manner of diseases; tuberculosis, goitres, cancers and rheumatism. She professes to remove pain within five minutes by the laying on of hands through the power of God.

Bible evidence according to Acts 2-4. Acts 3-9, 36 to 41. She advises: "Read your Bibles and get faith and be healed of thine infirmities. Prayer changes things."

Many have been healed by letters, according to her claims. Write P. O. Box 734, Los Angeles 53, California.

Western Ave Christian Church Holds Novel Fashion Show

The week beginning June 6 was a busy one insofar as activities are concerned with the Western Avenue Christian Church. On Thursday night, June 10, the Women's Council of the church sponsored a Fashion Show, at the Alpha Bowling Social Club, located at 2914 S. Western Ave. Chairman of this organization, Mrs. Sealar Carnes wishes to express her thanks to the various fashion houses throughout the city which so graciously contributed their services toward making this affair a success, owned by Marie, Frankye, and Fredericka—The La Tanya Shoppe, and the Melonee Hall Style Shoppe.

Starting at 8 p.m. Thursday evening, the affairs presented some 30 odd models, with musical presentations at intervals. Others whose valuable services are appreciated are Mrs. Fontana Johnson, mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. Marjorie Elliott, established fashion authority, and Mrs. Bradley who was instrumental in securing the beautiful Alpha Bowling Club.

On Sunday evening June 13, the children of Western Avenue Christian church will present their first Children's Day Pageant. This group, sponsored by Mrs. Frankye Jackson, who is the Superintendent of the junior division of the Sunday school, promises an evening of entertainment and education by presenting a play titled "The Kingdom of Children." The public is invited to attend these services at 7:30 p.m. Come out and encourage the young folk.

Young People To Pretent Dollar Parade

As a follow up to the services at Brown Temple A.M.E. Zion church, 1201 East 43rd st., being conducted this week by Rev. Pauline Coffee, the pastor, Rev. K. L. Buford, announces that emphasis will be placed on evangelism at the Sunday services. A special evangelistic sermon will be delivered by the pastor, and special gospel music has been arranged by the Minister of Music, Prof. Floyd E. Howard, Sr.

At 3 p.m. the Young People's Missionary Society, under the direction of their presiding secretary, Mrs. Jeannette B. Dyer, will present a "Dollar Parade." At 7:45 p.m., a gospel song feast will be given. The participants will be: The Sons of Harmony, a well known quartette; Mr. John McDaniels, Gospel Soloist, and the Brown Temple Choir. A cordial welcome awaits all who wish to attend these services.

Baptists Oppose Segregation

MILWAUKEE—Elimination of segregation and discrimination in education, housing, employment and the armed services was urged in resolutions unanimously adopted by delegates attending the Northern Baptist Convention here last week. The delegates endorsed the report of the President's Committee on Civil Rights.

JOTTINGS FROM MY SCRATCH PAD

• People still ravin bout the mad anniversary party the Lloyd Resse's gave the other even'g, drinks and food galore and nothin but oodles of fun, listened to the groovy playing of Eddie Beale, Tony Hill and scores of others, there's one thing about those parties of Lloyd and Janet's there is no color ban . . . Understand that G. Bedney has a new tune arranged for the lovely Lena Horne, incidently will Mr. Bedney kindly contact me by phone . . . The 13 Aides are making gala plans for their Juneteenth Festival for June 20th . . . this club is headed by the lovely Louise Beavers . . . Doffing the lid to a California Cutie Betty Wilson, seen around town again, tells us she's in the Millinary business . . . Aha! Barber Brown looked at the sleek hair of George Wilder and asked: "Do you want a hair cut or just the oil changed?" . . . The Roy Milton band with the very groovey singing of Camillie Howard opened at the Club Congo with the bang natch! . . . Our Sis Lillian says: "To women beauty is what money is to men . . . POWER!" . . . The polite manner in which Oklen Levy greets you at the Last Word is always worth a mention . . . The dimpled smile of Vonnie Parrish is enough to make anybody forget their troubles . . . Can't think of a name bad enough to call rats that robbed Maxine Hereford of her pretty Platina Stole along with so many more of her valuable things. Don't miss out on the Stan Kenton concert at the bowl presented by Gene Norman, one of our fave disc jockey's Saturday nite . . . Because of too much work Lillian Randolph is thinking of post-poning her radio show until the fall . . . Billy Davis in Vallejo, Calif. sends a fond hello to his many friends here and especially to Dudley Dickenson . . . Those awful fine Sir Debuteers have bids out to their annual dance . . . Wouldn't be a bit surprised (if certain things continue) if a well known Negro comedian would be let out of the show next year . . . That was tantalizing Lorena Ware displaying that hour glass figure in the juice bar the other noon hour . . . The Social Barons announced the opening of their Baron's Den again . . . The Les Dames really want to thank all who help pack the place at their annual cocktail soiree Sunday last . . . especially wanta thank Ray Wheaton who handled the role as M.C. for the afternoon, and such participants as Fletcher Henderson, Bobbie Roberts, Ralph Weaver, Esvan Mosby and the club president Lil Randolph who sang some very fine numbers . . . folks all raving about that new hair straightner endorsed by Peg Leg Bates "King Konk" . . . The recent show at the Jefferson High School was terrific, M. Ceed by Joe Adams and bringing the noted T-Bone Walker and scores of others, the kids are still ravin about it . . . Love Toni Harper's "Candy Store House Blues" . . . June 27th the date set for the big tea being spondered by the Good Samaritian's and Working Handicapped of which Anita Brown is fonder . . . so in closing we wanta remind you "Ones eyes are what one is, but ones mouth is what one becomes".

Miller Quits His Singing Chores For Barkeep Job

Dynamic little Eddie Miller, former big time vocalist with the bands of Leo Davis and Kenneth "Sticks" McVey, have decided the male vocalist supply is greater than the demand, and told an EAGLE reporter he would retire from the theatrical profession permanently.

Mr. Miller, whose sensational voice was a major factor in skyrocketing the Davis band to the top of the musical ladder of success a few years back, is a product of Denver, Colorado, and is now working as a bartender at one of the local clubs.

Club Chesterfield To Make Bow On Or About July Eighth

Matthew Thompson and Joseph Shipp, progressive young businessmen about town, have purchased the Victory Inn on South Central avenue and will open a first class cocktail lounge and musician's club on or about July 8 under the name of Club Chesterfield. The lounge will be an intimate place with a continental atmosphere and will feature a musical bar, the only one of its kind on the Eastside.

Featuring the top in deliciously prepared dinners, the club will boast of one of Los Angeles' top femme cooks, Mrs. Lou Hughes, which means a meal at the Chesterfield Lounge will truly be an epicurean treat!

The Messrs. Thompson and Shipp announced their policy of catering to musicians and members of the profession. A back room will be installed to be used as a rehearsal hall for bands, trios and acts who make the Chesterfield club their hangout.

John Bright's Play is Top Entertainment

What happens when an innocent Mexican boy is involved in the murder of a Los Angeles policeman is the dramatic theme of John Bright's powerful melodrama, "City of Angeles," which will have its world premiere at the Musart Theatre on June 11.

Drawn from real life situations, "City of Angeles," is written by one of Hollywood's foremost screen writers and will be directed by film star Anthony Quinn. Romance as well as powerful melodrama enliven the plot of the Bright play which will have a cast of over 30 players, many of them recruited from the Mexican Community.

Community and religious leaders who have read "City of Angels" hvae already declared that the play will make a vital contribution to better interracial understanding. Many members of the film community, including Shelley Winters, Douglas Dick, Sandra Gould, Katherine De Mille, John Ireland and others have already bought first night seats for the play.

Amos 'N Andy

Freeman Goodsen (Amos), of the Amos & Andy air show, currently enjoying a vacation with his family in South Carolina, plans to proceed to New York where he will make an extensive study of television. This move might indicate a plan to utilize more Negro actors for the live characters.

GALAXY OF STARS TO BE ON HAND TO WELCOME HOME EAGLE WRITER

HOLLYWOOD (NPB)—The gala HOMECOMING party being planned for JT Gipson, EAGLE Theatrical Elitor, who returned home recently after an absence of nearly four year, during which time he was hospitalized in the Mayo Brother's Clinic, Rochester, Mnin., and the Franklin Hospital, Columbus, Ohio, will be held Sunday afternoon at 1918 So. Harvard Blvd. The affair gets under way at 3 p. m. and the public is cordially invited to attend.

This is not a benefit for columnist Gipson, but a fine gesture on the part of a newly organized social club, Sportsmen Anonymous, who decided the best thing to do for a swell writer who has done more toward pushing entertainers up the ladder of success than any other writer on the coast, would be to pay tribute to the Gip by staging a gala homecoming party and cocktail soiree and invite some of the brightest stars of stage, screen and radio to participate in the festivities, all in his honor.

Mr. Gipson, who has been associated with the California EAGLE Publishing Company for a decade, has been more or less responsible for the success of some of our brightest names in show business. He convinced Timmie Rogers to go out on his own as a single, and wrote reams of publicity praising Timmie's comedy-dance antics. Timmie is now a star. He wrote publicity for Lena Horne, the King Cole trio, Jimmie Baskett (Academy Award Winner), Dorothy Donegan and other now famous stars. Mr. Gipson worked tirelessly in keeping the names of performers, starting out in show business, in the various papers. And Mr. Gipson never asked or accepted a dime for any publicity given any star during the time he wrote copy for that particular entertainer. If you were sincere in wanting to get ahead in show business, and worked hard towards that end, that was the only thing needed to get in The Gip's column.

One of the finest tributes that can be paid a writer was made the other Sunday afternoon when Mr. James Baskett, who won a coveted Oscar for his role of Uncle Remus in Song of the South, remarked to Mr. Julius "Stuff" Crouch that "J. T. Gipson helped me when I first came to California. He kept me in the papers nearly every week, and he's never asked me for a dime!" That's the kind of guy The Gip is. And it is for that reason the theatrical profession will turn out en masse to welcome home their favorite prodigal son.

The party will last far into the evening, and those invited to attend to sing, dance or play a number on the afternoon's program are: Eddie Davis and his band; Monty Easter and his band; Maggie Hathaway, Dorothy Donegan, Ceelle Burke, Emily Foster, Dan Grissom, Bobbe Caston, Marl Young, Judy Carol, Teddy Rudolph and the 5-Bits of Rhythm, Lorenzo Flennoy, T-Bone Walker, Smiley Turner, James Baskette, Mary Louise, Ernie Andrews, Joe Adams, Jimmie Witherspoon, Gene Phillips and others.

Highlight of the afternoon, during intermissic will be the modelling of original chapeaux created by the popular milliner, Ruth Anderson Epps, and other models featuring hair styles by Gene Swayne. Announcer Joe Adams will M.C. the entire program.

There will be a silver offering at the door. Some of the money from the silver offering will be made available to Mr. Gipson so that he can purchase bed lamps for the patients at the Out-Door Life and Health tuberculosis hospital, his favorite charity.

The date is Sunday, June 13. The place is 1918 So. Harvard Blvd. The time is from 3 p. m. until . . .

Welcome home, Gip!

Lovely Lena to Receive Award For Her Work

The Southland Jewish Organization will present an award for outstanding achievement. This year the awards will be presented by Norman Corwin to the motion picture "Crossfire." A special award will also be presented to Miss Lena Horne for outstanding service in the field of racial and intercultural contributions.

The Donor Dinner Chairman, Mrs. Jules Medow, and the Year Book Chairman, Ben Berman, report that the fund drive was successfully carried through by the twelve Southland Jewish Organization chapters, and over $15,000 has been realized. These funds are used to further the progressive programs of S.J.O. in the fields of Education, Interfaith, Legislation, and in assisting the work of our Palestine Committee. The Donor Dinner is the culmination of the fund drive, which is the one yearly fund-raising activity of the Southland Jewish Organization.

THE 'BOSS' sent us down to the Congo Club the other evening to take a picture of Bandleader Roy Milton. He ain't so pretty so we snapped his lovely Singer-Pianist instead. She's Camille Howard, whose recording of "You Don't Love Me" is zooming across the musical horizon in a blaze of glory. Roy and his band appear nitely at the Congo.

Jean Arthur Tops Voting in AGVA Delegates Race

HOLLYWOOD (NPB)—Jean Arthur, top coast comedienne and mistress of ceremonies at nearby Bal Tabarin Club, won realization of a long dream, that of seeing a Negro elected to the Board of the American Guild of Variety Actors, when she received the highest number of votes cast for delegates to the convention in New York.

Miss Arthur's total vote count throughout the nation was 628 against her nearest rival's 582. Her vast electible qualities put her out in front of the combined votes of candidates in seven western and Pacific states.

The convention which opened in New York on June 2, ended June 5. The local chapter awarded Miss Arthur a 30-day leave of absence. She will spend a week in Chicago before returning here.

SING-SATIONAL Smiley Turner will be one of the many stars of stage, screen and radio who will be on hand Sunday afternoon, June 13, to participate in the gala homecoming party being held for JT Gipson, EAGLE Theatrical Editor. The party will be held at 1918 S. Harvard Blvd., and starts promptly at 3 p.m. Mr. Turner will sing Lorenzo Felennoy's new tune "I Saw A Star."

Dorothy Donegan In Gala Opening At Hollywood Nitery

HOLLYWOOD (NPB)—Dorothy Donegan, popular young versatile artist of the ivories, heads star studded cast of the first all-Negro show to appear at Tom Breneman's cafe.

Entranced first-nighters were held spellbound by her renditions of "Nature Boy" and "The Dance of the Sabers." The reknowned interpreter of the "classics boogie woogie," with her sensational arrangements, enthralled and highly entertained a very appreciative audience.

Miss Donegan, together with Tip Tap Toe, famous trio of dancers direct from a very successful engagement at famed "Flamingo Hotel," Las Vegas, Eunice Wilson, her charms, personality and songs, and Celestino (C. L. Burke) and his Afro-Cuban orchestra, soptlighted the evening.

The show follows recently closed Ethel Waters' successful engagement at "Florentine Gardens" and Lena Horne's spectacular opening at "Slapsie Maxie's." Hollywood again spotlights the news, and upholds its tradition. Ultra! Ultra! Entertainment plus!

Lady of Variety Songs Celebrates Decade as Star

It takes a lot to keep on the top of the theatrical success ladder for 10 years. And whatever it takes, Ella Fitzgerald has got. Ten years ago come June the famed songstress skyrocketed to fame with a Decca recording of a nursery-type song, "A Tisket a Tasket."

In celebration of this decade of stardom, Ella will begin an extended run at the Three Deuces on 52nd st., New York City, on June 10. With her will be the Ray Brown Trio. Ray Brown, who has won the Esquire Award as the top bass fiddler, is in private life Ella's hubby.

Opening night at this 52nd st. mecca of swing will look like a page out of the show business Who's Who. Among the stars who will turn out to pay homage to the first lady of song are: Lena Horne, John Garfield, Bill Robinson, Benny Goodman, Ethel Merman and other stars of stage, screen and radio.

Interview With Teacher Reveals Startling Facts

Acclaimed one of the nation's top dance instructors, Ralph Weaver, local dance impresario, is steadily climbing the heights and proving to be the stepping stone to many youngsters' success.

Mr. Weaver teaches terpsichorean art in his fashionable dance studios at 633 So. La Brea, and once taught a few dance steps to Ginger Rogers. Any man who once taught dance steps to Ginger Rogers, thought I to myself, surely rates an interview. So I waddled over to Ralph's cozy dance studio the other afternoon during a slight downpour of California dew.

I rang the bell to his studio.

"Come in," he said, which I thought very silly as I had no intention of standing there in the rain.

We got down to business immediately following my host's thoughtfulness in setting a well-filled bottle of Milk (with just a dash of Scotch) on the table. This is the spirit I like in my interviews.

"Well, whad'dya wanna know?" He asked in a Charles Boyer'ish voice.

Tallulah Bankhead's phone number, but you don't know it, so I'll ask some questions about yourself, I said, getting off to a merry start.

I asked the usual silly questions and got the usual silly answers I always get when interviewing Screwballs or Celebrities. Ralph's a celebrity.

Over the second glass of Milk, handsome Ralph confided that he is, at present, interested in teaching all forms of the dance, and has turned down several lubrative offers to appear in musical shorts; dance in nite spots and tour with "name" bands as a feature act.

"Why?" I asked, in the seriousness of a good reporter.

"Because," he replied, "I'm interested in teaching and nothing else."

He paused. Flipped a Sara Vaughn recording on the record player, and continued: "You know, I once taught some dance steps to Ginger Rogers when she was appearing on a picture at Paramount."

"Yeah," I snarled, envious as all get out, "So I heard."

"Well, he well'd, "I didn't like it."

Here's a guy nuttier than a wall-nut grove, thought I to myself, smiling devilishly but saying nothing.

"No, Gip," he said, "I was working out to the Studio as a dance instructor but the studio called me maybe about once or twice a month, and I decided to open my own studio—where I could eat REGULARLY!"

Nice reasoning, I thought. So did Mr. Weaver, because he did just that.

Opened his own studio.

Mr. Weaver, who has danced in quite a few big time shows as a specialty act, made his first public appearance in 1935 at the Liberty theatre, Stockton, Calif. He walked away with first prize and won the chance to appear on the late Major Edward Bowes' show smulating from New York. From the Major Bowes show, Mr. Weaver moved on to greater heights and has been sailing stratispheric heights ever since until he decided to branch out on his own as a dance instructor.

He introduced the Zone System to California. The Zone System? It's a simple little thing meaning if you live in zones 7-11-13-27-28-36, your request for his services is preferred.

These zone numbers are in Hollywood, the East and Westside and the Wilshire district.

Ralph Weaver is definitely going places in this dance-teaching profession, and at the rate he's going he'll make it in nothing flat.

"My idea of a perfect dancer and a perfect instructor for ANY kind of dance routine is Ralph Weaver," says Peg Leg Bates, himself a dancer of note.

'Nuff said —Gip.

Supreme Records Sign Snake White

Leroy "Snake" White, who once tooted his trumpet in the bands of Fletcher Henderson, Benny Carter, Earl Hines, and other greats of the swing kingdom, has deserted the trumpet-tooting profession to go into the recording business. Mr. White, who made quite a rep for himself as top man on the trumpet totem pole in and around the Angel City a few years past, has been signed as musical director for Supreme Recording oCmpany.

5-BITS OF RHYTHM is what the above group represents. They're five guys who're clicking solidly with their brand of swing. The Bits, under the musical direction of smilin' Teddy Rudolph are set for a part in a forthcoming Paramount musical short. Rhythm is their business, and business sure is swell!

The Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters will stage a Pre-Convention Cabaret andce Thursday evening, June 10, at the Congo Club. Music for the occasion will be furnished by Roy Milton and his orchestra, featuring Camille Howard. Affair gets under way promptly at 9 p.m.

On The Stem

Thanks to the new styles, local bachelors are going to discover that LILLIAN LOMAX (whose lgs. are this pretty: ! !) has a beautiful complexion, too. . . . JAY McShann opens in FRISCO a coupla wks hence with a new and bigger band. Good luck to a good guy! . . . WALTER MILLER (Regal hotel op) is sniffing Orange Blossoms. A doll named GINGER has all his masculine intuition wrapped up in one grand confusion! . . . THE SIGMAS ARE COMING. . . . ABE BURROWS (he's "The Freshest Thing In Radio") has a new song, titled: "I'm So Miserable

Mr. Gipson

Without You That It's Almost Like Having You Around!" . . . TRUMPETER Jake Porter takes his zippy little crew to the SKY-LARK Club (OKLA. CITY) for an extended stay beginning 6 10 48. HARRY BIGELOW will go on tour with T-BONE WALKER next week as The Bone's ROAD MANAGER! . . . HERB JEFFRIES is chirping at CIRO'S, in case you wonder where HERB JEFFRIES is chirping. . . . PETE KINZER, the OHIO softball whiz, is in town on a softball tour. Ever see that guy play ball? Big Time! . . . THERE are plenty guys around who would pay BIG MONEY for the book in which BOYD "MAC" PINKSTON keeps his telephone numbers!

Don't stop me if you've heard it before. I like it and wanna hear it again. The Manager of a local nite spot was on the verge of sending a bottle of scotch to a columnist, bedded with the flu. "Uh-uh," the Owner uh-uh'd. "The columnist always comes through when we want something in the paper, doesn't he?" asked the Owner. "That's right," said the Manager. "And," continued Mr. Big, "He keeps us in the column just about each week, doesn't he?" "Right again," said the Manager. "And he's our friend, isn't he?" asked the Owner. "That's right, boss," replied the Mgr. "Well," reasoned the Owner, "Let's save that bottle of Scotch for some columnist who ain't!"

Beginning Of The End Dep't: SPORTSMAN Max Williams drew all his $'s outuve the bank to invest in a gambling den. . . . LOYCE COYCOULT, the ah-tractive CONGO club waitress, and TRUMPETE Chas. Gillum are Romeo and Juliette'ing. . . THEIR many friends are hoping the TOM McGEES will stop acting like kids and give love another chance. TOM'S tops, and she's a peach of a gal-pal. . . . HAPPY JOHNSON will enlarge his ork from 7 to 15 pieces for a nation-wide tour. His latest COLUMBIA disc is a novelty titled: "Barbecued Hot Dog." A zingy arrangement. . . . MRS. JAMES BASKETTE is ill. Here's hoping she's up and out again quicker than it takes an extra girl in Hollywood to say "yes." . . . DON BARKSDALE, the great athlete, enjoying a fruit punch (and the vocalarking of BOBBE CASTON) at the LAST WORD. DON'S one of the finest guys I've met in my life! . . . LOIS WALCOTT (no relation to JERSEY JOE) is a Pasadena pretty whose loveliness is more refreshing to the eyes than a Boric Acid bath! . . . RUBY JOYCE looking pert and pretty in one of the clubs the other sundown. But then, RUBY JOYCE looks pert and pretty ANYWHERE! Don't get any ideas, wolves, her hubby (boxer WILLIE) packs a wallop like CHOE LOUIS! . . . JOHN THOMAS (always a champ in our books) will open a POULTRY mrkt SATDAY next on 41st and AVALON.

Sammy Warren's ELK'S club located in the WATTS area on 103d St) features the music of FELIX CROSS and the sing-sational chirping of a gal named MARY. That alone is worth the price of admission! . . . JOE ADAMS, the Poor Man's Al Jarvis, was talking to a doll the other evng in the DOWNBEAT and brag'd: "I'm sorta handsome, don'tcha think?" to which the cutie fang'd: "G'wan, I've seen better looking pans under an Ice Box!" (Yak! Yak! Yak!) . . . PHYLIS SCOTT, the col'm's right arm, once told the gang at the EAGLE: "JT Gipson can spell anything but words!" . . . DOLORES MALLORY, the Artist's model, dining at STUFF'S the other two in the ayem. Her legs are so pretty they oughta be in a sweater! . . . OH, GOODY! The colyum's favorite singer, SMILEY TURNER, has promised to learn the words to "I Wonder What's Become Of Sally." The late SALLY HARPER'S pet tune, and a fave over at our house.

TALL, statuesque MABLE JONES is a sight for tireless orbs. She STENOGS in the WALTER L. GORDON Law Offices. . . . The ERNIE ANDREWS are expecting a little crooner in the Andrews household. Pop made SOOTHE ME famous, and vice versa. . . . STANLEY MORGAN (he strums strings with MARVIN JOHNSON'S ork) will re-open a note-spot by the time the Swallows take off from CAPISTRANO! . . . 5-reasons why we like the CAFE ZOMBIE: HAZEL Bankston, BILLIE Barton, JT Brown, ELSIE Jacobs and MARCELLE Brown. They serve the kind of meals Mother used to cook—before she took up bridge! . . . BARBARA RHODES, a Catholic GIRLS Hi student, is our piano fave when it comes to playing "Clair de Lune." And that goes for a TATUM named ART—or an ITURBI named JOSE! . . . DRUMMER Al "CAKE" Wichard modulated from the Last Word show to the EDDIE DAVIS band, EARL HIDE vice versa'd from the E. D. band to the Last Word show. . . . SAM TAYLOR and NICKI have called the whole thing off. She's filing for divorce.

Speakin' of JOE ADAMS (nobody was, I know, but I gotta fill space, don't I?) he'll M.C. the Homecoming party SUNDAY AFTERNOON at 1918 Harvard. . . . Boo-Boo McKinney (he owns the K-H Cafe) has the same thing CLARK GABLE has—only he's had it longer! Boo-Boo cracked the other night: "I'm getting soo old I can't even take YES for an answer!" . . . My favorite SOCIETY REPORTER, Jessie Mae Brown, weds Leroy Beavers on the 27. ALL THAT noise you hear is the hearts being broken 'cause JESSIE'S gettin' outuve circulation! . . . JOE SHIPP and MATTHEW THOMPSON will open a first class COCKTAIL LOUNGE next month. Two grand guys. . . . JUANITA TAYLOR is a cute doll, in case you go around noticing dolls who are cute. . . . ANOTHER ah-tractive thing is kewpie DOROTHY CRAWFORD. Her loveliness leaves me limp! When she walks, her whole figure makes eyes at you! . . . THE EUGENE JACKSON'S (Susie and Gene, as their chums know 'em) are infanticipating again. . . . BOYD WASHINGTON'S definition of a Pee Eye: "One who hitches his wagon to a girl who works like a horse!" . . . OVERHEARD In the DUNBAR Foyer: "My wife's an angel." . . . "You're lucky, mine's still living." . . .

Negro Singer Home From Tour Abroad

Aboard the "Queen Mary" on her arrival in New York was the distinguished American Negro soprano Ellabelle Davis, returning from her first European concert tour, in the course of which she has made 27 appearances in recital and as soloist with symphony orchestras in 19 cities of 13 countries since March 5th.

Miss Davis was accompanied by her secretary, Miss Milly Zirker. She was obliged to give three recitals in The Hague's large Diligentia Hall in less than three weeks' time, and has also heard at the Amsterdam Concert Hall and over the Hilversum Radio Station.

The first American Negro ever to have been starred by a major opera company of the world when she sang "Aida" with the Opera Nacional of Mexico two years ago, Miss Davis has concertized widely throughout North and South America. In addition to having given nearly 150 recitals in leading U. S. cities from coast-to-coast during the past 4 seasons, she has been heard as soloist with 10 of America's major symphony orchestras, including the Boston Symphony under Koussevitzsky, the Philadelphia Orchestra under Ormandy, the Minneapolis Symphony under Mitropoulos, the New York Philharmonic-Symphony, etcetera.

This Spring more Southern California residents than ever ever before are spending their spare time improving their yards to extend their claim that Southern California leads the nation in the beauty of its homes and surrounding grounds.

Five Bits Solid Click

By J. T. Gipson
Theatrical Editor

Your corpulent and collapsible nightclub correspondent puts his seal of approval on Teddy Rudolph and his 5-Bits of Rhythm. If the character in the second row will put away his yo-yo for a minute and pay attention we'll tell you a bit about Teddy Rudolph and his 5-Bits of Rhythm. Pull up a chair and siddown.

Teddy Rudolph (who is called Teddy Rudolph because his name is Teddy Rudolph) is the bass-playing leader of the group that has all Angel City music circles raving over their brand of rhythm. Teddy Rudolph was born in Tampa, Florida, but his parents thoughtfully moved to Chicago, Illinois, when he was 2 years old. A graduate of DuSable (or was it Wendell Phillips? I dunno, I forgot).

Rudolph got his musical education around the windy city nite spots playing with such steller bands as Erskine Tate, Johnny Long, Fletcher Henderson and the late Fats Waller. He joined the 3-Bits of Rhythm following a three year stint with Tate's orchestra. Because of his business acumen he was elected manager of the trio. That was in 1936. Since that time the Bits added two more bits of rhythm and went on to carve a niche for themselves in the Kingdom of Swing.

They've played a few of the country's smartest spots, including a long run at the ultra-smart Bartel's club, Chicago. They also broke records at the Capital Cocktail lounge in Chicago, and it was there that Duke Ellington dropped in the club one night for an sandwich and went out with Ray Nance. Nance is still with the Duke, but Teddy Rudolph will proudly tell you (if given a half chance; if not, one-fourth of a chance will do) that the great Ray Nance was once a member of the 5-Bits of Rhythm! And if you think that isn't something to brag about, then crazy is what you ain't anything else but.

The Bits closed their Capittal Lounge engagement and went to Detroit to work with Mildred Bailey (don't tell anyone you haven't heard of M.B. or you'll be listed as a boob). The group, consisting of two Guitars, violin, piano, drums and bass, popped in port a few months ago and Grant never took Richmond like they're taking Hollywood.

The Bits are currently appearing at the Last Word, and have already been signed to do a musical short at Paramount studios. They have best-selling discs on the juke-boxes, "I Used to Work in Chicago," and the torchant, "I'll Be True."

Upon arriving in the city of the angels, the 5-Bits of Rhythm opened at the Say When club, San Francisco and broke all existing house records. They were held over repeatedly. From the Say When club, they moved into the Last Word, on Central avenue in the heart of of the Jive sector.

Personnel of the group is Tommy Askew, piano; Johnny Creech, violin; Bruce Williams, guitar; Welton Barnett, guitar; and Teddy Rudolph, leader and bass. The Bits have been together 13 years, and at the rate they're going they'll be together 13 more.

It couldn't happen to a finer musical aggregation.

Diz Gillespie Blows Top Over B-Bop Article

NEW YORK—Dizzy Gillespie, high priest of be-hop and Esquire all-American trumpet selection, took violent exception this week to the observation of jazz critic Wilbur Henderson that only Gotham hepsters could really appreciate be-hop. Henderson, writing in MUSIC DIAL, Harlem jazz magazine, contended that because of the tempo and nature of bop it could be appreciated only by jazzphiles in the Metropolitan area.

Dizzy was quick to come to the defense of the musical tastes of jazz lovers outside of New York. According to Gillespie, with entertainment seekers all over the country listening to coast-to-coast radio programs and seeing the same movies, etc. their tasts and capacity for appreciation would be much the same.

Said Dizzy "I know the kids away from New York are hep to bop just as they are here. There really aren't any more squares in other towns than there are in this one. Percentages will run about the same. To show that I think they know the score out yonder, I'm planning a tour through the South and Mid-west and I'm willing to wager that bop will be understood and appreciated just as much in those cities as it is on 52nd street or a concert in Carnegie Hall."

ONE OF THE MOST exciting musical trios in Hollywood nitelife circles is the Eugene Jackson outfit. Musically, the trio stacks up along with the best of them, and they've been breaking records and playing to S.R.O. crowds all over the country. Leader was the great child star of a decade ago. He was "Chinkapin" in the picture. "Hearts In Dixie," and had a co-starring role in "Cimarron."

Oscar Moore Wins 1st Round In Cole Battle

HOLLYWOOD—Guitarist Oscar Moore's departure from the Kink Cole trio, after being with the group since piano-playing Nathaniel forme dthe outfit more than 10 years ago, was due to the King's refusal to cut Moore in on royalties paid the King Cole trio by Capitol Records following his departure from the aggregation seven months ago.

An out of court settlement ended a suit filed in Superior court here by Moore, and it is believed Moore settled for a flat $6,000 after having demanded 27½ per cent of an estimated $30,000 said to be Cole's take to date.

It was believed that the suit would be fought by Cole backers, claiming that Moore had been merely a member of the trio on a salary basis and not entitled to a slice of the record royalties.

Rumors flew right and left as to Moore's hasty departure from the KCT. Some said the King's head had out-grown his cap. Others stated Moore was dissatisfied with salaried arrangements, while the boys in the back room summed it up that the reason Oscar Moore left the Cole trio was because he was tired of traveling. While the rumors were flying, Moore kept his mouth shut. He never tried to drag the King, but remained the same quiet little fellow that has made him one of the most beloved musicians in the profession.

You Guys Who Fish Won't Like This One

Willis H. Rich, Stanford University biology professor and nationally known fishery scientist, charged today that the so-called "sportsmen's" initiative now being circulated in Califorina "is not a needed conservation measure." The proposed initiative would ban commercial fishing in San Francisco Bay and in the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers.

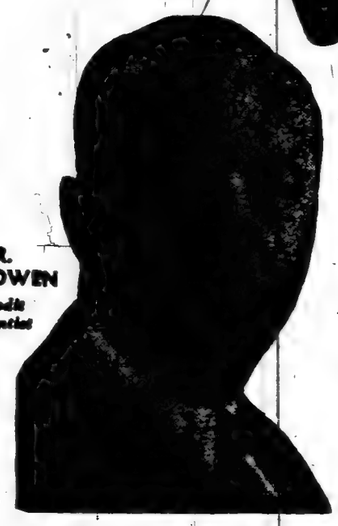
Farewell to Sir Lancelot At CIO Auditorium Sunday

Los Angeles is saying farewell to Sir Lancelot, famous Calypso singer from Trinidad, this Sunday afternoon in the CIO Auditorium at 5851 Avalon Boulevard beginning at 4 o'clock The noted balladeer, song-writer and actor leaves soon for a radio broadcast in New York, to be followed by a series of concerts in the East. The farewell party will be a community affair with something for the whole family from junior to grandpa.

Sir Lancelot, who has chronicled many important notes of history in the catchy lyrics and rhythm of Calypso, is the author of "Wallace Is the Man for Me."

Sir Lancelot

The beauty and sweep of the song can be seen in the following verses:



"Wallace is the man for me
He's a man of destiny
He'll make our country truly free
And give us peace and security
He'll make this land a happy place
For every color, creed and race.
Black man, white man, yellow too,
Catholic, Quaker, Baptist, Jew.
No more racial and religious discrimination;
No more insults and segregation.
There's going to be real democracy
With Wallace and the I. P. P."

American Iron and Steel Institute figures show that from 1935 to 1946 inclusive the steel industry paid $3,737 million in taxes whereas its profits during the period totaled $2,243 millions. Many businesses large and small are now being taxed to such an extent, they are not able to show enough profits to pay their taxes. —Congressman Wat Arnold.

Sports of All Sorts

By Stanley Robertson, Eagle Sports Editor

When in some future time, the great athletic performances of man are bound together in one volume to be perserved for the coming generations, the performance at Compton College on the night of June 4, 1948, by Lloyd La Beach will be placed very near the front of the volume.

In the words of Los Angeles Times Sports Editor Paul Zimmerman in his coverage of the track meet which appeared in Saturday mornings Times, "one of the great individual track and field performances of all times..." Those few four thousand who were privileged to be on hand, will agree heartily with Mr. Zimmerman; it was one of the great individual performances of all times.

Make no bones about it, there was never a man who ever laced on a pair of spiked shoes that could have beaten LaBeach Friday night. Yes that includes Mel Patton, Clyde Jeffrey, Hal Davis, and you can throw in Citation with John Longdon aboard for good measure. No, not even the now legendary Jesse Owens, without a doubt the finest track athlete that ever lived could have beaten LaBeach Friday night if the great dominator time could have made them equal in age. It was just one of those nights; a night when nothing went wrong, everything was favorable.

Right now, some of the local press are waking up to the idea that, although in two previous meetings Mel Patton has bested LaBeach, this likeable Jamician may break the long line of American Olympic sprint domination. We favor LaBeach, as we have said on many occasions, but whether he can take the great Trojan sprinter (whether or not you like Dean Cromwell, SC, or how much you like LaBeach, you must admit that Patton is a great sprinter) will have to be proved at London, for the two won't meet again uhtil then. Whether Lloyd LaBeach does or does not beat Mel Patton at London, his performance a Compton College on June 4, 1948, will still live as one of the great individual performances of all times. To use a trite phrase, it will be his "once in a lifetime" yarn to tell his children.

Jerry Walters, The First Great Negro Miler?

If past performances are any indiciation of what is to come in the future, young Jerome "Jerry" Walters of Compton High School may become the first REALLY GREAT NEGRO MILER. Young Walters put on one of the most courageous exhibitions seen on local tracks in many a moon, when he came from fifth to second in the last 150 yards of the 1500 meter run Friday night at Compton. Walters went on to be timed in a 4.21.2 mile, 1/10 of a second off Louis Zamperrini's National Inttrscholastic mark. If Walters can continue along like the great Trojan miler did, he may be a member of the '52 U. S. Olympic squad. Zamperini after setting his high school record, was NCAA champion in '38 and '40. His best marks are down around 4:08 to, so you can see if Walters can come along like Zamperrini did, he'll do alright. By the way, Walters renews his grudge with Marshall High School's John Wooley, the young man who upset him in the state meet a couple of weeks ago at Berkeley, when they meet Friday night in the Pasadena Games at the Coliseum.

Bob Crowe of Compton College caused the complexion of Dean Cromwell's face to turn all the colors of the rainbow Friday night when he out distanced SC's anchor man, Bob Chambers, in the stretch to enable Compton to beat the Troy relay squad. The Tartar's also established a new National J. C. record in placing second to LAAC and in front of the Trojans. Crowe seems to have regained his last season's form because the watches clocked him at 48 flat for the 440. By the way, Cromwell's face wasn't the only one that took on foriegn colors. Ducky Drake's must have taken on some peculiar glows for instead of having Crowe run against him, Drake could have had Crowe on his side! Back in '46, when Crowe and his elder brother Geroge came out to these parts and were looking around for a school to enroll in, they decided to cast their lot with UCLA. But upon traveling out to Bruinville, they were told it was too late to register (although several athletes who later became quite prominent enrolled later) Geroge became disgusted and signed with the now dead L. A. Red Devils pro basketball squad, but Bob cast his lot with the Compton folks. Had it not been for an administrative point, the Bruins might have had the Crowe brothers in Blue and Gold uniforms. The Mid-Western sports writers say George and Bob Crowe were two of the best basketball players ever to come out of Indiana. In high school, George was more highly regarded than was Dave Minor, so you know the Bruins could have used him.

ODDS AND ENDS. Don Barksdale leaves this week to begin practice for the Olympic basketball team. Don tells me that when he cleared 6 ft 5 last week it was the best jump he'd ever gotten off from a point of style and cordination. Don won the Compton sharing event at 6 ft 6. . . . George Jacquet, the young San Pedro boy who won the local Olympic boxing flyweight crown, is the nephew of famous tenor man, Illinois Jacquet. . . . Young George, who is a senior majoring in music at San Pedro High, also blows a mean clarinet and tenor his friends claim. . . . Speaking of the local Olympic bouts Heavyweight kingpin Clarence Henry is regarded as almost a sure thing to win the heavyweight crown this summer at London. . . . Henry was national Golden Glove champion and is regarded by the guys in the know as the best heavyweight to come out of the amateur ranks since a guy named Joe Louis decided to turn pro. . . . Up north in the Bay Area, the local typewriter brigade has gone all out for Clarence Morrow, Oakland lightheavyweight who sent Archie Moore on the way to Dreamland in 2:56 seconds of the first round of their recent bout. . . . Morrow is suppose to be another Joe Louis. . . . Ollie Mattson of Wahington High School of San Francisco, the young man who chased Herb McKenley across the finish line Saturday at Berkeley when McKenley established a new worlds record of 46 flat, is really an amazing young man. . . . Mattson was just timed in 47.1, that's all when he crossed the line Saturday. His time, if I'm not wrong, is a new State, and national high school record. . . . It is also one of the best times recorded by a prep or any other athlete this year in the United States. . . . Mattson may get a crack a the Olympics if Lou Bittner, for whom he's been performing on the Bittner A. C., sends him back to the A. A. U. finals early next month. . . . You know the only way a man can make the Olympic tryouts is to place in the first six at the National Collegiates or in the first six in the AAU meet. . . . Mattson has a very good chance of making the team in the 400 meters. . . . The guy is an all around athlete . . . he made All City halfback last year in football and lettered in basketball and baseball.

LaBeach Cracks 200 Meter Mark

JAMICIAN EXPRESS IN HIGH GEAR—Shown above hitting the tape in front to tie the wrold 100 meter mark of 10.2, is Lloyd LaBeach, flashy Jamician sprinter. La Beach later went on to establish a new 200 meter mark of 20.2 and tie the 220 yard standard of 20.3 (see story) He's chased across the wire by lleft to right; Howard Bugbee, Bill Fell, Bill Martinson, LaBeach, Chuck Peters (hidden behind LaBeach) Barney Ewell, Ernie Lightner

Williams-Jack In Title Bout

PHILADELPHIA—Fresh from a May 25 victory over Mexican challenger Enrique Bolanos at Los Angeles, Lightweight Champion of the world Ike Williams announced this week that he will put his crown on the line again on July 12 when he meets Beau Jack in a 15-round title bout here.

The sphinx-like champion will receive 37½ per cent of the gate while the ex-Georgia shoeshine boy, once the holder of the crown he will seek to take from Williams, will get 22 percent of the gate. The fight will be out of doors, probably at mammoth Franklin Field.

RAMS GET ANOTHER SPEEDSTER

The Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League announced this week that they had secured the services of Jim Hunnicut, 190 pound 10 second sprinter from the University of South Carolina. Hunnicut becomes the fifth Ram rookie back to sign.

Jamician Flyers Timed in 20.2; Ties 100 Meter, 220 Yd. Marks

By STANLEY ROBERTSON
Eagle Sports Editor

Not since the speed of man has been timed has there been a more outstanding display of individual sprinting as displayed by Lloyd LaBeach Friday night when he tied two world marks and broke another before 4000 spectators at the eighth annual Compton Invitational Track and Field meet.

The flying Jamaican, running under the colors of the Bittner Athletic club of Oakland and without the presence of the noticeably absent Mel Patton, broke Jesse Owens' 13-year-old 200-meter mark when he was timed in 20.2 seconds, 1/10th of a second faster than the great Ohio State sprinter's record. LaBeach also equalled the world marks for the 100-meter and 220-yard dashes when he was clocked in 10.2 and 20.3, respectively. He was also timed in 9.5 for the 100-yard dash, 1/10th of a second off the recognized world standard.

Times Probably Accepted

The times set by LaBeach will be given official world record consideration, and will probably be accepted. There was no wind that could have thrown the times off. Two watches caught LaBeach at 10.2 and another at 10.1 for the 100 meters. Two watches also clocked the Jamaican Express at 20.2 and another at 20.3 in the 200 meters.

Never in Doubt

Getting probably the best starts of his entire career, the lad who'll run for Panama this summer in the Olympics, beat Big Nine champion Charlie Peters of Indiana by five yards in the 100 meters and six yards in the 200 meters. Barney Ewell was third in both events.

Meet Surprises

Although the meet was one of the best conducted in the United States this year and there were other outstanding performances, the performance of Lloyd Beach overshadowed everything else. The slender Jamaican was awarded the trophy for the meet's outstanding performer. Craig Dixon of UCLA won the award last year.

The special Helms Trophy 880-yard run proved to be the biggest surprise of the night, when long Dave Bolen of Colorado, who had dropped out of the 440 20 minutes before, fought off Tarver Perkins of the Illinois A. C., John Fulton of the LAAC, and Mel Whitfield of Ohio State, in the stretch to win in the good time of 1:51.4. At the finish, the five first men (Bob Pruitt of SC was fifth) were no more than two yards apart.

Walters Surprises

Earlier, young Jerome (Jerry) Walter of Compton High School, brought the fans to their feet when he sprinted from fifth place to grab a second in the last 150 yards of the 1500 meter run. Eischen of Washington State was the winner over Walters by four yards in the time of 3:58.4. Walters went on to be clocked in a 4:21.2 mile, 1/10th of a second off Louis Zamperinl's National Interscholastic record of 4:21.1.

Compton Sets Record

Compton College established a new national junior college four-man mile relay mark of 3:16.3, when they placed second behind the Los Angeles Athletic Club in the open mile relay. The Athletic Club was clocked in 3:16.1. Hero of the record-setting Tartar relay squad was Bobby Crowe, long-legged Negro anchor man. Crowe was timed in 48 flat by the timers as he raced the anchor leg to outdistance USC's anchor man, Bob Chambers, for the place spot.

As expected, Herb McKenley, another Jamaican, won the 440-yard dash by besting Joe Neblon of Washington State. The time was 47.1.

Big Don Barksdale, already holder of an Olympic basketball team berth, served notice that he'll be awful tough to beat out in the high jump when he won the soaring event with a leap of 6 feet 6 inches.

Final team scores were:

LAAC, 39; Southern California, 32; UCLA, 17; Oakland Bittners, 15; Washington State, 8; Indiana, 6; Arizona, Shanahan AC, Compton College and Santa Barbara, 5; San Jose, Compton High School, 4; San Bernardino JC, Mount San Antonio JC, Long Beach CC, Illinois AC, Whittier, 3; Southern California Frosh, Occidental, Olympic Club, Fresno State, 2; Fullerton JC, Ohio State, Glendale Hoover HS, 1.

1500-meter run—Eischen (Washington State); Walters (Compton High); Charles Kohl (LAAC); Balch (UCLA). 3m. 58.4s.

110-meter high hurdles — Dixon (UCLA); Lawrence (LAAC); Ed Schnell (SC); Art Bernard (SC Frosh). 14.2s. New meet record. (Old record, 14.3s, by Joe Baptiste, Sacramento JC), 1941, and Leroy Kirkpatrick, San Mateo JC, 1936).

Shot put—Thompson (LAAC), 54 ft. 1½ in. (New meet record. Old mark, 53 ft. 3¼ in., Norm Wasser, Illinois, 1947). Shipkey (UCLA), 52 ft. 5¼ in.; Springer (SC), 50 ft. 7¾ in.; Linn (San Jose State), 45 ft. 10½ in. Broad jump — Aihara (SC), 23 ft. 5¼ in.; Engman (Santa Barbara College), 23 ft. 5 in.; Brownell (Whittier), 23 ft. 4¾ in.; Patsalis (SC), 23 ft. 4 in.

Javelin throw—Peoples (LAAC), 203 ft. 9 in.; Picarts (San Bernardino JC), 200 ft. 8 in.; Coster (Occidental), 196 ft. 2 in.; Hummel (unattached), 185 ft. 2 in.

100 meters — LaBeach (Panama); Peters (Indiana); Ewell (Penn AC); Fell (Compton High). 10.2s. (Equals world record held by Jesse Owens, 1936, and Hal Davis, Salinas JC, 1941).

440-yard run—McKenley (Jamaica), Nebolon (Washington State), Parker (LAAC), DeLoach (SC). 47.1s.

High jump—Barksdale (Oakland), 6

McKenley Breaks World 440 Record

(Special to The California Eagle)

BERKELEY—Hammering Herb McKenley, the smooth-striding Jamaican, established a new world's 440-yard dash record of 46 seconds flat here last Saturday afternoon in the annual Pacific Association track and field meet held at the University of California's Edwards Field.

Flying Lloyd LaBeach, another Jamaican, who had established a new world's 200-meter mark the night before at the Compton invitational meet, sizzled to a recognized world record tying mark of 9.4 seconds.

The great McKenley, whose victory at London this summer in the 400 meters has been conceded, clipped 3/10 of a second off his own world mark of 46.3 seconds set here at this very same stadium one year ago in the Big Nine-PCC dual meet.

Four timers caught the mechanical-like striding McKenley in 46 flat and a fifth in 45.9, as he outran Ollie Mattson of San Francisco's Washington high school, who was second. McKenley was pushed for 260 yards of the long one-turn Edwards Field quarter-mile course by young Mattson, but at the top of the long 160-yard straight-away home stretch McKenley literally "flew away" from the game prepster to win by 10 yards. Mattson was timed in the very good time of 47.1, the best time recorded by a prepster this year, and one of the best in the country by anyone.

LaBeach ended what was probably the greatest athletic weekend ever performed by one man by "coasting" for 160 yards in the 220 and winning in the good time of 20.6. The Jamaican lad may have cracked the recognized 100-yard mark if he had not gotten off to a poor start.

Baseball Globetrotters Battle Hawaiians Monday at Wrigley

Razzle-dazzle baseball of a kind never seen here before will be on display at Wrigley Field, next Monday night (June 14th) when the world-renowned Harlem Globetrotters stack up against the newly-organized Honolulu Hawaiians.

Known wherever basketball is played for their amazing feats with the casaba, the Trotters in baseball may eclipse their own sensational record in basketball.

As they did to basketball, the Harlemites have put bebop and rebop in baseball. Their specialty is speed, color and showmanship—but not at any time do they neglect the fine points of baseball. From an entertainment standpoint, as well as a playing standpoint, they are absolutely tops.

In a recent series of twelve games played with Satchel Paige's famed Kansas City Stars, the Globetrotters won 10 and lost 2. And Satchmo, himself, pitched six of those games. In their final game, at Dallas, the Trotter infield made seven double plays.

The Harlem outfield averaged .351 in batting last year, topped by Zell Miles with a mark of .298. Their pitching staff includes Winslow Means, who won 17 and lost 4 last year.

The Honolulu outfit is a powerful aggregation—the very cream of the Islands. The roster comprises men of many races—Chinese, Japanese, Hawaiians, Filipinos, Portuguese. All have made their mark in Island baseball.

The Hawaiian pitching staff includes "Russian" Cabral, who defeated the San Francisco Seals in a training game; as well as two remarkable southpaw hurlers—Chris Mancao, Filipino, and Lefty Higuchi, a Japanese.

Nor are the Isalnders backward in batting: their htird baseman, Kashi Kashiwaeda, batted .425 in the Hawaiian Winter League last year; they have a 19-year old shortstop, Dick Kitamura, who has been setting the Winter League afire with his fielding feats.

In addition, there's a clown named Ed Hamman, rated the greatest entertainer in professional sports.

DON TICKETS ON SALE

President Don Ameche of the Los Angeles Dons of the All-American Football Conference announced this week that the 1948 Don season tickets were now available for early season buyers at a great reduction under the '47 price. Early season purchasers may buy the book which contains tickets for all seven of the Dons' home games for the price of six games, Ameche said. The Dons open their season on September 10 at the Coliseum against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

LUCKMAN THE MOSTEST

CHICAGO — Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears of the National Football League has been a member of more championship teams than anybody in professional football. The Bears' stellar quarterback played with the title winning teams of 1940-41-43 and 1946. Luckman has appeared in five NFL play offs wih the Bears.

What has not unselfed love achieved for the race? All that ever was accomplished, and more than history has yet recorded.

Locals Qualify for Olympic Test

Off their performances Saturday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium, eight young men, without a doubt the finest amateur boxers ever developed in the Southland, will represent Los Angeles June 16-17 at San Francisco when the Pacific Coast Olympic boxing tryouts are held.

These eight young men, ranging in weight from flyweight to heavyweight, won the right to enter the West Coast Olympic finals by winning their respective weight division championships Saturday night in the local tryouts.

By having more men from its team win championships, Bakersfield won the team title when Uli Roberson, Walter Gibbs, and Frank Danniels, all of Bakersfield, won the featherweight, lightweight, and middleweight crowns respectively.

The other champions are: Clarence Henry, heavyweight; Earl Ward, light-heavyweight; Don Phillips, welterweight; Reuben Smith, bantamweight, and George Jacques, flyweight.

If the eight young men are successful in the San Francisco tournament, they will then be eligible to participate in the National finals at Boston next month.

MIGHTY MIDGET — Pictured above is George Jacquet, scrappy little flyweight who won the flyweight championship in the local Olympic tryouts Saturday night at the Legion Stadium. (See story.)

EAGLE MUSIC CRITIC
ORATORIO NIGHT

On rare occasions one is privileged to hear and see one of our community church choirs present music of distinction, of quality, music which in its own right brings a feeling of accomplishment to those who perform it. On last Thursday evening in the Zion Hill Baptist church, the Senior choir under the direction of Walter Clarence Daniel, presented selected excerpts from the Creation, Elijah, the Stabat Mater, Eli, and Alexander's Feast, oratorios by composers of purpose, and reknown.

Opening with an organ prelude by First A.M.E.'s diminutive Robert V. Edwards, the program presented an excerpt from Dubois' "Seven Last Words," to be followed by Mansfield Collins in "Rolling in Foaming Billows" from Hayden's, The Creation. Mr. Collins, handled the assignment effectively. This ornamental music, however, requires brilliance and flexibility in its production.

William Valentne's ar "Revenge Time Theus Cries" from Handel's secular oratorio "Alexanders Feast" was in the characteristic Valentine manner of excellent control and interesting coloratura. May we digress to add that, this young man's coloratura techniques are unusual to say the least. Such nuances are uncommon in bass singers. The selection which was highly technical was obviously too involved for average comprehension.

The highlight of the evening came with the selections from Mendelssohn's "Elijah" in which Mary Martin Young, soprano, presented the air "Hear Ye Israel." We appreciate tremendously the great flexibility and control and more so the bel canto qualities which she demonstrates. This young lady is sorely lacking, however, in dramatic flare. Josephine Cooper, soprano, demonstrated the dramatic import of her rendition of Cofta's "I Will Extol Thee" which she sang with great dignity.

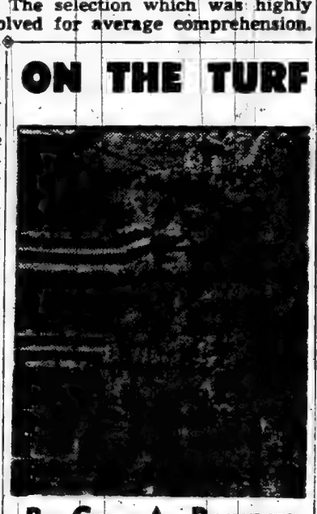
Again we were privileged to hear Carl Gipson, Jr., tenor, who offered the air "Cujus Animan" from Rossini's "Stabat Mater."

The choral accomplishment included an outstanding presentation of Mendelssohn's "Thanks Be to God." Veteran organist Catherine Colbert accompanied, and was ably assisted by Irma Juniel, Don Lee White, and Miss Robert V. Edwards.

William Grant Still

Last Sunday evening we spent probably one of the most exciting evenings that can be remembered. William Grant Still made us feel not only at home, but opened our eyes to a new understanding of the kind of music he loves; he hears; he writes. Los Angeles should be proud of America's most outstanding composer-musician. Still was born in a little Mississippi town, educated in the public schools of Little Rock, Arkansas, at Wilberforce University and at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music. He studied privately, on scholarships made possible by their own generosity, with George W. Chadwick and Edgar Varese. He learned to orchestrate by playing many instruments (among them the violin, cello and oboe) in professional orchestras, and by orchestrating from W. C. Handy, Donald Voorhees (of the Bell Telephone Hour), Sophie Tucker, Paul Whiteman, Willard Robison and Artie Shaw. For several years he arranged and conducted the Deep River Hour over CBS and WOR. He became the first colored man to conduct a major symphony orchestra in the United States when in 1936 he directed the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra in his own compositions in the Hollywood Bowl. He is a member of ASCAP and the League of Composers, the recipient of extended Guggenheim and Rosenwald Fellowships, of the Honorary degrees of Master of Music (from Wilberforce University), Doctor of Music (from Howard University) and Doctor of Music (from Oberlin College), of the second Harmon Award (1927) as well as a tropy of honor from our own Musicians Union 767. He has won important commission from the Columbia Broadcasting System, the New York World's Fair 1939-40, Paul Whiteman, the League of Composers and the Cleveland Orchestra. In 1944 he won the prize offered by the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra for the best Overture to celebrate its Jubilee season.

Mr. Still's "And They Lynched Him on a Tree" was performed by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Leopold Stokowski with the choral assistance of the Collegiate Choral and the Eva Jessye Choir. This work was performed recently by the Cathedral Choir of People's Independent Church.



The Afro-American Symphony has been performed all over the world and was recently performed in Holland, for the first time.

The great experience which we were allowed to enjoy will have to be continued in our column next week.

With cotton planting and chopping underway in the South, farm employment of hired and family workers showed a slight increase in that region on May 1, compared with the same period a year ago, but the long-time trend indicated a continued decline, reports the Beureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Prints show soil and wrinkles less than plain colors. Nylon slips are recommended because they do not wrinkle, dry quickly after washing and need no pressing.

ON THE TURF

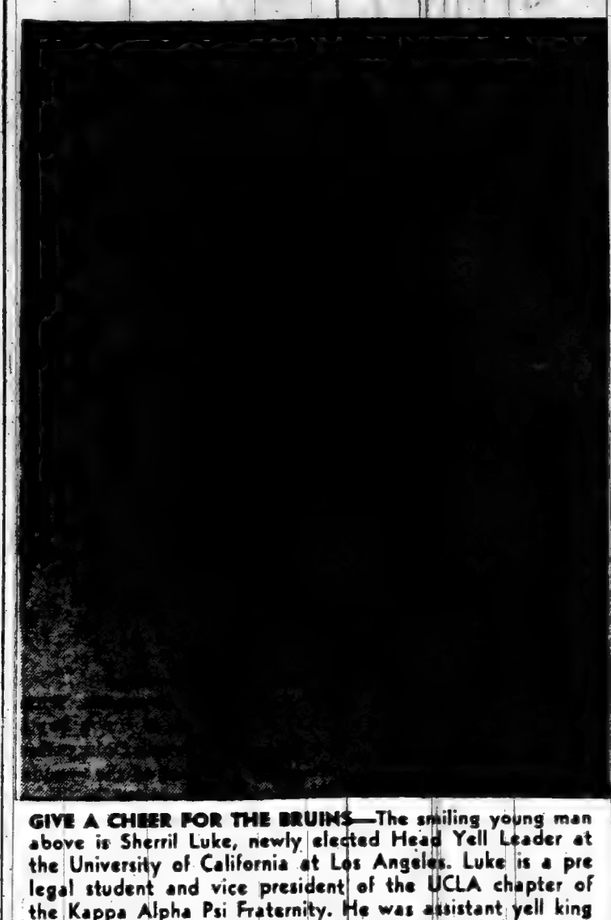
By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Old Mexico — An invader from Bay Meadows by the name of Wickford Point showed his fast heels to some of the best sprinters at the border course in the feature attraction last Sunday to capture "The Argentine" handicap at six furlongs and upset a well-planned coup by J. M. Brown, who had the favored entry of Vettura and Almo Boy also in the race. It was Almo Boy who set the fast pace for a half mile but Brown's well-mapped strategy failed when Vettura failed to respond after Almo Boy gave it up, although Almo Boy done his part to kill off the early pace, Vetture moved up menacingly into fourth place momentarily but lacked the finishing drive. Wickford Point also was moving fast on the outside with Drum Call at his heels and Almo Boy holding third position. As they came down to the line of finish it was Wickford Point first, Drum Call second, and Almo Boy third. The winner paid the good payoff of $26.80, $13.00, $6.80 across the board. The time was 1:11 3/5.

The daily double combination of Sketches, an 8-year-old maiden winner of the second race, and Judge Belle, victor of the third, paid $94.60, while the quiniela holders of Alan and Pimlico Polly, who ran in that order, received $55.80 for the $2 investment.

This Sunday General Manager Walter C. Marty's feature attraction will be "The Portland" handicap at 1 1/16 miles. Supported by "The Seattle" handicap at six furlongs, these two feature events will bring the best horses on the grounds together in their classes. Ten other races from sprints to distances make up the 12-race program.

Lady Emissary is the Citation of the greyhounds now racing at the Caliente oval. Sunday night she won her fourth straight race, and with the ease that she did it, made some of the old-time owners of the greyhounds scratch their heads and wonder who will beat the fair lady.



ANN BLYTH, known as the "sweetheart of the lot" at Universal-International, has one of her most appealing romantic roles in "Another Part Of The Forest," in which she is co-starred with Frederic March, Dan Duryea and Edmond O'Brien.

Here's a Sleeper

Brand-new five-room stucco house with half acre of land; in Fontana not far from Kaiser steel mill; sickness forces owner to sell. Small down payment, reasonable price. Phone Fontana 656 or call in person at Triple L Cafe on Cypress Ave. and Walnut St., Fontana. See property and make offer.

Ask for Mr. Coleman.

GIVE A CHEER FOR THE BRUINS—The smiling young man above is Sherril Luke, newly elected Head Yell Leader at the University of California at Los Angeles. Luke is a pre legal student and vice president of the UCLA chapter of the Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity. He was assistant yell king last fall. Luke is probably the first Negro to hold such a position at a large inter-racial university.

Tennis Tourney Ducats on Sale

Tickets are on sale now for the 64th annual Intercollegiate Tennis Championships of the United States, to be played for the second successive year on the UCLA courts for the week starting Monday, June 21, and ending Saturday, June 26.

Everything points to a banner tournament, with the champion collegiate players from every section of the country entering this N.C.A.A.-sponsored championship. Even larger crowds than attended last year's, successful tourney at UCLA are anticipated by Tournament Chairman William C. Ackerman and his committee.

41 Named for Rich Gold Cup

Forty-one of America's top-ranking handicap performers, including such turf greats as Talon, Faultless, Colosal, With Pleasure, Knockdown, On Trust, afosta, Historian and Delegate, have been nominated for the $100.000 Hollywood Gold Cup to be run Saturday, July 17, at a mile and one quarter at Hollywood Park.

The list of nominees announced today by Racing Secretary John R. Maluvius includes no less than 32 stakes winners, many of whom have won some of the nation's richest and most historic turf classics.

Hanks Rolls At Gilmore Tonight

HOLLYWOOD — Sam Hanks, rated by many night speedway fans as the outstanding race driver developed in Southern California in the past decade, returns to home territory when he joins the midget car brigade tonight, around Gilmore Stadium's quarter-mile racing ribbon.

Crack Golfer In Robinson "Open"

ROSLYN, Long Island—The greatest aggregation of Negro golfers ever to participate in an eastern open golf tournament will gather here at the Engineer's Golf Course July 28 through 29, to participate in the "Ray Robinson Open Golf Tournament."

Prizes totaling three thousand dollars will be given away. The winner will receive $1,000, while the rest of the $2,000 will be divided among the other golfers, tournament chairman Elmer D. Brent announced.

Men, Women's Day Observed At McCoy Memorial Sunday

The members and friends of the McCoy Memorial Baptist church, 802 E. 46th st., enjoyed one of the most colorful events in its history Sunday, June 6. It was Women's and Men's day at McCoy. The women rallied with the men for the financial banner.

The women, with Mrs. Irene Jackson as chairman, were in complete charge of the morning worship. They presented a beautiful program, using as a theme: "Laboters Together With God" Cor. 3:9. Their chorus, under the able direction of Mrs. Alberta Williams, was in charge of the music. The speaker of the hour, Mrs. Mary Ruth Banks, presented a wonderful address in keeping with the theme of the day. The program was a great success. We commend Mrs. Gertrude Buford, chairman of the program committee and presiding officer of the day.

The evening worship was conducted by the men, with Brother Robert Dingee as master of ceremonies and Brother Ira Hill as chairman of the program committee. The male chorus was under the direction of the very efficient direction of Cecil William Dandy, with Jules Haywood as organist-pianist.

This program presented by the men was quite an asset to the masculine gender. The program climaxed when N. W. Tukes of the St. Paul Baptist church delivered a striking address on the subject: "Theme of Instruments."

You are especially urged to attend the McCoy Memorial Baptist church Sunday, June 13, for the three services, the radio hour at 10:30 a.m., the morning worship at 11 a.m., and the evening worship at 7:30 p.m. Each worship will hold a spiritual specialty in store for you.

The pastor, Rev. E. A. Anderson, will bring a special series of messages throughout the day, using as a subject for the morning worship "The Work of God Advanced." The message for the broadcast, especially designed for quick absorption and though stimulation, will be drawn from the subject "What Makes Great Leaders?" Sunday morning the children will be in charge of the worship.

St. Martin's To Hold Tea

St. Martin's Episcopal Church will hold its annual tea in the Parish Hall, 10015 Compton avenue, Next Sunday, June 13, from 3 to 8 p.m.

A musical program will be given by Mr. George Comfort, Miss Helen Kennedy, Mr. William Gordon, the Dream Quartet, Mr. Frank Comfort, Mrs. Mary Kelly and her daughter, and Miss Peggy Woodward.

There are many more wonderful artists lending their talents to this tea. Father Hogarth, the new priest, invites the public on behalf of the Women's Auxiliary, and says no one can afford to miss the splendid program of music that will be rendered.

Mrs. Faustina Johnson will be the mistress of ceremonies, and the guests will be greeted by Mrs. Lora Lightford, chairman of the hostesses for the occasion. Mrs. Laura Harris is president of the Auxiliary.

Methodist Church Colleges Merge

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—The trustees of Wiley College, Marshall, Texas, and the trustees of Samuel Huston College, Austin, Texas, have voted unanimously to merge these two strong Methodist institutions, according to Dr. M. S. Davage, head of the Department of Institutions for Negroes of the Methodist Board of Education. The merged institution will be located in Marshall or Austin, or in some other city in Texas which may offer superior advantages for the development of a strong, fully accredited church-related liberal arts college.

Wiley College was the first Negro college organized west of the Mississippi River and was also the first in this territory to be accredited by the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges.

Samuel Huston College is the youngest and most western of the Methodist Church's Negro colleges. It was founded in 1900 in connection with the western movement of the Negro population. It has a loyal and generous constituency.

On Sears Next Week

A Los Angeles County conference will be held Thursday evening, June 17, at the First Unitarian Church, 2936 West Eighth street, to plan county-wide support for the campaign of the Santa Monica Bay Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People against the discriminatory hiring policy of the Sears, Roebuck & Co. store.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. and all organizations interested in supporting the NAACP's drive in Santa Monica are urged to send representatives, according to Frank Barnes, president of the branch, and chairman of the United Committee to End Discrimination at Sears, Santa Monica.

Dr. Page Urges Faith To Solve World Problems

RALEIGH, N. C.—Dr. Wilber A. Page, pastor of Union Baptist Church, Cincinnati, Ohio, pointed out to members of the graduating class of Shaw University "the wide road of opportunity" as he delivered the sermon at annual baccalureate services in Greenleaf Auditorium and urged them to "grow and not be afraid."

Dr. Page called for faith in efforts toward race progress and declared "the rights you and I ought to have will come not by revolution but by evolution—by facing our problems with strength of character, intelligence, and truth."

The speaker also emphasized the need for faith in international relations. "There will be no peace among nations until the world realizes that order depends not upon coercion and might but upon Christian principles of brotherhood and love," he averred. "The world needs Christianity just as it always has," he added and concluded that "democracy cannot be separated from Christianity if democracy is to be made a real power in the world."

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—National leadership from all fields of human relations will gather for a yearly summing-up of problems, methods, and programs, at the Fifth Annual Institute of Race Relations of the American Missionary Association at Fisk University, June 28 to July 16.

The Institute was initiated in 1944 by the Race Relations Department as a means of giving scientific orientation in the complex problems of human relations. For the past four summers it has served as a training ground for outstanding citizens concerned with such problems in communities throughout the nation. Its membership has been equally balanced between white and colored who have come from 33 of the 48 states of the Nation. More than 500 students have been graduated from the Institute since its beginning.

Approximately fifty of the ablest specialists in human relations in the country will serve as lecturers and consultants.

On May 1, there were 5,484,000 hired and maily workers on farms in the South, as compared with 6,338,000 on the same date during the period 1935-1939, a decline of 854,000. For the rest of the country, the decline in farm employment totaled only 243,000.

Hamilton Youth Plan Students Day Sunday

The young people of Hamilton Methodist Church, 18th and Naomi, will observe their annual Methodist Students' Day Sunday, June 11 at 11 a.m. Students from the junior and senior high school division will conduct the services. The theme will be "My Father's World."

Rev. Hamilton Boswell, pastor of the Jones Memorial Methodist church of San Francisco, will be the speaker of the morning. Music will be furnished by the junior choir under the direction of Mrs. M. Hopkins and Miss Dorothy Young.

The committee in charge of the program includes Albert W. Jones, chairman; Mrs. Mildred Walters and Miss Georgia Bridgett, Rev. D. Dewitt Turpeau is pastor.

Corbenette Singers Arrive In L. A.

Helen Corbett and her five Corbenettes—singers whose ages range from 15 to 17 years—will arrive in Los Angeles, June 13, for the first time, from Racine, Wisconsin.

Singing their way through the city, you must be sure to hear these fine youngsters who are very, very good.

Their first program will be given at the First A.M.E. Church Eighth and Towne ave., June 15, at 7:30 p.m. It will be sponsored by the Crusader Club.

The second program will be in the Second Baptist Church, 24th and Griffith ave., June 20, at 7:30 p.m.

The third, in the Macedonia Baptist Church, South Los Angeles, June 27, at 7:30 p.m.

The fourth, Philip Temple, June 20, 3:30 p.m.

For further engagements call RE. 2-2421.

UCLA GRAD—Miss Leola Beavers, brilliant young daughter of Mrs. Lylyan Beavers, is receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree in college of Letters and Science from UCLA Sunday June 20, at 2:00 o'clock. Also receiving her general elementary teaching credential, she has passed the city examinations and is waiting to be placed for the September semester. During her college career she has been particularly active in the YWCA and Religious Conference Panel of Americans. She is also ending a successful year as president of Pi chapter, Delta Sigma Theta.

TROLLEY CAR MURDERER GETS MINIMUM SENTENCE

Murderer Gets Light Sentence Following Second Degree Plea

(N.P.B.)—Following a plea of guilty, entered in his behalf by his attorney Everette M. Porter, Sylvester Black, who was held for the murder of Mrs. Imogene Thompson on a downtown street car last January, was found guilty of second degree murder by Judge Charles W. Fricke in Superior Court, department 43, last Tuesday, and was immediately sentenced to serve from 5 years to life in a state penitentiary.

Black, allegedly under the influence of liquor, fired a revolver he was carrying into the body of Mrs. Thompson who was white, and according to Black, his wife by virtue of a marriage consummated in Tia Juana, Mexico in 1947. They had boarded the car together, and according to a Mrs. Haley who testified for the state, Mrs. Thompson argued continually with Black who ignored her. When the deceased woman rose to pass Black and leave the car, he threw her to the seat angrily and drew the revolver and fired.

Attorney Porter based his evidence which tended to show that the shooting was done in the heat of passion and was entirely devoid of any element of premeditation.

A statement reportedly prepared by the defendant outlined the history of the relationship between Black and the murdered woman, beginning with their meeting in 1946 in a downtown tea room where they were both

Segregation Fight Slows Draft Bill

(Reprinted from Los Angeles Daily News)

WASHINGTON.—Plodding toward almost certain passage of a peacetime draft, the House today roundly defeated attempts to outlaw "Jim Crow" in the armed forces.

Rep. Jacob K. Kavits, R., N. Y., offered the first amendment to the 19-through-25 draft bill, a proposal which would require the Army, Navy and Air Force to [illegible] 18-26.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., D., N.Y., one of the two Negro House members, then offered a milder clause to forbid racial discrimination. He lost, 102-14.

The civil rights issue, which delayed Senate passage of a similar bill last week, is expected to be disposed of quickly to permit final action on the bill, probably approval by a top-heavy majority, some time tomorrow.

The Negro issue nevertheless aroused angry protests from Southern Democrats who argued, in the words of Rep. John E. Rankin, D., Miss., that "you can't reverse the laws of nature by an act of Congress."

Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D., N.

National IPP Convention Meets in Phila. July 24-25; Calif. Has 100 Delegates

The national founding convention of the new political party, The Independent Progressive Party, will be held in Philadelphia, July 24 and 25, it was announced this week by Mrs Ruth Slade, executive secretary of the IPP for Southern California.

The state of California is entitled to 100 delegates, Mrs Slade said, plus 25 alternates. Each of the delegates will have one-half vote.

Each Congressional District is entitled to elect three official delegates and one alternate, according to the recommendation of the State officers of the IPP. All delegates must be registered IPP voters. Others who wish to attend, either from special Wallace committees or from inter

Douglas Loses on Recount

Following a recount of the ballots cast in 30 precincts of the 14th Congressional District, Wallace Braden was declared the nominee of the Republican party early yesterday, thus making it necessary for incumbent Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas to face a run-off for her office in the fall elections.

Until certification of the results of the recount is made by Registrar of Voters M. J. Donoghue some time today (Thursday) Braden's victory will be unofficial, but there is no reason to believe there will be any further changes. Mrs. Douglas had been declared the winner on the Republican ballot by a margin of 152 votes and was consequently elected unofficially since she had won the Democratic nomination by a wide margin.

Braden, jubilant over the reversal that shows him winning by a margin of 351 votes said, "This is good enough for me, it puts me on the ballot."

The recount was ordered by

Bimini Assault Arouses Protest

Repercussions have set in over the explosive action that took place last Friday night at the Bimini Baths when a white youth, a member of an inter-racial group picketing the place because of its racial discrimination policy was pushed through the glass panel in a door by a Bimini lifeguard.

Bimini has been under fire for some time because of its policy which virtually bars minorities from entering and enjoying the baths and bathing. Located in

CIO Director Resigns Over Affidavit Row

The International Executive Board of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, CIO, announced this week that it has signed the non-communist affidavits to meet the requirements of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Two members of the Board refused to sign the affidavits and have resigned from their positions as district directors of the union. They are Herbert March of Chicago and Meyer E. Stern of New York City. Both March and Stern have been district directors since 1943, when the union was formed.

In his resignation, March said: "My loyalty to my union, its traditions and its membership, my uncompromising attitude towards the yellow dog affidavits of the vicious Taft-Hartley law, and my political convictions which I find impossible to betray, compel me to tender my resignation as a member of the International Executive Board of the UPWA, CIO. . . ."

Mundt Bill Death Watch At GOP Office

A picket line, the "Death Watch" for the controversial by organizations representative of the mass of American citizens, has been thrown around Republican headquarters at 411 W. Fifth street here.

Sponsored by the Los Angeles CIO Council and other organizations, the picket line will continue each day from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. until the bill is dead.

GOP headquarters is the target for the "Death Watch" because Senator Robert Taft (R., Ohio) heads the all-powerful Republican steering committee that runs the Senate. Signs and leaflets carried and distributed by the pickets demand that Congress adjourn as scheduled next Saturday without favorable action on the Mundt-Nixon Bill.

Thomas Mann to Speak for Peace

Thomas Mann will again make a plea for peace and he will join with local educators and civic leaders Thursday evening, 8 p.m., June 17, at the First Unitarian church, 2936 W. 8th street, to top the discussion between Christians and Jews on the subject, "Whose Problem Is Palestine?" People's Peace, sponsored by the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice, will present Mrs. Phyllis Ziffren, recently-retired President of Hadassah, Rabbi Max Nussbaum of Temple Israel, and Dr. Robert B. Pettengill of University of Southern California. The Rev. Stephen H. Fritchman, Minister of First Unitarian Church, will be the Chairman of the evening, with Dr. Thomas Mann epitomizing the proceedings of the meeting.

THE SIDEWALK

POLITICAL HOUSEWIVES CLEAN UP

The politicans are about as busy these days as were housewives in the antebellum period making preparation for an anticipated visit from the local minister.

Even President Truman says that it is his right and duty to tell the people about all the things he asked the 80th Congress to do for them, and was refused.

The President charges the Congress with the responsibility of the present high cost of clothes, food, and so on—which, he says, has gone up almost 50%.

"The dollar is now worth only 66 and ⅔ cents."

Mr. Truman says that in September, 1945, he sent a message to the Congress, asking for the extension of the price control law, and repeated his request in May of the next year.

"And," said the President, "the passage of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner law, which I called for when it was first recommended, would now be beginning to benefit the nation, had it been passed."

The housing shortage, the abolishment of an adequate Labor Department, a Social Security measure that would benefit more people, a broader health and education law—"All of these I have called for," says Mr. Truman, "and all have been denied by the Congress."

President Truman's complaint against the Congress, coming at this time is pathetic.

The people who had faith in President Franklin Delano Roosevelt's plan for a better United States, and a wider influence on the peoples of Europe and the Far East for the creation of a better world, had faith in the sincerity of Mr. Truman's promise to carry on the Roosevelt program when he became president.

To our great disappointment, Mr. Truman wobbled around with the Republican controlled Congress. Instead of "getting tough" with Congress, the real threat to our peace and prosperity, the President joined the forces in and out of Congress who pulled the wool over the eyes of most of the people by getting tough with Russia.

MANY VITAL ISSUES

Many vital issues that threatened our security and our freedom have come to your attention during the past two years. They were buffeted by the 80th Congress, and ignored by your, Mr. President.

Among them are an Un-American Activities Committee headed by two arch enemies of the Negro people: Representative Rankin and Senator Parnel Thomas.

A new lynch wave in the South, a Negro woman and her two minor children committed to life imprisonment for defending themselves against an attack by a white brute; the Alabama Ku Klux Klan which threatened the safety of two white women when they were discovered in a training camp with a few hundred Negro Girl Scouts training for leadership; the deportation of some 50 non-citizens, two of whom are Negroes;—these are only a few of the issues you should have considered in your cross-country trip.

Restore our faith in our government, Mr. President, and our hope for a leadership that will not fail us.

And, Mr. President, before the echoes from your voice have passed eastward on the sound wave, when you were speaking in Los Angeles, it was called to my attention that there appeared on a front window of the "Senate" Hotel, 726 South Spring street, in large letters, this sign: HOUSE BOY (WHITE) WANTED

The government spends $30,000,000 a year for its "loyalty" investigation, plus millions more for intelligence work. Such acts as gence work. Such acts are refusing service to some Americans in cafes, hotels, swimming pools, theatres; and, likewise posting signs such as the one on the Senate Hotel window and placing advertisements in newspapers for whits only—mean in substance that even if you are a loyal American, if you are colored you can't eat, stop, or work here.

"WHITE" Boy Wanted

Mr. President, and ye politicians — Republicans and Democrats— while you appropriate funds to chase Communists from the government, be reminded that the threat to our unity as a

Hazel Scott Gives $1000 To Urban League

Hazel Scott, brilliant pianist and wife of Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, kicked off the Urban League Upper Manhattan fund campaign last week with a check for $1,000. The gift, largest contribution to the Urban League program by a Negro individual in this or previous campaign years, was made at a recent testimonial dinner at Small's Restaurant for Dr. C. B. Powell, editor and president of the New York Amsterdam News, and Mr. T. O. Thackrey, co-editor and publisher of the New York Post. Congressman Powell served as master of ceremonies.

The vivacious young artist was the first among the more than 300 persons present to make her contribution, which was followed by $1,200 from the National Urban League Guild and other donations reaching $7,000.

Outings for families will begin Saturday, June 19, at Camp High Sierra, city-operated vacation playground located in the heart of California's mountain wonderland of the High Sierras, the City Recreation and Park Department announces.

Sue Perteet of Griffin, Georgia, a member of the Class of '49 at Spelman College, was elected to head the Spelman Students' Association for 1948-1949.

Ministers Alliance Endorses New Plan

Outline of the Scientific Recovery Plan was revealed today by Louis A. Newhouse, organization director of the project, in a talk before members of the Interdenominational Ministers' Alliance at the Cosmopolitan Christian Church, 3309 Hooper Avenue.

The plan was heartily endorsed by Rev. M. Fredrick Mitchell, president, on behalf of the Alliance.

Insurance Week Reports Noted

Reports on National Negro Insurance Week, May 10-15, just released by the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, reveal that Los Angeles Division 112, under Supervisor Cecil Davis, led the company's other divisions in Illinois, Texas and California by selling an unprecedented $304,862 in new life insurance during the week.

Individual agents under Davis gaining honors were Ed Ford, who scored highest in monthly industrial sales; Elliot Lewis, who ranked third in the same department, and Emmett Jones, whose $27,516 worth of ordinary insurance gained third place for him in that bracket behind first place winner Curry of San Francisco, and J. B. Grigsby of Houston, Texas.

Mr. Davis' division topped the second place winner, Los Angeles Division 111, supervised by Lonzie Jones, by nearly one hundred thousand dollars, the latter's total ofr the week being $211,715. Oakland Division 151, under John Payton, was third with $122,140, while A. E. Hackshaw's San Francisco unit placed fourth with $120,727. Houston, Texas, with $98,318, and Chicago 201 with $74,281, were fifth and sixth respectively.

Insurance Training Offer to Veterans

NEW YORK—The United Mutual Life Insurance Company is the first Negro insurance firm to institute courses under the GI Bill of Rights, according to reports. In cooperation with the Insurance Society of New York, the Company has set up courses in life insurance, leading up to instruction for the general broker's license, Chartered Life Underwriter's diploma, and life insurance agency management.

The trainee will receive a fixed weekly wage from the insurance company and subsistence from the Veterans' Administration. Single Veterans may earn as much as $175 while training, and one with dependents may earn up to $200. A married Veteran may earn up to $200.

52nd and Central May Get Drain

A motion was put before the City Council last week by Councilman Hahn instructing the Board of Public Works and the City Engineer immediately to either build a storm drain at the corner of 52nd Street and Central Avenue or else attach proper sewers for the Fire Station located at 1187 East 52nd Street, Engine Company 21, Drill Tower No. 2 of the Los Angeles Fire Department.

In the meantime while this work is being done the Fire Department is to be requested to hold all water drills at another location since thousands of gallons of water are dumped into the street from the Fire Station and there is no storm drain to receive this water, except at Slauson Avenue, which is several blocks away.

New Vehicle Law To Be Explained

The New California Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Law will be explained at a Giant Mass Meeting at the First AME Church, 117 N. Vernon Avenue, Pasadena, Monday, June 21, 8:00 p.m. The State Dept. of Motor Vehicles will present educational movies and an expert to explain the new law. Other speakers will be Rev. Boyd, Dr. Edna Griffin, Rev. Coleman and Frank Waver.

This new law which becomes effective July 1st is very important to every owner or driver of an automobile in the State of California.

Series Winners in Concert Appearance

Joseph Schwartz, pianist; Howard Ross, tenor, and Marguerite Heller, pianist, will be featured by the Music Committee of the Beverly-Fairfax Jewish Community Center on Sunday, June 20. The three youthful artists are the winners of the 1947-48 "Musicians in the Making" series conducted by the Center.

nation is embedded in our treatment of these certain Americans who are forced to obey the call to arms in times of war, and to sumbit any and all other government demands, but who are denied the right enjoyed by known enemies who sought to overthrow our government in World War II.

Such conditions just don't go on forever. These persecuted Americans, exhibiting almost God-like patience in the face of cruel oppression, will some day rebel. So as we clean house for the reception of a new era in our departments of government, local and national, may we realize that a nation part slave and part free, will end its control in a premature grave of its own digging.

Near-Murder Results From Parking Tryst

Anna Mae, a comely Mexican Miss who has a way with her, will be the inspiration for a murder should Lawrence Fink die as the result of severe stab wounds he received at the hands of Earl Moss who lives at 540 Gladys Avenue. Moss, who is being held on the charges of assault with a deadly weapon and assault to commit murder, has entered a plea of self-defense through his attorney Curtis C. Taylor, and according to the story related, he has a good chance to make it stick.

Earl Robinson (who is no relation to the composer-balladeer of the same name) who witnessed the events leading up to the cutting, and the act itself, says Anna Mae was sitting in a car parked on Ceres between Fifth and Sixth on the fateful day with Fink, when Moss happened along. Moss, having presumably previously established a beach-head in the ever-loving heart of Anna Mae, sensed an element of trespass in the circumstances, and demanded that Anna Mae get out of the car.

Fink, displaying the aggressive qualities of the male animal in a matter of romance and defense in the presence of the weaker sex, took offense at Moss' demands, and he got out of the car instead. At this point, Moss, recognizing that discretion is the better part of valor, retreated. According to an admission drawn from Robinson, by defense Attorney Taylor, he carried out this tactic for some 180 feet, then he drew a knife and went to work on his adversary. Fink was cut so badly, it is feared he will die, and he was not able to appear in court before Judge Vernon Hunt in Division 2 for the hearing last week.

The matter has been set down for a plea on June 24 when Moss must appear with Attorney Taylor who has indicated that he will base his case on self-defense. As for Anna Mae,—what do you think?

Budget Group Asks Reduction In Police Quota

The Los Angeles Citizens' Budget Committee, made up of more than fifty Civic, Trade, and Women's groups, has asked the City Council to make certain revisions in the proposed 1948-49 budget in order to reduce the tax load. Pointing out that the proposed budget is 54 per cent higher than the 1945-46 budget, and represents a property tax requirement that is $14,000,000 greater than the previous budget, the Citizens' group asks that surplus funds be held as low as it is practical, and that the entire amount needed to hold the tax rate down be taken from excessive Reserve Fund balance.

The group further asks that the Unappropriated Balance be reduced to $1,000,000, thus saving $50,000, and that 160 additional positions in the uniformed police department be eliminated to effect a saving of $230,000. They request also that no further salary increases be granted to firemen and policemen below the rank of captain or battalion chief.

Try This 'Til The Real Thing Arrives

The Local Allocation Division of the State Department of Finance today reported more than 200 of the "packaged" dwelling units being cut from surplus military barracks at Camp Beale, near Marysville, have been sold to veterans and farmers.

The units sell for less than $1,000 and are complete with detailed plans for assembling the wall, floor and roof panels into the basic structure of a three-bedroom house with 1284 square feet of floor area. Included in the price are a limited supply of plumbing fixtures, wiring, switches and other miscellaneous material.

Coordinating Council Banquet

The South Central Coordinating Council, composed of representatives from social welfare and business organizations of the community, will hold an employers' banquet at the Crystal Palace Tea Room, 48th Street and Avalon Boulevard, on June 25, 1948, at 8:00 p.m. Representatives of various crafts and industries within the area have been invited to attend. This move on the part of the South Central Coordinating Council was in response to the plea of veterans within the community who are seeking to take advantage of on-the-job training opportunities that are to be found locally.

The Coordinating Council appointed a sub-committee, composed of Mrs. Jane Allen of the Y.W.C.A., Mr. William Jones of the Urban League, Mr. W. D. Fisher of Fisher's Mortuary, Mrs. Carnella J. Barnes of the Avalon Community Center, and Mr. Harmon, a veteran at present in training, to formulate plans to assist in establishing more on-the-job training facilities within the community.

Training Award Made to Webster

NEW YORK—A $1200 Adam Hat award was made to Thomas Webster, Executive Secretary of the Urban League of Kansas City, for special training in the field of employment and labor relations at the University of Chicago, it was announced by the National Urban League.

In keeping with its aim of maintaining high democratic ideals in America, the Adam Hat Welfare Fund has for the third year contributed to the program of social improvement among Negroes by making social work study fellowships available through the National Urban League. The Urban League movement has followed a 38-year plan to encourage Negroes to enter social work as a profession. One hundred ten fellowships—open to both Urban League and non-Urban League personnel—have been awarded since 1910.

Two National Urban League fellowships for study at the University of Pittsburgh are available for the 1948-49 school term, it was announced. Applications must be sent before June 15 to the National Urban League, 1133 Broadway, New York City 10.

Learns Here To Teach In Africa

John Manly, teacher in a mission school of Sierra Leone, West Africa, is studying the Extension organization and program, as well as practical farming methods in Alabama.

Mr. Manly is on leave from his position to study and observe various aspects of agriculture in this country. Following special courses at Tuskegee, he has been spending some time with county agents, learning first hand the practical side of improved farming. This training has included a three-week tour of duties as a field hand. He has learned to drive a tractor, operate a corn planter drawn by a mule, plow, drive a truck, and milk a cow.

He says that when he returns to West Africa, the training and practical experience he has gained here will help him raise the living standards of his people.

Father's Day Was Started By Mother in 1910

NEW YORK — Father's Day, which will be nationally observed on Sunday, June 20, was not the brain child of a group of disgruntled Daddies who resented all the attention Mama got on Mother's Day. According to the National Father's Day Committee, a volunteer organization of notables from every walk of life, united to promote better father - child understanding, Father's Day was launched on June 19, 1910, three years before the official Mother's Day.

A mother created Father's Day. Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington, suggested the idea to honor her father, William Smart, a Civil War veteran, who reared his six motherless children on an Eastern Washington farm. William Jennings Bryan was one of the first to give endorsement to Mrs. Dodd's plan, and James Whitcomb Riley wrote, "My heart is with you in this great work." In 1924, President Calvin Coolidge was the first Chief Executive to recommend National observance of Father's Day.

Dedicated this year to the building of good citnzenship at home, Father's Day will be greater than ever. America's children of all races and colors will need little reminder to honor the greatest American of them all—The American Father—on Sunday, June 20.

New Law's Teeth Will Bite Plenty

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—California's new Financial Responsibility Law which becomes operative July 1 calls for automatic suspension of drivers' licenses for violation of its provisions, A. H. Henderson, Director of Motor Vehicles, has announced.

Henderson will administer the law by which it is hoped to keep proven financially irresponsible drivers off the highways.

"The law is quite clear in regard to such suspensions," said Henderson.

"It specifically says that the Department shall suspend the driver's license of any resident or the California driving privilege of any non-resident who fails to report accidents in California as required.

"Accidents involving injury, death or damage in excess of $100 to the property of any one person must be reported within 10 days to the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento, regardless of who is to blame.

American Friends To Aid Finland

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — The American Friends Service Committee announced today the departure of a group of twelve young men and women for Finland, where they will work in reconstruction projects sponsored by the Finnish national work camp organization. This group is the first of sixty young Americans who will spend their summers in work projects under the auspices of the Quaker International Voluntary Service. Going from this area are Dorothy Sakesegawa of Salinas, Elaine Mikels of Burbank and Eda Jean Bolton of Palo Alto.

Spelman President Uurges Rededication

ATLANTA, Georgia—Advance the tradition of Spelman and become Spelman in action through scholarship and citizenship, President John W. Davis of West Virginia State College told the 53 graduates on Monday morning at commencement exercises in Sisters Chapel.

In the task of building a new world, he urged the young women to look upon research as an opportunity to fashion a new world in order that people might have a higher degree of happiness. "We need a rededication to citizenship in this country if we would right the wrongs in America," he told his listeners.

Mail Speed-Up Started Here

Six new Highway Post Offices for Southern California will be put into operation on June 22 on three routes out of Los Angeles, serving over 40 towns and cities in Southern California, Postmaster Michael D. Fanning announced this week.

This new Postal Service will be under the supervision of Mr. F. E. C. Allan, District Superintendent of Railway Mail Service who states that the new units will speed mail an average of 5 hours and will step-up the delivery of mail to patrons on the routes by at least one half day. He pointed out for example, that letters which are mailed in Buena Park will be delivered to the Post Office in Fullerton in 10 minutes, thus eliminating hours of delivery time.

CAN BLACK-DRAUGHT HELP WHEN YOU FEEL LOGY?
Yes, Black-Draught may help you when you feel logy if the only reason you feel that way is because of constipation. Black-Draught, the friendly laxative, is usually prompt and thorough when taken as directed. It costs only a penny or less a dose. That's why it has been a best-seller with four generations.
If you are troubled with such symptoms as loss of appetite, headache, upset stomach, flatulence, physical fatigue, sleeplessness, mental haziness, bad breath — and if these symptoms are due only to constipation — then see what Black-Draught may do for you. Get a package today.

GALLSTONES
ULCERS, CONSTIPATION, GAS PAINS
Don't be discouraged. Read what this famous doctor says:
"Gallstones are alkaline concretions which form in the gall ducts or gall-bladder, from the stagnation of thickened bile. It frequently takes years for their formation, during which time the alkaline accumulations pack harder and harder together, allowing the softer part of the bile to flow out, and leaving behind these hardened, calcareous substances. The blocking of the gall ducts leading to the intestines will produce symptoms often mistaken for other diseases.
"Fully one-half of the patients who come to me believing they have stomach ulcers or gastritis, are really affected with some form of gall bladder disorder. I have found a very large number of cases, improperly diagnosed as stomach ulcer by other physicians, which have responded so rapidly to treatment as gall bladder derangements, as to lose all symptoms in a day or two.
"Where there is a stoppage of bile in a gall bladder, either by thickened bile or by gallstone formation, there will always be a tender spot halfway between the navel and the ribs on the right side of the abdomen. The color of the skin usually changes every few days, becoming a yellow, sallow hue at irregular intervals. The tongue will be coated, there will be loss of appetite and there may or may not be sharp, colicky pains felt on the right side.
"I have had many cases where large gallstones have been removed by my treatment, where no typical gallstone colic had been experienced at all. If the sharp pains and contractions of the gallstone colic are present in their worst form, the patient will be unable to stand or even sit up straight, but will be forced to lie down with knees drawn up to the chest. Even this position does not relieve the pain. I am convinced that these colicky symptoms are not present in most cases, and that a serious stoppage of bile or a blocking up of the bile ducts with a gallstone may be present without any of such symptoms being in evidence at all."
Dr. Chas. A. Tyrell, M.D., eminent physician, says:
"The most rational and practical manner of dealing with this . . . breeding place of disease is to wash it out. With me, it has passed beyond the theoretical stage, for I have in my office fully 15,000 letters from grateful patients who have used this process, under my direction, with the most astounding results; scarcely a disease known to humanity, but has been relieved, and in ninety-six per cent of the cases, cures effected, while tens of thousands of gratifying messages have reached me from time to time; nor is the testimony in its favor confined to the laity, for hundreds of physicians (including some of the most prominent authorities) testify to the wonderful beneficial results achieved by its use."
Daniel C. Munro, M.D., says: "If I were to write the story of all the cases in which colonic irrigations seem to lift the patient from the very jaws of death, it would fill volumes."
Residents of Los Angeles County are fortunate in having the New Yorker, a haven for those who suffer, where the cause may be removed. New Golf Courses Considered By City

Golfers were promised consideration this week by the City Planning commission as work was started on a master plan study of golf course needs in Los Angeles.

Following receipt of a letter from the City Council requesting the planners delay action on subdivision of golf courses until the matter could be studied by city officials, the commission ordered a master plan be prepared by the planning staff.

The Council communication stressed the growing need for golf courses and pointed out the shortage was increasing due to subdivision of many of the city's finest courses.

Medical Symphony

DR. GERALD A. SPENCER discusses the contributions of the Negro doctor in New York in his latest book "Medical Symphony." Almost as arresting as the unusual facts presented in this compact volume is the comprehensive and attractive jacket design created by nationally-known artist, Robert S. Pious. Dr. Spencer has written a scholarly volume that carries historical as well as professional weight.

Too Many Cars In This Town

Los Angeles, plagued by such problems as housing, public transportation, and traffic congestion, is facing another of equal magnitude—the need for more automobile parking spaces.

The situation here has become so acute, Charles B. Bennett, City Planning Director, said it is one of the worst in the nation.

Bennett aired his views after going over a preliminary report based on a comprehensive study of off-street parking. Among other things, it discloses that there are nearly 3,500 fewer parking spaces in downtown Los Angeles today than there were in 1941.

Deny Closing Rumors

The outdoor Life and Health Association launched its membership drive June 1, 1948. The goal is $10,000. The founder-president Dr. Leonard Stovall is asking the public to contribute to this worthy cause. The sanatarium for tuberculosis patients is located in Duarte, California and has been supported and maintained largely through the cooperation and financial support of the citizens of this community, clubs, churches, and fraternal organizations.

Contributions may be mailed to the office of the association, 903 E. 28th Street, or phone AD. 9790 or TU. 1639 and a representative will call to your home or office.

A false rumor is circulating to the effect that the tuberculosis sanatarium of the Outdoor Life & Health Association located in Duarte, California has been closed.

Due to the shortage of beds for male tuberculosis patients the county of Los Angeles has replaced the women patients with men. The women have been placed in the hospital and other sanatariums. It is hoped that as soon as additional buildings are completed it will be possible to accommodate both men and women at the rest home.

Work For Democracy Granger Advises

Democracy must be constantly worked for and defended, Dr. Lester B. Granger, executive secretary of the National Urban League, told the 167 graduates of Atlanta University in the Library Quadrangle at the 79th commencement exercises. Denouncing those who are satisfied with the status quo, the speaker made clear that the democratic system is always in uncertain balance and that our job is to analyze the situation we must continue to strengthen. More than 2,500 attended the exercises and witnessed the awarding of degrees by President Rufus E. Clement.

ONLY 2 NEGROES IN NFL

PITTSBURGH—There are only two Negroes on teams of the National Football League, a survey revealed this week. The lone two are Kenny Washington of the Los Angeles Rams and Bob Mann of the Detroit Lions.

Westside Chamber Plans Trade Show This Sunday

Last week a West Side group of professional and business leaders met at the Alpha Bowling Club, 2914 S. Western Avenue to discuss final plans for the West Side Chamber of Commerce's Annual Trade Show which is scheduled for Sunday, June 20 at the above named place from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Among those present who will take part and who reserved booths to show their wares were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Noel Brown of Brown's Jewelry Compan; Wendell Hopkins, manager, Westside Malt Shop; Travis T. Lott, Realtor; Mrs. Odell Stubblefield, Realtor; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Richardson of Del' Lingerie Shop; Mrs. Luther Beason of Beason Cleaners and Haberdashery; James W. Dostey of Dosteys' Flowers; Mrs. Anne Ruth Moore, of Oscar Moore's Record Store; Dr. Fred H. Griffin, Medical Pharmacy; J. T. White, cosmetic representative; Mrs. Mae Crowder of Crowder-Terrel Apparel; Mrs. Beatrice H. Taylor, owner HU's Dress Shop; Mrs. Nellie Gilchrist, of Cilita Linda Gift Shop and Sydney Williston, commercial artist.

This year's show bids fair to outdo the last one held by the chamber of which Dr. Fred H. Griffin is president.

No admission will be charged. The public is cordially invited to attend. There will be numerous prizes available to those who attend through the courtesy of the various merchants who will participate in the show.

Weekly Reminder: Arson, a felony, is the wilfull and malicious burning of property. The seriousness of this crime is increased when the building burned is a dwelling or when the burning or attempt at burning is induced by a desire to defraud, with a possible maximum penalty of 20 years in the state penitentiary. In the event that arson or attempted arson results in a death the perpetrator can be charged with first-degree murder.

Opportunities Open

Overseas construction, maintenance, and professional openings offered by the U. S. Navy Department at advanced bases in the Marianas are rapidly being reduced, according to late information received by Mr. James Leonard, Navy Recruiting Representative, who is still interviewing applicants for all jobs at the Los Angeles Service office of the alifornia State Employment Service, 506 W. 11th street.

Recruiting efforts in much of Southern California have been successful lately, Mr. Leonard reports. He has interviewed jobseekers in Inglewood, Huntington Park, and Van Nuys in the county. Pasadena applicants will be interviewed in their home area office on June 3.

60 electricians of various types are still most wanted workers, though the number required has been reduced by two-thirds during the last month. 18 auto mechanics are needed now. A smaller number of automotive equipment operators, with heavy construction experience, of enginemen, millmen, millwrights, refrigeration mechanics, pipefitters, and plumbers are listed.

Though tools are supplied by the Navy, civilian employees may bring their own. Standard work week is forty hours. Workers hired must sign a year's contract. Transporation to the Marianas and return is furnished at government expense. Those accepted for urgent job openings may be flown to their assignment.

Omha Taylor Among L.A. State Graduates

Ohma Taylor of 3654 6th Ave., an education major, is one of seven members of Los Angeles State College's first graduating class who will receive the bachelor of arts degree at commencement services June 17 at 10 a.m.

Joint commencement services will be held with City College and its 865 graduates, largest in the college's history, who receive the two-year associate in arts degree. Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin of the Wilshire Boulevard Temple, will be the speaker.

Oldest Protestant church in the U. S. is St. Paul's in Eastchester, N. Y., founded in 1665.

Officers Installed At 36th St. P.T.A.

Mrs. George Eckfelt of Exposition Council installed the new officers of the 36th Street School P.T.A. at the June meeting with Mrs. Cecil McLinn, president; 1st vice-pres. Mrs. Booker Rabb; 2nd vice-pres. Miss Birdilee Bright; recording sec. Mrs. Alvalois Taylor; financial sec. Mrs. James Lindell; treasurer, Mrs. Carl Overr; auditor, Miss Edna Kayton; historian, Mrs. Odessa Dotson; Mrs. Clifford Gantt, parliamentarian.

The history was read by Mrs. Odessa Dotson; she also presented the press book to the outgoing president, Mrs. Clifford Gantt. The past president's pin was pinned on by the principal, Miss Gail Mahoney. An instrumental solo was played by Mrs. Clyde Lee by special request. Our special guests were: Mrs. George Eckfelt of Exposition Council; her mother, Mrs. Hamilton; Mrs. Myrtle Williams; Mrs. Gladys Rhemm and Mrs. Edgar Johnson.

The teachers served fancy sandwiches, cookies, tea and coffee in the cafeteria with the orchestra playing music in the hall. Room count was won by Miss Slike.

Shaw Graduates Tots

Fourteen children of the Shaw University nursery school completed pre-school training and were graduated at second annual "commencement" excercises held Friday morning. The group heard a talk by Dr. J. B. Davis of Fuquay Springs and received certificates signed by President Robert P. Daniel and Mrs. B. Yancey Jervay, nursery school director.

LOS ANGELES NEEDS 600 BEDS FOR T. B. PATIENTS

WILL YOU LET THEM DIE LIKE THIS

OR LET THEM LIVE LIKE THIS

"YOUR DOLLAR WILL HELP SAVE A LIFE"

Thousands of tuberculosis patitents cannot receive treatment because Los Angeles has such a shamefully low percentage of hospital beds.

Suppose that on tomorrow you or a member of your family were told by your doctor that you had tuberculosis. With a shortage of 600 beds for tuberculosis patients . . .WHERE WOULD YOU GO.

The story of the Outdoor Life and Health Association and its founder Dr. Leonard Stovall can be told briefly. It is the policy of the Association to offer better accommodations for tuberculosis patients. The Demonstration Rest Home at Duarte is operated by the Association, which is non-profit, non-sectarian and inter-racial, with five cottages and a capacity for thirty-six patients. The present drive is for expansion to accommodate more. This organization has done wonders to help the suffering—BUT MUCH MORE IS NEEDED.

In 1946 in Los Angeles 1,437 people out of 2,436 died of tuberculosis. Patients have been waiting for as long as two years for a bed and treatment.

Someone's life depends on your contribution. Give NOW and GIVE GENEROUSLY.

Knowledge or Understanding

What is the goal of education? The acquisition of facts and figures, knowledge of history, familiarity with literature, an ability to use the methods of science? Certainly, but there must be much more than that. Many people seem to think that education is merely the getting of knowledge.

The getting of knowledge is an important step, but only a step. Life depends upon what we do with the knowledge. The world has too many people who have absorbed a vast deal of knowledge, but have little understanding of "righteousness and judgment and equity."

No man, or boy, is really educated until his conduct, his habitual manner, is marked by attitudes of fairness, kindness, generosity, steadfastness, courage, self-respect and devotedness to duty.

W.J.T. Dear Prof. Herman: I read your column each week in the paper and find it very interesting and helpful. Would you please help me with this problem? What is my trouble?

ANSWER: A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that you and your wife are separated and this is causing you a great deal of worry. Since you are both still very fond of each other, I suggest you try to reach some kind of understanding so that you can resume your marriage.

L.P.S. It is my desire to have a home, will I ever be able to obtain my desire?

ANSWER: Probing into the matter I find that you have been thinking about this ambition for some time, but it is necessary to do more than that. You should place your income on a budget, thus enabling you to save something each payday. You will find that it will not take so long if you are willing to sacrifice toward that particular objective.

L.G. Will he get his job back?

ANSWER. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals the fact that your husband was laid off some time ago and you are wondering if he will be called back any ways soon. Nothing definite seems to be forthcoming in that direction. I suggest that your husband make an application elsewhere for employment.

H.T.S. I wish to know what my possibilities are regarding marriage.

ANSWER. Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planets indicate a successful courtship which will in all probability end in marriage. You will meet this person within the very near future at a social gathering.

Crosstown Slauson Bus Sought by Hahn

Councilman Kenneth Hahn has asked the Board of Public Utilities and Transportation to provide a crosstown bus on Slauson Avenue. Councilman Hahn points out that this bus line has been needed by the public in this area for many years. Because Councilman Hahn has lived in the community all of his life, he has first-hand personal knowledge of the demand for this bus service.

Courtesy Tickets Given by Thrifty

Thrifty Drug Stores are making available to their customers, courtesy part-paid tickets to the third annual Home and Building Exposition which opened June 10 for eleven days through June 20. These reduced price tickets will enable Thrifty patrons to buy the regular 80c admission tickets for 50c. These special part-paid tickets will be honored Monday through Friday, afternoons only, from 12 to 5 p.m. The exposition will be presented at the Pan-Pacific Auditorium, 7600 Beverly Boulevard at Fairfax.

One of the outstanding attractions of this year's exposition will be a $15,000 home to be given away on the final night of the show. This home embodies every modern feature and was developed through the combined efforts of the entire construction industry of the area. Everyone is eligible to register—no charge is being made.

Paintings Offered In WAA Auction

An exhibit of 79 oil paintings and 38 watercolors are being sold as war surplus in a nationwide sealed bid offering. The paintings are on exhibit at the Whitney Museum of American art in New York, but catalogs and bid forms are available at the Los Angeles office of WAA, 155 West Washington Blvd.

The collection was assembled by the office of war information of the State Department, and before being sent abroad to remind citizens of other countries that Americans could paint as well as they could shoot, it was exhibited prominently here.

Urban League Manual Planned For Fall

The National Urban League's Industrial Relations Department got its go ahead signal recently on a guide for management in the use and integration of minority workers in the form of a $1500 underwrite aid from the Lucian N. Littauer Foundation.

Plans for the manual, made by the Urban League's management and labor advisory committees, include a personnel practices study of one hundred industries which follow democratic employment policies. Research, compilation and editing will be done under the direction of Julius A. Thomas, head of the Industrial Relations Department.

The manual has been tentatively titled, "Integrating the Minority Worker in Industry." Mr. Thomas plans to complete the first draft by Fall.

Hollywood Reaches Halfway Mark With Cimena Handicap

Three-year-old will hold the spotlight at Hollywood Park Saturday when the Inglewood track will celebrate reaching the halfway point in its 50-day meeting by staging the $25,000 added Cinema Handicap at one and one-sixteenth miles. A fast field of 19 horses, headed by Speculation, Solidarity, The Web II, Stage Glitter, Hunter's Sun, Mrs. Rabbit, Flying Rhythm and Boswell Lady, has been nominated, Racing Secretary John R. Maluvius announced this week.

The Cinema has unusual importance for the three-year-olds as it is the last big test for them before their championship race, the $50,000 added Westerner at one and one-quarter miles two weeks later on July 3.

The Westerner is the new name for the Hollywood Derby and the Cinema winner will likely be favored to go on to greater triumphs in the big 50-grander. Two years ago in the first running of the Cinema, Honeymoon was the winner and continued on to take the Hollywood Derby, while last year's Cinema victor, Yankee Valor, also repeated in the Derby.

So deep is the contention in the three-year-old division at Hollypark this year that even the most diligent racing analysts are going to have trouble separating the top ones in the pre-race dope. Two recent winners, Speculation and The Web II, merit strong support, but Solidarity, beaten only two necks in the Will Rogers Handicap May 29 when carrying top weight of 124 pounds, will again have to be seriously considered.

Speculation, the royally-bred son of Mahmoud-Gala Belle by Sir Galahad III, who was a $65,000 yearling purchase, won his first stakes race in the Will Rogers while carrying 115 pounds, while Stage Glitter, winner of the Peter Clark Handicap last April at Bay Meadows, where he defeated such greats as May Reward, was a neck back of Speculation in the Will Rogers while packing 120 pounds, second high weight to Solidarity in that race.

Hunter's Sun, only a nose back of Solidarity in the close four-horse drive to the wire in the Will Rogers and a good second to Solidarity in an earlier overnight race at Hollywood Park, can never be counted out of it because of his consistency. The Web II, winner of four out of five stakes in Ireland two years ago, showed he was returning to the championship form he displayed in his native land by defeating Hunter's Sun and Drumbeat at a mile in his last outing at Hollywood Park.

Three stakes winning fillies are conceded an excellent chance to upset the colts in the Cinema. They are Mrs. Rabbit, winner of the Santa Susanna Stakes at Santa Anita this year; Flying Rhythm, recently the long-shot winner of the Hollywood Oaks over the cream of Hollypark's three-year-old fillies, and Boswell Lady, who won the Prairie State Stakes in Chicago last year and was twice second in stakes to Bewitch, the country's top two-year-old filly of 1947.

Owner Norman W. Church holds a strong hand in the Cinema with his entry of Speculation and Boswell Lady. Another entry in Saturday's handicap will be Third Fiddle and Big Boy II of the Binglin Stock Farm which is owned by Bing Crosby and Lindsey Howard.

Following are the nominations for the Cinema Handicap:

Horse	Owner
Speculation	Norman W. Church.
Boswell Lady	Norman W. Church.
The Web II	Mrs. Ann Peppers.
Solidarity	Nat Goldstone.
Make-Up Man	Mrs. Rea Warner.
Drumbeat	Fifty-Fifty Stable.
Barsand	W. P. Bowen.
Flying Rhythm	Andrew J. Crevolin.
Mrs. Rabbit	Louis Rowan.
Hunter's Sun	F. J. O'Brien.
Frankly	Frank Frankel.
Top's Boy	Kinsey Ranch.
Stage Glitter	J. J. Sebastian.
Third Fiddle	Binglin Stock Farm.
Big Boy II	Binglin Stock Farm.
Clincher	White Star Stable.
Belle Jolie	Rolling Hills Farm.
Song Fest	Charles S. Howard.
Smoke Tree	Yolo Stable.

Shaw's Women Graduates Eligible

Women graduates of Shaw University in the future will be eligible for membership in the National Association of College Women, President Robert P. Daniel has been informed by Mrs. Juanita H. Thomas, chairman of the association's Committee on Standards.

The announcement came following a study of the institution and its unanimous approval by both the Executive Committee and the convention of the National Association of College Women held in March of this year.

Airline to Liberia Commences July 15

NEW YORK—Activation of Liberian International Airways, a flagline for the Republic of Liberia which will fly a scheduled 28000-mile route along the west coast of Africa, was announced here last week.

Corporate papers were signed on behalf of the Liberian Government by Postmaster General Nete Sie Brownell. Licensing agreement between the Liberia Company and LIA was signed for the airline by officials Homer Mat Adams and Frederick M. Ryan, and for the company by David H. Sulzberger, first vice president, and James G. Mackey, assistant general counsel. Operations of the airline, which is one facet of the Liberia Company's program to develop both the human and natural resources of Liberia, will begin about July 15.

Lying neglected in homes throughout Los Angeles County are more than 300,000 self-addressed envelopes which, if used as intended, will save countless ill and starving children in war-devastated Europe and Asia, who otherwise will die.

African Expedition Finds Fossil Remains

BERKELEY, Calif. (G)—New details of the discovery of fossil remains of apes which lived 20 million years ago in Turkana Province, west of Lake Rudolph, Northern Kenya Colony, have been reported by Wendell Phillips, leader of the Northern Party of the University of California African Expedition.

The paleontological party responsible for this discovery is operating under the personal direction of Dr. Basil Cook, the expedition's geologist and one of South Africa's leading scientists.

Nearly three hundred fossil bones and teeth were found in the red mudstones of the Lodidok range west of Lake Rudolph before the first fragment of an ape came to light.

The fossils represent two entirely different types of ape, one a small species about the size of a monkey and the other a big species about as large as a chimpanzee.

The discovery of fossil apes for the first time in Turkana greatly extends their own range as they were formerly known only from the very small area in the Kavirondo Guf region of Lake Victoria.

List Of Political Deportees Includes Several Living Here

NEW YORK — The arrest of Jack Stachel, educational director of the Communist Party of the United States, brings the total of political deportation cases to 50, according to Abner Green, executive secretary of the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born, 23 West 26th Street, New York City.

These 50 non-citizens live in 15 states and face deportation to 22 different countries. Most of the 50 non-citizens now facing deportation have made several attempts in the past to become American citizens, it was pointed out by Mr. Green. Claudia Jones and Ferdinand Smith are among those slated for deportation hearings.

The list of those from Los Angeles facing deportation on political grounds follows. Esther Sazer (Russia), Paul Cline, (Russia), Francisco Corona (Mexico), Aron Grosberg (Poland), Joseph Boross (Hungary), Jaroslav Dmytryk (Yugoslavia), Joseph Lubey (Hungary).

NEW YORK—Philanthropies of Andrew Carnegie, American capitalist who amassed his fortune in the steel industry, have been computed to be about $360,000,000.

Cat Man Creeps Murder Results

Slinking, creeping "Cat Man" Silton Jones has more than the ambulatory characteristics of the feline—he is also capable of the objective destructiveness of a cat without showing a trace of pity or regret. Having slashed his sweetheart Mary Ann Davis, 24, to death in her apartment at 5317 Alba early last Thursday morning, Jones proceeded to the home of Miss Clara Robertson at 10627 Antwerp street where the police located him and escorted him to the hoosegow. His first words to the police were in the nature of "I did it and I'm glad."

A character of sorts who has been in the toils of the law before, Jones could not give any reason for the murder, and said nothing to clarify the matter beyound repeating, "she treated me wrong."

Calling upon his cat-like instincts, Jones had entered the dead woman's apartment through a window, and waited. He accosted her when she returned with Mrs. Estelle Dixon, a friend and tenant of the same building, from a neigrborhood bar. Jones knifed Miss Davis following an argument with Mrs. Dixon about his marauding, and in his frenzied slashing, he narrowly missed cutting a male roomer who was standing in the hall where the attack took place. Miss Davis died in the ambulance on the way to the hospital after she had been picked up in the street where she had run following the assault.

DCE Locals Attend Meet In Chicago

Arthur H. Reed, general chairman; Willis Porter, Jr., general secretary-treasurer; and Lovic E. Howell, district chairman of Local 465, Dining Car Employes, together with delegates from Local 582, Los Angeles, attended the meeting of the General Executive Board of DCE held in Chicago recently.

There were 13 dining car locals represented at the meeting. The delegates reaffirmed their stand to cooperate with the Hotel and Restaurant Employes and the Bartenders International Union. They will also cooperate with Labor's League for Political Education.

The recent demands made upon the railroads for a 40-hour week, time and one-half on Saturdays, double time on Sundays and holidays, and 25 cents an hour increase were also endorsed by the delegates. A national program was planned which will be announced through the various local unions.

Will This Subdue The July Heat?

"Approximately 300 firemen will be employed by the Los Angeles Fire Department during the coming fiscal year starting July 1." This statement by Fire Chief John H. Alderson, follows the announcement by Civil Service that applications are now being accepted in Room 11, City Hall, for an open competitive examination for Fireman to be held on Saturday, July 17, 1948.

Acquit Officer In Gipson Case

Special Officer John W. Smart was completely exonorated of any guilt in the action growing out of an incident that took place during the Sunday worship at the St. Paul's Baptist Church last February 22. At that time, Carl Gipson, whom it later developed, was not a member of the church, had seated himself on one of the radiators in the sanctuary and allegedly refused to move when repeatedly importuned to do so by two of members of the usher board.

Because of the safety measure concerned, the ushers called upon officer Smart, and it is alleged he requested Gipson to move several times. The man is said to have refused to do so and when he moved in such a manner as to suggest that he was reaching for a weapon, officer Smart struck him on the head.

Last week, Judge Louis C. Drapeau, presiding in Superior court heard Gipson's complaint and announced the acquittal of officer Smart. Robert E. Holstein was defense attorney.

U.S. Democracy In Europe

In a report on conditions in the United States Occupation Zone of Germany, The Army and Navy Register cites the experiences of a group of Negro Newspaper Publishers who toured that zone and made public their findings.

They reported Negro soldiers generally "alert, well trained, well disciplined, and efficient." Their commanding officers, however, were often showing their personal prejudices against Negro soldiers. The report states that Negroes are not being used in overhead installations, and that there are no Negro WACS in Europe. There are only two Negro regular army officers, and those Negro newspaper publishers stated emphatically that Negro officers should be accepted, especially if they volunteer their services.

The high point in this tour was a visit, unannounced, to an Air Ammunition Depot, despite efforts to discourage such a visit. Here they found the most distressing conditions witnessed on their trip. They blamed all the inconsistencies and deficinecies, however, on one fundamental cause: Segregation.

"A segregated army cannot be an efficient army," they said. "As long as this framework of separation exists, there will be discrimination and abridgement of opportunity based solely on color. The inevitable result is a waste of manpower, duplication of functions, and needless expenditure of the taxpayers' money."

Then in a scorching conclusion those Negro publishers score our boasted Democracy compared with the way we practice it in reality.

"We have seen at first hand," says their report, "the inconsistency of the Democracy we preach and the hypocrisy we practice. Leaders of both the Army and military governments in Germany and Austria admitted to us that the most embarrassing question they were asked and the question which they could not satisfactorily answer was that pertaining to the treatment of Negroes in democratic United States.

"This fallacy creates a continuing skepticism toward our avowals of good faith. We find ourselves at the point where temporizing evasions and glib explanations are no longer acceptable. America is not fighting for an outmoded, outdated, and discredited status quo. The struggle is for the actual survival of our civilization. We can not win with prejudices, bias, and bigotry."

And our United States of America, founded upon the principle that all men are created equal, is being mistrusted by the people of Europe. It is sliding unconsciously into a kind of Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde personality, a monster whose cruel visage is wreathed in smiles, and whose head is covered with flowers.

But the people of Europe, and the downtrodden and dispised in America, are seeing through the mask of fair words and behind it they behold a Thing of fear and avoid.

We, the people of America, must change that visage. We must make our words correspond with our deeds, with the deeds of our government. If we wish to preserve our democracy of which we boast, we must get rid of our hypocrisies, big and trivial, and make the United States of America real to the people of Europe, and real to the people of America as well. We, the people, can and must do it.

A Long Step Forward

The five weeks' summer school for church women which will be held in Lincoln Heights, Washington, D. C., beginning July 7, is surely a step in the right direction. It will offer refresher courses for women planning to go as missionaries to the foreign field, to enter the ministry here at home, to become active in church work at home, or merely to brush up on their knowledge of the Bible or in Christian social service work.

The school is sponsored by the National Trade and Professional School for Women and Girls, Inc. and is the first effort on the part of any Negro Christian organization to offer such an opportunity to the women who are in fact doing the most important work in the churches. For it is the seemingly little things that women do in the church, such as providing programs for nearly all occasions, raising funds, caring for the backward members in social service work, etc. that form the foundation for the more spectacular service of the ministers.

The best of good wishes for success in this new undertaking.

The Disgrace of a Nation

The bill which will draft all American boys between the ages of 19 and 25 into the armed services of the United States, will have passed the Houses of Representatives in Washington by the time the readers of The California EAGLE can have this newspaper in their hands.

As we went to press, all those in the know predicted its passage by a large majority. This will be the first time in American history that the United States has had a draft in peace time. We used to censure severely Germany's forced service in its army. And welcome to our shores those German youth who fled to the land of the free in order to escape such servitude.

Now we, free America, are following in the footsteps of the Kaiser's Germany.

But we are the greater criminals. Not only are we hyprocritically telling uor American boys, but the people of the world as well, that we are doing this to preserve democracy!

Preserve Democracy! What a lie! For within this draft bill there is a worse travesty of Democracy than anything the Kaiser, or Hitler, or any other dictator could possibly conceive. In spite of all efforts to prevent its passage, as presented, the old rule of segragation according to race and color, has been preserved.

Representative Adam Clayton Powell, Democrat, N. Y., one of the two Negro members of the House, offered a resolution that would forbid racial discrimination. It was voted down, 102-14. Other liberal and progressive members of the House, Democrats and Republicans, offered other resolutions. Fought valiantly to prevent this fearful injustice. To no avail. Every effort was voted down by a large majority.

Said John E. Rankin, of Mississippi, "You can't reverse the laws of nature by an act of Congress."

And Rev. Cooley, of North Carolina, said he knew of no single Congressman from the South "who has heard from any Negro in his district in support of such proposals!"

Of course not. What Negro in the South would risk his life at the hands of a lynch mob to dare to ask his Congressman to support the least semblance of justice in drafting him?

This fearful disgrace of the United States of America is a disgrace even if no one lifted his voice in protest. The inner sense of justice in every American must rise in protest.

And if the Negro people of America, 14,000,000 of them, also rise in physical protest, do not be too much surprised. One can stand just so much. But to ask an American citizen to risk his life for a pretended democracy, which denies him that very democracy for which he is supposed to fight, is asking just a little too much.

Admission by Heritage

This editorial sent to The Purple Hearter, has been passed on to The California EAGLE. We re-print it because it bears out the contention that we make elsewhere in this issue, and that we make from time to time, that such acts will create animosity and furnish the much-talked of activities that threaten our government.

A letter addressed to Department Adjutant Thomas Barker from Irvin Spandau, Jr. Vice Commander of the Donald H. Laird Chapter has recently come to the attention of The Purple Hearter. Enclosed with the letter was an editorial from the El Mustang, California State Polytechnic College publication.

The letter points out that the editorial involves racial prejudice. We reprint here a part of the editorial:

. . . Last weekend a debating team of five men went to Stockton for a College of Pacific speech tournament. One of them was a Negro, a boy whom many of you know. At the Stockton Hotel where reservations had been made for the team, this Gaucho student was refused a room.

The story of that Stockton weekend has happened too many times, too many places. The hotel staff apologized, they understood perfectly the resentment of the colored boy and his friends. They sympathized. They had no race prejudice, they said; it was "the rule." They called every decent hotel in town, but they all had "the rule." Eventually they found a room for the Santa Barbara student, a filthy hole in a squalid rooming house. He was not even permitted to eat in the hotel dining room with the rest of the team.

It matters little that the Negro involved in this case was a veteran. That is beside the point. "The rule" as the hotel clerk put it, did not apply during the war. Suffering, misery, loss of limbs knew no prejudice in combat. Bullets and bone shattering steel cared little whether its victim was a man, woman, Catholic, Protestant, Jew, black or white. To hold this man up as a veteran, and because of that fact cry discrimination is not good enough. It goes much further than that.

Negroes in many southern cities were not allowed to board the Freedom Train with whites. Forgetting the laws of the land, our Constitution, and what democracy stands for, consider for a moment the feelings of the Negro. Place yourself in his position. How would you have reacted to the hotel situation, special hours to board The Freedom Train, and thousands of other daily abuses?

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

One of the few heart-warming gestures in this stupid cold war with Russia, is the letter which Drew Pearson wrote to Premier Stalin. It is a letter asking permission for the American people to send a Friendship Train to the children of the Soviet Union, in the same spirit with which the American people sent a Friendship Train, loaded with food, to the people of Western Europe as a Christmas gift less than a year ago.

The letter is filled with suggestions and allusions which one might consider insulting, if one were not broad-minded enough an] tolerant enough to remember that Mr. Pearson belongs to that great number of Americans, however liberal in spirit they may be, who believe in driving down the middle of the road, when in reality anyone moving as slowly as they are, should stay on the right. And the right side, by the way, is the left side in Europe, and should be, of course, for anyone dealing with Europe.

For example Mr. Pearson writes: "I recall, Premier Stalin that at one time you studied for the priesthood, and doubtless remember from those days the messages of the Sermon on the Mount and the brotherhood f man. The Friendship Train (of last year) was conceived in that spirit. . . We should have liked to visit Eastern Europe and your country—had Americans been permitted to go there.

"The so-called Iron Curtain has given Americans the impression that Russia hates and fears the United States. It has given Americans the impression that something mysterious is being developed inside your country which may lay waste our cities and farms.

"So I would like to suggest, Premier Stalin, that you lift a corner of the Iron Curtain as the first step toward improving diplomatic relations between us—which you have requested in your recent notes. I propose that we, the American people, again organize a Friendship Train, this time from the people of the United States to the children of Russia. We will take this Friendship Train full of food to the Soviet Union on a non-political basis so as to prove to you and your people that the American people want friendship, not fear; that we are very weary of war."

Now, those allusions to the "Iron Curtain" and to the fact that Joseph Stalin once studied for the priesthood, coupled with the rather broad assumption that his job today is not in line with the principles of the Sermon on Mount, would be enough to cause the hackles of any small-souled person to rise in anger.

But I don't believe Joseph Stalin will become angry. From all I have read and heard about him, he is too big a man to become angry at what in reality are trifles. He will grasp at this opportunity for the Russian people to become friends with Americans, as he and the Soviet government grasped at the hoped-for opporunity to meet and talk with American officials upon the subject of peace. An open door supposedly held open by American diplomats, but which the Russians tried to enter was rudely slammed shut in their faces.

One of the good and true things Drew Pearson said in his letter is: "We, the American people, know the tremendous sacrifices of the heroic Russian people. We know the devastation suffered by your towns and villiages. And we, having been spared Hitler's bombings and blitzkriegs, feel a certain responsibility to alleviate suffering and hunger wherever it exists."

That seems to be the heart of Drew Pearson's letter to Stalin. And that is the substance we believe, which Premier Stalin will consider when he reads this letter from an American, prehaps blindly groping in the dark to find the light. But nevertheless trying to find it.

Drew Pearson, we believe, has a habit of predicting things to come, predictions which average about 85% accurate.

Well, here's where we rush in where angels fear to tread, and predict that if Premier Stalin receives that letter he will accept this good-will gesture of a Friendship Train loaded with food for the children of Russia, from the people of America. He will accept it gladly. Graciously. As a means of a better understanding and of cementing a friendship that should always exist between the people of America and the people of Russia.

He may remind Mr. Pearson, of course, that the Iron Curtain is for the most part an invention of the editors of American newspapers who twist reports received from Europe, even from their own correspondents, to suit their own fancies. He may tell him, too, that the people of Russia were not, and are not now, equipped to accommodate the crowds of tourists and curiosity seekers who would have flocked to Russia, had there been no restrictions placed upon foreign visitors. That those restrictions were, therefore a part of necessity and not because of a lack of goodwill.

But the Friendship Train, we believe, will be welcomed gladly. And when it tours Russia the gifts from the people and children of Russia in return for our own, will open the eyes not only of Drew Pearson but of other Americans as well. And such an exchange of goodwill, will be the diplomacy which will eventually promote a lasting peace and friendship between the two nations.

"OUR CHILDREN ARE CHEATED"

Why don't you pick on someone your size?

The ugly giant, Discrimination, reaches out even to our schools to guarantee that our children get an unequal start in life.

SEPARATE BUT EQUAL

This is the myth behind segregated schools. Our courts tell us that Negroes, Indians, Mexicans—any racial minority my be herded into separate schools if they get an education equal to that of white children.

Recently a little dent has been made in this "separate but equal" doctrine. The Supreme Court ruled that Oklahoma must provide a law course for a Negro girl barred from the State University. Authorities offered her Jim Crow "classes" in the State Capitol. With great courage she is taking her fight back to the Supreme Court. Perhaps her case will crack the vicious "equal but separate" lie. At least that is the hope of racial and religious minorities as well as of labor groups, whose hope of securing truly democratic rights depends upon real equality for their children.

But do minority groups really get equality of education after they are separated?

"No!" is the emphatic answer of the President's Committee on Civil Rights.

Lets' look at the situation:

The South has a hard time maintaining its schools. Mississippi, for example, can afford to spend only $400 a year per classroom unit compared to $4100 in New oYrk. Add to that the burden of "separate but equal" schools in the South, and you get the load that breaks education's back! The South gets not only hopelessly bad schools for Negroes, but entirely inadequate schools for Whites!

In Mississippi, Johnny White's teacher in 1944 averaged a salary of $1107; Bobby Black's teacher earned only $342 that year. The Negro child got fewer days in school, attended much more crowded and poorly equipped classes. This is the pattern not only for the Negro in the South, but for other racial minorities elsewhere—for example, Indians in some Western states . . . Mexicans in Texas.

Here again our Nation's capital follows the trend of the South. In Washington, Negro schools are crowded—while there are vacant seats in the schools of white children. Part time classes, poorer school supplies, inadequate recreational facilities—these are the lot of Negro children in the shadow of the Capitol.

What of the North, where school segregation is non-existent—at least IN THEORY? Even there, the President's Committee finds minority groups are virtually segregated in schools because they have been forced into segregated neighborhoods. And for some not-so-strange reason it is these groups whose schools are usually most dilapidated, most crowded, most poorly equipped.

Private colleges get public financial support—often federal or state money or at least tax exemption. Hence they should be open to all.

Most such colleges, if they do

W. J. Wheaton Says

I'se going to lay my troubles at the Cross: I'se going to lay my troubles at the feet of Jesus. Huhm huhm! And as the hum died away we made our presence known and were admitted with the usual greeting. "Come on in and make yourself at home 'till I finish these biscuits. How'er you feeling any better; you looks a heep better anyway."

We assured her that it was a tonic to hear her voice and . . . Devour her succulent meal. Where did you get that song we ask her. When we were in Washington, D. C. we frequently, on Sundays, would go over to Richmond, Va. to visit John Jaspers (Sun Do Move) church, and I've heard them sing it there. Never since have we heard it until now, and it brings to me pleasant memories. Where is Mary Ann III, we ask. "Her and the girls went up to the Booker T. Washington building; they're fixing for some kind of drive to raise money for a building. Say what you will, but Mr. Washington done heaps for us folk back home. He taught us to know that all work was honorable when rightly done, that the plowman who could plow a straight furrow and till the soil with intelligence, was just as good as the next one and that the woman who could cook a meal, and know what she was cooking, and could sew a straight seam, need'nt hide her face nor sit in the corner 'cause she couldn't play on the piano.

"Yes sir: he certainly showed us that any work was honorable, just as long as it was done right and with intelligence. He showed our men how to till the earth and make things grow. He taught us women how to keep our cabins clean, plant flowers and, even white wash the fences. The folk back home, both white folk and black folk, owe a debt of gratitude to Mr. Washington that can never be paid."

"Yes," we said, "not alone the folk 'back home' but this nation owes a deft, not to Mr. Washington alone, but to the people, white or black, who live within the boundary of this ntion. Mr. Washington was, in the fullest sense, an educator, not an agitator, and because of that was criticised as lacking a militant spirit, but he was tactful and as you say Mary Anne, he had 'Horse Sense.'

"Late years have proven the wisdom of his strategy. There are times when strategy . . . a bit of sensible maneuvering will bring victory where a frontal attack will cause defeat. We think there is a Bibical saying, or we're heard it spoken somewhere, 'That it is useless to kick against the bricks.'

"But says Mary Ann: back to the point. Don't you think that all of the people 'en I don't mean just black folk, should get behind this drive and raise a fund sufficient to furnish places for recreation without regard to race, color or national origin.'

"Yes, Mary Ann, to that we heartily subscribe. There must be no big I and little me in this endeavor. There should be and there must be . . . an effacement of self, and a concert of effort for the welfare of all: The betterment of the whole community. The leaders of tomorrow will come from the youth of today. They must be leaders of wisdom and tact, be they white, yellow or black. They must be leaders devoid of bias, and that can be accomplished only by an understanding gained through close association. Friendships made through understanding are seldom betrayed. What was that you said Mary Ann about friendships? Something about the seed, the bloom, then the withered stalk? The most poignant moment in any life is the betrayal of a friendship.

"It is like bracken water in a sodden rain barrel. It can never be replaced. It is a broken string on life's violin or a broken rubber band which has been stretched to breaking point. It's worthless. Yes, Mary Ann; your philosophy of life is understanding. Let's get to something else. What about the housing conditions here, in your residential district? We hear that there is quite an area that has been condemned and is to be torn down. Have the leaders in this district made any effort to see to the welfare of those who may be evicted? From where we can learn there's quite a' number that will be affected.

"Of course; it won't affect you so much as it will others: You have your farm to go to.

"Yes, thank the Lord," Mary Ann exclaimed, "I sure have. We see that they are seeking to create a district . . . quietly segregated . . . in a remote section of the city. That principle creates the ghetto that breeds crime and disease. Such districts never receive the attention they should have, neither in a santitary or law protection sense. We have visible evidence of that in a certain area of the Richmond district in Alamada county. Of course there are some who for political reasons seek to concentrate population, but in the long run, does it pay?"

It may give political advantage to a self seeking person who will fail to do himself or his constituents any benefit. If you have the ability and have the welfare of the community at heart, if you are in, the trustworthy class, makes no difference what color, you'll get to the top. We've seen it work. Let's fight for a democratic citizen. Understand us, we don't necessarily mean the Democrat Party, but democracy in its true sense. That can not be gained by sending a Negro to congress or anywhere else, for the simple reason of saying, he is the first and only Negro to get such a position. Let's take it in stride, as an American.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

What's The Score?

Within the past two weeks, I have talked with two responsible community leaders who are concerned about the role the Negro worker is to play in organized labor now that the war is over and jobs are not quite so plentiful as they have been. Both these men are keen and alert. They are students of the social science and philosophy that touches their daily lives, and they offer intelligent, constructive leadership.

Both are pastors of churches, and the significance in that fact is the established truth that, as yet there has been no leadership for the masses of Negroes that has consistently proven superior to that provided by the church. Whether that is good or bad is not the question; it is the fact.

The National Association of Negroes in American Industry, which operates the Negro Industrial Press Service does not examine the merit of church leadership. Instead, the Association recently launched a program to bring an awareness to Negro Ministers of "the role that the Church may assume in the integration of the Negro worker into industrial channels." They have proven that their future plans include the Negro worker, and here again, whether this is good or bad is not the question. It should be noted that the Association is coming in completely on the side of management. There is a subtle challenge represented that organized labor cannot afford to ignore.

Organizations such as the Association, working behind an anti-labor Congress may not destroy organized labor, but they most certainly can do an effective crippling job. Should they get the least bit of assistance from within the ranks of organized labor, (as seems to be the case at the moment), they might conceivably wipe out the strength and purpose of unionism.

It was my purpose at the start of this column to recommend that organized labor integrate church leadership into its program, but it occurs to me with disturbing frequency that organized labor has not effectively integrated the Negro worker. Much of the enlistment of Negro workers has been done with the thought in mind that, "if they're not with us, they'll be against us"; a sort of sufferance that is beginning to show up now that reaction has reared its head in the union halls.

Perhaps it was not necessary to understand the Negro worker and his problem during the lush days of war-geared production, but that is not the case today. The Negro worker is becoming indifferent to organized labor, and it is only fair to say that his indifference is but a reflection of the indifference being shown him by the unions.

There is more to this than can be fitted into a tailored column, so it will be dealt with again at a later date. There are some specifics that should be noted, and it should be pointed out that the craft unions have the least room in their hearts for the Negro worker.

Civil Service Exams For Laundry Helper

The Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Los Angeles area, announces an examination for Laundry Helper with salaries ranging from $1690 to $182 per year. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Permanent appointments, as a result of this examination, will be made to fill positions at Veterans Administration Hospitals Van Nuys (Birmingham), and at West Los Angeles (Sawtelle), San Fernando and Navy Department positions at Long Beach Naval Hospital and Marine Air Station, El Toro, California. Applications are available at the main Post Office.

The Right to Live—But Where?

"Lady, you can't rent this place," the landlord said. "We don't allow blondes to live here."

Ridiculous? Of course. No landlord would say that.

Yet is it more ridiculous than barring a family because of its color or its race o[its national origin or its religion?

It's tough these days to find a place in which to live. It's doubly tough if you happen to belong to one fo the excluded minorities. Says the President's Committee on Civil Rights, "The fact that many of those who face this double barrier are war veterans only underlines the inadequacy of our housing record.

"RESTRICTIVE COVENANT"

These are the two magic words that make housing segregation possible, even though zoning on a racial or religious basis violates Constitutional rights and has been declared illegal.

A Negro or a Jew or an Oriental tries to buy a house or rent a house in a certain neighborhood—only to find that in the deed of the property is a private agreement excluding him from that neighborhood.

Syrians, Mexicans, Indians, Armenians, other minority groups—they too often face such exclusion. Restrictive Covenant is the device that keeps them out. That is the device found by even our appellate courts.

Restrictive covenant cases are now being heard in the Supreme Court. The Court's decisions will be eagerly followed, not only by minority groups, but also by Labor everywhere; for it is a basic principle of unions to open their ranks to all people, regardless of race, creed, or color.

The restrictive covenant is a crime against democracy committed by the North as well as the South, the East as well as the West. In Chicago, for insance, 80 percent of property has some discriminatory restriction.

Property restrictions, especially surrounding slum areas, are "good business" for profiteers. Negroes or Jews, barred from areas. For those who cannot afford to pay extortionate rates, there is no other place to go!

In federal housing projects the President's Committee finds, the record has been relatively good. "The Federal Public Housing Authority has tried to allocate public housing fairly, and to make certain that equal standards are maintained. Many housing projects with mixed racial occupancy have been operated with great success."

Yet many private housing projects, enjoying public financial support, do practice discrimination. For example, Stuyvesant Town, a project of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, has received great financial concessions from New York City. But Negroes, who help to pay the taxes which, in part, made Stuyvesant Town possible, are barred from the project.

Ghettos and slums—they condemn minority groups to poorer housing, higher rents, inadequate public services. They constitute a major disaster of segregation. But there are also lesser reflections of the same evil.

Here is a Jew, humiliated because he is kept out of a hotel or a summer resort. "White Gentiles Only," he is told.

Here is a returned American soldier. His face is dark, his eyes slant—and he has lost an arm for you and me. "No Japs Wanted," he reads on the door of the store he was about to enter.

Eighteen states forbid discrimination in restaurants, hotels and other places of public accommodation. Twenty states, mostly southern, compel segregation. Yet even in states that forbid it, the racial outcast who tries to get such service is not waited on or is charged exorbitant prices or is subject to humiliating insult or even to violence.

The President's Committee, looking with hope to the Supreme Court, does not rest its program there. It also calls upon the voters to champion new legislation: laws that will eventually withhold federal funds from housing and recreational projects that are discriminatory.

It also calls upon the people to insist upon clearly expressed federal laws outlawing the restrictive covenant.

In the next, final article of this sceries we shall see what other proposals the Committee has made in the interests of genuine democracy.

"The Voice of America"

By PAUL FRENCH

Recently there was quite a scandal over that radio program, "The Voice of America," which the State Department sends to foreign countries, supposed to give peoples abroad "the truth" about the United States, and thus to "offset Communist propaganda."

The scandal arose, apparently, because certain congressmen discovered the awful fact that the program had, indeed, been telling some faint shreds of the truth, which truth was instantly perceived by them to be "Communist propaganda."

A worried congressional committee, headed by Republican Chenowith of Colarado, tracked down the truth-telling writer of the radio script beamed to South America, and found he was a Venezuelan, Rene Borgia, under supervision of a Cuban, Alberto Gandero. Both are hired writers for the National Broadcasting Company, which, in turn, was paid by the State Department to produce "the Voice," because congress itself had demanded that "free enterprise" and not any detestable "government bureau" perform this highly patriotic duty—and, of course, get the cash.

It turned out that the truth was told only by a grievous mistake. The State Department official responsible, one George V. Allen, explained that it was impossible to "supervise every word" of all broadcasts in foreign languages, a fault that congressmen demanded be instantly corrected in line with our boasted distaste of censorship and profound dislike of any "iron curtain" cutting off "free flow of information."

Mr. Borgia, on his part, complained that his NBC superiors "lacked culture," had demanded that he put in his script such pleasant little jokes as that about Nevada being a state where people are married in Las Vegas and divorced in Reno, that "New England was founded by hypocrisy and Texas by sin." All true, of course.

But what burned up some Southern congressmen was the fact that South Americans had been told that in Alabama, even more than other states, "the colored race has suffered and struggled." Apoplectic congressmen branded that as nothing less than "Communist propaganda." That it was the truth only made it worse for the unfortunate Mr. Borgia.

He, however, pleaded that NBC was so stingy that it would not pay writers a decent salary, so could hire only inexpert liars like himself, liable to slip now and then and let some truth creep into the "Voice of America." He complained bitterly that he got only $100 a week, which is no wage at all for high-class liars; and, besides, he had been fired when the horrid revelation came out that he had written something true about this noble and righteous country, and South America had heard it.

It having been thus fully proven that "the Voice of America" is supposed to tell only lies, we might examine what its radio waves told foreign peoples on February 6, when it ventured into the risky business of commenting upon the hundredth anniversary of the writing of The Communist Manifesto by Karl Marx and Frederick Engels. It is extremely risky for apologists for capitalism to comment upon the science of human society, but "the Voice of America" tried it.

For one thing, it said that Marxism is "out of date," that Marx would not have written so critically of capitalism if he had only known what wonderful things capitalisms has accomplished, in America, particularly. The class struggle, said "the Voice," has been "abolished by universal suffrage" and, particularly in America, by this "political democracy." This will be news to not a few Negro Americans. And to all American workers it will be something unheard of, that the class struggle is "abolished" in these United States by the simple device of voting. Let them tell it to the cops when they meet these workers on the picket line.

The "Voice" also spoke enthusiastically of how capitalism in the USA had perfected "respect for the individual," a statement that you individuals who read this column may compare with your own experiences. It added that capitalism, in America, had fixed things up so there is an "equitable distribution of property," meaning no rich and no poor, everybody is getting along just fine. This, you readers will see, is an America that nobody in America knows anything about.

This sort of baloney is the best that the State Department can produce as propaganda for capitalism and against Communism, radioed to those peoples behind "the iron curtain" which, it is said by our offlical liars, the Soviet Union has pulled down to keep out "the truth about America."

Some things, of course, simply cannot be spoken of. The "Voice of America" hasn't said a word about the wave of anger that swept the world when the Greek puppet government of Wall Street imperialism massacred hundreds of Greek patriots, who dared to fight for Greek independence from U. S. rule.

The "Voice of America" has been silent on the fact that, when even the Greek parliament rebelled against these atrocities and threatened to oust the Greek cabinet, United States "administrator" (gauleiter) Griswold, ordered the Greek parliament not to meet, thus banning even the form of even that figleaf of "democracy."

The "Voice of America" is silent on the facts showing that an American correspondent, George Polk of CBS, was murdered by order of the Greek political police chief, Angel Evert, who was, in turn, ordered by American spies in Greece to prevent Polk from getting the truth about Greece from the patriot guerillas who are fighting American occupation of Greece.

The "Voice of America" will not broadcast the story of the humble Greek worker, Christos Politis, one of those patriot Greeks shot to death by royalist Greek soldiers, dressed in British uniforms and armed with American rifles, at 10 a.m. on February 29, after he had secretly written the following pathetic letter to his dear wife:

"My beloved wife: Georgia, I feel your many and bitter pains. Our dream has remained a dream, that which we promised each other many times—that we would lead a happy life together as soon as this situation ended, that we would educate our children. But I have a strong faith, and I leave you certain that you will realize my hope and educate our children.

"As for me, you must feel proud that I will fall from Greek and American bullets for your liberty. My Georgia, you must be proud of your husband.

"I leave you only one instruction from this, my last letter. Since I leave you with three children and you are tired and worn from the hard years of slavery we have gone through, you must marry an honest man, a real people's fighter who will love the children and you, my Georgia.

"I finish. I cannot write you anything more. I kiss you with a thousand kisses."

Read that letter over again. Read it to your family. Let your children read it, your neighbors, your shopmates. It is the last word of a humble man, like yourself, a humble and honest man who was brave enough to fight against the "Truman doctrine" and "the Marshall Plan" for his countr yand for his wife and little children.

Christos Politis was a Greek, loving alike his native land and his wife and little ones, tenderly interweaving his love for both in the fabric of his last letter with its simple words of longing for peace, freedom and bread.

The Marshall Plan and the "Voice of America" pay no heed to Christos Politis, nor to any of the humble tens of millions of the earth. But, the American bullet which tore into his tender heart has set loose a wave of anger among those millions that shall yet, and soon, end the cynical and evil powers that did him to death.

SEND A WIRE

With the Supreme Court refusing to review the case of the members of the board of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee, it is expected that they will begin serving jail sentences within three weeks. Seeking to forestall this possibility, the national office of the committee has asked chapters all over the nation to wire President Truman asking that he show executive clemency in the case.

In New York City, it is planned to hold a mass meeting on June 24, and it is reported that a mass meeting will be held in Los Angeles in the near future.

Household Hints For Summer Days

Most of us are always happy to see Spring and Summer come, but the girls are particularly glad this year because when the heavy coats come off they will have the opportunity of letting the opposite sex see just how beautiful the "new look" really is. Yes, all winter some of the boys have shown their objections to our longer skirts, but I guarantee that by next fall even they will be all-out for them.

Right now we all have our minds on that cute ballerina skirt with the ruffled petticoat. It's beautiful, but don't be so fascinated by it that you will forget that captivating little sack dress that created so much excitment early last winter. This dress is liked by all because it's chic. It has the new length. It's inexpensive and anyone, with or without sewing experience can make it in less than a day! Another exciting thing about this "jiffy dress," as it is commonly called, is its versatility. For office wear buy chambray, gingham or broadcloth. For that "date" get linen, crepe, pique or spun rayon. For an evening gown get tubular jersey or silk. Yes, this little dress can be made to be worn for any occasion. Cuffs and collars may be attached. Blouses can be worn beneath. Ot, wear it simply as is.

For your office dress, there are numerous leather belts either with studs, emblems or designs that are comely. For your "date" dress, use a belt of the same material but different in color. For your evening gown, wear a gold or silver kid belt. Anyway you choose you will find this little dress an important number in your wardrobe this summer. The amount of dresses you may have in this pattern does not matter, or a difference in material makes an entirely different dress.

President Truman, in his nonpolitical tour of the country, saw an epitaph in Tombstone, Arizona, which he said was the greatest in the country. It read: "Here lies Jack Williams. He done his damnedest."

"Whenever a man does the best he can," said Mr. Truman, "then that is all he can do, and that is what your President has been trying to do for the last three years for this country."

True. Very true. But when your "damnedest" doesn't add up to something better than yours, President Truman, then you should step down, generously and gracefully, and give some one else a chance at the wheel.

An additional 28 precincts in the 14th Congressional District are to be subjected to a fine-tooth comb search for votes. In the two precincts in which the voting has already been rechecked, it was discovered that 113 votes counted for Helen Gahagan Douglas on the Republican ticket, were a mistake.

According to the returns of the election boards at the end of the primary election, June 1, Mrs. Douglas had won the Democratic nomination by a large majority and was 152 votes ahead of Wallace Braden on the Republican ticket. As it stands now, she is only 39 votes ahead.

Discrepancies have been attributed to "mistakes made by tired election clerks." That, and the confusion arising through the crazy cross-filing system which prevails in California.

As the EAGLE goes to press, predictions come in that the draft bill will pass the House (Washington, D. C.) by a large majority. Solid opposition prevented any "civil rights" amendments from being adopted. Segregation in the armed forces on grounds of race, creed, or color lost by a vote of 135-23. This was offered by Rep. Javits, Republican.

A similar amendment offered by Representative Powell, Democrat, was voted down, 102-14.

Remember those who voted against such measures, and see that they are not returned to Congress in November.

President Truman's "non-pollitcal" tour of the West has confirmed his determination to run for re-election, according to the opinions of the political wise. His rousing welcome in Los Angeles outshone all previous disappointments such as speaking to empty seats in Omaha, and has convinced the wavering little man in the White House that he can win.

Mr. Truman should be reminded, however, that Angelenos do not necessarily vote the way they cheer. And it's votes that count.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan has announced that the gambling-pension "bill of rights" has qualified for the ballot for the November election. The initiative measure had a total of 207,720 signatures. A total of only 204,672 was needed.

This bill would legalize, license, and tax bookmaking and other forms of gambling. It would abolish all state and local taxes and fees, and substitute a 2% tax on gross receipts of all kinds. It would grant a pension of $100 per month to all aged persons, up to July 1952, after which date the pension would be upped to $130 per month.

A kind of Utopia entered through a rather dubious door.

San Francisco, June 13, 1948

My dear Mrs. Bass:

While visiting in San Francisco over the weekend, I happened to be downtown in the business district when I saw a car drive by. A little man in the car waved his hat at me. Feeling that I was not known in San Francisco, I asked the gentleman walking beside me if he knew that man.

He said, "Why, that is the President of the United States."

There was no brass band, nor anything else that usually accompanies a parade. Nobody seemed to know what was going on, and I said to myself, "If that is a parade, it is sadder than McKinley's funeral, when even the horses were said to have cried."

Sorry I cannot be back in Los Angeles Monday, when you will have another presidential parade. More success to you in that, and much success for your paper.

Mrs. Alberta Ferguson,

Councilman Kenneth Hahn of the 8th District introduced a motion in the City Council recently which would eliminate time-and-one-half pay for overtime work for all city employees who make $440.00 a month or more.

Councilman Hahn pointed out to the City Council that he is not in favor of eliminating time-and-one-half for employees who need to work and also for the lower bracket employees, but he objects very strongly to paying top salary city employees time-and-one-half for work.

It seemed to Councilman Hahn that the top bracket employees who are making big salaries in city government are abusing the privilege of time-and-one-half and causing an additional burden to the taxpayers of the City of Los Angeles.

Representative Vito Marcantonio, liberal member of Congress from New York City, is facing a stiff fight for re-election. To date their campaign seems a flop.

Rajagopalachari Becomes Leader Of New India

NEW DELHI, India—Chakravarty Rajagopalachari will become the first Indian Governor-General of India next Monday (June 21) when Earl Mountbatten relinquishes the post. Presently Governor of West Bengal, Mr. Rajagopalachari (who is known as C. R.) is one of the most able and distinguished men in Indian public life. An ardent prohibitionist, C. R. is associated with the conservative right wing.

Trail Blazers: Thelma Walker

By PHYLLIS SCOTT

I want to tell you a story about one of the most genuine and farseeing of young career girls today. Because she has weathered the storm of bigotry, poverty, insecurity, rebellion, Thelma Walker is a successful person along the road of human progress. She is no longer hampered or impeded by fear.

An ordinary girl with extraordinary tastes, Thelma says of herself, "I'm just me." But Thelma has the kind of courage and fight in her that flourishes with encouragement. Her consistent efforts in behalf of the little people has strengthened her faith in their struggles.

But her own life in Harlem made her aware of problems socially. Though Philadelphia is her birthplace, her most impressionable years were spent in the heart of New York's Negro community, where families are caught in the web of poverty, living conditions are crowded beyond decent habitation, wages are low as living costs high . . . where Thelma grew steadily conscious that she must combat this thing which was stunting the life of its children.

In high school she took a Civil Service training course, which prepared her, after graduation, for a job on W.P.A. as statistical typist. From there she went to work for a credit furniture company as cashier.

But it is her war work of which she is especially proud. For ten months she worked in a defense plant as a gunpowder inspector and 23 months in the Empire State division of the OPA. When she came to Los Angeles in 1944 she began working as bookeeper-receptionist for the Hollywood Writer's Mobilization, here her first organizational experience generated. From the Mobilization came some of the most important film and radio series on the problems of returning veterans. From the Mobilization were prepared some of the far-reaching programs and effective meetings on veteran affairs for it was the hub for organizational projects.

If her success were attributed to her FEPC and UNAVA work alone she would be distinguished from the others. Together with Elizabeth Fletcher of Venice she petitioned, campaigned from door-to-door, talked with church and club groups, and organized meetings for FEPC until its defeat in Congress. And when the Negro vet problem became astoundingly acute in this area she helped to organize the local branch of the United Negro and Allied Veterans of America, whose problems she still feels important.

A little more than a year ago Thelma went to the Actor's Lab as secretary. Among the various positions she has held was that of Administrative Secretary. But titles have not bound her to these positions. The work and ideals of the Lab are so in accord with Thelma's own that she has become an integral part in the functioning of the organization. She has become a better thinking person with a keener sense of social awareness.

One of the finest qualities about Thelma is the way in which she takes knocks and comes up fighting no matter how severe. And it's always with the brightest smile, void of the least trace of cynicism. The magnetic personality and dynamic energies of Thelma Walker are famous in Hollywood. She forever amazes people with her thorough responsibility, tremendous bombasticy, and honest convictions.

The Howard Fast novels, she's read them all and declares that she has been terrifically influenced by his writings. Paul Robeson is her favorite American and the only person from whom she ever sought an autograph. Her tastes are convential with a preference to symphonic music to jazz, and the legitimate theatre to motion pictures. However, most of her cultural interest stems from social problems.

With a heart as big as the Pacific ocean, Thelma once bought a painting that cost her her whole week's salary. The painting symbolized the struggle of the Negro people to release themselves from the shackles of Southern bondage.

Earnest and real as any ambitious young girl, her leisure time has been tied up in more work. But her real ambition is to become a better human being through learning and understanding.

not exclude Negroes or Jews, admit them on a limited "quota" basis. Others limit Irish Catholics, Indians, Orientals, or other minorities. Despite denials of such quota systems, the President's Committee has found good evidence of the facts.

Many colleges have broken with the shameful tradition. A shining example in segregation-ridden Washington, D. C., is Catholic University. There our Committee tells us, "Negroes have been admitted, and there is no color distinction in classes. Last year a Negro was elected a class officer."

To secure educational rights, the Committee urges the establishment of Fair Educational Practice laws. It suggests the withdrawal of federal grants from schools and colleges which have discriminatory admissions policies.

Such is the program that minority groups and labor groups must actively support. If our very Nation's capital can push a child into a crowded school, keep him off decently equipped playgrounds, even bar him from the Golden Gloves boxing tournament—then the rights of all children in America are insecure.

Conference Plans Action On Sears Discrimination

With a foundation of over two hundred veteran's, student, church, trade union and community leaders on which to build, the committee "For Job Democracy At Sears" has called a conference of democratic-minded organizations in Los Angeles to be held tonight (Thursday) at Channing Hall, 2936 West Eighth Street, just east of Vermont.

The conference comes as a natural consequence of the national attention that is focused on the struggle being carried on to end job discrimination against qualified Negro men and women at Sears Roebuck in Santa Monica.

The campaign to obtain equal employment rights for Negroes followed the insulting remarks made to Negroes who applied for work at the Sears new store in Santa Monica. Negroes who answered the firm's advertisement were told, "You were slaves a short while ago. You can be maids or janitors, but nothing else." The National Association For The Advancement Of Colored people took up the challenge, and in January more than twenty-five organizations formed the "United Committee To End Job Discrimination At Sears."

Sears Roebuck has attempted to intimidate the pickets who walk on the protest line outside its store, and only mass action prevented the passage of an anti-picketing ordinance by the Santa Monica City Council. Frank Barnes, a postal employee who is chairman of the committee has been processed and suspended by the post office loyalty board as the result of his activities against the discrimination and protests from all over the nation are being received at the post office condemning this fascist action. The conference will begin promptly at 8 p.m. and it will be devoted to positive action to defeat discrimination.

Jim Crow In Nevada

In the wake of pressure against the organization of the Independent Progressive Party in Nevada, discrimination against the Negro people in Las Vegas has reached a new high. When Senator Glen Taylor, vice-presidential candidate on the new party ticket, spoke on May 31 in Las Vegas, every hotel and restaurant in this largest city of the state denied its eating privileges for a luncheon group that included representatives of the Negro people.

Mrs. La Vonne Busch, state campaign director for the Independent Progressive Party, sought to arrange for the luncheon in honor of Senator Taylor with the Salsegy Hotel. The manager told Mrs. Busch that hotel policy forbade the serving of Negroes, and suggested that they leave and eat across the street. Mrs. Busch objected, pointing out that the policy of the party is opposed to any sort of racial discrimination. Nevertheless, in order to make a spot check, she called on every place in town that served food. Every hotel and restaurant in the city refused service if Negro people were included, with the one exception of the Flamingo Club. All luncheon accommodations at the Flamingo Club had already been reserved, but the manager welcomed the entire delegation for a dinner or late supper gathering. Because the schedule of events made this impossible, Mrs. Busch canceled the luncheon plans rather than accept the Jim Crow policy which the party is pledged to end.

The atmosphere of oppression and intimidation of Negroes is increasing, numerous observers reported to Mrs. Busch. Formerly, some fountains and drug stores would serve Negroes at the counters, but recently all of them have imposed discrimination. At present, the only way a Negro customer can obtain food at them is to buy it packaged and take it out to eat. The intimidation is so pervasive and thorough that [illegible] dare t threatening them. The Negro people are threatened with loss of jobs, being forbidden their vote, and being run out of town or out of their homes.

Even the ministers have received veiled threats. On the West Side, largely a Negro community, the home owners are refused FHA and FSA loans to improve their houses. The workers are being eased out of their jobs and cannot get new ones, although in the opinion of residents there are sufficient jobs available.

About a year and a half ago a race riot was narrowly averted. One has not actually occurred yet, but it is an ax held by a thread over the heads of the Negro community—there is the veiled menace, the whisper from a source no one dares to identify, that the riot may occur. It may just happen at any time. People still remember that not so long ago a Negro boy was beaten by a white man in the Union Pacific depot. Many of the white residents are opposed to this sort of thing, but the intimidation is extended to them too, as in the South, and they are afraid to show their friendship.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor

The following letter to the editor of The California Eagle is a comment on a delightful program given by mutual friends.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

The program which was presented at the Angeles Chapel as the annual artists' tribute to "Lives Beautifully Lived" by the 'Five and Over Charity Club' was a completely artistis satisfaction to the writer, an invited guest.

As a friend for 38 years of one of he "absentee members" to be honored, Mrs. Mattie Calhoun Marshill, the dignity and sincerity of the memorial was much appreciated.

A very keen sense of music appreciation prompts the prophecy that the Atwater-Kent winners—Miss Lassiter and Mr. de Valentine—have in their distinctly individual voice quality that which insures success and undoubtedly should have won top awards in the recent contest.

As to criticisms—in the words of the immortal Bard of Avon:

"Oftentimes excusing of a fault
Doth make the fault the worse by the excuse;
As patches set upon a little breach
Discredit more in hiding of the fault
Than did the fault before it was so patched."

(Shakespeare—King John—Act IV—sc. 2.)

If the occasion was indicative of the ideals and aims of the Associated Negro Women, there is nothing comparable (in the ken of the writer) among white women; the complete absence of depressing influences, no vainglory, just heartfelt appreciation of "lives beautifully lived."

Congratulations from Mrs. William Behr.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

Following is a copy of a letter sent to Sears, Roebuck in Santa Monica:

"It was brought to the attention of the Southeast Chapter, American Veterans Committee at our meeting of May 13, that Sears, Roebuck and Co. has discriminated in the hiring of Negroes at its Santa Monica store.

As veterans and citizens, we are against racial discrimination of any sort. We therefore, strongly urge you to hire Negroes and other minorities in direct proportion to the population which your store serves. This will insure good will on the part of your customers, and community.

Copies of this letter are being sent to the Los Angeles Area Council, which represents thousands of veterans in Southern California. We hope to hear an early and favorable reply from you."

Sincerely,
HARRY O. COHEN,
Chapter Secretary.

Dear Editor:

The subject treated by Miss Phyllis Scott last week in her column "Trail Blazers" (that of Mary L. Johnson) has elicited much favorable and pleasing comment and I am happy to join others in complimenting you on the same.

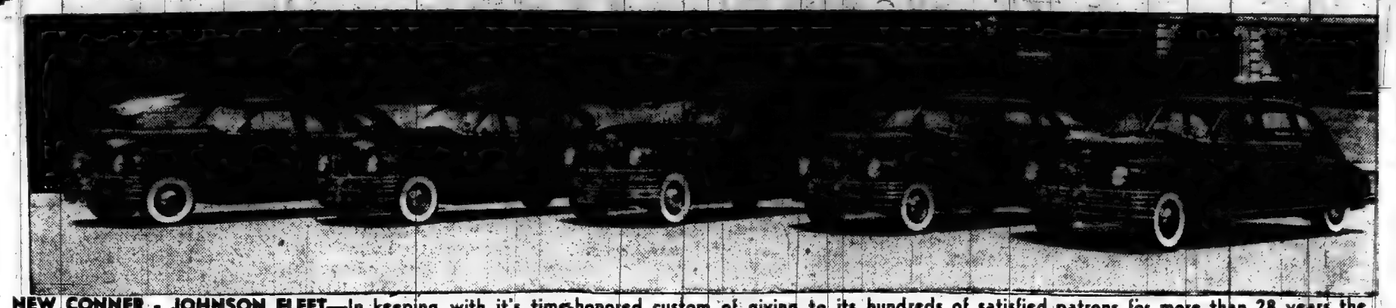
Miss Scott possesses unusual ability for her years and I predict a brilliant future for her in the field of journalism. Accept this expression of thanks and appreciation for a lovely treatment.

Sincerely,
Mary L. Johnson.

Veterans Win Housing Rights

An outstanding victory has been won by California veterans in Washington according to word received from H. F. Dunton, Altadena, President of the Veterans Organizations Council.

Following evidence and testimony presented by Mr. Dunton in Washington, the House Banking and Currency Committee has provided for the restoration of a secondary market for G. I. mortgages in the new housing bill (H. R. 6841) which is now before the House for consideration.



"California veterans once again will be able to buy their own homes through the G. I. Bill of Rights under the new provision of the housing bill." Mr. Dunton said. "But it was only through the action by the Veterans Organizations Council that this was made possible. ff

Chicago Painter Leaves $100,000 To Mooseheart, The Child City

Some of Mooseheart's Happy Children

Mooseheart, Ill., the famed Child City owned and operated by the Loyal Order of Moose for children of its deceased members, became the recipient recently of a $100,000 fortune, bequeathed by the late Herman J. Englehard, 78, a painter and decorator, of Chicago, Ill. Mr. Englehard was well known in his own community for his kindness to and love for little children. Although not himself a member of the Moose fraternity, he chose Mooseheart as the beneficiary of all the money he had saved as a hard working laboring man because, as he told his attorney prior to his death, "I want to help little children." Mooseheart is both a school and home for nearly 1,000 children. It is an entire city in itself, with 150 buildings spread over 1,200 acres of lush farm land in the picturesque Fox River Valley, 35 miles west of Chicago. Nursery, elementary and high school education plus a trade are provided to the students. Mr. Englehard's humanitarian gesture is saddened by the fact that he met a tragic death. He was found fatally beaten in his home by an unidentified assailant. The Supreme Council of the Loyal Order of Moose has offered $5,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of Mr. Englehard's slayer.

NEW CONNER - JOHNSON FLEET—In keeping with it's time-honored custom of giving to its hundreds of satisfied patrons for more than 28 years the best in service and equipment, Conner-Johnson Co. Inc., Morticians, of 1400 East 17th street, has purchased the new fleet of Packards seen above. This new addition to the already modernly appointed institution, represents one of the finest and most complete rolling stocks of any undertaking establishment in Los Angeles. The fleet include four seven passenger luxuriously built sedans, which are at the disposal of the family of the deceased to attend to all matters pertaining to arrangements for the service, and the latest type of service.

BUNDLE OF loveliness above is Mary Louise, whose singsational chirping rated her a plug in Downbeat magazine (and a picture, too!) last month. Her last name is Thomas and if Miss Thomas, who is currently appearing at a nightclub in San Diego, sings but ⅓ as pretty as she looks then Miss Thomas oughta be discovered by a talent scout. As one of the reporters in the back room at the EAGLE office looked over our shoulder and said: "She's fine and she wants to be!"

Learn to Swim Courses Started

Seeking to surpass last year's achievement of presenting more than 6,000 swimming and life-saving certificates to boys and girls of this area, the "Learn to Swim" sponsors have completed arrangements for the 1948 campaign starting Monday, June 21.

As was the case last summer, the pools and plunges cooperating in the "Learn to Swim" project will devote the morning hours to free instruction, Mondays through Fridays, it was announced by Roger C. Plaisted, director of water safety for Los Angeles Red Cross, which operates the project in conjunction with the Department of Recreation and Playgrounds.

Two of the pools are located at 1357 E. 22nd St. and 6120 Denker Ave.

Newsprint From India Expected Next Year

NAGPUR, India — The newsprint shortage that has been felt all over the world for the past several years, will be greatly relieved this time next year when India begins the manufacture of newsprint. The first factories will be set up in the Central Provinces, and they will use what is described as a new and revolutionary process.

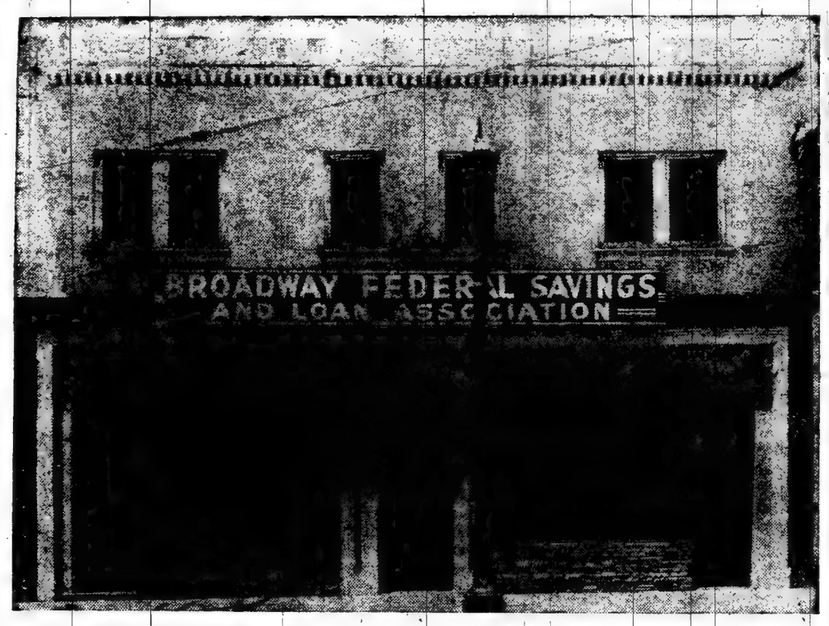
How Do You Look

It is a mistake and a dangerous practice to apply hair tonic to the eyelashes. Many of them contain alcohol, which causes discomfort to the eyes. Mineral oil is the best treatment for making eyelashes grow thick and luxuriant. If it should get in the eyes there is no bad after effect. Twice each day rub it into the roots. It imparts a beautiful lustre.

Vaseline also will serve and if it is spread over the eyelids, the effect is pleasing. Eyelids should never be powdered. This will make the eyes less brilliant.

Hot, moist applications, followed by cold, have a vitalizing effect upon the circulation. The pretty little fissures get nourishment from the blood and there is a strong reaction of the circulatory streams when hot compresses are followed by cold ones.



A good time for this would be in the morning when washing the face. To dye the eyelashes? Never. No matter how carefully it is done there is the danger of getting the coloring in the eyes.

Mascari is safe. Dip the brush in water, pass over the mascara touch the eyelashes lightly. Only the upper ones. Treating the lower lid may produce smudges.

When oiling the lashes, include the eyebrows, sweeping the brush along in firm strokes to keep them in smooth even lines. Eyebrows, like eyelashes, should carry lustre. You can darken them with mascara, or use the crayon as you desire, but do, make a neat job of it.

THE "NEW LOOK" IN AIRCRAFT—Soon to be in quantity production for America's air armada are Flying Wings like this giant Northrop YB-49, shown sweeping through the air at fighter-plane speed. After two years of intensive tests, the Air Force has decided to order Northrop Aircraft of Hawthorne, California, to produce 30 of the 100-ton sky leviathans. Measuring 172 feet in span, the jet-propelled Flying Wings can travel at speeds in the 500-mile-an-hour range, packing over 30,000 pounds of bombs. Aviation authorities predict this design, world-pioneered by Northrop Aircraft, will replace conventional planes for many purposes.

Open House Foremost on Eastside Settlement Agenda

The Second Annual Tea and Open House will be held here at Eastside Settlement House Sunday June 27 from 4 to 7 p.m. The Board of Directors, Mrs. Malinda Mae Garland, president did nearly $700 of remodeling to our building this spring and the Community Chest spent more than $600 redecorating the building inside and adding new screens for the entire building.

Mrs. Carrie Fisher is the general chairman for the tea and open house thise year. Many of our very efficient women are helping Mrs. Fisher with plans to make this affair to be long remembered by our members and friends. Each member will want to call several friends and invite them to attend. The entire building will be open to you, and our clubs and classes will have on exhibit some of the work done by their group.

The Second Annual Flower Show was held here last Thursday and was well attended by our members and friends. The purpose of the Flower Show is to stimulate an interest in beautifying our yards. All entries had to be home grown. Mr. Chas. Brown, florist, Mr. Alberga and Mrs. Verna Lewis were judges for the show. Mr. Brown gave beautiful orchids for the first and second prizes. The following persons received prizes. Mrs. Ella Mae La-Day first prize which was a beautiful orchid from Brown Florist; Mrs. Evelyn Gordon, Hawiian orchid from Grown Florist for the second prize; Mrs. Carrie Fisher, the third prize which was honorable mention. Mrs. Lucybelle Morris was in charge of the program for the occassion.

The 1948 Membership Drive has been extended through June. Mrs. Mattie Hurd is chairman for the 1948 Membership Drive and also a captain in the Drive. The other Captains include Mmes. Malinda Mae Garland, Myrtle Brown, Elizabeth St. Charles Edwards, Julia Lee, Elsie Wright, Betty Johnson, Octavia Mathews, Johnnie Ferrell, Emeline Brown and Mildred Moore. Mrs. Garland's team is leading at present.

An over-night trip has been planned by the High School Girl's Club, "Les Mignonettes" the weekend of June 11. Mrs. Fendora Bady, one of our members has offered the use of her cabin at Elsinore for the outing. Mrs. Bady will go with Mrs. Jones, our groupworker on the trip.

The following leaders for Eastside Settlement just finished the Girl Scout Training Course: Mrs. Lucy H. Jones, groupworker; Mrs. Elsie Wright, volunteer and Mrs. Louise Coleman, volunteer.

Summer Sessions At Labor School

SAN FRANCISCO — The California Labor School's summer vacation session which gets under way July 17 at Asilomar in beautiful Monterey County, "is one of the most important services being offered to trade unionists and other progressives," Paul Schnur, CIO Council secretary announced this week.

"At just about the time," Schnur added, "that progressives who are today putting in long hours in the political campaign and the fight for higher wages will need a well-deserved vacation, the School's summer vacation setup is just about perfect in that it combines both an opportunity to relax and a chance to freshen up on basic theoretical and practical trade union problems."

JUNE McMECHEN, brilliant soprano, has been selected for the second consecutive year to sing George Gershwin's melodies at Lewisohn Stadium, New York, on June 28. The young artist, who won the unanimous acclaim of New York critics with her stadium debut last year, is fast gaining a reputation as an interpreter of Gershwin songs. She came to the nation's attention several years ago as a Fred Allen find. She sings as pretty as she looks, sez Managing Editor John Lee, who knows about these things.

Annual Meet of Scientists

BOSTON, Mass. — Declaring that democratic government is the instrument through which an irresistible, spiritual force is being channeled into the affairs of men, The Christian Science Board of Directors urged Christian Scientists, in annual meeting, here, to work strongly and actively for the defense of free governments throughout the world.

The incoming president, Harry C. Browne, declared that the success of any organization, institution or government depends upon the spiritual efficacy of the governing or controlling instrument.

"With the problem of world peace confronting us," he said, "these same divine yaulities applied in individual thought and action will be found as potent and as powerful as they were in Jesus' time."

New high advertising peaks for The Christian Science Monitor were reported. A new air-mail plan in keeping with the trend of worldwide news distribution was described under which subscribers in London, Los Angeles, and San Francisco can obtain speedier deliveries.

More than 6,000,000 people listen to the weekly Monitor broadcast of "The Christian Science Monitor Views the News," it was disclosed by the Trustees of the Publishing Society.

The retiring president of The Mother Church, Mrs. Helen Craffee Elwell, of East Hebron, N. H., and Boston, reiterated the need for zealously guarding the democratic privileges of free assembly and freedom of worship, which Christian Scientists, she said, were exercising today in annual meeting.

Individuals and nations can no longer remain isolationist in thought or action, Mrs. Elwell commented. Selfishness, she said, gives place to unselfishness, lethargy and inaction are superseded by the prompt response to a brother's need."

"Such action," she said, "constitutes democracy in action."

Turnabout Charity Club Contributes to Camping Fund of Henderson Center

The urgent need for summer camping for the less fortunate youngsters of the Eastside area, is a special project of the Turnabout Charity Club, headed by president Joyce Steward. The recent benefit dance given by the group of young women has enabled them to contribute to the camping fund of the Henderson Community Center of the Second Baptist Church.

During the regular June meeting of the Board of Directors of the Henderson Center, a committee of three young women for the Turnabout Charity Club were present to make the presentation to Dr. Mayberry, head of Foreign Mission work and chairman of the Board of Directors of the Henderson Center. Mrs. Mary Lou Roberson, Director of the Center made the original appeal to the Turnabouts at their last business meeting.

Other affairs have been planned by the charity group that is now awaiting its charter. The Turnabouts roster includes, Joyce Stesard, president; Jessie Mae Brown, vice president; Josephine Burch, recording secretary; Barbara Faulkner, corresponding secretary; Melonee Blocker, treasurer; Lucille Boswell, sergeant-at-arms, and Josephine Spearman, reporter. Members, Betty Alston, Jane Hampton, Kitty Beard, Elizabeth Green, Haroldine Browning, Evelyn Abney, Jerry Jones, Ruth Kenner and Flora Boswell.

During mid-summer, the club expects to come forth with another benefit affair. Proceeds will be used to send youngsters to late summer camps. Throughout the year, the girls will carry out a program of charity work. A commitment has also been made to help with young women from delinquent institutions. This work will be done along with Faustina Johnson and the 12 Big Sisters Club.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

WEDDING BELLS ARE BREAKING up that old gang of mine, by far one of the most popular tunes of the present day, for this gay old month of June is certainly taking its toll along the bridal front. Miss Sadie Weems, one of the city's leading young artists, and a member of the Allied Arts League, passed the "candy" to members of the League at their last meeting, announcing her intentions to become the bride of Willie Patterson, one of the popular gents on the L. A. Fire Department. The big engagement party took place on last Friday night, when guests were presented with little scrolls that artistically told the tale that Sadie and Willie had decided to tie the knot.....Howard Grant, formerly of this city, decided to link the two most outstanding June happenings, by receiving his degree in Civil Engineering at University of Cal, Berkeley Campus, and also reciting wedding vows. Sunday, June 20, is the date, the wedding will take place in San Francisco. Mr. June 25, welcomed her fiance at the station last and Mrs. Clipton B. Jones, Howard's parents, left this week to attend the ceremony. It was just a few months back that his brother Artis also took the big step with the former Mattie Cook . . . Fay Thompson, whose chosen date is June 25, welcomed her fiance a the station last Friday evening. Understand that Fay will make her home in the East soon after the wedding. Enjoying a whirl of pre-nuptial fetes, it is believed one of the most unique affairs will be given in her honor on next Friday night, when Orchid

Brunch Given New Yorkers On Local Sojourn

One of the charming affairs of the week was a brunch given by Mr. and Mrs. Byron Webb in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Whittingham of New York, who were vacationing here for the past two weeks. Recordings and pictures were the diversion of the morning.

ON VACATION

Mrs. Agnes Roberts of 3232 S. Central Ave., left Sunday by train to spend a months vacation visiting her father, Mr. John Payne of 2054 N. 6th Street, Kansas City and her many other relatives.

13 Aids to Sponsor Gala June-Teenth Fiesta Sunday

LOS ANGELES—Fun and merriment will be in the order of the day comes Sunday, June 20, when the popular Thirteen Aides Charity club stages its colorful June-teenth Fiesta in the spacious gardens of Miss Louise Beavers' residence, 2219 S. Hobart Blvd.

Carrying out the Spanish motif to the minuetest detail, gay decorations will enhance the house and gardens, delectable eye-appealing Spanish dishes will be served along with tasty western-style barbecue and other refreshments.

Adding a bit of novelty to an already unusually entertaining program television will highlight the afternoon activities. Games, and dancing are only to mention a few of the many diversified and entertaining features planned for the timely affair.

One of the city's most progressive charitable organizations, the Thirteen Aides have been cited on many occasions by civic and social groups for their untiring efforts and fine work in behalf of community projects.

Adhering to a broad policy when it comes to disbursing funds the group has supported worthwhile civic ventures, given financial aid to deserving students, provided gift packages, washing machines, other essentials for hospitalized veterans at Sawtelle and Birmingham hospitals and contributed generously to Braille Institute.

Heading the club roster is the capable Mrs. Louise Beavers.

Interracial Charm School

CHICAGO—When West Coast modelling school instructor Lucille Sanderson was fired because she wanted to accept Negro students, she began her own interracial charm school in photo-story in July Ebony declares and built it into San Francisco's most popular model organization.

"Indian, Chinese, Caucasian, Negro and Japanese models have been trained by Mrs. Sanderson," the Ebony feature says, "and only three months after her school opened she used them to run a hit fashion show. At this precedent-shattering show, 400 advertisers, newspapermen and clothes buyers gave their enthusiastic approval of Mrs. Sanderson's version of One World Charm."

There are 12 model schools operating in fashion conscious San Francisco, the magazine points out, each competing for calls to the city's two fashion shows each day. As a result of Mrs. Sanderson's first show, two Negro models cracked the lily-white fashion field as models at fur shows and in magazines.

A direct descendent of Harriet Beecher Stowe, Mrs. Sanderson, who is married to an American Indian chief, runs the International Charm School which specializes in highlighting the original traits of each type of racial beauty. Her unprecedented success proves her credo:

"Charm knows no race, no color, no creed—certainly no financial status."

SHOPPING WITH DORIS

By DORIS AUSTIN

Hello There:

June 20 and Father's Day is almost upon us and there's still much rushing here and there to make gift purchases we should have made long ago. The shops are still offering some fine suggestions for the "top man" in all families though not as great a selection and not such "bargains" as perhaps you could have got earlier. Shop now for your gift, small or large, get something he will really appreciate, not just anything, because it is Father's Day. Remember, it is the only time really for him alone. Even at Christmas time he's on the giving end more than the receiving one.

Call your shopper for all shopping problems, buying all kinds or any shopping information at CE. 2-0819. All purchases exchanged at no cost to you. We buy what you want, at the price you want to pay at any and all times.

Sheffield's Men's Shop, 4410 Avalon. Distinctive men's wear to please any man. Get your Father's Day purchase out of congested shopping areas. Shop leisurely at Sheffield's. Flowers for all occasions at the Patio.

The House of George, 5780 Hollywood Blvd. Finest of materials for tailored sportswear, topcoats and suits. Ladies and men's custom tailors. Relaxation bar for your shopping convenience. Open evenings by appointment.

Father's Day cards, games and small gifts at Caddye's Gift Shop, 466 E. Vernon. AD. 1-2541 for home appointments. Selective paper goods, shop printing in gold for distinctive gifts. Order Christmas cards now.

Sadler and Sons, 1171 E. Santa Barbara Ave., CE. 2-0819 and RO. 2867. Remodeling of the old, building of the new. Experienced carpenters. Free estimates. Small and large jobs.

IN THE SOCIAL SET

Oliver and "Dodie" Bell welcome the girls to a strictly "Hen Session." The invites say slacks and blue jeans will be in order and the gifts will be miscellaneous. Orchid's South Harvard Blvd. residence will be the seene of the affair . . . The June brides have been feted aplenty, so now the bridal spotlight is traveling to the ladies who have chosen the month of July for their vow taking. Jean Brown, niece to Mrs. J. R. Portwig, opened many gifts on last Sunday afternoon, when Cookie Cook played the hostess role at a "Kitchen Shower." Luncheon was served to the many femmes who attend the smart affair . . . Jean's date is during the early part of July . . . Comes Sunday and lovely Pauline Jones, who will become the daughter-in-law of Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Stovall in July when she says "I do." to Gerald, their only son, will be opening gifts galore at a Linen Shower. By the way, the lucky couple already have their home and are now busily engaged making plans for color schemes, and furniture styles . . . Can't leave this marital listing so soon. Esther Griffith and Luther Merriweather will be honored at a buffet supper following Sunday's wedding and reception. Mrs. Madie Funchess, assisted by Bernice Nance, will play hostess . . . June 27 is another red letter date for weddings. Charles Lisburgh and the Mrs. will be greeted at reception on that afternoon. The affair will be held at the home of his sister and brother-in-law, Atty. and Mrs. George Cannady . . . At high noon, on the same date, Paul Beck and Maxine Clarke will take the bridal scene with a private ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents. The reception will follow immediately. Then, of course, at 3 p. m. that same day, your humble scribe will do likewise. Believe me, the pre-events that lead up to a marriage are really something. We have come to the conclusion that the honored persons should be two or three people instead of one, to answer all the social courtesies extended, sending out invitations, thank you notes, keeping appointments with the dress maker, milliner, rehearsals, showers, showers, showers, and showers galore . . . Well, it's been loads of fun and believe me, every bride and groom-elect will never forget the pre-nuptials. Know we won't . . .

INTERESTING NOTES

Weren't we pleased, when on last Monday afternoon, none other than David Carlisle visited the Eagle office, all diked out in his Westpoint uniform. Dave, now in his second year, is a 2nd Classman with two more years to go. His visit in L. A. will last until the first week in July, and then it will be back to Westpoint and more studies. Though away from home, he manages to keep in line with what's happening on the local front by exchanging bits of news from home, with Gloria Roberts, Elizabeth Garrott and several other Angelenos now in school back New York way. The Edward Carlisles are as proud as punch over their brilliant son's achievements. We all doff our hats to Dave, for he deserves it. . . . On June 26, Ella Louise Pruden will be starting on her first trip down Mexico way. The local school teacher will study at the University of Mexico this summer. . . . Just for a bit of relaxation, the Rip Russells and Billy Faulkners hied off to the shores of Santa Barbara over the past week end. The offsprings were also among those present enjoying the outing. . . . Eloise Johnson, Bill's better half, leaves this week to spend the summer with her parents in Chicago and grandparents in Tennessee. . . . Dorothy Nicholas, who leaves New York, where she is seeing her famous husband off to Paris, will return to L. A. via motor. While in Chicago, she plans to stop with Alma Collins, who is still busy as a bee working on her Doctorate in Philosophy at Chicago University. . . . Atty. Martha Jefferson was hostess to the Stork Shower, given in honor of Mrs. Ella K. Mays on last Saturday morning. Many pink and blue packages were opened by the honoree. . . . There is no news like stork news, so says LaMar Hill, who passed cigars to all his friends over the past week end. The young Angelus executive, who has two beautiful daughters, was left speechless when the good news came that his third family addition was a little boy. We are all happy to congratulate the John L. Hills. Mrs. Hill is the popular Puffy Hill of the younger social set. . . . Another proud father this week is Vance Jones. His son arrived late Monday afternoon. Mrs. Jones, the former Odessa James, is another popular younger set member and school teacher . . . So there we have it . . .

HERE AND THERE

Jessie Mae Milhouse is stepping up the ladder of success in the field of sociology. The deb, who plans a New York vacation, comes Sept., is now head interviewer. . . . Social worker Josephine Jordan is as busy as can be with her case work, while working on a Master's Degree, and Eddie Mae Armstrong is taking up a few courses in legal dealings along with her welfare work. . . . Jessie McDanile, who for a good while was our only Public Health Nurse, has retired from active duty, and is enjoying the life of just plain house wife. She keeps so busy she hardly finds time to do anything else. . . . Clara Fentress, the little lass who has a flare for fashion, informed ye scribe that she is now assistant designer at Toback of California. Bet it won't be long before La Fentress is head designer, for she certainly knows the facts on clothes, and creating garments that call for that second look. . . . Saw most of these afore mentioned ladies on last Saurday afternoon, when Gloria Ford O'Neal did honors at a linen shower for a certain bride elect. The night before, Gloria Bunch and Leola Beavers gave a Can Shower for this certain bride elect at the Mike Taylors. What an affair. Saw kids we hadn't seen in ages and a grand time was had by all. . . . The following night, Lu Boswell went different and gave a stag party that will stop all stags. In fact the affair was so unique, it will never be forgotten. Twelve popular matrons were guest listed, and a certain bride elect was honoree . . .

At the initial meeting of the Iota Phi Lambda Future Iota Girls club, Dorothy Redd was elected president. The meeting was called to order at the smart apartment of the Andre Vaughns. . . . Jabberwock talk is the order of the day, tickets are going fast and the rehearsing is going even faster. Just who will take honors this time will be a close decision for the judges. On June 26, all roads will point toward Poly High. . . . Comes Sunday afternoon at 12 sharp and the 13 Aids will take the social spotlight with the June Teenth Fiesta at Louise Beavers' home. Sounds like much fun in the offing. . . . The Child Guidance and Welfare League is all out to make their fashion show a big success. The young mother group is headed by Flo Nukes, Mary Johnson, Gloria Vaughn, Betty Alston, and Lou Boswell . . .

Till Next Week

Original Cavalrettes Give Second Annual Cocktail Soiree

The beautiful garden and patio of the Hubert Hammonds, 3550 S. Gramercy pl., was the setting for the Original Cavalrette's second annual cocktail party, held Sunday, June 13. This fashionable and successful affair was one of the season's social highlights.

More than 500 guests came during the hours of 4 to 10 o'clock. Highlight of the evening was the elaborate fashion in furs revue, modeled by members of the club, and the raffling of the four-skin stone marten scarf, which was won by Glenn Wilmingham, a westside business man.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Muriel Jefferson at 1231 W. 31st st.

Two Fine Music Groups To Sing

The WARD SINGERS OF PHILADELPHIA and the CORBENETT SINGERS OF RACINE, WISCONSIN, will be singing at Opportunity Baptist church, 2308 Griffith ave. (cor. 23 Griffith, upstairs). Opportunity invites the public to worship with them and hear America's foremost singers. The WARD SINGERS of Philadelphia, will be singing in their first program after the opening exercise of the church, Honday, June 21, 8 p.m. They are nationally known from coast to coast. You haven't heard all of the singers of America until you hear this group.

Wednesday night, June 23, the church will present another famous group, Helen Corbet and her Corbenetts Singers of Racine, Wisconsin. This is another outstanding group and is their first appearance on the West Coast. Hear them at their best at Opportunity, where they feel free to sing to the Glory of God —and where you will feel free to worship in spirit and in truth. Don't forget the dates, on Monday night, June 21; it's the Ward Singers and Wednesday night, June 23, it's Helen Corbett and her Corbenetts.

The pastor, Rev. E. D. Smallwood, oficers, and members invites you to worship with us at all times. S.S. 9:45 a.m. and B.T.U. 6 p.m. Morning and evening services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Hear two of the best choirs in the city our Youth Choir and our Gospel Choir with Miss M. Brown at the piano and Charles Brown at the console. Rev. E. D. Smallwood, pastor.

Gets B.S. Degree

Miss Lula Catherine Greene was among the many to receive her B.S. in Education from the University of Southern California last week. Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Greene Jr., and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Greene. She is a member of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and plans teaching as her career.

The Roundtable Bridge discussion is still held on Tuesday nights prior to the playing time. All bridgers are invited to come out and strengthen your bridge game by learning the correct bids. The club has two capable instructors, Mr. Ellis Veil and Mrs. Gene Robinson.

Willing Workers Annual Tea Proves Outstanding Affair

The annual tea of the Willing Workers' Social Club was carried out as scheduled and in a very festive atmosphere.

The affair began with the singing of the Negro National anthem, immediately followed by a short spicy varied program. Mrs. Myrtle Williams served as mistress of ceremonies. Her handling of the program was outstanding.

Participants included, Miss Gertha Love, Mrs. Helen Carson, Mr. R. Lemuel Hatter, Mrs. Hilda Lashley, Mr. Carl Chatman, Mr. Grundy and Mrs. Myrtle Chatman.

Representatives of Brown's Jewelry Company on S. Western had an elaborate display of watches, silver and jewelry.

Mrs. Helen Smith, chairlady of the fashion show is to be commended for the very smart performance. The models were, Mrs. Anna B. Goodson, Miss Tressie Thomas, Miss Deborah Dillon, Mrs. Kingsley, Mrs. Daniel, Mrs. Ella Hampter, Mrs. Hilda Lashley.

The floral designs were beautiful and many useful prizes were presented.

Among the fraternal notables present were, Mr. E. W. Fisher, State Grand Master; Mr. Carl Chatman, State Deputy Grand Master; Mrs. Myrtle Chatman, president of the willing workers club and worthy princess of Victory Temple 24.

Mrs. Lucy Austin was general chairlady of the project. Mr. Sammie Carrol presided at the piano. Co-sponsors were the Willing Workers Club, McCollough Lodge Number 1; Victory Temple 24 Order of the U.B.F. and S.M.T. of the California Jurisdiction.

N. Y. Woman Selected By IPP

NEW YORK—Mrs. Estelle Massey Osborne, former president of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses, has been named assistant to the campaign manager of the National Wallace for President Committee. The appointment was announced by C. B. Baldwin, Wallace campaign manager.

"The fact tha tthe new party of Henry Wallace is determined to completely eliminate jimcrow from American life and has a detailed program for achieving complete equality for women in our society is arousing widespread support among Negro women," Mrs. Osborne said.

"I feel certain that the majority of them will vote for Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor."

A native of Texas, Mrs. Osborne took her BS and MA degrees in nursing education and sociology at Columbia university. She has had a long career as one of the nation's leading nursing leaders and was the first Negro woman to serve as nursing director of the Homer G. Phillips hospital in St. Louis.

She was president of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses for five years, vice-president of the National Council of Negro Woman for four years, and has served as a consultant to the National Council for War Service and as an instructor at New York university.

Private Recreation Club Opens In Fontana

FONTANA, Calif. — The first private, chartered, social club for Negroes west of Chicago was established here last week and is known as the Triple-L Club located at 749 Cypress Avenue.

The need for such a social outlet for many thousands of Negroes who live in San Bernardino and Riverside Counties beside those of Los Angeles impelled Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Coleman to convert their money-making Triple-L ranch into the welcomed center.

Construction is underway for tennis courts and a swimming pool. In addition to the various allocations for bridge playing and dining there is one of the best private dancing halls in the area.

In turning the well-known ranch over into a club, Mr. Coleman said, "There is a vital need for such a place for my people in this part of the country, my wife and I are merely contributing our little share to make it possible that they can have some place to go."

Officers of the new club are E. P. Smalley, president; J. D. Pearson, secretary; Mrs. Pecolia Coleman, treasurer and James Cannon, club booster.

Bishop College Week Will Be Highlight of July

This unique program displaying the talents of children as young as three years will be open to the public. It will begin at 6 p.m.

Besides a number of new pupils, all of those who appeared a year ago will be on this program, excepting that such little folk as Paula Mitchell, Duke Monday, Dorothy Kimble, Elaine Stewart, Delbert Venerable, Douglas Sides, Joyce Simpson and Jerry Lemon will be succeeded in the baby beginners' class by Winnifred Chester, Janice Peevy, Bobby and tSeven Green, James Long, Linda Venerable, Johnella Evans and Charles Trash. David Williams, Brenda Peevy and Trinu Washington are in the regular beginners' group.

Delta's Release History Comics

Responding to a nation-wide demand, the Delta Sigma Theta sorority and the National Urban League released this week 300,000 copies of NEGRO HEROES, No. 2, picture-color true stories of outstanding Negroes. This issue features life histories of Jackie Robinson, Booker T. Washington, Sadie T. M. Alexander, Toussaint L'Overture, Mabel K. Staupers, Sugar Chile Robinson, and the adventures of the 784th Tank Battalion in World War II; and short sketches of Frederick Douglass, Katy Ferguson, Phyllis Wheatley, Tom Molyneaux (early 19th century boxer), and Alexander Pushkin, the Russian poet.

The true stories in the 32-page booklet meet a long-felt need for inspiration material for young America. They will also serve to supplement Negro history texts and to promote interracial understanding. Following the publication of the first NEGRO HEROES in 1947, hundreds of enthusiastic letters were received by the National Urban League from teachers, counselors and parents, commending the venture and urging additional issues. Many of the letters came also from boys and girls who listed the names of other Negroes they would like to read about, several of whom are included in the second issue.

Copies of NEGRO HEROES are now available at the newsstands or may be secured from the Urban League office, 2510 S. Central ave.

Chicago Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Toney are Los Angeles visitors here from Chicago. They plan to spend the summer as houseguests of Mrs. Nadine Coles and mother, Mrs. Emma Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Toney are well-known in business and social circles of the Windy City, and are being feted royally by their many friends during their stay here. They will vacation here for several more weeks, and plan later to return and make the Angel City their home.

CONGRESS TO ADJOURN SINE DIE—THANK GOODNESS!

One bright outlook for many people is Congress' adjournment tomorrow, if carried out as planned now. For the voters in November, election day will be a time of retaliation. During the session of this Congress, they have been threatened with just about everything, Universal Military Training, the draft, the Mundt-Nixon Bill, just to mention a few. The Taft-Hartley Law passed through the two houses against the will of the President—or at least over his veto. They will retaliate, in November, by choosing a completely new Congress and preferably one backed by the Third Party.

The seventy-ninth Congress did away with the FEPC bill; Anti-lynching and Anti-poll tax haven't reached the eightieth, although we may need both come November and any attempt to keep the Negroes in the south from the polls; the old principle of fighting fire with fire might be applied profitably. I would be embarrassed greatly if affronted with a foreigner's question of—"Your eightieth Congress—just exactly what good has it done?" If the question were asked after tomorrow, one might answer enthusastically, "they adjourned." And the foreigner would probably answer; "You're right; that was good."

It seemed as though, in the beginning, there would be difficulty between the Republican and Democratic congressmen. Too, there was a Democratic President and a Republican Congress. It looks as though that too would make a difference. Ah—but do you remeber that UNHOLY WEDLOCK? After that, everything was hunky-dory.

The two most important acts of Congress were, doubtlessly, the passage of the Taft-Hartley labor Bill, and the approvement of the Marshall Plan. The Taft-Hartley law gave back to management all that labor has gained since the days of the Sweat Shops and the Industrial Revolution, which were reviewed in this column last week. And now labor is forced to go into a clinch and wait for the voters to retaliate in November. It seems that under that law we are able to get injunctions against Labor Unions for just about anything. Everything provided by the Wagner Labor Act was covered and tied down neatly.

The Marshall Plan was designed to put a few 'honest' dollars in the American businessmen's pocket and at the same time help out some hungry people. We all know that had we really wanted to help the people in Europe and the rest of the world, we could have done so without killing UNRRA; the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. But under that plan, no one made any money, so that was no good at all. Shipments stopped. Secretary Marshall made a tour of Europe, we decided to help them out of the goodness of our own heart. And Congress fell for it; or was an accessory after the fact. It's hard to tell which.

For a while it looked like Universal Military Training would be crammed down our throats too, along with the numerous threats of war and Communism. But it so happened that this was an election year, the Congressmen would not be pressured, and the bill didn't go through. Incidentally, it'll be a long time before our City Council forgets a certain telegram they received in response to their pressuring of Congressmen regarding Universal Military Training. The draft is still a hot potato.

Some of the tension, however, and fear that the people felt during the session of the eightieth Congress can be laid to the period of time through which we are going. A world war had ended and this is the decisive hour; the hour that will determine whether we shall have war or peace. We fear the atomic bomb and are disgusted with the uncertainty that we face. Nothing is worse than uncertainty and fear among ourselves.

One bill that the eightieth Congress should have acted upon was Taft's plan for federal aid to education. It's useless to draw up bills such as the Mundt-Nixon while there are elements of race prejudice and Ku Klux Klans and unemployment in our nation. And had it not been for the Labor Unions in America, we would have gone Communistic many years ago—that is, supposing there had been no World War II to give our economic system a boost. But the southern states are failing miserably in their plight to educate their own children. We can never look forward to a great American future when, according to recent government reports, we have ten million illiterates in our nation.

A clause in the Preamble of the Constitution states that the purpose of that declaration was to ". . . promote the general welfare" of the people. Certainly nothing can be more sustaining than education. In the same clause, I think we could find room for government control of areas subject to heavy flood losses, such as the Tennessee Valley, which it already controls, and the Columbia River area. Government ownership of Tidelands oil—for protection and preservation for the future—could also be thrown in. These are merely examples, and the Taft bill for improved education through federal aid was the most important bill that the eightieth Congress did not act upon, but should have.

Boys' Summer Club Reopens This Year

The 28th Street Y. M. C. A. Boys' Division will reopen its popular "Summer Fun Club" on Tuesday, July 6, at 9 a. m. The activity will be conducted through July and August. Closing Friday, August 27.

The Fun Club is widely attended each year and provides supervised activities daily, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The club is open to boys 9 to 14 years of age.

Program items include swimming instruction, athletic games, educational trips once each week, and an all-day trip to the beach every Friday. Also included will be handicrafts, story hour, movies and bible study.

The "Fun Club" is ideal for working parents who want their youngsters off the streets and under expert supervision during working hours.

Hostesses Send Girl Scout to Camp

After a brief vacation of one month, the Puente Hostesses met at the home of the president, Mrs. Mabel Troy for its bimonthly meeting, Sunday, June 13.

Regular business meeting was held and sufficient money voted out of the treasury to send a Girl Scout to camp this summer. The club plans to do this annually.

Following a delicious chicken dinner, topped off with homemade ice cream and cake, bridge was played and lovely prizes were won by Mrs. Mary Blackwell, first; Mrs. Thelma Aldridge, second; Mrs. Myrthene Foreman, consolation; and Mrs. Eloise Scott, roving.

The next meeting will be held the fourth Sunday in June at the home of Mrs. Margaret Varnado.

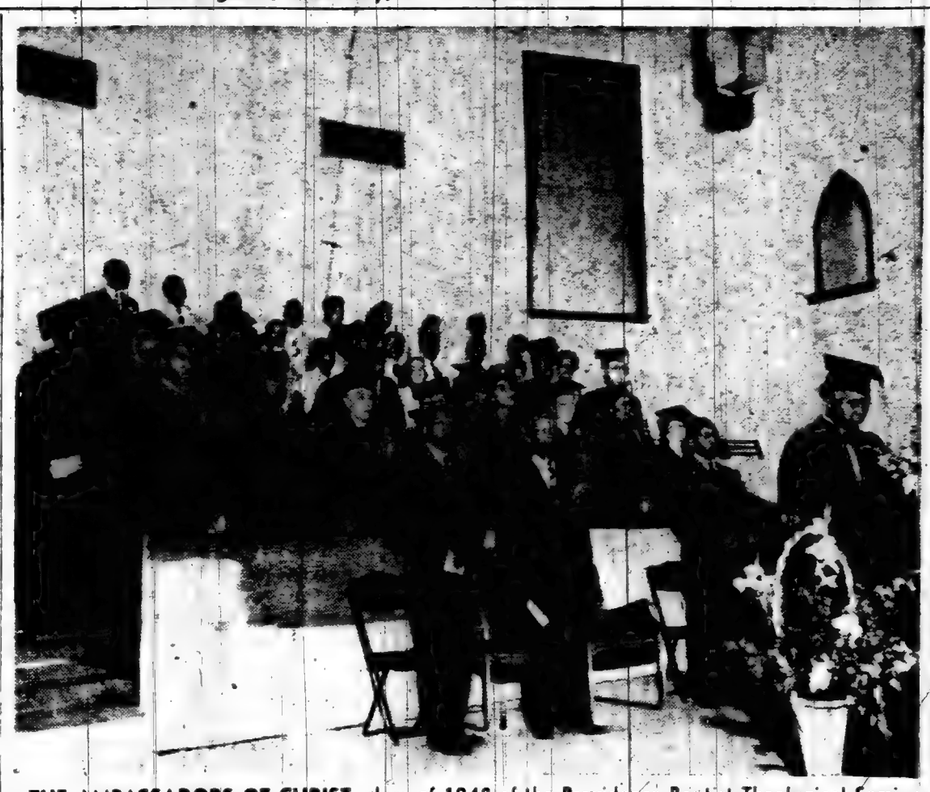
Wilson Heads Century Club Of 28th Street 'Y'

At a luncheon meeting of the members of the Century Club of 28th Street Branch YMCA on Thursday, June 9, Lawrence B. Wilson, public relations officer of Liberty Savings and Loan Association, was unanimously elected president for the ensuing year succeeding Branch Chairman H. A. Howard. G. William McKinney of Broadway Federal Savings and Loan Association was elected vice-president and Professor H. O. Cook was chosen as secretary. Plans were proposed to make this organization of the leaders among the sustaining membership of the Branch an important force in the affairs of the "Y" as well as vital factor in community welfare.



Boy Scout Meet In Mt. Bethel Sun.

The National Trade and Professional School for Women, Inc. Washington, D. C. will hold a summer school at Lincoln Heights, near Washington, offering refresher courses for Christian women who wish to engage in missionary or church work, or Christian social service work.

The school will extend from July 7 to August 15, with registration beginning June 15. Abridged courses will be given in the Bible, current study books, personal work, missionary methods, public speaking, first aid, music, recreation, practical arts and crafts, and young people and guidance.

A similar school will also be held for church groups from Washington, Baltimore, and other nearby towns, August 8-15.

There will be a senior and youth fellowship week, special interracial conferences, and sight seeing.

THE AMBASSADORS OF CHRIST, class of 1948 of the Providence Baptist Theological Seminary, the Rev. Dr. L. B. Brown, president, held a special program as a feature of their graduation ceremonies at Victory Baptist Church, 48th and McKinley last Thursday evening. Highlight of the evening was a public-speaking contest participated in by members of the graduating class. Rev. Brown announced there would be a summer session of the Seminary, and the fall term, for which enrollment is now open, will begin in September. Shown above is Rev. Brown officiating at the graduation ceremonies.

Baptist Boy Scout Division At 1000 Pines Conference

The Fifth Annual Young People's summer conference of the Western Baptist State Convention of California at Thousand Pines, July 24-31, Rev. Horace N. Mays, dean, will have a "Baptist Boy Scout Division."

Since there are accommodations for only 225 at Thousand Pines, registration will close as soon as this number has been received. Boy Scout Troops which are desirous of this wonderful adventure and camping experience are urged to send registrations in immediately.

Registration fee of $17.00 may be sent to Rev. B. Clarence Cooke, 1206 Maple Ave., 216 Bendix Building, Los Angeles Area Council, Boy Scouts of America; or directly to Dean Horace Mays, Room 602, H. W. Hellman Bldg., 354 S. Spring Street, Los Angeles.

All boy Scouts going to Thousand Pints will meet at St. Paul Baptist Church, 21st Street and Naomi Avenue in Los Angeles, Saturday, July 24. It is important that every Scout be present on time as we must have roll call before buses arrive, which will leave promptly at 12 o'clock. All Scouts will be returned to St. Paul Baptist Church by bus approximately 12 o'clock noon, Saturday, July 31st.

Thousand Pines is located about 70 miles from Los Angeles near Crestline, California, in the San Bernardino Mountains. The address of the Camp is—Camp Thousand Pines, Box 93, Crestline, California.

Complete medical service is provided at the camp. Every care and precaution is taken to provide for the safety of the young people.

Calif. Labor School Students Protest Subversive Label

At a meeting Friday, June 11, the student body, staff, and faculty of the California Labor School, San Francisco, adopted the following resolution and requested that copies be sent to the President of the United States, elected representatives and to the press.

WHEREAS: The California Labor School has been arbitrarily designated by Attorney General Thomas Clark as a subversive organization; and

WHEREAS: The California Labor School is in the forefront of the fight for civil liberties, for full equality for the Negro people, and takes an active part in furthering the work of the trade unions, it is obvious that the motive in branding this school as subversive is part of the pattern established by the Rankin-Thomas committee and other anti-democratic forces now spearheading a drive in our country to cripple and destroy people's organizations, trade unions and other progressive organizations and individuals, be it therefore:

RESOLVED: that we, the student body, faculty and staff of the California Labor School, express our profound indignation and resentment of this arbitrary and mischievous action, and be it further:

RESOLVED: that we hereby express our determination to make our opposition to this action known to the President, attorney general, our congressmen and senators.

The third summer vacation school sponsored by the Labor School will be held in Asilomar, July 1 through August 1. Leading bay area trade unionists and community leaders will supplement the staff of the San Francisco and Los Angeles divisions of the school.

Students Exhorted To Work For Peace

ATLANTA, Georgia—An ideal pattern of world cooperation, world understanding and world mutual respect would be worth all of our efforts to see, President Kenneth Irving Brown of Denison University told the 113 graduates of Morehouse College recently. "Your position for the next 50 years," he told the young men, "will be in this country, and if you can make some contribution to the problem of a just creative world peace, you will have made a significant contribution to your day."

Lincoln Univ. News

Booker Lemmie's "Street Car Shack" was chosen as the best work in art at the annual student art exhibit at Lincoln University held recently.

In the finals in the "search for talent" Barbara Griggs sang herself into first place. The event, held annually, is an offering of the American Music Festival, Inc. Chicago. Miss Griggs went to Chicago to sing in the national elimination contest July 11.

N. A. Sweets, prominent St. Louis American editor, was elected president of the Lincoln University General Alumni Association.

No More Pencils, Time to Play

Thousands of school children pour happily out of classrooms on Friday to begin their summer-long vacation, and the event will be the signal for the City Recreation and Park Department to step up its program all along the line to meet the increased demand for vacationtime activities.

Saturday, June 19, will mark the opening of the vacation season, and playgrounds, parks, beaches, pools, and camps of the Recreation and Park Department will get into full swing on that day.

The city's playgrounds are open all year, but the arrival of summer vacation will mean increased programs designed to keep youngsters happily occupied throughout the day, with added evening activities for youth.

Music and dramatics will have a place in the vacation plans, with many children to take part in plays, operettas, pageants, and other programs.

Olympia Council PTA Installs Officers, Local Presidents

Olympia Council P. T. A. held its last meeting of the year at Horace Mann Jr. High School, with Mrs. Fred Shuey, president, presiding.

The flag ceremony was performed by the Horace Mann Color Guard. Mr. L. J. D'Ippolito directed the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" — and the orchestra.

Mrs. Elsie Coats, president of the Horace Mann P. T. A., gave the council a word of welcome and introduced her principal, Mrs. Margaret C. Horn, who spoke briefly.

Mrs. C. M. Hatfield, press chairman, presented the council press book to Mrs. Shuey. The book received honorable mention award at 10th District P .T. A, in April. Mrs. Vern Dedmon, historian, gave a report of the council activities for the year.

The annual installation of officers and local presidents followed the business session, with Mrs. J. Paul Elliot of 10th district P. T. A. acting as installing officer.

Those installed in the Council were: president, Mrs. E. J. Stephens; 1st vice president, Mrs. C. C. Walquist; 2nd vice president, Mrs. E. L. Kiter; recording secretary, Mrs. Francis B. Wood; financial secretary, Mrs. F. B. Walker; treasurer, Mrs. A. W. Thomas; historian, Mrs. F. C. Ketzel; auditor, Mrs. Mabel Irwin; parliamentarian, Mrs. J. L. Kierstead.

Mrs. E. J. Stephens had charge of the program, which consisted of three songs sung by the "Mothers Chorus," under the direction of Mrs. Walter Richie. Mrs. Wm. A. Sheldon, 5th vice president of 10th District P. T. A., gave a very interesting talk.

When the meeting was adjourned, luncheon was served in the patio, under colorful umbrellas, by the Horace Mann Jr. High School and the Horace Mann P. T. A.

Fremont Council PTA Installs Officers in Unique Ceremony

The Fremont Council P.T.A. installed its new officers and the presidents of its local chapters in a beautiful ceremony in which the officers-elect were arranged in a circle, with ribbons uniting them. Mrs. J. J. Millard conducted the installation ceremony.

The meeting with the installation of officers was held in the auditorium of the Graham Avenue school, last Friday at 10 a.m.

Mrs. G. A. Lohrmann retiring president, presented the gavel of the Council to Mrs. F. R. Compton who was intalled as president, and wished her the pleasure she has had in presiding over the fine group of workers.

The officers installed to assist Mrs. Compton were; Mrs. J. E. Kuhn, Jr., 1st vice-president; Mrs. George Thompson, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Carl B. Foreman, secretary; Mrs. L. C. Garner, financial secretary; Mrs. Douglaw Stowe, treasurer; Mrs. F. C. Ketzel, auditor; Mrs. L. B. Lauderdable, historian; Mrs. D. A. Allen, parliamentarian.

Yoemans; Trinity — Mrs. Jose G. Pelayo; 20 St.—Mrs. Cecil A. Patterson; Wadsworth—Mrs. D. E. Austin.

Mrs. Chas. Emrick presented Jessie Sherman Nordstrom, principal of Graham school, who welcomed the Council and presented Mrs. Compton with a gavel as a gift from Graham P. T. A.

Mrs. Compton presented Mrs. Lohrman with a past council presidents' pin and added a small gavel as a personal gift.

Mrs. J. E. Kuhn Jr., surprised Mrs. Lohrman with a gift from the council members, a beautiful pen and pencil set and a gorgeous bow knot lapel pin.

Mrs. Nora Foss presented a honorary life membership to Mrs. L. C. Garner, financial secretary and hospitality chairman of the Fremont Council.

Mrs. J. E. Kuhn, membership chairman, reported that 103 new members have joined the Council since the March report, and that the membership now is 10,063.

Guests introduced at the meeting were; Mrs. A. M. Smith, president Fremont High P. T. A. and past president of Fremont Council and of Graham P. T. A. Mrs. Chas. Langfield, Tenth District historian-elect; Miss Gladys Hansen, principal 92nd Street School; Miss Ruth Hudson, social editor of The Florence Messenger; and Mrs. Zula Price, of the Southeast Wave.

The Graham P. T. A. served a lovely luncheon.

White Pastor Lincoln Grad; Jewish and Moslem Students

One of the interesting sidelights of the Lincoln University commencement was the awarding of the degree of Bachelor of Arts by President Horace Mann Bond to the Rev. Charles William Eby, pastor of the Baptist Church in Oxford, Pa.

Eby was the second white student to be graduated from Lincoln during the presidency of Dr. Bond, the first Negro president of the University. The first was Ralph Oves, in the class of 1947, who was captain of the football team prior to his induction into the army.

Lincoln University, the first institution in America founded specifically to provide an education for Negroes, has at the same time always been interracial in its student body. At the present time it enrolls Negro, white, and East Indian students. It is also inter-faith and international, enrolling one Jewish student from New York, four Moslem students from Africa, one Moslem born in Bombay, India; one Catholic from Lyons, France, two Catholics from Nigeria, West Africa, in addition to its large Protestant and Catholic American and foreign-born population.

Three Chinese students will enroll in the fall; two in the Theological Seminary and one in the College.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Subject: The Hope for the Messiah; Lesson Text and Outline. Ezekiel 34:23-28; Daniel 7:13-14; Zechariah 9:9-10; 12:10; 13:1. Moto Text, Isaiah 9:6.

INTRODUCTION

The hope for the Messiah first revealed to Adam in the "Gospel of Genesis" and repeated to Abraham, Moses, David, and Isaiah, wts now proclaimed through Ezekiel, Daniel, and Zechariah.

COMMENTS

1. It is no new thing for the flock of God to receive a great deal of damage and mischief from those that are themselves of the flock, and in eninemt stations in it. These, and these only, that have the Lord Jesus for their prince have the Lord Jehovah for their God. And then they, even the house of Israel, shall be my people. If we take God to be our God, he will take us to be his people. From this covenant between God and Israel there results communion. Those may lay down and sleep securely, sleep at ease, that have Christ for their prince; for he will be their protector, and make them to dwell in safety. None shall hurt them, nay, none shall make them afraid.

If God be for us, who can be against us? Through Christ, God delivers his people not only from the things they have reason to fear, but from their fear even death itself, from all that fear that has torment. All our disquieting fears arise from our ignorance of God and mistakes concerning him. Their experience of his particular care concerning them encourages their confidence in Him. Those that are the blessed of the Lord must study to make themselves blessings to the world. He that is good, let him do good; he that has received the gift, the grace, let him minister the same.

2. The Lord descended in the clouds of Heaven, came into the world unseen, as the glory of the Lord took possession of the Temple in a cloud. The empires of the world were beasts that rose out of the sea; but Christ's kingdom is from above. He is the Lord from Heaven. Christ made that cloud his chariet, wherein he rode triumphantly to the upper world. He comes swiftly, irresistibly, and comes in state, for he comes with the clouds of Heaven. By this solemn near approach which he made to the Ancient of days it appears that the Father accepted the sacrifice he offered, and the satisfaction he made, and was entirely well pleased with all he had done. He was brought near, as our high priest, who for us enters within the veil, and as our forerunner. The Lord is dominion shall not pass away to any successor, much less to any invader, and his kingdom is that which shall not be destroyed. Even the gates of hell, or the infernal powers and policies, shall not prevail against it. The church shall continue militant to the end of time, and triumphant to the endless ages of eternity.

3. The Lord is a righteous ruler; all his acts of government will be exactly according to the rules of equity, for he is just. He is a powerful protector to all these that beaf faith and true allegeance to Him, for He has salvation; He has it in his power; He has it to bestow on all his subjects. He is the God of salvation; treasures of salvation are in him. The Lord is meek, not taking state upon him, nor resenting injuries, but humbling himself from first to last, condescending to the mean, compassionate to the miserable; this was a bright and excellent character of Him as a prophet.

The chariot and horse that come against Ephraim, and Jerusalem, to oppose the progress of Zion's King, shall be cut off; his gospel shall be preached to the world, and be received among the heathen, so that his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from river even to the ends of the earth.

4. In that day, in the gospel-day, there shall be a fountain opened, that is, provision made for the cleaning of all those from the pollutions of sin who truly repent and are sorry for them. In that day, when the Spirit of grace is poured out to set them a mourning for their sins, they shall not mourn as those who have no hope, but they shall have their sins pardened, and the comfort of their parden in their bosoms.

For Christ is exalted to give both repentance and remission of sins; and where he gives the one no doubt he gives the other. Those who look upon Christ pierced, and mour for their sins that pierced him, and are therefore in bitterness for him, may look again upon Christ pierced and rejoice in him, because it pleased the Lord thus to smite this rock, that it might be to us a fountain of living waters. Behold, there is a fountain opened for us to wash in, and there are streams flowing to us from that fountain, so that, if we be not made clean, it is our own fault.

The blood of Christ, and God's pardoning mercy in that blood, revealed in the new covenant. A fountain is opened; for, whoever will, may come and take the benefit of it; it is open, not only to the house of David, but to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, to the poor and mean as well to the rich and great; or it is opened for all believers, who, as the spiritual seed of Christ, are of the House of David, and, as living members of the church, are inhabitants of Jerusalem.

COMMENTS ON THE MOTTO TEXT

Christ's being born and given to us in the great foundation of our hopes, and fountain of our joys, in times of greatest grief and fear. Justly is he called wonderful and counsellor, for He is both God and man. His love is the wonder of angels and glorified saints; in his birth, life, resurrection, and ascension, he was wonderful. A constant series of wonders attended him, and, without controversy, great was the mystery of Godliness concerning Him.

He is the wonderful counsellor, aa counsellor, a wonder or miracle of a counsellor; in this, as in other things, He has the pre-eminence; none teaches like Him. He is the mighty God. As he has wisdom, so He has strength, to go through with his undertaking; He is able to save to the utmost; and such is the work of the Mediator that no less a power then hatt of the mighty God could accomplish it. He is the Father of eternity; he is God, one with the Father, who is from everlasting to everlasting. His fatherly care of His people and tenderness towards them are everlasting. He is the author of everlasting life and happiness to them, and so is the Father of a blessed eternity to them. He is the prince of peace.

As a King, he preserves the peace, commands peace, in His kingdom. He is our peace, and it is his peace that both keeps the hearts of his people and rules in them. He is not only a peaceable prince, and His reign peaceful, but He is the author and giver of all good, all that peace which is the present and future bliss of his subjects.

Mrs. Myart Takes 1st Honors In Graduation Competition

Mrs. Ethel Davis Myart, who read a paper on the subject, "Women March On," was judged the winner in a public-speaking competition conducted by the Ambassadors of Christ Class of 1948 of the Frovidence Baptist Theological Seminary ,held at Victory Baptist Church of which the Rev. A. A. Peters is pastor, last Thursday evening.

The Rev. John C. Stinson, whose subject was "The Negro Soldier," took second honors, and the Rev. J. A. Barber, speaking on "The God Behind the World," placed third. Other contestants were Rev. Andrew J. Carlisle, Mrs. Ruth Washington, Rev. Jerome A. Myart and Mrs. Pinkie Barber.

Rev. C. H. Davis, class president, gave a scripture reading, and Deacon T. Whiteside offered the prayer. Rev. L. C. McDonald, pastor of the New Heaven Missionary Baptist Church, made the welcoming address. The Seminary choir offered several selections, the Rev. A. A. Peters sang two soul-stirring solos, and Mrs. Gradie DuBose sang "The Holy City." Rev. Charles Hampton, past president of the Western Baptist State Convention, and the Rev. Frank James, state missionary of the Western Baptist State Convention addressed the graduates and the good-sized audience.

The Rev. Dr. L. B. Brown is president of the seminary, with W. M. Gould as dean, the Rev A. C. Capers, the Rev. L. D. Stevens, the Rev. G. Albert Miller and Mrs. Ethel Myart as faculty members.

HEADS EAST—Rev. George A. Anderson, pastor of the Third Baptist church, 1210 East 41st Street, is off for the National Baptist Sunday School and B.T.U. Congress convening in Cleveland, Ohio. Rev. Anderson will be back in his pulpit Sunday, July 4.

Antioch Baptist Notes; Raises $700 in May

PHOENIX, Ariz. The deacons of the Antioch Baptist Church raised a total of $488.38 last week, while the mission under the leadership of President J. Roberson brought the total raised for the month of May to more than $700.00.

Rev. R. N. Holt, pastor of the church, preached a soul-stirring sermon at the 11 o'clock service last Sunday. If your soul is hungry for God's word, come to Antioch Baptist, corner 11th and Monroe, and you will be spiritually fed. The Sunday school is prospering under the leadership of Supt. Bro. Walters.

39th District Conf. CME Church Meets

The 39th annual session of the District Conference of the Los Angeles District, Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, will be held this week beginning Wednesday, and continuing through Sunday, at the New Era C.M.E. Church, 10111 Hickory Street, South Los Angeles.

Dr. J. R. Starks, of Dallas, Texas, will be the noonday speaker each day. Dr. J. B. Bircher is the presiding elder, and the Rev. S. R. H. Banks is the host pastor.

The Women's Missionary Society is also meeting. Miss Nancy Burns is the president.

The piblic is invited.

Big Revival at Tabernacle Baptist

Rev. M. G. Ward, pastor-evangelist of Chicago, will conduct a big revival at the Tabernacle Baptist Church, 950 Hemlock street, beginning next Sunday, June 20, at the 11 a.m. service. It will continue through the following Sunday, June 27.

The services each week evening will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Take the Central avenue trolley or the "B" car to 12th and Central. Walk one block east. Look to the left, and you'll see the church.

"Come and be saved or help save some one," urges the pastor of Tabernacle Baptist, Rev. E. S. Johnson.

Voice of Victory Receives Hearty Acclaim of Listeners

The first broadcast of the VOICE OF VICTORY, sponsored by the Victory Baptist church, and emanating over the air lanes of KGFJ from the spacious auditorium of the church located at 48th and McKinley avenue, was encouraging in light of the reaction of the broadcast audience, and the plaudits of the listening audience. Many telegrams, telephone calls, letters and verbal responses to this first broadcast have encouraged the church and its active leader, Rev. Arthur A. Peters, to spare no effort to make subsequent broadcasts increasingly listenable and enjoyable. Rev. Clayton D. Russell, live-wire pastor of the Peoples Independent Church of God in Christ, sent a congratulatory message concerning the first broadcast.

In keeping with the resolve to make constant and unfailing efforts to provide its radio audience with increasingly enjoyable listening entertainment, the VOICE OF VICTORY is planning to bring via the air lanes and into your homes, the voices of many well-known artists. On June 20 the VOICE OF VICTORY expects to add to its harmonies those of the popular Smith Jubilee Singers, and the dulcet tones of Mrs. Josephine Cooper, soloist. So tune in on KGFJ, 1230 on your radio dial, from 9:30 to 10 each Sunday evening.

Victory Baptist church is not limiting its efforts to the conduct of the VOICE OF VICTORY however. This church feels its obligation as a community organization, and attempts to keep its doors open for the attendance of its members and the public during most of the week, as well as on Sundays. Nightly, from June 14 through June 20, the Gilbert Family will hold their farewell services in the Victory Baptist church auditorium. The public is invited to atend, and it is certain that every individual who has at some time had a heart made lighter through the spiritual administrations of this famous religious group, will wish to lend his or her presence during this week of farewell.

On Sunday, June 20, at 3:30 in the afternoon, the famous Ward Singers of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, will conduct their first services in the city of Los Angeles. They will launch their service by appearing at the Victory Baptist church on the afternoon of the same day on which the Gilbert Family will give their farewell service. So plan to culminate a week of spiritual feasting by attending Victory Baptist church all day Sunday, June 20, at 11 for the morning services; at 3:10 p.m. for the introductory service of the Ward Family; at 7:30 p.m. for the Farewell Service of the Gilbert, and at 9:30 p.m. for the second broadcast of the VOICE OF VICTORY. In any case, if for any reason you cannot leave your home, tune in any join us over the air—KGFJ, 1230 on your dial, from 9:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Victory offers you a week of inspiration.

Baha'i World Faith

"The Advent of Divine Justice" will be the subject of the lecture to be given by Mr. Charles McAllister at 3 p.m. Sunday, June 20, in the Los Angeles headquarters of the Baha'i World Faith, 331 South New Hampshire Ave.

"The world is one home and mankind its citizens. A world legislature — a world police force." These are solutions to the world problems of today, foretold 80 years ago.

Scout Executive To Speak Sunday

The Rev. B. Clarence Cooke, Field Scout Executive, Los Angeles Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, delivered the annual sermon for the Esther Day Services of the Order of the Eastern Star, last Sunday, at 2:30 p.m., in the main auditorium of the Morning Star Baptist Church, 1334 East 41st Street, Los Angeles, California, Rev. W. L. Strauther, Pastor.

Rev. Cooke gave a challenging message to the Sorority. He chose his sermon text from the Book of Ruth. "Ruth," he stated, "is a heroine of Faith. You today represent this devout woman of faith, whose faith was made obvious in her words, 'Thy people shall be my people and thy God my God.'"

The young clergyman is active in religious and civic activities. He is a Master Mason and Chaplain of Douglas Lodge No. 33, F. and A. M., Prince Hall Affiliation. Mr. Cooke, as Field Scout Executive, will be the guest speaker at Holy Name Society of the Holy Name Catholic Church, Sunday morning, 9 a.m., June 13. His subject will be "If I Were a Devil." The purpose of the presentation will be a "Get Acquainted With Scouting" Conference. The Holy Name Catholic Church is seriously thinking of sponsoring the "Boy Scout Family" group of units.

"Unsurpassed Service Through The Years"

HUNDREDS HAVE SAID, as time has passed, that the ceremony we conducted was one of correct appointment, and that our personal assistance was with a spirit of sincere helpfulness.

SUCH PUBLIC CONFIDENCE is not won by words. Actions are the only reliable symptoms of sympathetic sincerity. And that is what you get in a CONNER-JOHNSON service, whether it is one of utmost simplicity, or the most elaborate.

Consult us about our recommended pre-payment plan of funeral expenses, with no obligation. It costs only a few cents a day.

Triangular Ch. Night

"The Corbenettes," that renowned choral group of young women who have created such a sensation during their recent appearances at local churches will render a muiscal program at Triangular Church of Truth, 52nd & Wadsworth Streets, Friday evening, June 18, at 7:30 p.m.

"The Corbenettes" are directed by Mrs. Helen M. Corbett, artist of wide musical background and experience. This group of attractive young ladies, whose ages range from 15-17 years, have a most unique program to present Friday evening.

The pastor, Rev. Pearl C. Wood, cordially invites everyone to be present and hear "The Corbenettes" in their musical program tomorrow (Friday) evening.

Dr. Hill at Church Of Fellowship

Dr. Leslie Pinckney Hill, college president, poet, dramatist and Christian leader will be the preacher next Sunday morning at the Church of Christian Fellowship, 3125 West Adams, where all races worship together. Dr. Hill, who is lecturing this summer at U.C.L.A., is currently the president of the Eastern States Association of Teachers' Colleges.

After graduation from Harvard University where he was class orator, he taught at Tuskegee until 1920 when he became principal of the Institute for Colored Youth, which, under his administration, became Cheyney State Teachers College.

Dr. Hill holds honorary degrees from Lincoln University and Morgen State College. He is a member of the Harvard Club, Phi Beta Kappa, and many civic, religious, and educational societies.

Dr. Hill will also participate in a panel discussion in the church at 2 p.m. The day is being observed as Men's Day at the church, under the chairmanship of Robert Z. Hardon and a staff of enthusiastic committeemen.

Antioch Baptist Notes

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Rev. R. N. Holt, pastor of the Antioch Baptist church, preached an illustrated sermon for the children from Proverbs, Chapter3, at the 11 o'clock service last Sunday morning. He used a blackboard for his illustration, and the congregation described it as being like clorax put into a tub of water where there are many dingy clothes. "It opened up our eyes, cleared up our minds, soaked out our souls."

A splendid program was given for the children under the direction of Sister Nora Jackson. The Senior Circle of missionary workers, the Mary Magdalene Circle, and the Lois Circle united in meetings. Two soldiers in uniform joined the Antioch church in the last two prayer-meetings. And two members joined at the 11 a.m. service.

A MILESTONE in religious and community leadership was marked last week when the Rev. D. Robert Cofield was elected to head the San Pedro Ministerial Association. The Association which includes the spiritual leaders of all churches in the community is composed of 31 ministers, and in his election to the presidency, Rev. Cofield has demonstrated the wisdom and value of his program for building inter-racial understanding and cooperation in the community. Rev. Cofield who holds a Bachelor of Theology degree from Western Baptist College of Kansas City, Mo., is presently the auditor of the Western Baptist State Convention. He is a graduate of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, and has served in the Ministry for twenty-five years. Formerly the pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church in Los Angeles, Rev. Cofield has also pastored the Wall Avenue Baptist Church in Ogden, Utah, the New Hope Baptist Church in San Bernardino. Rev. Cofield has stated that, "the problems of the community, both civic and religious, are the interests of the Ministerial Association." He will conduct the July meeting at his Church at 225 S. Mesa St. Shown above are: left to right, Rev. Cofield, president, Arthur Kempa, YMCA program director, secretary-treasurer, the Rev. Percy Furgeson, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, vice-president, and (standing) the Rev. David Houghton, pastor of the Grand View Methodist Church, outgoing president.

CANDID COMMENTS:

Hi Folks: This comes to you from the pen of Peg Leg (Long John Silver) Bates. When the charming and ever popular Gertrude Gipson phoned me and said that she wanted me to be her guest columnist for this week, my reply was "Not me". Why I have never even attempted to write a column in my life, but after a lengthy conversation she twisted my arm. I said "Well O.K." "I'll try anything once" I guess that is how I first learned how to dance on the pegleg by being determined to try anything once. So here goes.

I'd like to dedicate this column to the one thing that I am most familar with, namely, show business. I am very pleased that at last we have a colored show in Hollywood. Appearing at Tom Brennman's new night club on Vine near Hollywood Blvd. You will find an excellent cast consisting of Dorothy Donegan, one of the finest jazz and concert pianist on the American stage, my friends Tip, Tap and Joe, Broadway's favorite dancing trio, and as usual they are terrific. Then there is the singing star (my pard) the vivacious Eunice Wilson. Along with this great show there is for your dancing pleasure Cecil Burke and Bobby Ramus with their respective orchestras. It is great entertainment folks. I saw it. Get out there and see for yourself. I also dropped in on the Ravens, that sensational singing group at the Cricket Club. You probably have heard their recording of SUMMERTIME, OLE MAN RIVER, and WRITE ME A LETTER. Well, you haven't heard anything until you see and hear them in person.

TERRIFIC SHOWS

I haven't been on the eastside lately. But I understand from various friends that the Downbeat, the Last Word and the newly decorated Club Congo all have terrific shows.

Look out for this one folks. This is a side arm curve right down the heart of the plate. Have you been out to see Blackouts? I am not saying this because I am in the show, but this new 1948 edition of it is really something to see. During the year and six month that I have been in the show there have been quite a few changes, in the last three weeks, Mr. Murray has brought in six new acts, and they are all tops in their own fields. My pal, Danny Alexander, the lad who does the terrific dance with the rope, Burton and his trained love birds, Owne McGiveney, the quick change artist, and myself are but a few of the acts held over from the 1947 addition. The new show surpasses the old one three to one. So get out and see it. I guarantee that you will enjoy the two and one half hours of solid entertainment. This might sound silly, but a lot of people ask me how do they treat "our people" out there. So in order to avoid future questions on the subject, I would like to report here and now. As for accommodations everyone receives the same courtesy and privileges, and may sit wherever they please. Ken Murray insists that Blackouts is EVERYBODY'S SHOW.

I have told you about Blackouts and Ken Murray. Now I'd like to talk about a man who is deserving of all the good things one could say of another. That man is Harold Cantrell, Ken Murray's (par excellente) assistant. You know al busy men have one person upon whom they depend completely, and to Mr. Murray that person is Harold, who has been with him for eleven years. His job is making appointments and attending to business as well as social obligations for Ken. Whenever our stage manager is absent from work, it is Harold's job to see that our two and one half hour show runs smoothly. Believe me with a cast of 50 people, that is quite a job. Aside from his many duties he has always had time to be friendly to everyone back stage. If you should ask the people in our show to name the must liked person in Blackouts I am sure that they will name Harold. He and his charming wife, Dorothy, and their adorable son, Kenneth, have moved to their new home on Somerset Drive on the other side of Crenshaw Blvd. HAROLD AND DOROTHY I WISH YOU HAPPINESS.

K "N K PRODUCTS

I was standing in front of the Dunbar Hotel the other day talking to a friend of mine. A charming lady passed and said to him, "Hi ya good looking. Your hair looks beautiful." He said, "Thanks for the compliment I just started using K and K Products." Folks that made me feel real good. I had just endorsed the products three weeks ago. I find it the greatest hair straightener on the market today. The manufacturers inform me that K and K has only been on the market for three months. They have been successful in placing it in the leading drug stores and barber shops. To be well groomed with K and K you should use a little K and K Queen oil and Prince Lotion daily, in other words the yare relative products. Pat Moore, the gas king and co-owner of the K and K Products have been demonstrating this superior product at leading barber shops and received excellent results. Out of the twelve barber shops where they have demonstrated eight of them are now using K and K Products.

You know folks, no matter how small a man might be or how great he may become, he should have a woman in his corner, one that is kind and understanding tolerant of his shortcomings and interested in his happiness as well as herself. Well, readers, that is just what I have. Right here and now out loud, I want to thank her for giving me an assist in writing this column. Before bringing it to a close I wish to sincerely thank my admirers for their admiration and applause that they have given me all through the years, and especially I want to thank the charming and wonderful Gertrude Gipson for inviting me to be her guest colomnist this week, giving me an opportunity to attempt to do something that I have never done before. Gertrude, I wish you more success and happiness in all of your endeavors.

And most of all I wish to thank my mother, Mrs. Emma Bates, for accepting my father's proposal. Otherwise, I would not have had the chance to write this column.

Wings o' Jordan Singer Honored

Thurston Frazier a member of the Wings Over Jordan choir, will be honored at a mammoth musical scheduled for the evening of June 23, at the Cannan Baptist church, 1182 E. 35 St.

Following his graduation this month from Jordan high school, the youthful baritone will fly to Tacoma, Washington, to rejoin the famed singing group and take off for a cross-country tour.

Mr. Frazier will sing several musical selections at the Musicacl, given in his honor on the night of the 23rd.

Club Chesterfield

The club Chesterfield, scheduled to open soon under the management of Messrs. Joseph Shipp and Matthew Thompson, plan to present live entertainment as well as a musical bar in their Eastside club. The two well-known eastside businessmen are dickering for the services of the Red Callender trio to open their club, and plan to feature a "name" female singer. The club is being redecorated and remodeled and will be opened for business soon.

TALL, TAN and terrific is pert and pretty Betty Mays, who is fast becoming the nation's number one female bandleader. Betty is currently appearing nightly at the Club Ebony, N.Y., and she can best be described as having a beautiful profile—all the way down!

Congo Club Show Solidly "Sends" Nitelife Editor

The combination of Roy Milton and pianist Camille Howard is one of the best in a long time at club Congo. The Roy Milton band have acquired a polish since their last stop here. They have injected plenty of zip into their playing, and that tenor-tooting Bill Gaither blowing some of the most amazing horn heard around these parts in ages, is truly a musical treat.

Camille Howard, caught by this reviewer time and again, is easily the best pianist-singer around this neck of the woods. She gives out with several terrific tunes, and she solidly sends me wherever it is Theatrical Editors go when they're solidly sent.

There are other acts in the new show at the Congo club, 4215 So. Central ave., but Roy Milton's band and Camille Howard is alone worth the price of admission.

Club Zombie

Catering especially to birthdays, clubs and weddings, J. T. Brown announced this week that his club Zombie, located in the heart of Central avenue at 4216 So. Central, is also available for private parties during the day or night. The Zombie is the mecca for show people, and specializes in deliciously prepared dinners seven days a week. Ravens Autograph Discs as John Murray Opens Record Shoppe

John Murray, progressive young businessman and well known Central Avenue figure, recently opened his second record shop at 4161 South Central ave. On hand for the occasion was the world famous Ravens quartette, who took time out from arduous duties just long enough to drop around to the shop and autograph recordings for their fans and friends.

On the next page may be seen John Murray, owner and manager of Murray's Record Shop No. 2 at 4161 So. Central ave. and the Ravens, who autographed a score of recordings for the many fans on hand to witness the opening. Mrs. Jackie Anderson, business manager of the shop, looks on, pleased with the success and the capacity crowd which greeted the popular singing quartette. At the right top, in the usual order are: Clara Waters, head salesgirl, who was formerly associated with the Number Please wire recording company and an "ah-tractive lass with a voice as soft as the glow of alter candles," sez the EAGLE theatrical Editor JTG; John Murray, owner and Jackie Anderson stands next to Miss Waters while Lawrence Pleasant, bookkeeper and Bradye Lacy, Salesgirl, looks on in pic above.

Mr. Murray is well known by all record enthusiasts, and may be remembered for his ability to bring to the public those hard to get records during the war years. Mr. Murray, during that time, was associated as buyer and manager for the Number Please wire music company.

Mrs. Jackie Anderson, business manager, announced this week that in addition to the Blues, BeBop, Religious and Classic records, a new children's record corner is being planned.

Record shop No. 1, 1055 E. Vernon ave., is open daily except Sunday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Record shop No. 2, 4161 So. Central ave., is open daily, INCLUDING Sunday, from 9 a.m. until 12 midnight.

PLATTER CHATTER

Capitol Records comes out with several interesting releases this month. Malaguena as played by Billy Butterfield and his orches comes out as something smooth and rhythmic, with an effective arrangement featuring the Butterfield trumpet.

Makes Me Feel Like Flying Away to Be at Rest (Lord, Give Me Wings) features the stirring and powerful solo baritone voice of J. Earle Hines, conductor of the St. Paul Baptist Church choir. The singing of this popular song is extremely rhythmic, and the entire choir swings all the way.

I'm Sorry But I'm Glad is a slow and melancholy ballad which is given the proper romantic touch by the Margaret Whiting pipes, while Frank DeVol and his orchestra provide the background.

Dig a Little Deeper in God's Love, an inspired performance featuring more than 150 voices,

Sherman Williams Is Solid Draw At Jack's Nightspot

At Jack's Basket Room, on So. Central Ave. near East 32nd Street, Sherman Williams and his band tops the bill, and tho you couldn't ask for more, you get it anyway in generous quantities.

Backing Williams and his swing crew are trumpeter Charles Gillum, rated the best Be-Bop trumpetooter in town, and Bill Day, whose singing and M.C.'ing sets the joint on its ear.

The club is a meeting place for musicians and devotees of solid entertainment, and is famous for its Fried CHICKEN IN THE BASKET! It's a toss-up which is the bigger draw at this swing emporium—the delicious ly prepared chicken dinners or Sherman Williams and his band —but whatever it is, the spot is doing okay in a season which is generally bad.

Ralph Weaver At Elks Saturday

Ralph Weaver, dance impresario and originator of the Zone system, will appear in person one night only at the Elks Hall, 1767 E. 103rd St., Saturday evening, June 19.

Mr. Weaver, who has appeared in some of the leading clubs throughout the country, will appear with a star-studded show featuring the song stylings of Mary Johnson; L'Tanya, rated by critics as being the hottest Hip-Hurler on the nightclub circuit and Felix Cross, whose zippy little recording band will furnish music for both the show and your dancing pleasure.

Sammy Warren, a former member of the Four Flash Devils, is your host at the Elks club, and he is always on hand to see that your stay there is indeed an enjoyable one.

An evening at the Elks is an evening of fun!

Sara Vaughn Still Top Femme Chirp According To Polls

BALTIMORE, Md. — Sarah Vaughan, the nation's No. 1 song stylist, as attested by all major popularity polls this year, makes her first cafe appearance in this city playing a two-week engagement at the swak Club Chanticleer, starting June 17.

A solid lineup of bookings, which will keep her going for the rest of the year without a respite, have been completed for Miss Vaughan. She opens a two-week date at the Bowery in Detroit, July 5, and follows with the week of July 19 at Pittsburgh's smart Copa Club and two weeks at the Blue Note in Chicago, starting July 26.

Beauty Contest Gets Underway

The search is on for the finest brown frame in the Angel City. The Third Annual "Miss Bronze Pacific Coast" beauty contest opens this week in Los Angeles. Plans are being made to send the winner to Atlantic City to compete in the Miss America event.

The winner of this contest will be crowned "Miss Bronze Pacific Coast," and will have all her expenses paid to Atlantic City, plus other lucrative prizes.

"Miss Bronze Pacific Coast" contest is being sponsored, as usual, by the Pacific Coast Productions Inc. All girls desiring to compete in the contest are urged to write Mr. Sid Hazeur, 2506 So. Central Ave.

EAGLE MUSIC CRITIC

Aaron Copland's "In the Beginning"

As we sat in the First Congregational church last Sunday evening, it was almost impossible to believe that we were actually hearing and seeing a musical presentation comparable to the early pageants of the church. As the Psalms so aptly phjase "Praise Him with the harp, cymbal, and the dance," most assuredly Los Angeles concert goers and music lovers witnessed the dance in its fullness and with Praise and Dignity in the sacred atmosphere of a sanctuary. The choreography for the contata "In the Beginning" was of the new ballet. The dance exemplified the English text sung by a chorus of nineteen selected voices and a mezo-soprano soloist. The choreographic lines were angular, staid and dignified. The attire worn was plain, almost without design. The choral and solo accompaniment was continuous, extremely modern in harmonic structure, replete with a myrail of dissonances. Betty Jo Christison, mezzo-soprano who appeared in concert last season in the People's Independent Church, handled the solo arias with great control. The airs were permeated with extremely dissonant intejvals, leaps and atonal interppolations. The chorus directed by Warren Martin, who has just recently resigned this position, handled the conducting and accompanying chores superbly. The choreography was by Forrest Coggan, young student of ballet.

The second part of the evenings presentation, was an almost ethereal performance of Wolfgang Amadesu Moazrt's "Grand Mass in C Minor" as sung by the Cathedral Choir of 100 voices, with solo parts by Fern Sayre, Margery Briggs, Ralph Hovel, Merwyn Dant, accompanied by David Craighead, and Marian Reiff at the piano and organ respectively. The entire work was sung in latin, which was clearly enunciated. The balance between accompaniment and choir was especially well controlled. There are few instances when a performance can actually be classed as without apparent flaw. Mr. Martin and the Cathedral Choir deserve the plaudits of the entire Los Angeles community for this superb presentation, professionally accomplished, spiritually uplifting, musically challenging.

We could not help but comment that any Minister of Music, in this vicinity who would dare to present the Dance in the sanctuary woull certainly jeopardize not only his position, but his life as well. This we say in all good faith.

Eighth Notes

Enroute to our University Summer Session appointment, we will probably have time to compleae the review on the Still's "And They Lynched Him." . . . Thanks to the Lit-Phi-Sonians of the First A.M.E. Church for their gracious invitation last Sunday to the Musicale . . . Sorry we were unable to attend the Garden Party Musicale presented last Sunday afternoon by the California State Association of Negro Musicians, Mable Massengale, President . . . Lillian Moore, Music head for the Five and Over Charity Club deserves addition plaudits for the lovely Memorial Musicale presented recently . . . Jules Jackson Haywood, recent candidate for the M. M. tt U.S.C. was presented in concert last Tuesday, a review will be included in next weeks column.

Byron Anderson Has Top Show At Breneman's in Hollywood

It's not often this reviewer goes out on a limb for a new performer. Too many of them come up, and nothing happens. But out at Tom-Breneman's new Hollywood restaurant-nightclub is a piano-pounding charmer named Dorothy Donegan, who does more with a piano than Ellington does with an arrangement.

She's the queen of the 3 B's: Bach, Boogie and Beethoven. She has a sock piano routine, a charming personality plus a youthful freshness, topped by piano artistry that is remarkable in one small package. She's a natural for a musical, and once she gets a publicity build-up this gal can turn out to be a top attraction.

Eunice Wilson, who recently returned to show business after a too-long absence, is the femme chirp in the show. She did but one song, Honeysuckle Rose, that she sold with considerable skill. She showed a top voice and looks and left a pleasant impression.

Tip, Tap and Toe beats 'em to a frazzle with toe-tapping stuff that solidly sends the guys and dolls in the audience. They're terrific dancers, opening with a bang, never lets down and winds up with the patrons up on their feet yelling for more. Tip, Tap and Toe gives 'em a round trip covering about every type of dance number in the books, and their smooth sliding over the stage wins audience approval from the start.

Celestino's Afro-Cuban band, featuring Kirk Bradford on Alto and the musical arrangements of Austin McCoy and Maxwell Davis, contributes its usual quality work on both the show and rance stints.

Byron Anderson is host at this gay Hollywood spot, catering for the first time in its history to sepia talent and patronage.

What Happened to Columnist Gip At Races Could Lead to Ulcers!

By J. T. GIPSON

The other afternoon I went to the races. I shoulda stood in bed. Joe Adams, who makes his living by talking through a little microphone over the radio in a syrupy voice trying to sell his sponsors' products, stuck his hairless head in the door of my office and said: "C'mon, Gip, let's take the afternoon off and go to the races."

I argued that we'd better wait until payday on the theory that to go to the races without a sou in one's pocket to wager is as funless as taking a bath with one's socks on. "Oh, don't be a jerk," he coaxed. "Come on, let's go." I didn't wanna be a jerk. So I went.

First person I saw when I entered the turnstiles was Jack Cook, a Police Reporter for one of the daily papers.

"Where's it at?" I asked all excited like. "Well," he said. "go to the corner of the grandstand, turn left—and it's right in back of the clubhouse."

"Not that," I said. "I mean the mutuel windows."

For the benefit of those not up on their racing history, a mutuel window is a little window with a man sitting in back of it where you put your money on a horse to win and he doesn't. And you go back a second time and put your money on a horse to win and he doesn't. And you go back a third time and put your money on a horse to win, and he doesn't. And you go back a fourth time and put your money on a horse to win, and he doesn't. And you keep it up all afternoon until the only money you have left is the "don't go" money you've tucked away in your socks for carfare back home. The "don't go" money went.

Moving through the clubhouse crowd from the Mutuel window, Mr. Adams and I were standing alongside the rail watching the pretty legs of the horses. Mr. Adams was watching the pretty legs of the horses. I was watching the pretty legs period.

"Boy," he said, enthusiastically, as the horses paraded in front of the rail where we were standing. "Look at those nice, round, sturdy legs. They're beautiful! Feel 'em," he said. I did, and it nearly caused a riot. How did I know he was talking about the horses' legs? I thought he was talking about the girl standing next to us.

In the first race I bet on a nag called Flying Home. He's still running.

"Try again," prompted Mr. Adams, who wasn't betting a dime. So I tried again. With the second race coming up, I high-tailed it to the nearest mutuel window and bet on a horse named Never Lucky. It definitely lived up to its name. By this time I had begun to use language unbecoming to a gentleman.

"Take it easy," soothed Joe Adams, who STILL wasn't betting a dime, "maybe you'll do better next time."

I let him get what he could out of a dirty look.

The third race was the feature of the day, and I decided to put my money on a nag called War Wise. After the race I called her something else. She was probably wise to the war but she didn't know a !!@$?? thing about racing.

Not having won a race all afternoon, I said a couple of things under my breath that in higher social circles would have been considered vulgar, and left the track in a huff.

"Loan me a coupla bucks until pay day," I said to Joe Adams on my way home. He looked at me like I was crazy. I looked back at him like I wasn't. He won. I didn't get the coupla bucks. The moral of this story is this: "Never bet on a horse race or depend on a friend. Both will let you down!"

Even though frills are prominent in fashions this year, fussy styles are poor choices for travel, because they wrinkle badly, take extra space in luggage, need so much pressing.

'Freight' Gripping Lab Play

By PHYLLIS SCOTT

In depicting a full evening of the fundamental struggles of man, the Actor's Lab touched on more than a spark of realism last Saturday night at 1455 N. Laurel. Members of the Lab and theatre wing bowed to several curtain calls before an uninhibited audience, who crowded every inch of available space in the little theatre. The four one-act plays were as dynamic and real as any force in theatre today.

Probably the best production of the entire show was "Plant In the Sun" which allowed its exponents the fullest range of emotional interpretation, movement, and dialogue treatment. Jerry Paris, Bob Hoffman, and David Fresco brought to the stage roles that were as typical as they were outstanding.

"Trial By Jury" was an excellent interpretation of mass fear and hysteria. Of particular interest was the way in which a basically weak character is suddenly thrust into the position of holding the fate of 11 people in his hand. The hilarious monologue, "World By the Tail" was presented in the Roman Bohnen style, warm and intimate.

If the stagecraft of "Freight" were its single accomplishment it would receive a hearty endorsement from this writer. At moments the pace was slow and dialogue a bit theatrical but it became a gripping thing toward the climax of the play. The all-Negro production had meat in it and became alive. Joel Fluellen was well cast in the role of Samp. Emmet Smith was a natural as Roty, and Napoleon Whiting brought genuine pathos to the drama while Bob Davis tempered the controversial production. The play is set in a boxcar where the background gives the illusion of a moving train. No one should miss it. "Freight" will continue for three more weekends.

Buddy Johnson Ork At Apollo Theatre

NEW YORK—Buddy Johnson, the youthful piano maestro of "Walk 'Em Rhythm" fame, brings his popular aggregration, featuring vocalists Ella Johnson and Arthur Prysock, to the stage of the 125th Street Appollo Theater for a week's engagement, starting Friday, June 18, in his first appearance at the Apollo in almost a year.

While many of the top name bands have taken nosedives at the box office during the past year, Buddy came to the front as one of the top attractions in the band business. On his recent southern one-niter tour, Buddy topped the attendance figures of most other bands that had played the southland before him.

Covan's Kiddies At Embassy on Night of July 10

Willie Covan, who 35 years ago looked at his feet and decided to become a dancer, not only found fame in a dancing career for himself, but has devoted the last 15 years to starting "kiddies" out on stage careers. Every year, the city turns out to witness the talent of the Covan Kiddies. This year's presentation will be given at the Embassy Auditorium, sponsored for the third consecutive year by the Style Art Charity Club.

The name "Covan" means much in the theatrical world. Every screen star of note who has been called upon for a dancing part at M. G. M., knows Willie Covan, who served for six years as dance director at M. G. M.

Willie Covan was known on the stage as one of the "Four Covans," along with Florence Covan, Eddie Covan and Carita Harbert. At the peak of their career, they bowed to public opinion that a good dance studio was needed.

ESSIVE NEWSPAPER FOR PROGRESSIVE

Vol. 69—No. 8 | Los Angeles, California, Thursday, June 17, 1948

Trainer Ray Arcel Blasts Current Heavyweight Crop

NEW YORK—Ray Arcel, one of boxing's top trainers, has written a strong indictment of the current crop of heavyweights, stating that "THE HEAVIES ARE SHOT THROUGH WITH LAZINESS, LOUSINESS AND INEXPERIENCED MANAGEMENT." In an article in the current issue of SALUTE Magazine, Arcel dissects the major heavyweight contenders and finds that "THEY'RE FOND OF DRINKING, FISHING, WOMEN AND ALMOST ANYTHING BUT REAL FIGHTING."

without a punch."

Turkey Thompson—"A fighter who's well nicknamed. He can hit you and hurt you but so can your grandmother."

Lee Oma—"The Detroit playboy . . . won't cash in on his admitted talents unless he settles down to business."

Tami Mauriello—"A good right hand, a good heart, and unfortunately a good appetite. Up in his Bronx flat he eats so much between fights that he can't work himself down to proper size."

Bernie Reynolds—"Strong and he can hit. But possesses an unholy love for night life."

Ollie Tandberg—"In his American debut he fought like an amateur."

Some of Arcel's typical analyses.

Joe Walcott—"He's even older than Louis and that's the tipoff on his future."

Joe Baksi—"The equipment to earn a million dollars in the ring—if he wants to. But he's lazy. He'd rather loaf and go fishing."

Elmer Ray—"Runs up powerful records against weak-kneed opponents. Against better men he does little. Ray used to wrestle alligators for a living down around his home in Hastings, Florida. Maybe with the alligators he didn't look bad."

Joey Maxim—"A clever fellow Arcel believes that the attitude of fighters has changed from the days of the ring greats. Oldtimers like John L. Sullivan loved to fight and in his 75 round bout with Jake Kilrain, fought in a 100 degree temperature, Sullivan didn't even bother to sit on a stool between rounds.

"What the hell's the use," he asked (Sulivian). "I only got to get right up again, aint I?"

To develop new heavyweights, Arcel thinks, there should be more boys' clubs like the Police Athletic League in New York He says the "bum managers" should be "weeded out" and that the right managers should teach promising fighters to respect the sport. Arcel has handled a dozen champions in lighter divisions and such heavyweights as Jack Sharkey, Jim Braddock, Buddy Baer, Paulino Uzcudun and Lou Nova.

McKenley Sets Best NY Mark

NEW YORK—Herb McKenley already conceded the 400 meter Olympic title, fell 4/10 of a second short of breaking his own worlds record in the 400 meters last Saturday in a special benefit track and field meet.

The flying lad from the Islands toured the 400 meters in 46.4s to record the fastest time ever run in New York, and 1/10 of a second faster than the time with which Archie Williams won the 1936 Olympics.

Chucking Charlie Fonville, Michigan's great shot putter, registered the second best put of his life when he tossed the big weight 56 ft 11 in. This mark is second only to Fonville's world record put of 58 ft ¼ in.

Another Olympic hopeful, Reggie Pearman from New York University, tired badly in the stretch and finished fifth in a slow 880.

Robinson, Zale In Sept. Fight?

NEW YORK — According to a spokesman for the Tournament of Champions, Inc., recently recrowned middleweight champion of the world, Tony Zale, will defend his title in September against Marcel Cerdan or Ray (Sugar) Robinson.

The unidentified spokesman, representing Andy Neiderreiter's newly-formed group, said that the recently recrowned Zale would probably fight the welterweight champion or the former European titleholder in an "outdoor New York arena in the early part of Septembre."

Zale became the first middleweight since Stanley Ketchell to regain the championship when he knocked out Rocky Graziano in the third round of a fight at Newark, N. J., last Wednesday night.

Swimmers Warned

Placards warning that pollution of mountain streams and lakes is against the law are being posted this week by the U. S. Forest Service in conjunction with the mountain and rural sanitation section of the Los Angeles county health department, announced Dr. Roy O. Gilbert, county health officer.

Many homes and resorts use water from these streams, hence it is imperative that they be kept free from pollution, the health officer said. Only in designated areas is swimming, wading or bathing in streams and lakes permitted, and persons found violating county, state or U. S. Forestry regulations will be prosecuted.

The same health and sanitation regulations apply to dumping rubbish in canyons and along the highways, Doctor Gilbert pointed out.

Accuse Olympic Track Coach In Discrimination Controversy

The controversy surrounding Olympic track coach Dean Cromwell is aired in the current issue of SALUTE magazine.

Cromwell's track record at the University of Southern California is extremely impressive (16 Olympic starters, 10 winners; more national titles and world recordholders than any other college coach). In seventeen years his teams have lost only three dual meets to college rivals. But Cromwell has been accused of race and religious prejudice and of being therefore unfit to lead a U. S. team.

Cromwell's critics point to a number of remarks he has made. During the 1936 Olympic Games he said to Jesse Abramson, track and field writer of the New York Herald Tribune, "We should not have Negroes on our team; they discredit our country."

A Los Angeles reporter found that in 1943 Cromwell signed a restrictive-covenant petition to keep Negroes out of his neighborhood, saying, "If I went to Tokyo or some place like that and it was made plain to me that I wasn't wanted in a certain neighborhood, I certainly wouldn't try to force my way in."

Olympic sprint champ Jesse Owens says he was shocked to read Cromwell's 1936 statement—"Owens was rendered an ovation by the Germans, although there is not a single colored person in Germany today. They have all left for some reason, and I don't object to that."

In the 39 years he has coached at U.S.C., the 68-year-old mentor has had only a handful of Negroes on his teams—the last one in 1930.

When Cromwell returned to Los Angeles in 1936 he addressed 3,000 swastika-waving members of the German-American Alliance. United Press reported that the crowd cheered Chomwell when he said, "Only one in seven New Yorkers is American-born. Oh, if I could only be that handsome Hitler in New York for one hour."

Cromwell's defenders state that the attack on him has been launched by New York sports writers and was designed to get the Olympic coaching job for N.Y.U.'s Emil von Elling. They point out that Cromwell's first Olympic-team man was Howard Drew, a Negro sprinter. In 1925 Cromwell took his whole team out of a Philadelphia hotel because the management would not serve Brice Taylor, a Negro runner. Taylor, now a Los Angeles righ school teacher, wrote to a Los Angeles paper saying, "Cromwell went out of his way to give me, as well as the other Negro fellows, all the encouragement he could."

Cromwell adherents also point out that in his book SPRINTING, the Dean named Negro Ralph Metcalfe as his ideal sprint type. In the article, the editors of SALUTE present the pros and cons of the Cromwell controversy and ask readers to form their own opinions.

Wind Discounts Dillard's Marks

DAYTON, Ohio — Hammering Harrison Dillard, America's premier hurdler, tied his own worlds record in the 220 yard lows in the district AAU track meet held here last Saturday afternoon.

The sweet running Baldwin-Wallace athlete skipped over the low barriers in 22.3, two tenths of a second faster than the worlds record. Dillard turned in the same time in 1947, but the time has not been officially accepted.

A 16 mile wind, officials said, probably would keep Saturday's time from being officially recognized.

Dillard registered his 75 consecutive victory when he equaled the National Collegiate Association's mark for the 120 yard high hurdles when he was caught in 13.9.

Estonian KO's Tommy Bell in Ninth

CHICAGO — Estonian middleweight champion Anton Raadik scored a ninth-round technical knockout over Tommy Bell of Youngstown, Ohio, here Monday night before a sell-out crowd of 5900 in Marigold Arena.

The hard-punching European, weighing 160, to Bell's 151½, sent the Ohio lad down for a count of eight in the first round. There wasn't another knockdown until the ninth round when Raadik caught Bell in the face with a driving right hand to send him sprawling for an eight count. Bell got up glassy eyed and took another hard right before the referee called a halt

Ford, Mann on All-Star 11

CHICAGO—Frank Leahy, of Notre Dame, head coach of the college All-Star team, will have 10 members of the 1947 Michigan team at his command for the annual football classic in Soldier's Field August 20.

For the first time in the 14 year history of the annual classic, a mass invitation has been sent to 10 members of one school, announced the Chicago Tribune, sponsors of the game. The team includes the complete offensive backfield of the unbeaten Wolverine Rose Bowl squad—quarterback Howard Yerkes, halfbacks Bob "Chap" Chappius and Chalmers "Bump" Elliott and fullback Jack Weisenburger.

Heading the list of Wolverine linemen are the two great Negro wingmen, Bob Mann and Leonard Ford. Both Ford and Mann have recently signed professional football contracts. Ford with the AAC Los Angeles Dons and Mann with the NFL Detroit Lions.

The other Maize and Blue linemen are Bruce Hilkene, Bill Pritula, Jim White and Jim Brieska. The Michigan players are the firsts to be invited to the annual pre-season grid battle.

McKenley Will Defend His Crown

NEW YORK — Announcement was made this week by Amateur Athletic Union Secretary, Daniel J. Ferris, that Jamician runner Herbert McKenley, would be permitted to defend his 400 meter title in the National AAU Track Championships at Milwaukee July 2-3.

"If he shuts out anyone who is entitled to get a chance at the Olympic trials, we'll allow for it," the AAU Secretary said.

Because the nationals this year are designated as Olympic semi-finals, some doubt had arisen whether McKenley, who will run for the British Empire, would be allowed to defend his crown.

Rams Sign Rookie Back

Wallace "Eagle" Matolich, fleet footed 195 pound back from Mississippi State and one of the Southwestern Conference's outstanding stars last fall, this week signed a professional football contract with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

Cards Ink Top Collegians

CHICAGO—The defending National Football League Champion Chicago Cardinals, this week announced the signing of two top 1947 College stars, Gerald Lange of Iowa Wesleyan College and Charles Virgil Eikenberg of Rice.

Giants Grab Connerly

NEW YORK—The New York Giants of the National Football League announced the signing this week of All-American quarterback Charley Connerly of the University of Mississippi. Giant coach Steve Owen said that Connerly will be shifted to left halfback to team with Paul Christman, Joe Scott, and Tony Minisi to give the Giants a "dream backfield."

Brown Leaves Cleveland?

CLEVELAND—Rumors growing louder by the hour here, are being circulated to the effect that Cleveland Brown head coach and general manager Paul Brown would leave the All American Champions this year in favor of his old job at Ohio State University. Brown however denies the rumors.

Louis Early Betting Choice Over Walcott

Special To The California Eagle

NEW YORK — Heavyweight Champion of the World Joe Louis has been installed an 8 to 5 choice in the early betting to successfully defend his title against challenger Jersey Joe Walcott here at Yankee Stadium next Wednesday.

Although Louis has been installed a favorite, oldtimers up and down the rialto are saying that by the time fight gong sounds, the odds will be about even. A recent survey polled the local public to favor the champion by a 2 to 1 margin.

Both fighters are completing final workouts this week. From his Pompton Lakes N. J. training camp, Louis has declared that he is in the best physical shape he's been in since before he fought Billy Conn for the first time back in 1942. To the joy of his handlers, Louis has been again displaying the "explosive" punches that led him to the heavyweight throne.

The champ's trainer, Maney Seeman, has gone all out in predicting a Louis victory by a knockout.

In the challenger's camp a short distance away, also comes the reports of top condition. The followers of the Jersey one claim thata he's never looked better. In bouts with his sparring mates, Wolcott has scored 16 knockouts in the last 10 days..

Walcott himself told newsmen that "I beat Louis last December 5, and I'll do it again. Only this time I'll GET CREDIT for it."

Grambling Grids Schedule Tilts

GRAMBLING, La. — An 11-game football schedule, representing a crosssection of the top grid talent in the nation, has been released by Coach Eddie Robinson of Grambling college.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Old Mexico—Little Delph, the good son of Delphinium-Sardinian and beaten favorite two weeks ago, came back to cop the feature event billed as "The Seattle Handicap" at six furlongs last Sunday at the border course. In doing so he ran one of the fastest six furlongs at the summer meeting. The first quarter in 22 4/5, half in 45 3/5 and the six furlongs in 1:11 1/5 to pay the good price of $8.00 for $2. The well-played entry of Ronnie Vee and New Dough, the latter just shipped down from Hollywood Park, finished fourth. It was a wire-to-wire win for Little Delph. In the secondary event, called "The Portland," Almo Boy, installed morning line favorite at 7 to 5, scored handily over a good bunch of sprinters to pay $9.00 in the mutuels straight, $5.00 place and $4.40 to show. Sevenofive was the only real favorite to reward the form players, coming with a rush on the outside. The son of Kayteekel-Lady Ethelyn won by two lengths to pay $3.80 for $2. The daily double combination of Ima Clown, winner of the second race, and Allied Command, victor of the third, paid its backers $95.20, while the quinela holders of Riverworth, an invader from Bay Meadows, and Judge Belle, who finished in tha torder, received $29.40, although the winner paid in the mutuels $22.00, $9.40, $5.80 across the board. This Sunday, General Manager Walter C. Marty announced his feature attraction will be the Father's Day handicap at six furlongs with an added value of $1,500. This race will bring the best sprinters on the grounds to the post and if the track remains fast a new track record may be made.

The secondary event will be "The Madagascar" at one mile and 70 yards. This also will bring the best distance horses together. Ten other races will support this well-balanced card. The popular Don Domo of the greyhound races, General Manager William Collier, who has been slightly under the weather, is looking like his real self again and with the large crowds attending the night races, his smiling face can be seen again. The Negro fans who go for the hare and hounds races are having their share of winners and big quinela payoffs each night at the races. You can see fans from all over Southern California. Many fraternal organizations will be the guest of Manager Collier in the near future. Plans are now in the making for some big special events, including some the Negro stars from radio, screen and stage.

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PETITION TO COMPROMISE CONTROVERSY.
In Bankruptcy No. 45,399-B

In the District Court of the United States, Southern District of California, Central Division.

In the Matter of PARDEE, CASH AND ASSOCIATES, a co-partnership, Bankrupt.

To the Creditors of the above named bankrupt:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on July 9, 1948, at 10:00 A.M. at the courtroom of the undersigned Referee in Bankruptcy, 13th Federal Building, Temple and Spring Streets, Los Angeles, California, a meeting will be held to hear the petition of GEORGE GARDNER, as Trustee herein, to compromise the following controversy:

That prior to the filing of a petition in involuntary bankruptcy, the bankrupt on May 4, 1945, filed an action in the Superior Court in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California, against Consolidated Records Distributing Company, Inc., in the amount of $18,361.14 upon an open account.

That on February 15, 1946, the Trustee was substituted as party plaintiff in the action in place and stead of the bankrupt.

That it appears that there is considerable dispute as to the validity of items in the aforesaid open account. Defendant asserts that many of the aforesaid items were not ordered by defendant and with respect to other items that there were considerable overcharges.

That on May 22, 1948, the Trustee received an offer of compromise from Consolidated Record Distributing Company, Inc., whereby said defendant agreed to pay the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, in full settlement of said litigation, and in consideration of the foregoing, releases are to be executed by the Trustee.

The Trustee believes that it is to the best interests of said estate that said compromise be approved.

Dated: June 15, 1948.

HUGH L. DICKSON,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Jefferson P.T.A. Closes Work

A very successful year's work for the Jefferson P. T. A., under the leadership of Mrs. Agusta Glover, ended last Thursday, June 10.

The out-going president gave her yearly report, thanking all for their loyal support. She presented each member of her staff a token of remembrance for unselfish co-operation during her two years leaderships. In well chosen words she presented the gavel to the president-elect Mrs. H. E. Chamberlain.

A beautiful and useful token was presented to Mrs. Glover by Mrs. Virginia Johnson as a token of love and respect coming from the members of the Association.

Mrs. E. J. Stevens, president of Olympic Council, installed the new officers with an impressive "Chain" ceremony charging each with his responsibility as an important link in the chain.

Mrs. Ira Pulliam was chairman of the program committee.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

Leadership Training For Youth Leaders

Each year before leaving for camp, the 28th Street Y.M.C.A. conducts a leadership training course for the young men who will serve as volunteer cabin leaders. The course is designed to familiarize the leader with some of the problems peculiar to camp life and how to meet them successfully.

This year the course will begin June 28th and extend through July 12th, with the twenty-four leaders who will go to camp in attendance.

The sharing of experience and orientation of camping methods will insure both that the leader and the camper will enjoy a fine experience while in the woods away from home.

Nevin PTA Holds Last Session

With the president, Mrs. Claude C. McAdams, presiding, Nevin Ave. P. T. A. held its last meeting for the school year 1947-48. After a brief business session the school chorus under the direction of Mrs. Zukin the music teacher at Nevin, rendered several enjoyable selections. Highlights of the P. T. A. state convention held at Sacramento, were given by Mrs. C. Thompson.

The following officers were installed by Mrs. Carrie Thompson, first vice-president of Fremont Council, for the ensuing year: Mesdames J. M. Wise, president; Wm. M. Johnson vice-president; Samuel Langford, recording secretary; Ross Wiggins, Jr., treasurer; Claude C. McAdams, financial secretary; Wilfert Jackson, auditor.

Past presidents' pins were presented to Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. McAdams. The principal, Mrs. Bernice B. Barnum, expressed her appreciation to the officers and members for their co-operation during the year. Refreshments were served to the parents and faculty by Mrs. Ross Wiggins, Jr. and her hospitality committee.

Mixed Ranch Hands Employed In Florida

CHICAGO—The largest Negro-owned ranch in the United States is a 20,000-acre livestock empire in the heart of Cracker Flordia owned by 60-year-old Lawrence Silas, according to a July Ebony photo-profile, which points out that the colored cattle baron's mixed ranch crew includes 24 Negro and white cowhands.

Silas' matchless aptitude for picking top values in bovine animals is credited with making many of Florida's biggest ranchers and he is known up and down the valley as a canny judge of cowflesh and unbeatable trader.

Dr. Reed Leaves For Cleveland

Dr. Granville W. Reed leaves this week for Cleveland, Ohio to attend the National Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress, where he will serve as instructor of adult psychology, a position he has held in that organization for the past 13 years. He is also general secretary of the faculty of congress which consists of more than 150 persons.

Dr. Reed is dean of the Reed School of Christian Education of Los Angeles and author of a number of religious books. His books, "Fundamental Christian Doctrines", "Diamonds From the Ether", "The Teachings of Christ" and "Law and Grace," are being used in a number of religious schools and colleges.

While in the East he will speak in Buffalo, Toronto, Canada; Dayton, Ohio; Baltimore, Md.; New York City and Washington. Dr. Reed is generally known as one of the great preachers and teachers of the American pulpit.

Extravaganza In Music Planned At Holman Methodist

The public is cordially invited to attend a musical extravaganza sponsored by Holman Methodist church, 2003 W. Jefferson blvd., Sunday, June 20, at 4 p.m. Some of the talent that will appear on this program will be: Robert Belton, dramatic reader and baritone soloist; Miss Blanche Patterson, Nobbie O. Edwards, organists; Los Angeles School Board Quartet and many other outstanding musicians will feature this grand musical. Rev. L. L. White, pastor; M. Clifford, submitter.

Missionary Day

The President Council of the Los Angeles district is having their Missionary Day program Thursday, June 24 at the New Zion Baptist church, 22nd and Griffith avenue. The public is invited to attend these services.

Mrs. Mollie Everett

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me,
And may there be no moaning of the bar
When I put out to sea.

Twilight and evening bell
And after that the dark,
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark.

For tho' from out our bourne of time and place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

Mrs. Mollie Everett, prominent clubwoman and religious worker, heard that clear call for her early on Thursday morning, May 27, and answered it, as she had answered all the calls to duty in her life, without fear or hesitation.

The funeral services were conducted Tuesday, June 1, at 1:30 o'clock from the Second Baptist Church, where she had served as a faithful member since 1921. She was also a member of the Missionary Society and of the Senior Deaconess Board.

Mrs. Everett was a devout Christian, a civic and club leader and for 41 years the beloved wife of Mr. Percival L. Everett. She was born in Galveston, Texas. Her family moved later to Dallas, and she attended the public schools of Dallas. She graduated with honors from Tilliston College.

In Dallas she organized the Golden Rule Court of Calanthe, and was also an active member of the Westside Benevolent Society.

Mrs. Everett was very conscientious, and was ever ready to serve in any capacity called upon. As a loyal member of the California State Association of Colored People, she served as Chairman of Music for the Southern Section, and as Chairman of Credentials for several years. Among her other organization affiliations were the Y.W.C.A., Sojourner Truth Home, and the Married Ladies' Art and Literary Guild, of which she was president and secretary.

Her husband and a host of other relatives and friends survive to mourn Mrs. Everett's passing.

The family of the late Mrs. Mary Pleasant wishes to thank all who sent flowers, telegrams and cards, including all who participated in any way to comfort us in the hour of our great sorrow.

Mr. William Pleasant, Husband.
Mrs. Cora Moseley, Sister.
Mr. & Mrs. Nichols, Niece and Nephew.

Edwardian

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. — Diamonds, orchids and ermine seem the perfect accoutrements for the beauty of Leslie Brooks. The new drop earrings, Edwardian in design, with the diamonds securely set in palladium, point up the lovely off-the-shoulder neckline of Miss Brooks' draped gown.

What A Mistake

The War Assets Administration recently sold 5,443 combat aircraft located at Kingman Field, Ariz., for $2,780.000 (original cost was $1.157,000.000). When the buyer inventoried his purchase he found 38 more planes than had been stated on the bill of sale, not to mention 3 million gallons of high octane gas, 650,000 gallons of used oil, and a large quantity of hydraulic fluid. All of which he was allowed to keep. It seems that the WAA had again failed to take an accurate inventory. Oh well, the extras only set the governemnt back about $10 million and that can easily be made up in taxes.

A neighbor of ours strove very hard to vouch certain goals in life He worked tirelessly, and at last had everything he wanted One day he said, "In looking back, the long road up was the most fun—much more than trying to enjoy what I now have." (Motto: Live each day for itself.).

And while living, we can't forget the need for giving so perfectly expressed hundreds of years ago by—"What you keep is lost. What you give is forever yours."

Dale Carnegie points out that "Businessmen who do not know how to fight worry die young." For most of us it's impossible not to worry now and then. But there's some comfort in realizing that most of the things we worry about never happen.

Coordinating Council Meets

The South Central Coordinating Council will hold a regular session on Tuesday evening, June 22 at 10:30 a.m. at the Vernon Library, 45th and Central.

On the agenda is a report on finances to be made by W. D. Fisher, a report of the special employers dinner committee, the presentation of the summer coordinator of youth activities and the election of officers.

The recognition of the Jewish State immediately after its formation will, in the opinion of Truman's advisers, help stop the Democratic revolt against him in the Northern cities.—Newsweek, May 24, 1948.

YEAR OLD BABY DROWNS IN POOL

THE SIDEWALK

I WAS BLIND BUT NOW I SEE

In my early life when I attended church by order and not by free will—Now don't mistake this, for I still go to church and like it—I often heard our minister preach from the text: "I once was lost, but now I am found; was blind, but now I see."

Last night, after returning from Musart theatre where I had gone to witness the stage show, "City of Angels," I reclined on my couch to listen to what goes on in Philadelphia where the Republican National Convention is getting into full swing.

It was then that the old text came back to me with greater meaning than when I first heard it.

"Yes," I soliloquized, "I have been lost in a maze of fear, doubt, and misunderstanding. It is so much easier to be fooled than it is to arrive at a clear understanding on any issue. Being a member of a minority group that had been taught that Abraham Lincoln, a Republician president, freed the slaves in this country, I followed along this line of thought without doing any thinking for myself. The minister said this. My parents endorsed it. I grew into it.

"Down this blind alley I moved for years. Always with the simple faith that in due time I, and all the people that make up the minority group to which I belong, would be freed from the restrictions that deny us civil and equal rights."

"Have patience," said the ministers.

"You should be satisfied with the gains you have made towards freedom and liberty," said the Negro leaders.

To those who once guided my destiny, but who now sleep, I pay reverence and respect. For I know that their opportunity to find the way and undestand that freedom comes only to those who fight for it, was limited.

Today I have come out of the darkness into the light. I am no longer blind. I see clearly the path before me. I am p[illegible] and depressed, but not w[illegible]couraged. I realiz[illegible]at time is the essence of the fight that I, or we, must make to bring forth that Kingdom on earth the minister preached about, and we, the people, prayed for.

After looking backward briefly, I find here is the point of contact—and I throw down a challenge to my fellow Americans, but especially my fellow sable brothers and sisters, to refute this.

While this Republican convention is in session in the City of Brotherly Love, deciding who shall guide our destiny as President for the next four years, let's notify them that their broken promises are fresh in our memory; that the crumbs from their banquet tables; a back-door handout of either soft or hard drinks —nor even the allocation of funds, marked "For Negroes" and distributed by

UPWOA To Ask Pay Rise

Members representing local unions of the U.P.W.O.A. from all sections of the country come to Washington on Wednesday of last week to press the passage of pending pay raise legislation for federal employees.

Several hundred union members arrived on Wednesday morning and assembled on the Capitol steps. From there committees visited Senator Taft and Speaker of the House Martin, who are considered ot be the key

INTER-RACIAL FRIENDSHIP beginning at the roots is the idea behind the experiment being tried this year for the second time by the directors of the Pilgrim House vacation project. Modeled on a plan started five years ago in Vermont by the Rev. A. Ritchie Low, a Congregational Minister, the Pilgrim House project will place 12 Negro boys and girls in the homes of 9 white families for a one week period. According to Dr. Harold Kingsley, director of Pilgrim House, the program will be extended throughout the summer and will include many more children and families than the number who participated in the opening earlier this week. Shown, left to right, are Christine Ferguson, 7; Mrs. D. W. Ferguson; Eddie Ferguson, 10; Mrs. J. W. McNair, chairman of the project; Audrey Stone, 8, and Kenneth Stone, 8. Audrey and Kenneth Stone, who live at 125 N. San Pedro, will be the house guests of the Ferguson's for one week ending on the 28th. (See story.)

NAACP Convention Hears Report On Ingram Case

KANSAS CITY, Missouri — A first-hand story of the famous Ingram case will be presented to the delegates at the 39th annual conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which opened here Tuesday. Mrs. Geneva Rushon, the oldest daughter of Mrs. Rosa Lee Ingram, will give a full account of the tragedy which was inflicted on her mother, who, along with her two teenage sons, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the self-defense slaying of a white sharecropper in Georgia.

Mrs. Rushon, accompanied by Robert, another of Mrs. Ingram's twelve children, will speak at

Pugilistic Dealer Pays $2000

LeRoy Clark, automobile salesman, was awarded judgment of $2000.00 against John C. Westminster, white used car dealer, for assault and battery by Judge Clarke Stephens of the Municipal Court last Friday. Through his Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, Clark complained that on May 19th while he was on duty as a salesman, Westminster, who weighs 220 pounds, assaulted him without adequate provocation, knocking out two of his teeth and breaking his jaw.

Clark was hospitalized for a week at the General Hospital and was unable to talk for sometime because of the fact that his jaw bone had to be wired. Westminster denied the charges and produced a host of witnesses to prove that he was attacked first,

Public Asks Why Police Closed City of Angels

"The City of Angeles," after showing only two nights in a first-class theatre in Los Angeles, was closed by the police vice squad June 17. The vice squad raided the theatre and ordered the play to stop.

Why? The patrons of the theatre, the friends of the play, the citizens of Los Angeles who believe in fair play, are asking WHY?

The play is not obscene. It does not incite to riot. Why was it closed?

Frank Eng of The Daily News, "recommends it highly as an emotional experience and as a significant play."

Bill Oliver, Herald Express: "Forthright and stormy statement of the problem of discrimination elaborated with a matching violent detail." But he does not think it should be closed.

Patterson Greene, Examiner: "Keeps its head well in dealing

Infant's Death Reveals Plight Of Poor Mother

An 18-month-old baby, J. L. Bates, drowned in a water trough this week while playing in the backyard of a farm in Colton. The distraught teenage mother, Josie Mae Bates, receives state aid and is apparently unable to bury the child. The state has offered to cremate Miss Bates' son; however, neighbors are lending a helping hand. Miss Bates, an orphan, is the mother of another baby six months old. Conner-Johnson has the body.

Applicants for School Jobs Have Active TB

Eighteen applicants for city school jobs this academic year were found to be in "dangerously active stages" of tuberculosis, results of a joint survey by the city health department and the board of education showed today.

The first of its kind here, the survey was termed by Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer, a "stark reminder" that tuberculosis exists unnoticed even by its victims, who innocently spread it to others.

"The city health department took 6500 chest x-rays of board of education applicants, including teachers and other prospective personnel, to find these 18 cases having active tuberculosis. All of those found infected are now under observation and treatment for their own cure and the protection of the public," Dr. Uhl said.

Wallace Supporters Launch Mass Founder's Fund Drive

Launching of a nationwide Founders Certificate drive to gain mass support for the New Party of Henry Wallace and Glen H. Taylor prior to the Philadelphia Convention on July 23rd was announced this week by C. B. Baldwin, Campaign Manager.

"The Party of Henry Wallace and Glen H. Taylor can expect financial support only from the great numbers of people who recognize that the greatest hope for peace and prosperity rests with the forces of the New Party," said Mr. Baldwin.

Under the overall slogan of "Make Every Friend a Founder of the New Party" booklets containing ten one dollar Certificates and three five dollar Certificates are now being distributed to Wallace groups throughout the country.

Each bears a picture of Wallace and Taylor and carries the Founders Pledge: "This certifies

Nev. IPP Holds Founding Con. Today Mrs. Bass Speaks

The founding convention of the Independent Progressive Party of Nevada is meeting today in the Plaza hotel, Reno.

Members of the permanent executive board and other permanent officials will be elected, and the party will be placed solidly on its feet for the fight in November.

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor and publisher of The California Eagle, and cochairman of the Women for Wallace, western division, is the principal speaker.

Clyde Gummow is temporary chairman of the committee which is calling the conference, and Marion Owens is secretary.

COMMUNITY SERVICE champions Charlotta A. Bass, California EAGLE editor-publisher and Councilman Kenneth Hahn, youngest and most energetic member of the City Council, took time last Thursday to inaugurate a pedestrian safety program for the Southside. Mrs. Bass, alert to the needs of the community, has long advocated traffic signals for certain dangerous southside intersections, and Councilman Hahn has been a consistent fighter to have them provided. Mrs. Bass is shown throwing the switch that will start the operation of the recently-installed signal at Vernon and Hooper while Councilman Hahn stands by.

AWARD RECIPIENT—Lena Horne, prominent entertainer and singer, accepting Southland Jewish Organization award for her outstanding activities in interacial work. S.J.O., an organization active in furthering a progressive program in Intercultural, Education and Legislative fields, presented this award to Miss Lena Horne through its Interfaith chairman, Mrs. Leonard Whiteman, at its recent Donor Dinner and Installation held at the Ambassador Hotel.

Mrs. Myart Takes 1st Honors In Graduation Competition

Mrs. Ethel Davis Myart, who read a paper on the subject, "Women March On," was judged the winner in a public-speaking competition conducted by the ambassador of Christ Class of 1948 of the providence Baptist Thelogical Seminary, held at Victory Baptist Church of which the Rev. A. A. Peters is pastor, last Thursday evening.

The Rev. John C. Stinson, whose subject was "The Negro Soldier," took second honors, and the Rev. J. A. Barber, speaking on "The God Behind the World," placed third. Other contestants were Rev. Andrew J. Carlisle, Mrs. Ruth Washington, Rev. Jerome A. Myart and Mrs. Pinkie Rev.Barber. Rev. C. H. Davis, class president, gave a scripture reading and Rec. J. A. Townsend offered the prayer. Rev. L. C. McDonald, pastor of the New Heaven Missionary Baptist Church, made the Welcoming address.

The Alhambra Choir offered several selections. The choir was donated through the kindness of Rev. Dave Simpson of thhe 2nd Baptist Church of Alhambra Calif. as a request fo Rev. Jerome A. Myart who had charge of the program and acted as master of ceremonies and directed the choir.

Some of his good friends that played in his band before he entered the Ministry offered thier service with their Instruments to augment the choir. Because they too are working for the Lord.

Mrs. Lucybelle Morris of the Independant Church carried the leading parts in the choir. Mrs. Fuller, formally of wards Chapel, sang Amen. Rev. A. A. Peters sang two soul-stirring solos, and Mrs. DuBose of the class sang "Holy City." Rev. or Dr. L. B. Brown is president of the Seminary with W. M. Gould as Dean. The Rev. A. C. Capers, the Rev. L. Republicans Plan 'Double Talk' On Red Hot Civil Rights Issue

By JAY MORGAN

PHILADELPHIA (By Wire)—No mater what the 1948 Republican platform says about the civil rights issue, you can offer odds that this particular question will be the occasion for the neatest bit of straddling and wo-faced double-alk in the history of Republican platforms. The tip-off came early last week, far in advance of the official convention opening when committee assignments were being perused and discussed.

Delegate Orville Bullington, a mellow southern delegate from Wichita Falls, Texas, probably jumped the gun in doing so, and he most certainly got off on the wrong foot so far as public relations are concerned, when he demanded and got southern representation on the committee that will write the civil rights plank.

The national press played this incident down as far as possible, but no matter how favorably the matter is treated, it must be weighed against the situation in the South regarding what is neatly called the 'civil rights' issue, but what is in reality a determination on how far the white South will permit the Southern Negro to advance in the next four years. It must be remembered that except for party labels, the delegate from Wichita Falls and the rebellious southern Democrats are indistinguishable.

The Republicans will undoubtedly write a nice-sounding plank on civil rights, but there will be a 'gentleman's agreement' to keep the status quo, if not one to revise it downward. Depend upon this convention to handle the issue in the right way, so as to trade on this schism in the ranks of the Democrats. Recalling that the Republicans included a lofty-sounding plank in the 1944 platform calling for a national FEPC, and then led the fight in Congress to kill the proposal, it should not be difficult to forecast what the procedure will be on civil rights.

Three Cents More!

A (Pennsylvania) weekly that re-plates and tries to make like a national sheet, has gone up to fifteen cents a copy. In circulars passed out locally last week, the eastern newspaper rationalizes with itself and its readers by pointing out that the extra three cents won't be much good to the reader anyhow because it won't buy much, but they need it, OI so badly. Reports heard in Los Angeles indicate the reading public is waking up to the fact that what happens here is best reported by established local papers that are a part of the community, and help contribute to its growth and development.

Double Harness For Councilman

Councilman Kenneth Hahn, the busiest member of the City Council, and, according to the volume of reports of good work emanating from his office, the guy who has the Southside right next to his heart, is about to direct some of his tremendous energy in another direction.

After July 15th, he'll be navigating in double harness, and brother that can mean more or less, according to how things work out. The essence of all this is simply that Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Fox of Chicago have enough confidence in the ability, and versatility too, I guess, of the Councilman, they have announced the marriage of their daughter Ramona to Mr. Hahn at the Vermont Avenue Church of Christ on the date mentioned at the opening of this paragraph.

Miss Fox, the daughter of a Missionary to Japan, was born in Tokyo. She is a member of the Zeta Kappa Sorority and a senior at George Pepperdine College. Her father is presently a minister of the Church of Christ, and her two brothers are in Japan as missionaries and teachers at a Japanese Christian College. Councilman Hahn, the youngest member of the City Council, is a graduate of Fremont High School and George Pepperdine College. He can always get a job in public relations any time he grows tired of battling some of those stuffy co-Councilmen in order to get things done for the people.

Death And Taxes!

Per capita property taxes levied in Los Angeles County average $57.75 for 1947-48, compared with $52.56 for 1946-47, and $45.20 for prewar 1941-42, the California Taxpayers' association announce in making public its study of local tax levies per person in California counties. Levies include those by the county, cities, school districts, and other special districts in the county.

Elk's Golden Anniversary To Highlight Convention

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—More than 50,000 members ofthe I.B.P.O. of Elks of the World are expected here during the period from August 21 to 27 when that organization, the largest Negro fraternal order in the world, will celebrate the golden anniversary of its founding. Acting to make possible the spectacular parade that will be a climaxing feature of the six-day convention, the City Council of Cincinatti unanimously voted to set aside the ban against parades in the downtown area. This action followed a request made by Exalted Ruler Joseph H. Fulton and members of Alpha Lodge number 1, the oldest of all Elk lodges.

Churches in this area are cooperating with Exalted Ruler Fulton who is also president of the Ohio Elk Lodges, on a housing program that will provide ample accomodations for everyone.

Convening at the Call of Grand Exalted Ruler, J. Finley Wilson, the convention will include the Daughter Elks who will meet under the leadership of Mrs. Elizabeth Ross Gordan of Washington, D. C., Grand Daughter Ruler. Mrs. Buena V. Kelley Perry, whose mother founded and fostered the Daughter Elks will assist the Grand Daughter Ruler and staff members in presenting an historical pagent.

Grand Exalted Ruler Wilson is president of the International organization founded at the San Francisco conference, and that organization which has a membership of over half a million men, women and young people will meet the last week in, August in a city to be selected by the Grand Lodge.

Much of the convention time will be devoted to issues of importance to the Negro people on a national level.

your hand-picked Negro leaders—will turn the trick longer.

We remembered your promises in the last election—an anti-lynch bill, freedom from the poll tax evil, a Federal Fair Employment bill, etc. etc. None of these promises have been fulfilled. You talk out of both sides of your mouth.

Your new platform, now in the offering, embraces all these broken promises again.

Do you think we forget so soon?

In my opinion among all the presidential candidates, the galaxy of Republican potentials in the presidential race and the forlorn Mr. Truman whose milk and water administration cannot satisfy our demands, there is only one bright hope. The one that promises relief from our suffering is Henry Agard Wallace, Third Party candidate.

Mr. Wallace points the way for the achievement of the Democratic freedom that others only ad lib.

Last Saturday when the Republicans left Washington for Philadelphia, they left behind such unfinished business as the Housing Bill, FEPC, anti-lynch, anti-poll tax, and every other "anti" that denies to us the inalienable right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

On their march from the capital to the scene of the convention, the Republican theme song was: "We killed all social legislation that came before us! Hurrah! And we promise the people of this nation freedom from any and all Communistic influences!"

Now, what the people need is freedom from monopoly and fear; food they are able to buy, and an opportunity to choose their own living standards.

Glamorous women, red wine, soft music, parades, and calling Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor "communists," is just another method of steering the people aside from the real evils that threaten our security and that keep us seeking but not finding our way and winning our sight.

But we warn you, you who are trying to keep us blind and forever seeking but not finding, that we will not relinquish our fight for freedom until victory is won.

Republicans Blasted By Leaders

PHILADELPHIA — Spokesmen for twenty-one national Negro business, church, professional, labor and civil rights organizations, with a total membership of 6,084,000, appeared before the Republican Platform Committee last week to voice the disappointment of Negro workers at the record of the 80th Congress and to demand action by the Republican Party on civil rights legislation.

The statement prepared by the continuations committee of the Negro organizations declared: "We would be less than honest with you and ourselves if we did not say frankly that the members of our organizations have been deeply disappointed by the complete failure of the Republican-controlled 80th Congress to enact any of the civil rights legislation pledged in the 1944 platform. . . .

"Individual Republican and Democratic senators and congressmen have sought in vain to secure action upon the fair employment practice committee, the anti-lynching and the anti-poll tax bills. But a combination of conservative Republican and Democratic members of Congress have used every possible legislative device to avoid enactment of this promised and sorely needed legislation."

Calif. Labor School Plans New Activity

The Los Angeles Division of the California Labor School announces that it has been functioning for two months, and has conducted more than 50 classes for a wide variety of organizations.

In addition to an original foundation grant, it has raised some $2000 for the school's work, and is planning now to execute some single large scale activity to introduce the school to the public.

There will be a meeting of the Advisory Committee on Monday evening, June 28, at which future activities of the school will be discussed.

Read This Carefully If You Hate Jews

CHICAGO — Thousands of Black Jews in Palestine live in complete democracy with white Jews from four of the world's most racially bigoted nations, according to author-journalist Roi Ottley in a July Negro Digest article describing the color problem in the Near East.

"Jewish immigrants from Germany, United States, Union of South Africa and Britain are heavily represented in Palestine. Yet to publicly display racial or religious prejudice in the Holy Land is to have the public denounce one for bad taste, fascism, and bigotry," Ottley says.

Black Jews enter Palestine mostly from Yeman, the Negro Digest feature says, and this greatly lowers the number of white Jewish immigrants that can enter from other countries. Despite this quota problem, however, Ottley continues, these Ye-

Sickness and Its Cause

(NOTE: The articles are true and authentic and are run as a public serv for you and your family. Additional articles will be added from time to tim Study them and keep them for a family reference.) Don't be discourag Read what this famous doctor says:

ARTHRITIS: "Mild attacks of muscular rheumatism may occur when subjected to exposure of cold, when the circulation of fluids in the body becomes congested and the elimination of toxins retarded. The congestion may occur in the muscles, and in such cases the trouble is called 'muscular rheumatism.' This condition may exist for years, with varying attacks of shooting pains and soreness of the muscles, until finally the congestion of toxins locates in some joint of the body. The fingers and toes are usually affected first, but it often spreads to the elbows and shoulders, and in this stage is called 'articular rheumatism.'

"If the disease is not arrested at this stage, the soreness spreads to the hips, and finally to the spine. In this latter stage it is most serious. Every effort must be exerted by the patient to attempt to keep the inflammation from developing to this dangerous point. If the rheumatism in the joints continues, the bones will throw out a liquid bone formation which will solidify around the joint, apparently in an attempt by the body to protect the joints against the irritation of acid toxins in the blood. This produces enlargement of the joints, twisting them out of shape, and producing a disease called 'arthritis deformans.'

"The muscular form of rheumatism is usually to be found in the lower back, over the lumbar section of the spine, where it is called 'lumbago,' or in the muscles attached to the ribs, in which case it is called 'intercostal neuralgia.' If the inflammation extends to the nervous system, and deposits of irritating material accumulate around the nerve trunks, it will develop the disease commonly called 'sciatica' or 'neuritis.' Real neuritis is an inflammation of the nerve cells, and is a very rare disease, but rheumatism of the nerves of the arm is so often called neuritis, that I am simply referring to this form of the trouble by the name under which it commonly passes.

"One of the principal causes of rheumatism is toxemia produced from the fermentation of an excess of carbohydrate foods, or from poison generated by fermentation when these foods are used in wrong combinations.

"In addition to the toxic condition of the blood being a cause of sciatica, it will be found that a certain amount of pressure is being exerted upon the nerves going to the legs by an impacted feces in the rectum, or by the pressure of gas on one or the other or on both sides of the colon. If a tumor exists in the womb this may be an irritating cause of pains in the legs because of the pressure exerted upon the pelvic nerves. If the gas pockets in the colon exist only on one side, it will be noted that there is a poor circulation in the leg on that particular side, often enough to produce sciatic pains.

FEMALE DISORDER: "Many women suffer from genital derangements. There is undoubtedly no class of disorder which has so far-reaching an effect upon the nervous system as derangement of the genital organs. Chief among the irritating sources are:

"1st. A sluggish state of the blood stream which is productive of congestion in the womb and ovaries, and creates an engorged state which interferes with the normal functioning of these organs.

"2nd. The pressure of prolapsed abdominal viscera upon the reproductive organs and the distension and irritation of intestinal gas.

"3rd. Repression of the normal instincts and function through psychological resistance, physical malformation, or misplaced position of organs.

"4th. Rectal disorders, Piles, Hemorrhoids.

"In each individual case you may look for one or more of the above causes, which must be removed if the patient is to enjoy perfect health. The digestive disorders may be corrected through proper attention and the prolapsus caused by weakened muscles of the abdomen may be overcome through development of muscular tone.

"Women who suffer are unhappy. They reflect their entire attitude and in many instances destroy the happiness of the home and family. Those who suffer from painful, scanty, irregular, or profuse periods—uterine fibroids; prolapsed, sagging or displaced organs; childless complexes—you would do well to take steps to correct the cause immediately.

"It is impossible to estimate the amount of evil caused by engorged colon (pot-belly), monopolizing several times its allotted space, crowding hampering other organs in the work."

HEADACHE: "The cause of headache seldom can be found in the head itself, but must be understood to be the symptom of some other disorder located in another part of the body, which affects the nerves in the head by reflex action. If the ache seems back of the eyes, it is either caused by constipation or eyestrain. If the ache occurs only on sunny days it indicates suitable glasses should be worn. If not manifested in this way, you may expect that constipation is the cause and often you will find a pressure in the rectum of impacted feces.

"BILIOUS 'SICK' headache is accompanied by nausea, and can only be cured when biliousness is overcome. Anemia produces a peculiar dizzy feeling in the head, and will persist until the proper changes are made in the blood. Low blood pressure headache is caused by fatigue. High blood pressure headache is usually evidenced by a feeling of pressure around the head, as if a band of iron were being drawn tightly round the skull. Headache at the top of the head is caused by some disorder of the bladder.

"The form least understood is that which occurs at the base of the brain, and is always brought on by uterine congestion. The principal causes of this congestion in women are troubles of menstruation, prolapsed uterus, constipation (which makes pressure against the uterus), and congestion in the womb.

"MIGRAINE is a form of headache which makes habitual visits at certain definite times. I have never treated a case which could not be cured by the methods used in the ordinary form of headache. Cases of many years standing, which have resisted all medicinal remedies used, are often cured as quickly as an ordinary bilious headache."

Dr. Chas. A. Tyrell, M.D., eminent physician, says:

"The most rational and practical manner of dealing with this . . . breeding place of disease is to wash it out. With me it has passed beyond the theoretical stage, for I have in my office fully 15,000 letters from grateful patients who have used this process, under my direction, with the most astounding results; scarcely a disease known to humanity, but has been relieved, and in ninety-five per cent of the cases, cures effected, while tens of thousands of gratifying messages have reached me from time to time; nor is the testimony in its favor confined to the laity, for hundreds of physicians (including some of the most prominent authorities) testify to the wonderful beneficial results achieved by its use."

Daniel C. Munro, M.D., says: "If I were to write the story of all the cases in which colonic irrigations seem to lift the patient from the very jaws of death, it would fill volumes."

Beauty Culturists Battle Over Control of Industry

NEW YORK CITY—That a battle is brewing among the leaders in the lucrative beauty culture trade that concerns itself with the improvement of milady's tresses, is indicated by developments that have come out of the seventh annual convention of the New York State Beauty Culturists Association, held in New York recently. Central figure in the controversy that is apparent only through strategic moves thus far, is the Lustrasilk "Permanent" organization.

The first indication of a man-sized battle in the industry that has grown to giant-like proportions in the past fifteen years, came when Lustrasilk attempted to withdraw from the convention after having signed contracts to participate by displaying its products and demonstrating its new "permanent hair straightening automatic thermostatic comb solution process." Following failure of convention officials to grant permission for the withdrawal, Lustrasilk participated, but failed to demonstrate.

Delegates and visitors were asked to sign pledges to attend a private demonstration that will be held later. Lustrasilk, emanwhile has opened offices on Harlem's Seventh Avenue, and plans to go after the business now serviced by many of the big companies.

Bone of contention in the trade is the letter appearing in Lustra-written to EBONY magazine silk's dealer's manual, an excerpt from a letter originally which appeared in the January 1947 issue. The letter reportedly signed by a Cleveland, Ohio woman comments on the treatment of Negro women by Negro men because of the quality of their (Negro women's) hair. The manual points out that with Lustrasilk permanent, the prayers of Negro women have been answered.

The New York Association plans to hold its next convention in New York City.

BRIDGE ENTHUSIASTS—When a group of prominent ladies get together to play bridge, a new club is apt to blossom. And here it is, the Emanon club, largely composed of newcomers to the city. Cameriaviewed are Retha Beck, president; Charlotte Hendricks, vice-president; Rosella Fernandes, recording secretary; Bernice Wilkins, corresponding secretary; Pearl Taylor, treasurer; Essie Tucker, parliamentarian, Allah Humphrey, hospitality; Beatrice Kelly, financial secretary; Carrie Blanchett, Lois Carr, Helen Garland, and Glenna Hays.

Welfare Council In Annual Meet

The Welfare Council of Metropolitan Los Angeles held its 18th annual meeting with a luncheon at the Biltmore hotel last Thursday.

Ralph H. Blanchard, president National Conference of Social Work and director of Community Chests and Councils of New York, Inc., was the principal speaker. His subject was: "National Trends in Local Health and Welfare Planning."

New officers and directors were elected. The annual report was given by C. W. Pfeiffer, executive secretary. Among the local members who attended were: Mrs. Josephine Brown, Mrs. Cora Lani Flood, and Mrs. W. U. Scott.

Barnes Repudiates Support Of PW In Santa Monica Fight

SANTA MONICA—An indication that the pressure of reaction is having its effect in the struggle against discrimination in employment at the Sears Roebuck store here, came early this week when Frank Barnes, NAACP president announced that his organization had passed a resolution criticizing the "hawking and sales" of the PEOPLES WORLD at the head of the picket line that has been thrown around the company's 3rd and Colorado store for the past several months.

The resolution, passed last week was held in abeyance in order to give the distributors of the Peoples World time to comply with a request previously made that the sales be discontinued. When the distributors failed to comply with the request, Barnes announced that the NAACP, "finds it necessa to disassociate itself from t paper."

Pointing out that, "we do n question the civil rights of t Peoples World distributors," t resolution goes on to say, " consider their action complete ill-advised from the point of vi of the Negro struggle agai discrimination and for full ci rights."

Insisting that the NAACP "will continue to seek the wid possible support for this fig until it is won." the resoluti disposes of the Peoples World stating, "the NAACP does n feel that this . . . helps the pick line or the campaign agai Sears in any way."

YOUR DOLLAR
Is still worth 100 cents
when you pay your Gas Bill!

Almost any purchase shows how your dollar has shrunk!

But with gas, you still get a pre-war dollar's worth for your dollar!

This is because the price of gas didn't skyrocket along with other prices. Gas stayed down and actually costs you less now than in 1939!

The low price of gas has been the result of:

1. Selling more gas to more people! New meters are being installed at the rate of 6,500 a month. We're serving 60% more customers than we did 10 years ago.
2. "Keeping on our toes!" The hard work and know-how of every member of our organization have helped step up our efficiency and brought about more economical operation.

These two factors have helped offset our rising costs. For our materials and labor are at an all time high. Our taxes, payrolls and even the cost of gas at the field have climbed steadily. Extensions to serve customers in new areas cost us 2½ to 3 times as much as before the war. In addition to this, the 1204-mile Texas-California pipeline required $70,000,000 to build.

The next time you receive a gas service bill, say to yourself, "At least GAS hasn't gone up in price. It IS a real bargain!" This economy—plus speed, flexibility and dependability—is why all Southern California uses gas so widely for cooking, water heating, house heating and refrigeration.

Hats Off to Our Youngest Grand-Paw!

By Boyd H. Gibbons

You should have seen that ear-to-ear grin the day Harper Clennan announced to his fellow workers, "I'm now a Grand-Paw!"

You remember his cheerful grin—the one you were so glad to see when your car broke down and you telephoned to Boyd H. Gibbons for a tow truck. Harper Clennan drove it to your rescue that time and either made a roadside repair or brought your car in to 640 South Wall Street for a treatment.

Recently we bought a new Ford tow truck for Harper Clennan and that was his "baby"—his pride and joy—until his 18-year-old daughter made him a Second Degree Ancestor and divided his affections. As Harper is only 38 years old, this makes him our youngest grandpa. So he out-rates all our other grandpas and there are quite a few in this 24-year-young organization of 160 workers

38-year-old Harper Clennan poses proudly with his 13-day-old granddaughter while his first love, our latest tow truck, lurks disconsolately in the background.

We're all kind of proud and happy over this event—and because so many of you have known Harper Clennan we talked him into having this picture taken for posterity. He's been with us for years—worked up from a janitorial job, became a darned good mechanic and now is thoroughly competent to start your stalled car on the road. If your car gets stuck—or wrecked—phone MIchigan 4001 and "Call for Grandpa Clennan."

Merger of IPP and PCA Builds Wallace Support

The Independent Progressive Party receives new strength with the announcement that he Southern California branch of the Progressive Citizens of America (PCA) and its affiliated 26 Assembly District Chapters have merged into the IPP.

A final meeting of the PCA Board of Directors heard reports of Chapter resolutions averaging 90% in favor of the amalgamation during the course of a one-month dicussion period that had been set aside for this purpose.

The PCA announced that it expected all but a few of its 12,000 members in Los Angeles County to commence registering in the IPP immediately.

A consolidated office to direct the Wallace presidential campaign and the Congressional and State Assembly campaigns for the IPP will be opened about July 1, with Bert Witt, who has been Executive Director of the PCA, slated to assume chief directorship of the merged operation.

Permanent officers of the IPP County Central Committee will be elected at the first meeting of that new body, legally required to be held on July 13.

More than two-thirds of the retiring PCA Board are already registered in IPP or have declared their intention to do so. Most of the remainder are members of the Democratic state or county committees and intend to promote the Wallace-Taylor program and candidacy in those capacities.

The Arts, Sciences and Professions Council, an organization of three thousand persons in the radio and motion picture industries and in the fields of science and education, which had been affiliated with the PCA, will continue as a nonpartisan independent group, under the chairmanship of Howard Koch, scree nwriter.

Judge Clark to Speak At Local NAACP Meeting

Rabbi Max Nussbaum and Judge Thurmond Clarke will join Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People as speakers at the open meeting of the local branch of the association to be held at the Second Baptist church next Thursday night (July 1). Mr. White, who will speak on the topic, "Where Do We Go From Here?" will come to Los Angeles directly from the association's annual conference sessions at Kansas City.

The meeting will be devoted to sifting and analyzing the gains made by the association since Mr. White's visit here four years ago, and the recent victory outlawing restrictive covenants will be reviewed. "It is expected that Mr. and Mrs. Henry Laws, who went to jail rather than obey a court order to move from the neighborhood where they had purchased a home restricted by covenants, will be present.

(Editor's Note: The California EAGLE and publisher Charlotta A. Bass, supported Mr. and Mrs. Laws in their fight to live where they desired, and through the Home Owners' Protective association Mrs. Bass rallied national and community support in the Laws case.)

The choir of the St. Paul Baptist church of which the Rev. John L. Branham is pastor, will sing at the meeting. This outstanding group, directed by Prof. Earl Hines, is heard over radio station KFWB on the "Echoes of Eden" program.

The local and national plan for a continuing fight for civil rights will be outlined at the meeting. The public is invited to attend. Admission is free.

Request Passage of Education Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People wired Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., last week urging immediate House passage of HR 2953, proposing Federal Aid to education.

The NAACP telegram, signed by Leslie S. Perry of the Association's Washington bureau, requested passage of the currently pending education aid bill. "As the only feasible solution for equalizing educational opportunities within and among the states."

Third Party Strength Worries Harlem's Political Bosses

NEW YORK — Growing concern over the potential strength of the Wallace-Taylor campaign in Harlem was shown this week by Republican and Democratic party leaders following last week's rally at the Golden Gate Ballroom where 1500 persons paid 50 cents each to hear speakers praise the new and condemn the old.

Concerned most were the district leaders among the Republicanc whose influence with the voters here has been on the downgrade since 1938.

But don't believe that the Democrats were not whistling in the dark, too. Failure of Tammany leaders to say definitely that they're backing Congressman Adam Powell for reelection, political nervousness over the prospects in November, if President Truman is the No. 1 candidate, added up to the fact that the Democrats, as of now, are not what they've been claiming to be.

The rally, sponsored by the Harlem Women for Wallace, attracted a representative community audience without resorting to such fanfare as parades and torchlight motorcades. And, as strange as it may seem, nobody squaked about paying half a dollar to sit and listen to speeches.

Among the headliners scheduled to address the unusually attentive audience were U. S. Senator Glen Taylor (D. Idaho) and the renown artist, Paul Robeson. Taylor did not make the meeting it was explained, because of pressing business in Washington.

Marvel Cooke, veteran newswoman ,officiated, Mrs. Estelle Massey Osborne declared that the world would be plunged into a third war, if Henry Wallace is not elected ;and Miss Winifred Norman pleaded the cause of the Negro woman as it is seldom done at political rallies.

The distinguished playwright, Lillian Hellman, said:

"If you can lie now and call our New Party communist, if you can seriously propose a bill which will outlaw the Wallace party, or any other, because it happens to disagree with oyur opinions, then it is not a very long step to yelling communist at the lady who protests the price of meat, or her husband on a picket line, or harming a colored citizen who exercises his Constitutional right to vote as he pleases."

The significance of this meeting observers agreed, was that women heretofore disinterested in politics were now going all out for the new political party.

Again and again, this reporter asked why as people left the auditorium and invariably the answer was the same:

"I don't trust the Republicans or the Democrats anymore."

Tobias Interviewed On Radio Program

NEW YORK—Minority News Report, a new radio program over Station WEVD here, presented Dr. Channing H. Tobias, director of the Phelps-Stokes Fund and 33rd Spingarn Medalist, in its initial program last week. Dr. Tobias was interveweid by S. W. Garlington, New York newspaperman and originator of the program.

Sounds Like Double Talk

NEW YORK—In answer to the complaint lodged by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People concerning discriminatory treatment of Negro officers at Camp Campbell, Kentucky, Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall notified NAACP secretary Walter White last week that the officers responsible for the discrimination were informed of their violation of Army regulations.

These officers were directed by the Secretary of the Army to take necessary action to assure full compliance with Army regulations which authorize the use of any facility in any public building by all military personnel on the post.

Believe It Or Not

Attorney General Tom Clark whose ever-active pen is seemingly interminably busy adding new names of progressive and liberal organizations to his scare-head list of subversive organizations, can't take the Mundt-Nixon police state bill. Clark, who has the power to make a flaming Red out of a progressive American by a mere announcement, advised the Senate not to pass the infamous bill, last week, adding that it was probably unconstitutional anyhow.

IPP Convention Keynoters Say Victory Is Near

Delegates for the Independent Progressive Party from all counties in California met in the California Hotel in Fresno recently, and planned an intensive campaign to elect all progressive candidates to office next November all along the line.

HENRY AGARD WALLACE, at the top of the list, will beyond doubt be the next President of the United States, if the plans of the IPPers are realized.

The keynote for the campaign was set by many enthusiastic Wallaceites. Among the most popular was a young Mexican woman, Mrs. Josephine Daniels, who represented several counties in the Fresno district. She is a candidate for Congress, and has been endorsed by several labor groups. Her bright wit and conscious enthusiasm enlivened the conference delightfully.

"Get out the Vote," was the slogan heard everywhere. To rouse the apathetic American voters. Get out the votes of the Mexicans. Of the Negroes. Of all the downtrodden and oppressed. Of all the working people. Get the real citizens of America to vote. And we'll win."

The convention of the Independent Progressives which will be held in Philadelphia, following the conventions of the Republican and Democrats, was discussed. No stone will be left unturned to make that convention a success. It will be the first national convention to be held by the new political party.

The conference in Fresno was held in the California Hotel, in spite of the early protests of the management because there would be Negro delegates attending. And the Negro delegates did not eat their meals in their rooms, as was also at first suggested by the management.

Mrs. Elinor Kahn, State Director of the Independent Progressive Party, presided at the conference.

Supreme Court Avoids Opinion On Affidvadits

WASHINGTON—Don't look for any help from the Supreme Court on the controversial issue of the contitutionality of the anti-communist clause in the Taft-Hartley labor law. The highest court in the land neatly side-stepped that one early this week when it passed on other phase of the anti-labor bill in its final session before adjournment for the summer.

The right of labor to have a free press was clearly established by the court however, when it decided unanimously that CIO president Phillip Murray had not violated the law when he published an editorial in a CIO newpaper endorsing a democratic candidate in a special Maryland election last Spring.

The case that might have brought forth an opinion on the anti-communist clause was one in which the National Maritime Union sought the right to participate in a collective bargaining election without reporting a financial statement or signing anti-communist affidavits. The court ruled that the financial statement is constitutional but avoided the anti-communist issue by stating:

"We do not find it necessary to reach or consider the validity . . ." fo the anti-communist provision.

101st Air Squad Gets Assignment

Marchbanks Jr. Now Major, USA

According to a telegram received by his father, Captain Vance H. Marchbanks Sr., Vance H. Marchbanks Jr. has been promoted to the rank of Major in the regular army following his nomination by the president and confirmation by the Senate.

Following the receipt of the telegram, Major Marchbanks' father wrote General Raymond W. Bliss, Surgeon General of the army, thanking him for his interest and efforts on behalf of his son.

In the closing paragraph of the letter the senior Marchbanks wrote: "I am now convinced more than ever before that the United States is the greatest and fairest country of them all; if one has 'something on the ball' he can always find someone who will champion his cause."

80th Congress

Designed to prohibit discrimination in employment because of race, religion and national origin, the bill represents one of the reforms called for by President Truman in his special message to Congress on Civil Rights last February.

Pointing out that the bill has been reported favorably by the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, the National Council in telegrams to Senator Arthur Vandenburg, president pro-tem of the senate, and House speaked Joseph Martin, asked for immediate action to forestall the imminent death of the bill which would result from delay at this time.

The bill, which has been ready for floor action since early in February, was promised support in the 1944 Republican platform in a clear statement which reads. "We pledge the establishment by Federal legislation ofa permanent fair employment practices commission."

Among signers of the telegrams are: A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, Philip Murray, national CIO president, Roy Wilkins, NAACP assistant secretary, William Green, AFL president, Lester Granger, National Urban League executive secretary and Elsie Elfenbein, executive secretary of the National Council of Jewish Women.

in Vermont. Mrs. J. W. MacNair, chairman of the Pilgrim House project plans to have two 12-year-old boys as guests in her home.

All of the children live in the "Little Tokyo" area served by Pilgrim House and they were selected after questionnaires that were sent out to the white families were returned. These questionnaires indicated the type child desired and selections were made from the youngsters who participate in the Pilgrim House community-chest supported activities.

Dr. Harold Kingsley, Director of Pilgrim House, has stated that the program will continue throughout the summer and will embrace many more of the Mexican, Japanese and Negro children who live in the area.

Reaction in Lang?

It has come to the attention of The California Eagle that the principles of non-discrimination and equality in voice and vote planks in the platform upon which the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild was founded, are being abused by the Guild's present leadership.

A noticeable abridgement of the rules governing the organizational affairs was a dinner meeting Monday evening at which no Negro members of the Guild were present.

Others conspicuously absent on this occasion were the liberals who are supporting the Wallace-for-president movement.

Bill Brodie, for example, who was brought into the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild almost four years ago when negotiations were tough and leadership was badly needed, has submitted his resignation for the position of administrative officer.

Reports indicate that Brodie has been under fire for some time from the forces of reaction who are gradually taking over the LANG. Much of the head-chopping that is planned in the Guild will result from support of the Wallace presidential candidacy, it is thought. Brodie's resignation is reportedly the beginning of the exodus of the liberal-minded leaders who manned the Guild and built it to its present strength.

It looks like that dinner meeting was a hand-picked affair.

Labor is the gateway that leads to a better racial understanding. The true exponents of this philosophy cannot afford to step aside and allow "phony" leadership to take over.

We must work in LANG, as everywhere else, to prevent reaction in our labor unions as in our government.

If Men, Why Not Machines?

Helen Gahagan Douglas, the Congresswoman from the 14th Congressional District, hit the nail squarely on the head in a speech she delivered before the House, opposing the drafting of our young men into the armed services of the government.

After suggesting, in a housewifely manner, that the army might make its surroundings more attractive and so by winning more recruits would make the draft unnecessary, Mrs. Douglas inquires: "If men are to be drafted . . . why not industry, too? At least to the extent of providing all goods to the armed services at absolute cost. Not one cent of profit. No cost-plus. If young men must give their youth and their lives, then the least the older men can give is their profits."

This idea of drafting industry has been a bone of contention every time the armed services are mentioned. But it has never been settled. Why, indeed, should our big industrialists be permitted to make billions of dollars profit, while the young men of the land are forced to give up their hopes for the future, simply to boost these profits higher and higher?

"Take the profits out of war," it has often been said, "and there'll be no war."

Again Mrs. Douglas went to bat for the Negro soldier. If we must have a draft of the youth of America, she said, let there be no discrimination as to race or color or creed of those who serve.

"The Negro soldier fought in World War I and World War II for a liberty that he only partially enjoys," Mrs. Douglas declared. "How does a drafted man who is asked to defend liberty in the world feel when he cannot get a meal in a public eating place, when he cannot go to a theatre, when he hears of Negroes who are not permitted to enter colleges and universities?"

Answering the "gentlemen from the the South" on this subject, the Congresswoman declared: "The question of national unity goes further than the problems of the Southern states. The question of national unity is a problem of the 48 states. The question of national unity is a problem of the 48 states of the Union."

And it includes Negro and white, industry and labor union, employer and employed. It includes everyone. And if the young men of the country must be drafted to "preserve our democracy," then all must be drafted on an equal footing.

We must fill the Congress with men and women of the Henry Wallace caliber.

We Pray

Wednesday, June 23, 1948, the Republican National Convention opened with a prayer by Bishop A. P. Shaw, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Bishop Shaw's prayer was in most part the recitation of James Weldon Johnson's National Negro anthem.

Bishop Shaw delivered it in exceedingly effective literary style.

After listening to speeches and comments since the opening of the convention in our candid opinion there was more food for sane thinking in the Negro Bishop's prayer than had been enunciated in all that had gone before.

A clever move was this invitation extended a Negro preacher to pray. No doubt Republicans remember that other presidential convention when a Negro preacher was asked to pray, and Southern Democrats objected to the petition for Heavenly guidance called for by a Negro American preacher.

From where we stand looking at this national political drama, we discern less sincerity on the part of the Republicans than from those Southern Democrats. Neither one is ready to render any more in the matter of accepting Negro citizens on an equal basis than the other.

Negroes, however, are beginning to realize that they cannot live by prayer alone. They must have bread to sustain their bodies. And, too, they are demanding more than prayer space on these conventional programs, where selections are made for important governmental posts with responsibility for conducting the affairs of the nation.

If either old political party is sincere, its members will help to answer their own prayers—or what are supposed prayers—by a sincere effort to comply with those requests. If they believe a Negro preacher can touch the throne of grace, and can have his requests granted then by all that's sensible they should at least treat that preacher and his people with some degree of respect.

The Negro is asking for first class citizenship in the United States of America. If that petition is not soon granted, he will begin to answer his own prayers.

Stick To It!

When the Senate disgraced itself by turning tail and running out on civil rights amendments to the draft bill, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-ALP-N.Y.) vowed that the House wouldn't squirm out as easily.

He is determined that there won't be a final House vote on the draft until he has fought for the inclusion of at least 30 anti-discrimination amendments.

Sweeping cloture agrements helped gag any effective attempt in the Senate to add civil rights guarantees to the measure. Powell has promised that if a similar effort is made to shut him up, he will simply stand as a one-man roadblock against unanimous House consent to consider further legislation during the remaining days of Congress.

Stick to it, Rep. Powell!

The Congressional stampede to pass draft degislation has been stirred up by the wolf cries of the Defense Department. The refusal of some Congressional leaders even to consider writing democratic safeguards into the draft bill shows the extent to which they have been panicked beyond reasonable behavior by the whisperings of Mr. Forrestal and Co.

If Powell, with the help of his like-minded colleague, Rep. Javits (R-N.Y.), succeeds in slowing the House down to the point where it can take a long, objective look at the draft measure, his work will be well done.

Relaxed and rational, the House might come to see that Jim Crow must never be drafted.

The House might even regain its full senses and declare with sudden insight that the only immediate threat to America is its own growing tendency towards militarism.

Stick to it, Rep. Powell. You may yet persuade the Congressmen that democracy, itself, must not be drafted in the service of the Pentagon.

(From New York Post, June 17.)

Youth Rally to Wallace

American youth from all parts of the country will meet in Philadelphia, July 25 and 26, coincident with the convention of the Independent Progressive Party of America, and there found a new Youth Organization, dedicated to the support of principles for full protection of civil liberties for all, for academic freedom, for peace, for jobs at decent wages—in short, the program of Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

"A house to live in is a better defense against Communism than any attempt to rule by terror," declared Helen Gahagan Douglas, "Our Congresswoman" from the 14th Congressional District, in a statement on the Mundt-Nixon bill before the House of Representatives in Washington.

This Mundt-Nixon bill has been called the "police state bill" by all the progressives in the country. The reactionaries call it a bill that would defeat any attempt of the Communists to take over our government.

But, as Mrs. Douglas points out, this mad attempt to plug the hole in the dikes that so apparently are crumbling in our capialist system of economy, may only cause that hole to grow bigger and may open the dikes wide to what we are struggling so hard to prevent.

"The bill is so loosely drawn that it could be interpreted and administered to rob us of the very rights it sets out to protect. It is a bill which threatens the freedom of speech and assembly of all those who would raise their voices in criticism or dissent . . . It gives the Attorney General the power to stigmatize individuals and organizations without trial for what he thinks they think."

But "thoughts cannot be circumscribed. You cannot jail an idea or hit an idea over the head with a club," says Mrs. Douglas, and then goes on to plead that the only way to fight Communism effectively is the American way—"openly, freely, democratically, at the grass roots."

To fight Communism, or any other "ism" by attempting to suppress it, is simply making martyrs out of those who believe in it. And that method, all history tells us, is the surest method of propagating what we are trying to stamp out. It is only pruning the tree we say we want to destroy.

"The blood of the martyrs was the seed of the church," is a truth that holds good for all time. Not only in Nero's day and in the days of the Spanish inquisition. Not only in the case of the Pilgrim Fathers and of Roger Williams. But in the case of the early Democratic Party, and of the Republican Party, too.

And so it will be in the case of the Communist Party. Outlaw the Communist Party, send a few fellow-travelers to jail for daring to believe that all men are created equal, for saying everyone in America should have a job and a decent home to live in, and the Communist Party will grow by leaps and bounds.

"In using repressive measures," Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt points out, in writing upon this same subject, "we are not only underlining our fears that democracy cannot stand up against the superficial attraction of Communism, but we are resorting to the very measures which dictatorships—both Fascist and Communist—use to stay in power."

"The only ones that I think have any real justification in being Communists, and who might possibly be tempted to overthrow any government by force, are those for whom democracy has not provided the basic needs of decent living," declares Mrs. F. D. R., and then admits rather grudgingly, "Of course in the USSR everyone is employed by the government."

But that is the great bone of contention. If there is no unemployment, if everyone is provided with the means of seeking happiness, of having their children educated, of being well-clothed, well-housed, and well-fed; if there is freedom from want and from fear as well as freedom of speech and of worship—why, of course, no one but an utter idiot would want to change such conditions.

But we do not have freedom from want and from fear here in America. We really have only a portion of freedom of speech and of religion—only until that freedom steps on the toes of our well-to-do capitalists. Give us this freedom from fear and from want. See to it that no one needs worry about the rent. Or the grocery bill. Or the doctor's bill. Make possible full employmen for everyone who can work. Give to everyone according to his need. And we'll guarantee that law or no law, nothing on earth could make anyone even think there could be a better government than ours.

We're sending billions of dollars to Europe to combat Communism, so we've been told, by providing food and clothing for the destitute people across the sea. Spend a few billions in America for the same purpose. Give us a President, a Congress who are interested in the welfare of the people, and we'll guarantee we won't change them even when we have a chance to at election time.

It's the lack of these freedoms in America which sends our lawmakers into huddles to stop Communism, and which makes them look under their beds at night to see if a Communist is hiding there. They're afraid. And they have reason to be.

GOP Split Alarms Walter Lippman

By PAUL FRENCH

Walter Lippmann, ex-cathetra spokesman for Wall Street, is alarmed. And his alarm reveals that monopoly capital uses the Republican and Democratic parties as its puppets, thus disclosing that, in fact, what is called "democracy" in this fair land, is democracy for the capitalist class only.

Mr. Lippmann (Times, June 9) writes in alarm at the House vote to cut the Marshall Plan budget. Not because of the cut itself, that, he says, can be restored; but because that action revealed that "dominating party bosses" of the GOP (such as Martin and Taber) mean to reverse the "foreign policy line of Vandenberg, Dewey, Stassen, Warren and even Taft," and thus reveal that the GOP is split, while, on the Democratic side, "Truman has lost all leadership over the bulk of Democrats." Hence, Wall Street's foreign policy"—the Marshall Plan—is in one hell of a crisis.

"If," cries Lippmann in high alarm, these "new post-war Republican leaders" are defeated at Philadelphia (and somebody like Speaker Martin or Bricker is nominated), then (shiver!):—"a crisis of enormous depth and scope will develop all over the world." He doesn't say so right out, but he infers that this would strengthen Wallace. Anyhow, "desperate expedients will be necessary," he moans. And what are these "desperate expedients"?

"Truman must step aside," he tells us, "in order to lead what would then become a bi-partisan movement to draft Eisenhower . . . an improved coalition, and the substitution of personal government (a dictatorship—P.F.) for responsible party government." In short, a "Repubocrat" coalition to make Eisenhower a personal, irresponsible dictator.

With Lippmann talking this way, what has become of the "democratic" dislike to "one-party government," which we are so continually told is the devil's own handiwork when a working-class-farmes coalition ticket is elected in Czechoslovakia? How can we rail at the election of candidates of a "bloc of Party and non-party" ticket in the Soviet Union as "totalitarian," when we would be doing the same thing right here?

The fact is that every defender of capitalism who jabbers about "democracy" in the abstract, conceals the truth that every "democracy" in the concrete is, in reality, a dictatorship of one or another economic class. So-called "American" democracy is, in essence, a democracy for the rich only, a capitalist or bourgeois democracy. But for the poor which the rich exploit, it is a mere disguise to cover up and make palatable an essentially dictatorial rule of the rich who exploit these poor people.

All the hypocritical horror raised by American politicians against the Soviet Union as a "police state," cannot in the long run hide from American workers who are shot down by police on the picket lines of the packing-house strike in Kansas City and St. Paul, nor "injunctioned" back to the coal mines by Judge Goldesborough, the fact that the U. S. is, itself, a "police state."

The democracy which exists in the Soviet Union serves another class. It is democracy for the vast majority of the people, the people who work. Towards capitalists and big landlords, it is a dictatorship. In fact, it suppresses and outlaws them as an economic class. It can do that because the working class can get along very nicely without capitalists, who are economically useless to human society and are merely parasites upon it. If they want to live, they must go to work and live on their own labor, not the labor of others.

Capitalists, however, simply cannot exist without workers to exploit. That is why they must try to conceal the essential dictatorship of their "democracy," try to make the workers believe that it is democracy "for everybody," when essentially it is democracy for capitalists only.

On the other hand, the Russian Bolsheviks, while frankly calling the Soviet government a "dictatorship of the proletariat" or working class, can and do prove that it is a thousand times more democratic than any capitalist democracy for a majority of the population.

Late in 1918, Lenin wrote how democracy for the workers and peasants increased the control over government by these toilers through the first five Soviet Congresses, from 790 delegates in June 1917 to 1,164 delegates in July 1918, while at the same time the percentage of Bolshevik delegates rose from 13 to 66 per cent. "To glance at these figures is enough," said Lenin, to understand why talk about the Bolsheviks' not having a majority of the population behind them, is ridiculed in Russia."

Right now, in America, we see in the countless obstacles the Third Party has to overcome to get anywhere, the truth Lenin spoke when he said in 1918: "Even in the most democratic bourgeois states the oppressed masses meet at every step the crying contradiction between the formal equality proclaimed by the 'democracy' of the capiltalists, and the thousand and one de facto limitations and restrictions, which make the proletarians wage slaves."

He went on to compare: "Proletarian democracy of which the Soviet government constitutes one of the forms, has given a development and expansion of democracy hitherto unprecedented in the world, precisely for the vast majority of the population, for the exploited and oppressed." Lenin was not disturbed because American and British capitalists howled against Soviet suppression of Russian capitalists. "The masses of oppressed classes,, the honest proletarians," he replied, "will be on our side. They will say: 'These are our people; theirs is a real workers' government'."

Walter Lippmann, who speaks for a dictatorship of monopoly capitalists, exercisel through a democratic republic, cannot be so frank, and is appalled that the democratic mask of this dictatorship may have to be discarded if somebody like Martin or Bricker wins the GOP not at Philadelphia, and Henry Wallace gain by the weakness of such a GOP man and the weakness of Truman. Hence he is hollering in advance that an Eisenhower distatorship, put into office by a "Repubocrat" one-party ticket, would be far better. Better for Wall Street, which owns America and expolits its toiling people.

W. J. Wheaton Says

"JESUS AM A ROCK IN A WEARY LAND." Mary Ann seemed to be in a rapt, spiritual mood. We signaled two or three times before she answered the bell. The light of her inspiration was yet on her countenance when she opened the door; then as she made the usual welcome greeting.

I was just thinking how good the Lord had been to me all through my life. Of course, I have had my ups and downs, but through it all, even with my trials back home, when I got to thinking I couldn't help but praise the Rock that I've clung to all my life. When I think of the friends I've made en' all I get so thankful I've got to sing and praise Him.

As we scanned her face, and the light in her eyes, we saw unquestionable faith, and we wished that we could have such trust; even in humanity. But we guess a different contex in the pattern of our life has warped such childlike faith.

Mary said, "What is Time? What is Eternity? Nobody knows! It's only a step from the womb to the tomb 'en why folks will do evil one to the other, I can't see. Come on supper's ready 'en we can talk after. I'm looking for my grandchild every minute. Her and the girls are rehearsing for that play they's putting on at the schol. They was rehearsing here last night 'en I wished you'd seen 'em. I know you'd have had a conniption fit. I sure like to see 'em enjoy themselves, en I encourages 'em to come here. Mrs. Bocinni, Rosa's mother, was here one evening, said Rosa talked so much about me that she thought she'd come 'en see; said she wanted to have 'em come to her home 'en she would have me 'en Mrs. Rosenbaum to come too. I'll go. We got to understand one another. I tell you what, I'se going to trust in the Lord and smile 'en laugh when I can. We all got to go back to earth, 'en the earth don't care a whoop for our grief, 'en the earth, our mother, don't care nothing 'bout our death.

Does seem foolish in me to think that, even me, should think that my living here on this earth would cause a big hole when I pass away. Sure, my children and mabe you, might miss me for awhile, and even mention me in your conversations, but eventually Mary Ann will be forgot. That's the reason I want to do all the good and do and say kind things while I live. Life: What is it? Death: What is it? I've heard the preachers talk about Life and Death, but I've never heard any of 'em explain where Life began nor where Death ended. One of the girls who is my grandchilds class mates says she is going to study some sort of books that tell you all 'bout life. Don't know the name o' the book; can't remember it.

"Biology," we suggested.

"Sounded something like that. Anyhow its almighty smart man who can tell where you come from and where you'll end."

"Yes," we said, "men search for the hidden secret of life, only to run against a blank wall."

I thought of the simple faith of Mary Ann, and visioned a world devoid of human hate and fears. We know that is a utopian dream, and we may as well gird our loins and battle on for the equality of all peoples. There's a hard struggle ahead, a hard battle in the future. Illusoins of racial supremacy have existed before the Christian era. It's no new development; no new concept. It's the pattern of a poisonous weed blown by the winds of ignorance to the farthest end of the world. It has engendered, in some countries, through environment. In the United States through a former bondage. The more ignorant and unlearned part of that section, where human bondage existed, still have the opinion that their former serfs are their inferiors.

That idea is shared by the most obtuse minds in those communities—minds that are devoid of reason and therefore resort to violence. The realization of that fact has placed a stimulus on education as a counter irritant. But even there, those benighted minds, seek to place a ban on even the rudiments of an education through inadequate facilities, and segregated methods. There is a gleam of light, a slight silver streak in the grey skies, caused by the attitude of students or a coming generation; the attitude of reason and understanding. That position is strongly condemned by the older and more intolerant group of that section of this nation (The USA) and every effort made to curtail the educational facilities where proscribed people are concerned.

After all, those proscriptions can only be uprooted by patient digging, and when the roots are dug, we must see that no tendrils are left. Then seeds of reason and tolerance should, or must, be planted and nurtured carefully by the waters of loyalty and good citizenship. It is well to keep the entire world apprized of the biased treatment in this hyprocritical democracy it is well also to tell the world that there is a tolerant and sane thinking element of our citizens who believe in practice the meanings of the Four Freedoms.

We minority people must give potent evidence of our loyalty to this democratic form of government, and a determined effort, by their help, to make this a government as designed by the Constitution on which this national government is founded. It is going to take time and patence to tear up the poisonous roots of centuries. It cannot be done in a day, and very often many things essential to a job, that must be done, are overlooked in the haste to complete it. We would rather leave this earth with the knowledge that the rock that wsa placed in the foundation was secure for the next builder, than have hectic dreams in the possible hereafter, that stone had become loosened and worthless. Leaders! You who aspire to lead the people, see that you build a solid foundation, not with unwarranted haste, but build for posterity.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

The Mundt-Nixon police state bill is temporarily in a state of quiescence; notwithstanding the fact that Attorney General Tom Clarke has advised the Senate that the bill is probably unconstitutional, and the further fact that Congress adjourned without calling the infamous bill up for action, it is not prudent to say more than that. The fascists are a durable lot, and they are not divided as are the liberal-progressive forces; they will be back in short order with the same bill or an equally detestable facsimile.

Casting about for an element that is sufficiently representative to use as a rallying point for the future, it would not be amiss to consider the leadership shown by the Los Angeles CIO Council. With the Senate judiciary committee all set to report the bill out for action with a minimum of consideration, the Los Angeles Council sent its president, William S. (Bill) Lawrence to Washington to join forces with the grass roots leadership on the Washington scene for the purpose of slowing the steam-roller tactics of the judiciary committee in order to give the people a chance to be heard. In consequence, the committee hearing lasted over eight days instead of the originally intended three, and the avalanche of mass public protest letters and wires put the committee on notice that the American people were against the measure.

Bill Lawrence testified against the Mundt-Nixon bill before the judiciary committee, but it took persistence to get his name on the list. He was down there to do a job for the CIO Council and the people, and he got support that must have warmed his heart, but he was depressed by the Jim-Crow aspect on the Washington scene, and he must have thought how much more effective his work would have been had he been there as the representative of a Council that is not divided by the very factors and in the very manner the enemies of labor desire it to be.

Having shown leadership of national significance in a matter that might have gone in another direction, the Los Angeles CIO Council is looking like its old self again. Actually, the CIO Council is as it has always been, this despite the fact that some of the locals are not around anymore, and because there is no issue in a labor council of more importance than the issue of labor itself, I predict that the wave of reaction that has set in, and has many veteran CIO Councillors acting and making noises like members of the Tenney Committee, will pass before too long, and the chauvinists and management spies will have to carry on without the help of the honest but presently misguided recruits they now have in their ranks.

I am a little suspicious of any issue that serves to break up a labor union, or to disintegrate a labor council. Under no circumstances is it necessary to destroy the union to save it. It is a curious bit of logic to hear that a certain Council official is the epitome of efficiency as he has been for many years, but that he's going to be beaten the next time out because he's for Wallace. What's the point in sidetracking admittedly capable union officers and officials because you don't like their politics? What is the true reason for the dogged drive to run the men and groups who gave of themselves to build the CIO Council out of it?

Recently, it came to my atten

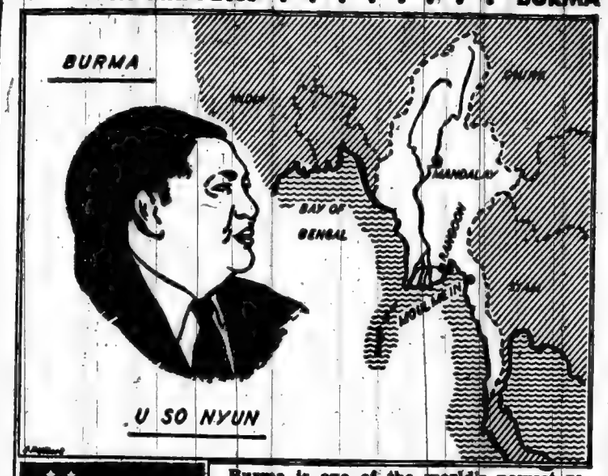
From The Jewish Voice

The following editorial, taken from The Jewish Voice, June 11, is re-printed in its entirety by The California Eagle. It is an impassioned, but nevertheless clear and sensible plea for all minority groups to unite, to which the EAGLE subscribes whole-heartedly.

In this city of nearly three million people there are nearly one million, or one third of the population, who are accepting second class citizenship. In so doing they are betraying not only themselves but their country and the principles for which it stands. By surrendering their full rights and liberties they are seriously weakening the rights and liberties of the bulk of the remaining two thirds of their fellow citizens. Aside from considerations of self interest it is their duty as patriotic Americans to organize a powerful resistance against the forces that seek to undermine the rights and liberties of all citizens through them.

These million citizens are made up of three most discriminated against minority groups in our country, the Jews, the Negroes and the Mexicans. The immediate reaction of far too many Jews at reading this sentence will be to feel insulted at being linked with Negroes and Mexicans. It would surprise and shock these Jews to know that a great many Negroes and Mexicans will feel equally insulted at being linked with Jews. The prevalence of this un-American anti-democratic emotional attitude is a measure of how successful have been the efforts to make the minority groups in America direct hatred and distrust against each other. While the Jews, Negroes and Mexicans are busily engaged in hating and distrusting each other, and the other and at present less discriminated against minority groups that make up the majority, are engaged in hating and distrusting them, democracy is being lost for all.

E. PLURIBUS UNUM



One of the greatest myths and lies that has been swallowed whole by the American people is that this country is made up of a White Protestant Anglo American majority and few minority groups made up of people of inferior racial and national origins. One has only to list the terms of hate and derision current in this country to discover how great a percentage of the American people they include. The following is only a partial list. Kike, nigger, wop, square-head, greaser, Polack, Hunky, Heinie, dumb Swede, mackerel snatcher, frog, Chink, Jap, Mick, limey, Okie, Arkie, etc., ad infinitum, ad nauseum.

The brutal and horrible truth is that Americans are singled out as members of minority groups for attack as minority groups whenever it suits the purpose and convenience of ruthless and greedy interests. We who live in California can remember without much effort when the migratory farm workers of drought ravished Oklahoma, perhaps the purest Anglo-Saxon stock in the country, were derisively and venomously labeled "Oakies" and sharply pointed up as a menace to the security of us old stock Californians. The lot of an "Okie" in those days was not too dissimilar to the lot of a displaced Jew in Europe today. The fact that these "Okies" were old stock Anglo-Saxons did not save them from terror and beating and being herded behind barbed wire. The storm troopers in this case were California State police, and local sheriff's deputies, deputized thugs hired by the Associated Farmers. If you suspect that I may have invented this I suggest a rereading of John Steinbeck's "Grapes of Wrath" or Carey McWilliams' "Factories in the Field."

If you are one of those Jews who are insulted by being linked with Negroes and Mexicans you are poorly prepared for the much more horrible ignominies you are sure to suffer if you do not speedily rid yourself of this suicidally stupid prejudice. As the old saying goes, Americans regardless of color or national origin, must learn to hang together if they are not to hang alone. In order to forestall the likelihood of being hanged separately Jews, Mexicans, Negroes and other minority groups will have to act soon. Never has it been more urgent to heed the inscription on the sun dial: "IT IS LATER THAN YOU THINK."

The hour is long overdue for convoking an inter-minority conference as a first step in the organization of a resistance movement against the imposition of second class citizenship. Such a conference could render a tremendous service to the community if only by exploring the problems common to the minorities and thus establishing the identity of interests that exists. When the minorities sit down together to discuss and find solutions for their common problems, the spreaders of inter-minority hate will have a much tougher row to hoe. Job discrimination, hospital discrimination, housing discrimination will no longer be able to exist with the consent of the discriminated.

Once the lead is taken support will grow mushroom-like. From its inception the inter-minority conference should attract the support of religious groups, civic unity groups, trade unions, and progressive political groups. Other minorities less singled out as targets for discrimination will see the advantages of united consultation and action. Such a conference can be the basis for the erection of a formidable barrier against those who would destroy American democracy by dividing the American people. One of our national mottoes is E Pluribus Unum; From Many, One; which freely translated means united we stand, divided we fall. We of the minorities must regard it as our sacred trust to make this motto a living really. E Pluribus Unum.

Burma is one of the world's newest republics but not one of its newest nations. Under British influence since about 1612, it was administered as part of British India from 1826, becoming independent in January 1948. Burma saw some of the heaviest fighting in the last war. Much of the country's 262,000 square miles are heavily forested and her major products are teakwood, rice, cotton, minerals and oil. About 70% of her 17,000,000 people work in agriculture. Its capital is Rangoon and its representative to the U.N. is U So Nyun, Ambassador to the U.S.A. Her flag is red with five small white stars surrounding a large white one on a blue canton in the upper left corner.

POTPOURRI

Journeying to Philadhelphia to attend the Republican National Convention that convened in the Quaker City Monday, June 21, Carl J. Johnson, resident of Los Angeles, and an officer of the Young Republican Club of California, took three recommendations that will be presented to the Resolutions Committee . . . highlights of these recommendations is the fact that they call for a "showdown" on the vital issues of Civil Rights, and that the convention take immediate action to correct existing evils.

Full text of the letter containing the recommendations follows:

"Governor Earl Warren has antagonized the Negro voters of this state, and through them, the Negro voters of many other states . . . Republicans in Congress have aided this antagonism by a "Do-Nothing Policy" . . . This antagonism will be felt by the Republican Party throughout the nation in the 1948 election . . .

"President Truman has taken the Civil Rights Ball from the arms of the Republican Ball Carrier by his strong statements for a Civil Rights Program, but these are only statements . . .

"Therefore, we recommend to combat this antagonism:

"That the party adopt a strong Civil Rights program in the 1948 platform, including: passage of the anti-lynching, anti-poll tax, and FEPC bills now before Congress, immediately . . .

"Further, we recommend that this convention go on record as endorsing bills to outlaw segregation and discrimination based on race, color, creed, or national origin in the Armed Services, on public carriers, hospitals, schools, and all places in business to serve the general public . . .

"The Negro voter today is saying that the Republicans are not sincere in wanting to enact these measures into law or are not efficient as legislators . . . either reason is sufficient cause to lose the Negro vote . . .

"Immediate favorable action on these bills is necessary to revive the Negro's faith in the Republican party . . . let us make the Republican Party a party for all Americans . . ."

Johnson will travel throughout the East following the Convention, to confer with political leaders along the Eastern Seaboard.

218 prominent Chinese merchants and manufacturers in Hongkong issued an open letter, expressing concern over General MacArthur's program of forcing neighboring countries to buy Japanese goods before their own industries had revived. Experience had shown they said, that economic infiltration was inevitably followed by armed invasion. Among the signatories to the letter were some of the most conservative of Hongkong's business leaders.

Japanese goods had been pushed into Asian markets by U.S. occupation agencies since April. In Canton Japanese cotton, silk and woolen goods, toys, rubber and stationery, are seen in large quantities throughout the city on street stalls at about one-third the price of competing goods, including those from the U.S. itself. In Hongkong American ink sells at $7 per lb., while Japanese ink is only $3.20. The reason General MacArthur promoted Japanese goods even at the expense of direct U.S. trade is that he needs funds to carry on the strategic purposes of the occupation.

The National Wallace for President Committee announces new literature, new films, recordings, buttons, posters, postcards, windshield stickers, photos, songs, newspapers, manuals, leaflets, and anything and everything anyone can think of that will arouse the public and get the people to vote and work for Wallace and Taylor for the next president and vice-president of the United States.

The Committee warns, however, that orders from local groups will be for cash only. "Our printers have to be paid . . . and in order to pay them we have to collect from you."

ATLANTA, Ga.—President Rufus E. Clement, of Atlanta University, said that whether or not we will have a third world war may be determined by the votes that are cast in the November election, "for we are dealing with the question of world leadership and world cooperation."

Clement predicted that Harry S. Truman would be elected next president of the U.S.—provided the Republicans do not nominate Dewey, Vandenberg or Taft.

And, of course, if Henry Wallace could be persuaded to quit the race.

Churches, civic groups, labor unions, and political organizations have been petitioning President Truman to grant full pardons to those who are serving prison terms because they were conscientious objectors to war, and refused to serve in the armed forces during World War II.

They point out that while American military governments in both Germany and Japan have granted amnesties to thousands who were former enemies, less than 10% of the Selective Service violators in the U.S. have been pardoned in the three years since the end of the war.

Don Allen, member of the City Council from the 7th Councilmanic District, has offered a resolution in the Council asking that voting machines be used in city elections. This is to counteract the errors often made in elections, made in counting by weary election boards.

The immediate cause for this suggestion, no doubt, was the contest in the 14th Congressional District, when Helen Gahagan Douglas at the first count seemed to have won the nomination on both the Democratic and Republican tickets, but upon second count mistakes were found which took away her lead on the Republican ticket.

The proper method to prevent the recurrence of such incidents is to do away with the stupid cross-filing system of California.

Wilbourne DeM

By PHYLLIS SCOTT

He's a great guy. Everybody says it and his malt shop stays full of everybody. A courteous smile for the businessmen, tender patience with the kiddies, and mild ribbing with the collegiate and theatrical crowd have made Wilbourne DeMarks an all-around favorite. But then, so is his ice-cream. Together, they make a terrific combination.

And here's why. While DeMarks was working for an ice cream plant back in Chicago some years ago, he became interested in the product. He began to tak eit under serious consideration when he moved to New Jersey and went to work in a plant there. DeMarks made up his mind that he wanted to manufacture ice cream and began studying it.

But it was overseas that he learned the finest points on the manufacture of ice cream. In the Scandinavian countries, where the dairy products are centuries famous, DeMarks hunted every plant within the environs of the Merchant Marines stations. He visited hot plants of Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, Denmark . . . even exploring the centers of England, France, Brazil, and Rio . . . comparing, analysing, and discovering. He found the Scandinavian products, which are exceptionally rich, of the highest quality.

Naturally it was from this more advanced method that he patterned his establishment upon his return home. He considers California his home because all his youth was spent here with the exception of one year—in his birthplace of Westlake, Louisiana.

DeMarks, whose middle name is Alexus, was educated in the public schools of Berkeley, Los Angeles, and Pasadena, where he also attended Pasadena Junior college, majoring in business administration. While his mother ran a small hotel in Portland, he made his home with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hurst, of this city.

During the depression, he gained his first practical business experience working in one of the largest service stations in the world. The manager allowed him to handle small accounts and taught him the fundamentals of purchasing and buying. Though his accounts were largely industrial the groundwork for business management was gained at this establishment.

But it was his experiences as a waiter on dining cars, in hotels, and night clubs, where money was handled freely, that prove invaluable muc Combined with the imp from the businesses of h er and uncle, he knew to set up his enterprise.

JOHN THORNTON, National PAC assistant director who came to the West Coast to help coordinate activities of the Steel-workers and the CIO in the recent primary elections, with particular reference to the candidacy of Congressman Helen Gahagan Douglas, is shown in a relaxed mood with two associates during the dinner given in his honor. Thornton emphasized that the workers must stick by the trade unions or they will lose all of their civil and political rights. He asked for concerted action to force repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law, and to defeat the present and all future Mundt-Nixon police-state laws. John Dial Jr., director of the CIO's Negro Labor Committee, John Despol, secretary-treasurer of the California PAC, Charles Smith, director of district 38, and James Anderson, Eastside Labor Committee chairman, were among th espeakers at the dinner. Woodrow Redo, vice-president of CIO local 2172, presided at the affair.

IT DOES HAPPEN HERE

Willie Earle, a Negro, accused last year of fatally stabbing a taxi driver in Greenville, S. C., was taken from jail by a mob, which first viciously beat him, then shot him to death. Of the thirty-one men who were tried for the crime, all were acquitted.

Citizen A cannot vote—Citizen B cannot get his wife to an empty hospital bed—Citizen C is fired from his job because his religion is not "right"—Citizen D must send his children to get their education from underpaid, poorly-trained teachers—Citizen E is condemned to a slum tenement in a crowded ghetto.

These are the pictures that the President's Committee on Civil Rights has given us. Injustice, violation of civil rights, rule by terrorism—they DO happen here.

* * * *

The Committee's Report is far from hopeless. It points to liberal individuals and groups in all sections of America who are waging the fight "to secure these rights."

Here is a typical, inspiring example reported by the Committee. When a Negro baseball player joined the Brooklyn Dodgers and some players threatened to rebel, the president of the National League told them: "If you do this you will be suspended from the League. You will find that the friends you think you have in the press box will not support you, that you will be outcasts. I do not care if half of the League strikes. Those who do it will encounter quick retribution. All will be suspended and I don't care if it wrecks the National League for five years. This is the United States of America and one citizen has as much right to play as another."

Especially hopeful are the strides made by labor unions, in whose ranks oppressed minorities take on the dignity of free citizens joining their fellow citizens in the battle for human rights. Says Charles S. Johnson, ". . . the biggest single forward surge of Negroes into the main stream of American life in the past ten years has been their movement into the ranks of organized labor."

* * * *

"To Secure These Rights," the Report of the President's Committee, has not drifted unheeded into the air. Recently President Truman urged Congress to act on its recommendations.

He calls for federal anti-lynching laws, an end to Jim Crow rules in public transportation, abolition of state poll taxes. He recommends a permanent Fair Employment Practice Commission. He asks for permanent commissions on civil rights, for better machinery for the enforcement of existing laws. He calls for the extension of civil rights to all minority groups.

* * * *

Mr. Truman's courageous message has, of course, antagonized Southern politicians. They mutter dark threats of a bolt from the Democratic Party.

The pressure of politicians is great. Now, therefore, is the time for all good men—and women, too—to come to the aid of democracy. Now is the time to write to your Congressman and your Senators, to work with your union or your church or with other groups—to carry on the campaign for the President's program.

We cannot bring Willie Earle and thousands like him back to life. We cannot repair the stunted minds or the deformed bodies of the children of the past. We can no longer restore to other generations the rights of which they have been deprived.

We can, however, make certain that their sufferings were not in vain—that they helped secure the rights of generations yet to come.

Only then—when all men are free—can you and I be free!

tion that there are some CIO'ers who DO NOT WANT NEGROES in certain unions. They're being clever about it, but they are working at the very roots in an attempt to cut down representation in certain locals. They must know that such behavior is inimical to the best interests of the whole trade union movement. And because they do know this, they must stand accused of the worst of all crimes, that of boring from within to destroy the very organization that makes it possible for them to have the economic security they would deny a brother worker because his skin is of a less monotonous and more colorful hue.

It is strange that those CIO'ers who are under secret fire because they are exercising their right in supporting the third party. demonstrate a truer feeling of democracy than do those who feel that Wallace is really Joe Stalin in disguise instead of an honest American who has the courage to answer the call of millions of previously unrepresented fellow-citizens to be their candidate for the presidency of the United States.

Bill Lawrence must have been pretty busy down in Washington a week or so ago, but he must have taken a moment or two to wonder how the heck any person or group of persons could know all the answers so patently that they can not tolerate anyone who dares to disagree with them.

U. S. Interference In China Protested

NEW YORK—The Committee for a Democratic Far Eastern Policy cabled a protest to the U. S. Ambassador in China, Dr. J. Leighton Stuart, condemning his action in trying to stop Chinese students from demonstrating against what they regard as the American policy of restoring Japan's economic and military might.

The cable, said Ambassador Stuart's threat of "unfortunate results" if the demonstrations coninued had "the same character as pre-war Japanses imperialists who also tried to curb the patriotic sentiments and movements of the Chinese people."

The protest concluded: "We resent our government thus blatantly associating itself with Chiang Kai-shek's terroristic suppression of students."

The Committee's action was taken after Ambassador Stuart had issued a warning to China on June 4 that Chinese students must stop agitation against American policy in Japan or "face the consequences of your action." The implication that aid to the Chinese government would stop unless it took measures against the students.

Following Dr. Stuart's remarks thousands of police and troops, armed with automatic weapons and bayonets, threw cordons round all the major Shanghai universities, penning up the students on the campuses. A demonstration by several thousand students in front of the United States Naval Forces headquarters in Shanghai was broken up and thirty students arrested.

Protest Jail Sentences for Anti-Fascists

Dorothy Parker, Philip M. Connelly, secretary-treasurer of the Los Angeles CIO, Rev. Stephen Fritchman, Averill Berman radio commentator, Howard Da Silva, well-known motion picture actor, Robert Kenny, and the ten Hollywood writers who have been indicted by the lower courts, will appear at a protest meeting on behalf of the national executive board of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee at the Embassy auditorium, Monday night, June 28th, 8 p.m.

The eleven members of the executive board of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee were cited for contempt of Congress by the House Un-American Activities Committee for refusing to give the House Committee the names of its contributors. This refusal was based on the Committee's desire to protect the names of Spaniards who received aid so that their families inside Spain would not be reached in reprisal by Franco's executioners.

It was also the desire of the Committee to protect its donors from persecution, investigation and blacklisting. The Committee has always submitted its financial records to the United States government agency that licensed it. The funds raised by this Committee have been spent abroad by the Unitarian Service Committee and the Quakers.

The meeting this Monday night is to protest the fact that the Supreme Court refused to review this case. As a result eleven members of the executive board: Dr. Edward K. Barsky, noted New York surgeon and national chairman of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee, who organized and administered medical aid to Republican Spain; Howard Fast, a world-renowned author; James Lustig, CIO organizer; Dr. Louis Miller, noted physician; Dr. Jacob Auslander, noted physician; Marjorie Chodorov, housewife; Charlotte Stern, AFL organizer; Dr. Lyman Bradley, professor of Languages; Ruth Leider and Harry Justiz, noted attorneys; and Manuel Magana, businessman, are to begin their jail sentences on July 5th. Only executive clemency can pardon them.

Publishers Convention Session Ends

CLEVTLAND, Ohio—Following its three-day convention here last week during which its officers were unanimously re-elected, the Negro Newspaper Publishers Association went into high gear to put into effect the suggestions advanced through study and panel discussion.

The re-elected officers are: Thomas W. Young of the Norfolk Journal and Guide, president; Dowdal H. Davis, vice-president; and William O. Walker of the Cleveland Call and Post, secretary-treasurer.

Outsiders appeared at the convention for the first time when Clarence L. Holte, outstanding representative of Lever Brothers, joined with a group of national leaders in a discussion during the public relations panel.

James Harris Takes Bride To San Francisco for Honeymoon Sojourn

The home of the bride's parents was the chosen setting for the wedding ceremony uniting Lois Marie Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earl Fox, and Mr. James O. Harris Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Harris Sr., on Sunday, June 6. The Rev. Henry Cooke officiated.

The appointed rooms of the house were decorated with white gladioli, stock and a background of palm and fern, flanked by candlelabras. Clair de Lune could be heard softly in the background throughout the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was beautiful in a gown of lace and marquisette. The neckline was emphasized with a marquisette yoke and lace applique design. The long torso and sleeve effect were of exquisite lace. The veil was of fingertip length, held in place by a halo tiera of orange blossoms and seed pearls. The veil was edged in lace.

She wore a single strand of pearls. Her bouquet was a profusion of white carnations and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid. The matron of honor, Mrs. Wilma Hill, sister of the bride, wore pink organza, featuring the lace neckline and sleeves, also a very full skirt. Her hat was pink ruffled maline and her bouquet was of pink and yellow carnations. She wore three strings of pearls. Tamlin L. Harris served his brother as best man.

The bridal music was played by Mrs. Kitty Bilbrew White. Mr. Vernon Shields sang "Lamour Tourjour Lamour."

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony. In the receiving line with the newlyweds was Mrs. Ida Fox, mother of the bride, wearing an aqua crepe gown with white accessories and an orchid. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. James Harris Sr., wore white crepe with pink gloves and an orchid corsage. Several hundred friends of the couple were present at the reception. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received. Hostesses were Jeanella Elkins, Larretta Harris, Edith Paradise, Marion Strongs, Virginia Mae McKay, Ernestine Fox and Lela Phillips.

An after party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Harris Jr., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Nesbit, the groom's aunt and uncle.

The bride attended Los Angeles City College and was a member of the Alpha Pharateries. The groom attended Los Angeles City Colleg and California Institute of Medical Technology.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Elsinore and San Francisco.

Esther Griffith Becomes Bride Of H. Gould Merriwether in Elaborate Baptist Ceremony

Amid a profusion of flowers and a capacity crowd, Miss Esther Lois Griffith and Rev. H. Gould Merriwether Jr., were united in marriage by Dr. J. Raymond Henderson at the Second Baptist church promptly at 4 o'clock June 20. The prelude to the wedding ceremony was played by Mrs. Hazel Henry, organist, and Mrs. John Perry, violinist.

Promptly at 4, little Greta Griffith and Winifred Chester were in processional to open the gates of the choir stand for the 100-voiced choir. The "Bridal Chorus" from the Rose Maiden Opera was rendered by the choir under the direction of Anna Griffith Morrow, sister of the bride, with Luvenia Nash Freeze at the great organ. Roena Muckleroy Savage beautifully sang "O Promise Me." Miss Benzell Graham effectively whistled "Because." Then entered Mr. and Mrs. H. Gould Merriwether, parents of the groom, Mrs. Janie Williams and Clara Jackson, long-time friends of the bride, Eloise Walker, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Nell Haas, principal of the 28th Street school where Miss Griffith teaches, Anna Griffith Morrow and her sons, Dion and Virgil Jr.

Strains of the wedding march were then heard and the ushers arrived. Messrs. Charles Jordan, Virgil Morrow, Eugene Moore, Herman Harvey, Atty. Lloyd C. Griffith, Dr. Jerome Hatcher, Rev. Chalmers Gaither, and Dr. William Walker. Following were the bridesmaids, Mmes. Lloyd Griffith, Kelley Williams, Hermon Harvey, Allen C. Woodard, Harry Harris, Mary Lou Roberson and Irene Blodgett, wearing white taffeta dresses, gold slippers, five-strand pearl beads and earrings, gifts from the bride and bouquets of yellow Talisman roses. Miss Melicant Bouey, maid of honor, and Mrs. Warner Wright, matron of honor, both in white taffeta dresses with just a touch of green on the matron of honor's dress. They wore gold slippers, pearl jewelry and Talisman bouquets.

Rev. Garford Wm. Hubert was best man and little Joan and Brenda Wright were flower and candle girls, respectively, with Master Charles Davis Jr., ring ebarer.

After three chimes on the organ then "Here Comes the Bride" softly peeled and the bride entered on the arm of her older brother, Atty. Thomas L. Griffith, president of the local branch of the NAACP, who answered "I do" when the minister asked the question "Who giveth this woman." The tenor soloist, Mr. William Starks, soulfully sang "I Love Thee." Luvenia Freeze appropriately played "The Lord's Prayer" as Dr. Henderson read the vows. After the traditional "Salute the Bride" Mr. and Mrs. Merriwether went smiling down the isle followed by the bridal party to the reception that was held at the Raymond ave. home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Morrow, where they were greeted by 300 guests in the garden. Mrs. Elmyra Spencer was the cateress and served the bridal cake and other delicacies. Mrs. Nell Haas assisted by 25 hostesses, directed the many friends to the receiving line of the entire bridal party, then to view the beautiful and innumerable gifts that were on display in five rooms.

Madam Mozelle Te Outley, prominent musician and retired director of the senior choir of the Second Baptist church for 10 years, directed the wedding.

The bride was attired in white silk satin dress, trimmed in seed of pearls and rhinestones. The fashion was queenly in style. She wore her sister's veil that was a gift to her from the deacon and trustee boards of the church and was hand made by the late Clara C. Hulbert in 1929.

It was made of illusion lace and silk net. The crown was made of pearls.

The bridal party was taken to and from the church through the courtesy of Connor-Johnson.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

By JESSIE MAE BROWN

EDITOR'S NOTE: While Society Editor, Jessie Mae Brown is on leave we take great pleasure in presenting guest writers who will bring to you the different social events of note.

This week's column is written by Mrs. Herbert Boswell, well known worker in the younger social set. Aside from being a perfect mother of two beautiful young children, she affiliates in several civic, charity and social organizations, and is known by her many friends as Lu Boswell.

IT'S JUNE, so here we go, with proper June Chatter. Much talk has been done about the many pre-nuptial affairs that were given in honor of bride-elect, and your weekly Society Editor, Jessie Mae Brown, it was my pleasure to be in on some of the events, and believe me, they were really quite the thing. Out of all the chatter and news releases, very little has been said about the Beavers-Brown wedding party, and that is because we really didn't know. But for a brief preview of Sunday's wedding that will take place promptly at 3:00 p. m. at the Second Baptist Church . . . The gowns for the wedding are originals, stitched especially for Jessie Mae, by Julian Dempsey. The hats and veil are being done by IVA, one of the newest milliners of the city. Would tell the color scheme, but I haven't found that out yet. Geneva Bass Moore and Edith K. Owens will be at the great Organ and grand piano while the bridal music at the wedding proper will be sung by Atwater Kent winner, Jimmy DeValentine, Ella Mae Hilson, Marjorie Day, and another, can't think of the name right now, however, learned that Herb Jeffries will fly back from a performance in Nevada, to sing "I Love You Truly" and "When I Write My Song," at the reception; string music will be played at the reception and . . . well, guess had better get back to the wedding. Rebecca Brown Farrington, Jessie Mae's sister will be matron of honor. Dorothy Nicholas is arriving from New York this week, especially to take part in the wedding Sunday. It will be a double ring ceremony and Rev. J. R. Henderson will perform the ceremony. Leonard Beavers will be LeRoy's best man, while Joe Oliver, Norman Houston, Gene Williams will be among the ushers. Sorry I can't name all the bridesmaids or ushers, but just couldn't dig the facts out for you. Anyway, I just can't wait for Sunday to roll around . . . Wonder if the bride will be on time at her own wedding.

It certainly keeps one busy this month of June . . . Another popular bride-elect is Faye Thompson, who was honoree at a beautiful lingerie shower Saturday afternoon. Wrenna Clark, Vashti Laurent and Jacque Carroll were hostess. The same trio were playing the hostess at a welcome party honoring Faye's fiance, Carl Haley Saturday night. Out of Town Groups To Be At Dinner Dance

A "Bishop College Week" sponsored by the Los Angeles Bishop College Club for July 20-25 will incur a number of top affairs for the social minded this summer. Plans are now completed for the dinner-dance of July 22 at Park Manor with block reservatinos for clubs, party and out-of-town groups. Special guest will be the Director of Public Relations of Bishop College, A. Stephens Jackson II, and the program features screen and radio stars.

The club meeting will be held this Sunday, June 27, at 4:30 at 1171 E. Santa Barbara Ave. with the signing of the club charter by all Bishop alumni and former students, President Theodore Lamond urges all members and prospective ones to be present.

Miss June De Rosaria was guest of honor at a dancing party and weiner spread Saturday evening in the spacious garden of Dr. Vada Somerville's home. Marshmallows were toasted over the flames in the barbecue pit. 100 young coeds enjoyed the affair.

General Public To Take Part In Ruth Esther Home Benefit

Social and fraternal organizations and the general public are invited to join the Ladies' Auxiliary of Dining Car Cooks and Waiters' Union, Local 582, and the Georgia A. Robinson Welfare League in a gala old fashioned Barbecue Fiesta in the beautiful garden of Mrs. Stella Peterson, 1918 South Harvard Boulevard, Sunday, June 27, from 3:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m.

The gathering will be entertained by outstanding artists of this area and promises to be one of the finest benefit affairs of the season.

Deliciously barbecued young pigs, beef and lamb, prepared by outstanding Southern Pacific Railroad cooks; fine music and refreshments is the order of the day.

The affair is sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Dining Car Cooks and Waiters, and the Georgia A. Robinson Welfare League, named in honor of the first Negro policewoman of Los Angeles.

One hundred per cent of all proceeds will go to the fund raising drive of the Ruth Esther Home for unattached women, it was announced by Mrs. Margaret M. Burr, reporter for the Dining Car Ladies Auxiliary.

Crescent Club Interested In Needy Children

The Crescent Club of Phi Beta Sigma met last Sunday at the 28th Street Branch YMCA. A great welcome was rendered to the new dean of pledges, Mr. Irving Smith of the undergraduate chapter. The business subject of the evening was, sending underprivileged boys to camp next month. If it is met with approval, we shall give this matter our undivided attention.

And to you ladies and gentlemen, those of you who read this episode of club news; think not of yourselves, who are privileged, and can afford to help those who are underprivileged, call your local YMCA today and ask what you can do to help the youth who are less fortunate.

The Crescent Club of Phi Beta Sigma is all out to help in combating juvenile delinquency! If you are not doing your share at present, won't you offer your assistance and unite with us in the future? I remain your fraternal Crescent reporter Michael Ellington.

Young Medical Social Worker Among Youngest to Get Degree

Miss Bernice O. C. Wright, one of the youngest persons ever to graduate from the Graduate School of Social Work, last Saturday received her Master's degree from the University of Southern California. She was also the first member of her class to complete all requirements for the degree.

Miss Wright is the only Negro medical social worker to be employed at the Children's Hospital in Hollywood, where on June 16 she completed her first year of employment. Her work consists primarily of treating the emotional and social factors in illnesses.

She is a graduate of Watson High School in Covington, Virginia, and of the School of Education of Virginia State College in Petersburg. She was an honor student at both high school and college. In her junior year she was the only student at State with a straight-A average and was the first junior ever to be taken into Iota Sigma Lambda, honorary society. After graduating, she served as a member of the college staff until entering U.S.C. in the fall of 1945.

In 1945 Miss Wright enrolled at U.S.C., sponsored by the Sarah S. Ollesheimer Fund, Inc., which recognized her fine scholarship and strong character. As a student at the University she was secretary of the student-body organization for one semester and past-president and member of the executive council for another semester. Her field work while a student consisted of one year at the Church Welfare Bureau, Case Work Division, and the second year of specialization at the Los Angeles County Hospital.

Her thesis attracted so much attention that it is being used as an instrument of teaching and for reference in the graduate school. She made a study of special interviewing techniques in illnesses which are largely the result of emotional disturbances.

Aside from her very busy program, Miss Wright works with the Mental Hygiene Society of Los Angeles; and serves as consultant to the community organization section of the Urban League. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Miss Wright recently participated in the panel on Medical Social Research at the annual meeting of the American Association of Medical Social Workers, having been chosen by the University to present her findings in the field of new interviewing techniques.

The young social worker has definite ideas as to the future for medical social workers. She believes that the treatment of social and emotional factors is as important in most illnesses as medical treatment. She says, "Social work is a profession, that offers splendid opportunities for trained Negroes in good positions, and the outlook for the future is most encouraging. . . . The understanding of human behavior is going to be an important factor in the world's fight for peace."

Baste-Stitch Club Meeting

The Baste and Stitch Guild of Los Angeles met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Donaldson.

Mrs. Annie B. Brown, a former teacher in the public schools of Marshall, Texas, was the guest of honor and gave a talk which greatly encouraged the club.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Social and Civic Activities Keep Mr. and Mrs. Club Busy

The Mr. and Mrs. Social Club sponsored a Cabaret dance at the Congo Club Friday evening, June 18. The affair was a total success. The club extends its appreciation to the many friends attending this affair, and also Mr. Hefflin, who cooperated wholeheartedly in making this affair possible.

The Mr. and Mrs. Social Club held its regular meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Nolan Grays, 1414 E. 107th St. on Saturday evening, June 12. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mr. Ellis Salisbury. Club colors, maroon and gold, were selected.

Discussion of future events were the highlights of the business meeting. At the close of the meeting each couple presented a gift to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, (parents to be), of 11912 Stanford Ave. Mrs. Wilson expressed her appreciation to the members of the club. Everyone enjoyed an evening of dancing, after which a delightful Spanish repast was served, which had been exclusively prepared by Mrs. Aldonia Arthur. This being a cotton party, the ladies wore cotton frocks, while the men wore T-shirts and slacks.

a sore throat, but understand all the gang was on hand to welcome the young groom to be to good ole L. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carpenter also received guests Saturday from 4:30 to 7:00 at the wedding reception honoring their charming daughter, Sadie and her hubby, the popular Joe Blue. Annette Taylor did the gowns for the wedding that was soleminized in the gardens of the Mike Taylor residence.

Same evening, but at Casa Rafael, beautiful Nita Hippard, was even more beautiful than ever, when she became the bride of Barrington Tate. Among the hostesses were Marilyn Hudson, Sis Russell, Flora Boswell, Jean Garrott, Paulette Coleman, Evelyn Abney, to name a few. The Tates left on a honeymoon and will return to L. A. this week end. By the way, they also have a house here in L. A. and will forget plans of moving to San Diego.

LOU'S JOTTINGS

Of course this coming Saturday night will find many a person at the Delta Jabberwock, The Turnabouts club is going in a body, and will enjoy a little after party at the Joe Greens . . . Catherine Stanislaus dropped by to see Yours Truly Sunday, looking prettier than ever . . . Evelyn and Frank Abney make a perfect host and hostess in their lovely home. Evelyn, by the way, is quite a good cook . . . Dropped by the Robert Bennets Sunday evening and to them tell how beautiful the Griffith Merriwether wedding was.

The 13 Aids, the charity club that really does its bit in a big way, will probably have two more years to wait before they come to the public with another charity affair, for the Sunday Fiesta held at Louise Beavers hill top home, was definitely quite the affair of the season and successful from every point of interest. Among the guests noted during my brief stop over was Mrs. Willa Garrott chatting with George and Camille Cannady, while Leontyne King, Gwen Russell, Miss Washington, rushed around seeing to it that everybody had a perfect time. The entertainment was as great as could be expected with such a fine club playing hostess, Myer Berliner gave a generous donation to the Aids, Calvin Bailey donated his sketches that were sold, and among the entertainers were such named personalities as, Ethel Waters, Delta Rythm Boys, Mae Johnson, Eddie Dudley, Eddie Davis and his Cricket Club orchestra and oodles more. The 13 Aids are thanking the public for a truly highly successful affair.

Lula Green is just beaming these days, she's so happy now the lot she has her bachelor of arts degree. She and Sunny Robinson were of delightful time celebrating along with Connie Scruggs. By the way, Connie is a popular AKA and Lula is a popular Delta. . . . Celestine Eggleston really should go in for dress designing, she has so many clever ideas . . . Flo Nukes and Mary Johnson are busy as bees getting plans in order for the Child Guidance and Welfare League benefit Fashion show to be held at Helen and Crispus Wrights' beautiful home on July 25. Speaking of Flow, have you ever noted what a swell personality her hubby Walter has.

Just before the Senior Prom, for UCLA grads, given last Friday night at the Beverly Wilshire hotel, Leola Beavers, Jessie's future sister-in-law, was honored by her aunt, Mrs. Flory, with a formal dinner party that preceeded the big event. Following the dance the grade made their way up to Bobby Brewington's for breakfast. Some of the guests were Nancy Balch, Haroldine Browning, Lorraine Tennett, Gloria Russell, and Paul Weaver . . . Elizabeth Garrott, returned from New York and her studies at Julliard this week. Gloria Roberts will more than likely make her return home around the first week of July.

HAVE YOU NOTICED

John Alston's wonderful sense of humor, R. B. Porter's nice ways; Dr. Arthur Mitchell's pleasant hellos, Barbara Faulkner's beautiful complection . . . Althea Warren's winning ways . . . Well guess I will bring this column to a close . . . Guess I will see most of you at the wedding Sunday, or at the reception. I bring this week's column to a close, wishing loads of luck to Jessie Mae and LeRoy. They are two swell kids and I know the rest of the gang joins me in this wish.

NEW OFFICERS of the West View Hospital Women's Guild were installed last Thursday night by Allen C. Woodard; 3rd, president of the West View Board. Caught by the camera just after the installation ceremony, they are: seated left to right, Mesdames Anne F. O'Ferrall, recording secretary; Glenna Hayes, president; Wyman H. Burney, second vice-president; Agnes Corsey, treasurer. Standing, left to right: Mrs. Gaynelle Miles, financial secretary; Miss Edythe Owens, publicity chairman; Mrs. Lulu Ridley, third vice-president; Miss Dorothy Price, assistant recording secretary; Mesdames Alameada Williams, assistant financial secretary; Lobelia Dingee, sergeant-at-arms; Daisy Brooks, corresponding secretary, and Gertrude James, assistant corresponding secretary. Unavoidably absent at the time of the ceremony were Mesdames Pearl Taylor, parliamentarian and Verna Bean, first vice-president.

No More Passes If This Passes

The increased number of automobiles, plus the additional expense of wage increases is the reason advanced this week by the Los Angeles Transit Lines for its request to drop the issuance of tokens and weekly passes. In an application on file with the state public utilities commission, the transit company proposes a uniform ten cent fare plan that would include transfer exhcange privileges between itself, the Los Angeles Motor Coach Co. and the Pacific Electric Railway.

One thing is certain, the move to drop the sale of passes won't help the LATL to win friends and influence people.

Alphas Hold Regional Parley In L.A. First Week in July

The first Far Regional Conference ever held by Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, the world's oldest fraternity among Negro college men, will be held in Los Angeles July 3, 4, 5, it was announced this week by the organizations Far Western vice president, J. Barksdale Brown, and its regional director Lionel B. Cade.

Headed by two of the organizations national officers, President Belford V. Lawson, prominent lawyer of Washington, D.C. and executive secretary Bennie D. Brown, of Chicago, delegates from chapters in Nevada, Arizona, Washington, Oregon, and California are expected to make the conference the largest West Coast gathering of Alpha men in 13 years, Brown and Cade said.

Convention Theme

"Believing that the enjoyment of the privileges of society incure a duty to society, we the members of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity strive to become 'first of all, servants to all,'" will be the theme of the Regional Conference, Brown and Cade announced.

Fanning, Lawson to Speak

Among the prominent local civic and business leaders who will take part in the public meeting of the conference scheduled for Sunday, July 4, at Second Baptist Church, is Postmaster of Los Angeles, Michael D. Fanning. The fraternity's national president, Belford V. Lawson, known throughout the mid-west and east as a fine speaker, will also address the meeting which will be open to the general public.

Local Chapter Hosts

The three local chapters, Gamma Xi at the University of California at Los Angeles; Alpha Delta, University of Southern California, and Beta Psi Lambda, graduate chapter, will host the Regional Conference, the two western officers said.

Alpha the Oldest

Founded at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York in 1906, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Incorporated, is the oldest fraternity among Negro college men. It also became the first fraternity to become inter-racial in 1945.

Conference Committee

Assisting Cade and Brown with the plans for the Regional Conference are: Attorney Herman K. Barnett, program; Edward Strong, Perry Parks and James Robinson Jr., housing; George T. Waugh, Joseph L. Oliver, Jr., entertainment and Morris D. Hampton and Stanley Robertson, publicity.

Golden West Bridge Club Reports

Franklin Wilson, Reporter

The G.W.B.A. held its annual Masters Individual Game on May 15-16, inclusive, at the home of Mrs. Mae Denton, and the latter day play was held at the Club Room. It was a very snappy and good game. The winner was Mrs. Agnes Beale. Mr. Clyde Maddox was second, and Mrs. Mae Denton was third. Refreshments were served Sunday evening, as is customary at all Regional Games.

On Saturday and Sunday, May 29th and 30th, another Individual Game was held. This one for the Non-Masters. The winner was Mr. Kenneth Scott. Second place was won by Mrs. Myrtle Scott, the wife of the winner. Miss Ann Daniels was third. A great game was played by all and also a good time was enjoyed by all.

The trophy winners for the month of May were as follows: Tuesday night, Mrs. Mae Denton (Master Trophy); Mr. Henson, (Non-Master Trophy). For Friday night the winners were Mr. Henson and Mr. K. Scott.

Our Roundtable Bridge discussion is still held on Tuesday nights prior to playing time. Come on out and strengthen your bridge game by learning the correct bids, whether they be opening, overcalling or responding bids. All that is very essential to know in becoming a Master Bridge player. We have two very capable instructors in Mr. Ellis Veil and Mr. Gene Robinson. It is to be remembered that its almost National time and everyone will have to be prepared for different types of systems that are eligible to be played in the Nationals, so again I repeat, let's come out to our Bridge discussion and round-table class on Tuesday evenings. The time, 7:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Let's come one and all. Our next Regional play will be the Mixed Pair Regional to be held during July 1948.

The Non-Masters of the G. W. B. A. are to be praised for their good showing in weekly plays and also in Regionals. They are getting better. Let's keep up the good work. That is the way to become a Master player. Try to be a winning player. An outstanding happening during the playing of bridge for the month of May, 1948, was the Friday night playing of Mr. Henson and Mr. K. Scott. The two of them are Non-Masters. They were the Trophy winners for the month of May 1948, on Friday night. Mr. Henson also won the Non-Master's Trophy for Tuesday night's play. Good luck to you, Mr. Henson.

Pres. of Medical Auxiliary Seated at Closing Meeting

Living up to its traditional reputation, the last meeting of the Medical Auxiliary of Women was replete with many activities. Mrs. Wylma Windsor, program chairman, concluded the year's program with current topics and a short resume of the three years activity which she presented as chairman. Mrs. Retha Beck presented the outgoing president, Mrs. Edith Bailey, with a club gift. Mrs. Marie Frederick an dEmily Portway and Dr. Doris Moore gave topics of the day. A gift of $20 was presented to the YWCA to purchase dishes. Mrs. Georgia Hardimon, acting as installing officer, presented an inspirational wheel installation ceremony. Mrs. Joyce Cockrell rendered beautiful music for the entire occasion, closing with a friendship circle singing "Wagon Wheels."

The new officers are: President, Mrs. Glenna Hayes; vice-president, Mrs. Wylma Windsor; recording secretary, Mrs. Rheba Butler; financial secretary, Mrs. Bernice Wilkins; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rossel Fernandez; treasurer, Mrs. Elois Davis; parliamentarian, Mrs. Helen Garland; chaplain, Mrs. H. R. Butler Sr.

The meeting was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Sheen with Madames Paula Giddings, Quinlock Sheen, Margaret Rene and Pearl Smith acting as hostesses.

Final Rites Held For Local Pioneer

LOS ANGELES, (NPB)—Final rites for Mrs. Hattie Boyd, 75, pioneer resident of this city, were held Monday from the funeral chapel of the Angelus Funeral Home. The sermon was preached by an assistant to the Rev. Mr. Frank H. Prentice, pastor of Mount Zion Baptist church, with interment following immediately at Evergreen Cemetery.

The late Mrs. Boyd was a native of Houston, Texas. She came here more than 30 years ago to take up residence with her five sons and daughters who survive her here. Death was due to a hypertensive condition. Mrs. Boyd suffered for some time. At the time of her demise, Mrs. Boyd lived with a daughter, Mrs. Lula Horta, at 642 East 52nd Place.

Among those left to mourn her passing are daughters, Mrs. Horta, and Mrs. Leonore Bridges; sons, Leonard Boyd, Eugene Boyd and Ernest Boyd, and granddaughters, Mrs. Bettye Jean Boyd, Mrs. Katherine A. Porter and Mrs. Yvonne A. Shelton, and great granddaughter Mardell Shelton and Patsy Boyd.

Bowdoin Was LA's Delegate to Confab

Lorenzo Bowdoin, treasurer of the local branch, N.A.A.C.P., attended the 39th Annual Conference of the Association as a delegate from the Los Angeles Branch.

In representing one of the largest branches of the Association, Mr. Bowdoin will extend an invitation to the Conference as guest of the local branch. Before leaving he secured an official invitation and other material from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, as an inducement for the Conference to accept.

For many years Mr. Bowdoin has been a leading campaigner in Membership Drives. He is a member of numerous religious, civic and fraternal groups, and is secretary-treasurer of Angelus Funeral Home.

Fire Rings Sought At Playa del Rey

Councilman Kenneth Hahn introduced a resolution in the City Council requesting the Department of Recreation and Parks to to build fire rings at Playa del Rey, in April, that can be used by young people's groups—churches, boy scouts, Y.M.C.A. groups, schools, etc. to hold wienie bakes at night on our beaches.

Raisin' Cain

By CARL L. CAIN

THANKFUL TO SEE MILLIONS AT THE PRESIDENT'S PARADE

He boomed ino this man's town riding that special train with millions of people cheering and shouting their welcomes to the President of the United States of America. He waved and tipped his hat in the warm California sunlight; the car moved on down Broadway with the millions of spectators feeling that thrilling sensation; the sensation that came from the realization that their eyes behld the man who holds the greatest office in the world. That was all on one Monday morning—less than two weeks ago.

However, the President returned to the White House and said the trip had been a complete failure. It had, so far as Mr. Harry S. Truman was concerned. For he knew, too, that the crowd had not cheered for him—becaese he was Harry Truman. They had cheered the President; he was then a symbol of all the Presidents of this country in the past and the symbol of them all in the future. Many of the people in that Los Angeles crowd had never seen a President of the United States before. To them, he was the Washington, he Lincoln, the Jefferson, the Roosevelt and all the men of the past who made this country great. That, Mr. Harry S. Truman realized, tnd called the trip a failure. Any other man could have been sitting in the seat of that car—and holding the office that he holds—and received the same ovation as he did.

One should be deeply grateful, however, to see millions of people turn out to greet the President. A sad state of affairs will exist in our Union when we fail o greet our Chief Executive in teaming masses. America will stand on the verge of revolution, while already swimming in contempt and dillusion, when we no longer feel respect and pride toward our supreme leader. Mr. Truman's journey to L.A. did prove one thing, and we should be grateful, thaf America—and Americans, are still going strong. The fortifications of our courage and faith in our country have held firm through the war, through this aftermath of uncertainty and dillusion. For these reasons, we should have all been thankful to see the crowds so heartily greeting the President.

MORE ABOUT CONGRESS

Well, the props were knocked out from under my hope that the Eightieth Congress would adjourn sine die before they passed the draft bill. It is regrettable that they spent so much time on it before passing it. Now it's apparent that they'll be unable to do anything about the bill's inability to abolish Jim Crowism in the ranks. It is not impossible that I personally will be called into the army. Now if there's anything I hate worse than being assigned to special sections in buses, cafes, and other public accommodations, it's being assigned to special companies and barracks and given a special type of gun to kill people with, while all that's important to them is that I kill. They pay everyone the same salary, if you could call it that, and the government takes the same amount of your salary in taxes. But just why they would spend thousands of dollars preparing special segregated units for whites and Colored is beyond me. All I can say is that boys you'd better fight it while you're on the outside, for when you're drafted, you're government property and pretty helpless. I hope the voters will choose a better group of lawmakers called Congressmen in the next election.

It was, however, an admirable stand that Senator Glen Taylor and Senator Langer took in opposition to the bill, in the Senate. I say because if the American people were to vote on the plan to draft men at the present time, it would be overwhelmingly defeated. A great many of our citizens—the majority—feel that "national safety" is not facing great danger at the present time. Too many of us, during the past years, have felt helpless and aggravated under the present juggernaut of our leaders, not with the exception of Mr. Truman.

I feel that great militarism is a thing to be feared in any nation. We've seen it arise in Germany, in Italy, and in Japan. Before the people themselves, in these countries knew what was happening, they were being herded like cattle and driven off to conquer possessions which would never do them any good even after victory. There is a similarity between these dictatorial methods and our American method today; simply that our leaders are unwilling to treat all the men in its ranks with equal respect and dignity. It is a disgrace even to make an issue on such a matter before the eyes of the world.

G.O.P. CONVENTION

The Republican Convention is going over with all the significance and importance as ever before. It's going to be fun to see who finally wins out, but Vandenburg . . . The thing is, the Republicans have too many good men for one convention. They'll have trouble, all right, but one Republican is just as strong as another—or will be in the November election. It's like a clothless man trying to decide the color of his new suit.

FOOTNOTE: Never judge a person at first sight; often there's a similarity between fools and genius.

Grand Lodge No. 4 of the B'nai B'rith made a presentation to the 44 branches of the Los Angeles Public Library system of a complete Boy Scout library which consists of scouting merit badge pamphlets, cubbing and scouting handbooks, Sea Scout, Air Scout and Explorer scout manuals, and other Boy Scout literature.

David Goldman, vice-president of the District Grand Lodge No. 4 B'nai B'rith Lodge; Sampson Rosenfield, president of the Southern Council of B'nai B'rith Lodges; and Frank Malter, Boy Scout chairman for B'nai B'rith, recognizing that America's youth movement must be more actively supported, made this one of their principal projects for the year 1948-49.

The B'nai B'rith has been very active in sponsoring the Boy Scout program and are now embarke don a program whereby all lodges in the west will sponsor a complete scout family: cubbing, scouting and senior scouting. B'nai B'rith is America's oldest Jewish service organization.

Louisiana Bias Under Fire In School Case

NEW ORLEANS, La.—A. P. Tureau here, acting for the NAACP, has filed suits against the parish school boards of Orleans and Iberville, charging that they denied Negro children instruction in certain courses of study, and that modern and sanitary schools such as those provided for white children are not available for Negroes. Tureau's complaint also claims that adult Negroes are barred from public education program, and that there are not adequate secondary school facilities for the over one thousand Negro children who graduated from elementary schools this year.

Immaculate College Summer Courses

Two workshops in ceramics for adults will be held at Immaculate Heart College (Los Angeles) during the coming summer session. The first two-hour workshop will begin at 8:30 and the second one at 10:30. Classes open July 6 and run for a five week period including Saturdays. No previous study is required and the courses will be conducted so that those interested will be able to carry on further work in ceramics in their own homes with a minimum amount of equipment.

In addition to this art workshop, Immaculate Heart College will offer courses in audio-visual-radio education, as well as a kindergarten Experimental Laboratory Workshop. Registration is now open to children above four years to attend the morning kindergarten. Call GLadstone 6306 or HIllside 1578.

Dr. Clement Honored

EVANSTON, Ind.—At the annual celebration of Alumni Day at Northwestern University on Saturday, Dr. Rufus E. Clement, president of Atlanta University, was the recipient of the Merit Award, which is given "in recognition of worthy achievement which has reflected credit upon Northwestern University and each of her Alumni."

Dr. Clement earned the M. A. at Northwestern in 1922 and the Ph.D. degree in 1930. He also has an earned degree from Livingstone College.

Raggers Reunion At YM Sunday

Councilman Kenneth Hahn will speak on "Young Men—Opportunities for Service" at the annual Raggers Reunion at the 28th Street YMCA this Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.

The Councilman who became connected with the YM when he was nine years old, has served as a leader and counsellor at Little Green Valley, a YMCA camp in the mountains near Big Bear for six years, and he has been awarded all the Rags in the Rag Society, presently holding the white rag. While a student at Fremont High School, he was president of the affiliated Hi-Y and served on the staff of the Southwest YMCA.

Oakland Cleric Gets Degree

AUSTIN Texas—The honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon the Reverend Charles L. Warren, pastor of the Taylor Memorial Methodist Church, Oakland, California by Samuel Huston College at its spring convocation here in May.

LOCAL AUTHOR, Deadrick F. Jenkins, has been informed by his publishers in London, Fudge and Company, that his latest book, "Letters to My Son," has been placed in the British Museum. Highly discriminate in their reading tastes, the staid Britishers are reading Jenkins' book in great numbers, attesting to its popularity.

Metaphysical Bible Institute Outlines History of Origin

This Institution was founded June 16, 1946, by Rev. Dr. Lucy Johnson, in Los Angeles, California, at 1174 East 55th street.

Twelve persons met at the above address to begin a Metaphysical Bible study group, which grew steadily until one year later when a board of directors, nine in number, made plans for a permanent organization. After incorporating and securing a charter from the state of California, has proceeded to teach Truth as lived by Jesus Christ.

The purpose of this school is to train men and women of all creeds and colors, to know their oneness with the one source of all there is, to learn the true meaning of living a healthy, happy, prosperous and peaceful life here and now. To understand the connecting link between God and man also, how to have dominion over all that God has created for man's well-being.

Realizing the need for better Counselors, Instructors, Practitioners, Metaphysicians and Ministers of Metaphysics. A provision is made in the charter whereby the above degrees may be obtained through systematic study as prescribed by this Institution when the required number of credits have been acquired.

All students begin at the same point, that is, with lessons in "Beginning at the Beginning." These lessons give the student a basic foundation in Metaphysics on which to build all future work of Truth. It makes the many different uses of Truth easy for all who learn them. Also, one may study in the same classes for their spiirtual growth and unfoldment. The class work has been so simplified until it does not require a lot of education to pursue these courses of study. If one can read well enough to understand what they read, and can write at all, they are eligible from a literary standpoint. Still to become an Instructor the requirements are a little higher.

Dr. Johnson, the founder and president of the Institution, has had many years in preparation before attempting to organize he school. She began her study in Truth with the Healing Ministyr founded by John and Jessie Kegell at Ashville, North Carolina, in 1927.

Furthering her studies by studying with Dr. J. W. Barder of Galveston, Texas, of the Spiritual True Church. Later taking a course in Mental Science from Mental Science Institution founded by Dr. Harvey Hardman of Denver, Colorado, she studied three terms at Unity Farm, Lee Summit, Mo. Also took the written work from the field department of Unity, Kansas City, Mo. Later becoming an Ordained Minister in the church of Christian Faith. International Organizer for the church of Applied Christianity, ordaining twelve ministers and two Bishops. She received her Ms.D., and D.D. degrees from the College of Universal Truth in Chicago, Ill. Is also a life member of the International New Thought Alliance.

She has taught Truth Groups, maintained offices for Metaphysical practices for the past 10 years. Through this school she is sharing these years of study, research, practice, and experience. Being guided and taught by the Holy Spirit to help others to get a better understanding of Truth as lived and taught by Jesus Christ, so that they may know the Divine Law and live thereby.

Guest speakers at the graduation were Drs. Jessie A. Alexander, Carrie P. Love, Mabell L. Oliver, Rev. Pearl C. Wood and Bishop H. S. Alexander.

Dr. Johnson is the pastor of the beautiful June Cobb Institute church, 1195 East 55th street, this city.

Victory Baptist Sponsors Senior Boy Scout Unit

A new Senior Scout Unit has been organized under the sponsorship of Victory Baptist Church, 48th and McKinley Avenue of which the Rev. A. A. Peters is pastor.

The unit will be known as Explorer Post 707-X and will meet every first and third Thursday evening of the month at Victory Baptist Church. The first official meeting was last Thursday at the church.

Officers of the Explorer Post 707-X are Duncan Osborne, Post Guide, William Harris, Asst. Post Guide, James Simpson, Post Secretary, Charles Coleman, Treasurer, David Butler, Crew Leader, and Dan Jones, Assistant Crew Leader.

Mr. Osborne will head the Social Committee, Mr. Harris will lead the Service Committee, Mr. Butler will chair the Outdoor Committee, while Mr. Simpson will chair the Committee on Indoor Activities.

The Rev. B. Clarence Cooke, Field Scout Executive, Los Angeles Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, was the organizer of this new Unit.

Married Women Here's A Break!

The Young Marrieds Club of Downtown Center YWCA, 941 South Figueroa Street, announces the beginning of Ceramics classes every Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. All young housewives are invited to attend. In addition to the Ceramics classes, for which there is no charge, there are classes in gym, swimming, badminton, and other sports and interests.

A nursery for children from 18 months through 5 years of age is available under supervised attendants. Children of school age through 10 are also provided with play space, if parent is enrolled in the program.

The club officers, Celeste Smith, president; Fay Bass and Marjorie Maltun, vice-presidents, invite participants to eat lunch with the club at 1:00 p.m.

Parents Warned On Accidents

Chief destroyer of the lives of little children is accidental death—and parents are the unwilling accomplices.

So stated Dr. Harry F. Dietrich, senior attending physician at the Childrens Hospital in Los Angeles. Speaking before the Western Safety Conference in Hollywood last week, the physician revealed that as many as 20 per cent of all hospital beds are occupied on some days by home and and street accident cases.

"Accidental death is a killer; the parents are the accomplices," Dr. Dietrich said. "Only time, thought and well-directed effort on the part of the parents will prevent this accidental slaughter and mutilation of their children."

Goin' To The Beach? Take This With You

To protect bathers from being injured by debris left on the Beaches following night fires and picnics, the Los Angeles Police Department will rigidly enforce laws designed for beach cleanliness during the current season.

Of the beach injuries, totaling eight hundred and ninety four last year, seventy percent were due to broken bottles, tin cans and other debris left on the beaches after picnics and night fires.

Police urge all citizens to help avoid accidents this year. Put trash in the containers placed there for that purpose. Open fires are permitted at Cabrillo Beach provided a permit is obtained; charcoal broilers may be used at Castle Rock.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Has Representative Number at UCLA

When UCLA's largest graduating class, numbering some 3000 from all sections of the land, heard the U. A. Chief of Staff, speak, as they received their degrees, a representative number of the graduates were Negro students. Some of them quite outstanding in their various fields.

The graduation, a beautiful and serious affair held in open-air theater of the University in Westwood, was witnessed by a crowd of relatives and friends of the graduates that numbered 10.000.

The Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, one of the first Negro Greek, organizations to be recognized on the campus of the University, had 8 of the members of the Alpha Gamma Chapter to graduate. Six of the young women are used as picture subjects for the front page of this issue of the California EAGLE. Like other young graduates they are eager to get out into the world and put their education in competition with experience. President of the chapter, Grace Davis, vice president, Ysabel Gray, received their degrees, along with Nancy Blanche Blach who plans to use her elementary teaching credential in September; Ruth Irene Greene, who received a B. A. degree and Kindergarten Primary teaching credential; Shirly Elizabeth Rakestraw, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Rakestraw, received a B. A. degree and General Elementary teaching credential; Beverly Lorraine Cannon, B. A. Degree in History, plans to work on General Secondary teaching credential; Haroldine Leota Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Browning, of this city received her B. A. degree in Romance Languages and is planning to be a government Interpreter and Rita Marie Brown, received her B. A. in Zoology and plans to enter medical school at University California, Berkeley campus.

Washington Memorial Hi in Achievements

"A study of Virginia's historic shrines indicates that no other memorial within the confines of the Old Dominion is credited with such an impressive list of achievements as those accomplished by the Booker T. Washington Birthplace Memorial during the first two years of its existence," according to a statement released today by Henry L. Caravati, Richmond Public Relations Consultant.

In less than two years the Memorial has the following outstanding achievements to its credit:

The 216 acre plantation on which Booker T. Washington was born has been purchased at a cost of $7.500.

Five houses on the birthplace grounds have been renovated and modernized. One has been fitted out as an administration building.

A heroic size statue of Booker T. Washington is being sculptured at a cost of $5.000.

A bill has been passed by the House and is to come up before the Senate to erect a $5.000.000.00 hospital for veterans on the grounds as a part of the memorial to Booker T. Washington.

The United States Post Office Department has established a post office on the grounds under the name Booker Washington Birthplace, Virginia. More than 100.000 pieces of mail have passed through this office since February 12.

The 79th Congress authorized the coinage of five million Booker T. Washington Memorial half-dollars to be sold at a premium to help in the work of the Memorial.

Forgiveness ought to be like a canceled note—torn in two and burned up, so that it can never be shown against one.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Subject: From Malachi to Christ; Lesson Text and Outline, Malachi 3:1-5; 4:1-2, 5-6; Luke 1:76-79. Moto Text, Luke 1:68.

INTRODUCTION

During the four centuries from Malachi to Christ, silent was the voice of God in prophecy but steady was his hand upon history in western Asia, northern Africa, and southern Europe. The Jews, a few resident in restored Jerusalem, but most dwelling in dispersion over many lands, clung to their ancestral faith (at last cleansed of idolatry) and ardent became their hope of the Messiah. The completed Old Testament was recognibed and translated into Greek, the version used in the time of Christ.

The Talmud and the fourteen books of the Apocrypha were written. The synagogue arose; the schools of Hillel and Shammal were founded and flourished; the sects of the Pharisees and Sadducess originated; and in Palestine, rival worship in Samaria was established. The new faiths formed by Buddha, Confucius, and Zoroaster were taking root in the Far East while the Near East was palsied with paganism despite the glory of Greece boasting Zeno and Epicurus as its philosophers, and the power of Rome which under the Caesars made the Mediterranean Sea a Roman lake.

COMMENTS

1. Malachi is God's messenger; that is his office; he is Malachi. God observes a method in his work, and, before he comes, takes care to have his way prepared. The accomplishment of this is proof that Jesus is the Christ, i he that should come, and we are to look for no other; for there was such a messenger sent before him, who made ready a people prepared for the Lord. Those that seek Jesus shall find pleasure in him. If he be our heart's desire he will be our heart's delight; and we have reason to delight in him who is the messenger of the covenent, and to bid him welcome who come to us onsokind an errand. Those that would be acquainted with Christ and obtain his favor must meet him in his temple, for there he records his name and there he will bless his people.

There we must receive his oracles and there we must pay our homage. Christ by his gospel shall purify and reform his church, and by his Spirit working with us shall regenerate and cleanse particular souls; for this end he gave himself for the church, that he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word and purify to himself a peculiar people. All true Christians are sons of Levi, set apart for God to do the service of his sanctuary, and to war the wood warfare. We cannot offer unto the Lord any right performances in religion unless our persons be justified and sanctified. Till we ourselves be refined and purified by the grace of God, we cannot do anything that will rebound to the glory of God.

God had respect to Abel first, and then to his offering; and therefore God purges his people, that they may submit their offerings to him in righteousness. People try to justify themselves and, their sins having been artfully concealed, hope to escape punishment for want of proof; but God, who sees and knows all things, will himself be witness against them, and his omiscience is instead of a thousand witnesses, for to it the sinner's own conscience shall be made to subscribe, and so every mouth shall be stopped. Judgement against those sinners shall not be put off for want of evidence, for He will be a swift witness. God's judgement shall overtake them, and it shall be impossible for them to outrun it.

2. When Christ, in his doctrine, spoke terror and condemnation to the proud Pharisees and the other Jews that acted wickedly, when he sent that fire on the earth which burnt up the chaff of the traditions of the elders and corrupt glosses they had put upon the law of God. The whole world shall then burn as an oven, and all the children of this world, that set their hearts upon it choose their portion in it, shall take their ruin with it, and the fire then kindled shall never be quenched. In both Christ is rejoicing light to those who serve him faithfully, to those who fear his name and give him the glory due to it, who stand in awe of that name of his which the wicked profane and trample upon.

To the coming of Christ in the flesh o seek and save those that were los; then the Sun of righteousness arose upon this dark world. Christ is the light of the world, the true light, the great light that makes a day and rules the day, as the sun.

Christ is the Sun that has light in himself, and is the fountain of light; he is the Sun of righteousness, for he is himself a a righteous Saviour. Righteousness is so; it guides, instructs, and quickens; so is the everlasting righteousness he has brought in. He is made of God to us righteousness; he is the Lord our righteousness, and therefore is fitly called the Sun of righteousness. Through him we are justified and sanctified, and so are brought to see the light.

3. As God never left himself without witness in the world, so neither in the church, but, as there was occasion, carried the light of divine revelation further to the perfect day. They had now Moses and the prophets, and might hear them; but God will go further. He will send them Elijah. When God has such work to do as was formerly to be lone, he can raise up such men to do it as he formerly raised up, and can put into a John Baptist the spirit of an Elias. The turning of souls to God and their duty is the best preparation of them for the great and dreadful day of the Lord. Those must expect to be smitten with a sword, with a curse, who turn not to him that smited them with a rod, with a cross.

4. Jesus Christ is the Highest, for he is God over all, blessed for evermore. John the Baptist's business was to prepare people for salvation, by preaching repentance and reformation as great gospel duties. He was to give people a general idea of the salvation, that they might know, not only what to do, but what to expect; for the doctrine he preached was that the kingdom of heaven is at hand. There are two things in which you must know that this salvation conists. First: The forgiveness of what we have done amiss.

It is salvation by the remission of sins, those sins which stand in the way of salvation, and by which we are all become liable to ruin and condemnation. The gospel salvation not only encourages us to hope that the works of darkness shall be forgiven us, but sets up a clear and true light, by which we may order our steps aright. We have as such reason to welcome the gospel day who enjoy it as those have welcome the morning who had long waited for it. First, the gospel is discovering; it shows us that which before we were utterly in the drak about it; it is to give light to them that sit in darkness, the light of knowledge of the glory of God in the fact of Jesus Christ; the dayspirng visited this dark world to lighten the Gentiles. Secondly, it it reviving it brings light to them that sit in the shadow of death, as condemned prisoners in the dungeon, to bring them the tidings of a pardon, at least of a reprieve and opportunity of procuring a pardon; it proclaims the opening of the prison, brings the light of life.

Comment on the Motto Text

For the work of salvation that was to be wrought out by the Messiah himself. This it is that fills him, when he is filled with the Holy Ghost, and it is that which all who have the Spirit of Christ are full. The arrand on which Christ came into the world to redeem those that were sold for sin, and sold under sin; even God's own people, His Israel, His son ,his first-born, His freeborn, need to be redeemed, and are undone if they not be. Christ redeems them by price out of the hands of God's justice, and redeems them by power out of the hands of Satan's tyranny, as Israel out of Egypt.

Deny Reported College Merger

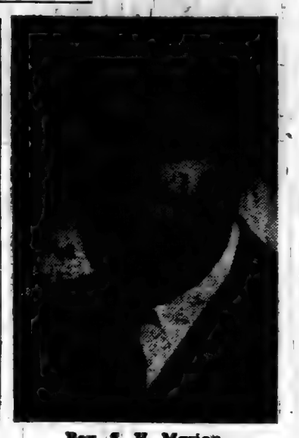
AUSTIN, Texas—Reports that the merger of Wiley and Samuel Huston College, two educational institutions under the supervision of the Methodist Church, will be consumated at once and the merged institution located at Dallas received a blow here this week when a joint report released by Dr. M. S. Davage, Secretary of the Methodist Educational Institutions for Negroes, and Bishop R. N. Brooks indicated that the work of the two institutions will not be interrupted in the near future.

The report reads:

"There is no connection whatever between the strike situation which prevailed at Wiley and the vote for the merging of the two institutions. In any event, each institution will continue its work and the merger, if agreed upon, will not be consumated for several years. The only objective in the merging of the two institutions is to concentrate the work of the Methodist Board of Education into one large and better institution so what the one institution can do a better quality of work than two separate institutions."

Rev. S. H. Marion Makes Fine Showing At General

Dr. S. H. Marion, minister of First A.M.E. Zion church, Paloma and Pico sts., made a good run for the bishopric at the general Conference of his denomination held at Louisville, Ky., last month.



Dr. Marion was a member of the Episcopal Committee to help make the assignments of the bishops. He also served on the Financial Committee of the General Conference.

Dr. Marion raised and reported to the church during the Special Spring Financial Effort $517. Money he raised from outside friends, white and colored, in and out of the city, he expresses thanks to all of them.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gray led the 12 Captains in the Spring Effort. She went over the $200 required by the pastor and church officers. All others, however, did well and the grand total raised was around $1,200.

The pastor is preaching 10 special sermons, and all members and friends are kindly requested to hear them each Sunday, day and night, 11:15 a. m. and 8:15 p. m.

Rev. S. H. Marion, minister.

McCoy Memorial Bids Jules Haywood Adieu In Farewell Concert, Hails Cecil Dandy As Director Of Music

The McCoy memorial Baptist church at 802 East 46th street, Rev. E. A. Anderson, pastor, presented Jules Haywood in a piano-organ concert, Tuesday evening, June 15. Mr. Haywood was presenting his farewell concert before leaving to study at the Paris Conservatory of Music in Paris, France.

The McCoy Memorial Baptist church was the scene of elaborate decorations. The Senior and Youth choir members formed a most beautiful stage background, they wore formal attire. This formal and semi-formal concert was the first of its nature to be presented at McCoy. The attendance was record breaking, not even standing room was available.

Even though Mr. Haywood was suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis he refused to disappoint his eagerly awaiting audience. His performance was supreme, unsupassable. The audience was held spell bound at the conclusion of each selection.

The program consisted of such classicals as Bach's "Chromatic Fantasy and Fugue," Beethoven's "Sonata in E Flat," and Schubert's "Impromptu in A Flat, and many others. The program was concluded with a group of religious selections including special request from the audience.

Mr. Haywood has just received his Masters degree in Music from the University of Southern California. He has served as Director of music and Organist for the McCoy Memorial Baptist church for the pass six months.

The pastor, Rev. E. A. Anderson, members and friends of McCoy wish for Mr. Haywood a speedy recovery from his recent operation.

Cecil W. Dandy will succeed young Haywood as director of Music at McCoy. Mr. Dandy a former "Wings over Jordan," featured tenor soloist and assistance director, is now a student at the U. S. C. School of Music. Tune in each Sunday morning at 10:30 Radio Station KOWL and hear the Sunday Morning Worship from the auditorium of the McCoy Memorial Baptist church. Rev. E. A. Anderson, pastor.

The Sallie Martin Singers, and The Los Angeles Gospel Choral Union, will appear in a musical extravaganza, Monday evening, June 26, 1945, 8:15 p.m. at Trinity Independent Church, 4709 Avalon Blvd. All members are asked to be present Saturday evening, June 26, for rehearsal. Many of the outstanding musicians of the city will appear along with Sallie Martin and the Choral Union. The regular weekly meeting of the union is held each Saturday night at Trinity Independent Church. Rev. F. H. Hydes, minister.

Lives Beautifully Lived Tribute at Angelus Temple

William de Valentine, youthful baritone and the recent second place winner in the national Atwater Kent radio auditions was one of the featured artists on the annual tribute to "Lives Beautifully Lived" presented in the chapel of the Angelus Funeral Home, and sponsored by the Five And Over Charity Club.

Miss Edythe K. Owens, an accomplished organist, opened the program and Troop 129, Boy Scouts of America, demonstrated the presentation of the colors and led the salute to the flag and the singing of the National Anthem. Harvey Huggins, baritone sang a group of numbers accompanied by Miss Owens, who also provided piano accompaniment for the group of violin concert pieces rendered by Victoria Rice.

Mrs. Mabel Massengill, soprano, sang the Depuis le Jour from Carpenter's Louise, and Miss Georgia Lassiter sang Elizabeth's Prayer from Wagner's Tannehauser. Walthea Sims Jones, contralto, sang Voce di Donna from La Giocanda by Poncehielle, and Miss Roberta V. Edwards, noted pianist and organist played a group of Chopin and Schumann selections. Miss Maxine Huges whistled several selections including "The Star."

Vince Monroe Townsend Jr., delivered the oration. The capable young attorney was chosen for this distinction again this year because of the acclaim he received when he delivered the oration last year.

While the organ played "Aloa Ohe" as soft background music, a silent tribute was paid to departed members. During the recessional, Miss Owens officiated at the argon. Mabel S. Gray is president of the Five and Over organiztaion, and Mrs. Lillian Moore was the musical advisor.

St. Paul Gives To West View Building Fund

Responding to the special plea of Rev. John L. Branham, pastor, the membership of the St. Paul Baptist Church contributed $233.05 to the West View Hospital building fund recently.

The check was presented to Dr. D. A. Hawkins, past president of the West View Board at the Sunday morning service. In making the presentation, Rev. Branham advised that this was only the initial contribution and that annual financial support for West View can be expected from the St. Paul Baptist Church.

The Junior Ushers of the State of California are now holding their second annual ushers' convention in the People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th and Paloma streets. The convention opened yesterday, Wednesday, and will continue through Friday.

A debate on Universal Military Training was the main feature of the Juniors' afternoon program yesterday. After the meeting adjourned, a "Get Acquainted Party" was held at the Woodlawn Y. W. C. A. for all the visiting delegates. Miss Pauline James, the newly elected state president, presided at the meeting.

The annual oratorical contest will be held this evening (Thursday) at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the People's Church. The winner of this contest will be awarded a trip to the National Convention which will be held in Detroit, Michigan.

Morehouse Baptist Conf. Opens July 6

ATLANTA, Ga. — For the fourth consecutive year, Morehouse College will sponsor a Baptist Ministers' conference in cooperation with the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. The Conference will be in session on the campus, July 6-9, and will be under the direction of Reverend Lucius M. Tobin, a member of the faculty of the School of Religion at Morehouse and pastor of Atlanta's Providence Baptist Church. Theme for the four-day meeting is "The World of God and the World of Man."

Four distinguished Baptists will be the Conference leaders. They are: Reverend Kelley Barnett, professor of sociology at the Roberts School of Christianity, Mercer University; Reverend James A. Hall, pastor of the King's Highway Baptist Church of St. Louis, Missouri; President Richard I. McKinney of Storer College, West Virginia; and Reverend Samuel W. Williams of the School of Religion, Morehouse College.

3rd Anniv. for CME Church

The third anniversary of the San Pedro C.M.E. Church will be observed Sunday at 3 p.m. The church was founded by the Rev. Phillip N. Moore March 27, 1945. It is located at Third and Centre streets, San Pedro.

Rev. S. R. H. Banks will be the speaker and his choir will sing.

Independent Organ Guild Entertained

Members of the Organ Guild, of the People's Independent church were elaborately entertained on Sunday, June 20, at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayden, 4015 Woodlawn ave. Co-hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Willis Calomel. Beautiful flowers enhanced the house throughout, and attractive and a delicious dinner was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Burris of Chicago, sister of Mother Josephine Quarles, was guest of the club. An all-states tea and fashion extravaganza will be given by the Guild Sunday, July 18, at the Masonic Hall.

Mrs. Maida Bonner, president; Mrs. Matilda Parker, reporter; Mrs. Fannie E. Benjamin, advisor.

'Christian Science' Sunday Lesson Theme

"Christian Science" will be the Sunday Lesson-Sermon subject in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text, chosen from Isaiah, reads, "O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord."

In Matthew's Gospel it is related that "Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, . . . and taught them, saying, Blessed are the poor in spirit: for their's is the kingdom of heaven. . . . Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Some individuals assimilate truth more readily than others, but any student, who adheres to the divine rules of Christian Science and imbibes the spirit of Christ, can demonstrate Christian Science, cast out error, heal the sick, and add continually to his store of spiritual understanding, potency, enlightenment, and success."

Though men should rend your heart, let them not embitter or harden it. We win by tenderness; we conquer by foregiveness. —F. W. Robertson

Evangelist Cohran Presents Musical At Patriotic Hall

Evangelist Pauline Coffee Cohran, who was the wife of the late Rev. William Gary, able and respected pastor here, will present

PAULINE COFFEE COHRAN

CANDID COMMENTS:

NOTE TO MY READERS!

We have this week as our guest columnist the very popular M. C. and Vocalist Ray Wheaton. Next week your own Candid Comments columnist will return to the scene.

While making my usual nite round, from the fair Glamous-Sunsetstripe to the Jump and Jive, of Central ave. This is what I saw and who I saw with, . . . I was invited to attend Miss Lena Horne's Closing and little get-to-gether back stage for a pick few-at the famous SLAPSY MAXIE's (of Hollywood). I noticed Mel Bryant there with a beautiful lovely from N.Y. Ex-vocalist of the one and only Duke Ellington's. Also at the same table was some of the prettyest Bronze debs, such as follows: Gloria, Stella Nelson and Steffin. Also the one and only Great Bennie Carter, one of our best arrangers and musicians in the business. He also said he was arranging some wonderful stuff for Miss Horne, who is opening at the famous Copabana Club, N. Y. which we all know is the finest spot for the 4000 class. I take my hat off to Miss Horne . . . Lena telling how wonderful the French folks treated her in France, and how much they respected her talent . . . The French people are O.K. (Huh)? . . . Dropped in on Joe Liggins' show at the Million Dollar theatre, as usual good, and Art Duncan is tops and not least, the one and only Miss Bobby Caston, beautiful and very talented singer, and ladies and gents—her wardrobe was very fine. You're wonderful Miss Caston. Keep up the fine work. My records of the week are as follows: "Billy Exctine's recording of Out to Forget to Nite; Nellie Lutcher's Fine Brown Frame; Roy Milton's I've Had My Moments; Dick Hayme's, Little White Lies; Wyonnie Harris' Good Rockin' To Nite; Hadda Brook's Best Things In Life Are Free; Nat Cole's Lost April and A Boy From Texas and a Girl From Tenn.

Billy Holiday's Deep Song and of course on top is the one and only Nature Boy—Nat Cole. And my best music unit of the week is the great and wonderful RAVEN'S—I think they are the newest, and the most refreshing act since Nat Cole. They're the type you don't get tired of, and they keep you in a fine groovey spirit all the time—and they have lots of personality all the time and that is one-half of the battle. The bass man and tenor are very outstanding, and all in all they're terrific . . . That's why I choose the RAVENS the best act of the week.

The girl vocalist of the week is Eddie Davis' vocalist. She is very good and pretty cute too, and not saying any thing about Davis' ORK. cause they're going to take over lots of the bigger band (SMALL) . . . not borrowing Louis Jordon—ETC. So mark my words . . . And Hot Ashes is good too, a fine M. C. and funny. That is alright Ashes keep up the good work . . . I was informed that Miss Donna Raeburn, a very beautiful blonde and popular—of the famous Vogue MaG. is having a fair well party for Miss Lena Horn this week end.

I dropped in at the famous CRESBAR Sunday nite and saw Kelsey and Ren[illegible], of the famous Delta Rythm Boys . . . having a ball with some beautiful Bronze Deb, and by all means folks get their recording of "Squeeze Me", it's terrific . . . please believe me. Last Saturday, June 12, I dropped in at the famous Paul Ruben Cricket Club and I saw lots of top musicians and top artists such as the beautiful Hadda Brooks . . . I had a little chat with her, and she said she's leaving for a tour up the coast. She said she had a wonderful tour planned. (Keep up the good work Miss Brooks . . . I know you all saw Hadda in her latest PIC, "OUT OF THE BLUE" . . . also at the same table, that Bronze Gable-type, Paul Harris. And his bro. Larry, who are both wonderful actors, so watch both of those names, and by all means, don't miss the RAVEN'S, they're superb—if you can't get the Paul Ruben's Cricket Club, then catch them at the Million Dollar Theatre, June 30th.

I stopped over at the Downbeat and saw "Anna Laurrie" (Since I fell for you girl . . . she's still great, so put some more records out Honey, everything is all right . . . Across the street I dropped in on the 4 Bits of Rythm . . . please follow these fellows. For after hours go to BROTHERS and ask for Lilly, Lee, Ollie and of course Brother, and now ladies and gentlemen that's all till next time. As ever "YOU'RE BRONZE TROUBADOR"—"RAY WHEATON."

Joe Turner to Last Word Cafe On Central Ave.

Joe Turner, the original "Daddy of the Blues," returns to the Bronzeville scene Thursday night for a limited engagement at the Last Word Cafe. Mr. Turner, who recently returned from a highly successful cross-country theatre-nightclub tour, has chalked up records galore during his many months' absence from the City of Angeles, and is expected to chalk up records galore during his stint at the Word.

The 5-Bits of Rhythm, under the very capable musical direction of Teddy Rudolph, are holdovers for the new show and will continue to dish out the same brand of low-down rhythm that has made them a favorite with after-dark crowd.

Joe Alexander, Capitol recording star whose recording of "For You" zoomed across the musical horizon in a blaze of glory, is the new co-star of the Last Word show and whenever Joe Alexander is on the stand you're always in for some pretty singing.

L'Tanya, torrid shake dancer is another holdover and she'll set the place on fire. Returned by popular demand is Emily Foster, a little bundel of atomic energy. She dances. She sings. She does just about everything in the line of entertainment.

Annie Laurie Sings Pretty At Downbeat

Annie Laurie is the new songbird attraction at the Downbeat club, an astute bit of booking on the part of the management. In a room with only a 200 person capacity and a well-founded reputation for being one of the coziest of the Angel city cocktail lounges, the entertainment has to be strictly out of the ordinary and geared to the intimacy of the place. With Annie Laurie in the starring spot, the Downbeat club comes out on the right side of the entertainment ledger. Business is booming.

On the same show is the Paul Gayten trio. Piano-playing Paul is a new pianist-singer discovery. His style of piano playing, his appearance and his excellent voice appear made to push him to the top of the ladder in short order. The trio (really three men and Paul) deserves much of the credit for Miss Laurie's auspicious debut, for the outfit turns in an excellent job of accompaniment. Sharp swingeroo arrangements make up the Gayten repertoire, plus the torchants featured by Paul, who does a neat job of toying with a ballad. He's no King Cole (what pianist is?) but he'll do until the King comes home.

The Downbeat club features the tops in musical entertainment, and it's easily one of the top spots on Central avenue. Open every night with a special jam session on Wednesday evenings.

TELEVISION, TOO!

Chuck Jackson's new Club Savoy, 1702 E. 103rd St., features not only the best in mixed drinks and deliciously prepared dinners, but television entertainment as well!

PRETTY LITTLE DOLL in the above pic surrounded by a quartette of swing cats is Annie Laurie. Cats in the group are sending patrons nitely with listenable rhythms at the Downbeat club on 42nd and Central avenue. It's piano-playing Paul Gayten and his trio, and if you like your rhythms in a swing style drop around to the Beat and listen to the Paul Gayten trio. As for Annie Laurie—well, she sings as pretty as she looks!

Dizzy Gillespie Greatest Since Benny Goodman Says Alexander

NEW YORK—Dizzy Gillespie, king pin of the be-boppers, this week was ranked with the all time jazz greats by the most respected band authority of the day—Willard Alexander. Alexander, who was first to spot the potentialities of both Benny Goodman and Count Basie, unequivicably tabs Gillespie as the one great influence of modern music and predicts that he will equal if not surpass the heights reached by Goodman and Basie.

Said Alexander in discussing Dizzy at his opening on Broadway last Wednesday night, "This boy represents the first genuinely new musical influence of this decade. He is so refreshingly new that he startles even the veterans of the business. He is so unusual that he is controversial. That's not only a healthy sign but proof that he is a stimulating new thing that is destined for popularity. It was the same with Goodman and swing. I'm glad I was around to see Gillespie, too. He's the Benny Goodman of his day. He's a cinch to revolutionize jazz. And don't say I didn't tell you."

Movies for Bronze Bathing Beauties

The "Miss Bronze" Pacific Coast Bathing Beauty Contest swings in high gear this week. Why? Because Mgr. Sid Hazeur reveals that Bronze bathing beauties will be seen on screen in movie shorts to be made this year. New entrants are urged to report at headquarters Friday, 2:00 p. m., 5321 So. Central Ave., ADams 1532, and receive instructions for rehearsaling, which will take place next week. Sponsors are asked to enter their girls early this year in order that girls will receive full benefits of rehearsals. Now! the big Sixty-four $ question is. Who will capture the title "Miss Bronze," Pacific Coast Beauty Queen. When the big gun says, "BANG!" You're off, girls. 6-24

DeMarks to Have Team

In an effort to curb juvenile delinquency Wilbourne DeMarks has come up with an unoriginal but good idea. Mr. DeMarks, who operates the only Negro-owned Frosted Malt shop in Los Angeles at 4052 So. Central ave., is thinking of organizing a softball team of local youngsters and will play various teams from other playgrounds.

Mr. DeMarks will use Ross Snyder playground as his training field, and the Eagle will keep all youngsters desiring to play softball posted on the first training date.

THE AMERICAN LEGION'S two-day Fireworks Show at the Los Angeles Coliseum July 4 and 5 is the subject of an earnest conversation between her horse and Miss Laura Lee Koepp who asks that he turn in the best performance of his career. Both will appear in one of a dozen circus acts scheduled for the show. In addition, more than $50,000 worth of fireworks will be set off in the most spectacular display of its kind in the world. Proceeds from sale of tickets, now available at all Thrifty Drug Stores, will be used for the Legion's rehabilitation program for all veterans regardless of Legion affiliation.

BACHELORS DEGREE—(Mrs. S. A.) Lu Vollie Williams received her Bachelor in Christian Education from the Reed School Of Christian Education May 30, also a three year diploma in the Ministerial Department. She will be working next semester on her Bachelor in Theology and Master in Christian Education. Mrs. Williams is very active in the St. Paul Baptist church serving as instructor for the early morning worshippers, Missionary study course, secretary to the Building Fund, Deaconess for 17 years, and assistant instructor to the Medical Corp.

HERE'S GIPSON'S nominee for fame: Miss Eunice Wilson—a dazzling dame. Miss Wilson, who chirps pretty for the public nitely in the Tom Breneman show out in Hollywood at the cafe bearing the same name, is a singer of sweet songs who scores solidly on any type of tune. She gets the EAGLE Theatre Editor's personal nomination for a choice spot in the singers Hall of Fame! ! !

Curiosity Got the Best of Brother Bill

PHILADELPHIA—Bill Kenny, leader of the famed Ink Spots, narrowly escaped serious injury from a broken fan last week. The Ink Spots' tenor, who is currently appearing at the exclusive Philadelphia supper club, Ciro's, was trying to make the fan in his hotel room work and when pressing the starting button didn't make it operate, Kenny tried to move the fan blades. The blades of the fan began to rotate suddenly and Kenny pulled his hand out of their way, escaping with serious cuts on his fingers. Unshaken by the near tragic accident, the Ink Spots' leader said later that he experienced an unusual sensation. "It's the first time that trying to cool off," said Kenny.

Buffet Dinner At Harlem Cafe

C. A. Barber, Walker Sipsey and Louis Guy, of the Harlem and Elite cafes, entertained a few friends lavishly Monday afternoon with a buffet-style dinner at the Harlem Cafe, 3529 S. Central. The occasion marked a reunion of old friends, and was also given in honor of Ted Garnet, popular Angel City nightclub host and sportsman.

The Messrs. Barber, Sipsey and Guy spared no expense in making the little get-together ofe of joy and merriment. Sixty-five pounds of pink salmon was flown in from Fairbanks, Alaska, just for the occasion.

Among the guests feted were: Shellie Mitchell, Will Carter, Bob Brown, Tom Gooden, Felix Bland, O. Donelson, E. Strepport, Tony Hernandez, James Cookie, Wilbert Inslow, L. A. Perkins, Mr. Gaines and Mr. Artie Stokes Jr.

The get-together reunion is an annual affair staged by a group of leading sportsmen and businessmen.

Fluffy Hunter Rejoins Banks

Following a brief leave of absence during which time she appeared as a feature attraction at the Last Word, singer Fluffy Hunter re-joined the Buddy Banks band as featured vocalist and appeared with the Banks crew Tuesday night at San Diego on a one-night dance date with the famed Ravens singing group, and a show headed by Johnny Otis' band.

Miss Hunter, whose singing is acclaimed by critics as being the kind that doesn't give you cauliflower ears, left the Banks band a few weeks ago to go out on her own as a single. The sextette, featuring Buddy's terrific tenor-tooting, broke records at the Swing club, San Francisco, and returned to the Angel city for a repeat engagement at the Cricket club, but somehow the dates became jumbled and Buddy and his boys were forced with an uncalled for layoff. It was during that period Miss Hunter decided to work solo. Her work with the sextette is outstanding, tho she wasn't too excitable as a single.

Employment Service For June Graduates

Full use of the facilities of the California State Employment Service by June graduates is urged by Walter O. Christian, field supervisor, Los Angeles metropolitan offices, as his staff completed an intensive series of talks to high school seniors. "Job hunting is easier when you know what you're looking for and have prepared to make the most of each employment contact.

PATRICIA WASHINGTON, talented 10-year old singer and dancer, will be one of the featured youngster's of the Willie Covan Juvenile Review at the Embassy Auditorium, July 10, sponsored by the Style Art Charity and Sewing Club. The proceeds of the presentation will go toward the club's annual contributions to the Outdoor Life Health Association and the Children's Orthopedic Hospital. Patricia has been on the stage since she was 3 years old, and has appeared on the Amos 'n' Andy Show and worked on the stage and in pictures.

Louis-Wolcott Battle Tonight

NEW YORK—Rain forced last night's (Wednesday's) heavyweight championship bout between Champion Joe Louis and Challenger Jersey Joe Wolcott to be rescheduled for tonight (Thursday) promoter Mike Jacobs announced.

The postponement marks the first time in history that a heavyweight championship bout has been postponed due to rain.

The championship bout will be broadcast locally at 7 p.m. on the Mutual Broadcasting System's local outlet, KHJ, either tomorrow or Saturday in case of rain Friday.

Sportsman Bobby Richardson got soused the other dawn and said some rather uncomplimentary things about a doll he allegedly is friendly with. Her hubby overheard the risgay remarks and, biff-bang-boom'd Bobby all over the Elks foyer. Someone should remind Bobby that Alcohol is an excellent liquid for preserving almost anything but secrets!

Miss (?) Almena Davis, the Anti-social Editor of the Los Angeles Spittune, has dark circles under her disposition. She never says or writes anything nice about nobody. But then, mebbe it's even, 'cause nobody ever says or writes anything nice about Miss (?) Almena Davis. Ordinarily, we never fight with ladies, but not knowing WHAT Miss (?) Davis is we feel justified in our attacks. Miss (?) Davis, who is usually in the dark about anything she can't make light of, shouldn't go around spraying her poisonous venom on people, because there are some who can outsquirt her. The only good thing about Miss (?) Davis is her opinion of herself!

Buddy Garcia, who works in the Law Offices of Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., told us he had a wonderful time teaching one of the local society beauties how to swim. "I was doing fine, too, until a life-guard came along and made us go into the water." . . . Dolores McZeal is one of the best dressed girls on the main stem, and her main stems are really something. Pointer, of Newton Div., beat 58-C, gave a ticket to one of the musicians in Ry Milton's ork. The charge was "double-parking." On the ticket the Offc'r wrote: "I warned the driver of the car to move on, but he didn't." Offc'r Pointer is a liar. We witnessed the whole scene. The musician stopped in front of Teplow's drug store just long enough to pick up a passenger. The Offc'r was parked in front of Browne's barber shop, and went right over as soon as he spied the musician's car. When asked why he didn't give motorists a warning for minor traffic violations, he sarcasm'd: "I don't get credit for giving warnings, I get credit for giving tickets!" That, too, is okay. It's his job. But Offc'r Pointer is headed for trouble which could easily be avoided. Mr. Traffic Dep't Head, by the simple process of transferring him into another district. He is one of the most arrogant, impolite, impudent and sarcastic Offcr's we've met in our more than eleven years of covering the Police beat. He has no b'sness in the Negro section of Los Angeles. Oh, fevvensakes, not because he's from Louisiana, but because he doesn't know how to deal with people. Someday, someone will resent his over-bearing attitude. He should take a lesson in the Art of Dealing With The Public from Offcr's W. Goodlow, Shipp, Alston, Schooler, Lee, Sykes, CB Scott, Williams and others who are definite assets to the dep't. Officer Pointer is a definite liability!

NITE SPOTS REVIEWS

The Elks Lounge, 1767 E. 103rd St., Watts

The new show at this spot is good. Ralph Weaver, young dance master who made quite a rep for himself in international dance circles, is the current star of the show. Other honors go to Mary Johnson, who pleases with several sweet songs; the Felix Gross band, featuring the sensational drumming of "Daddy" Gross himself; the pleasing teasing-torso-twisting of L'Tanya, and other lesser acts that round out a solid forty minutes of downright entertainment. Sammy Warren, who formerly danced with the Four Flash Devils, is manager of the Elks Hall, and he is going all out in an effort to present the tops in entertainment.

Club Congo, 4215 S. Central Ave.

What can be said about Roy Milton's band that hasn't already been said before? Roy has a terrific combo, featuring the sax-tooting of Bill Gaither. As if Bill's powerhouse blowing isn't enough to keep things moving along at a lively pace, Mr. Milton calls on his dynamic pianist-singer, Camille Howard to chirp and play a few specialties for the guys and gals in the audience. And what Camille Howard does with a song is nothing short of sensational! On Bass Violin with the Roy Milton crew is the popular Dallas Bartley, who formerly played with Louis Jordan, and is best known for his original song, "Small Town Boy." Also in the show is a hip-hurler named Dorothy Something-or-Other, but when you get around to watching her hurl well-formed hips all over the stage you don't even bother to ask the lady's name.

Jack's Basket Room, 3219 Central Ave.

Top honors go to Sherman Williams and his band. This is one of the most exciting swing groups to play California in ages. Instrumentation consists of Drums, Piano, Saxes (2), Trumpet and Bass. Special mention is due Charles Gillum, sensash young Be-Bop trumpeter whose blowing is the peak of perfection. Mr. Williams had better keep his eye on some of the big "name" band leaders or he'll be minus a trumpeter soon. That guy Gillum is great! Iona Wade is featured songstress at this swing emporium, and her style of singing a song is oooOOOOOLa-La! Jack's is open from Midnight 'til Dawn, and is famous for its fried fowl. At the Basket room, a Chicken ain't nothin' but a Bird in a basket!

Tom Breneman's, Hollywood

Dorothy Donegan is the star of the current show out at T. Breneman's. Supporting acts are Tip, Tap and Toe; Ceele Burke's band; Eunice Wilson and others. Someone should tie a ribbon around this show and send it to Winchell for a Christmas present!

Dorothy Donegan Is Interviewed By Eagle's Niteclub Editor Gip

In keeping with my Spartan mood of living, I was sitting down to an early breakfast about 3 o'clock in the afternoon when the phone rang and a voice on the other end said: "Hello Mr. Gipson, will you dine with me at my apartment tomorrow afternoon?" The voice belonged to shapely, statuesque, stunning Dorothy Donegan, an exquiste doll, so I said yes—natch!

Pouring my frame into a sharp-creased sack suit, which is called a sack suit because it is made out of sacks, the next afternoon found me seated comfortably on the sofa beside the perfumed body of pert and pretty Miss Donegan, who rose to fame and riches swinging the classics and playing the prettiest piano this side of anywhere.

"Perhaps you think it strange my inviting YOU to dine, instead of the other way around," she said. I laughed to myself on that one, smiled sweetly, but didn't answer, knowing perfectly well that if a doll (even as lovely as Miss Donegan) waited for an invitation to dine on my hard-earned sheckles, that's the best diet she could discover for reducing.

"I might explain," continued Miss Donegan, "that I sought the interview with you because you have been very nice to me in the papers, and I want to do something for you. Name it. Anything." And little devil that I am, I named it, too!

There sat I, a hillbilly-born columnist, looking into the big, beautiful eyes of one of the loveliest dolls in the theatrical profession (and out of it, too, if you ask me—and even if you didn't) and she wants to do something for me. ANYTHING, too, she said.

"Well, Dorothy," I said.

"Yes?" she answered.

"W-W-W-Well," I stammered.

"Yes, yes, go on," she urged, "anything you want!"

"W-W-W-Welll," I blurted out, "will you cook me some red beans and rice sometime?"

She said that she would.

Getting back to the interview, I was drinking a martini she had mixed with first-rate gin. She doesn't drink. Her reason being: "Girls get nowhere quicker by drinking liquor except sicker."

"Don't you know that stuff's slow poison?" she asked. "Oh, that's all right," I grinned, "I'm in no hurry."

After a light luncheon, consisting of cracker sandwiches, I asked her if she would pose for a leg picture. "Hmf," she said, "they're called LEG pictures because they usually show the thigh." And she wouldn't.

I laughed so hard 'til I fell on my face (which is what is wrong with my face to this day).

Miss Donegan, currently appearing nightly as star of the Tom Breneman show in Hollywood, will leave for Europe following a short cross-country theatre tour. She makes more than three grand per week, which ain't bad even if it's only half that much! She hails from the Windy City of Chi, and if you're pouting because I haven't told you more about Dorothy Donegan, it's your own fault.

Because anyone who hasn't heard of Dorothy Donegan can't be listed as anything but a first-class boob!

POOR REPORTING

We hate to knock anybody, but the truth is the truth. Contrary to what was printed in a local paper last Thursday, Ollie Matson of San Francisco's Washington High School, is not "the best Olympic prospect on the entire coast."

As we have been saying since Mattson was clocked in 47.1 June 5, at Berkeley, when he chassed Herb McKenely to new worlds record in the 440, this young man from San Francisco must be considered a threat to make the London boat. But to call him the hottest prospect on the coast is not fair to young Mattson, the other athletes, or the sport fan.

First of all, the other paper pointed out that Mattson had been clocked in a 21.4 220. Any child with a passing knowledge of track knows that at least a score of men have clocked better than 21.4 this season. The paper also said that Mattson was undecided on whether he'd run the 100 meters at the Junior AAU or not. Checking through the records, we find that Matson's best effort in the 100 yards, is 9.8, surely not good enuogh to get a free trip to the British Isles.

After going down the line, it's evident that Mattson's only hope of making the Olympic squad is in the 400 meters. His 47.1 440 is second only to Herb McKenley's 46 flat and McKenley will run for Jamica.

But even with that 47.1 quarter to his credit, you can't call Mattson the top Olympic prospect on the coast. Not when there's guys like Willie Stelle, NCAA champion and undefeated in the broadjump since God knows when, SC's Mel Patton, the NCAA 100 meter and 200 meter champion, Craig Dixon, 3rd in the NCAA, and Cal's Chuck Hanger, 2nd in the NCAA high jump. The list could go on to enclude men like Dr. Steve Seymour, and a half a dozen others.

We began beating the drum for Mattson long before the other paper ever heard of him, and we'd like to see the kid on the boat more than anybody, but to call him the best Olympic prospect on the entire coast is poor reporting, not fair to the sport fans, not fair to the other athletes on the coast, but more important, it's not fair to Mr. Mattson himself.

Come fellas, let's wake up to what good reporting is.

POOR SPORTSMANSHIP

Not since Jim Thorpe was forced to give back his medals following the 1912 Olympics, has there been a poorer display of sportsmanship than was displayed last week at the NCAA Track and Field meet when Harrison Dillard was declared inelegible. According to the NCAA's spokesman, Professor Hugh Willet of the University of Southern California, the Baldwin-Wallace star, the worlds greatest hurdler today and probably the greatest of all times, was declared inelegible on the grounds that he had already competed for three years. According to Prof. Willet, this is against the NCAA's rules.

The NCAA meet this year took on nationwide, and world wide, importance. You know that the first six men in the NCAA meet qualify for the Olympic tryouts on the 9 and 10th of July at Evenston. The only other way a man can qualify for the Olympic tryouts is to be among the first six in the AAU meet, July 2, 3 at Lincoln, Nebraska. By declaring him ineleigibel for the NCAA, the officials cut Dillard's chances in half of making the Olympic games. A miscalculated step and a fall could disqualify Dillard from the Olympics. But knowing Dilard this is not likely to happen.

But the important thing is how the NCAA could disqualify Dillard on the grounds that he had already run three years? Back when Dillard began running for Baldwin-Wallace. Freshman could compete in varsity athletics without losing a year. So really, Dillard has run two varsity years and one freshman year. But Prof. Willet said that rule doesn't hold up any more. I'd like to ask Prof. Willet of SC how long guys like John Ferrero, Veryl Lillywhite, Cliff Bourland and Hubbie Kerns competed for the Figueroa School? Or is that alright!

Trojans Upset

Special To The California Eagle

MEMORIAL STADIUM, Minneapolis, Minn.—The University of Minnesota's surprising Golphers, a team that could do no better than fourth in the Big Nine meet three weeks ago, gathered points in "olympic" events to win the National Collegiate track and field championship here Saturday Afternoon.

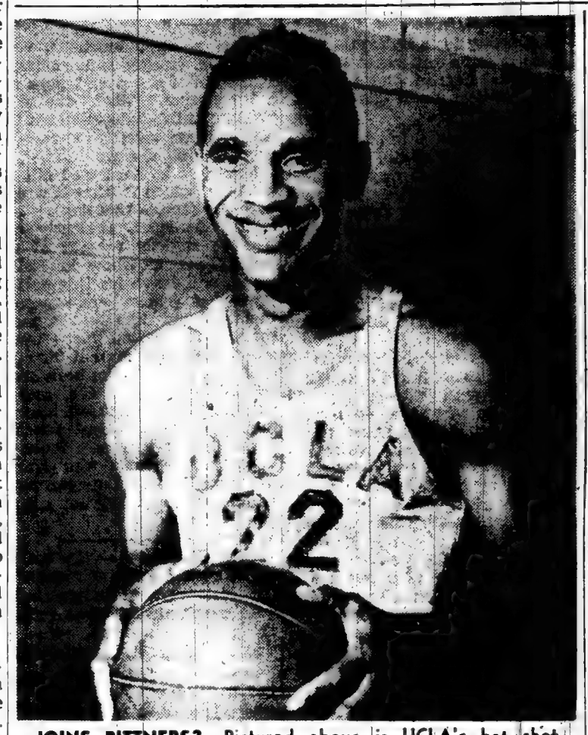
Scoring 46 points to rack up their first victory in the 27 year history of the annual event, the Golden Golphers outpointed the pre-meet favorites, the University of Southern California Trojans. The Los Angeles team was very disappointing with only sprinter Mel Patton, winner in the 100 and 200 meters, performing as expected. The Trojans placed second with 41¼ points 1½ points ahead of third place Texas.

Patton was timed in 10.4 and 20.7 respectively for the 100 and 200 meter dashes. In becoming the first Trojan to win the NCAA 200 meter crown, Patton equaled Jesse Owens world record time for the distance around a curve.

Whitfield Stars

Former Jefferson High School of Los Angeles star middle distance man, Melvin Whitfield became one of the top candidates for the American Olympic team in the 800 meters when he out ran Jack Deanetti of Michigan State and Bob Chambers of USC, to win the 800 meters in the good time of 1.51.1. Whitfeld also grabbed a fourth in the 400 meters. Defending champion Bill Clifford of Ohio State was fifth in the 800 meters.

Steele Shines



After trailing in Friday's preliminaries, Willie Steele of San Diego State College won the broadjump with a leap of 24 ft. 11 in. He was closely followed by two other Negro athletes. Northwestern's track captain, Bill Holland and Wayne University's Lorenzo Wright.

Fonville As Usual

Michigan's 194 pound weight demon, Chuck Fonville, won the shot put as expected. The lithe young Negro tossed the 16 pound bill 54 ft. 7 in.—18 inches further than the distance that won the 1936 Olympics, but far shy of his own worlds record. Another colored lad, Herb Bartran of Michigan, was second behind Wisconsin's Don Gehrman in the 1500 meters.

Dillard Absent

Running without the nation's greatest hurdler, Harrison Dillard, who was declared ineligible on the day before the meet, Clyde "Smackover" Scott of the University of Arkansas, tied the existing worlds record of 13.7 for the 110 meter high hurdles. The record will probably never be sent for official consideration due to a 6.2 mph wind that aided Scott.

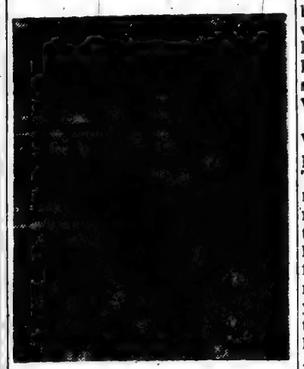
UCLA's Dave Minor To Join Bittners

(Eagle Exclusive)



OAKLAND—The California Eagle learned this week that two-times All-Conference guard from the University of California at Los Angeles Daveage "Dave" Minor will sign a contract to play basketball with the Oakland Bittners of the American Amateur Association.

According to sources close to the Bittner front office, Minor will leave Westwood immediately for this city in order to make the deal final. As reported in the California Eagle more than six months ago, Minor will pass up his final year of collegiate eligibility in order to join his former teammate and close friend, Don Barksdale, who has been with the Oakland outfit since last season.

Minor since coming to the Bruin school has been named All-Coast two straight years, 1947-48. He, and his pal Barksdale, sparked the Bruins to their first undisputed Pacific Coast (Southern Division) championship in 1947. Before a three-year hitch in the army, Minor was named to the 1943 All-American squad and was voted the top performer to appear in Madison Square Garden that year.

The six-foot two-inch guard is married and the father of a young son.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Old Mexico — Living up to his name as one of the greatest sprinters from the Hipodromo de las Americas in Mexico City, Glo Bo, who arrived here just a few weeks ago, sprinted to victory in the featured "Father's Day Handicap." In doing so the California-bred son of War Glory-Lydia Boss bested the fastest sprinters on the grounds in the good time of 1:11 flat for the six furlongs. One of the leading riders from Mexico City flew up to ride Glo Bo and made no mistakes. Jockey E. Cotero kept Glo Bo off the early pace set by Almo Boy and Little Delph, until turning for home, where he called on the chestnut-coated gelding, who responded to win with ease. The payoff was $6.60 for $2.

The secondary event was won by the gray ghost, Blueberry Pie; New Dough was second and After School third. The winner paid $8.60. The stewarts suspended Trainer-Owner Olie Brown for 60 days after a chemist's report of a positive test for benzedrine in the urinalysis of Ima Clown, winner of the second race June 13. Caliente stewarts also suspended E. and O. Jackson, owners of Boot Black. It came about when Jackson wanted to replace apprentice J. Freels and put E. O. Johnson, the only Negro rider on the West Coast, on Boot Black. This was refused b ythe stewarts and aJckson refused to saddle his horse, thus came the suspension.

Apprentice J. D. Porter was the star jockey of the day, riding four winners. In the daily double, Boysan, winner of the second race, and Major Mike, victor of the third, paid $15.80, while the quiniela backers received $10.40 when Missy Van and Like Father ran in that order.

This Sunday General Manager Walter C. Marty announced two feature attractions to support the 12-race program. The feature will be "The Pan Zareta," named after one of the greatest sprinters of past years. The secondary will be "The Eventide," both races at six furlongs.

Lanky Infielder Only Negro On '48 Prep

By Stanley Robertson, Eagle Sports Editor

Concluding his high school athletic career by attaining the goal toward which all local prep athletes strive, six-foot three inch, one hundred and sixty pound Duane White, stellar shortstop from Thomas Jefferson High School, was this week named to the 1948 All-City High School Baseball Team released by the Helms Athletic Foundation.

Boasting ten athletes from 10 different schools, this year's star studded prep nine is probably the most representative in the ten years that the Helms organization has been selecting the horsehide squad.

Leading the list of the prepsters, Hamiliton High School's hard hitting outfield, Johnny Moore, was chosen as the baseball "Player Of The Year." Moore was choosen on the basis of his healthy .448 batting average and his 10 circuit clouts for the season.

White Most Remarkable

However, the selection of White to the All City squad is probably the most remarkable. The long, lanky shortstop was a member of the disappointing Jeff nine that tied with Roosevelt for the Southern Loop cellar, and his team was eliminated in the first round of the Dorsey Tournament. But the heavy hitting 18 year old lad still stood out even though his team was below par. He batted the ball at a terrific .425, the third highest average in the city. His defensive prowess brought the praise of not only his opposition, but major and minor league scouts as well.

All Southern League

White was also named to this year's All Southern League nine, and has been selected as a candidate for the National American Legion Junior Baseball game to be played in New York this summer.

3 Year Letterman

Graduated last week, White plans to enter Compton Junior College in the fall to further pursue his education. Winning his third baseball monogram this year, White became one of the very few athletes in not only Jefferson history, but local high school history, to win this honor. He also lettered on the '47 and '48 basketball squads.

First Since '45

The new All City Shortstop also became the first Jefferson baseball player since before the War to be named to the All City nine. The lad who turned down many professional contracts in favor of continuing his education, is also the first Jeffite since Willie Lightsey of the '45 Green and Gold grid squad, to be named to an All City Team.

The complete All City Team follows:

Pos.	Player	Team	ht.	wt.
of—	John Moore,	Hamilton,	5.10,	163
of—	James Miller,	Roosevelt,	5.9,	160

Bean Bops Cruz in 10

Twenty-year-old Willie Bean, promising young rookie from the eastside fighting his first 10-round bout, won a unanimous decision over Francisco de la Cruz Friday night in the main event at the Hollywood Legion Stadium before 5000 fans.

Displaying a torrid body attack, young Bean got off the canvas at the count of nine in the third round to batter the heavier Cruz around the ring at will. Young Bean won every round from the flabby Cruz. Bean hurt Cruz only once during the fight, however. He caught the game Mexican heavy with a hard left hook in the midsection that made his '(Cruz's) knees buckle.

Referee Reggie Gilmore favored Bean by 6 points, Judge Mushy Callahan tabbed Bean by 8 points, and Judge Joe Stone favored the eastside clouter by 4 points.

Cruz had been installed a prefight 8-10 favorite.

Lloyd-Patton Meet Again?

ALHAMBRA — The two top sprinters in the world today, Jamica's Lloyd LaBeach and the United States favorite son, Mel Patton, may tangle again on the cinder path before meeting in London, it was revealed this week when LaBeach announced that he would participate in the annual Alhambra Games this coming Friday night at Moor Field.

According to a dispatch received here Tuesday afternoon, Patton may run against LaBeach if his leg muscles are in shape following the Pacific Coast-Big Nine dual meet at Evanston, Illinois, Tuesday night.

Tabor Beaten In Opener

Al Tabor, star quarter on the University of Nevada's 1948 Salad Bowl Champion Football Team, and former candidate for the quarberack job at UCLA, returned to Bruinville Monday afternoon as a tennis player.

The veteran Nevada racquet weilder didn't fair so well in his new role for he was beaten 6-0, 6-2, in the first round of the National Collegiate Association's Tennis Championships being held at the Westwood school, by Notre Dame's Robert David.

Tabor however will compete in the doubles later on this week. He is one of the few Negroes entered in the collegiate tourney.

Williams Luckiest Guy in the World

PHILADELPHIA — Fight promoter Herman Taylor said this week that lightweight champion of the world Ike Williams had missed being on board the plane that took Earl Carroll, Beryl Wallace and 41 others to their deaths last Thursday, because he wanted to see a fight.

Taylor said that Williams had boarded the fatal DC-6 at Los Angeles Wednesday night but had gotten off at Chicago in order to witness the Ray Robinson-Bernard Docusen welterweight title bout.

Williams didn't learn that the fight was postponed until he had gotten off the plane and it had continued on its ill-fated flight. The lightweight champion boarded another plane and arrived safely in New York.

Washington—The U. S. Marine Corp, established by the Continental congress in 1775, is the oldest branch of the nation's armed forces.

Sugar Ray, Big Duke Battle Held Over

CHICAGO—Bad weather Monday again postponed the welterweight championship bout between champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson and challenger Bernard Docusen of New Orleans and Los Angeles. The bout has been rescheduled for next Monday night.

According to the Illinois State Athletic Commission, a new contract has been signed which sets next Tuesday as an alternate date if bad weather prevails Monday.

After a long argument over Robinson's failure to weigh in Monday, Docusen's managers signed the new contract.

The match, originally scheduled for last Thursday night at Comisky Park, was postponed until Monday night due to bad weather at that time. Robinson barely scaled over the 147-pound welterweight limit then, and most ring observers believed that he would have trouble making the weight again Monday.

Saying that he was overweight by "probably four or five pound by "probably four or five pounds," Sugar Ray refused to weigh in publicly Monday afternoon. Docusen weighed in at 147.

Docusen's managers at first demanded that Robinson be forced to weigh in, and if he could not make the weight, be forced to vacate the title. They further suggested that the two fighters should then fight for the vacated title next Monday night. However, the state athletic commission ruled that for Robinson to vacate the title would leave it open to "some 49 different challengers." The commission also sanctioned the postponement and ruled that Robinson did not forfeit his title because of it.

The newly-signed contract stipulates that the champion post $4000 to guarantee that he make the weight. He had already posted $1000.

Ecuador's capitol, Quito, was once the most important art center in the two Americas.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PETITION TO COMPROMISE CONTROVERSY.
In Bankruptcy No. 45,399-B
In the District Court of the United States, Southern District of California, Central Division.
In the Matter of PARDEE, CASH AND ASSOCIATES, a co-partnership, bankrupt.
To the Creditors of the above-named bankrupt:
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on July 8, 1948, at 10:00 A.M. at the courtroom of the undersigned Referee in Bankruptcy, 339 Federal Building, Temple and Spring Streets, Los Angeles, California, a meeting will be held to hear the petition of GEORGE GARDNER, as Trustee herein to compromise the following controversy:
That prior to the filing of a petition in involuntary bankruptcy, the bankrupt on May 8, 1947, filed an action in the Superior Court, in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California, against Consolidated Records Distributing Company, Inc., in the amount of $13,561.10 upon an open account.
That on February 18, 1948, the Trustee was substituted as party plaintiff in the action in place and stead of the bankrupt.
That it appears that there is considerable dispute as to the validity of items in the aforesaid open account. Defendant asserts that many of the aforesaid items were not ordered by defendant and with respect to other items that there were considerable overcharges.
That on May 22, 1948, the Trustee received an offer of compromise from Consolidated Record Distributing Company, Inc., whereby said defendant agreed to pay the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, in full settlement of said litigation, and in consideration of the foregoing, releases are to be executed by the Trustee.
The Trustee believes that it is to the best interests of said estate that said compromise be approved.
Dated: June 15, 1948.

Sarah Vaughan's Dog Foils Attempted Holdup of Star

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Sarah Vaughan, the popular singing star, is feeding those expensive steaks and meats to her Golden Boxer dog, "Baron," these days for a very good reason.

While appearing at the Club Bengazi in the nation's capital last week, Sarah and her husband, George Treadwell, were taking a leisurely walk from the Bengazi to their hotel. Walking along a poorly lighted street, Sarah and George were halted by a pair of armed bandits, whose guns indicated that they meant business.

The first thought that came to the minds of Sarah and George was not of their personal danger, but concern for the jewelry Sarah was wearing, which included a wrist watch, bracelet, necklace and earrings worth in excess of $3500, in addition to a large sum of cash and other valuables Treadwell was carrying on his person.

As the holdup men started about their task of separating Sarah and George from their valuables, George took a quick look in the direction of the dog, who up to this time hadn't made a move. With cold sweat pouring down his brow, George decided to take a tremendous risk. "Get 'em, Baron!" he shouted. Apparently the huge dog had been waiting for just a command. Without a moment's hesitation, "Baron" leaped at the first thug, throwing his companion sufficiently off guard for Treadwell to get the upper hand on him.

Thanks to the well-trained and powerful dog, the melee was over in a matter of a few seconds. Miss Vaughan's screams and the anguished cries of the vanquished bandits attracted a couple of police officers, who took the battered thugs into custody. "Baron" may get a reward for the capture of the thugs, but he's already getting his reward from Sarah and George—all the steaks he can eat from now on.

Theatre Luminaries At Atlanta Session

ATLANTA, Georgia — Elmer Rice, noted playwright, novelist and stage director acted as a consultant at the Atlanta University Summer Theatre Workshop last week, it was announced here. Mr. Rice, who with Kurt Weill and Langston Hughes, authored the Broadway musical hit of 1947, "Street Scene" is a former dramatic director at the University Settlement in New York. He was a regional director of the Federal Theatre Project and at one time was director of the Playwrights Producing Company. Among his plays are "On Trial," Iron Cross," "Home of the Free," "For the Defense", "Dream Girl," and many others.

Lee Simonson, scene designer and author of the "Stage Is Set", will be at Atlanta, June 27-29; and Alfred Kroenberger, drama critic for Time Magazine and PM, and formerly an editor of Fortune Magazine, will be at the Workshop, July 9-10.

Will Al Smith Go Big Time?

CLEVELAND—Find a winning team and you will find, invariably, one player who sets a hot pace—a sort of example—for teammates to follow.

Such a player is 20-year-old six foot one inch 190-pound Al Smith, left fielder for the third place Cleveland Buckeyes of the Negro American League. In his second year as a player in organized Negro baseball, Smith has developed into one of the brightest prospects in the game.

He has the qualities demanded for stardom: Youth, speed, a strong throwing arm, power at bat (to all fields). He can steal bases. All he needs is time and the finesse that comes from experience.

An infielder on the pennant-winning team of 1947 (at 19 years of age), Smith earned the respect of his fellow players because of his ability; yet, their esteem was catapulted to new heights when Smith took over the offense that finally led the Bucks from a dismal last place to a solid third and a brief tie for second.

Al is a great competitor. On the night of May 29, the Bucks were playing the Chicago American Giants, in the throes of a long losing streak, and trailing the Windy City lads by a 0-to-2 count. In the last half of the ninth, the Bucks managed to load the bases, with young Smith up. The right-hand-hitting outfielder strode to the plate and smashed out a base-clearing double that won the game 3 to 2.

That bit of clutch hitting set the Clevelanders off on a nine-game winning streak that was halted only briefly on Sunday, June 6, when the Memphis Red Sox scored a 4-to-2 win in the first game of a doubleheader. The Bucks came back to win, 3 to 2, in the nightcap and went on to compile another streak of eight games—for a record of 17 wins in 18 games.

Smith didn't win all of these games with his bat; but, he was a steady rapper all of the time. His hottest work came on three successive nights: Against the Red Sox, on June 8, he blasted out four hits in five attempts, scored three runs. The next night, he hit twice in five tries and followed, on June 10, with three hits in four trips, scoring three runs. On June 11, he hit three for four and scored two runs—one hit was a grand slam homer!

Smith is well over the .300 mark!

His fielding has drawn rave notices in Cleveland's league park and his doubles off the 340-foot wall—and a 360-foot homer—in right field have caused lifted eyebrows! Those are tremendous pokes for a right-handed hitter. The homer cleared a wall about 30 feet high. Smith robbed Jose Colas, the hard-hitting Red Sox outfielder, of a "sure homer" on June 6 when he raced to the left field wall in League Park, 375 feet from home plate, and made a sensational, stabbing, glove-handed catch of the ball—with the bases loaded, saving four runs.

Teammates call Smith a "clean liver, a nice boy." An all-around athlete at Kirkwood (Mo.), he received scholarship offers from the universities of Michigan and Indiana; but, circumstances beyond his control prevented college attendance. It is reliably reported that "Bo" McMillen, the then coach of Indiana, was greatly disappointed at the loss.

Dade Dukes Riley

CHICAGO — Former Featherweight Champion Harold Dade, 126, in his first professional fight before the home folks, decisioned Charley Riley of Saint Louis in the feature bout here Monday night at Marigold Gardens.

The former champ, was Chicago's amateur champion in 1940-41 and turned professional in California in 1942. Riley, one of the leading contenders for Manuel Ortiz's Featherweight crown, weighed in at 127½.

One of the top tonsorial artists in the city, Vincent is located at 41st Place and Central Ave. and specializes in gases that make the hair look natural. Barber Vincent has been around the Angel City for years and has worked on some of the theatrical profession's brightest "stars!"

It is pretty certain that the race for the GOP nomination will be a wide open one. Nobody knows what will happen when all the expendable favorite sons have been expended. — Howard Brubaker in NEW YORKER.

PROVING OUR FAITH

It is easy to take the marriage vows but it takes the vicissitudes of married life to demonstrate the reality of what was contracted at the altar.

We see examples of people who take these vows every day, and then just disregard them, and go right on living as they choose, paying no heed to the sacred matrimony obligations.

If married life does not always run smoothly, and has some ups and downs . . . remember it is no different from anything else. The trials and tribulations we experience are to test our faith and trust in each other, and if we are able to prove our faith by sticking it out . . . we are much further than the fellow that didn't try.

M. F.—Dear Professor Herman: I read your column every week and really think you can help me. Will I be successful with my plans?

ANSWER: Concentrating upon your question I find that you have a law suit coming up soon, and are wondering if you will be successful with it. If you have a good lawyer, and have confidence in his ability to win his case over properly, I see no reason why your case should not come out as you wish it.

L. B. S.—Will I ever become a mother?

ANSWER: I suggest that both you and your husband consult a good physician at your earliest convenience. In view of the fact that you have been married for years without any success, it seems to be the logical thing to do.

W. H.—Does my future reveal any changes that may bring me a little happiness?

ANSWER: Your Lucky Star and Guiding Planet indicate quite a few changes, some of which will mean an improvement in your financial conditions and home affairs. Your daily Horoscope would reveal information that would prove quite helpful, why not send for your copy today.

Mrs. T. E. J.—Will I have good luck in the near future?

ANSWER: My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals many blessings coming your way, and you being able to accomplish many of the things you have planned.

South Park to Give Concerts

South Park will sponsor a series of concerts on the Park band stand during the summer months, beginning with a talent show this Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Students of various academies of the community will be presented in the show. A special feature will be Johnny Otis and his orchestra.

Following this show the concerts will be presented every two weeks as follows: July 9, band concert; July 23, semi-classical concert; August 6, jazz concert; August 20, community sing; and September 3, variety show, featuring outstanding personalities of stage, screen, and radio.

The music will be furnished for the entire series by the "Musicians Protective Association, Local 767." Admission is free.

A Battle Brewing For November?

Legalized "featherbedding" will undergo the acid test of public opinion under the terms of an initiative petition which qualifed recently nullifying provisons of California's Excess Crew Law requiring the employment of extra brakemen on freight trains.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced in Sacramento that the initiative has qualified for a place on the November ballot with more than 240,000 names. A total of 204,672 was needed.

Westbrook Action Reveals Questionable Practices Legal

A superior court action on a claim for $10,000 for services involving an old and respected Los Angeles family in which elements of greed and conspiracy reportedly play the major role, was tried before Judge H. Leonard Kaufman in Department 15 Tuesday morning. The action grows out of the death in 1946 of Charles Westbrook, who died interstate, leaving two sons, Edward J. Westbrook of 9304 Baird ave., Los Angeles, and Dr. Buford Westbrook, a prominent civic and political leader of Weirton, W. Va.

Following Charles Westbrook's death, a Miss Minnie Hill, who lives in a home owned by the Westbrook estate in Monrovia, came forth with the claim that she had lived with Charles Westbrook for 16 years and that he was the father of her two daughters, Ernestine, now 17, and Faustine, now 9. She claimed Charles Westbrook had held her out to the world as his wife during the years she had lived with him. In a subsequent court action, Miss Hill's claim was denied and an action was brought to establish the paternity of the two girls.

It is this action in paternity that, according to Mrs. Cliffit Westbrook, wife of Edward Westbrook, brought forth the first suggestion of conspiracy.

Edward Westbrook had been appointed administrator of his father's estate, and he had engaged Maynard Henry as his attorney. Henry had written Edward Westbrook that the hearing on the paternity action would come up on March 21, 1947. Subsequently, Maynard Henry wrote his client to appear in court on March 13 wit hall of his books related to his duties as administrator of the estate. When Edward Westbrook appeared, he discovered that the paternity action was to be heard.

Alvin W. Hahn, of Hahn and Bell, Monrovia attorneys, as counsel for Minnie Hill, produced several witnesses and an insurance policy to support his case, while Henry had no evidence, and denied Mrs. Cliff Westbrook's request that she and her husband be allowed to testify. The action was lost to the Westbrooks, and they plan to open the matter later.

This week, Emmett E. Patton, an attorney from the office of Hahn and Bell, appeared for Minnie Hil lin an action to recover $10.000 from the estate of the late Charles Westbrook. The matter was set down to be heard before Judge Haas in superior court. Department 1, on Monday. Maynard Henry, as attorney for Edward Westbrook, was in court

Attorney Henderson Scores In Hotly Contested Property Suit

OAKLAND—In a bitterly contested action brought forth in the Superior Court of California at Oakland in Alameda County

JOHN C. HENDERSON

by Mrs. Doris Jones Carmichael against Mr. and Mrs. Baze Austin, Attorney John Charles Henderson successfully defended his client, Mr. Austin, against the combination of Mrs. Carmichael and a host of friends and relatives.

It all began because of disputed ownership of property located at 1409 66th street, in Berkeley, California. Mrs. Carmichael alleged that because of the fact that she is the daughter of Mr. Austin's deceased wife, and having contributed monies toward the down payment and up-keep of said property during her mother's life time, that she, Mrs. Carmichael, was entiled to a share of same.

After sitting quietly and emotionless, listening to a huge

Councilmen Cut Mayor's Budget

The people of Los Angeles will have a three-cent tax increase instead of a 22-cent tax increase as recommended by the Mayor of the City of Los Angeles.

Economy-minded members of the City Council voted a $2,000,000 cut in the Mayor's budget, thus saving the city taxpayers a heavier burden.

Councilman Kenneth Hahn of the 8th District who stated in the City Council that he is for economy and thrift in city government, also pointed out that many departments padded their budgets and had items not necessary at the present time.

No fanfare or other demonstration marked the founding of the Nevada Progressive Party in Reno, Nevada, Thursday, June 24

Thirty-five serious minded men and women composed the delegation to the convention.

First order of business was the seating of George Springmeyer, Reno attorney, as chairman.

Some delegates from the counties were late arriving, due to the fact that for the most part they are working people.

The convention was opened with fifty persons present, augmented by a gradual flow of delegates and interested citizens during the day and evening sessions.

Seventeen persons were nominated as delegates to the Third Party's national convention to be held in Philadelphia, starting

Considers Suit Against Railroad For Humiliation

James P. Robertson, of 4819 Staunton, is considering action against the Southern Pacific Railroad as the result of a humiliating experience he had coming back from Houston, Tex., last week. Robertson, who has been employed by the Pillsbury Flour Company for the last four years as a feed mixer, availed himself of the privilege extended to Southern Pacific riders and changed from the Argonaut to the Californian at El Paso. He took a seat in car 2045 in charge of a conductor by the name of Cooke.

When the train got under way Robertson was sitting alone as was another Negro across the aisle from him. At Tucson, Ariz., several passengers got on, and took seats, but none of them sat with either Robertson or the Negro across fro mhim. Later, the conductor came to Robertson and told him he would have to move to the seat with the other Negro because none of the white passengers would sit with him.

Wallace Calls Truman Attack 'Delinquency In Knowledge'

CLEVELAND — Henry Wallace, new party presidential candidate, in his severest attack to date on President Truman's stand as a civil rights proponent, issued a blistering reply last week to the President's recent pronouncement that the post-Civil War Congress of Thaddeus Stevens was even "a little worse" than the present 80th Congress. Truman had originally called the present Congress the "worst in our history."

In an address before the Ohio Wallace for President Committee Wallace declared that Truman's reference to the Thaddeus Steven's Congress as the worst in our history demonstrated "either a sad delinquency in his knowledge of our civil rights history, or more likely, he is telling the southern reactionaries that he didn't mean a word of his civil rights pronouncement."

Wallace declared that "It was Thaddeus Stevens' Congress which passed the 14th amendment giving citizenship to the one-time slave. It was Stevens' Congress which established the Freedmans' Bureau to give assistance to the recently freed salves. It was a Congress led by Thaddeus Stevens which passed the fifteenth amendment—the 15th amendment which prohibit the abridgement of the right to vote "on account of race, colo or previous condition of servitude."

The New Party candidat spoke in Cleveland, on behalf o the local Wallace groups' figh against the Ohio Secretary o

THE SIDEWALK

By C. A. B.

A VISIT TO NEVADA

We drove into Reno, Nevada, last Thursday, a little after the noon hour. Weary and dusty, we felt the need of a face-wash and a general fresh-up. On the sidewalk, close to the curb where we parked our car, we observed a man in working attire, and stopped him, inquiring if he could direct us to a hotel.

A curious look, something between a smile and frown, appeared on the man's face. He answered, "There is no accommodation for Negroes in this town. They are not wanted here."

Seeing that this information flabbergasted us, the man ventured further, "Why, in a little town not far from Reno, Negroes are not allowed to spend the night."

Our mission to Reno was to be present at the founding and the State convention of the Independent Progressive Party of Nevada.

The Third Party movement which endorses the presidential candidacy of Henry Wallace, qualified for a place on the ballot in Nevada with 1000 signatures over the required 10 percent.

With the existing rank discrimination against minorities, especially Negroes, the advent of a new party—the Third Party, headed by Henry Wallace, the lone American in the political arena battling down the walls of bigotry and race hatreds—was hailed with an animated spirit of hope, hope for a truly free nation and a free people.

It was in that spirit that the new party was launched in Nevada, and it is in that spirit the new party will continue to fight until the victory is won.

WHERE IS TITO?

The whereabouts of Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia, is arousing great concern in this country.

Hysterically, radio commentators, news analysts, and the politicians are demanding Russia to tell them where to find Tito.

They are driven to tears over the fightful possibility that poor Tito may be languishing in a prison.

MAKE DEMOCRACY WORK

To thinking Americans, all the talk about making Democracy work in our own country holds no promise of relief for those segments of the American nation in all walks, discriminated against because of their color or racial identification.

This week I sat in a meeting and listened to a story that stirred my indignation to its depths against a system that spreads its sympathy all over Europe, wherever Communism is found, in the interest of those who oppose it, but that finds neither time nor will to intercede in cases of rank discrimination against some of our own citizens in our own country.

A case in question is happening here in Los Angeles. A young professional woman, the product of two America's leading universities of learning, bought a house on the Eastside of the city and moved her 72-year old mother and two children into the home.

Almost immediately after moving in, the house was treated to a garbage bath and the garage set on fire.

The owner said she ap-

Name Patterson For Exec. Post On Civil Rights

NEW YORK—William Patterson, a native of San Francisco, who served on the legal advisory committee of the NAACP in the Bay region in 1918, and who was arrested three times during demonstrations in support of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense, was unanimously nominated for the post of executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress.

Patterson, who has an impressive record of service to labor causes, studied the labor movement in Europe, and in 1929 he helped to prepare fo rthe first Internatinoal Negro Congress in Hamburg which was held in 1930. He was active in the Scottboro case, the Tom Mooney case and the Angelo Herndon case, and it is expected that he will lead strongly in the struggle for civil rights as it shapes up today.

Council Refutes Yergan Charges In Times Letter

The Council On African Affairs through a letter addressed to the New York Times over the signature of its secretary, W. A. Hunton, protests the erroneous and one-sided version of recent incidents connected with the attempts of Max Yergan tot physically gain admission to the Council offices and possession of property to which he had no right.

Because the Times printed and other papers picked up Yergan's version of the supposed altercation that resulted in charges being filed against members of the Council who sought, with the aid of a police sergeant, to prevent Yergan from breaking into

Warren Nomination a Tribute To Henry Wallace's Strength

"In nominating Earl Warren as their vice-presidential candidate, the Republican National Convention has just paid the highest tribute yet given to the strength of the Henry Wallace-Glen Taylor ticket in California," Bert Witt, Los Angeles Independent Progressive party director, commented last week.

"Obviously," Witt stated, "the Republicans are afraid that Wallace will not only beat Truman in California, but will also beat out the Republican nominee and carry the state by a good plurality.

"The nomination of Warren, their strongest possible vote-getter in California, is designed to guarantee that when the state

Bishop Walls Urges Support For Wallace

ALBANY, N. Y.—Bishop W. J. Walls, respected dean of African Methodist church dignitaries, showed the trend toward progressive thinking that is taking place among church leaders when he urged Negroes to vote for Henry Wallace, Third Party presidential candidate. Bishop Walls, who is from Chicago, presided at the 127th annual conference of the church, which ended here recently.

Employees Force Hiring of Negro As Bank Clerk

NEW YORK — An attempt to by-pass a previously made agreement to hire a Negro clerk brought forth howls of protest from the white clerks employed at the Merchants Bank at 434 Broadway recently. Their action, followed by prompt action from the CIO Financial Employes' Guild, resulted in the hiring of Cecil Murrell, marking the third in a series of recent hirings of Negro bank clerks in this city.

Anti-Semitism Vs. Unionism

Supreme-Liberty Insurance Company Opens Local Office

The Supreme-Liberty of Chicago, one of the big three among Negro Life Ins. Companies, now extends its ever growing list of states operated in to that of California.

This marks the first time any out-of-state Negro-owned company has been able to pass the rigid requirements of the State of California.

The Supreme Liberty organized in 1921 is an Old Line Legal Reserve Life Insurance Company with a capital stock of one-half million, with assets of over 7 million dollars and has over 120 million dollars of life insurance now in force. The company now operates in Ohio, Michigan, Tennessee, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland, West Virginia, Missouri, Kentucky, Washington, D. C., and is licensed to do business in Pennsylvania, Arizona and California.

During the year of 1947 this great giant of Negro business increased its assets over a million dollars during the year and showed an income of well over three million dollars. This is considered as tremendous in a year's growth for any company.

It will be the policy of the company to employ residents of California for the many positions that will be available in the operation of the company thruout the state. This means a greater opportunity for men and women who desire entering the field of business. At the present time applications are being accepted for managers, superintendents, agents and clerks.

Mr. John W. Roy, who has vast experience in the field of Life Insurance has been appointed to represent the company on the West Coast has his temporary office in the Blodgett Bldg., 2510 S. Central Ave., Room 203-205.

The company is also seeking desirable office space for their first office in the Los Angeles area. Watch your local papers for the full scale announcement of the Supreme Liberty grand opening in California.

Officers of this fast growing concern are: T. K. Gibson, President; Ellis Stewart, Vice President and Secretary; Earl B. Dickerson, Vice President and General Counsel; J. G. Ish Jr., Vice President and Agency Officer; Dr. E. W. Beasley, Medical Director; Dr. P. M. Murray, Assistant Medical Director; Louis C. Bulloch, Vice President; A. P. Bentley, Vice President; Dr. R. Urge Women to Attend Convention

Charlotta A. Bass, CALIFORNIA EAGLE editor-publisher, and co-chairman of the National Women For Wallace, acting in conjunction with national leaders issued a call this week for all women to assert their full equality and participate in the convention to nominate a candidate for president who will represent all people and all sexes equally.

In inviting women to participate in the Third Party Convention to be held in Philadelphia beginning on July 24th, Mrs. Bass pointed out that women's organizations may send unlimited number of observers to the convention, and she asked that as many women delegates as possible be elected. "It is our purpose," Mrs. Bass stated, "to make full class citizens out of women as well as members of minority groups."

James Turner Lee??

Information is being sought of James Turner Lee, also known as Buster Lee, on behalf of his aged mother, a resident of Saginaw, Michigan, who is currently most anxious to learn of his well being. Mrs. Lee has not heard from her son since 1924, at which time she received his last communication to her. James T. Lee, a Negro, was born in Cotton Plant, Arkansas, on October 1, 1899. His last known employment was that of a pullman porter. Anyone aware of his location is requested to communicate with the National Desertion Bureau, 105 Nassau Street, New York 7, N.Y.

LOCAL MANAGEMENT OFFICIALS ARE BEING INVITED

Two recently announced candidates on the Wallace ticket in California and Kentucky are Arthur Townsend, 27, life insurance counselor (left) and Alfred M. Carroll, 35, attorney and civic leader. Carroll, running for Third District Congressman under auspices of the Wallace for President Committee for Louisville and Jefferson county, became the first Negro candidate for Congress in Kentucky history. Townsend, a Navy veteran of two years action in the South Pacific, is candidate for State Assembly in California's 72nd District on the Independent Progressive Party ticket.

..DEE HODGE, home office representative of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co. has been selected to give two lectures before the insurance class at Texas State University during its summer session. Mr. Hodge is a native of Texas and a graduate of Prairie View College. He is presently on the special assignment of recruiting suitable candidates for positions as insurance underwriters, a highly skilled profession that attracts only those with the finest business adaptability.

Smog Control Director Named

this week moved to make permanent the appointment of Dr. Louis C. McCabe as county air pollution director. Supervisors John Anson Ford and Leonard J. Roach concurred and the motion was adopted unanimously.

Dr. McCabe, who has been serving under a temporary appointment since last October, previously was Chief of the Coal Division of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Red Cross Supplies For Palestine Relief

New relief allocations for Palestine from the American National Red Cross has brought to $260,000 the total value of supplies directed to the Holy Land for "impartial distribution through the International Committee of the organization."

In addition, Red Cross is shipping drugs and other hospital and surgical supplies with these items alone valued at $135,000.

The medical supplies, described by the International Red Cross Committee as "critically needed" in Palestine will be distributed and used in safety zones and hospitals under International Red Cross protection. They will be utilized in the emergency medical programs of the Red Shield of David, the Palestine Red Cross and Red Crescent Society, as well as various native Jewish voluntary welfare organizations.

Henderson Wins

volume of testimony by Mrs. Carmichael's witness, Attorney Henderson, arose and, as confidently as a skilled surgeon performs a delicate operation, began questioning witness after witness and methodically cut holes in their testimony. Attorney Henderson's lone witness, who, incidently was the defendent, Mr. Austin, was squirming nervously by his side.

It was then that Mr. Henderson began throwing his legal punches and, ironically enough, it was Mrs. Carmichael's husband who gave him his first break. Using this advantage, Attorney Henderson really began pulling tricks out of his bag and in so doing, produced evidence to prove that, while now Mrs. Carmichael claims to be the daughter of Mr. Austin's deceased wife, she had been masquerading for thirty years or more as Mrs. Austin's sister!

Result? Well, it was a very happy, though perspiring, Mr. Baze Austin, who clicking his tongue and mopping his brow, shook Attorney Henderson's hand and said "Thanks a million but I just don't see how you did it."

Law Journal Criticizes Jersey Judge's Decision

NEWARK, N. J.—Rarely does a law review attack a court decision in its editorial columns. But so brazen was the recent decision of District Judge Dominick Marconi acquitting Palisades Amusement Park's swimming pool of racial discrimination that the New Jersey Law Journal of June 17th carried an editorial on it.

"On the basis of the opinion it appears that the court engaged in a series of legal gymnastics to reach the desired result," the editorial said. "The device of a 'club' notoriously is used as a means of discrimination and a subterfuge to evade civil rights statutes. The court's opinion thus gives judicial sanction to a thinly veiled artifice."

Asserting that "the evils at which the New Jersey civil rights act was aimed are very real and substantial," the editorial concludes: "It is not the function of a court to rewrite a statute. Nor is it the function of a court to contract to eviscerate a statute. It is the function of a court to find and apply legislative meaning. This, the instant decision has not accomplished."

The case against the swimming pool, brought by Melba Valle, a Negro, was handled by Hiram Elfenbein, Workers Defense League attorney. He is confident that Judge Marconi's decision will be reversed on appeal.

Plan Petition Mobilization In Drive Against Sears Bias

A petition campaign is now under way to win the whole community's support in the fight to have Negro men and women hired as clerks and cashiers at Sears Roebuck's store in Santa Monica. A first mass turnout of petitioners will go after the holiday beach crowds at Venice, Ocean Park and Santa Monica this Sunday, July 4.

The petitions are being circulated by the United Committee to End Job Discrimination at Sears, a united committee of more than 30 community organizations pledged to fight until victory. The committee has been strengthened in recent weeks by officials participation from the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice, the Los Angeles CIO Council, and various other union and community groups not hitherto affiliated with the fight.

"The entire community has already begun to recognize the importance of this fight," said Mrs. Hilda Poulson, secretary of the committee. "We are convinced that when we have taken the story and the issue clearly to the people, they will refuse to deal at Sears until the management stops refusing jobs to qualified Negro men and women!"

The petition campaign is the major new weapon in a thoroughly planned, all-out drive to reach the entire Bay Cities community. Since January, the Sears store has been picketed every Friday evening from 7 until 9 p.m. by as many as 300 pickets. Thousands of leaflets have been issued, and many people have already agreed not to patronize Sears until their policy of discrimination is ended.

Postcards, letters and phone calls from all over Los Angeles have been directed at Sears' management, protesting their refusal to reach a settlement. Three hundred representatives of over 100 organizations met 10 days ago at a United Committee conference to hear the story of the fight. But thus far Sears' managemen has not bowed to community opinion.

"This is not a problem for the Negro people alone," said Mrs. Poulson, who is a representative of the Association of Veteran Home Buyers, an organization which happens to have no Negro members. "Anybody who says the Negro people should fight this alone is seeking to betray them."

"Except for the labor and minority press, the newspapers will not tell our story. Very well, we are now going door to door—until the whole community knows the facts!"

The July 4 petition mobilization will be at 11 a.m. Sunday morning, at 2517 Ocean Front in Santa Monica, one block north of Ocean Park blvd. The United Committee is asking all democratic-minded citizens to take part, as well as to join the weekly Friday night picket line outside Sears in Santa Monica.

Bohemian Gets Wine Exclusive

L. H. Wilhelm of Haddad-Wilhelm Inc., Los Angeles, announces the appointment of Bohemian Distributing Company as exclusive distributors, in their territory, of Dolly Madison Wines. These new California semi-sweet wines, in red and white types, are the result of years of research and experimentation by wine experts of the California Wine Association.

Distinctive styling in bottle and label design have been especially created for the Dolly Madison Wines to enhance their sales appeal. Added protection is insured with a new type, tamper-proof closure. Attractive point of sale material and package display designs have been developed as part of the Dolly Madison advertising program.

Sudanese Independence Started by Ordinance

LONDON — Seven hundred thousand North Africans in the Sudan, living in 1000 square miles of territory, will begin the first leg of their self government at once as the result of an ordinance creating an executive council an dan elected legislative assembly.

Gov. Gen. Sir Robert Howe, whom the British gave permission to act on the matter without Egyptian cooepration, promulgated the ordinance last week.

Egyptian and British sources govern the Sudan as a condominuim, but Egype has not yet approved of the draft of the ordinance.

Board of Equalization Called Biased, Unwieldy, Incompetent

Crime fostered by our present system of liquor control has given California the reputation of being the most lawless state in the union.

This charge in support of new liquor legislation scheduled for the November general election ballot was voiced by the Rev. Bergen Birdsall, internationally-known lecturer, before a mass rally at the Holman Methodist Church this week.

Entitled Local Control of Intoxicating Liquors, the new measure will transfer control of liquor from the "unwieldly, biased, and incompetent Board of Equalization," to local cities and counties "where it belongs," Rev. Birdsall said.

He pointed out that the Board wilfully has granted more than twice the number of liquor licenses than are possibly needed.

"In Los Angeles alone," he said, "there is a liquor outlet for every 300 persons many of which are concentrated in areas which breed crime and moral degeneracy. As a result, more than half the annual police budget of $56,000,000 is spent on crimes involving liquor.

"This is in contrast to our 'lawles' prohibition era, the last year of which a total of only $7,000,000 was spent for control of all types of crime.

S. C. Democrats Enroll Negroes

GREENVILLE, S. C.— (G)— The Greenville County Democratic Executive Committee challenged the State Executive Commitee of he party by an unprecedented move in opening its rolls to Negroes, and permitting them to vote in the party primaries. The action breaks with the State party control on three issues by opening the roll books to Negroes and permitting them to vote on the same basis with whites, setting aside a new regissration oath, which would have been obnoxious to Negroes.

Greenville has the largest population in any county in the State, and the committee's action is regarded as one of he most important developments in the State's political history. Observers said the decision stemmed from what they considered "enlightened" leadership.

Civil Liberties means liberties for those we like and for those we don't like or whom we even detest.

Shaw University's New $50,000 Chapel Ready

RALEIGH, N. C.—Shaw University's new chapel, recently completed and valued at $50,000, was dedicated at special services held last week. The dedicatory exercises were witnessed by an audience of more than 500, including 250 North Carolina Baptists attending the 12th annual Ministers Institute and Women's Missionary Training Conference held each year at Shaw.

Dr. O. S. Bullock of Raleigh, representing the Erecutive Board of the General Baptist State Convention, presided at this first service to be held in the new structure. The litany of dedication was directed by President Robert P. Daniel of Shaw after he had accepted the keys to the building from G. E. Jones, Shaw business manager.

CIO Union Intensifies Drive To Wipe Out Employment Bias

The Anti-Discrimination Commission of the United Public Workers of America, CIO, this week called upon the approximately 100,000 members of the union to intensify their efforts to secure the realization of the anti-discrimination program adopted at the Union's recent national convention.

In a letter to 500 local unions, affiliated with the United Public Workers, Thomas Richardson, Chairman of the Commission, pointed out that despite the documentary and photostatic evidence presented to show the growth of job discrimination against Negroes in federal employment, no remedial action had been taken by either the White House or Congress. He stated that the problem of discrimination in federal employment could be corrected either by enactment of a permanent FEPC law or through the issuance of an Executive Order by the President with enforcement powers.

The statement to the union members was also sharply critical of the continuation of the Jim Crow, "silver-gold" system on the Panama Canal Zone. This system serves to discriminate against large numbers of West Indian Negroes, Panamanians, Indians, etc. who are employes of the United States government and members of the United Public Workers.

Dr. Alleyne Formally Opens His New Office

Over 300 hundred persons visited the modernly-equipped offices of Dr. Ernest F. Alleyne, B.S., who is a gynecologist, obstetrician and endocrinologist, last Sunday afternoon when he held open house in his newly-completed building at 3409-11 McKinley ave.

Following a trip through the clinic, modern X-ray room, and the other rooms given over to complete diagnostic and treatment purposes, the guests were shown through Dr. Alleyne's apartment on the top floor of the building, where they were served punch and cake.

Dr. Alleyne is the first Negro to receive the Golden Key, a meritorious award, from the University of Vienna, where he studied. He took four years of hospital work at Meharry Medical college, and he returned there to teach at the request of the New York City Board of Education. He taught here for 13 years and he established the Alleyne Clinic in Nashville from which city he has come to Los Angeles. He passed the Board of Medical Examiners' test here with the second highest mark ever made.

Double Preliminary Hearings Held In Recent Murder Case

A double preliminary hearing involving two widely discussed murders was held last Monday morning in the Compton Justice Court. Mrs. Mary E. Jones Sweeney and Mrs. Doyle Forest were both held to answer on charges of murder following the preliminary examination. Mrs. Sweeney of 12711 Belheaven was charged with the murder of Mrs. Willa Esta Hayward of 1118 East 27th Street on June 17th.

The charge grew out of an altercation between the accused woman, the deceased Mrs. Stella Bradley, 12707 Belheaven, and Mrs. Lillian Driver of 12716 Belheaven. Both of whom testified that Mrs. Sweeney attacked the dead woman with a paring knife inflicting fatal wounds without provocation.

Attorney Curtis C. Taylor who represented both women drew from Mrs. Driver an admission that she disliked his clients and by a long cross-examination of all the witnsses brought out that she had been ridiculed by the witnesses because of her feet and size and that they often yelled at her derisively from windows and called her "Mrs. Foot" and other uncomplimentary terms.

In the case of Mrs. Forest who was charged with killing her husband, Stanley Forest, on June 16th in their home at 12018 Parmalee the evidence of the investigating and arresting officers was exceedingly weak and the testimony of Miss Evie Williams the only eye witness was decidedly in her favor. Defense Attorney Curtis C. Taylor almost succeeded in having the charge dismissed when Lucius W. Sheppard of 750 East 48th Street took the stand and testified tha Mrs. Fores had at one time exhibited a shot gun in his presence and told him: 'I'm going to kill my husband sooner or later because he has mistreated me, and I'm going to kill him if it's the last thing I do."

Attorney Taylor argued that this alleged threat was not sufficient to make out a prima facie case as it was to remote and had no bearing on the facts of the actual killing. Judge Albee ruled otherwise and both women were ordered to appear with their Attorney in Department 42 on July 14th, for pleading. Attorney Taylor expressed complete confidence that both women will be acquitted.

during the morning, and prior to the noon recess, he went to his office. Mrs. Cliff Westbrook called him at his office to notify him that the matter might come up in the afternoon session, and Henry old her he would not be there.

A reporter from the California EAGLE called Maynard Henry at his office and asked him why he would not be in court that afternoon, and he informed the reporter that he was withdrawing from the case because he had to be in Spokane on Wednesday, and he felt that the case would run until that time and he didn't want to withdraw afer the trial got started.

EDITOR'S NOTE: (Actually the case was trie dand finished before Judge Kaufman Tuesday morning, and Maynard Henry was in the building and filed a claim for over $1800 for services as attorney to Edward Westbrook. He has been Westbrook's attorney for almost two years.)

The case was not heard on Monday afternoon, and it was referred to Judge Kaufman, where it was heard on Tuesday. Mrs. Cliff Westbrook introduced the California EAGLE reporter to Emmett Patton, attorney for Minnie Hill, outside the court, and in the course of conversation, the matter of an investigation by the Bar Association was mentioned.

Patton said to Mrs. Westbrook, "If you want to burn him," (meaning Maynard Henry), "I know just the boy who will burn him for you."

Mrs. Westbrook asked, "Who is he?"

"Alvin Hahn." Patton replied, "he hates him. He'll be back after the Fourth, and he'll call you."

The trial Tuesday morning before Judge Kaufman found the Westbrooks represented by Hugh Macbeth Sr., with Emmett Patton as counsel for Minnie Hill. Witnesses were excluded from the courtroom, and much of the evidence was concerned with prostitution and easy-living, and one witness, Lula Belle Williams of 1717½ Hooper, who is a county relief client, and who appeared for Minnie Hill, admitted that "they did everything" to make money.

The Westbrooks feel that Minnie Hill is being victimized by a conspiracy between certain lawyers to engage in litigation and dissipate the estate. Previous offers by the Westbrooks to provide for the children have been refused, and Mrs. Cliff Westbrook pointed out that although the paternity of the children is not proven to her satisfaction, she would rather have them benefit from the estate than see their mother or some greedy lawyers eat it up.

Mrs. Cliff Westbrook is engaged in the real estate business here, and her husband, Edward, has been a respected County employee for over twenty years. Judge Kaufman's decision is expected to be handed down in the next few days.

Negro Who's Who In Calif. Off Press

Negro Who's Who in California, gold lettered and red leatherette bound, is off the press.

After ten months of gathering, compiling, checking and editing information and copy on the lives and histories of Negro men, women and organizations of California, the first edition of Negro Who's Who in California, an authentic, comprehensive, and dignified reference volume is available to the reading public.

This volume of 133 pages promises to be one of the most interesting, informative, inspiring and exacting books published in 1948. Its importance as a reference volume, an inspiration to young people and an exciting source of information for friends and acquaintances may make it a "best seller."

An index of 664 names gives an idea of the number of biographies, histories, and comments in Negro Who's Who in California.

A surprising development in connection with the publication of the first edition of Negro Who's Who in California is in spite of the fact it meets the standard of similar Who's Whos of other professional and racial groups, is sales price is only $5 as compared to a minimum of $20 for similar publications. This, the publishers say, is possible because of the excellent cooperation of those who saw the need of this type of reference volume in schools, libraries and homes. Mrs. Emily Woody, teacher, and Miss Laura Slayton, social and civic leader, have consented to act as field representatives in the distribution of the limited first edition

The main office of Negro Who's Who in California at 2510 S. Central Avenue, room 203, ADams 1-7492 advised that a sales office will be located at the Fentress Press, 1888 W. Jefferson Blvd., REpublic 2-6357.

Conference Here On Greece Aid

The Los Angeles Chapter of the American Council for a Democratic Greece will hold a conference on American policy in Greece in the north hall of the Embassy Auditorium next Tuesday night, July 6, at 8 p.m. The object of the conference will be to stop U. S. intervention in Greece and to stop American military and economic aid to the fascist Greek government.

Positive action will be taken to bring about assistance to the Greek people in their effors to re-esablish their national independence and consitutional and demogratic liberties. Means of supplying the Greek people with funds for relief and reconstruction through appropriate agencies will also be considered.

Leo Gallagher is honorary chairman of the local chapter, Warren McDonald is temporary chairman, and Harry P. Ioannou is temporary secretary. Louis Adamic, Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois, Carey McWilliams, Abraham Pomerantz and Oreste Stephano are among the national sponsors.

The conference will pay tribute to George Polk, CBS correspondent, who sacrificed his life in order to get the truth about Greece. His bullet-pierced and trussed-up body was found in Salonica Bay, indicating the most atrocious crime in the annals of journalistic inquiry.

ATTORNEY CURTIS TAYLOR is shown as he appeared in Compton Court to defend two of his clients in a rare double preliminary hearing. On the right of the attorney is Mrs Mary E. Jones Sweeney who is charged with murder of Mrs. Willa Esta Hayward, and on his right is Mrs. Doyle Forest who is charged with the murder of her husband.

FRANK W. MOORE of the Adam Hat Welfare Fund is proving that the recent social work fellowship award made by the fund to Thomas Webster, executive secretary of the Kansas City Urban League is no empty gesture, by handing over the check for $1,200 to Eugene Kinkle Jones, General Secretary of the national Urban League. Brother Moore not only gets the benefit of this award, he just got himself appointed one of the five members of the Kansas City Housing Authority.

Bethune Birthday Autograph Book

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The National Council of Negro Women will present to its Founder-president, Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, a birthday autograph book on her birthday, July 10, as a token of love and respect from her many friends. The book will contain the personal birthday greetings and autographs of friends, who over the years have shared in the hopes and dreams of this great woman.

Fixed permanently in a beautiful leather bound scrap book, these greetings will be given as a tribute to the magnificent representation Mrs. Bethune has given her people, the opportunities she has made available to youth, and the recognition that has come to womanhood, and to the nation as a whole, through her efforts. The proceeds from this project will be used to further the growth of the National Council of Negro Women which she founded thirteen years ago.

Friends interested in participating in this presentation may receive information by wrting to the National Council of Negro Women, 1318 Vermont Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C.

Master Rental Moves Office

The main office of the Master Rental Service will be moved from 354 S. Spring Street to 655 Figueroa Street immediately after July 4th. The Master Service has two branch offices, located at 4333 Main Street and 3828 Wilshire Boulevard. All three offices are open to readers of the California Eagle, and clients may watch the blackboard as listings come in.

Master Rental Service published the first map of unrestricted areas in Los Angeles. This map has created interest in the national press because no effort in this direction has ever been made before.

Robertson refused, and the conductor threatened to call the police and have him put off the car. "I'm tired of this damn mess, don't talk smart to me," the conductor reportedly said.

Robertson replied that he had been riding the Southern Pacific for many years and he had never met anyone like that particular conductor. He told the conductor, "You can put me off, but my luggage will stay on, and if that is thrown off, I'll sue the railroad."

The conductor left and did not return. A Mexican later took the seat beside Robertson, and a white man rode for a short time sitting in the seat with the Negro across the aisle who is understood to be an employe of the Southern Pacific. Robertson, who is a native here, is a member of Victory Baptist church and a member of Eureka Lodge 17 A. F. and A. M. He is the neighborhood commissioner of the McKinley District Council of the Boy Scouts of America. He is married and lives with his wife at the Staunton street address.

Prince Hall Masons Hold Grand Session

The Prince Hall Masons and its affiliation in the California Jurisdiction will hold its Grand Sesson, July 18 to 24, 1948, in San Francisco, California, as the guests of Hannibal Lodge No. 1, Victoria Lodge No. 3, F. & A.M., Naomi Chapter No. 2, Bethel Chapter No. 31, O.E.S., and California Poppy Court No. 6, Heroines of Jericho.

San Francisco is the home of the Grand Lodge, which was formed in San Francisco the year of 1855 and was the ninth Grand Lodge in the United States. This is its 92nd Annual Communication. George R. Vaughns is the Most Worshipful Grand Master.

The 65th annual Grand Session of the Eastern Star, of which Mrs. Beatrice McCarroll, is Worthy Grand Matron, and the 23rd Annual Session of the Heroines of Jericho will also be in session. These three Grand Bodies will have some 5000 persons in attendance.

place Senator Tenney and his committee with more judicial minded men who will preserve the democratic processes," the report asked.

"We would remind the churches of the Synod," the report continued, "that one of the groups most subversive to our American way of life is a smear group which in the name of Americanism destroys the traditional American right of a good name and the freedom of conscience.

"We regard the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities of the California Legislature as such a group."

This committee also condemned the Mundt-Nixon bill as "a denial of civil rights and as bordering on thought control."

LIEUTENANT THOMAS GREEN, U. S. Army (retired) chalked up the amazing total of $113,000 worth of ordinary life insurance for the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co. during the five years he was employed as an agent. A veteran of 17 years in the postal service, Green served in both the Spanish-American war and in World War I. A native of Charlotte County, Va., he went to school at Hampton and in New York. Shown above is Arthus J. Williams, Golden State Mutual's superintendent of agencies, tendering Green a certificate of merit signed by company officials, which attests to the superlative quality of his performance as an agent.

July 22. From that panel twelve delegates and the alternates were to be selected to represent the Nevada Party.

The convention moved along in orderly fashion until, towards the end of the morning session what appeared to be a well-planned "red-baiting" discussion was started by Chairman Springmeyer.

The effort to turn the meeting into a spirited debate, pro or con, on the subject of Communism, was frustrated by the people in attendance, who plainly demonstrated that they had no interest in what went on in Russia, Czechoslovakia, or any other foreign country, but rather were anxious to put forth a determined effort, through the Progressive Party, to make democracy a living thing in America.

Among the out-of-town guests in attendance were Mrs. Verda Barnes, of Idaho Falls; Miss Elinor Kahn, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Charlotta Bass, California Eagle editor, and a national co-chairman of the Women-for-Wallace Committee.

repudiates the Truman ticket, as it surely will, it will go Republican instead of Independent Progressive.

"We are highly flattered at the challenge, but stick to our estimate that the Wallace-Taylor ticket will poll between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 votes in California this November.

"Even a Warren cannot sweeten the fact that the Republican Party is controlled by profiteering financial interests which have been reaping a harvest out of inflation and war scare."

This third party movement which endorses the presidential candidacy of Henry Wallace, filed petition signed by more than 100 over the necessary 10 per cent of registered voters in the state's last election with the secretary of state in Carson City, to give the party recognized life and ballot status, thereby adding its strength to th eNational Convention in Philadelphia this month.

Widow of Major Lynch Passes

News reached the city this week, from Chicago, that Mrs. Cora Lynch, well known civic and social figure, and widow of the late Major John R. Lynch, had passed away.

During the lifetime of her husband, Major Lynch, she traveled extensively and made many social and civic contacts among the people throughout the country.

Poor Housing Helps Increase Tuberculosis

Tuberculosis and communicable diseases are on the increase in Los Angeles because of the city's overcrowded housing conditions, according to Public Health Nurse Jane Hunter. Taking the Hollenbeck area on the East side as an example, Miss Hunter reveals it is not uncommon to find as many as 16 people living in a four-room unit. In one two-block area, Miss Hunter reports a patient with a health problem in every house.

Public Health Nurses are "knocking themselves out" trying to fight communicable diseases under impossible housing conditions, she says.

● Anti-Semitism

The incident occurred on the Beverly Fairfax bus. A Jewish woman boarded the bus and had some difficulties with change for her fare. The driver, a member of the Transportation Union 1277 made some nasty remarks to her and finally said, "You should be glad you are here instead of in Palestine where they take care of people like you." This remark was resented by several other passengers on the bus, who reported the case to the American Jewish Labor Council.

The American Jewish Labor Council took up the matter with Mr. D. D. McClurg, president of the above-mentioned union. The union, true to the principles for which the trade union movement has been fighting throughout history, informed the AJLC of the following actions taken by the union.

The matter was discussed with the driver by a committee of the union, stressing the danger of anti-Semitism and race hatred, and at the following membership meeting, Mr. McClurg related this incident to the members and reviewed with them the obligation they take on becoming members of the union—"They shall not discriminate because of race, color, or creed."

Mr. McClurg, in a letter to the American Jewish Labor Council, expressed appreciation to the Council for calling this case to his attention, and expressed sincere apologies for the above mentioned incident.

Prof. Earl Hines will direct the famous "Echoes of Eden" choir in a program of selected music. This noted choir is from the St. Paul Baptist church, of which the Rev. John L. Branham is the pastor.

The meeting, which is open to the public, will mark the first appearance of Mr. White in this city in four years.

pealed to the law enforcement agencies for relief with no results.

Cheap talk and glib utterances about Democracy and how to make it work in the nation, and the insuring of Civil Rights in all countries, was given a slap in the face when this American woman was abused and driven out of the home she had purchased with good American dollars.

The little heroine in this report, if I may be pardoned, is the result of a perfect blending of white and Negro, and no doubt the type of the future American 50 years hence.

Frown at this prophecy, proud American of Saxon background. It is of your making. In the early days of this nation, your two-family system, one free white wife, the other slave and black, are now the long shadows of your old sins.

This mixed American, the object of your persecution because of her racial identity, hates your blood that flows hot in her veins. Her sons that defend your and their country, will, unless you change your attitude, some day become the Ishmaels of your future generation.

Not Tito, nor the present outlook of a change in our economic system, threatens your peace and security, present day rulers. Man's control ends with the grave. Your grave, you dig deep daily in the hearts of such as the little cream-colored American whose rights, as a citizen, were so ruthlessly disregarded when she was deprived of her home and was humiliated.

She was finally forced to leave her home, to find another place for her mother and her children.

Elected To Welfare Council Committee

Councilman Kenneth Hahn was unanimously re-elected to serve another term as a member of the Executive Board of the Welfare Council of Los Angeles.

Councilman Hahn, who is the Chairman of the Public Health and Welfare Committee of the City Council, has been actively engaged in every measure that will benefit the public at large and particularly the poor, helpless and those who are need of help.

The Welfare Council is a Department of the Community Welfare Federation which aids the Community Chest, the Y. M. C. A., Boy Scouts, Children's Hospital and other welfare agencies.

the Council offices, the Council demands that the Times print in full its letter which relates a true account of the happenings.

Pointing out that Yergan had arranged beforehanr to have reporters and a metropolitan press photographer on hand for his attempted force play, the letter states it would have been possible for the Times or any other interested paper to get the true facts by questioning any of the persons now charged with assault.

Vigorous exception is taken to the Times' characterization of the incident as another round in the rift between the left and the right wing, and the letter points out that the persons who signed the complaint against Yergan charging him with malfeasance, misfeasance and nonfeasane, have never been accused of being left-wing, not even by Yergan. It is reliably reported that Yergan plans to ruin the Council by causing unfavorable publicity to be circulated about it while he attempts to minimize the serious charges filed against him.

surance companies to halt restrictive practices in making mortgage loans.

This federal anti-trust case originally filed in June, 1946, involved charges of maintaining racial maps of the city, refraining from making mortgage loans in Negro blocks and inducing real estate owners to bar Negroes. The defendants, without admitting the charges, agreed to the dissolution order. Throughout the 2-year period since the case was filed the Workers Defense League and the Committee of Racial Equality campaigned to prevent it from becoming stalled and repeatedly called on the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice for a prompt prosecution.

Roach, who is acting chairman of the Board of Supervisors, won consent of the Board to adopt a resolution which will place the County in a position to be eligible for wholesale development of blighted residential areas.

Far reaching in its effects, the plan would enable the County to set up a Community Redevelopment Agency to study areas, make recommendations, and to restore badly developed sections into livable residential areas in unincorporated portions of the county.

Those Traffic Lights Have a Safety Purpose

Recognizing the fact that many Los Angeles motorists are confused regarding the laws covering stopping at signal lights, the Traffic Education Unit of the Los Angeles Police Department offers the following clarification.

Mechanical traffic signals, the three-light type, are installed to assist traffic, not to retard it.

The motorist, to be a good driver, must drive his car in a safe and sane manner, observe all of the traffic rules and regulations and operate his vehicle in a normal, prudent manner when driving on our streets and highways. He must continually "think ahead" and always anticipate the unexpected.

Organized Negro College Fund Drive Opened Here This Week

Marking the first organized drive in this community, the National Negro College Fund campaign got under way this week, with William R. Burke, Los Angeles Division director, calling upon the community to respond with small and large contributions in order to have the efforts of the public-minded citizens who are heading the drive stand out!

Lawrence Wilson, director of public relations of the Liberty Savings and Loan Association and George Beavers, president of the board of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company share the chairmanship of the local campaign. Pointing out that the fund provides assistance for 32 private Negro Colleges and universities in the South, Mr. Wilson stated: "We will do all in our power to carry our share of the financial load on behalf of Negro education."

John D. Rockefeller Jr. is national chairman of the fund, which has raised $1,000,000 in the four years of its existence.

Co-chairman Beavers, in urging support of the United Negro College Fund, explained, "We need thousands more trained men and women than we now have to raise the educational adn health standards of our people." He pointed out that the majority of the teachers, nurses, doctors, ministers, lawyers and social workers who are now serving America's 14 million Negroes are supplied by the 32 Negro colleges that participate in the fund.

A Sad Reminder Of a Good Deed

Hal Styles, who depression time "Help Thy Neighbor" program actually found jobs for 30,000 people, received a touching story in the mail the other day.

In 1939, a chemist residing in Berlin, Germany, a victim of the Hitler purge, wrote Hal asking for a job. His appeal on a five-inch record was played on the air. A Southern California chemical company offered him a job. By cooperation of a U. S. Senator, the applicant was brought to America, went to work, and his case was forgotten.

Now Hal is in receipt of a letter from the man's wife in Berlin, requesting return of the record so that she can "listen to the voice of my husband who was forced to return to Germany only to be interned and die in a concentration camp." Needless to say, the victim was a German Jew. Needless to add, Styles dispatched the record by airmail.

He's Against It Too

Opponents to the Senate Reapportionment Amendment to be submitted voters at the November 2 election have announced that A. J. McFadden, Santa Ana, prominent agriculturist and horticulturist, has accepted general chairmanship of a Southern California committee against the measure.

Vote and Practice Democracy; 4-H Youth Advised by Brannan

The youth of America should rededicate itself to democracy by exercising the right to vote and by keeping itself informed on issues and individuals, Charles F. Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture asserted today. Secretary Brannan spoke at the Jefferson Memorial before the 200 youthful delegates to the 18th National 4-H Club Camp at a citizenship ceremony to honor 50 boys and girls of the group who recently reached or are about to reach voting age.

"You may feel that so far you have had little opportunity to contribute to the workings of democracy. This is true only in part. For the operations of a democracy go far beyond the voting and office-holding opportunities which come when one reaches his majority. The root of democracy lies in the behalf in equality—in the respect which we have for our fellow man, in the sense of responsibility which each individual holds. Unless we practice democracy in our homes and communities through our every day contacts we cannot hope to find democracy by coming to Washington. Its roots are not here; they are back where you came from; they are everywhere in this broad land of ours.

"We give lip service to the equality of man, but do we really practice it? As long as there are people in this nation who are discriminated against because of religion or race or economic status it is a denial of democracy . . ."

Joint Council Wins Milwaukee Election

A. D. Penfold, Mediator of the National Mediation Board, a government agency set up under the Railway Labor Act, which mediates disputes among railroad workers, announced today that the Joint Council of Dining Car Employees Local No. 351 had decisively defeated the so-called Food Workers Union in a run-off election among Milwaukee Dining Car Employees for the purpose of determining which organization is to be their bona fide bargaining agent.

The United Transport Workers, C.I.O. which had participated in the original election received only a small number of votes and was eliminated from the ballot.

Milwaukee Dining Car Workers were generally elated over the outcome of the election.

WDL Offers to File Brief in Test of Taft-Hartley Affidavits

NEW YORK CITY — (WDL) — The Workers Defense League has written Arthur Goldberg, chief CIO attorney, offering to file an amicus brief when the United Steelworkers carries to the U. S. The President And the Congress

We have something to think about in this statement: The President says the present Congress is the worst since the "Thad Stevens" Congress, and the Congress says that he, the President, is the worst yet.

Well, in the opinion of many people, the whole people have had a raw deal from both President and Congress.

If we understood what we read in the history books there could be no comparison between the Thaddeus Stevens Congress and the present one.

Stevens knew why we had fought a Civil War, and felt that the gains made would be lost unless we carried through the plans to free the slaves and make it possible for them to live decently after their freedom. Stevens advocated the allotment of 40 acres of land and a mule for each slave, a guarantee of their civil rights, and a square deal in employment practices.

If Stevens lived today, he would be called a "red," even as Wallace is stigmatized "red" or Communist.

A bi-partisan coalition representing Northern manufacturers and bankers, and friends of Southern landowners denounced Stevens, and frustrated his attempts to make freedom work.

From the day that Thaddeus Stevens was driven from active participation in governmental affairs, freedom in this nation has been on the backward trend.

Often the way has been clear for the making of a lasting peace at home and abroad, but neither President Truman nor the Congress saw eye to eye with the people who pine for freedom, but who are hopelessly divided on such issues as race, creed, color, social or economical status.

The people who suffer under our present system of government that stretches its neck to complain about Russia taking over Yugoslavia, and dividing Germany, but pays no attention to the high and ever higher cost of foods, housing conditions of some of our citizens in ghettoes and slum areas not fit for the habitation of dogs, are responsible for the election of the men and women who make up the 80th Congress. And what is to be expected, they will vote to return many of them and others like them, to keep us, the poor people, where Thad Stevens, not according to his will, left us.

Another Milestone

It's a long way from 1776 to 1948, but that is the distance we have travelled.

It took many days, many years, many events all bundled into one struggle, leading to what we the people hope will climax a free world. In observing our Independence Day it is well that we gravely contemplate our achievements, but that we also seriously consider the tasks ahead and the measures that will be necessary to establish a nation unfettered by fascism or any other "ism." that would tend to destroy the meager progress we have made to obtain the sort of Americanism that establishes freedom for all Americans.

A free world was the bequest of the Declaration of Independence, our nation's starting point, which also marked the start of the fight for freedom. The thirteen colonies won their freedom from British tyranny. The advocates of freedom from chattel slavery won the victory in the Civil War in 1861 to abolish human slavery.

This fight for freedom, the world over, has been brought into sharp focus by two world wars. Now, in 1948, we the people of the world are engaged in the greatest struggle in all history. This struggle is to free ourselves from intolerance, greed, and fear—the deadly enemies of freedom.

It was these enemies which have caused all wars. Which may cause the coming war so many think they see looming above the horizon. Knowing this to be true, it is up to us to dedicate ourselves to the task of eradicating these hated ideas from our own souls, as individuals, and from the soul of America, our nation. Doing this we shall see clearly how to remove the mote from our brothers' eye in other parts of the world. And thus we shall have the peace and the freedom we have fought for all these years.

The Georgia Warm Springs Foundation, established to aid persons crippled with infantile paralysis, was established by Franklin D. Roosevelt, himself a victim of the dreaded disease, in 1927.

Eventually, Why Not Now?

The action of the Presbyterian Synod in condemning the un-American Activities Committee of Jack Tenney, as being "one of the groups most subversive to our American way of life," shows a courageous spirit and one which is interested in true Americanism.

But we cannot help remembering 1946, when Jack Tenney was elected. We do not know how many, if any churches, protested very vigorously then about his election. If they did, their protests must have fallen on deaf ears.

For you know Jack Tenney was re-elected by an overwhelming majority. Re-elected in the primary election, too, when we are supposed only to make our choice of candidates for the November election. By the queer California law, different from any other state in the Union, Jack Tenney was nominated on both the Democratic and Republican tickets. And of course that assured his election in November. The people had no one but Jack to vote for in the final election.

Now it is all very good to write letters of protest to our senators and members of the assembly, to adopt resolutions condemning their actions, to become aroused generally at the awful things our "politicians" are doing in Sacramento. And Washington.

But don't forget that an ounce of prevention is worth many pounds of cure. Once in office, how much do you suppose those same "politicians" care for your letters and telegrams and resolutions?

The time to think of the evils that Jack Tenneys do, is before they are elected. Jack Tenney's record was clear. He even boasted about it, and asked the people to re-elect him on his "record."

So—we got what we voted for in his case, surely. If we can become all wrought up, eventually, after our politicians are in office, why we can't we think a little bit about them NOW? Before we put them into power? Vote them out of office, and we won't need to write letters and telegrams, or adopt resolutions.

A Faint Hope In the Distance

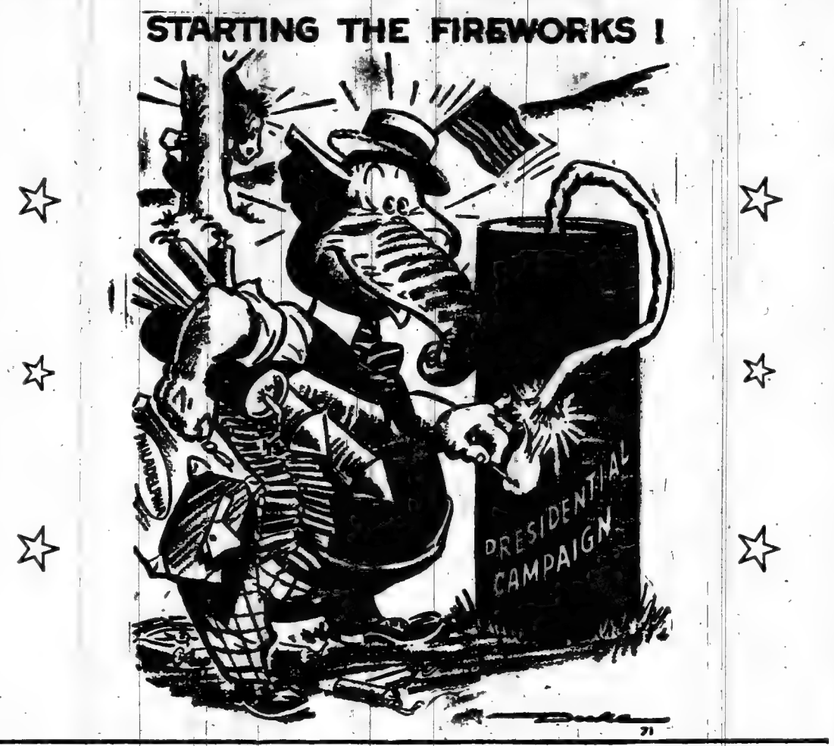
Occasionally a faint streak of light gleams through the closed shutters of some fellow Americans' minds—minds closed by the hatred of one racial group towards another.

An example of this came to the attention of The California EAGLE this week.

For a long time it has been a policy of the University of Southern California not to admit Negro students to its medical school. Such a policy brought but little protest from Negroes, who have grown weary and in some instances docile in the fight to be accepted as first class American citizens.

What happened this week, however, is a ripple on the wave of hope that makes Negro medical students feel that their patience is about to be rewarded.

"The University of Southern California Medical School selects its students upon the basis of scholarship, aptitude, and personality, without any condition of race, creed, or color. The purpose in selection is to obtain the men best suited to a career of medicine in terms of their ability and upon no other basis, aside from their scholarship, personality, character, and aptitude."



This statement is purported to have been issued this week by those in authority to make it, and is a free expression of the sentiment now existing in the Medical School of U.S.C.

Certainly any leadership that will destroy the un-American practices of discrimination in education in American life, might be expected to come from our institutions of higher education such as the University of Southern California.

And the gleam in the once closed shutters is broadening, and so are our hopes for a better world in which there will be no racial boundaries, color or class distinction, racial or religious prejudices.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

With the Republican convention out of the way, and with the definite decision facing us as to whom and what we must fight now on that line, the liberal American citizens are looking anxiously toward the Democratic convention which meets in Philadelphia July 12.

Will those delegates in Philadelphia be big enough to overturn the time-worn custom of nominating the incumbent for president, even if everyone knows his leadership has been wholly inadequate for the problems he has had to cope with? That he gives not the slightest promise of developing such leadership in the future? That even if he should be elected, the ship of state under his guidance would still flounder helplessly between Scylla and Charybdis. with the almost certain danger of being crushed by either? Or both?

"But if we don't nominate the incumbent," exclaims a shocked standpatter, "that will be an acknowledgement that we've been a failure! That our president has been a failure!"

So what? Can't we face the facts? Can't the danger of a wrecked nation sober us enough to forget for once the tradition of the elders? Do we care more for a few of our own man-made rules than we do for human happiness? What excuse shall we offer a year or two hence, to those poor duped people, standing hopelessly in the breadlines, for conditions brought about by our stubborness and bigotry?

We keep talking about Franklin Delano Roosevelt. About what a wonderful leader he was. About what he would have done if he were here.

We don't know what he would have done if he were still here. Except that we do know he would never, never sacrifice the welfare of the nation, the well-being of human lives, to the Moloch of an obsolete convention.

"The precious sense of belonging," according to Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, was the great gift which President Roosevelt gave to the American people. He made them feel they were a part of the community, of the nation. That they were even a part of the presidency!

By talking with them—even if only over the radio—he gave them the experience of leadership. As a result, no enterprise in history had more partners than his great crusade to make crusading practical.

"So it was that men and women from every walk of life felt they were members of a great family. So it was that they wept when he died. And so it is that they will come to this shrine (Franklin Delano Roosevelt's grave) as long as America lives and here in the solitude of this grave pray for strength. For they know from the life and works of him who sleeps here that faith and love can work miracles—that faith and love can make even the lowliest of men noble."

No, we no longer have the leadership of our great president Franklin Roosevelt. But the common people of America still live. Something like 140,000,000 of us. Was the alchemy which Franklin Roosevelt used to fuse these millions into virtually one, so elusive that no one else can capture it?

It was not. It was merely the alchemy of faith and love, the same substance Jesus of Nazareth used to work His miracles almost 2000 years ago.

Is no one living today who can become so one of the common people, that those people can again become masters of their fate through him?

There are scores of such potential leaders living today. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas is one of them. Henry Wallace, of course, who looms large on the political horizon, is another. There are others. General Dwight Eisenhower. And many, many more.

Will our delegates to the Democratic convention in Philadelphia, be so blinded by hidebound rules that they fail to see those leaders?

The fate of our nation, of the world, depends upon their answer.

The Road to Health

SAFE SWIMMING
by C. C. Stewart, M.D.
Greensboro, N. C.

Last summer I took a brief vacation at the seashore, determined to take a much-needed rest. There was only one occasion when my professional services were needed.

One evening as I was relaxing after dinner, a teen-age boy in hwimming trunks came rushing up to my cottage, very much excited. He gasped out the news that while he and three friends were in swimming, one had become exhausted and almost drowned. The others, who were good swimmers, had brought the boy in and were now trying to revive him on the beach.

We rushed to the scene of the accident. The two youths were giving the unconscious boy artificial respiration as he lay on the damp sand. They continued carefully working on their friend even when they saw us approaching. They were doing it properly, and the rescued by was beginning to breathe regularly. As soon as I saw that it was safe to move him, we got him to my cottage and had him comfortably warm and restin in no time.

The boys told me that they had all learned artificial respiration at a camp a few summers ago. Jack, who had helped revive his friend, Bill, said that Bill had stopped breathing when they dragged him out of the water, and they had gone to work immediately because they knew every second was important.

I admired the yuoths' coolness and efficiency which had probably saved their friend's life. Yet I felt it my duty to scold the boys for violating a number of important rules. They had gone swimming after six o'clock, which was forbidden because there were no life guards on duty after that hour.

They had gone on a "long swim" although they knew that they should never attempt a swim of that distance without someone along in a boat in case they became tired. When I remembered the hour and asked them if they had "plunged in" after a hearty dinner, they looked at one another guiltily. They admitted they had.

But all was well and the boys phoned their parents to reassure them. Then I took the phone and ordered a full round of ice cream from the local drug store.

Everyone should learn how to give artificial respiration properly. It can restore breathing for persons who have stopped breathing after a near-drowning such as Bill's. Many a life has been saved by its prompt administration.

Of course, it is just as important to avoid such accidents. Swimming is one of the most healthful of sports for people of almost every age. It is wise to learn how to swim properly, under supervision of a good swimmer. An inexperienced swimmer should never go in the water over his depth. No one should go swimming alone, not even an expert, because he may run into difficulties and need someone else's help. Swim only at beaches with lifeguards on duty and obey the beach rules. At the seashore don't swim at a beach with a reputation of a bad undertow.

Be sure that the water is clean before you swim in a river, lake or swimming pool. You may get such diseases as typhoid and dysentry from swimming in polluted rivers and lakes. If you go in swimming after a heavy meal, you take the chance of getting stomach cramps which may make you helpless in the water. It is wiser to wait an hour or more before swimming after a hearty meal.

Diving is dangerous and often results in ear and sinus infections, but if you must dive, learn to dive properly. Otherwise you may injure your back, or even break your neck. The water should be at least six feet deep where you dive and be sure there are no rocks or other hidden obstacles.

Swimming is one of the most enjoyable of all sports and it is one of the most healthful because it can develop strong muscles and good lung capacity. But it is wise to be aware of swimming hazards and not to take unnecessary chances. Then the health and enjoyment that result from swimming far outweigh its dangers.

Females Last Longer-Mostly

Females are not only less affected by most major diseases, but they also—in Los Angeles—live 3.76 years longer than the average for her worse-off half of the human species, the greatly stricken male, who dies at an average of 57.29 years.

These facts on female hardiness are released by Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer.

While cancer and nervous system diseases were the only major ones in which Los Angeles females exceeded the male rate, Dr. Uhl found that males fell greater victims to the following diseases in 1947:

Diphtheria, tetanus, tuberculosis, syphilis, heart disease, respiratory system diseases, premature birth, childhood diseases in the first year of life, violent and accidental death, auto accidents, suicides, and chronic poisonings and intoxications.

W. J. Wheaton Says

"Glory Glory Halleluiah, Glory Glory Halleluiah; My Soul Goes Marching On!"

We refrained from making our presence known for several minutes, as we did not want to interrupt Mary Ann's ecstacy of song, but when the Halleluiahs ended in the usual humming, we rang the bell and was greeted with that kindly smile so characteristic of "Mine Hostess."

Don't you know I was just thinking 'bout you this very minute. Oh, but never mind I'll wait 'til you've had your supper first; then I'se got some questions to ask, and so many things to tell you thats going to take some time. The table's all ready 'n all I'se got to do is put on the eats.

We were just about to be be seated when Mary Ann's grandchild (Mary Ann III) arrived with one of her classmates, said that their teacher had taken part of the class o the swimming pool at the beach. We insisted that the youngsters eat with me. We wished for company. After a bit of argument everything was amicably arranged, and we exchanged experiences. We set them to laughing when we described our "Old Swimming Hole" and when a bunch of kid girls stole our clothes and we had to wait 'til the sun went down before we could venture out.

"Well, I don't think that was very lady-like, do you Ann?" questioned Roberta. That was the name of Ann's companion.

Mary Ann looked at her grandmother, as much as to say, 'What do you say?' We told them we found them . . . all tied in knots . . . laid on the ground near by.

When we had satisfied our appetites Mary Ann III said, "Grandma Bert and I'll clean up; you rest yourself."

Before reminding Mary Ann that she was to tell me, as well as ask me something, and that we were ready both to receive and impart.

"What I want to tell you is I heard the people I work for talking and he was telling her 'bout you meeting their club, 'n how you certainly are well up in all of the things, only he didn't say things, but some other word. Anyhow he says they're sending you a letter telling you that you've been elected 'n hope you'll accept. Did you get it? Yes, we told her that we had received the letter and sent one of acceptance. They are a club of forward looking gentlemen who are making a study of the civic and political situation, both local, national and international.

"Yes, the Missus said her husband told her you certainly know a lot 'bout them things. Tell me 'bout them big doings of them people who puts up the men to be President 'n such. Mary Ann 'n the youngsters tried to read it out of the papers 'n tell me, but I couldt'nt make heads or tails 'bout what's it all 'bout.

"We told her, as simply as possible, the procedure of the different states and territories in their selection of delegates. That this was the convention of the Republican party; that the delegates had selected Governor Dewey of N. Y. to run as, or for president, and Governor Earl Warren of our state (California) to run for vice president. That the Democratic party would hold their convention in July to nominate whom they shall have as their choice to run for the same respective offices of president and vice president. Both partys draw up a set of things to present to the voters, which they call a Platform, and each separate promise is called a plank. For instance, in order to get the vote of the minority folk, especially the Negro, they have promised to eliminate both the Poll-Tax and to make lynching a Federal crime. In toto, it reads like this: "It goes on to enunciate the principles as laid down in the Constitution and Declaration of Independence; which the girls have been reading to you, and further states that "this right of equal opportunity to work and to advance in life should never be limited to any individual because of race, religion, color or country of origin. We favor the enactment and just enforcement of such federal legislation as may be necessary to maintain this right at all times in every part of this republic. We favor the abolition of the poll-tax as a requisite to voting. We are opposed to the idea of racial segregation in the armed services of the United States.

All of this is well and good; but is it sincere? This 80th Congress is overwhelmingly Republican: Both the poll-tax and the lynch bill were recommended by a sympathetic President. There would have been no fear of a veto. To the majority of minority voters . . . which is mainly Negro . . . it sounds like the song of "Long Long Ago" when they used to wave the "Bloody Shirt" and tell the Negro he owed a debt of gratitude to the Republican party if they did; it has been paid thricefold. The Governor of Mississippi says that unless President Truman repudiates his civil rights programme, and the Democrat Convention nominates him (Truman), Mississippi will bolt the convention. The question: Where will they go?

It is a trite saying that "I love him for the enemies he's made," and if so President Harry Truman should be admired, if not loved for making enemies of a certain class of men who call themselves Americans. Those are but the opinions of one individual, and they may not amount to much Mary Ann, but I'll not dream of an impractible Utopia. When we attain the right of equal opportunity throughout this land of ours it will be by a coordination of effort, and not before. It is the privilege and right for every man and woman to think and act for themselves . . . as their minds dictate . . . but very often we have to subordinate our special thoughts for action that may be of benefit for the whole. Joe Louis says he's retired. Will enter politics. In whose interest? That's the enigma.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

Don't be too surprised if you hear that the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild has severed connections with the CIO Council; don't be surprised, that is, unless you are really concerned over what is happening to the strength of the labor movement.

To begin with, let me tell you of a neighbor of mine back in Westchester County who bought a fairly decent appearing two-story home for himself, his wife and his two teen-age daughters.

He got the place at what was a bargain price two years ago, and he knew it needed some patching on the roof; that the plumbing was antiquated and subject to frequent stoppages, and that the heating system needed overhauling. He knew all this and he still figured he got a bargain, because housing was scarce and a couple of months' rent for the available apartments amounted almost to the sum of the down payment. He considered himself a pretty lucky citizen, and his wife and daughters were proud of him and they told him so frequently.

The inside of the house was as the inside of a house, that had previously belonged to a middle-class couple who made quite a sack working in defense during the war, might have looked. They hadn't used the place for much beyond sleeping their quotas between changing shifts, preparing and eating the normal amount of meals, and maybe a weekly brawl or two with some of the gang from the plant. It wasn't a dirty house, but it had needed a little attention, and by the time my neighbor came into possession, it was pouting from neglect.

My neighbor's wife being a neat and particular housekeeper, went to the house a week before they moved in with her two misses, and a rumble-seat loaded down with mops and broom and scrub brushes, and pails and soap, disinfectant and a couple of bottles of Airwick. They started in the kitchen, a natural and instinctive gravitation, and they were a trifle annoyed to discover that the previous tenants had, by their free and easy manner of living, encouraged the presence of roaches. For a moment they were non-plussed, but the possession of the tools and supplies of cleanliness gave them a feeling of confidence, and they went about their cleaning duties with a fixed objective: to get rid of the roaches.

At this point, I must confess that my neighbor did not respond in the proper manner when his wife informed him that the place had roaches. His reply was something about keeping the place clean, and they'd all go away. His wife noted the casual, unimpressed quality of his reply, and made a mental note to goad him into a more deeply-felt receptiveness just as soon as she got the greater part of the cleaning done.

By the time my neighbor and his family moved into their little nest, the roaches had learned from their advance scouts, who had been lurking about, that a new family with endless supplies of cereals and flour and sugar tucked away in the pantry, had come to provide for them. They swarmed all over the kitchen and the pantry at night when the lights went out, and finally, gaining confidence from their almost uninterrupted nocturnal missions, they dared to venture forth in daylight, even in the presence of the householders.

My neighbor's wife, recalling her husband's indifference when she had first informed him of

The Fine Fancies of Commencement Days

By PAUL FRENCH

June passes. And with it go from the colleges, tens of thousands of radiant youth, our hope of the future—the graduates. What does the world offer these young men and women?

You will never know, if you give ear only to the ponderous platitudes that drip from the mouths of the college "prexies," as they hand out diplomas and fill the air with baccalaureate bunkom. Yet, even thsse gentlemen of the ivoriest of ivory twores, must commit themselves to some definite generalities, if generalities can he said to be definite.

Hence, we saw in The Times of June 12, that, at the University of Southern California, the new college president was given the two column headline: "DR. FAGG, INSTALLED AT USC, DEPLORES STATE OF WORLD." Dr. Fagg deplored, to be precise, that "the world today acents fear, rather than peaceful contemplation of the good life and the wonders of the universe."

Aye, the wonders of the universe, the meadows at dawn, the song of the lark, even the nebulace of Orion, escape attention because the "contemplation of the good life" is impossible for the bood reason that there is no good life for the majority of 3,500 seniors who listened to Dr. Fagg. Indeed, no good life for the majority of us all, the working class people.

But if Dr. Fagg, as befitting a college president who must ever be wary of saying anything but the most harmless platitudes, was thus rather vague about mundane matters, not so was Mr. William C. Mullendore, president of the Southern California Edison corporation, who was called in to indoctrinate the seniors in the wonders of Big Business and the "peaceful contemplation" of the necessity for these same seniors to go to war to preserve Monopoly Capitalism, which Mr. Mullendore, of course, called "freedom," "the American way of life," and "individual liberty."

Mr. Mullendore, also, had much to "deplore." The monstrous form of "collectivism," he said, threatens the "world of freedom." And the "world of freedom," he deplored, is "confused." He added: "You are called upon to choose between two worlds."

This, of course, is quite wrong. No "choice" is permitted. You are drafted. And you are drafted to fight, not for "freedom," but for the dividends of stockholders in the Southern California Edison corporation, and all its subsidiaries and superior holding companies, clear up to Morgan's National City Bank.

Unless, of course, your teeth are bad but your manners are good enough to get a job working for said corporation network. In such case, you will be deferential to your "natural superiors" or—you will find yourself out of a job. This sort of "good life" is hardly worth "peaceful contemplation," yet Dr. Fagg and Mr. Mullendore assured the graduates that this is what is called "freedom, individual freedom."

That horrific state known vaguely as "collectivism," was described by Mr. Mullendore as "slavery." And he tried to shock the youngsters by informing them that, during World War II, "slavery was extended." What the devil was he driving at? Simply this: As the fascists were driven out of eastern Europe, along with the capitalists and feudal barons who had invited them in, the people took over and decided that hereafter the factories, lands, power plants and so on must belong to all the people, and not be used any more for the profits of a few, with wage labor doing the work and the Mullendores getting all the profit.

Mr. Mullendore stands things on their heads when he describes wage slavery as "freedom," and the abolition of such wage slavery as "slavery." Old Frederick Engels, over a century ago, in his work: "The Constitution of the Working Class in England," described the distinction between chattel slavery and wage slavery in the folowing terms, terms quite clearly applicable to the wage working class of America in this year of 1948:

"The worker is, in law and in fact, the slave of the property-holding class, of the bourgeoisie. So effectually a slave that he is sold like a piece of goods, rises and falls in price like a commodity. If the demand for workers increases, the price of workers rises; if it falls, their price falls. It if falls so greatly that a number of them become unsalable, if they are 'left in stock,' they are simply left idle; and as they cannot live upon that, they suffer starvation.

"The only difference as compared with the old, outspoken slavery, is this, that the worker of today seems to be free, because he is not sold once and for all, but piecemeal, by the day, the week, the month, and because no one owner sells him to another, but he is forced to sell himself in this way instead, being the slave of no particular person, but of the whole property-holding class.

"For him the matter is unchanged at bottom, and if this semblance of freedom necessarily gives him some real freedom on the one hand, it entails on the other the disadvantage that no one guarantees him a subsistence, that he is in danger of being repudiated at any moment by his master, the bourgeoisie, and left to die of starvation if the bourgeoisie ceases to have an interest in his employment, his existence.

'The bourgeoisie, on the other hand, is far better off under the present arrangement than under the old slave system; it can dismiss its employees at discretion without sacrificing invested capital, and gets its work done much more cheaply than is possible with slave labor, as Adam Smith comfortingly pointed out."

Alas, for the "peaceful contemplation of the good life."

POTPOURRI

PHILADELPHIA: Bernard Kirschner paid off a lost Republican convention bet by walking from City Hall to Dewey headquarters, three blocks away, dressed in a fur coat. He had bet on Taft. Around his neck a sign read: "I lost."

Henry Wallace said it didn't matter much whom the Republicans nominated for their candidates. "They all stand for the cold war," he commented, "especially Dewey because he's hooked up with John Foster Dulles."

JAMAICA, B. W. I.—Jamaica, the largest British West Indian Island, got its first black Knight last week on the King's birthday. This title was bestowed on Harold E. Allan, 53, who has a fine record as a teacher, businessman, sportsman, and member of the Legislative Council.

The new Knight achieved international prominence in 1938, when he was made a membes of the Commission to enquire into the Frome disaster. He represented Jamaica at the First Anglo-American Caribbean Commission that met at Barbados in 1944 and at Cuba in 1947; and last year served his country at the International Trade Conference.

BARBADOS, B. W. I. (CLS)—"We want to emigrate" in bright colors, adorned the breasts of hundreds of Barbadians last week as they paraded through the streets of Bridgetown, their capital, headed by four members of the Congress Party in the House of Assembly.

After several hours, representatives of the paraders were given a hearing at the Government House, and presented resolutions drafted at a public meeting, strongly criticizing the Government. It blamed the administration for its failure to undertake relief work; for its failure to provide mobile food kitchens to feed those unable to feed themselves, and the authorities' refusal to send delegates to the United States, Canada, Brazil and Venezuela to investigate possibilities for emigration.

They dispersed when the Government decided to appoint a delegation to study the grievances.

The United States Court of Appeals confirmed the conviction of Gerhart Eisler for contempt of the Un-American Committee on June 14. The decision was 2 to 1 —Justice Prettyman dissenting.

In behalf of Civil Rights Congress, attorneys Abraham J. Isserman, David Rein and Joseph Forer represented Mr. Eisler. CRC has asked the attorneys to ask for a rehearing before the Court of Appeals. If this is not granted, the case will be appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court immediately.

In summing up 14 years of strvise of the Federal Housing Administration, which was established on June 27, 1934, Commissioner Franklin D. Richards announced that the FHA has now insured over $12½ billion of mortgage and property improvement loans.

During this period of time the Administration has built up more than $176 million in the net worth of its insurance funds and paid out more than $8 million in dividends to borrowers who have paid off loans. Commissioner Richards also pointed out that the SHA, although a public-service government agency, is self-supporting. Last year its income exceeded $30 million after payment of all operating expenses.

PANAMA—Latest reports on the unsettled political situation in Panama show that Don Mamingo Diaz, 74 year old leader of the Liberal Party is leading Dr. Atnulfo Arias of the Revolutionary Party by more than 2,000 votes in the official count of votes of recent election for President of the Republic. For several weeks it was felt that Dr. Arias would take the reins of Government again, but his party lost their hopes when ballots came in from Bocas del Toro, Colon. Cocle and Darien.

Arias' Party may control the National Assembly, for in the count of Deputies, figures showed that the Authentic Revolutionary group may obtain at least seven of the twtlve seats allowed Panama province.

The State of Pennsylvania, host to both the major political confentions this year, has some half million Negro residents, more than any other Northern state except New York. An overwhelming percentage of these people make what homes they can in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other big residential centers of the state. And most of them are in crying need of better housing accommodations, particularly because practically all of these families are in the low-income group and their only chance for decent living conditions is that furnished by public housing units.

Delegates to the Republican National Convention last week heard themselves termed "representatives of the real estate lobby," by Mrs. Mildred Casey, of Chicago, long a leader in the fight for better housing.

"The Negroes cannot forget," she said, "that the Republican-controlled House of Representatives blocked all action on Federal low rent housing.

"It is obvious that the Republican Party does not represent the people. It represents the special interests, particularly the real estate lobby."

The Lincoln Brigade presents three prints of the Spanish struggle by SIM in full color, 10x13. The serigraphers, Davidson and Hopf, have done an outstanding job, according to critics.

Mrs. Echo Stanton Robinson, of this city, was one of the delegates from California to the Republican National convention in Philadelphia. Miss E. Smith was one of the visitors who was a guest at the breakfast held at the O. V. Catto Elks auditorium when Bertha Diggs, secretary of labor for the state of New York, was honored.

Phil Bock, youth secretary of the Los Angeles Communist Party will address the Young People's Forum of the Soto-Michigan Jewish Community Center, 2317 Michigan Avenue on Tuesday, July 6, at 8:30 p.m. on "What is Communism?"

This is the fifth in a series of eight lectures sponsored by the Forum Group on topics related to various political ideologies. Admission is free to these lectures which are run for two more consecutive Tuesdays. For further information, call the center office at AN. 13118.

Natl. Negro Ins. Meet

NEW ORLEANS — With three firms yet to submit production figures from January 1 through December 31, 1947, fifty-two of the fifty-five member companies of the National Negro Insurance Association, holding its twenty-eighth annual convention here in the Booker T. Washington Auditorium, reported premium income of $57,599,848 56.

The same report disclosed that the total assets were $94,639,376.84.

W. Ellis Stewart, of the Supreme Liberty Life Insurance Co., Chicago, was unanimously elected president. Upon invitation of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co., the convention in 1950 will meet in Los Angeles.

Woody Garrett Serves In Japan

Woodrow Garrett, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Odis Dennis of 1729 W. 37th Street, Los Angeles, has been assigned to Company 'M' of the 24th Infantry stationed at Camp Gifu, Japan. Garrett who is a private first class entered the army in November, 1947, and received his basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky. He went overseas in April, 1948. Before entering the service he was a student at Poly High.

The 24th is a part of the 25th Infantry, known as the 'Tropic Lightning' Division.

First To Serve In Va. Council Since 1895

RICHMOND, Va.—When Oliver W. Hill, capable attorney and veteran of World War Two was elected to the City Council here in the recent election, he became the first member of his race to be elected to serve in the Council since 1895. Active in the NAACP, Hill had the full backing of the CIO.

One of attorney Hill's most ardent supporters in this community which boasts a Negro population that is better than one third of the total, was 90-year-old Edward Carter, a civic-minded citizen who carried the distinction now accorded Hill when he served in the Council in 1888.

Mabel Gray On Recovery Plan

Miss Mabel Gray, of 2272 West 25th Street, has joined the executive committee of the Scientific Recovery Plan, as outlined in the book, "The Golden Recovery," by Werter L. Gross.

In accepting membership on the committee, Miss Gray said, "It is a grand plan for the advancement of humanity. It is not merely a plan, but actually is rapidly becoming a realization."

One of the most active women in Los Angeles, Miss Gray is president of the Five and Over Charity Club, International Grand High Preceptress of the Knights and Daughters of Tabor, vice president of the Urban League of Los Angeles, past state president of the California State Association of Colored Women.

She is also affiliated with the National Association of Colored Women, and is a member of the executive board of the Avalon Community Center, California Legislative Conference, Congress of American Women and National Board of Planned Parenthood. In addition, she is a practitioner in the Institute of Religious Science, and is a member of the Eastern Star and Elks.

Labor

the presence of the roaches, showed a shrewish tendency in the matter, and she kept him bringing home assortments of recommended and unrecommended anti-roach chemicals. Apparently, the roaches built up an immunity to chemical death. My neighbor, angered no doubt by the stubborn refusal of the roaches to die off and leave him alone, thought fumigating the place with a certain candle-like product which he brought home in abundance one Saturday, and after preparing the kitchen, he lit several of the candles, then got into his car with his family and drove six miles to the movies.

By the time he had seen half of the Mickey Mouse cartoon, his house had burned to the ground. In discarding the match that lit the candles, he had thrown it into a pile of papers near the refrigerator. There was a can of cleaning fluid nearby.

I was going to say, when I got all wound up about my neighbor, that running the LANG is not a housekeeping job, and it is no assignment for a shrew, or for the ventilation of a lot of mouldy frustrations.

A time like this demands strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands.

EDDIE CANTOR never grows tired of lending a hand in a worthy cause. As chairman of the campaign of the Cancer Prevention Society Inc. to raise funds for the first unit of the Memorial Cancer Research Center at Third and Loma Drive, Cantor is spurring the sale of contribution tickets at one dollar each. Donations of a dollar will enable the donor to participate in the drawing for either Trend Home or California Cabin, two homes to be given away at the close of the campaign. Cantor is shown with George Q. Baird, executive secretary of the Southern California Druggists Association Ltd., who has announced that 1500 druggists are taking part in the campaign.

HELP US TAKE IT OFF THE BLOCKS, is the plea being made by the Outdoor Life and Health Association as its annual membership campaign swings into the third week. Funds from the drive will be used to support the organization's demonstration rest home for tuberculosis patients in Duarte, with a portion of the money being earmarked to place the building pictured above into operation. The building needs a foundation and was donated to Outdoor Life by the Mt. Sinai Jewish Sanatorium. When set up, it will accommodate 14 patients, swelling the Home's total capacity to 50.

Dr. Channing Tobias Honored At NAACP Conf.; Congress Scored; Demand Full Negro Citizenship

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Dr. Channing H. Tobias, member of the President's Committee on Civil Rights, was awarded the Spingarn medal at the 39th annual conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, held here last week. The award is made annually to a Negro American for distinguished achievement. It was presented to Dr. Tobias by Edwin R. Embree, president of the Rosenwald Fund, who said:

"In recognition of his consistent role as a defender of fundamental American liberties, this medal is being awarded to Channing H. Tobias. He brought to the President's Committee on Civil Rights intellectual vitality, courage and the richness of his long experience in the field of race relaions. Largely due to his persistence and clear insight, the committee produced a report of historic significance in man's unending struggle for justice. Selflessly he has served his race, his church and his country in varied capacities, motivated at all times by a consuming passion for social justice."

"Segregation is wrong in practice wherever it exists," Dr. Tobias said, in accepting the medal, "but when our government holds up before its citizens the Constitution with the Bill of Rights, saying to everyone that he is a litizen, and appealing to him for loyalty in peace and war on that basis, then I do not feel that a pattern that has grown up in any one section of the country should be permitted to dominate the national policy. It boils down to this: Either we are citizens of the United States or we are not. If we are, then all the rights of citizenship in relation to the armed forces should be accorded to us. If we are not, then America must publish before the world that it stands for a double standard of citizenship."

In presenting the medal, Mr. Embree cited half-a-dozen recent triumphs of democracy in America "to renew our faith in the ultimate and inevitable success of the crusade so brilliantly led for many years by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People." These triumphs were, he said, (1) the Supreme Court decision on restrictive covenants, (2) continued action against discrimination in southern and border states, (3) the report of the President's Committee on Civil Rights, (4) the creation of official commissions in some 30 cities to give "substance to the constitutional rights of all Americans," (5) recognition of Negroes and members of other minority groups to major realms of American life such as sports, theatre, and education and (6) the increasing coordination of minority groups in a common fight for common democracy.

"The task ahead is clear," Mr. Embree asserted. "It is not to abandon our march or throw away our birthright. We are torn at the moment by cries to the right and cries to the lef. Let us not be distracted by these sidewise movemens. Let us not worry too much about moving to the right or moving to the left. Let us continue he American march —forward."

WHITE SCORES 80th CONGRESS

The 80th Congress was accused by Walter White, NAACP Secretary, of "playing cheap and partisan politics with almost total contempt for the welfare either of America or the world." Mr. White made this charge in the closing address of the conference.

The NAACP secretary reviewed the failure of Congress item by item and concluded that the American people themselves had to share the blame for this record because of their failure to go to the polls in 1946 in sufficient numbers to assure the election of a progressive Congress.

"The major job ahead for intelligent Americans is the wise, critical and non-partisan use of the ballot to stop the paralyzing trend toward reaction in the United States today. In 1946 many of you in this audience did not take the trouble to register and vote. In this apathy, you were joined by many others in organized labor, the church and other groups. What was the result? The election of the most ineffective Congress, particularly with respect to human rights, in the history of America."

The ineffectiveness of Congress, he said, was demonstrated not alone by its failure to pass civil rights legislation but also by its neglect of the pressing country's housing needs, the failure to curb inflation, its denial of opportunity to the dispossessed of Europe and its thwarted attack upon basic civil liberties.

Charging that northern Democrats and Republicans in Congress are terrorized by southern filibusterers, Mr. White said: "We must let senators and congressmen alike who seek our vote know that they will attain our support only if they stop being cowards in the face of cheap confederate bluster. I say solemnly and advisably that if the southern governors and other politicians who threaten everything from political secession to mob violence to prevent fulfillment of the recommendations of the President's Committee on Civil Rights are successful, then democracy is dead forever in the United States and in the world."

PROGRAM OF ACTION

The record of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was reviewed by Roy Wilkins, assistant secretary, in the keynote address delivered at the opening session on Tuesday, June 22.

"In the struggle for human rights," Mr. Wilkins said, the Negro has repeatedly been asked to be patient and reasonable. But it is no longer possible to be patient and reasonable for time is running out—"not for the Negro alone. It is for America that time is running out. It is for our nation that we must make haste. It is for her that the time for action is now."

The Ingram Defense Fund was augmented by contributions totaling $2,773.33 presented by three branches to Walter White, NAACP Secretary.

POLITICS VITAL TOPIC

Consideration of political action measures dominated this 39th Annual Conference of the NAACP.

Practically all of the speakers, in one way or another, expressed an awareness of the importance of the Negro vote in the Presidential election of 1948.

Willard S. Townsend, president of the United Transport Service Employees, charged that "callous disregard the leaders of the two great political parties of the country have manifested toward our demands for fair employment practice represent your and my failure. It means that we have not persuaded enough of the people whom we have the privilege of representing to qualify themselves to cast their votes, thereby exerting the maximum political strength. He emphasizes the need for more intensive work in the political arena.

The elimination of "powerful reactionary influences" from the nation's politics and economy "cannot be achieved if we divide our political forces," Oscar A. Ewing, Federal Security Administrator, warned. "We cannot succeed if we present less than a solid front to the opposition."

Reaffirming their "abiding faith in the basic principles of democracy," the 535 delegates adopted a declaration of principles embodying the contention.

Called upon Congress for enactment of legislative measures to assure basic equalities for all Americans. The declaration asserted:

"It is time to level the barriers which in certain states stand between us and the free ballot. It is time to open up employment opportunities on a merit basis. It is time to democratize the armed services. It is time to abandon forever the humiliating and uneconomic pattern of segregation in housing, education and public services. It is past time for militant defense of civil liberties. It is long past time to suppress lynching and mob violence through drastic punitive legislation."

The delegates further agreed: "We have our own responsibilities. If we are to gain our legislative demands, we must rally our full voting strength for non-partisan political action. If the voice of our Association is to grow in volume, we must redouble our efforts to enlarge our membership. If our prestige is to be enhanced, we must improve our methods of taking our message to the American people in an effort to win their support for our great crusade, for the redemption of democracy."

NMA Meets in Aug.

The National Medical Association will hold its 53rd annual convention in New York City August 16-20. Membership in the NMA includes about 98 per cent of the 6,000 Negro physicians in the United States, and quite a few in Canada and the West Indies.

ROBERT E. BELTON conducted his first meeting as the new president of the Southern University Club of Los Angeles last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Clark who served the sort of delicacies that recently won her a trip to New Orleans for a special catering assignment. Twenty-five members of the club were present to meet the newly-installed officers who will serve with President Belton. They are: Mrs. Eugenia Larry, vice-president; Mrs. Angela Woodruff, recording secretary; Mrs. Cleo A. Granberry, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Letha Fury, treasurer; Charlees Jordan, business manager; Miss Fannie Lee, reporter and Mrs. Bertha H. Simms, historian. Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper Proffit will be the hostess for the July meeting, and John Tyler will be host at the August meeting.

Leonard Beavers, best man.

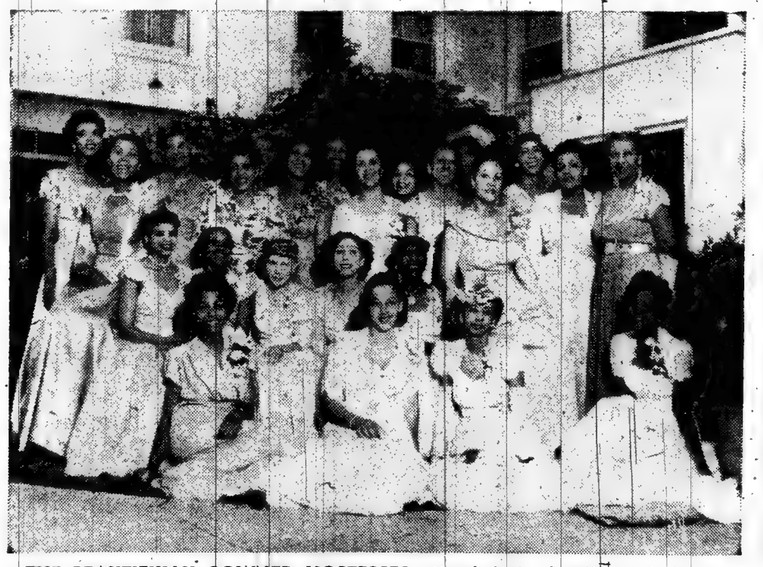
A BRIDAL PORTRAIT featuring Mrs. LeRoy A. Beavers Jr., with Sharon DeMan and Marilyn Flory was beautiful in the fairlyland setting.

THE STRING ENSEMBLE of Euterpian Club played strains of light classical music in the patio-garden of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Somerville's residence, where the reception was held.



CATCHING THE BRIDAL BOUQUET was an exciting event. Bridesmaids cluster around the staircase to receive bouquet tossed by Mrs. LeRoy A. Beavers Jr.

A VISION OF LOVELINESS was this portrayal of Mrs. LeRoy A. Beavers Jr and her bridal entourage. Cameraviewed are Mrs. Leontyne King, directress, Mrs. LeRoy A. Brown-Beavers Ceremony In Brilliant 'Church' Setting

The altar of the Second Baptist Church was a scene of breath-taking beauty on Sunday, June 27th, when Jessie Mae Brown and LeRoy A. Beavers, Jr., recited marital vows with the Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor, officiating.

A profusion of flowers, in graduated shades of pink, formed an altar bowl arrangement, with Grecian columns and numerous candelabras in the background. A canopy archway of artificially tinted gardenias and clusters of pink gladiolas and larkspur, served as a tiny chapel from which the Rev. Henderson performed the ceremony.

Promptly at 3:15 p.m., Maudie Bilbrew and Kitty White gave a beautiful rendition of "When I have sung my song for you," followed by Miss Marjorie Day singing "At Dawning."

Candlebearers Antoinette Brown and Joan Clarke, sister and cousin, respectively, of the bride, were exquisite in pink net gowns with delicate pink heart-shaped lace hats, carrying pink candles with large pink satin bows. They marched in, alone, to the strains of "The Coronation March," with Geneva Mae Moore at the piano and Edith K. Owens at the organ.

"The Lord's Prayer" was then sung by William De Valentine, followed immediately by Miss Ella Mae Hilson's rendition of the ever-popular "Because."

Mrs. Arnetta Brown, mother of the bride, was escorted by her son, Paul W. Brown. She was a picture of quiet charm in a grey crepe and metallic gown with turquoise blue and grey net hat, turquoise blue gloves and wearing a corsage of pink anthuriums. Mrs. Lyllyian D. Beavers, mother of the groom, was beautifully attired in aqua blue crepe with white accessories, and wearing a corsage of pink anthuriums.

Bridal attendants were Leola Beavers, Dorothy Nicholas, Phyllis Scott, Gloria O'Neal, Marcella Miller, and Winifred Toney. They were lovely in pink net gowns with enormous bouffant trailing skirts with pink bead and silver sequin trim. Their large delicate pink lace hats, with open crowns, were set off by a swirl of pink satin ribbon tied in luscious bows, with streamers that flowed softly to the floor. They carried cascades of dark pink roses and tinted steffonotis.

Mrs. Rebecca Jean Farrington, sister of the bride, served as Matron of Honor, and Miss Gloria Bunch as Maid of Honor. Both wore identical gowns of pink net, of a slightly deeper hue, and carried bouquets of light pink roses and steffonotis. Little Marion Alta DeMan, junior bridesmaid, wore an exact duplicate of the bridal attendants' gown and carried a small pink rose cascade. Little Sharon DeMan and Marilyn Flory, nieces of the bride and groom, respectively, were doll-like in their short ruffled pink net dresses and lace poke bonnets, carrying baskets of pink sweet peas and maline, as flower girls.

Acting as ring-bearers for the double ring ceremony were Masters Harold Flory and Warner Richard Wright, who wore short white linen suits and carried dainty heart-shape white satin pillows.

Entering on the arm of her father, Albert Brown, the bride was a picture of regal beauty in her white slipper satin wedding gown. The deep "V" neckline of white lace with tiny pearl and silver bead embroidery, was transparent. The long sleeves had the same treatment of white lace with tiny pearl and silver bead embroidery, just above the wrist, with inset corselet of white lace, floor length skirt and long train. The gown was the one which the bride's sister, Marion B. Jackson, wore. The long white veil with halo made of white anemone and Jack in the Pulpit Flowers with pearl orange blossoms, was a creation of Julian Dempsey. The bride carried a gorgeous cascade bouquet of white roses, white orchids, maline and steffonotis. For something borrowed, she carried a white lace handkerchief, loaned by the directress of her wedding, Leontyne King.

The ushers, smartly attired in afternoon suits, were: Norman Houston, Gene Williams, Joe Oliver, Felix Williams, Nathaniel Shaw and Robert Porter. Stationery ushers were Paul Brown, Maurice Jones, Gene Walker and Clifford Wilson.

Leonard Beavers, brother of the groom, served as Best Man.

Following the wedding, an elaborate reception was held in the spacious home of Dr. and Mrs. John A. Somerville, 2104 South Harvard Boulevard. Mmes. Fannie DeMan and Marion Jackson, sisters of the bride, received, with Dr. Vada Somerville acting as official hostess. Others in the receiving line included: Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor of the California Eagle and long time friend of the family; Mrs. Lyllian Beavers, mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brown, parents of the bride; Mrs. Hoyt Brown; Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Beavers, the bride and groom, Mr. Leonard Beavers, and the wedding entourage; as well as the directress of the wedding, Mrs. Leontyne King, wearing blue crepe with a corsage of Vanda Orchids and her assistant.

Quiet Simplicity Prevailed In Garden Nuptials Of Maxine Clark and Paul Beck

Quiet simplicity marked the wedding of Willa Maxine Clark and Paul M. Beck as they said their vows under a flower-trimmed trellis in the beautiful garden of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Clark, 1654 E. 115th street, Los Angeles at high noon Sunday, June 27 before Rev. Ralph R. King, assistant pastor of First A.M.E. church. About 150 guests and members of the families of the young couple witnessed the very solemn and beautiful ceremony.

The noon-day sun broke through the morning clouds in dazzling splendor just as J. W. Sanford began the piano prelude for "Until" the vocal selection beautifully rendered by Mrs. Earl J. Reason, close friend of the bride which immediately preceded the wedding processional. Then came Dorothy Jeanne Clark, sister of the bride and her only attendant. The bride came in on the arm of her father and was gowned in rose-pink eyelet piquet with matching hat and gloves of the same material, the hat being of off-face style trimmed in pink and blue forget-me-nots. Her shoes were of rose-pink buck. Her sister wore aqua eyelet piquet with matching hat and gloves and white buck shoes. Both dresses were the close-fitting bodices with wide bouffant skirts ballerina length and both Miss Clark and her sister carried nosegay bouquets of pink and blue spring flowers. The groom had as best man his brother, Roscoe H. Beck, and both wore summer formals of white tuxedoes with dark trousers.

Immediately following the ceremony the guests repaired to the beautiful dining room for wedding refreshments. A huge four-tierred wedding cake the base of which was bordered with four rows of vari-colored fresh sweetpeas, formed the centerpiece of an artistically decorated dining table. The centerpiece was flanked on each side by three silver candlesticks holding tall white lighted tapers, and a large punch bowl graced each end of the table. Mrs. Octavia Chester and Mrs. Ollie Woods poured punch. Hostesses were Miss Clara Fentriss, intimate friend, Mrs. John J. Clark, sister, Mrs. Maurice S. Jones, cousin of the bride, also Mrs. Carold Jones, Mrs. Autry Rolard and Miss Olive Phillips. Out-of-city guests were Mrs. James J. West, Jr., Ponca City, Okla., bride's aunt. Miss Olive Phillips, Dover, Okla. and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Lewis, San Francisco.

Mr. Beck, son of Mrs. Tenora Beck of Los Angeles, is a native of Lincoln, Neb. He saw services overseas in the Pacific area and is a student of the University of Southern California from which he expects to graduate next mid-year term. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity and playground director at 96th Street school.

June marks three big events for the bride, for beside being her wedding month, she also received her A. B. degree with elementary teacher's credential from Chapman college and successfully passed teacher's examination for the Los Angeles City schools where she will enter as probationary teacher in September. She is a Delta and has served as Deanof Pldeges in Upsilon Chapter for the past year.

The young couple began housekeeping immediately and are at home to their many friends at 1363 E. 47th street.

Lilac Girls Club

Mrs. Sarah Cage was hostess to the Lilac Girls' Club on June 18th. The club went through their regular routine of business and also made plans for a breakfast to be given soon. Tickets for the affair will be on sale in a short time.

Cards were drawn for the prizes to be given away. Mrs. Myrtle Robinson won first prize; Mrs. Anna Washington, second prize, and Mrs. Freda Nolte, third prize.

Hostess for the next meeting will be Mrs. Ella Cotton. Sarah Cage, reporter.

PICTURESQUE BRIDAL COUPLE—When Nita Hippard and Barrington Tate recited vows at the Casa Rafael last week, "something old and something new" took on a special meaning. The bride, popular debutante in local circles, wore formal satin fashioned along colonial lines. —Sheffield photo.

Unusual Design Accented Summer Theme of Hippard-Tate Ceremony

Scores of well wishers thronged the reception suite of the Casa Rafael on last Saturday evening to witness the solemn marriage rites of Nita Victoria Hippard, talented and beautiful daughter of Mrs. Claudebelle Parker and granddaughter of Mrs. Juanita Hall of West 30th street, and Barrington S. Tate, son of Mrs. Carlotta Suaya Tate of Washingon, D. C.

The bride, a graduate of Manual Arts, attended University of Southern California majoring in voice and piano and sang in the university choir. The groom, a graduate of Howard university, is also a graduate in the Mortuary Science School of Los Angeles and a member of Phi Beta Sigma fraternity.

Miss Catherine Owens, at the piano and organ, rendered a beautiful bridal selections, while Mrs. Josephine Casper sang Because in her own inimitable way.

Nita, as she is fondly known to her many friends, was solely attended by her godmother, Zepherine Brown, who, to the Mendolsohn's triumphant march, descended the winding stairs. She wore a lovely creation of Delphineum bluenet with headdress of corresponding shade, gold accessories, and carried a colonial bouquet of Cluadius Pernet roses and blue Marguerites with blue satin streamers. The best man, Ralph Turner, closely followed with the groom.

The bride, a picture of loveliness approached the altar in a gown of imported embroidered organza cut on simple flowing lines en train. Her only jewelry a string of pearls, a gift of the groom, and diamond earrings, an heirloom of the family. A finger tip illusion veil held in plale by a pearl tiarra. She carried an ivory prayer book in a nest of orchids, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lewis of Chicago.

The solemn marriage vows were read by Rev. H. B. Holmes, a Presbyterian minister. The bride was given in marriage by her godfather, James O. Brown.

The reception suite was a beautiful of tall white gladioli, delphineum, with garlands of gardenias with a background of white satin festoons and chiffon studded by tall white tapers, which formed a veritable flower garden for the altar, staircase, the dining table upon which rested the beautiful bridal cake and frappe punch service in carved ice and electrical effects.

Mrs. Parker, mother of the bride, was attractive in aqua crepe with gold accessories as did Mrs. Hall in gold lame wearing orchids.

Hostesses for the reception were Dr. Alice Garrott, Mmes. James O. Brown, Emma Holt, Emma Maloney, Leslie King, Lue Mayer, Margaret Moore, and Mrs. Bessie Henderson, aunt of the groom, Marilyn Hudson, Leontyne Russell, Stora Boswell, Evelyn Abbry, Misses Aline Watkins, Paulette Coleman, and Jean Garrott.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate are home after a short sojourn in Mexico and San Diego. In town for the nuptials was Mrs. Frankye Henderson of Chicago. The newlyweds will be at home to friends at 1135 So. Serrano.

Barland-Lisberg Nuptials Performed in Palatial All White Setting Sunday

When pretty Enola Barland of Chicago, recited vows with Charles Lisberg of Los Angeles Sunday, the bride was lovely in a suit of soft blue lace over faille styled in a fitted period jacket with a circular skirt. She carried a huge bouquet of roses.

The couple were married by Rev. Jonathan L. Caston in an early ceremony at the palatial home of the groom's sister, Mrs. George Cannady of South Arlington avenue, with close ffiends and relatives attending.

Accented against a background of white gladioli, delpheneums, and stock, the bride's sole attendant was Mrs. Hilda Allen, sister of the bridegroom. Adolf Lisberg, brother of the groom, attended him as best man.

Following the ceremony, hostesses, gowned in long dresses of rainbow colors, greeting more than 200 guests were Mmes. Jean Watkins, Rose King, Hortense Allen, Misses Norma Williams and Faye Hopkins. In the receiving line were Mmes. Libby Barland and Elizabeth Gilmer mother and aunt of the bride the groom's sister, Mrs. Hilda Allen, mother, Mrs. Camille Lisberg, sister, Mrs. Clara Dupre o New York, and Mrs. Beatrice Taylor, mother of Attorney George Cannady.

The wedding dinner followed the reception at the Howard Allen residence, where the brida couple slipped away on thei honeymoon at an undisclosed lo cation. The bride is a member o Delta Sigma Theta sorority and taught in the Chicago school system. The groom is associated with the Harvard Realty company of Los Angeles.

The Samuel Barnes' Entertain On Anniv.

On Tuesday evening, June 22, First Sergeant and Mrs. Samuel Geeter Barnes, retired, "wined and dined" a few of their friends with their traditional hospitality in their lovely home on West 36th Place. Welcomed into the coziness of the well-appointed living room by the host were the Alfred Luters, the William Tatums, the Dean Gauffs and the Benjamin Fields.

They were soon joined by the hostess, cordial and charming in a very becoming hostess gown of old rose crepe de chine. After the serving of cocktails, the guests were invited to find their places at the table which sparkled with "ye olde" Barnes silver, china and crystal.

After many hilarious congratulations and felicitations for many more years of wedded bliss, the happy guests reluctantly took a late leave, with this eventful evening pleasantly tucked away in the store of treasured memories. The lovely Mildred Moore and Rosetta Smith, Barnes protegees, assisted in making this celebration such a pleasant and successful one.

Anniv. Breakfast

The Silver Spurs Riding club was entertained with an anniversary breakfast at the home of their advisor, Mrs. Faustina Johnson. The breakfast was enjoyed tremendously by all. After the breakfast all members attended the Zion Hill Baptist church as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wright.

Twenty Men Club

The Twenty Men Social club held their regular meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hill, 4512 Ascot, with 16 members present. The next meeting will be held at 1323½ West Jefferson at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bush. Submitted by Lonnie Powell.

Santa Monica Les Uniques Hold Impressive 10th Anniv.

More than 200 guests attended the 10th anniversary celebration of the Les Uniques club Sunday, June 27 at the Alpha Bowling club. In the receiving line were officers of the club Hazel Tippins, Lela Brown, Mary Fields, Ruth Strawdes and Daisy Payne while other members acted as hostesses.

Dressed in pastel cotton formals the members made very lovely hostesses indeed. Quite apropos for the evening were the musical selections by Santa Monica's own Sherman D. Jones and Dave Weston. Just before the introduction of the founders, charter and present members gold compacts were presented to Aileen Lewis, founder, and Hazel Tippins, co-founder.

Lela Brown and Mary J. Holloway, charter members, were presented with lovely pure silk scarfs and each girl a letter beautifully expressing appreciation for 10 years of loyal service.

Beginning with a membership of seven in 1938 the club has presently grown to 15, two of which are honorary members and four of the original seven. This club has done outstanding work in civic, charitable, and art projects as well as social in the past years. Only recently they presented a check to Westview hospital.

Club Les Unique's climaxed their anniversary celebration with an after party with champagne and cutting of the anniversary cake at the home of honorary member, Roberta Worthy of West 37th street.

Officers and members of the club are Hazel Tippins, president and co-founder; Frances Gammage, vice-president; Amy Buckman, secretary; Elinor Williams, assistant secretary; Lela Brown, treasurer and charter member; Daisy Payne, business manager and mistress of ceremonies; Aileen Lewis, reporter and founder; Christine Moore, Kathrine Afner, Mary Fields, Ruth Strawder, Mary G. Holloway, charter member; Faye Simms, Ida Gordon and Roberta Worthy, honorary members.

Monalisa Bridge Hostess Feted in Housewarming

A surprise house warming was feted by the members of the Monalisa Girls' Bridge club honoring Mrs. D. D. Perry in her beautiful new home at 3720 W. 37th pl. Mrs. Perry was a grateful and surprised hostess.

Mrs. Ellen Brinson will soon return home from the East, where she is visiting parents and friends. Mrs. McCowan will return to the club after an unfortunate illness.

Visiting the club as guest was Mrs. Elizabeth Jones. Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Artis Mae Powell, Mrs. Vida Lee Walker, Miss Meluin Perry. The members enjoyed a tasty menu following the social hour.

Missouri School Teacher Feted by Friends on Visit

Mrs. Edith Rollins, a former school teacher of Springfield, Missouri has been visiting in the city for the past two weeks as the houseguest of Mrs. Mattie Wilson of 819½ East 28th street. She came to Los Angeles to attend the graduation exercises of her son Roland Cooper, who graduated from the University of Southern California recently.

Her visit here was made unusually pleasant by the meeting of so many of her old classmates as well as several of her former pupils, among whom was Mrs. Aulette Allen, wife of Dr. Clyde Allen, who entertained with a lovely breakfast in her honor. Other friends took her on interesting sightseeing trips.

En route home Mrs. Rollins will stop in other points of Northern California visiting relatives and friends.

Keep shoes on high shelves in the clothes closet. High shelves are drier and therefore safer against mildew than the floor or low shoe racks. Because damp air is heavy, it tends to settle along the floor and encourage mildew.

Durpree, a bridesmaid; Mrs. Maxine Thompson, mother of the groom; Mrs. Amelia Randolph, mother of the bride, and standing out tinily but beautifully, little Sonja Raatcliff, the flower girl.

THE BRIDE AND GROOM of the nuptials which united Eugene Thompson and Boston bred Martha Randolph are show with their flower girl, little Sonja Raatcliff, who is one of the prettiest of this season flower Misses. The happy couple, both of whom graduated from Dorsey High last June, are on a short honeymoon after which they will go to Boston to live. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Randolph of Boston will be house guests of the Thompson's until next week-end when they will leave for home with the newlyweds. A reception in the garden and patio at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, 3687 Second avenue, was tendered the guests and wedding party following the wedding last Sunday afternoon. Delicious roast turkey and succulent vegetables were served to the over one hundred guests present, including representatives of the California EAGLE.

SUMMER WEDDING—The high noon rites uniting Miss Maxine Clark and Mr. Paul M. Beck was performed in the gardens of the bride's parents Sunday, June 27. The bride chose a summer gown of eyelet pique and lace. —Hazel photo.

Puente Hostesses Make Plans For Summer Social

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Puente Hostesses was held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Varnado. Tentative plans were made for the summer social to be held in August.

Several members were pleased to get lovely gifts from their secret pals. The fortunate ones were: Wilma Dean, Eloise Ecott, Grance Williams, Mabel Troy, Margaret Varnado and Thelma Aldridge.

Following the business meeting a turkey dinner was served, and Mesdames Dorothy Bridgewater, Mary Smith and Thelma Aldridge were pleasantly surprised when the hostess came in bearing a huge birthday cake prepared in their honor and singing "Happy Birthday to You." The cake was beautifully decorated and contained the names of each honoree. The natal day of these three club members all appear in the same month.

After four changes of progressive bridge, prizes were awarded to Mesdames Thelma Aldridge, first; Ruth Beane, second; Myrthene Foreman, consolation; Mary Blackwell, roving; and Mrs. Sarah Raggett, who was the guest for the day.

Mrs. Grace Williams will be the hostess for the next meeting.

Raisin' Cain

By CARL L. CAIN

When we awaken on that morning not long from now, the guns will be blazing away at the enemy again; the sky will be cloudy with the dull sickly smoke of battle. On that morning, we shall all know that human beings have failed again—a third time—in their efforts to abolish war from the vocabulary of time. We shall have gone to battle again, to defeat the enemy, and to retain the peace. Actually, however, we shall not have known any real peace, but merely the lack of war. The men of countries which oppose each other will go out to lay down their lives for that precious thing called freedom.

But just what is freedom, when it costs a man his life to protect? One might ask which is more precious or dear, freedom or life itself. I know, to die for freedom . . . those who preach that such a death is an honor are the first to shrink when the actual battle comes or even when they are inducted into the service.

But just why is it impossible for the peoples throughout this world to live peacefully? We live by the same principles, bread, water, light, air, hunger, thirst, happiness and sorrow. Too, our fears and hatreds—that is, of all races, are similar. These fears and hates we harbor in our minds as citizens and individuals are the same as those of our leaders when they sit down at a conference table. Benjamin Franklin said, in effect, that wherever you assemble a group of men you also assemble their hatreds and fears. Except for some few cases, all the problems of the world—Palestine, the revolution in China and not long ago India—can be traced down to the hates and grudges we feel toward our own neighbor. You don't have to be a genius or a psycholigist or even a wit to figure that out. And at the present time, there's a great deal wrong with the world. We could jump to the conviction that Russia is in sole fault. But there is Palestine—and Russia is is not in any way connected with the troubles there. And we could go on to name China, Khorea, Indonesia, and many of our other so called trouble spots. When we get the problems of these countries straightened out, I assure you there will be others to take their places; to worry the minds of our politicians, who think they can build a stone house of peace from paper—paper documents and charters.

I've heard it said that all the problems, the joys, the components of our moral lives are caused by just two things—mind and emotion. Until the minds of our fellow neighbors of different countries condone peace and its benefits, there can be no peace. Until our minds are ready for peace there can be neither peace nor satisfaction from the threat of war.

Now war is the most stupid activity of mankind. We're sent out to kill people we haven't met before, although we do hate them . . . or should, in order to be patriotic. Yes, it's patriotic to hate the enemy in time of war, although you probably have never met anyone from his country. We kill them by the thousands in frantic efforts to conquer them and to establish peace and love and brotherhood. I haven't been able to understand, however, how it's possible to kill people one day and walk down the path of life in brotherly love and peace the next. The equation is not balanced.

There is hope, if we get to work today. We might be able to lay some foundation for a peace to be enjoyed by the next two or three generations. And then they'll fall into the same old channels as we have, and fight again. That is, if we haven't too completely destroyed ourselves and them, too.

So now you want to get down to the simplicity of the thing; just what can we do to start today . . . to build the peace? Well, it's awfully simple. We know the politicians and the leaders can't do it. We know, too, that the people can't do it without them, that they must have leadership and law and order. But 'they' aren't going to build the peace. You are. First of all I think it would be nice to go and apologize to that person you cursed out of fought with recently. Then try to get along with those 'awful' people 'in that house next door.' Invite them over once in a while, and don't bother to chop off a broom handle before you do. If they slap you on one cheek, don't try to see how well you can imitate Joe Louis in the eleventh round. Turn the other cheek. That might sound difficult, but I guarantee you'd feel much safer when you walked out your door at night.

It might be a good thing if a "good will' week were to be observed by all the peoples throughout the world—a week in which nobody argued or swore or fought. If it were really successful—for even a day—we would have accomplished more than the League of Nations, the Kellog-Birand Pact, or the United Nations. We would have accomplished far more than what is written in hundreds of charters—words that we really meant to observe and formulate.

If you can live peacefully with the people on your street and in your neighborhood, go for one week without arguing with someone, smile when you're insulted and turn the other cheek whe you're slapped, then you can understand why I say peace is the cheapest thing men can buy.

Piano Students Demonstration

The parents and friends of 23 young representatives of the Dovie Steward's Childrens' Piano School were out in full force Sunday afternoon for a most enjoyable second annual Summer demonstration of the school. The unique affair was again on the lawn of the Church of Christian Fellowship, W. Adams at Second Ave.

Last year three year olds were advanced to playing tuneful pieces but their successors, Robert and Steven Green, James Long, Janice Peevy, and Linda Venerable all but stole the show in showing their hand position, ear work and rhythmic exercises. Other beginners, Paula Mitchell, Mary Francis Dorsey, Tri Nu Washington, Brenda Peevy and Brenda Saxon played their first pieces as did last years baby beginners, Dorothy Kimble, Delbert Venerable, Joyce Simpson, Elaine Stewart, Duke Monday and Douglas Sides.

Special interest was taken in the demonstrations of ear work, including identifying single tones, intervals and chords by Leslie Gail Bellamy. Ruel Chester, Jermone Lemons, Douglas Sides, Joyce Simpson, and Delbert Venerable, who also demonstrated rhythmic exercises discribing note values, walking and beating time and walking pieces rythmically. These pupils and Laura Clifford, Gloria Jean Palms, Alita Simpson and Sadie Marie Copeland played more advanced pieces.

Mrs. Steward awarded six "certificates of accomplishment" to pupils for completing specified work during the year. She was later surprised by the children's mothers with a token of appreciation and a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Lemmons, 1280 W. Jefferson.

LINCOLN U. STUDENT TO SING at National Music Festival—Barbara Griggs, graduating senior of Lincoln University (Mo.) of St. Louis, who placed first in the recent annual Search-for-Talent contest at the University, is being congratulated by Dr. O. Anderson Fuller, head of the department and professor of music. Miss Griggs will sing in the national finals in Chicago July 11. The event is sponsored by the American Musical Festival, Inc., of Chicago. The second place winner (who reversed positions with Miss Griggs as of last year), Mai Olive Prather, looks on.

Mrs. Toles Appointed Summer Co-Ordinator in Area Four

Mrs. Lavinia J. Toles has been appointed to work from the Woodlawn Branch YWCA under the direction of Miss Matred McKissick, executive secretary of the branch, as co-ordinator of the recreational program on the city school playgrounds in Area IV.

Mrs. Toles comes from Indianapolis, Ind., where she attended Butler and Indiana universities for social service training and did work as a special English student. For 12 years she was employed as a social worker in the department of social service of the city schools there and has also been active in church, YWCA, parent-teacher groups and other civic organizations.

The following Los Angeles city school playgrounds in Area IV are already opened and conducting a full-time daily program: Ascot, 1449 E. 45th st., hours: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Carver, Vernon and McKinley, hours: 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

All playgrounds will be open each Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Besides sports, the playgrounds will feature such activities as handicrafts, moving pictures, dramatics, story telling, folk dancing, tennis, singing, woodcarving, swimming, safety clubs for boys, camping and trips. Some trips will include going to Kellog Ranch and Cabrilla Beach.

At the Main Street school, Mr. Altman, who is in charge, will have an evening class in crafts for adults, beginning Wednesday evening, June 30, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. All instructions are free and those attending will only pay for whatever material is actually used.

135 Boys Go To Y Camp, July 15

The 28th Street Y. M. C. A. will take 135 boys to camp "Big Pines" July 15 for eight days of fun and fellowship. The campers range in age from 6 to 18 years.

"Big Pines" is located 115 miles from Los Angeles, 7,000 feet up in the San Bernardino mountains. This lovely camp site, nestling among the big trees along Jackson Lake, offers some of the finest camping facilities in Southern California. Included in the camp program are: swimming instruction, nature craft, nature lore, hiking, horseback riding, over-night trips, archery and outdoor games.

Trained counselors, a nurse and instructors are in charge of the boys twenty-four hours a day, while a doctor is available every hour. Plenty of wholesome food is provided in a modern dining lodge, and there are comfortable cabins, a well equipped infirmary and adequate modern sanitary facilities.

The camping period is July 15 to July 22—eight days of complete camping. The cost to the camper is modest, and includes transportation on big modern busses.

Miss Smith, YWCA Counselor Resigns

Miss Celesine Smith, director of Individual Services and Counseling in the YWCA Woodlawn Branch, will end work there early in August to further her preparation in the field of clinical psychology.

Prior to joining the Woodlawn staff, Miss Smith was a member of the National YWCA's Student Council staff and in this capacity had twidely raveled in Europe, Africa and Asia. Her present interest is in the psychological and religious growth problems of the modern woman.

She holds a M.A. degree from Teacher's College, Columbia University, and the Certificate in Social Work from the University of Southern California. Her immediate objective is to complete requirements for membership in the American Psychological Association and the Rorschach Institute. To this end she will continue study at the Claremont Colleges.

Miss Smith's native home is Macon, Georgia, and Talladega College in Alabama is her undergraduate college. She was one of the American delegation of YWCA staff members who attended the World's YWCA Leadership oCnference in Geneva, Switzerland, in August, 1934.

During 1934-35, Miss Smith served with two British YWCA staff members in helping to establish the now thriving YWCA in Lagos, Nigeria, West Coast of Africa.

In the fall of 1938 she was one of the 45 delegates chosen by the Churches of the United States and Canada to attend the meeting of the World Council of Churches held at Madras, India.

As National Student Secretary of the YWCA for twelve years, Miss Smith worked with 152 colleges both Negro and white in the southern and southwestern regions in program building and carrying out the Purpose of the Young Women's Christian Association on local college campuses. She came to California in 1941 and was a student at the University of Southern California, School of Social Work, prior to accepting her position as counselor at the Woodlawn Branch in September, 1942.

Carpe Deim Club Redletter Day

SAN FRANCISCO — Sunday June 27 was a redletter day in the life of the CARPE DEIM: that bevy of young matrons and maids, who are noted for their work for the betterment of the community.

Their inter-racial concept is seen in the presentation of the scholarship awards: There were (3) three. Miss Doris Joan Ward, Joan Williams, both graduates from the Girls High School. Miss Marie Sakamaki (Japanese) graduate of Commerce High School. The guest speaker was Dr. F. D. Patterson, President of Tuskgee Institute, better known as the Booker T. Washington Institute, Alabama. Dr. Patterson gave a resume of the life activities of the noted educator, and his tactful approach to better relationship through understanding, between the Negros and whites of the South.

There was a vocal sole by Miss Savanna Tolden, who is the winner of the Cooper Zion scholarship award, also a solo by Mr. John Hawker, who recently won an audition in radio. The invocation was made by Rev. Miss Jonnie Young.

Mrs. Helen Shands, in her inimitable gracious manner presented the speaker. Madames Laura Scott and M. Love accompanied the singer. Olga Lee presented the awards, and hoped that the recipients would not stop but go further in search for a higher education. The Scholarship Committee was composed of Eunice Gates, program chairman, Olga Lee, committee, chairman, Jane R. Bosfield; Mabel Hall; Wilougby McCovey. The Carpe Diems are doing a work of which San Francisco is produ. We noticed Miss Abernathy, one of the members who has position with the Board of Education. She is an active worker in the field of education.

Human law is right only as it patterns the divine. Consolation and peace are based on the enlightened sense of God's government.—Mary Baker Eddy

WINS SCHOLARSHIP—Little Miss Maxine White, aged 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McClellan Weise, received first prize from the Wade and Green Studio for selling the most patron tickets to a musical recital held at Trinity Baptist Church.

No Fireworks, Kids!

City ordinances outlawing fireworks have been passed, not to disappoint youngsters on the Fourth of July, but to protect them. For years the holiday had produced a long list of maimed children, each gritting his teeth in pain. To prevent this needless suffering and to stop the numerous fires which inevitably result from the use of fireworks, laws prohibiting the possession, use, or sale of all fireworks within the city are being rigidly enforced.

YWCA Given Stove

The Business and Professional Women's League of the Woodlawn Branch Young Women's Christian Association donated a beautiful six-burner, two-oven gas range to the association before adjourning for the summer.

Miss Matred McKissick, committee of management, staff and guests in the residence wish to publicly thank all the members of this club for their very generous gift which will serve to great advantage for many years.

Youth Service Summer Camps

The Los Angeles Board of Education is sponsoring a summer camp in conjunction with the Youth Service Activities. Mr. Bell, who is the Supervisor of Youth Activities has secured the services of Mr. Lansdowne, Mr. Gleaver, Mr. Holden, and Mr. Mackey, all employes of the Board of Education, to act as counselors for the camp.

The camp is called "The Pines" and is located on the Angeles Crest Road 9 miles north of La Canada.

There will be seven camp periods of four days each beginning July 7 and ending August 4th.

The camp fee is $1.00 per period. This money will be used to supply fresh milk in camp. All other food must be provided by each boy who goes to camp. An itemized list of needed food will accompany each application blank.

The camp will operate under the most efficient sanitary conditions, and swimming will take place under the supervision of an experienced life guard.

The camp is for boys only, and what a time they will have, in swimming, hiking and every thing that goes with a fine mountain camp.

Phone LO. 82227 for information or call at Mackey's Ranch Market, 103rd St. at Compton.

Boy Scout Camp In Florida

PAOLI, Fla. — Camp Howard at Paoli, Fla., west of Sanford, was dedicated recently for Negro boys in the Boy Scout movement.

The 105-acre site was purchase by William E. Howard, retired New York businessman and the late Joshua Coffin Chase, citrus grower and shipper of Sanford, Fla.

Mr. Howard is a member of the Section on Negro Work of the Boy Scouts' National Committee on Interracial Service. His winter home is near Sanford.

The late Mr. Chase was born in Germantown, Pa. 90 years ago and spent more than half a century in the citrus business in Florida. He helped to obtain the site of Memorial Park in Jacksonville and was a Director of the Children's Home Society in Florida. The Central Florida Council of the Boys Scouts presented to him the Silver Beaver Award "for distinguished service to boyhood."

Dr. C. L. Eccleston, Negro dentist, who contributed much to the new camp, presided at the dedication exercises. He is the Council's Divisional Chairman. The Council's first Negro Troop was organized in June 1936 with 12 Scouts. Today there are 705 Negro boys enrolled in 35 Troops, 3 Cub Packs and 2 Senior Units. This progress is attributed to the work of the 300 Negro adult volunteer leaders in the Council.

Parents' Night Exhibition at Y

The 28th Street YMCA physical department held its first parents' night in quite a few years in the gymnasium and swimming pool.

The program was divided into two parts, exhibitions in the gym and in the swimming pool. In the gymnasium the boys played paddle tennis, volleyball, basketball, did some body-building exercises and finally they worked on the flying rings and the side horse. In the swimming pool they gave demonstrations in all types of swimming strokes, and al lof the different dives on the one-meter diving board. Their part of the program was concluded with some swimming races.

The final part of the program was the demonstration of life-saving and water safety put on by the swimming instructors. They made rescuse in the water look simple and easy. They eased the minds of some doubtful parent sin the audience that their sons might not be well protected while swimming in our pool.

The physical department is planning a summer basketball league to be held in the "Y" gym. Any teams interested in playing ball contact C. V. Horne at the 28th Street "Y". We are planning on getting under way not later than he second week in July. Only four teams will be admitted. First come are in.

Register for Camp

Registration is still open for youngsters between the ages of 6 and 12 at he Soto Michigan Jewish Communiy Center for the home summer camp program.

George Adler has been appointed director of the camp and will be in charge of an excellent staff of counselors composed of college students who will receive special preparation at a training course, sponsored by the Jewish Center Association.

Special trips, arts and crafts, swimming and sports will be featured in the seven week program which begins July 6th.

Learn to Swim

Boys and girls of this area who have not as yet taken advantage of the free Red Cross "Learn to Swim" lessons offered at nearby pools and plunges are urged to enroll when the new series of classes get underway.

More than one million new milk cans are required annually by the United States dairy industry.

☆ ☆ THE REALM OF RELIGION ☆ ☆

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. IKE EVANS, D.D.

Subject: Micaiah, a Prophet of Israel, Lesson Text and Outline. 1. Kings 22:5-9, 13-18, 26-28. Motto Text 1. Kings 22:14.

Introduction

Ahab, king of Israel, planned an expedition to recover the city of Ramoth in Gilead from Syria. He asked Jehoshaphat, king of Judah, to join him. To gratify royal ambition, the court prophets predicted the success of the campaign. When Micaiah was called upon to concur in a favorable forecast, he had the courage to speak the truth as Jehovah revealed it unto him. And his word came true, because it was the word of God.

Comments

1. Whithersoever a good man goes he desires to take God along with him, and will acknowledge him in all his ways, ask leave of him, and look up to him for success. Whithersoever a good man goes he ought to take his religion along with him, and not be ashamed to own it, no, not when he is with those who have no kindness for it. Jehoshaphat has not left behind him, at Jerusalem, his affection, his veneration, for the word of the Lord, but both avows it and endeavors to introduce it into Ahab's court. If Ahab drew him his devotions. Those are wretchedly hardened in sin, and are ripening apace for ruin, who hate God's ministers because they deal plainly with them and faithfully warn them of their misery and danger by reason of sin, and reckon those their enemies that tell them the truth.

2. Those that dote upon worldly things themselves think everybody else should do so too, and true or false, right or wrong, speak and act for their secular interest only. He intimated likewise that it would be to no purpose to contradict such a numerous and unanimous vote; he would be ridiculed, as affecting a foolish singularity, if he should. But Micaiah, who knows better things, protests, and backs his protestations with an oath, that he will deliver his message from God with all the faithfulness, whether it be pleasing or displeasing to his prince. Ministers should speak what the Lord tells them to say, without addition, diminution or alteration. This was nobly resolved, and as became one who had his eye to a greater King than either of these, arrayed with brighter robes, and sitting on higher throne. Those deserve to be bantered that love to be flattered; and it is just with God to give up those to their own counsels that give up themselves to their own lust. Those that bear malice to others are generally willing to believe that others bear malice to them, although they have no cause for it, and therefore to put the worst constructions upon all they say. What evil did Micaiah prophesy to Ahab in telling him that, if he proceeded in this expedition, it would be fatal to him, while he might choose whether he would proceed in it or no? The greatest Kindness we can do to one that is going in a dangerous way, is to tell him of his danger.

3. Those that will not have their mistakes rectified in time by the word of God will be undeceived, when it is too late, by the judgments of God. Ahab, that wicked king, committed him to prison, not only ordered him to be taken into custody, or remitted to the prison whence he came, but to be fed with bread and water, coarse bread and puddle-water, till he should return, not doubting but that he should return, not doubting but that he should return a conqueror, and then he would put him to death for a false prophet, hard usage for one that would have prevented his ruin! But by this it appeared that God had determined to destroy him.

He doubts not but he shall return in peace, forgetting what he himself had reminded Benhadad of, let not him that girdeth on the harness boast; but there was little likelihood of his coming home in peace when he left one of God's prophets behind him in prison. Micaiah put it upon the issue, and called all the people to be witnesses that he did so: "If thou return in peace, the Lord has not spoken by me. Let me incur the reproach and punishment of a false prophet, if the king come home alive." He ran no hazard by this appeal, for he knew whom he had believed; he that is terrible to the kings of the earth, and treads upon princes as mortar, will rather let thousands of them fall to the ground than one jot or title of his own word; he will not fail to confirm the word of his servants.

Comment on the Motto Text

Clearness in revelation of the truth is assured. God's will may be known. But he speaks only to the inquiring heart. And he says exactly what he wishes known and done. Who can mistake his meaning? Conviction in acceptance of the truth should be felt by every recipient of it. The truth is vital but vitalizes only those who hold it with ardor. It can become effective and powerful through no one who thinks lightly of it, discounts it, or disregards it. May we hold it in our heart of hearts! Courage in the declaration of truth is often required. Those directly affected by it may be hostile. The word may be cloddand indifferent, yet the truth needs to be spoken. Let the man of courage open his mouth and speak.

LILLIE BALLANSAW overwhelmed the audience at the Embassy auditorium last week when she appeared as soloist and was crowned queen in the sacred cantata "Daniel." She will appear in a return engegement in the city and at Bakersfield. She is also a soloist on the Echoes of Eden broadcast and director of the Golden Bell Singers, her own group.

6th Conv. Union Usher Board in Ind. Church

Carrying out its theme "service" the Union Usher Board representing churches throughout California, held their sixth annual convention last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 23, 24 and 25, at the People's Independent Church of Christ. It was one of the most successful of any since the idea of bringing together ushers from churches of all denominations was originated. It was organized in 1941 by Mrs. C. K. McAlpin, its first president.

Two of its officers appeared on a radio program on the Sunday morning preceding the conference, and each morning, afternoon, and evening session was characterized by important transactions and variety of entertainment. Among the important speakers and artists presented during the meet were the Rev. J. B. Isaacs, Dr. F. Robinson, the Usher Board Drill Corps, the president's address by Pauline James, Chaplain Stephen Browder, Rev. Clayton D. Russel, the Union Usher Board Chorus.

Also Dr. John L. Branham, the Alexander Family Trio, the Happy Travelers and others. On Wednesday evening, substituting for James L. Erwing Jr. in an address, "The Church and the Press," Harry Levette told of the necessarily close relationship between the two, lauded the cooperative Christian spirit that kept them working together, and wound up with Paul Lawerence Dunbar's immortal poem, "The Warrior's Prayer."

Independent Club To Sponsor Noted Corbenettes

The "Corbenettes," a choral group of young ladies will make an appearance Sunday evening, June 11, at 6:30 p.m., at the People's Independent Church of Christ, located at 1025 E. 18th St.

This concert is sponsored by the "Good Deed Club," an active organization of that church.

The "Corbenettes" are directed by Mrs. Helen M. Corbett, and was organized three years ago to sing Christmas carols in the hospitals, and homes for the aged of Racine, Wisconsin.

The club members, along with their president, Mrs. Octavia Matthews, extend a cordial welcome to all music lovers.

Last Rites Held for Rev. Edward Barrow

Last rites for the Rev. Edward Barrow, assistant pastor at the L. L. Beavers Spiritualist Temple, were held at the temple on June 25 with Rev. Luella L. Beavers officiating. Conner-Johnson directed interment in the Veterans Administration in Sawtelle.

Rev. Mr. Barrow lived at 804 E. 42nd pl. and was 50 years of age. He was also head elevator starter at Milliron's. His death came on June 21 at the Veterans Administration in Sawelle.

The deceased, a veteran of World War I, was a member of the St. John Masonic Lodge, Elks, Pythians and American Woodmen.

Voice of Victory to Feature Popular Victory Trio Sun.

Plan to spend another day in Victory. Victory Baptist church, 48th and McKinley, has planned another day-long program designed to please the ears and the hearts of those who attend their services, on this next Sunday. At 11 a. m., Rev. Arthur A. Peters, pastor, will deliver a special sermon in the lovely physical setting of the church building, and in a heart-warming setting of beautiful music rendered by the choir. In the evening at 7:30, communion services will be held, followed at 9:30 by the now familiar Sunday evening broadcast, The Voice of Victory, over KGFJ, 1230 on your dial. The broadcast will feature the popular Victory Trio, whose renditions have occasioned many congratulatory remarsk in the past. The audience at the broadcast will be further treated to a special service after the Voice of Victory goes off the air at 10. At that time, the Victory Trio will render a service for the enjoyment of all who wish to remain.

Victory Baptist church is grateful for the many plaudits received from listeners concerning the Voice of Victory broadcast. The letters, telephone calls and wires continue to bring to the church the assurance that the broadcast has not only a large listening and studio audience, but also an appreciative audience. The church takes this means of thanking those who have sent in messages, and of pledging that every effort will be devoted toward constant improvement. Each week when the Voice of Victory comes over the air, you are invited to attend the broadcast in person, many have accepted this invitation; or to let the voices of the artists and speakers come into your homes, bringing to you the spiritual feast that has been prepared to please you.

Minister Passes, Leaves Mourning Relatives, Friends

Rev. Edward Bishop Barrow, departed this life June 22, at 3:30 a.m., for a short illness.

Rev. Barrow filled his duties as a minister with dignity and did all he could for humanity. He was a faithful and loving husband, and he leaves to mourn his passing a faithful and devoted wife, Mrs. Margaret Barrow, and daughter, Mrs. Blanch Brown; two sisters, Mrs. Lucille Bufford, and Mrs. Corrine Patterson; one brother, Mr. Gus N. Barrow, several nieces and nephews and a host of friends.

They want to thank their many friends for the beautiful expressions tendered them during their bereavement.

We loved you, dear husband and brother,
But Jesus loved you best.
Sleep on. Sleep on.
And take your rest.

Funeral Rites Held For Local Businessman

Funeral services were held for Jesse R. Johnson of 2720 Glassell Street at the Angelus Funeral Home Saturday morning at 10, with Rev. H. B. Hawes, pastor of the Westminister Presbyterian church officiating.

Mr. Johnson was a native of New York but he came to Los Angeles in 1911 with his family to establish residence and later went into business in which he remained active to the end.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Emily Johnson, a son, Dr. Harry R. Johnson, and a grandson, Nolan Johnson, and a host of friends who will always remember a life beautifully lived.

Educational Tour

An educational tour, originated by Mrs. S. L. Coleman, was sponsored recently by the Community Baptist Church and the Calvary Methodist Church. It included Forest Lawn, Huntington Library, the Garden of Gethsemane, and Angelus Temple.

Rev. Gipson Returns Homecoming Service

The Rev. M. J. Gipson, pastor of St. James Baptist church, E. 40th pl. and Naomi ave., for the past four years, has returned from an extensive trip to Kansas City, Mo., Chicago and Detroit, where he visited friends.

While in Detroit he was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. E. Keiglar, formerly of Los Angeles. Rev. Gipson preached at both the morning and evening services of Our Father Baptist church while in Detroit.

Rev. Gipson attended the graduation of his son, John Gipson, at Howard university, Washington, D. C. John will be remembered as the only man to be an officer in both branches of the United States army at the same time, and one of the 27 listed in the "Who's Who" yearbook published by universities and colleges.

In New York City, Rev. Gipson was the guest of Rev. O. C. Maxwell and Rev. T. S. Martin, putting up at the beautiful Teresa hotel. He made stops on his return trip at Denver and Salt Lake City.

Rev. Gipson was gone five weeks. Homecoming services will be held Sunday, July 4, when the choir will sing special music, and Rev. Gipson will preach a special sermon at the 11 a.m. service.

"Unsurpassed Service Through The Years"

HUNDREDS HAVE SAID, as time has passed, that the ceremony we conducted was one of correct appointment, and that our personal assistance was with a spirit of sincere helpfulness.

SUCH PUBLIC CONFIDENCE is not won by words. Actions are the only reliable symptoms of sympathetic sincerity. And that is what you get in a CONNER-JOHNSON service, whether it is one of utmost simplicity, or the most elaborate.

Consult us about our recommended pre-payment plan of funeral expenses, with no obligation. It costs only a few cents a day.

7th Day Adventist Camp Meet July 8-18

George E. Vandeman, brilliant Washington, D. C. evangelist, will head an array of denominational leaders who will speak July 9 to 18 at the annual camp meeting sponsored by the Southern California Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

G. N. Banks, missionary from Africa, will be heard at a special meeting Thursday night, July 8, before the regular camping session begins.

A crew of workers already has started erecting 600 tents on the Lynwood Academy campus. These will house 3,000 campers but peak attendance on weekends is expected to be 12,000.

Most of the campers will prepare their own meals, but thousands of visitors will eat at he large academy cafeteria. Special police details, sanitation and fire prevention services will be set up to safeguard the tent city. Principal meetings will be held in a huge permanent auditorium but other meetings will take place in tents and academy buildings. Displays for educational, publishing and medical departments of the denomination are planned for public inspection. The program includes daily youth meetings for children of all ages, and services in Spanish, Japanese and German for foreign groups.

Although the denomination sponsors scores of similar camp meetings throughout America during summer months, the Lynwood encampment surpasses most others in the number of persons it attracts.

David Voth is the conference president. There are 58 Seventh Day Adventist churches in the Los Angeles area.

Services For John A. Kelley Held Last Week

James Alfred Kelley, son of the late John H. Kelley and Ida C. B. Kelley of Columbia, Mo., passed away suddenly last week from a heart attack. Mr. Kelley was the husband of Mrs. Kathryn Kelley, the father of James Preston Kelley and Rosa Lee Kelley, who is a student at Los Angeles City College. The brother of Mrs. Exie Lee Hampton, executive director of the Eastside Settlement House, Mrs. Anna Washington of Kansas City, Mo., and Preston W. Kelley, chemist and pharmacist, of Chicago.

JAMES A. KELLEY

Funeral services were held at the Trinity Baptist church, Rev. J. L. Caston, pastor. He was a member of the deacon board of Triinty Baptist church, where he had bee na member since 1938, when he moved to Los Angeles from Columbia, Mo., with his family. The eulogy was delivered by Rev. J. L. Caston, remarks by Rev. E. S. Redd, who had been neighbor, friend and pastor of the Kelley family in Columbia.

The Trinity deacons were pallbearers and members of both choirs furnished the music. Mrs. J. L. Caston and Mr. Bennie Foster sang solos. The beautiful flowers and messages of condolence were numerous. His brother, Preston W. Kelley of Chicago, and sister, Mrs. Anna Washington of Kansas City, Mo., came for the funeral. His mother, Mrs. Ida C. B. Kelley, was unable to make the trip here. The W. D. Fisher Mortuary was in charge of the arrangements and Mr. Kelley's body was interred in Rosedale Cemetery.

Patriotism is a blind and irrational impulse unless it is founded on a knowledge of the blessings we are called to secure and the privileges we propose to defend. —Robert Hall

500 Ministers Advocate Refusal to Register for Draft

NEW YORK—Three hundred Christian ministers and leaders have signed "A Letter to American Christians of Draft Age" advocating that on Christian grounds they should break with war and stating, "We believe breaking with war means refusal to enlist in the armed forces; withdrawal from armed forces for those now in them; refusal to register or render any service under a conscription act."

This information was given to the press jointly by Allan Knight Chalmers, D.D., until recently minister of the Broadway Tabernacle, New York, and now professor in the Boston University School of Theology, and A. J. Muste, Presbyterian minister and National Secretary of the Fellowship of Reconciliation.

The letter further advocated that "the girl friends, sisers, mothers, fathers, Christian ministers and fellow-church members of these young men should support them openly and so far as possible identify themselves with them." It asserts that "political and military leaders will not have the incentive to abandon war as a 'last resort' so long as they know that in the show-down they can depend upon the youth of the nation to subscribe to conscription again. The effect is that war (now camouflaged as 'cold'(remains the first and only resort of national policy."

It is anticipated that a conference to promote the non-registration movement will be held in the very near future.

The signers of the letter include:

A. D. Beittel, president Talladega College, Alabama; Allan A. Hunter, Mt. Hollywood Congregational Church, Los Angeles, Calif.; George Lyman Paine, Episcopal minister and Board of Directors, NAACP, Boston, Mass.; Wendell L. Miller, University Methodist Church, Los Angeles, Calif., and Paul B. Studebaker, Church of the Brethren, Modesto, Calif.

Discerning the rights of man, we cannot fail to foresee the doom of all oppression. Slavery is not the legitimate state of man. God made man free.

Sweet Chariot Hour Bows Off for Summer

The Sweet Chariot Hour, after six years of continuous weekly broadcasting, bowed off the air for the summer last Saturday evening with a program featuring traditional Negro spirituals by a 100-voice choir and an interview of Miss Rose Benson, native West African. Over 1200 persons crowded into the St. Paul Baptist church in southeast Los Angeles to witness the season's final broadcast.

After an eight-week layoff, the Sweet Chariot Hour in a reorganized form is scheduled to return to the air September 4, on its usual Saturday evening spot on station KXLA. The program will continue to originate from the Sunset Avenue church in Pasadena with the possibility that once a month the program will originate at the Wadsworth church in Los Angeles.

Christian Science Lesson Topic 'God'

The Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "God" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, is from Exodus: "I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me."

In his Sermon on the Mount, as recorded by Matthew, Jesus counsels, "When thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.... Use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask Him."

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "The Father in secret is unseen to the physical senses but He knows all things and rewards according to motives, not according to speech." "God is not moved by the breath of praise to do more than He has already done nor can the infinite do less than bestow all good, since He is unchanging wisdom and Love."

Mrs. Nash Resigns as Organist of 2nd Baptist

LUVENIE NASH FREEZE

Los Angeles and the members of the Second Baptist Church at 24th St. and Griffith Ave. bemoan the loss of Mrs. Luvenia Nash Freeze, as organist. Mrs. Nash tendered her resignation in May to become effective July 1st, today.

"For the past 28 yrs. members and visitors of the Second Baptist Church have been enchanted by the celestial and soul stirring music of Mrs. Nash, and her resignation is like the passing of a great artist," said a member of long standing in the church. "The worst loss to the church since the passing of Rev. Griffith."

Mrs. Luvenia Nash is an internationally known artist, and one of America's outstanding organists, choral directors, and piano accompanists. She leaves with profound respect and best wishes of both members and friends of the church.

Men well governed should seek after no other liberty, for there can be no greater liberty than a good government.

DOIN THE TOWN WITH G. G.

Folk's still ravin bout the Brown (Soc. ED.) Beavers wedding Sunday last. The couple said their "I Do's" before a capacity filled church with the Rev. Henderson officiating. Prettiest wedding I've seen in an awful long time, really done up on a big time scale with everything well organized. Here's loads of happiness to two great people . . . The Arthur Mitchell's (he's the Doc.) will soon be FOUR, they are expecting their addition sometime in October . . . Can't think of enough good things to say about Juanita Mills. She's the masseuse over at the Johnson Bath House, when Juanita gets through with you, you're so relaxed you need never look at another sleeping tablet! . . . (it just comes naturally) . . . ask who knows, like Ruth Washington, Anita Brown, Dorothy Dandridge, Ruth Mills, Elaine Bates and oodles of others. . . . The Bill Jones have agreed to disagree. Wife Mable (Scott) will receive her final papers in Las Vegas sometime this week . . . June Anderson is back home with mother, say's she's through with that Detroit sportsman. . . .Hera Evans, refreshing as a cool summer breeze, in an all white eye-catching attire, sippin cocktails the other A. M. . . . Can't decide whether I like any of the other numbers that the Paul Gayton Trio do, but I'M wild about "Hey Little Girl" . . . Pugilist Hal Dade and spouse taking in a few of the spots on the Ave the other even'g. . . . Pretties: Angelle DeLavalade, Dorothy Dandridge and Jerry Nicholas back from their trip east, still talking about all the fun they've had . . . If I ever have photographer Joseph Mathews take another picture for me, I hope somthing as big and ugly like Harry Mitchell comes up and bites me . . . Understand that the Tea sponsored by the Handicapped Good Samaritan Sun. last was quite a success, and founder Anita Brown wish to thank all who helped in any way to make the Tea a success . . . Attractive Rose Jones planning a vacation tour through "Russia" around the middle of October. All of her important papers and documents are signed and she's all set to go . . . as long as her mother continues to improve.

NOTES, NEWS AND NONSENSE

Our Sis Lillian, who flew to see the Louis-Walcott fight, called to tell us that the big city is really jumping, with folks like Count Basie, Monty Hawley, Sneeks and Amiel, Horace Clark, Betty Wilson, Janet Reese, all invading the place . . . she insists she'll make a quick trip to make it home for Monday, the 5th of July, to help me celebrtte my birthday(But I know my sis). At any rate I'll be celebrating! . . . Letter from Lil Randolph. "Having a wonderful time in Alaska," on her vacation . . . Turner says: "Men complain of their luck, their memory, their fate and their wives; but did you ever hear one complain of his judgement?" . . . The well known professional man that's trying to break every girl's heart he can reach is gonna be off'ly sorreee . . . My favorite mixiologist of any place is Bill Porter, why? because he really knows how to make a Gertifinn . . . Pretty Betty Scott, back in bed ill again, but we know Betty she'll not let it keep her down! She's got one of the greatest fighters in her corner, "YOUTH"! (Can you think of anything better?) . . . Roy Milton and his groovy band closing out a very successful engagement at the Congo Club . . . And oh brother! rid Roy strike something when he signed youthful Johnny Rogers as guitar player with the band! The boy is great! and believe me that's putting it mild. When he plays "Guitar Boogie" he naturally rocks the joint. He's headed for success . . . The only all sepia owned nite club in N. York "Club Ebony" threatening to close in spite of capacity crowds nitely, doesn't seem to make sense (but then, whot does now days?) . . . Cute and petite Joyce Evans says: "Keep the eyes wide open before marriage and half shut afterwards" . . . There's no doubt about Bill Gaither (he's with the Milton crew). Blows enough sax to hold down a seat with ANY band. . . . When cute Marie Lane gets real, real maaaad, she pulls her hair, stomps her tootsies and screams, oh quit it!!!! . . . Emily Foster with her pounds of personality, back at the Last Word with the blues singing of Joe Turner . . . Gladys Wiggins (so they say) came out winner! After all, she's cried her heart down 35 pounds, and looks better than ever ! ! . . . Our modiste Janet LaStrapes to take a quick vacation to the Bay City, and to work on her plans for a mammoth style show to be presented soon . . . Harriet Wadely looking stunning Sunday afternoon and telling us (with all smiles) about her infanticapting around Santa Clause time . . . Because evrybody's tryin to do the number the repetition of Nature Boy, will soon be Nature Bore . . . Next time you see Joe Shipp tell him to smile for you and watch his pretty dimples show up . . . The band of C. L. Burke moves into the band stand at the Club Congo with the type of music you'll enjoy dancing by . . . Rose Wharton, Congo cashier attracting all eyes as she pecked at that cash register with one of those REAL REAL "air-conditioned" dresses the other A. M. . . . I always get so mixed up whenever I see the handsome Charles Reeves, I keep thinking he's Tyrone Power in technicolor . . . Matthew Thompson and his partner Joe Shipp (mentioned in an earlier paragraph) should be all set for their gala Cocktail Lounge opening any day now . . . Harry Bigelow is doing okay as T-Bone Walker's Road Manager . . . Eric Simms says he likes my column. That's a good deal 'cause we like his bass playing! . . . Call out the F.B. Eyes! Ralph Weaver, the dance star, found a beautiful ear ring in his car the other day and wants the owner to identify and claim it. The ear ring is at the EAGLE office . . . And with that we leave you with this: "Never think you're important. There are a hundred and twenty million people who don't even know you exist!"

Will M.C. Show Featuring Famed Be-Bop Trumpeter

Ask any niteclub goer or radio listener in the L. A. area about radio announcers or M.C.'s and it's a good bet that he'll name Joe Adams, who will appear nitely in person for a limited engagement only at Paul Rubin's Cricket club with the famed Dizzy Gillespie orchestra. Diz and Joe open on the night of July 26. Dizzy will play trumpet and dispense with some of the hottest jazz, Be-Bop and swing heard around this neck of the woods. It's hard to tell just what versatile Joe Adams will do. The guy can sing. He's truly the greatest master of ceremonies in the world if you happen not to like Willie Bryant.

Whether Joe plays the piano, sings a few songs, tells a couple of jokes or just make with the announcement of the featured acts, you may rest assured it will be done in the same clean-cut manner and style that has pushed Joe up the top of the radio-announcing ladder of success.

Mr. Adams doesn't resort to smutty jokes or filth, as so many other M.C.'s do, to garner applause from his audience. He's as smooth as the underside of a butterfly's wing.

He is being loaned to the Cricket club by special permission of the owners of radio station KOWL, in Santa Monica, over whose station Joe Adams' "Mayor of Melody" show is a daily feature from 12:00 noon to 1 p.m.

Mr. Rubin, who has always been for the progressive type of entertainment, slipped badly during his last show with an M.C. whose alleged witticisms and jokes belonged in a prairie outhouse. He'll hit the jack-pot, and rates an orchid for signing Mrs. Adams' little boy Joe up to handle the M.C. chores for the Dizzy Gillespie show. And whatever Joe does while he's out on the floor, you can bet your bottom buck it'll be clean entertainment!

Because Joe's a clean guy.

During his stay at the Cricket club his radio program will continue to be heard daily over KOWL.

Stars for Action Dance Slated for Saturday Eve.

The Peoples Songs Chorus's "Stars for Action" dance will be held at the Blackhawk nightclub, 7165 Beverly Blvd., Saturday night, July 3rd.

Presented in real cabaret style, the evening's entertainment will be headlined by such starring attractions as Goodson and Vale, The Barries, Shirley Gray, Les Pine and a host of others.

George Washington and his Recording Artists will play for the entire evening's dancing.

The "Stars for Action" dance will be the kickoff for a weekend of activities given by the Peoples Songs Chorus, which will conclude with a picnic in Griffith Park on July 4th. Details of the picnic will be announced at the dance.

Admission is $1.00, tax included.

PAUL GAYTEN leads his swingsational trio nitely at the Downbeat club on 42nd and Central Ave. The outfit rates a plug, but the only name we remember besides Paul's is drummer Robert Green, whose skin-beating is something to shout about. Trio is musically hep and gives out with songs in a Big Time manner. Joe Liggins and his "Honey-drippers" open at the Beat July 6.

NITE SPOTS REVIEWS

The Bal Tabarin Cafe, 15513 S. Western Ave. Grd.

Change in policy results in change in entertainment at this far-away spot in Gardena. Management let the chorus girls go a coupla weeks ago, over the u$ual matter$, but held over the band formerly led by pianist Charlie Davis. Management let Charlie Davis go, too. Argument of some sort. Anyway, the Davis band, now under the musical direction of sax star Floyd Turnham, rocks in rhythm and takes you on a non-stop flight to swingdom! This is a dine and dance spot. But once you hear the band (and that guy Oscar Bradley on drums!) you forget to order dinner. They don't particularly solicit it, but colored patronage is welcomed at this spot. It would have to be that way with Turnham and Bradley on the bandstand. They're champions of the people's rights, and besides, they're wonderful musicians. Some night while cruising about the city, drop in at the Bal if only to hear Floyd Turnham and his swingsational little band. They're hey-ninety-ninety and hotcha-cha.

The Downbeat Club
4201 S. Central Ave.

It's still Paul Gayten and his trio, plus the sultry-styled singing of chirp Annie Laurie keeping the crowd happy at this gay spot. Joe Liggins moves in with his Honeydrippers July 6, and a lovely time will no doubt be had by all. It's good to visit the Downbeat if only to hear the Gayten guys, Annie Laurie's voice and catch a glimpse of cashier Maxine Hereford's beautiful smile.

Teresa, the 200-pound mechanical turtle who proved such a hit in "Tarzan and the Mermaids," has been given a prominent spot in the cast of Sol Lesser's new jungle film, "Tarzan and the Arrow of Death."

Theater Editor Interviews Heavyweight King's Wife

By J. T. Gipson, Theatrical Editor

I'll never forget the interview I had with Marva Louis, wife of the Heavyweight champion of the world. It took place in Columbus, Ohio, and if you think being alone in the un-dressing room with the beautiful wife of the Heavyweight King isn't a reporter's delight, then crazy is what you ain't anything else but!

Marva was appearing in a stage show at the RKO Palace theatre in a revue headed by Guy Kibee. The rumor that I got into her backstage dressing room only by posing as a telephone repairman is as bogus as a counterfeit coin. She invited me over personally by phone, saying: "Helloooo, dah-ling, do come ovah. I've read your column for a lawng time, and to me you-wah better than Winchell!!" How can you help loving a gal with such good taste in literature, thought I to myself, so o-vah I went.

Visiting the ah-tractive Marva, Champion Joe's frau, was a tough decision to make. Not that I'm afraid of the heavyweight champion of the world, but I had a Scotchandsoda datte with a couple newspapermen that I didn't wana miss. But after thinking it over (in a split second) I decided "Oh, what th' 'ell" and went on o-vah.

It was blistering hot backstage. Marva, a well-stacked bundle of feminine charm, glided gracefully across the room and sat down on the chaise lounge where I had comfortably parked my anatomy. She was leisurally dressed in lounging pajamas, and I noticed (I notice everything) that she was wearing a pair of well filed nylons. Santa Claus could never fill a stocking as well as Marva Louis fills hers!

Since the information hasn't been tucked away in the World's Fair Time's capsule, the former Marva Trotter, an ex-secretary for a Chicago Real Estate firm, is a lass with plenty on the ball. Beautiful? She has the kind of loveliness you see only in a dream.

People who spend their time sitting around discussing the secret sins of people they don't even know, give Marva the cold shoulder because they say she married Joe Louis for his money. Whether she did or whether she didn't, I don't know.

But whose b'sness is it, and who wouldn't?

She has always had a sudden desire, so'm told, to go into show b'sness. Her style of singing is a refreshing change from other so-called "greats" of the chanteuse kingdom who resort to trick tonsilling to put their songs across. Her style of toying with a ballad knocks me out. But then, so does Kate Smiths'. Prejudiced? Not me! (Ed's Note: Mrs. Louis isn't singing now. She heads a Chicago Beauty Concern).

Just when the interview was getting good, she alit (beautiful word) and said: "Dah-ling, let's go o-vah and getta cawktail in one of the clubs."

"Okay," I said, "But first you'll have to sing me a song."

"You mean right here, NOW?"

"That's right," I told her, "That is, if you want me to take you out." (I was playing hard to get).

"Okay," she said, and started singing. (Ha! Who said newspapermen aren't privileged?).

When she finished singing my favorite song, she said: "Come on dah-ling, let's go!"

"Not now," I answered. (Still playing hard to get).

"Then," losing her self-acquired bawston accent, "just throw it out cher mind, then," she said. I got up quicker than it takes Lloyd LaBeach to dash a hundred yards.

We went to one of the juice joints for cawktails, she had an hour or two to waste before next curtain time.

With the consumption of three scotchandsodas beginning to take effect, I temporarily lost interest in her conversation, and begin discussing Mrs. Louis' anatomical structure. She changed the subject and paid for the check. (The management was reluctant to cash a check they thought I had found and forged).

We had a wonderful time. A very beautiful evening. I held her in my arms, and we danced to the rhythm of a Lena Horne recording on the juke box.

When I escorted her back to the theatre, did I kiss her goodbye? Did I ask for her telephone number? Did I promise to send roses the next day? I did nothing of the sort! You see, she's still in love with her husband, and who wants to play second-fiddle to a prize fighter?

'Sweethearts' Give Farewell Party For Nelson's Trio

The Sweethearts, a group of beautiful young Los Angeles City College girls and members of the Nelson Alexander Fan club, gave a farewell party for Alexander and his trio last Friday evening at the home of Beverly Anderson, 681 East 53rd Street. Refreshments were served buffet style, and dancing and games highlighted the evening.

The Sweethearts, newly organized club, consists of the following members: Beverly Anderson, Gloria Hemphill, Ramona Locke and Marian Thomas. Honored guests of the evening were the Lester Mayart trio and Alma, former blues singing star at the club Shangri-La.

The Nelson Alexander trio, with Billy Regan on bass, Edgar Rice on guitar and Mr. Alexander himself toying with the ivories, will begin a cross-country theatre-niteclub tour extending from Maine to Mexico.

Mary Louise Goes Into Larry's Club

Mary Louise, lovely thrush with the Walter Fuller band (he's the guy who made the song, "Rosetta," famous — and vice-versa) opens at Larry Potter's Supper club July 9.

Miss Thomas (that's the doll's last name but she omits it from ad billings) will appear at Potter's place for four weeks, during the time the Fuller crew, currently at the Royal club in San Diego, are on vacation.

For national and local coverage of the theatrical profession from Harlem to Hollywood, read J. T. Gipson, an exclusive Feature in The California Eagle.

SHERMAN WILLIAMS, who leads his swing band nitely at Jack's Basket Room, has a new recording now on the Juke Boxes that seems destined for success. It's an Excelsior label titled "Hello." The record has sold over 10,000 copies alone in Chicago, and Disc Jockey Frank Bull tabs it a best seller.

PLATTER CHATTER

Harry James and His Orchestra
I DON'T CARE IF IT RAINS ALL NIGHT

HANKERIN' . . . Leading off this brace of tunes from the Warner musical, "Two Guys from Texas," is a breezy romantic ballad name of HANKERIN'. The James boy does his native state right proud with a handsome spot of trumpeting. There's a definite new kick on this side—Harry uses a novel voicing with straight muted trumpets and high clarinets to produce a brilliant sound. Marion Morgan does the vocal "hankerin'."

I DON'T CARE IF IT RAINS ALL NIGHT . . . The weather report may be gloomy, but Harry, the boys and Marion Morgan are bright as a morn in June on this rhythm ballad. Harry blows some clear and continued hot trumpet with great ensemble background.

AT THE RODEO
I WANNA BE A COWBOY IN THE MOVIES

AT THE RODEO . . . City slickers get a Kay's eyeview of that great Western-type spectacle, the RODEO. Beatrice makes with the descriptive patter about the bronco-busters from Waco, Texas and Altoona, Pa., and the Dodger Fans who dress a la Roy Rogers for the occasion. Crackerjack and musical background are supplied by Mitchell Ayres and his orchestra.

I WANNA BE A COWBOY IN THE MOVIES . . . Irrepressible Beatrice Kay hits the Western trail from San Fernando clean down to Azusa in this rootin' tootin' platter! Our gal is mad for a shootin' iron and a pinto pony, and a part in a Grade B mellerdrama. The lyrics are purely hilarious and the production is really wild — gunshots, hoofbeats, posses. Pardner Mitchell Ayres and the Columbia ranchhands ride along in the background.

TONY PASTOR AND HIS ORCHESTRA
INDIAN LOVE CALL
WINDSHIELD WIPER

INDIAN LOVE CALL . . . From the opening beat of the tom-tom to the last red-hot measure, this is a Pastor powerhouse. Tony's inimitable version of this standard has been a specialty of the house since his days with the old Artie Shaw crew. A completely new and fresh approach to an old favorite, Pastor's treatment of LOVE CALL features some sizzling saxophone and brass section work, with fine assists from the rhythm side.

WINDSHIELD WIPER . . . In contrast to the pyrotechnical LOVE CALL, this is a light and gay bit of romantic business about a guy who doesn't mind the weather, so long as he's with the gal he loves. Another infectious novelty, with vocal and special sound effects by Pastor.

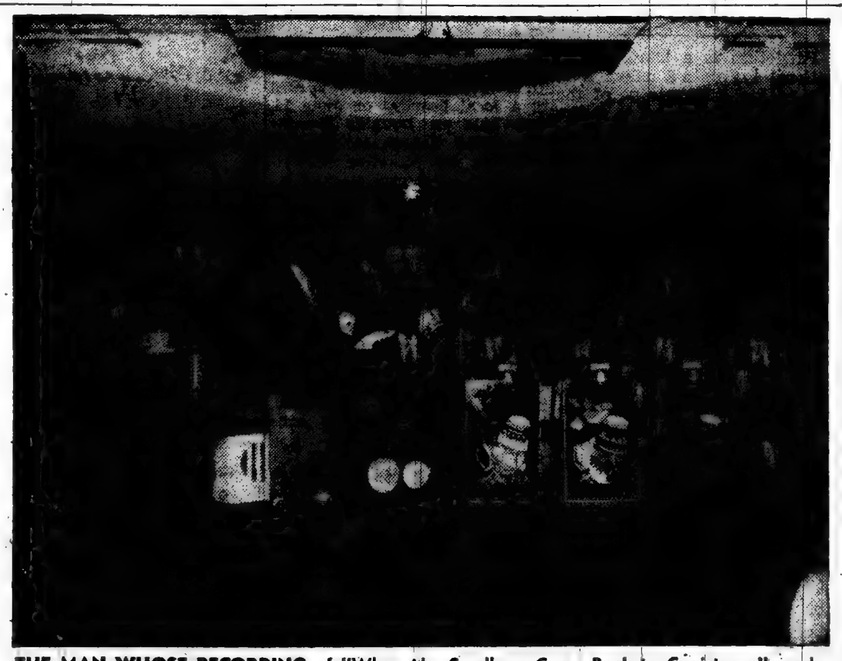
Fedor Von Trail To Be in Holly Dog Show

Fedor Von Trail, 20-month-old Doberman-Pinscher, and the winner's dog with 5 points at the Los Angeles Kennel club show at Gilmore Stadium April 24, is being readied by his master, Elihu McGee, to appear in the Hollywood Kennel club show in August. Fedor Von Trail's father is the famous champion, Dictator Von Glenhugel.

Mr. McGee, who raises and breeds a pedigreed stock of Chow Chows, Doberman-Pinschers, etc., told an Eagle reporter that the Pinscher German dog is used in Europe and most of the foreign countries for police work. During the last war they worked exclusively with the United States Marines in the South Pacific. The Doberman-Pinscher received an Army citation for the breed with the highest intelligence. They were "attack" dogs, and will guard your person or property.



Mr. McGee, who formerly was a boxing manager, retired from the profession to raise and breed pedigreed dogs. Some of his stock have been sold to Hollywood producers and well-known members of the theatrical profession. Appointment by phone: PLymouth 5-3132.

THE MAN WHOSE RECORDING of "When the Swallows Come Back to Capistrano" made songwriter Leon Rene rich and famous is Ceelle Burke, shown in the above pic in front of his terrific young dance band. Burke, who closed last week at the famed Tom Breneman's restaurant in Hollywood, is the new band sensation of Hollywood and features such stellar instrumentalists as trumpeter Karl George, an ex-Stan Kenton alumnus; Kirk Bradford (formerly with the late Jimmie Lunceford band and rated second only to the great Johnny Hodges on alto sax); arranger Maxwell Davis and other top tooters. Ceelle Burke has the kind of band that doesn't strain your ear drums!

THE WEAKLY NEWSREEL

There's an ache in the hearts of the Angel City bachelors. Jessie Mae Brown (a favorite society editor over at our house) got married Sunday last to a guy named Leroy. Some guys get all the breaks. . . . Dorothy Donegan is in San Francisco. . . . Overheard In The Memo: "Money isn't everything. I just like it the best!" . . . Levi Burnley (tht colyum's "shadow") is now on the staff of the Congo club. Good guy to have around, Leon Hefflin! . . . Lillian Lomax (the colyum's baby sis) went to New York for the fights. She's still there, and fun is what she ain't having anything else but! . . . Maxine Clark, the UCLAngel, became a bride last wk-end. She wedded a chap named Paul Something-or-other. . . . A former Cotton Club Cutie confided to the col'm: "You know you're getting old when men look at you East and West instead of North and South!" . . . Why don't the Frank Carringtons (she's the adorable Vivian) kiss and make up? Stop acting like fools, you fools! . . . Rosalind York wants it known she isn't toting a torch for Don Barksdale or anyone else. So there, too! . . . Al-MEAN-a Davis is one reason I believe in birth control. The anti-social Editor of the Los Angeles Spittune has a trial coming up April 6, and we'll be deeeeelighted to keep you posted. When she sits down at her tripewriter she always stick her tongue out at somebody in print, so it'll be a pleasure to stick ours out at her. The Greeks have a name for her. So have I, but Mrs. Bass wouldn't let me print it!

IF A MOOM PICKCHA SCOUT ever got a glimpse of lovely Connie Alexander, she'd be in pickchas quicker than it'd take Kenneth Bruce to answer the telephone when he thinks Gladys is on the other end of the wire. Here is a doll who ought to be in pickchas, because what Dorothy Dandridge doesn't have—Connie Alexander has got! . . .

A well-known society beauty (famed for her loveliness and charm) invited Ye Ed to a Red Beans and Rice dinner the other ayem. I was admiring her collection of furs. "Twenty fur coats, that's quite a collection," I remarked. "You certainly don't get them overnight." "That's exactly how you do get them!" she quipped. . . . Monty Easter's zippy little band will appear in person Satday and Sunday (July 3-4) at the Elks Lounge, 1767 East 103rd Street in Watts. T-Bone Walker's protege will be on hand to sing the blues. Who dat? (Me, you dope!) . . . Kathleen Watson is the cutest little freckled-faced thing we've seen in this or any other town. She's as pretty as a picture. (Mmm-mmm, nice frame, too!) . . . Boxer Lige Drew and his dimpled-dumpling Juanita have decided to call the whole thing off. Their romance blew up in smoke.

A MAN-ABOUT-TOWN DIED and was stopped at the Pearly Gates. "Just a minute!" said St. Pete. "Before you get in here, you must prove you've acquired some patience. Now take this spoon and go and remove that mountain over there. Then come back and we'll think it over." A hundred years later the fellow returned to the Pearly Gates and said, "I did what you told me. Here's your spoon. Let me in." "Oh, no!" said St. Pete, "you haven't proved you've acquired patience yet. Now take this cup and dump the Pacific Ocean into the Atlantic—we've got too many oceans anyhow." Three hundred years later the chap returned. "I did what you said," he sighed. "Lemme in for the lovapete!" "My!" said St. Peter, "you're impatient. But we'll try you once more. You simply must acquire patience. Now look down there on Central avenue. See that electric sign, a big club Congo? Well, go in there—and wait until owner Bill Hefflin buys you a drink!"

GUITARIST TEDDY BUNN (my fave string-strummer when Les Paul isn't around) is at the Sommerset House, Riverside, with Edgar Hayes' crew. . . . Attorney Walter Gordon will become a husband soon. Good luck to a good guy!!! . . . Madeline Greene, the singer (you're welcome, sister!) left for Cleveland last wk for a visit with her family. . . . Now that the Big Fight is over, Cleo Hayes (the hazel-eyed dancing doll) will return to the Angel City and call it Home. . . . That was Artye Young doing the spots with my (and your) pal "Tricky Sam" the other sundown. She's still the colyum's pet. And after all these years! . . . Camille Cannady is the personifiration of sugar 'n spice 'n everything nice. If the angels in heaven are as sweet as Camille, then that's where I wanna go when I die! . . . Justin Mackey counted his birfday candles Thursday last. We wish'd him a "happy birfday." The only other thing he got was a year older. . . . Anita Bonner celebrated her natal day 6 30/48. . . . James L. Bowie, district manager for The Taylor Appliance Co., and Lloyd Murlock (better known as "The Kirby Kid") seem to be making quite a rep for themselves with the international firm handling the distribution of Kirby Vacuums. Both are grand guys, and the Taylor Appliance Company is the first largest Vacuum firm to give Negroes an opportunity to prove they're as good (or better) than other salesmen. Congrats and an Orchid from our choicest flower garden to the Taylor Appliance Co! . . . Letter on the desk from Lena Horne: "I love you," she sez. (And I love you, too! sez I—and that, ladies and gentlemen, is the beginning of the Mutual Admiration Society!).

WALTER WINCHEL (our Adopted Dad) rants and raves about Kay Thompson and the 4 Williams Bros. Well, we're ranting and raving about an act that's just as terrific! They're called THE THREE FLASHES. It's a dancing and singing trio featuring original abstract dances, and my favorite Three open July 15 in Mexico City at the Hotel Parado. These kids (i. e., Margee Lee McGlory, Harriet Ortega and Charles Crawford) will sail stratispheric heights before the year 1948 rolls into oblivion. They're the hottest thing to hit this state since the Frisco fire! . . . Marvin "Nubby" Davis (the col'm's Adopted Bro) is readying plans to open a 1st class record shoppe on the Westside of town. He'll get all the theatrical b'sness, cuz he's well liked by all the guys and gals in the theatrical profession. . . . Allen Drew, Harlem's fave m.c. (when Willie Bryant isn't around) is due in town anyday. . . . Mary Johnson (she's a helluva singer) suffered a heart attack Satday last during her chirping chores at the Elks Lounge in Watts. The gal puts her heart in her work! . . . An oooOOh so prominent zoociety Mr. and Mrs. live in the same adobe but aren't on speaking terms. Carry on, society, carry on! . . . Leonard McClain (the town's top bail bondsman) wants ta know if it's warmer in the summer than it is in Florida? (Now there's a query that makes about as much sense as Joe Adams trying to sing a song! . . . Dunbar Hotel owner James Nelson should well be proud of his efficient staff. Olivette Williams, Wilma Whitley, Ella Jenkins, Bernice Harris, Mose Morant and Bob Metters rate an orchid for their friendliness!

Buddy Banks and his crew opened at the Cricket club 6 30. That guy Ralph Bateman on piano is alone worth the price of admission! . . . Annie Laurie and Paul Gayten will appear in person at Murray's Record Shoppe (4161 S. Cntrl av) this Sat (from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m.) to autograph fave discs for their many fans. (I'll be there, too, along with J. Adams and other guests). . . . Beverly Anderson (the little doll who auth'd "Rock That Voot" for the Nelson Alexander trio) is a promising song-writer. She oughta be "discovered." Mr. Capitol Recording Company! . . . Lillian Cumber's colyum is the only reason we buy the Los Angeles Tribune. Her writings makes more sense than Almena Davis, President Truman and the Congressional Record rolled into one! . . . John Thomas' new poultry market on Avalon blvd rates your patronage. It's the cleanest, most up-to-date mrkt we've seen in the entire City Of The Angels. And the fowls there don't look as tho they have t.b., either! Soooo fat and fine! Give the former Lightweight Champion of California a break. You'll get your money's worth at his poultry mrkt! . . . See ya' at the Elks Lounge (in Watts) Satday and Sunday night. Until then, remember this: "People never ask you how you make your money. It's whether or not you've got it that counts!"

J. T. GIPSON will appear in person Saturday and Sunday nites, July 3 and 4 at the Elks Lounge, 1767 East 103rd St., in Watts. The Gip is a blues-singing protege of T-Bone Walker, and will appear as special guest along with Snowball Whittaker, L'Tanya, Mary Johnson and Monty Easter's band.

Calvin Jones Hurt In Auto Accident

A group of his friends are planning a gala party for Calvin Jones, popular young sportsman, who was seriously hurt en route to the Joe Louis fight when the car he was driving lost control and crashed after hitting a pipeline. The accident occurred just outside of Tucson, Arizona, and Mr. Jones was taken to the Pima County Hospital where he is now a patient. His condition is too serious to permit his removal home. He suffered two broken legs, a broken arm, internal injuries and head fractures.

Mr. Jones told hospital attendants his car was traveling at a rate of 60 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

Calvin Jones always helped his friends, and now his friends are going to help him; therefore they planned a gala party with star-studded entertainment galore, with the proceeds going towards helping defray Jones's hospital expenses.

BRONZE BEAUTY above is shapely (you can say that again; okay, I will) shapely Elisa Griessett, an entrant in the "Miss Bronze Pacific Coast Bathing Beauty Contest." Miss Griessett (who looks good all over) is only one of many beautiful girls vying for the title "Miss Bronze Pacific Coast Beauty Queen." This week the beauties begin their rehearsal for this big annual event in conjunction with the second Beautician and Barbers Popularity Contest, sponsored by the Pacific Coast Productions. Headquarters is at 5521 So. Central Ave. Sid Hazeur, sponsor.

Blues Woman Is Called Female T-Bone Walker

Marian Abernathy, The Blues Woman, returns to the City of the Angels Friday for an indefinite stay at the Last Word cafe. This will mark the famed femme chirp's first visit to the city in more than two years. Her last stay here she broke records at one of the avenue spots, and since that time has played to capacity crowds all over the country. Her recording of "Voo it, Voo it" sold nearly a million copies!

Miss Abernathy, who hails from the windy city of Chicago, is a brown bundle of rhythm with plenty on the ball. She's really an international favorite. Featured in leading night clubs everywhere from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, to Athens, Greece, Miss Abernathy has tried her "blues" out on people of all nations and the results have always been laudatory.

She has often been referred to as "The female T-Bone Walker," and whenever Marian Abernathy walks out on the stage you can bet all the tea in Harlem you're going to hear a pretty bit of chirping. She's been called everything from "The Blues Woman," to "The Voo It Voo It Girl."

And now we nominate her as "Miss Blues of 1948—or any other year, for that matter!"

The same solid show with Emily Foster, those terrific and swingsational 5-Bits of Rhythm and other stellar acts will make up the bill headlined by Marian (Miss Blues) Abernathy!

EXCLUSIVE

Paul Gayten and his trio with sing-sational Annie Laurie will appear in person Saturday evening, July 3, at Murray's Record Shop, 4161 S. Central Ave., from 6 to 7:30 p.m., to autograph recordings for their fans and friends. Mr. Murray cordially invites the public to attend.

SUPREME RECORDING star is Jimmy Witherspoon, whose latest release, "Frogomore Blues," is outselling any blues tune on the avenue! Witherspoon, a big, handsome hunk of man, is rated second only to the great T-Bone Walker when it comes to shouting the blues. He's currently on a theatre-nightclub tour.

Monty Easter Plays Two Days at Elks

Monty Easter and his recording band will play a special two day engagement Saturday and Sunday nights, July 4th and 5th at the Elks Lounge, 1767 East 103rd Street, in Watts.

Since Easter cut his swingy little band down to six pieces the torrid-tooting-trumpeter has sidled into some of the smartest spots on the nitery circut, nonchalantly hanging up top grosses at each. Nucleus of the group is trumpet, handled aptly by the leader himself; two saxophones, drums, piano and bass. Beside their instrumental music the combo boasts three voices, each of which can handle solos and get together for two or three-part harmony.

Besides the hot (but danceable) rhythms of Monty Easter's band, the Elks Lounge will present a few top acts for your entertainment. Snowball Whittaker, the Human Top, will M.C. a show with J. T. Gipson starring in the role as blues singer. Singer Mary Johnson will be on hand along with the teasing torso-twisting of La'Tanya and other acts.

Attractions to match every age, every interest, every mood.

Herb McKenley Betters 46.3 440 Mark Again

NEW YORK—Herb McKenley, the flying Jamician who has generally been conceded the 400 meter title in the Olympic games, broke his own world mark for the 440 yard dash for the second time in two weeks here Saturday afternoon, when he was clocked in 46.2 seconds.

Running a special race in the Metropolitan AAU track and field championships, the long legged Jamician spotted three opponents from 10 to 18 yards and still won by 15 yards.

Had he been pushed, it is generally conceded that McKenley would have broken his newly established, but not yet accepted, world mark of 46 seconds. The 46-second quarter was established at Berkeley, California, three weeks ago.

LaBeach, Matson Breaks Worlds Marks In 220,440

Alhambra—Two Negro athletes—Lloyd LaBeach of Pannama and UCLA, and Ollie Matson, prep sensation from San Francisco's Washington High School, stole the show here Friday night in the annual Alhambra Games at Moor Field.

LaBeach, unofficial holder of the worlds record in the 200 meters, raced to a 21.1 220 to to break Ralph Metcalfe's world record of 21.2 for the distance around a curve.

Young Matson, outrunning Jordon High Schools Fred Thompson by 2 yards, set a new worlds interscholastic record of 47.8 to break the oldest prep mark on the books. The previous mark of 48.2 was set by Frank Sloman of San Francisco's Polytechnic High School in 1915.

LaBeach also grabbed a tie for second in the quarter mile with Bob Crowe of Compton College, and won the 100 meters in 10.3, 1/10 of a second off the worlds record which LaBeach has equaled more than anyone today.

Young, Evans In AAU Meet

Two local athletes and possibly another will get the chance of their young athletic lives tomorrow and Saturday when they compete in the AAU track and field meet at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The two athletes who will compete in the AAU meet are Leonard Evans of Los Angeles City College in the broadjump and hop step and jump, and Ed Young of Jefferson High School in the High jump.

Evans will be sponsored by the Los Angeles Athletic Club while Young will be sent by money raised by Jefferson High School students.

The third local athlete, Jerome Walters of Compton, (up to Eagle press time) was undecided on whether he would be able to attend the AAU meet. Walters if sent to the AAU would be sponsored by Compton High School. He would participate in the middle distances.

The AAU at Milwaukee takes on international importance this week in that the first six in all AAU events will get a chance at the final Olympic tryouts a week from Saturday at Evanston, Illinois.

Children's Circus Comes To Town

The cry of "batter up" or "first down" usually heard on the many playgrounds of the city during the vacation months may be outmoded by the smell of sawdust and the yak yak of clowns this summer.

As a highlight of the summer vacation season, the annual children's traveling circus is ready to start its rounds of the various playgrounds, it was announced this week.

EAGLE SPORTS

FIVE NEWSPAPER FOR COLORED PROGRESS

16—The California Eagle, Thursday, July 1, 1948 Vol. 69 No 13

HE MAY BE IT—With Joe Louis retiring and leaving the heavyweight throne unoccupied, every heavyweight in the country is out for that vacated title. Pictured above is Albert "Turkey" Thompson, imposing local heavyweight who won a unamious decision Tuesday night at the Olympic from Tony Bosnich of San Francisco. Turkey may be the guy who will sit on the heavyweight throne? Stranger things have happened you know.

Dillard Cracks Mark In Collegiate Finale

BEREA, Ohio—Equaling the recognized world's record for the 220 yard low hurdles and stepping over the 120 yard high hurdles in 13.9 seconds, Harrison Dillard, the smooth running five foot nine inch Negro, hurdler who came to Baldwin Wallace College as a virtually unknown athlete three years ago, wound up his collegiate career in a blaze of glory here Saturday afternoon in the District AAU finals.

The 22.4 established by Dillard is 1/10 of a second faster than the mark he holds jointly with Fred Wolcott of Rice. It is also 1/10 of a second slower than the 22.3 set by Dillard which is now up for worlds record consideration. The mark has already been given NCAA recognition.

The meet marked the last time Dillard, who virtually put the small Ohio college on the map, will wear its colors as a collegiate.

Dillard, easily recognized as the worlds greatest hurdler today, and perhaps the greatest of all times, will next appear in the AAU olympic semi-finals at Milwaulke, Wisconsin, this coming week end.

KFWB To Broadcast Olympic Games

HOLLYWOOD—Radio Station KFWB announced this week that it would carry exclusive local broadcasts of the Olympic Games this summer from London, England.

The Warmer Brothers owned and operated station said that veteran newscaster and sport authority Thomas Freebarin-Smith will be on hand at Wimbley Stadium to bring the high points of the 10th Olympiad to southland listeners.

The prominent station was the only local independent station that "covered" the Republican National Convention from Philadelphia. It also plans to cover the Democratic and Third Party conventions this month.

Longden Out For Record

Jockey Johnny Longden, whose miraculous victory record at Hollywood Park has caused the winner's circle to be renamed Longden Square, is rapidly heading for new records at the Inglewood track. Starting this week with 61 winners in only six weeks of racing, Longden appears to be a cinch to beat his own record of 73 firsts.

Cosmo Open To Boast Top U.S. Golfers

The outstanding Negro golfers of the country will gather here in the Southland for what shapes up to be the biggest golfing affair of the year, the Cosmopolitan Open, sponsored by the Cosmopilitan Golf Club.

The announcement of the gigantic Cosmo Open was made this week following the regular meeting of the club last Wednesday night at the home of Roscoe Jones.

The tournament committee headed by Jimmy DeVoe announced that prizes will be awarded in four divisions. DeVoe also informed that all play would be on a handicap basis.

Two top ranking Cosmopolitan Club members, professional golfers Bill Spiller and Ted Rhodes headed east this week to participate in the Tam O' Shanter Open at Chicago. The Tam is the richest event in all the realm of professional golfdom.

Public Tennis Tourney On

With the right to represent this area in the national championships at stake, public net stars will unlimber their racquets this week in the twenty-second annual Los Angeles District Public Parks and Playgrounds Tennis Championships which get under way July 10th at Griffith Park, the Park Department announced this week.

Beginning the week end of July 10 and 11, the tournament will be played on week ends until completed.

Players who qualify to represent this area will be entered in the National Public Parks and Playground Tennis Championships to be held in Los Angeles August 8 to 15.

Robinson Sparks Team

Brooklyn—In one of the rare performances in baseball annals, Jackie Robinson, the celebrated "Rookie of the year" in '47 who has currently been in a batting slump, sparked the Brooklyn Dodgers to 6-2 and 8-6 wins over the Pittsburgh Pirates here last week at Ebbotts Field.

"Robbie" who had been rumored on the waiver list by the Dodgers, back at his starting position of first base, banged out seven hits, six in a row in the doubleheader. The second game was called at the end of the eighth inning due to darkness.

In a typical "Frank Merrill" finish, Robinson won the first game of the double header when he homered in the last of the ninth with the bases loaded. In the second game, Robbie pounded out two doubles and two singles, to score three runs and score twice himself.

Tribe Tests Three Negroes

CLEVELAND—Three Negro ballplayers have received tryouts with the Cleveland Indians of the American League this week announced president, Bill Veeck, but as yet, none of the three unamed athletes have been signed to contracts.

The Tribe already boasts one Negro player, outfielder Larry Doby.

The motorist who makes a suddent turn in traffic without signalling may find that he has taken a turn for the worse, observes the Automobile Club of Southern California.

LOUIS UNCERTAIN ABOUT FUTURE

May Fight for Charity in L.A.

New York—With the possibility that he may go into politics or fight a charity bout for the Westview Hospital of Los Angeles in the future, Heavyweight Champion of the World Joe Louis announced that he would retire from the heavyweight ring.

The announcement came seconds after he had knocked out Jersey Joe Wolcott in the 11th round of their title bout here last Friday Night at Yankee Stadium.

Louis finished off the Jersey clouter in 2 minutes and 56 seconds of that torrid 11th round in the fashion that brought back to mind the Joe Louis of old.

Definitely past his peak, Louis admitted that he wasn't the fighter of old, in his last title defense. "10 years ago, I'd go a fighter like Walcott early in the fight, but I guess I'm not the fighter I was ten years ago," the champions said.

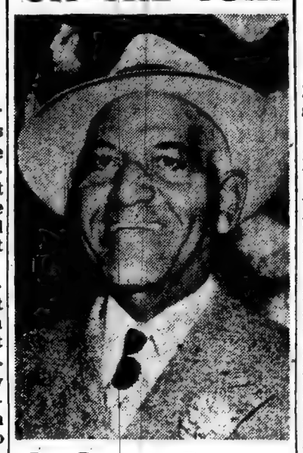
Asked what political party he would affiliate with or campaign for, Louis said he wouldn't know until after the Democratic Convention on July 12. When asked if he would join Henry Wallace's third Party, the champion said that he wouldn't know until after the Democratic Convention.

May Fight in L.A.

On the proposed fight for the Westview Hospital in Los Angeles, Louis' manager Marshall Miles said that "he (Joe) wanted to do something for his people, but right now he didn't know what. The possibility of a fight in Los Angeles for the Westview Hospital is very likely," Miles said. He further stated that if such a bout came off, "the Champ's title would not be at stake, for he honestly intends to give it up," Miles further said. (At Eagle press time, no member of the Westview association would commit himself to whether a fight had been planned between Louis and someone else for the Westview benefit. ED.)

Scramble For Title

With Louis' statement that he would retire, every heavyweight fighter who has two legs and one good arm is converging on Jacob's Beach in an effort to get in on whatever elimination tournament is to be held for the vacated crown.



According to sources close to Jacobs, very close indeed considering the source is Sol Swartz, major domo of the 20th Century Sporting Club—only four fighters are worth considering for a shot at the heavyweight title. They are Lee Oma, Jersey Joe Wolcott, Elmar Ray, and Gus Lesnevitch.

Tigers Bop Skeegie 9

Shreveport, La.—With Boots Moore on the mound and only allowing four scattered hits, Gambling College's mighty Tigers accounted for their sixth horsehide victory of the season when they turned back the Tuskegee Institute nine, 4-2, here last week.

In ceremonies before the game, Paul Younger, star Gambling halfback from the football squad, was awarded the Shreveport Sportsman's Trophy for the outstanding Louisianna gridder of the year.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, OLD MEXICO—Credit another victory for an invader from Mexico City. This time it was Adam W., the chocolate-dipped son of Morsel-Betty Shinn, who raced with some of the best handicap horses at the Hippodromo de las Americas in Mexico City. Having arrived at the border course about three weeks ago and with one race under his belt here two weeks ago, Adam W. was overlooked by the fans in the betting and paid $16.40, $10.00 and $4.80 across the board.

In winning the featured attraction he ran the mile in 1:38 3-5. In the secondary event the old favorite Sevenofive, installed favorite, made good in easy style to pay $5.20. Five favored horses rewarded the form players. The daily double combination of All Black, winner of the second race, and Gyrator, victor of the third, paid $137, while the quinela backers of Victor

Classy Wash. Boxer in Top 10 at Legion

Winner of his last five starts, three by knockouts, Milo Savage, flashy Seattle middleweight boxes Bobby Seaman in the 10 round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night.

Under the guidance of wily George Moore, veteran fight figure, Savage has forged to the front and shakes up as the top middleweight in California.

He scored a decisive win over Bob Castro at the Legion in his last bout . . . Castro is highly regarded in the 160 pound ranks.

A cagy performer, Seaman once nodded Turkey Thompson when the latter was middleweight.

Young Savage is a stand up, give and take puncher. He is big hero at Ocean Park Arena where he thrilled the fans by chilling Frankie Augustine, Regino Agular and Willie Jenkins.

The Pacific Northwest is noted for turning out great fighters in the middleweight division. Who can ever forget Dode Bercot; Freddie Steele, and Al Hostak who went on to win world championship honors in the 160 pound class.

Savage appears destined to follow in their footsteps.

Sports of All Sorts

STANLEY ROBERTSON, EAGLE Sports Editor

With the words, "this is the truth. for my mother, this was my last fight," the greatest heavyweight champion of all times stepped down from his throne—reiring undefeated.

Eleven years, three days, and twenty five defenses after he had won the title from James J. Braddock out in Chicago, Joe Louis was calling it a day.

It's going to seem funny to call someone else the "Heavyweight Champion of the World." Just like it still seems funny for those of us who grew up during the Roosevelt Administration to call someone else "the President of the United States." But in my book, Joe Louis will always be the heavyweight champion.

When historians centuries from now write the story of the 20th Century, they'll probably depict Joe Louis as being a giant of eight feet with fists as big as nail kegs and with the power of ten Paul Bunyon's. Maybe the later day historians will be right if they picture Joe this way! No he's not physicially that size, but no man has ever stood head and shoulders above his contemparies like Joe has in boxing. He has almost single handidly given boxing the shot in the arm it has needed to survive through boxing scandals, like dives, fixings, and our present crop of medicore fighters.

Some people say that education is the only way the Negro in America will be respected and all the barriers against him removed. Joe Louis has never really had what our modern educators call "a formal education," but Joe has done more good for the Negro in America through his fine behavior and sportsmanship than has any man of our time. Joe may not be familiar with the fact that the Moors were kept out of Europe at the Battle of Toures in 732 A.D., but more important Joe knew that by his actions, his race would be judged, and at all time I think he's kept this in mind.

As the story of the Brown Bomber, Alabama Assassin or whatever you want to call Joe Louis fades into the fable class to be retold and retold by countless generations, let's stop and say thanks and best wishes always to him for a job well done.

Sugar Ray Out Dukes Big Duke

Chicago—Bernard "Big Duke" Docusen is a game kid but he just didn't have the ring know how and the punching ability to wrestle the welterweight championship away from Rey "Sugar" Robinson—generally recognized as the best fighter in the world, pound for pound—here Monday night.

Making the 147 pound welter limit by ½ pound, Sugar Ray in what he calls his last fight as a welterweight, gave the 21 year old boxer out of Los Angeles and New Orleans a decisive licking.

After making the fight even up until the 10th round, young Docusen succumbed under a furious barrage of rights and lefts to take a nine count. The count was the first time Big Duke had ever been floored in 59 professional fights. The 21 year old lad got up to go on to finish the fight although he took a terrible beating from the Sugared one.

Just before the fight, Robinson said that this would be his last title fight. He said he wants a crack at Tony Zale's middleweight crown.

The twice postponed bout was said to gross between $60,000 and $70,000 which would make promoter Irving Kovin break even.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PETITION TO COMPROMISE CONTROVERSY.
In Bankruptcy No. 45,399-B

In the District Court of the United States, Southern District of California, Central Division.

In the Matter of PARDEE, CASH AND ASSOCIATES, a co-partnership, bankrupt.

To the Creditors of the above named bankrupt:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on July 8, 1948, at 10:00 A.M. at the courtroom of the undersigned Referee in Bankruptcy, 339 Federal Building, Temple and Spring Streets, Los Angeles, California, a meeting will be held to hear the petition of GEORGE GARDNER, as Trustee herein to compromise the following controversy:

That prior to the filing of a petition in involuntary bankruptcy, the bankrupt on May 8, 1947, filed an action in the Superior Court, in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California, against Consolidated Records Distributing Company, Inc., in the amount of $13,561.10 upon an open account.

That on February 18, 1948, the Trustee was substituted as party plaintiff in the action in place and stead of the bankrupt.

That it appears that there is considerable dispute as to the validity of items in the aforesaid open account. Defendant asserts that many of the aforesaid items were not ordered by defendant and with respect to other items that there were considerable overcharges.

That on May 22, 1948, the Trustee received an offer of compromise from Consolidated Record Distributing Company, Inc., whereby said defendant agreed to pay the sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, in full settlement of said litigation, and in consideration of the foregoing, releases are to be executed by the Trustee.

The Trustee believes that it is to the best interests of said estate that said compromise be approved.

Dated: June 15, 1948.

HUGH L. DICKSON,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Hollypark Cards Two Big Stakes for Big Weekend

Top stakes stars at Hollywood Park are being sharpened up today for two major handicaps to be run over the holiday weekend—the $50,000 added Westerner on Saturday and the $50,000 American Handicap on Monday, July 5.

Best of the equine blue-bloods on the grounds at Hollywood park are to compete in the two big handicaps, with such stellar three-year-olds as Solidarity, Drumbeat, The Web II, Speculation, Boswell Lady and Belle Jolie meeting in the mile and one-quarter Westerner, and On Trust, Mafosta, With Pleasure, Shannon II, Olhaverry, Autocrat, Artillery, Brabancon, Stepfather and other older stakes campaigners going postward in the mile and one-eighth American.

The Westerner, which was formerly called the Holloywood Derby, will settle the three-year-old championship of Hollywood Park, while the American is the last big test for horses of three-years old and up before they meet July 17 in the $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup, one of the country's great annual turf classics.

PEARMAN BACK IN FORM

Reggie Pearman, who went unplaced in the 400 and 800 meter races in last week's NCAA track meet, got back into his old form when he came home in front to win the 880 in 1.52.2. The time was the second fastest recorded in the United States this year.

CAIRO—Chad Lake in North Africa covers an area of about 6,000 square miles, but no part is deeper than five feet.

THEIR NAMES are, Robert Aber, age 9, Herman Watts, age 7, and Clemente Chavez, age 10, and their problem is to find a name for the baby elephant that has lately come to live in the Griffith Park Zoo. Twenty-two patients of the Children's Hospital were given the assignment of findinga suitable name for the juvenile pachyderm, and the three youths pictured above are representative of the sort of talent now working on the baffling project. They are at the Zoo on investigation in the interest of their fellow patients who are not able to get around.

THAT'S RIGHT . . . Snappy original words and music by Johnny Bond make his the perfect Leap Year themesong for all wary bachelors. Johnny dispenses some sage advice to prospective Romeos, with the Red River Boys adding musical commas and periods. Says Johnnie, "That hank of hair is out for bear . . . look out for powder and paint!" The final words of this saucy sermon will draw plenty of laughs and—some scattered applause—from the harried menfolk!

SAD AND BLUE . . . Johnny bemoans the unhappy termination of an affair of the heart, while the Red River Boys offer sympathetic accompaniment. This mournful little ballad is another Bond original.

GEORGIA BOOGIE
BLUE MELODY
CURLEY WILLIAMS and the GEORGIA PEACH PICKERS

GEORGIA BOOGIE . . . 'Turkey in the Straw" was never like this! Curley and the Boys turn out a Southern-fried BOOGIE that opens with that rustic classic and then moves on to some high-steppin' rhythmics. Here's something new and different—it's Folk Music with a hep beat!

ON THE TURF

Rose and Joharie, who finished in that order, received $76.40. The winner was ridden by the good Negro jockey E. O. Johnson.

This Sunday General Manager Walter C. Marty has arranged another fine card of twelve races with "the Independence Day" handicap the feature attraction at six furlongs. The race will bring the fast Blo Bo, also from Mexico City, again to the post to meet the best sprinters at the border course, and if the track remains lightning fast a new track record may be looked for. The babies again will be honored in the first race, called "the Farbrand," at four and one-half furlongs. The greyhounds race under the personal supervision of the popular Don Domo. General Manager William Collier is still the greatest night sport south of the border. The fans crowd the beautiful course every Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. This thrilling and exciting sport has taken the fans by storm. The big payoff for the winning dogs and the large quinelas had been a feature.

Postponement for Negro organizations and clubs that will be honored by General Manager Collier will be given dates in the near future. Hollywood park will start its fourth week of the summer season and to date the meeting has been nearly up to par. With the big event yet to come up the season will be one of the best. This week-end Saturday the main attraction will be "the Westerner," at one and one-quarter miles, for three-year-olds. The race was formerly known as the Hollywood derby. So far the race is wide open. My pick is Drumbeat, first; Frankly, second, and The Web, third. It's About Time; nice horse and ready. Lollie C.; don't let her get away. Nanby Pass; just ress; a sleeper. Over the Sky; a goodie that will score. Drumbeat; the Western winner Saturday. Frankly; will be hard to beat. Petite Star; about six furlongs. Breezing Home; hat's just what he will do. On the Hour; will arrive on time. Sea Going; fast horse tab. Bazooka; getting ready for a killing. Handlebars; please don't let him get away. See Me First; get aboard. Black Money; my longshot special. Dark Belito; another box car figure. Ben L.; watch, look and listen.

THE POWER OF THE HEART

There is no scarcity of mechanical power in the world today. The precision with which things are done, and the efficiency attained in the doing, is a marvelous testimony to man's inventive genius.

We are all acquainted with the virtue of Heart-Power, Mother-love has been demonstrated over and over again. There were times when it was a shame for us to be owned; but, that dear old Godly soul did not turn us away! She proved the value of excellency of spirit. Such power is more wonderful than all that genius has created. Machines don't make people enjoy the inner-most values. Folks knew these privileges long before the age of machinery. They lived together in the blessing of heart-power that regarded each the other above himself.

Now, more than ever we must control our hearts and the power therein. Be brave, courageous and true.

L.M.H. Dear Prof. Herman: I read ypur column every week and notice how you help many unhappy people. I would like for you to help me. Will I have to wait much longer for this one thing I want more than anything else?

ANSWER. Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planets reveal that which you want most will in probability come to you soon. Don't give up or lose courage.

E.P. Will my plans for August or September be successful?

ANSWER. After giving your question careful thought and consideration I find that your plans may materialize, but be careful about the friends you pick to spend this time with, that there will be no regrets.

A.B.C. Will I marry soon?

ANSWER. According to your Zodiacal sign I find a successful courtship awaits you, which may result in marriage, but I would not jeopardize this happiness by hastening matters.

K.C. Will he come back?

ANSWER. Concentrating upon your question I am of the opinion that you should cultivate new interest, other friends rather than set back and worry over this one boy friend. He will in time be sorry for leaving and try to make amends.

Alpha Regional Conference Opens Over Holiday Weekend With General President

ALPHA HEADS extending greetings to representatives of the first annual conference of the Far Western area are J. Barksdale Brown, vice-president of the Far Western area; Henry H. Milton, president of Gamma Xi chapter, undergrad UCLA; and William R. Freeman, president of Alpha Delta chapter, undergrad USC.

Keeping pace with the development of the West Coast, Alpha Phi Alpha with its general convention at Tulsa, Oklahoma, December, 1947, inaugurated its Far Western area. This is comprised of Arizona, Nevada, Utah, the Dakotas, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, and the Pacific Coast states. Various representatives from this area meeting in Los Angeles July 3, 4, and 5 will be led by the organization's general president, Attorney Belford V. Lawson.

Attorney Lawson of Washington, D. C., accompanied by his wife and five year old son, will visit the West Coast for the first time as a national officer. Mrs. Lawson is perhaps better known to this area as Marjorie McKenzie, feature columnist for a national weekly. Well known in the East and Midwest for civil rights cases before the U. S. Supreme Court, the general president, also a noted speaker, brings with him a well rounded and informed knowledge of civil and social problems.

Another national officer in attendance will be Bennie D. Brown of Chicago, no newcomer to Southern California. He performed admirably in the U.S.O. circles during the recent world war. Joining with these national leaders will be J. Barksdale Brown, vice-president of Far Western area, regional directors, Tolan Draper of the Bay area, and Lionel B. Cade of Los Angeles. Undergraduate representative will be Peter W. Dauterive, lay member of the executive council.

As announced this week the following program is scheduled:

Saturday July 3. 8 a.m., registration at conference headquarters at First A.M.E. church, 8th and Towne.

9 a.m., opening session, welcoming address, and committee organizations.

11 a.m.-8 p.m., delegates picnic at Brookside Park, Pasadena.

10 p.m., surprise.

Sunday, July 4:

9-10:30 a.m., breakfast at the Club Congo.

11 a.m., Sunday worship.

2:30-5 p.m., open public meeting at Second Baptist. Scheduled speakers include Mayor Fletcher Bowron, Postmaster Michael D. Fanning, Attorney B. V. Lawson, and Pan Hellenic representatives, Lucille Jones, Deltas; Tomasina Ayers, Zetas; Attorney Tom Bradley, Kappas; Dr. J. Warren Moss, Sigmas; and representatives of AKA and Sigma Gamma Rho sororities.

8-11 p.m., closed cocktail party.

Monday, July 5:

9 a.m.-noon, closed business session at conference hearquarters.

6-8 p.m., closed banquet at Alena's clubhouse.

Items on the agenda are slated for discussion include national and local policy, undergraduate problems, housing, the 1948 national convention in Atlantic City, social and civic affairs, as well as numerous fraternity projects.

Brown-Beavers Ceremony In Brilliant 'Church' Setting

Phyllis Hoxie, wearing green crepe with a pink gardenia corsage.

The beautiful four-tiered wedding cake, weighing 102 pounds, trimmed with delicate pink roses, lilies of the valley and orange blossoms and roses on the second tier, enclosed with dondolas, was cut by the Misses Althea Warren and Norma Lee McDaniels, assisted by Mmes. Virgie Fixaco and Blanch Groggs. A garland of pink tinted gardenias and pink roses surrounded the cake.

Registering the guests were Emily Portwig, Irene Bradford and Euvalda Morris. Pouring punch and serving in the gardens were Evelyn Brown, Lucille Boswell, Leontyne Russell, Helen Wright and Doris Galloway. Gifts were supervised by Helen Watkins, Emma Manuel, Phyllis Hoxie, Viola Hubbard, Bette Alston asd Mrs. Garrison. Mrs. Zenobia Allen, Audrey Jones and Ursella Murrill served as Central Hostesses. Other assistants included Burroughs J. Jackson, Charles DeMan and William Farrington.

Appropriate music was played, throughout the afternoon, by the Euterpian String Orchestra.

Among the out-of-town guests present was Mrs. J. C. Whitby, of San Francisco.

The bride was smart in a dark green traveling suit with dark green accessories and white and green net hat. A fur scarf and white orchids completed her going-away outfit.

Following the reception, a few intimate friends and the bridal party were entertained with an after-party in the lovely home of Attorney and Mrs. Crispus A. Wright. Many pre-nuptial affairs were given in honor of the newlyweds.

Credits for one of the most beautiful weddings ever held in Los Angeles is to be given to Julian Dempsey and his mother, Mrs. Mabel Dempsey, for the designing and making of the bridal attendants' gowns; to Helen Jane Flower Shop for the elaborate floral decorations; to "Iva," Iona V. Armstrong, who designed the hats for Jessie Mae Brown, exclusively; to James A. Davis, who made the very unusual wedding cake; and to Mrs. Leontyne King and Phyllis Hoxie, directress and assistant, respectively, of the wedding proper.

The bride is a graduate of Los Angeles High School and was an Alpha Kappa Alpha on the campus at U.C.L.A., where she majored in Sociology. She is the Society Editor of the California Eagle, a member of the Second Baptist Church, member of Iota Phi Lambda Business Sorority, Crop 'N Tail Riding Club, Turnabout Charity Club, Junior Westview Guild, and is a native-born Californian.

The groom is a graduate of Jefferson High School. He matriculated at the University of California in Berkeley before entering the United States Army. He is now attending U.S.C. where he is majoring in Business Administration. He is an active member of the Independent Church of Christ, the Cosmos Social Club, and is also a native Californian.

The couple are honeymooning at Carmel-By-The-Sea in Monterey, California. They will be at home to their many friends, after July 11th, at 936 East 33rd Street.

Main Street PTA Install Officers

The last meeting of the Main Street PTA for the summer was one of interest and importance since it marked the installation of the new president, Mrs. Otrie L. Taylor, and other members of her staff for the coming year.

Impressive and inspiring installation ceremonies were conducted by Mrs. Perry Thompson, second vice-president of Fremont Council. The symbol of office was turned over to Mrs. Taylor by the out-going president, Mrs. Evelyn Reed, who also presented each new officer with a lovely hand-made gift.

An interesting resume of the year's work was given by historian, Mrs. Helen Wynn. Officers installed at this meeting beside the president, Mrs. Otrie L. Taylor were: Esther Shultz, vice-president; Miss A. Levine, second vice, Mrs. Ann White, secretary; Mrs. Helen Wynn, treasurer; Mrs. M. Stein, historian; Mrs. O. Selby, auditor; Mrs. Evelyn Reed, parliamentatian.

Committee chairman named by Mrs. Taylor are: Community Youth, Mrs. Mildred Miller; program, Mrs. Esther Shultz; Community Chest, Mrs. Francis Hoxie; hospitality, Mrs. Ophelia Beckwith; elementary education, Miss A. Levine, Ways and Means Mrs. F. Beutley; Room Mother, Mrs. Evelyn Reed; publicity chairman, Mrs. Wyman H. Burney.

To Swell Fund For Scholarships

The Delta Mothers and Sponsors club are sponsoring a garden party in the beautiful gardens of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Somerville, 2104 S. Harvard blvd. Sunday, July 11 at 3 p.m. for the benefit of their scholarship fund.

The club assists Delta Sigma Theta sorority in any worthwhile undertaking and aids and encourages the educational and cultural advantages of worthy young women by giving scholarships.

Pasadena Sorority Gives Annual Tea

The Zeta Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta sorority gave its first annual tea, Sunday, June 20 at the Scattergood Club House, truly a beautiful place for any social gathering. Many families turned to help father celebrate his day as this was a father's day tea honoring the father of the family. There were prizes for the children, which was given to Claudia Garner, first; Margaret Garcia, second; Mary Lynn Garner, third.

The program was a solute to father in every respect. members would like to thank the Horton family who rendered several numbers and the other patrons who made the program a success. The best we can say

DOUBLE HONORS recently came to Dr. Thomas Roy Peyton who is a specialist in rectal diseases with offices located at 2068 South Hobart Boulevard. The first was the acceptance of Dr. Peyton as a member of the courtesy staff of the Queen Of Angels Hospital, marking the first time a Negro doctor has been accorded full medical and surgical privileges in a private Hospital. Queen of Angeles is a Catholic hospital and in granting Dr. Peyton courtesy privileges, it has set a new mark in inter-racial progress. The second of Dr. Peyton's honors was his election ot the presidency of the Southern California Medical Dental and Pharmaceutical Association. He plans to direct the organizations program toward better race relations. Other officers serving with him are: Dr. Claude Hudson, vice-pres.; E. Tennyson Giddings, Pr. D., secretary; Marvin Jackson, Ph. D., corresponding secretary; and Dr. Curtis Carr, treasurer.

LOCAL PUBLISHER ADMITS PARENTAGE OF DAVIS' BABIES

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA Sororities plan a program to honor Supreme Basileus, Mrs. Edna Over Gray, this Sunday afternoon at five at the First Methodist African Methodist Episcopal Church at 8th and Towne. Mrs. Gray comes to Los Angeles following a visit to the Mid-Western and Far-Western Regional Conferences held at Denver, Colo., and San Diego, Calif., respectively. She is head of the history department of Frederick Douglass High School in Baltimore, and President of the Board of Directors of the American Council of Human Rights. (See story on social page.)

Lucius Lomax Jr. Admits Being Father of Almena's Children

By JT Gipson

Lucius Lomax, Jr., publisher and owner of the Los Angeles Tribune and Almena Davis, editor of the same paper, admitted on the stand Tuesday in Department 48 before Judge Arthur Coats, under questioning by Walter L. Gordan, Jr., attorney for Mrs. Carmelita Lomax, well-known local socialite, who is suing her husband for divorce, that they were the father and mother respectively of two children born out of wedlock while Lomax Jr., was the lawfully wedded husband of Mrs. Carmelita Lomax.

The children were born at the California hospital on November 4, 1944, and October 2nd 1947. The birth certificates were signed by Almena Davis and an

Taylor Speaks in Fresno Tonite; People for Miles Come in Trucks

FRESNO—Senator Glen Taylor, of Idaho, candidate for vice-president of the United States on the Independent Progressive party ticket, will speak at a mass rally to be held in the Memorial auditorium at 8 p.m. tonight, Thursday.

This will be the first time for Senator Taylor to speak in San Joaquin Valley ,and it is expected that the large auditorium will be jammed to capacity. Preparations have been made to bring people anxious to hear the Independent Progressive candidate, from Madera, Firebaugh, Chowhilla, and other places for miles around. Cotton picking contractors are lending their trucks to bring in the people from the agricultural areas.

Others who will take part in the program at the really this evening, will be Mrs. Josephine Daniels, candidate for Congress from the 9th District; Sidney Roger, internationally known radio commentator; and Abigail Alvarez, famous Mexican actress and singer, who will sing in Spanish.

Senator Taylor's tour began Tuesday night, when he addressed a rally in the Stockton high school auditorium. At noon today he will deliver a message at a private luncheon in Modesto, then go to Fresno where he will hold a roun dtable discussion, and then take part in a private dinner talk at the Fresno hotel before going to the Memorial auditorium.

Tomorrow, Friday, Senator Taylor will have luncheon with a group of backers of the IPP in Porterville, and that afternoon he will meet with a number of farmers from Terra Bella. Then he will go to Bakersfield where he will address a meeting in the Washington high school auditorium.

WHAT PRICE LOYALTY?

From the earliest period of history-making in our nation, United States historians have set a dangerous precedent of establishing facts — or not establishing facts about Negro Americans.

In the public schools of our country, from Massachusetts to California, students learn little or nothing about the Negro's contribution to the building of this nation.

Shortly after the Pilgrims had fled from England in search of religious freedom and settled at Plymouth Rock, our boasted capitalist system — or national gambling — became an established institution. And this ssytem became the foundation upon which slavery was founded and grew.

The early settlers in the Massachusetts Colony, and also in Virginia, knew that the Dutch and some English merchants, in reality searoving pirates, were engaged in human slave traffic for profit.

Despite the fact that the wheels of early American industry were first turned by slave labor, little or no recognition is given to their contribution. The growth and development of the cotton industry which was the backlog and foundation for the cotton cloth factories of New England and upon which the American capitalist system was promoted, was also the result of slave labor.

Even before the slaves were emancipated, they helped freedom's cause. And it was not always for their own freedom that they worked at great risk of their lives and safety. They worked and fought and died for the freedom of the colonies from British domination.

Lawyer Seeks Substitution In 'Conspiracy Charge' Case

Following the revelations by the California EAGLE last week that there was evidence of conspiracy in the Westbrook will case that has been before the courts in one manner or another for almost two years, information was received by the Eagle that Maynard Henry, lawyer for Edward Westbrook, administrator of the estate left by his father, the late Charles Westbrook, was attempting to have himself substituted for by another attorney.

Last week Henry told a California EAGLE reporter that he was voluntarily withdrawing from the case because he was due in Spokane, Wash., on Wednesday, and it appeared to him that the matter now before the court would be in trial on that day. He said he did not want to withdraw after the trial ended on Tuesday, and trial ende don Tuesday, and Henry was seen in the neighborhood. He filed a claim for over $1800 for services as attorney to Edward Westbrook, and it is believed that he seeks to have himself substituted for, in order to collect his fee now while there is sufficient money to pay him, and before the greed and collusion, that is reportedly a part of the case, eats it up.

According to Mrs. Cliff Westbrook, wife of Edward West-

Randolph Forms League Against Segregation

New York, N. Y.—Declaring "We can't fail because our cause is just and sound and righteous," A. Philip Randolph, fifty-nine-year-old President of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, American Federation of Labor, announced formation last Saturday of a League for Non-Violent Civil Disobedience against Military Segregation. The headquarters of the League are at 2929 Broadway.

Giving President Truman until Aug. 16, to issue an executive order against segregation in the Armed Forces, Mr. Randolph warned that if no such order is issued, the League will campaign throughout the country for non-compliance with the new draft law by both Negroes and whites.

Committee Organized to Press For Jobs in Community Banks

The conference called by Sidney Moore and Rev. George Cofield around the securing of Negro teller and clerk positions at the Bank of America, 25th and Central Ave. Branch, June 29th, at the YMCA, 1006 E. 28th St., had a broad representation with representatives from churches, labor unions, social groups, political and fraternal organizations.

The unanimous sentiment expressed there was that this project was long over due, and it was the obligation and responsibility of all groups to join in action to end discrimination in hiring in firms in the community.

The conference decided on immediate action to be carried out to fulfill the desire of the people to break down discrimination in the banks in the community, mainly the bank at 25th Street and Central Ave.

Proposed action was:

1—That all churches, labor unions, social clubs, fraternal and political organizations, and individuals should send letters of protest to A. J. Cook, president of the Board of Directors, of the Bank of America, 660 S. Spring Street, Los Angeles, California. We suggest that three copies of the letter be made. One copy should be retained in the files of the organization, one should be sent to the committee at 4622 S. Central Ave., and one should be sent to Mr. Cook by registered mail.

Editor Speaks To Guests at Murray's Ranch

Murray's Dude Ranch, Victorville, was a mecca on the Fourth of July (celebrated on the Fifth) for a cross section of citizens from all parts of the state. People came from as far away as San Francisco, all kinds and classes of people, as many with a Caucasian background as those of a darker hue.

And after enjoying together swimming, horseback riding, baseball, golf, and other games of modern days, they all gathered in the spacious dining-room, which after the delicious dinner became the meeting place for the exchange of political views.

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor and publisher of The California Eagle, was the principal speaker. She pointed out, that just as "today, here at Murray's Ranch, we can all play together as people, so all over the world, the people of the world, if let alone to work out their own salvation, can work

Democrats Plagued by Ike As Convention Time Nears

BY JAY MORGAN

With the Democratic convention opening less than a week away, attention is focused on the last-minute intrigues and operations, some reports of which might serve to indicate that there will be few delegations present at the convention that will be solidly behind a second term for President Truman.

California, an anxious spot for both old line parties, will command a strategic position at the Democratic convention, because of the unwavering strength of the Independent Progressive Party, and because its governor, Earl Warren, is the Republican nominee for vice president. James Roosevelt, California state Democratic party chairman, has been reported as favoring General Ike Eisenhower so strongly as the Democratic nominee, he will go to President Truman and ask him to step aside. In response to questioning on this report, Roosevelt said last week:

"I said that I am for an Eisenhower - Douglas ticket. We're having a caucus at 8 p. m. Saturday at the Illinois

Carver National Insurance Co. Authorized to Operate in Cal.

There was great jubilation in the office of B. B. Bratton, president of Carver National Life Insurance Company, as the clock struck 12 on June 30.

That was the deadline for the company to raise half a million dollars in order to meet state requirements for its authority to do business as an Old Line Life Insurance company.

Close to 12,000 investors scattered throughout the state had put up heir money for shares in the company but unless the total reserve fund was subscribed to, that money would have to be returned and there would be no Carver Life Insurance Company.

For the last three months, Mr. Bratton, his board of directors, and a small corps of agents had been working like fury to encourage investment in the stock. Three weeks ago, the prospects of meeting the deadline looked slim.

Then things began to happen. An Oakland business man took out $40.000 shares. A Los Angeles attorney invested $30.000 for his clients. Masonic lodges bought blocks of stock.

So near and yet so far from the goal, Bratton phoned Oakland executives to call in all pledges at once. It was 10 minutes to 12.

Finally, the last subscription, which ended the feverish drive, came in from Capt. J. L. Taylor, retired Fire captain, of Los Angeles.

Mr. Bratton and his staff met every challenge laid down by the State Insurance Commission.

During the campaign some of the state laws governing corporations were changed. This made their job more difficult.

"We can not thank the rank and file of people in northern and southern California whose faith in us really put this company over," Bratton said today.

"The successful completion of this company opens the way for more and greater Negro business. Since it has been demonstrated that we can finance a half million dollar company, we can also complete the financing of casualty companies and other business enterprises, including banks, if we show the same determination and business acumen in placing our investments," he continued.

Bratton declared that there is no reason why Negroes should not control the investment of their capital through institutions they own.

"Rather than let our monies lie virtually idle in the banks and institutions of others, who thereby have the right to make investments with it, we should establish form corporations of our own," he said. "Carver Life Insurance company has demonstrated a trend of action in this direction."

Because the directors of Carver met the state requirements so admirably, the sale of an additional small number of shares is being granted by the state for last-minute investors. These subscriptions will be taken only at the company headquarters, 2514½ South Central Ave.

In addition to Mr. Bratton, president, the following comprise the directors and officers of the new company:

Dr. Daniel A. Collins, chairman of the board; M. M. Fields, first vice-president; Wm. Faulkner, secretary; Karl F. Kimbrough, assistant secretary; Wesley F. Johnson, treasurer; Ura D. Harvel, assistant treasurer; Edmund Allen, comptroller; Wm. H. Sharpe and John Ware, directors. Sales supervisors are William House, U. S. Griggs and Leon M. Giles. Fay M. Jackson was director of publicity for the campaign.

Non-White Americans Slurred

The strangest edicts and pronouncements come from some of the United States' officials and bureaus. Pointing up sharply the double-faced policy of official Washington are the instructions sent out by the Customs Bureau for procedure in filling out forms by Americans seeking passage for foreign travel. The Customs Bureau which comes under the jurisdiction of Secretary of the Treasury, John W. Snyder, has decided that only Caucasians are to be designated as Americans.

Following are the instructions which have raised a storm of protests all over the nation: "Native born citizens of the United States of all Caucasian or white races, departing for permanent residence in a foreign country, should be recorded by race as 'American'. Other native-born citizens of the United States, viz: African (black), Chinese, Japanese . . . should be classed under their respective designations."

Leslie Perry of the Washington Bureau of the NAACP has written Treasury Secretary Snyder a strong protest, and reports indicate growing resentment will force a change in what is considered a gratuitous slur against non-white Americans.

Red Cross Head Elected Again

William T. Sesnon, Jr. has been reelected chairman of the Los Angeles Red Cross chapter at the annual meeting of the organization held in Chapter House auditorium, 1200 South Vermont avenue.

This marks the third successive year that Sesnon had been named volunteer head of the Red Cross here.

Other officers named were: Paul K. Yost, Shirley Burden, William E. Candy, Olin Wellborn, III, vice-chairmen; Mrs. Lyman Henry Johnson, secretary; and Herbert M. Baruch, treasurer.

Chosen to serve on the local Red Cross chapter's executive committee, along with those named above were: Gurney E. Newlin, Robert Niven, Mrs. Sumner Spaulding, Mrs. Lawler Stern and Mrs. O. C. Welbourn, chairman of volunteer special services for the Red Cross here.

"No Quarter for Bias"-Wallace

WASHINGTON — Declaring that both President Truman and the Republican party had abandoned their civil rights programs, Henry Wallace declared that the post-Civil War work of Thaddeus Stevens Congress remains an unfinished task which must be completed if democracy in this country is to remain and expand.

He made the statement in an address before 500 people attending a Washington Wallace for President dinner at the Statler Hotel. Dr. Joseph L. Johnson, Dean of Medical School of Howard University, was chairman.

Wallace said that Congressman John Rankin's recent statement that there "would be unity in the Democratic Party on civil rights questions" is the latest proof that the views of President Truman's civil rights message "are not the views of Mr. Truman."

Wallace cited the fact that Truman took no action when Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall instructed the governor of New Jersey that segregation in the national guard was in the interests of "national security," and that on May 25 President Truman, "when asked at his press conference whether an Executive Order is being drafted to prohibit employment discrimination in the Federal government, after some hesitancy Mr. Truman finally replied that no such order is being drafted.

Truman made his recent 8000-mile swing across the country without ever mentioning directly civil rights except to attack the Congress led by Thaddeus Stevens which was responsible for the 13th and 14th Amendments, Wallace said.

Criticizing the Republicans for their refusal to advocate full civil rights in their platform, Wallace charged that at the Philadelphia GOP convention Republican leaders handed out $5000 for parties to try and keep Negro delegates away from white delegates, ignored Negro representatives and refused to hear Magistrate Reynolds, their officially appointed spokesman, on desired changes in the inadequate civil rights plank.

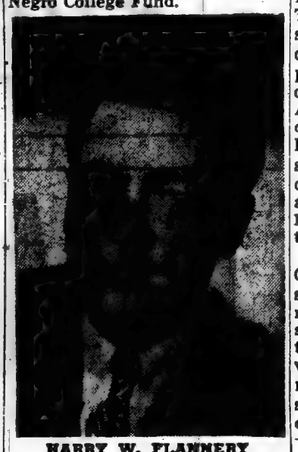
"When the New Party convenes in Philadelphia," Wallace said, "it will give no quarter to Jim Crow, to prejudice, to intolerance, to bigotry."

The New Party may be forced to compromise on appropriations or technicalities, Wallace added, but "on the fundamental problem of full rights for all citizens —on the matter of the hateful, undemocratic, vicious, costly and utterly criminal practice of segregation and discrimination, we shall not compromise. They must be rooted out."

He said that "only the New Party is dedicated to keeping the spirit of the Constitution of the United States.

"Even if they wanted to," Wallace said, "the old parties cannot live up to the obligations of the 14th and 15th Amendments. Their very existence is predicated on the disenfranchisement of masses of Southern voters."

He said true democracy did not exist in the South and that "the overall picture in the South is one of disenfranchisement of Negroes and whites, a low level of health and education, segregation, poverty and corrupt governments. It is a sick land nursed by morally sick politicians who remain in power through the poll tax."



He pledged that the New Party would end the one-party dictatorship in the South and help the South to become free and productive.

Wallace also urged home rule for the District of Columbia, saying it would also strike a powerful blow to Jim Crow and all its ugly ways.

College Fund Drive Aided by Radio Program

Harry W. Flannery, noted radio commentator, has transcribed a radio show, "Much With Little," on behalf of the United Negro College Fund.

HARRY W. FLANNERY

The fifteen-minute program features the stories of four outstanding graduates of the 32 private Negro universities and colleges which make up the Fund. The first biographical sketch is about Asa Sims, graduate of Hampton Institute and founder of the garden clubs of Virginia and North Carolina. The second tells the story of Alpha Hines, Spelman College graduate and expert in health. The third is about James Egert Allen who graduated from Johnson C. Smith University and at present holds the position of District School Community Relations Counselor of the Board of Education of New York City. The fourth biographical sketch tells how Hildrus Augustus Poindexter graduated fro mLincoln University and went on to become one of the outstanding epidemiologists of the country. Dr. Poindexter was responsible for reducing by 85% the malaria rate among American troops in the Pacific during the last war.

Mr. Flannery, who contributed his services to the program, has a distinguished career of news reporting and analyzing. He has seen service in 28 foreign countries. He has been on the air for 16 years, much of that time for the Columbia Broadcasting System. He is the author of the book "Assignment to Berlin."

"Much With Little" is being used in conjunction with the drive of the United Negro College Fund to raise $50,000 in the Los Angeles community as a share in the $1,400,000 being raised this year by the Fund.

Voice of Wallace Is Brought to You

The voices of Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor can now be heard in your own living room to help you raise essential funds for the New Party.

A special phonograph record has just been produced for use at New Party parties. On one side, William S. Gailmor, noted radio commentator, introduces Henry Wallace, who then gives a very vivid picture of how great and prosperous America can be. Gailmor then points out that all this is possible only if the New Party receives sufficient funds to carry it through to victory.

On reverse side, Gailmor introduces Senator Taylor who discusses civil rights. He sets forth the New Party's program to make America free of all restrictions on civil liberties. Gailmor then points out that only financial backing for the New Party will make it possible to assure civil rights.

Uniform Rules for Nursing Asked

The American Nurses' Association, which represents more than 160,000 registered professional nurses, has made an exhaustive study of the problem of the lack of adequate, uniform legislation covering the practice of nursing.

The ANA declares this is a problem which must be dealt with on a nationwide scale. There are a large number of states in which anyone can put on a uniform and practice nursing. In such cases the public is often at the mercy of unqualified persons who call themselves nurses but who lack the education and the training necessary for a competent practical nurse.

To combat this situation, the ANA is endeavoring to arouse the public, all health officials, and legislators to adopt legislation which will set up a standard which "practical nurses" will have to meet before they can be admitted to the nursing profession.

the American Revolution, Crispus Attucks, who died on Boston Commons in an attack by the British soldiers on American colonists. He was the leader of a small group of white American defenders of their early liberty.

But for all his daring and bravery, this intrepid early American Negro soldier has been denied a chapter in American history. And what is true of Crispus Attucks is true all down the line in the national scene.

While still in chains, the American Negro did not shrink from his duty in sharing the responsibility of winning the Revolutionary War—freedom from British tyranny.

FIGHTING FOR FREEDOM

He fought for his own freedom in the Civil War, and he fought for the preservation of the Union. It is said that while his slave-master fought on the side of the Confederate army to retain him in bondage, the Negro slave left in charge of his master's family never betrayed a trust.

And, from the beginning of this nation to the present day, in all wars and achievements, in its creations in the arts and sciences in its literature and its industry, under the most adverse circumstances and often in the face of cruel oppression, the Negro American has served his country in the same faith that he has served his God. While in the service of his country, at home and abroad, there has never been any occasion to question the loyalty of the Negro citizen.

SHOULD WE FORGET?

Now, in view of all this, the attitude of the United States Post Office Department towards four Negro employees just does not make sense.

Read the history of the case on the editorial page. It surely poses the question, no matter how true an American one may be, as to the price of loyalty exacted by this country.

Bishop College Week To Be Highlighted With Noted Spaker For Church Program

Highlight of last week's meeting of the Los Angeles Bishop College club was the signing of the club charter by twenty-five Bishop alumni and former students; stressing the club's non-profitable organization working toward the upbuilding financially and spiritually of the college's growth.

Weekly meetings are scheduled for July to complete last minute details of the coming "Bishop College Week," July 20-25, one of the most unique array of affairs of this social season. Plans include a dinner-dance at beautiful Park Manor, July 22, featuring a program of screen, stage and radio stars, dancing to the delightful tunes of a popular orchestra and enjoying the buoyant hospitality of the Bishopites; closing the week with a "Bishop College Day" at the St. Paul Baptist church, July 25, both events are open to the public with special guest speaker at each affair, A. Stephens Jackson, II, director of Public Relations of the college.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Commodore Wynn, 1640 E. 46th St., Sunday, July 4, at 4:30 p.m.

Planned Trailer Village Offers Modern Comfort

One of the finest ventures launched recently to help alleviate crowded housing conditions is a planned community trailer project by two enterprising gentlemen, Maurice Baer and Julius Daar. They have virtually created a "city within a city" out of their modern acreage at 2371 E. 119th st.

Planned primarily to give families living in trailers on crowded city backyard lots spacious living and modern conveniences, the trailer community has all the charm and planning of any city residence.

Baer and Daar have called their community Springdale Trailer Village, which is equipped to give individual water, sewer, and electrical service. A special feature is a cement patio for each trailer. And the nice part about this whole project is that children are welcome.

A large utility building is available with fully-equipped private showers, dressing rooms and bath kept immaculately clean. Carefully planned to the nth degree, the village also has a playground for the kiddies, a laundry house, and street lights which burn all night. However, it must be clearly understood, occupants must furnish their own trailers or they may select from three popular models they sell. Rentals of the trailer space is amazingly reasonable and inclusive of all utilities. Used trailers can be bought for small down payments with the balance payable weekly.

Don't let high prices cheat you out of a real bargain in items you can use now. Too many people who have the money but are waiting to buy things they really need until prices drop are victims of a negative crowd psychology.

Quack Psychos To Be Checked

Last week Councilman Kenneth Hahn, Chairman of the Public Health and Welfare Committee of the City Council, held a conference, in conjunction with the Revenue and Taxation Committee, on the qualifications required for the issuance of licenses for consuling psychologists.

At the present time anyone can obtain a license by paying a $12 fee and this has resutled in innumerable "quacks" obtaining such a license and preying on the public.

The conference was attended by many well-known psychologists of Los Angeles and vicnity among whom were Dr. E. V. Pullias, Dean of George Pepperdine College; Dr. W. C. Varnum, Chairman of the Psychology Department at Los Angeles City College; Dr. R. M. Dorcus, Professor of Psychology at U.C.L.A.; Dr. F. T. Perkins, Head of the Psychology Department at Claramont College; Dr. Paul de River, Psychologist of the Los Angeles Police Department, Dr. N. D. Warren, Head of the Psychology Department at U.S.C. and D. L. Cole, Instructor in the Department of Psychology at Occidental College. The City Attoney's office was represented as well as members of various church groups and organizations.

Adjustments to Favor Landlords

Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods announces he has revised rent adjustment regulations, effective July 10, so that:

1. Under a new adjustment provision, no landlord need operate units under rent control at a loss. This is in keeping with the provision in the Housing and Rent Act of 1948 that the Expediter shall give "due consideration" to landlords operating at a loss.

2. A small landlord (one who owns not more than four rental dwelling units) will have no difficulty in qualifyiing for a justified hardship adjustment. He will merely have to fill out a simplified "short form" on which he will show how his net income has fallen because of increased costs of fuel, taxes, utilities, and insurance.

"These changes," said Mr. Woods, "will, I believe, remove many of the complaints against the adjustment provisions that some landlords have made in the past.

"We have now worked out what I believe is a complete answer to the objection that a landlord operating at a loss could not always obtain relief.

Polio Cases Off In LA Thus Far

Polio cases in Los Angeles for 1948 are running below the number for 1947, according to Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer.

"At this time last year there were 101 cases, but so far in 1948 there have been only 67 reported. This is, however, one disease for which predictions can not be made accurately, except for the fact that it is usually most prevalent during the summer months," Dr. Uhl said.

Last year for this period there were seven. polio deaths, compared with three deaths so far in 1948, he added.

Fires in hot cooking fats confront housewives daily. Damage may be great unless proper action is taken at once. Such fires should be smothered. Cover with a lid or a wet dish towel. Never attempt to remove the container, and never try to extinguish with water.

New Dwelling Units

A total of 131,346 new dwelling units financed and built under the various programs of the Federal Housing Administration was placed under construction during the first five months of this year, FHA Commissioner Franklin D. Richards announced today.

West Africans Leaning Toward Russians

Washington, D. C.—(G)—In a recent report on British rule in West Africa, and presented to the Foreign Policy Association, revealed that more and more Africans would show increasing interest in Russia as they became better acquainted.

The report was prepared by Dr. Vernon McKay, who visited West Africa under the Carnegie Corporation grant. He found many natives complaining that British progress toward Africanization of the colonies was too slow. "Africans are likely to show a growing interest in the methods by which the Soviet Union has developed its backward areas," said Dr. McKay. In Freetown, the capital of Sierra Leone, a number of newspaper editors are pro-Russian in their attitude toward the present Soviet-American World conflict.

What West Africa needs, in the opinion of Dr. McKay. is faster Africanization of the civil services, more vigorous efforts on the part of the British to improve industry and agriculture. There should also be a great emphasis of the psychological problem of building mutual confidence between races.

New IPP Office Address Given

The State Office of the Independent Progressive Party is now located at 802 Montgomery Street (at Jackson) in San Francisco. The new phone number has not been announced as yet, but a call made to ORdway 3-1236, will be referred to the new number.

The state headquarters in California is the nerve-center of the steadily-growing exodus to the standard of Henry Wallace and Glen Taylor, and the announcement of its removal is made in order to keep local offices in constant touch with the home plate.

Nine Years Old

Field operations of the city health department's industrial division entered their ninth year this month, according to Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer.

The unit, which is directed by Dr. A. V. Nasatir, has served thousands of industries, checking for every conceivable means of protecting the health of employees on the job, he declared.

U. S. Civil Service Lists Job Openings For Veterans

The Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Los Angeles, California, announces an examination for Cook, Baker and Meatcutter, with salaries ranging from $1822 to $2694 per year. Applications will be accepted until further notice.

Permanent appointments, as a result of this examination, will be made to fill positions at Veterans Administration Hospitals located at San Fernando, Van Nuys (Birmingham), and West Los Angeles (Sawtelle), and at Long Beach Naval Hospital, Long Beach, California.

Applications may be secured from the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Veterans Administration, Wilshire and Sawtelle Boulevards, Los Angeles 25, California, or from Boards of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at any first or second-class post office where the examination is posted.

All-Time Record Set in Building

The completion of 125,000 new homes or more in Southern California during 1948 is now virtually assured. A new all-time record for home construction is almost certain to result from tre tremendous momentum of residence building now taking place.

This was the housing outlook for the Southland offered by Vern R. Huck, President of the Building Contractors Association of California, this week. He asserted that every reliable source of home building information shows positively that California builders are meeting the housing need of the State much more rapidly than the shortage is being overcome in other parts of the nation.

Howard University Gets New Buildings

Washington, D. C.—Title to Lucy Diggs Slowe Hall and George Washington Carver Hall, government-owned residence halls, transferred Wednesday, June 30th, from the Defense Homes Corporation to Howard University. The university will operate the two halls as dormitories for its students.

The buildings, completed in 1943, were built originally to meet an urgent need in Washington for housing accommodations for single Negroes, principally those who came to Washington to take part in wartime government activities.

Landscape Architects Honor Tuskegee Grad

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, Ala.—The American Society of Landscape Architects has awarded Edward Lawrence Pryce a certificate of merit for excellence in the study of landscape architecture at Ohio State University, Columbus, for the Academic Year, 1947-1948.

Before entering Ohio State University, Pryce graduated with honors from Tuskegee Institute in the Class of 1937 with a Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture. At Tuskegee he was a captain in the R.O.T.C., and a member of the Ki-Yi Club and was affiliated with other campus organizations.

At present Pryce is instructor in landscape design at Tuskegee Institute.

Child House on West Adams Is Serving Parents and Children

On West Adams Boulevard as you near S. Arlington going West one is attracted to a rather odd new structure with plenty of glass in its walls to let in the sunlight. This is the new home of the Child House which brings new hope to parents who want the very best of attention given their growing children and have wished to better understand how best to aid their normal growth and development.

This project was begun about five years ago as a non-profit institution dedicated to a broad program of child guidance and parent education. In fact it was on October 22, 1944 Child House Nursery School was established at 3855 W. 7th Avenue. The founders were a group of psychologists, physician and educators who recognize that education starts at birth of the individual. and that the foundation of human character is laid in the very early stages of life and that academic education is the acquisition of skills and let themselves to the challenging task of implementing such basic concepts with a center for demonstrating and propagating their use. They moved into their new building early this year and have already begun caring for children and parents alike.

The nursery is open to any child from 2 to 6 years—on a first - come - first - serve basis. Though the cost per child is $62 the charge is only $50.00 per month. They bake their own bread, make their jellies, chocolate milk, salads, etc. The bird house in the yard is a result of the group workshop project; finger and easel painting, clay and paper work, movies, folk dance exhibits etc. are some of their activities. Among their teachers are Mrs. Clotiel Goree, formally of the Pilgrim House and Mrs. Mercer Reaves.

Parent education courses are also open to all parents. More than 400 parents, physicians, teachers and social workers have participated during the past quarter. Such courses were offered by experts, "The First Two Years," "General Problems of Parenthood and Marriage," "Teachers and Social Workers Work Shop," "The First Six Years" and Psychomatic Seminars. Interested persons should write to the Child House, 2225 W. Adams Blvd. or call ROchester 0740 to be put on the mailing list for future courses.

Child House is a symbol of community cooperation in the interest of its children. Interested persons may join the Child House Association by getting in touch with Sylvan Pasternak, information director and coordinator of the school.

Donna Gebro, Patient at Children's Hospital on Campaign Posters

The appealing brown eyes of little 4-year-old Donna Gebro, of Gardena, will search the hearts of Southern California's health minded during the coming months as the hospital starts work on its $5,000,000 building fund.

Donna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gebro, is shown in the chosen photo looking up from her doll, a constant companion during her stay at the hospital.

She was brought to the Children's hospital a year ago severely burned about the head and shoulders when she was watching burning rubbish which exploded. Extensive care completely restored her health and left no indication of her burns.

The photograph will be reproduced throughout the Children's hospital program on all literature and poster material. The $5,000,000 campaign aims at expanding and extending the hospital's treatment of the critically ill and injured children of this area. The campaign is now in the blueprint stage.

A community voluntary institution, the Children's hospital is the only general hospital for children in the entire southwest. It is supported entirely by Community Chests, private donations, and pay and part-pay patients.

Goodwill Adds Space For Expanded Service

Goodwill Industries of Southern California has just completed the addition of the fourth floor on the building at 342 San Fernando Road. There is also an additional story and a half building to the South, which provides ample quarters for the Reception Office, Personnel, and Welfare, and Collection Offices, with the Drivers' Chapel, where services are held each morning.

The moving of some of the industrial activities to the fourth floor, has made possible enlargement of the kitchen on the third floor. The, Woman's Auxiliary, under the leadership of Mrs. Edwin A. Ingham, president, has just installed complete modern equipment in the kitchen, which will mean better service to the 500 employees.

25,000 Kids Suggest Baby Elephant's Name

Los Angeles kids have taken the new baby elephant at Griffith Park Zoo to their hearts. The City Recreation and Park Department reports that more than 25,000 entry blanks were requested by youngsters to join in the city-wide contest to find a name for the infant pachyderm. The contest closed yesterday.

Sheldon Reappointed To Board of Education

Reappointment of William A. Sheldon to a two-year term on the County Board of Education was announced last week by Supervisor Leonard J. Roach, who proposed his name.

Mr. Sheldon, who lives at 1835 South Wilton Place, has been a member of the Board since April of 1941.

You Been Working on The Railroad Lately?

The California State Employment Service reports 3 types of experienced railroad workers — brakemen, switchmen and firemen—are needed to help move ripe produce to markets and food processors. These workers are asked to contact the Service office at 506 West 11th Street in Los Angeles.

Central Avenue Improvements Promised Soon

Acting on recommendations of the Central Avenue Community Council, Councilmen Hahn, Bennett and Allen have promised they will give immediate consideration to the improvements suggested by the Council.

The Council had asked that pedestrian marks in the Central Avenue area be repainted, and that speed limit signs and danger markers be refurbished. The councilmen were also requested to press for strict enforcement of traffic laws on Central Avenue.

Anent the question of limited parking signs on the Avenue, there has been so much discussion of the matter pro and con, it was decided to get community expression as a guide. Suggestion boxes in which residents are asked to drop their written opinion, are located at: the Bank of America, 25th and Central; Western Dry Goods Store, 4363 S. Central; Vernon Library, 45th and Central; Rexall Drug Stare, Vernon and Central; Paradise Lounge, 55th and Central and Adams Drug Store, 1209 S. Central.

No Smoking in Mountain Areas

Early closing of the city's mountain areas to all open burning and smoking was announced yesterday by John H. Alderson, Chief Engineer of the Los Angeles Fire Department. July 1, closed season regulations went into effect throughout brush-covered sections of the city. Cited by Alderson as the reason for this action are abnormally dry conditions resulting from a severe lack of winter rainfall.

"Many areas," he pointed out, "already need only a discarded cigarette or the sparks from an open fire to touch them off."

The new regulations call for the elimination of all open burning and smoking in mountain areas. Fire officials estimate that more than three thousand signs will have been posted to clearly indicate the areas affected by the prohibition. To date this summer numerous small brush fires have occurred and the hazard to valuable watershed and to homes within the areas is said to be increasing daily. Authorities have announced that continuous patrols will be maintained to enforce the regulations.

Mussels Are Poison Don't Eat Them Now

Mussels are more poisonous at present than at any other time since 1927, according to an announcement received from the State health department today by Dr. Roy O. Gilbert, Los Angeles county health officer.

The telegram urged the health officer to warn the public of the increased danger.

The quarantine is established by the California state department of public health each year from May 1 to October 31 because a minute organism is present in west coast ocean waters during the summer months. This organism when ingested by mussels makes the shellfish poisonous to humas.

Most elderly people these days are partly or wholly dependent upon financial help from their children, but such support is not always wisely given or taken, according to Dr. Robert Tyson, of Hunter College, New York.

Embree Hill Head Liberian Foundation

Dr. Edwin R. Embree, President of the Julius Rosenwald Fund until its termination June 30, has been elected President of The Liberian Foundation, it was announced this week in New York City by Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., Chairman of the Board of The Liberia Company.

The Foundation, whose leadership Dr. Embree has already assumed, will assist in the advancement of health, welfare, and education programs in the West African Republic of Liberia.

The Liberian Foundation was set up last fall in conjunction with The Liberia Company, a joint American-Liberian organization which is developing both the human and natural resources of Liberia. Ten percent of the stock of The Liberia Company has been given to the Foundation as its initial grant.

Summer Camp For Handicaps In Fifth Season

The fifth annual summer camp for physically handicapped boys and girls conducted by the Crippled Children's Society of Los Angeles County opened last week as the first group of thirty children, some carrying fishing poles and cameras, departed by bus from the Crippled Children's Center, 325 West Adams Boulevard, for a two-week vacation.

Located three miles south of Crestline in the San Bernardino mountains, the camp will be held this year on the new five-acre site, recently acquired by the Society from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Construction of the first units has already begun on the new camp project with the lodge hall, capable of accommodating 100 children, to be completed by July 15, and two cabin buildings also included in this summer's plans.

Griffith Park Offers A Trip To The Moon

Big crowds have been flocking to Griffith Park Observatory to see the spectacular new "Trip to the Moon" program just started as a Planetarium innovation, Dr. Dinsmore Alter, observatory head, reported today.

In the lunar journey, staged with the great Planetarium instrument plus a complicated newly built mechanism developed at Griffith Observatory, visitors seated in armchairs are given the illusion of rushing out into space at enormous speed toward the moon.

Girl Scouts Officials

NEW YORK—Despite the invasion of a Girl Scouts training camp near Bessemer, Ala., on June 11 by a band of masked and robed men, officials of the organization refuse to be intimidated. They announced instead that they would continue to conduct training centers of the kind throughout the country.

The camp was ordered broken up by the men after two white women instructors had been searched and told that the residents of the raea "don't like Negroes and whites living together." Unpleasant rumors were later circulated about the camp and its occupants, all of whom were Negroes except the two instructors.

The stand of the national office was expressed in a resolution adopted by the officers and members of the national executive committee on June 24. The resolution follows:

"It will continue to be the policy of the Girl Scouts . . . to serve all their members regardless of race or creed, and to extend membership as rapidly as possible to all those who wish to join. We shall continue our country-wide program of training adults for leadership and shall provide for this purpose the best available instructors drawn from local groups and the national staff."

Shortly after the incident in Alabama, the national director called on Attorney General Tom Clark to investigate the affair, but no reply has been received from the Justice Department up to this time.

The camp site near Bessemer was rented for the occasion by the Girl Scouts and is not a Girl Scout camp as such. Its invasion by the hooded mob was "completely unwarranted," officials of the organization said this week, and subsequent rumors spread about the occupants "have been carefully checked and found to be totally false."

Labor School's Summer Program

A call to Southern Californians wishing to participate in the California Labor School's Third Summer Vacation School, beginning July 16th has been issued by David Hedley, the school's Los Angeles Division Director. At the same time, Hedley called attention to current school classes and to the forthcoming visit to Los Angeles of the well-known labor educator, Howard Selsam.

More than 150 reservations have already been made but it is still possible to register for two weeks, one week, or for a weekend. The week of July 17th to July 24th is Trade Union Week, while the week of July 24th to August 1st will be of more general interest.

The Summer School is taking place at Asilomar, famous camp on the beautiful Monterey Peninsula's seventeen mile drive.

Rates are $6.00 and $7.00 a day and inquiries should be made to the school's Los Angeles Division at 112 West 9th Street, MAdison 9-1231. Hedley said Howard Selsam, Director of the Jefferson School for Social Science in New York City and author of the best selling "What Is Philosophy" will speak in Los Angeles under the auspices of the school on August 13th and 14th.

WCTU Praises Hahn's Proposal on Lighting

Councilman Kenneth Hahn of the 8th District was given a resolution of appreciation by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Los Angeles for proposing an ordinance on lighting of cocktail bars and restaurants.

In the resolution Councilman Hahn was thanked for his untiring efforts to clean up certain demoralizing situations in Los Angeles.

Under the proposed law, each restaurant and cocktail bar will have to have as a minimum 1-foot candle lighting which, according to our Health Commission, is a necessity to insure safe and healthful conditions in our eating establishments.

Main Street's Getting Prettier Every Day

The trolley tracks have been removed on Main Street from Slauson to Florence. These tracks presented a serious traffic hazard especially during the rainy season and Councilman Kenneth Hahn of the 8th District requested the Department of Public Works to remove them.

In a letter to Ralph T. Dorsey, Street Traffic Engineer, Mr. Hahn also asked that the crosswalks be repaired between Slauson and Florence. Since the resurfacing of the street, the crosswalks are covered with new asphalt.

Museum Exhibit Ends This Week

The exhibition by artists of Los Angeles at the County Museum is to be continued until July 11th as a courtesy to members of the "Western Association of Art Museum Directors," who will hold their Annual Convention at the Los Angeles County Museum July 8, 9 and 10.

Director Breasted of the County Museum has been President of the organization for the last year. More than 96,000 persons have visited the exhibition since its opening, according to Museum officials.

Plenty More Taxes! But No More Business

"Los Angeles, government wise, is in danger of pricing itself out of the market for new business," N. Bradford Trenham, general manager of California Taxpayers' Association, declared while speaking on "What's Ahead for Taxpayers," before the Thursday noon meeting of the Wilshire Chamber of Commerce, at the Nikabob cafe, 9th and Western, Los Angeles, last week.

"State tax collections are at their all-time high. Los Angeles county is about 40 per cent of the state of California and the people of the county pay about 40 per cent of state taxes.

"Property taxes for Los Angeles county for 1948-49 will hit another all-time high—an estimated levy of about $87,000,000, compared with $67,557,000 levied for 1947-48, the year which just ended.

Trans-Bay at Half-Way Mark

The organizing committee of the Trans-Bay Federal Savings and Loan Association announced this week that it is within one penny of having reached the half-way mark in its drive to secure the $150,000 capital pledges required by the Federal Home Loan Bank board in order to begin operating.

Need Recognized

George R. Vaughns, chairman of the organizing committee, reports that the committee is greatly encouraged by the rapidity with which the required capital is being subscribed. He further states that this rapidity is indicative of an intelligent recognition by the community of the need for the unique services which this association will provide.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE

Aid for Independence

An organization styling itself "World Government Association," is advocating a policy towards Palestine which sounds sensible and business-like.

The WGA states that since the Jews have already purchased small areas of Palestine from the Arabs, and since the Arabs have admitted that they are in need of economic assistance, that therefore the Jews should be encouraged to purchase the whole of the land of Palestine from the Arabs, and that the United Nations should appoint a mediator to assist the Arabs and Jews in coming to an amicable agreement as to the price that should be paid.

That surely sounds easy enough. There have been rumors, you know, that it is because of the money the Arab sheiks are getting for their oil lands, that they have stirred up the honet's nest about more Jews coming into Palestine. If mere money can settle the Palestine question peacefully, the United States surely cannot turn a deaf ear to such an appeal.

The United States government has been appropriating billions of dollars for Western Europe, with the ostensible purpose of making it independent. The best way, however, to make any nation independent, is to help that nation to help itself.

We do not need to be isolationists to demand that United States troops be taken out of Palestine, out of Western Europe, out of China, and out of every other place in the world where they are and should not be, and to be brought home to America. This is but helping those nations to stand on their own feet, and to help them to help themselves. Let them solve their own problems, without interference on our part.

In Palestine, we do not need to coddle the new-born state of Israel. Teach it to walk alone. If it needs money, as of course it does, that can and should be granted it through the United Nations. And then it should be told to go its own way and solve its own problems.

Doing this, the world itself will be astounded at the strong and sturdy growth of the newest yet oldest little nation in the world neighborhood of nations.

It's "Thirty" for LeRoy S. Hart

The sudden passing of LeRoy S. Hart, managing editor of the SENTINEL, marks a definite loss to American journalism in general and to Negro journalism in particular. Here in Los Angeles where he has labored and was beloved for the last quarter of a century, Mr. Hart remained true to the canons of his profession and devoted his life to a daily service to his fellowman.

His talents were shared, at one time or another, with practically every newspaper published in and around Los Angeles. The EAGLE was one of those publications which is proud to have shared his handiwork.

Apparently easy-going in his manner, Hart was a tireless worker who held little thought for material reward. His was a concern for the job well done. His intelligence, his fine sense of duty, his thorough-going love of truth, his respect for the rights of others and his unfailing modesty gave much of dignity to a work that is too often realized as a thankless task.

The Negro Vote

According to Carl Johnson, spokesman for the Young Republicans of this district, Governor Warren has certainly overlooked any opportunity to give recognition to the Negro people in California.

There are about 300,000 Negroes in this state, and one would think that in this large number the Governor, if he wished to do so, could find a few capable of filling the positions at his command.

Mr. Walter Gordon was appointed a commissioner of the Adult Prison Parole Board, but he is only one out of the many thousands.

Negroes have made many pleas to have one of the 16 judgeships, as they became vacant, filled by a Negro. But to date those requests have been treated with silence.

Now, however, we feel sure all Negroes will be given a most cordial invitation to vote for the California Governor for vice-president of the United States, and to help elect the Dewey-Warren ticket in November.

But we opine that California Negroes may think twice before accepting such an invitation. They are beginning to realize which side their bread is buttered, and to know who their real friends are.

Any Negro who would vote the Dewey-Warren ticket in November should really be relegated to the tall timbers in the backwoods of politics.

The Wallace-Taylor ticket is the only one which merits any attention from the member of any minority group.

What Price Loyalty?

"Notice of Proposed Removal Action", Executive Order 9835, dated March 21, 1947 (12 Federal Register 1935) establishes a Federal Employees Loyalty Program, the purpose of which was to see that disloyal civilian officers or employees are not retained in the government service.

It is understood that the full weight of this order has fallen on four Negro employees in the Postoffice Department in Los Angeles and Santa Monica.

In the matter of an investigation testing the loyalty of the four Postoffice employees, namely Milton Morrell, Mr. Golden, Frank Barnes, Santa Monica; and Joseph T. Freeman, a barrage of questions has been directed at Joseph T. Freeman, testing his loyalty. As a matter of fact this is the fourth time Mr. Freeman has been the object of an investigation. Sharing honors in the Freeman investigation are the FBI, the Post Master, and the Postal Inspector.

Mr. Freeman has been a resident of Los Angeles since 1919, and an employee of the Los Angeles postoffice practically all of that time. With his family—a wife and daughter—Mr. Freeman enjoys the respect and confidence of the rank and file citizens of this community.

He is a veteran of World Wars I and II, Boy Scout director, a member of AVC—American Veterans post of white and Negro members—and is active in civic and social groups of various racial extractions.

Because of this 30 years of employment at the Los Angeles Post Office, with never a blot against his record, the friends of Joseph Freeman are at a loss to determine why the present attack on his loyalty.

Mr. Freeman is accused of affiliation with an organization designated subversive.

Some of the organizations this Post Office employee is said to be connected with are the Aliso Club of the 19th Congressional District, the James Ford Club, the Hollenbeck Club, and many others.

No evidence of any threat of violence against the government has been traced to these organizations. They are being used, however, in evidence to build charges of disloyalty against Mr. Freeman and the other four Negro postal employees.

It is no new thing for Negroes to be first to get the rap in employment, but perhaps this is the first time Negroes have had the temerity to fight back. With the backing of the CIO and other liberal organizations who believe in equality in deed as well as word, it is believed that these four men will fight the charges placed against them.

As has been pointed out elsewhere in this publication, search the record from the present back to the beginning of this nation and no evidence of disloyalty on the part of Negroes will be found.

However, Negroes who furnished the labor to build America are sick and tired of being pushed around. They are going to fight three ways. Fight to join those elements of the present social order who are branded "Communist," because they express a willingness to accept Negroes as equals in industry and in all walks of life. Fight that Negro leadership that is selling them down the river for a political cash price or a one-man job. And finally fight to liberate themselves from fear—fear of losing the job or prestige among their own kind and those good Christian friends who preach the doctrine of "Be patient."

What greater pledge to loyalty can Freeman, Marrell, Golden, and Barnes give than the record established by their years of faithful, flawless service in the Postal Department and in the Army of the United States?

Loyal Americans, the battle that is being waged by these loyal workers to retain their jobs and their dignity is our fight, too. To Arms! To Arms! This is The California EAGLE'S command to you.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

Apropos of all this fuss about Yugoslavia, which we believe will be settled eventually as all quarrels are if the people have permission to settle things in their own way, we have been reading a book lately, "The Silent People Speak," by Robert St. John, which tells of his experiences in that same little country.

And the "Iron Curtain," by the way, which prevents the people of the world from getting glimpses of what is transpiring among the peoples hidden by that curtain, is not one constructed by the censors and dictators of those countries back of it. It is built by the editors and newspapers at home, those who want sensational stories and glaring headlines to make their papers sell.

So says Robert St. John, a newspaper man of long experience, a highly trained and careful observer who wrote this book about Yugoslavia. Yugoslavia, you know, is or was one of the little countries definitely, so say the headlines, behind the Russian "Iron Curtain."

During World War II there were some twenty or thirty British and American reporters making their headquarters in Belgrade. Some of them had been in the Slavic country for thirty or forty years, and knew the country as well as we know our own back yards. But after the war, things changed. Only a few reporters were left, and these were young and inexperienced. There were only five when St. John visited Yugoslavia in 1947.

"American agencies and papers are so worried about being beaten a few minutes on a story by some other agency or paper that the Belgrade reporters don't dare leave home base to find out what's happening in the rest of the country," writes Mr. St. John. "So they remain most of the time within a few hundred yards of the square called Terrazzia barraged by propaganda from both sides."

During the war everything was strictly censored: How about censorship now? All the correspondents agreed on the answer. There is none. "A man writes his dispatch, takes it to the cable office, and within a few hours London or New York receives it as sent."

The censoring, the deleting, the slanting, comes from the desks of the editors on the American side of the Atlantic.

"What's a man to do?" complained the correspondent for the Associated Press, after he had received clippings of stories he had sent to American papers in which he had tried to be fair, but from which everything favoring Yugoslavia had been cut. "How can you get the truth in print even if you try?"

St. John with a guide made a trip through the country. He saw many things he didn't like, didn't understand, but he couldn't help being impressed with the feverish earnestness of the people working out their new way of life. He saw the desolation of the whole country. He watched the people working together to rebuild it—Moslem and Jew and Christian.

"Only here," said St. John, "and in Russia, is the Jew really free."

Discussing the danger of war with the peasants of one of the villages, one peasant said, "We know that your people are not against our people. And they do not want war either. Now this is what we cannot understand. If that is all true, and if it is true that you have a democracy, why is it that the people cannot make their voices heard?"

"Your Gospodin Roosevelt had a majority of the people with him all the time he was alive, yes?" asked another peasant.

And when St. John confirmed his questioned "Yes," he went on, "And now that he is dead, what leader in America most closely follows the political ideas of your Gospodin Roosevelt? Henry Wallace, yes?"

When St. John rather reluctantly agreed, his questioner continued, "What we cannot understand is why your Gospodin Wallace therefore does not have the big majority of the American public with him."

Why not, indeed?

We seem to think those peoples of Europe and Asia are queer beings. But if we could really see ourselves as others see us for just a few hours, we'd probably throw up our hands in despair in the attempt to understand our own words and deeds.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

By JOHN M. LEE

It is a fallacy for members inside a union, or observers on the outside, to believe that the anti-this, and anti-that and dripping-honey, pro-United States democracy leadership that sits in halloed aloofness above the rank and file, is the omniscient fountain-head of union policy and practice. Actually, taking the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild as an example, that sort of leadership sidetracks the true business and purpose of the union while it agitates a lather by waving the flag, thus creating the false impression that today there is no issue in organized labor except the issue of Americanism.

I doubt that even the most reactionary member of the guild leadership can name a single person in the LANG who is committed to overthrow by force and violence the government of the United States, though it must be admitted that guild members do have their own ideas about two-faced policy and gentleman's agreements. Since this nation was founded on a revolution, and since it has grown mighty and powerful because of revolutionary departure from the ideals and practices of the old world, we have come to expect that in our progression toward the perfect state, we shall again see and adopt revolutionary procedure.

It must be confusing to some, when they learn that the substantial strength in the LANG that has been relegated to the left by the "If You're Not for Truman, You Must Be for Russia" leadership, is the source from which the solidly American idea of securing employment on metropolitan dailies for Negro newspapermen has emanated. As issues are weighed and assigned these days, it should not surprise you if, when this becomes a matter of business before the LANG, the proposal is characterized as an attempt by Moscow to invade the freedom and mongrelize the staffs of the American press.

Those stalwarts, who seeing the popular trend, and recognizing an opportunity when it presents itself with bands playing and flags waving, will quickly mask their true feelings in the matter by saying the time has not come yet to put the Negro guildsman on a par with his brothers. Notwithstanding, the LANG must make this a top priority project for the near future, and unless the present leadership of LANG is willing and able to advance this proposal, it should step aside in favor of leadership that can and will do it.

If there is an element of presumptuousness in this proposal, that is as it should be, for each member of the guild has presumptive rights or there would be no need for the guild. How much more fitting it would be for the guild leadership to be engaged in a thoroughly American and truly union matter such as this instead of vitiating its strength in internecine quarrels. It is as though the LANG has suddenly become a family presided over by an unhappy fish-wife.

On this matter, or any other, it is advisable that LANG leadership speak for a united and purposeful body; that is not possible at present, and the question arises as to whether or not this state of affairs has not been planned by forces outside of, and unfriendly to LANG. I challenge anyone to prove that it is a mark of leadership to separate, divide and segregate a union's membership.

There have been oceans of crocodile tears shed over the fact that Negro giuldsmen are restricted to employment by the Negro press; only recently it was pointed out to me that there were no benefits for Negro guildsman, because many times their papers paid sub-standard wages, and there were no opportunities for employment on the metropolitan dailies. My answer to that is: CREATE EMPLOYMENT on metropolitan dailies. That is what the LANG is expected to do; that is what the guild in New York DID. It is time to call off the witch-hunting and get to work on the things that will benefit the members.

Here's A Job Worth Taking

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced that an examination will be given in the near future for Clerk and Carrier positions, which are now available in the Los Angeles Post Office.

Postmaster Michael D. Fanning explained today that due to the rapid growth of the city, it has become necessary to add increased personnel to handle the additional mail going through this office. He added that these jobs offer an excellent opportunity for men and women, who desire permanent employment with good pay and working conditions.

The examination is open to veterans regardless of age, and to any other citizen, 18 to 50 years of age residing in the city of Los Angeles, within the territory served by the local Post Office.

Those desiring to file applications for this examination should write to the United States Civil Service Commission, Federal Building, Los Angeles, or call at their nearest Los Angeles Post Office sub-station for the proper forms.

Applications must be received by the Civil Service Commission not later than July 26, 1948.

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—Local property taxes accounted for $48 out of total tax payments of $420 made last year by the average Californian, who paid income taxes amounting to more than half of that total, mostly to the federal government. Sales taxes, federal, state and local, were in excess of $40 for each resident.

NEW YORK—First life insurance policy is believed to have been written in England in 1583. Life insurance has been established in the United States since about 1840.

W. J. Wheaton Says

"WERE YOU THERE WHEN THEY NAILED HIM TO THE CROSS? WERE YOU THERE?"

We stood listening as that sweet contralto voice of Mary Ann's intoned the Crucifixion. We were reluctant to make our presence known and would have been standing there tstill if Mary Ann had not opened the door to shake the dust from a cloth.

"Well, how long you been standing here? You come right in here."

We told her that we were enjoying her singing su much that we did forget our hunger.

"You always say such nice things. Come, supper's all ready. We'll talk when you're finished. Don't you hurry, either! Ever since Sunday when my grandchild took me to that gathering where that club of young women . . . What's the name?" "CARPE DIEM," we said.

"Yes, I know it was something like that. There was a young man sang that so sweet that it's been alingering in my mind ever since. Them young ladies sure is doing a wonderful work; giving them scholarships 'en such, 'en it looks like they's broad-minded; they include a Japanese girl, 'en she spoke a few beautiful words. I sure was glad that you told me 'bout those young women, 'en the good work they's doing. Trying to make us folk from back home realize that we ain't there no more 'en that up here things are difference; 'en that don't mean any harm when they tells us not to act like we do back there, 'en not o carry a chip on our shoulder all he time, daring somebody, not black, to knock it off. Me, Mary Ann, believes in making friends."

"Yes, we said, true friends are few. Shakespeare in Hamlet says 'The friends thou hast, and their adoption tried; Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel; but do not dull thy palm with entertainment of each new-hatch-unfledged comrade.'"

"Them's beautiful words," says Mary Ann. "Will you learn them to me some time when you're here?"

"With pleasure," we said. "I do hope that Mary Ann, my grandchild, will join that club. What's the name agin? Carpe Diem. Yes, that's it, Carpe Diem."

"When she's big enough, I hope she can join. There was one young lady that sang two beautiful songs. I tell you that it was one of the wonderful doings I've been to since I came to California. I'm certainly glad we ever met. I gets to know more about things than I ever would had I not met you. It's more than possible that I would have been carrying a chip on my shoulder too. As it is, I've made lots of froends. The folks I work for are just as nice as they can be. Did I tell you that the husband said how glad he wa sthat he introduced you and made you a member of the club?

"The Missus says he told her you sure do know your politics. When the club was discussing about the Republican meeting they had in some town back East." "Philadelphia," we said.

"Yes, 'en they put up a man from New York 'en the Governor from this state to be elected this fall to be president and vice presiden."

"They were nominated to run for the election, which is a far cry from being elected," we said.

"There's Wallace, an avowed candidate of the Independent Progressive Party, and the Democrats have yet to hold their convention. They will also nominate a man for president and a man for vice president. The election to determine who shall be the president and vice president will be determined by the voters the first Tuesday after the 1st Monday in the month of November, which we believe is November the 2nd. It is too early to make a choice for the presidents, but our mind is made up as to the candidate for Congress in this Fourth Congressional Distdict.

"FRANCK R. HAVENNER IS THE ONLY LOGICAL CANDIDATE. We know how he stands, and the crisis is too great to take a gamble and elect and untried and inexperienced aspirant. All in all, Mary Ann, this is going to be a rather interesting campaign both local and national. How did your grandchild enjoy the scholarship program?"

"She goes to that Center; says there are lots of activities that keep the young folks busy. Did I ell you that I went to the meeting they had at Mrs. Rosenerg's? She had the girls over there 'tother night 'en I went with little Mary Ann 'en her classmates. There was one lady there that spoke 'bout all folk being created by the same God, 'en she couldn't see as long as folsk is honest 'en decent that there should be any difference. Therew as some other folks that spoke too, 'en it were a pleasant meeting. I'm going to have 'em over to my place some evening. Will you come, too?"

"It might be that men are not acceptable," we said.

"G'wan; when did you ever see a woman that wants a Adamless Eden? I heard some men talking 'bout a drive, or something, they's putting on for o raise funds for a new building for the Booker T. Washington Center. I ain't got much but I'll give what I can to help. When I see them children out on the street, looking dirty 'en uncared for, it's a sure thing that something has to be done for 'em before they become subjects for the jail 'en penitentiary. When we took the bus to go home after the scholarship tea there was a lot of 'teenage' boys 'en girls on it 'en they's 'tracting everybody's 'tention with their carryings on.

"I wished that they had been at the club 'en seen how everybody behaved. They might have learned something. The more that I see, the more I'm convinced that the general misunderstnading between the different folks is responsible for lots of things. Passengers on that bus, no doubt thought we're all alike. Them young folks should know better."

Hugh Gordon Book Shop Opening Celebrated

LOS ANGELES — The Hugh Gordon Book Shop, a long-awaited dream, is a reality today and open for business following a grand opening that drew a crowd of more than 350 including some of the community's most distinguished representatives.

Located at 1109 East 42nd Place in the heart of the Negro business district, the new store is a large attractive center, offering a wide variety of fiction, non-fiction life tnd history of the Negro people, pamphlets, children's books, recordings, among which are unbreakable discs for children, and some ceramic pieces by nationally known artists.

The store also boasts a special listening room for record enthusiasts.

Several participants in the recent opening ceremonies of the store, which was banked with flowers from well wishers, spoke of the honor and respect in which the Negro community holds the memory of the late Hugh Gordon, and the fact the new store epitomizes his fondest dream.

Gordon, who died of cancer in 1946, is listed in the 1931 "Who's Who" as a prominent Negro historian, and lecturer on history and economics. A maintenance employee for the city health department, Gordon was the first to join the new city workers union, now the CIO Public Workers Union, and helped to organize the local.

Several participants in the opening book shop ceremonies told how Gordon's home was always a hospitable center, especially for the Negro Youth and children, of whom Gordon was especially anxious should learn about Negro history and the contributions Negroes have made to the building of our great nation and their contributions to the field of culture.

State Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins told the opening participants "Hugh Gordon was the first man who made me proud to be a Negro." Sidney Moore, candidate for congress in the 14th district, and international representative of the CIO Public Workers also praised Gordon and said the book shop was a welcomed asset to the community." Francis Williams, candidate for the State Assembly in the 63rd district, said the new store "gives us the facts and the information we need in these times and will help to give us hope and courage too."

Pettis Perry, chairman of the minorities commission of the Communist Party, said the book shop "will help fill the need for education on Negro History, and will show how the Negro people have played their part in such great working-class struggles as the fight for the eight hour day. It will help to bring closer together all minorities, the Negroes, Mexican-Americans and Jews."

Representatives of People's Songs were also present and they played and sang for the visitors for a half hour.

A. D. McMurray, of the Public Works Union recalled the years of efforts of Gordon to bring to his people the knowledge of the part they played in the development of our great nation." John C. Owens, Miss Rosanna Smith, Mrs. Lizzie Hawkins and numerous others brought greetings. Among the many friends who sent flowers were The Peoples Funeral Home, Helen Janes Flower Shop, Dr. H. Claude Hudson and Associates.

Guests were greeted at the opening by Adele Young, manager of the Shop. Miss Young has been a resident of Los Angeles since 1922, and was one of Hugh Gordon's closest friends, she has been identified with every major fight for the rights of the Negro

The destruction of discrimination in any department of government is not a one-man job. Governor Earl Warren returned to California this week, with horns tooting and people shouting. He's the vice-presidential candidate for the November election on the Republican ticket, and the Warren family are hoping to get their suitcases packed for a four-year stay in Washington, D. C.

Earl Warren is a likable chap, all right. But whether or not he likes Negroes, that's another question. He certainly hasn't given the Negro people any break in his appointments since he's been in Sacramento.

Farm workers, colored and white, had an accidental death rate twice as high as workers in non-agricultural industries in 1947, the National Safety Council reports, this week.

The 1947 death rate for farm workers was 52 per 100,000 workers, while in non-agricultural industries the death rate was 26.

The high farm work death rate gave added significance to Farm Safety Week, proclaimed by President Truman for July 25-31, which seeks the elimination of at least 30,00,000 farm hazards. Each member of a farm family was asked by the President to accept personal responsibility for the elimination of at least one source of accidents during the week.

This good question was asked and answered by The St. Louis American:

WHY SHOULDN'T JOE LOUIS HAVE HIS SAY IN POLITICS IF HE CHOOSES!

As might be expected, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat came forth with a left-handed paw of praise for Joe Louis. It said the usual fine things about the champion, then tacked this on: "His talk about going in politics is disturbing. This is not an arena in which he can be a champion, and he might well take a warning from another Negro. Paul Robeson who, having achieved fame and fortune in the field of music, has essayed the role of politician and is adding nothing to the luster of his name."

Now that is just plain hokum—all of it. First, Joe has taken part in politics twice before—he appeared in Madison Square Garden with Wendell Willkie, and four years later with GOP Candidate Thomas E. Dewey. And Joe was still a champion—because on each occasion he was championing what he regarded as the prime American right to add his "punch" against the forces of jimcrow and disfranchisement.

Washington Press Club Elects Al Smith Head

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Alfred "Al" Smith, of the Chicago Defender's Washington Bureau, was elected sixth president of the Capital Press Club at its annual election session held here last week at the Charles Hotel. Smith, founder of the club and its first president, was drafted out of retirement as a compromise choice satisfactory to all factions when pre-election caucuses indicated a deadlock between leading candidates.

The complete slate chosen at the spirited meeting includes Ralph Matthews, of the Washington Afro-American, Vice President; Otto McClarrin, Publicity Director of Howard University, Secretary, and Sherman Briscoe, Information Specialist for the Department of Agriculture, Treasurer. Both McClarrin and Briscoe were re-elected and will serve their second terms.

Georgia Educator Says People Must Build Progressive Party

ATLANTA, Georgia, (Special)—Whether or not there can be a strong progressive party in this country is dependent on the people, Mr. James L. Barfoot, a former member of the faculty of the University of Georgia and a candidate for the governorship of Georgia on the People's Progressive Party ticket, told the Atlanta University Summer School last week. Mr. Barfoot declared that such a job must be done by southern whites and southern Negroes working hand in hand and not by reactionaries.

After giving a brief history of third party movements in this country, Mr. Barfoot pointed out that the present third party has been built from the ground up "so that even after the coming election the groundwork will be laid and the leaders will be able to carry on." He declared that party leaders are endeavoring to side-step the type of overwhelming popularity of Mr. Roosevelt which was based on personal appeal and which fizzled out as soon as the late president was dead.

He also told of the need in Georgia for the party to secure 55,000 signatures before their candidates' name can be placed on the ballots in this state.

Asked whether or not the party leaders have any hope of winning the election, Mr. Barfoot pointed out the success of the party in New York, which has given them much hope.

The speaker made clear that Mr. Wallace and Senator Taylor would not bow to any small political group and that the hysterical cries of "communist" have been made to frighten people so that the major parties can move in and take over.

George Ramse

By PHYLLIS SCOTT

The amazing Mr. Ramsey with his multi-colored tweeds, sunglasses, and fresh boutonniere. His suave manner and quiet smile. His sunny disposition and friendliness make him as popular as a dollar bill. As wild and wooly as the Ole West itself, his life has been gay and exciting . . . as exciting as the life of an international sportsman.

Though his name has been synonomous with race horses for more years than he'd care to remember, Ramsey has done some of everything. He's been mascot, a waiter, a go-getting moneymaker; a salesman, a showman, a stouthearted boatman; a manager, a builder, a writer for turf silver. And they've netted him a fortune in friendship and business.

When he was eight years old he stowed away on a boat headed for Dutch Harbor, Alaska. The captain made him mascot after he was discovered, and Ramsey entertained the seamen, singing and dancing, while waiting for the Berring Sea to break. He lived up in the Yucon gold country among the Eskimos for two years before returning to the states.

A 'natural' for show business, he joined several troupes that were performing up and down the coast until the show got stranded in Sacramento. The ambitious Ramsey left for Frisco, where he worked until the morning of the earthquake in 1906. The havoc disturbed him, and he gathered his belongings to seek the whereabouts of his family in Los Angeles.

He didn't remain home long because the urge to wander got the best of him. He worked at many jobs after that as pullman waiter, amusement park manager, and salesman for a woolen mill firm.

Republican Leader Disbarred in N. Y.

NEW YORK—Mrs. Sara Pelham Speaks, one of the most prominent Republican leaders among Negroes, has been disbarred from practicing as an attorney in New York by the Appellate Division of the Court. The proceedings against her was brought by the Bar Association of the City of New York.

She was accused and found guilty of "failing to perform legal services for which she had been paid; of making false representations with respect to the status of various matters in which she had been retained and of failing to return certain fees received in some of such matters."

Mrs. Speaks was a candidate on the Republican ticket for Congress in the 23rd District in 1944, but lost to Adam Clayton Powell, who won on the Democratic ticket.

• Lomax Case

Hall, with Mrs. Carmelita Lomax testifying that Lomax Jr., neglected her and humiliated her by going out and doing things unbecoming a husband with three women in the order named: Alyce Keys, a well-known and popular show girl of striking beauty, Almena Davis and Martha Faulkner. Whatever the relationship of Lomax Jr. and Miss Faulkner, it was not elaborated upon.

However, when Attorney Walter L. Gordon asked Lomax Jr. whether or not he had spent the night in a San Francisco hotel room with one of the named women in the case, Lomax answered: "Not a whole night, your honor, just a few hours!"

Written evidence was introduced showing the birth of the children and also of his association with Miss Keyes and Miss Davis. Mrs. Carmelita Lomax also told the court that her husband was niggardly with her while Miss Davis was given a generous allowance. Checks were introduced to prove that Mr. Lomax paid various bills for Miss Davis. Under this preponderance of evidence Mr. Lomax took the stand and admitted the love affair with Miss Davis thereby settling the question of adultery.

A Clyde N. Dueber, woh is employed as a Private detective, testified that had found Lomax Jr. at 3416 11th ave. and had watched the premises for a week and during the week Lomax Jr. had remained all night, three times leaving at 8 a.m.. Several times the couple had taken the baby out to the car and driven away.

In his cross complaint Mr. Lomax Jr. accused his wife of cruelty, saying on the stand that she would go away weekends and then taunt flout him by saying she had met some man who was going to do marvelous things for her. Whether the alleged man did "marvelous" things for Mrs. Lomax Jr., or not wasn't proven, but it was proven that Mr. Lomax Jr., did marvelous things for Miss Almena Davis. He stated that she was very extravagant and had closets full of clothes and shoes and everything else she wanted.

Miss Davis followed on the witness stand and stated that she and Mrs. Lomax Jr. were good friends and that the three became a family, with her doing the cooking and sometimes washing the husband's clothes. Miss Davis in an arrogant and egotistical manner said that Mrs. Lomax Jr. encouraged her to go out with Lomax Jr., and while she didn't encourage the sexual relations she "certainly encouraged what led up ti it." Without being asked, Miss Davis said "there was just no getting along with Carmelita. The intellectual bridge was too wide!" Mrs. Lomax, Jr's. extravagence was the second bone of contention and at times Miss Davis related Mrs. Lomax Jr., would pound on her husband's chest in anger.

jlandt..ooh4e-'r

The real battle between the couple will be on the property settlement. Mrs. Lomax, through her attorney Mr. Gordon Jr. expects to prove that much of the community property has been transferred by Lomax Jr., to evade an equitable division. The property involved is the Fawn building on 29th and S. Western, the Cresbar on the northwest corner of the same streets, the cocktail bar in the Dunbar hotel, the Los Angeles Tribune and a cigarette vending business now allegedly owned by Paul Hickman.

Parents Defendants

Mrs. Minnie Lomax, mother of Lomax Jr., is a defendant as is Lucius Lomax Sr., on the grounds that some of the alleged community property has been transfered to them. Both are represented by Landon Morris. Mr. Lomax Jr. is represented by an Attorney named Edmunson. Mrs. Black, mother of Mrs. Lomax Jr., has her interests protected by Bernard Jefferson. Mrs. Black is presently living in one of the pieces of alleged community accumulations.

Walter L. Gordon Jr. is the Attorney for the plaintiff, Mrs. Carmelita Lomax Jr. The trial is expected to last three days.

The couple were married in Santa Barbara county January 1939, and were separated in October, 1945.

brook, and his secretary in the matter of administration of the estate, associate Manager Robert Hecht of the Fidelity and Deposit Company, a bonding company recommended to Edward Westbrook by Maynard Henry, told her when she spoke with him on the telephone:

"I see you've thrown your attorney (meaning Maynard Henry) off the case."

Mrs. Westbrook told him that Henry had not been thrown off, and that he was seeking to have himself taken off, but they would not permit it unless Henry goes into open court and tells his reason for wanting to withdraw.

Hecht reportedly replied, "Henry called me up and he said you had thrown him off the case." Mrs. Westbrook pointed out that this is not the case, and she read from a paper that Henry was submitted to her husband for his signature permitting him to withdraw from the case. The Westbrooks object to this paper because it makes it appear that Edward Westbrook is substituting when in reality it is Maynard Henry himself.

Indications that some complaint will be made before the Bar Association was given this week when Mrs. Cliff Westbrook went over the case with a California EAGLE reporter and pointed out to him evidence of dereliction and misrepresentation.

The Fidelity and Deposit Company has sought for some time to obtain joint control with Edward Westbrook of the administration of the estate, but Westbrook had avoided this because there was a friendship between a member of the firm and Maynard Henry which Westbrook felt would not give him the fullest protection.

It develops that Hecht has sought to be taken off the bond since he could not get joint control, and he has repeatedly frowned upon joint control with Hugh Macbeth Sr., attorney for Edward Westbrook, whom Westbrook hired when he had reason to believe Maynard Henry was misleading him.

Judge Kaufman's decision in the action brought by Minnie Hill, who had lived with the late Charles Westbrook, and who is suing for $10,000 for services following the loss of an action to have herself declared his common-law wife, is due within the next few days. Following this decision, the Westbrooks plan to open the matter of paternity of two girls born to Minnie Hill. Miss Hill claims they are the late Charles Westbrook's, but Mrs. Cliff Westbrook says there is evidence to refute her claim.

Check Checks Check Forgers

The Los Angeles Police, encouraged by the reduction in forgeries resulting from use of a "positive identification plan" in cashing checks last year, are urging merchants to utilize this plan to combat a current increase in forgery.

To protect themselves from forgers, merchants should require checks to be endorsed in ink in their presence, a driver's license or some other means of identification be shown, and fingerprints placed on the back of the check in extreme cases.

Public cooperation in using this plan last year resulted in a 32% reduction in forgeries during the six months following its adoption, according to police.

Southeast TB Rate Alarms Health Officer

Statistics tending to show that one out of twenty residents in the southeast area may have tuberculosis and not know it, have been compiled following a survey conducted by the city health department.

According to Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer, preliminary results of chest x-rays given several hundred citizens in the southeast area show that approximately 5 per cent of the population there is infected.

Expressing the alarm he feels due to the revelations, Dr. Uhl said: "This points up the urgent need for every citizen to get a chest x-ray regularly—at least once a year—to make certain he does not have tuberculosis, or if he does have the disease, that he can start treatment immediately to cure it."

Chest x-rays can be arranged for with the family physician, or by contacting the local health department at 49th and Avalon.

Another demonstration of the feeling of the people, Miss Shore said, will be a public mass rally Friday night at Embassy Auditorium sponsored by the Civil Rights Congress.

One of the demands to be put forth for the approval of the audience will be a grand jury investigation of police practices. Methods of handling complains about police brutality and the consistent "justifiable homicide" verdicts handed out by the coroner's jury, Miss Shore said.

Among the speakers will be Attorney Leo Gallagher, now handling the defense of the chief eye-witness in the Salcido case, Guillermo Gallegos; Guy Endore, author of "Justice for Salcido," which ran in serial form in The Daily People's World, and John Bright, author of the play, "City of Angels."

Police attempted to ban the play, now at the Musart, because they said they received "complaint" about its forceful condemnation of police brutality. Bright is scheduled to outline the city-wide battle put up against the ban and the subsequent victory.

Tomorrow, prominent community leaders of labor, youth and minority groups are scheduled to visit District Attorney Broker in a further attempt to guarantee his forceful prosecution of Keyes.

The delegation will present Broker with petitions listing the names of more than 2000 persons demanding a thorough trial.

Broker has also admitted to the Civil Rights Congress that "the district attorney's office has been getting a lot of communications on the Salcido case."

Final Deadline For LeRoy Hart

he knew he had met his last deadline successfully.

It would have surprised him a little if he could have heard the wonderful words of praise spoken about his last edition, for he had grown to expect criticism as a challenge to move closer to the goal of perfection he had set for himself.

Rev. L. G. Robinson, the Rev. George Garner and the Rev. B. Clarence Cooke did the re-write, but you couldn't help getting the impression that they were working on material supplied by LeRoy Hart who created the master story with his useful serviceable life.

Being a thorough newspaperman, LeRoy would have appreciated the distaff note, the sob-sister angle in the moving singing of Mrs. Gertrude West.

Newspaperman Herman Hill, Louie Cole, Leon Steward, Lawrence LaMarr and John M. Lee joined with Allan J. Butler who represented the myriad of friends and devotees in the community, escorted the managing editor to Evergreen Cemetery where he embarked to take on the higher position to which he was promoted. Fay Jackson, B. B. Bratton, Josephine Brown, Charlotta A. Bass and Norman Houston were among the notables who stood by as the last edition of LeRoy Hart went to press. Newspaperman, editor, educator, advisor, friend—he was most of all a warm and understanding gentleman of culture and refinement.

together and play together in peace."

But the people are kept divided, she said, by the interests who profit most by such division. Here in America, she said, it is the two political parties, the Republican and the Democratic, who are creating dissension and ill-will among the various minority groups, and especially among Negroes and whites.

Turning her guns upon the 80th Congress, she said it had courted the support of the Negro vote by promising an FEPC, the abolition of the poll-tax, a Federal anti-lynching law, and legislation against all the other evils which make them second class citizens.

But, she declared, the Negroes are no longer taking it on the chin. They are joining instead in the one great phalanx with other fighting minorities who believe that the democratic way of life includes all, and who believe in fighting valiantly for those rights.

Mrs. Bass' hottest shot was leveled at the "false leaders within our own group," and re-emphasized the fact that only with Henry Wallace can either the Negro or the Mexican or the member of any other minority groups, attain full American citizenship, as is his due.

While Roosevelt failed to confirm the rumor that he will ask President Truman to step aside, it is no secret that most of the Democratic leaders throughout the nation feel that Truman is not electable, and that he cannot defeat the Dewey-Warren combination.

Despite the indicated defalcation of Democratic leaders from the Truman standard, and despite the currently revived Eisenhower boom, predictions are being made on top levels that Truman will get the nomination. It is being pointed out that while he has not openly withdrawn his Civil Rights program, he has done nothing to promote it, and has thus put himself in a position that will enable Southern delegates to come back to the fold.

On the other hand, it is being predicted that a popular demand will be made for the nomination of Eisenhower at the convention next week of such proportions as to dwarf all previous demonstrations of this sort. However, knowing politicians say, Ike won't get the nod because he is too independent for the men who pull the strings behind the scenes. As matters stand now, the Democrats are between the devil and the deep blue sea.

HONEYMOONING NORTH—in a quiet and small ceremony, lovely Miss Thelma Bernice Jackson became the bride of Mr. Wilford R. Duncan at the First AME church in Pasadena. The attractive couple will spend their honeymoon at northern points. —Marc Drake photo.

Miss Thelma Bernice Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Jackson, of 631 Cypress avenue, was wed to Mr. Wilford R. Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan, Pasadena, in a beautiful ceremony before 500 guests who sat in pews marked with white ribbons and white gardenias Sunday afternoon, June 20, in the First A.M.E. Church, Pasadena.

The altar and arch arrangement of white gardenias and hybrid white delphiniums, illuminated by lighted tapers in tall candelabra, created a beautiful setting for the impressive ceremony performed by the bride's pastor, the Rev. Robert Hill. Mrs. Alice Buggs was at the organ. Mrs. Annabel Worrell, Miss Evette Snedden, and Mr. Arthur Duncan, brother of the groom, were the soloists.

Walking down the center aisle on the arm of her father, the bride was exquisite in an ivory satin bridal gown, full-skirted, with long sleeves and feature-fitted bodice and train. Her full length veil fell wrom a coronet of seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white orchids surrounded by gardenias and lilies of the valley and tied with long white streamers.

Her attendants wore refreshing pastel net over satin, with full skirts below fitted basques with matching hats and elbow mitts. Their bouquets repeated one of the floral notes of the altar. The attendants included Mrs. Harrison Bailey (Nee Jackie Bunch) in blue, matron of honor; Miss Lucile Harrison in pink, maid of honor. The bridesmaids were: Mrs. Jessie Arnold-Johnson, Mabel Duncan, and Jackie Dickenson, in orchid; Gwen Morrow, Barbara James, and Barbara Durham-Floyd in yellow. Little Misses Rosemary Hill and Portia Gordan, in long pink dresses, carrying white roses in baskets, were the flower girls. Little Rickey Penn, wearing a white satin suit, was ring bearer. Mavis Jameson and Virginia Ann James were candle lighters.

The bridegroom was attended by Harrison Bailey, as best man. The ushers were: M. L. Jackson, Jr., Mike Duncan, El Roy Lot, Fred Valentine, Thomas Lloyd, and Joe Mim.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the beautiful garden of the bride's parents. The same color scheme of the ceremony was carried out in the home. On the dining table was a four-tiered wedding cake, which was served to the guests in petite white napkins, on which was engraved in gold, "Thelma & Bill."

The bride's mother wore a grey crepe gown with matching hat and elbow length mitts. The groom's mother selected blue crepe with matching hat and elbow mitts. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

For her traveling costume for a honeymoon in the North, the bride wore a blue gabardine suit with a blue ribboned hat and white orchid corsage, with white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Duncan will be at home at 631 Cyprus avenue, Pasadena.

Western Vice-Pres. Installs Officers Of Bridge Ass'n.

Bridge history was made in Los Angeles July 1 when Mr. R. J. City presented Mr. Ellis L. Veil, western vice president of The American Bridge Assn. Mr. Veil installed the officers of The Harmony Bridge Club including Mrs. O. Lewis, President; Mrs. M. D. Pharr, Vice President; Mr. K. Z. Sedberry, treasurer; Mrs. D. Watson, secretary; Mr. W. H. Harrison, tournament director; Mr. J. Copland, assistant tournament director; Mrs. E. Roymaine, social director; L. Sylvester, Sergeant-at-arms, and A. Stevens, reporter.

Mr. Robert Andrews delivered a rather hearty welcome address as Mr. Veil donated the club its first trophy to be presented to the winning beginners team or individual players.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sororities To Honor Edna Over Gray

The three local chapters of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority honor the Supreme Basileus, Mrs. Edna Over Gray, with an Artists Recital Sunday, July 11 at 5 o'clock at the First African Methodist Episcopal Church, 8th and Towne avenue. Mrs. Edna Over Gray has just completed a successful visit with the Mid-Western and Far Western Regional Conferences held at Denver, Colorado and San Diego, California respectively.

In addition to being the Supreme Basileus of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, she is head of the History Department of Frederick Douglas High school, Baltimore, Maryland and President of the Board of Directors of the American Council of Human Rights, which is the cooperative effort of Greek Letter organizations for securing rights for all people. In the life of Balitmore th ename of Edna Over Gray is synonymous with religious, civic and cultural activities.

AKA Sorority's Far Western Regional Conference Report

The 19th Annual Far Western Regional Conference of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority convened in San Diego, California, July 2-4, 1948, with Beta Kappa as hostess chapter. The business activities were officially opened with registration of delegates at the Bethel A.M.E. Church, 31st and K Street. Among the many highlights of the conference was the public meeting held Sunday afternoon, July 4, 1948 at 3:00 p.m. at the Bethel Baptist Church 29th and Clay Avenue.

The program presented was as follows:

Audience—Lift Every Voice and Sing.

Prayer—Soror Lucille Culbertson, Beta Kappa, San Diego, California.

Organ Selections — Soror Edythe K. Owens, Alpha Gamma Omega, Los Angeles, Calif.

Greetings from hostess chapter—Soror Hallie Del Quinn, Beta Kappa, San Diego, Calif.

Response — Soror Zenobia Allen, Supreme Epistoleus, Alpha Gamma Omega, Los Angeles, California.

Vocal Solo, "The Lord Is My Light" — Soror Marie Flennoy, Sigma, Los Angeles, California.

Piano Solo, Medley of Spirituals—Soror Helen D. Nelson, Beta Kappa, San Diego, Calif.

Address, "Strengthening Ourselves From Within"—Soror Edna Over Gray, Supreme Basileus of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Baltimore, Md.

One of the highlights of this address was the three types of persons, for which all of us are a definite part.

Those who take the low road: those who go to and fro and rather in between, and finally those who take the high road.

The challenge to this Far Western Regional Conference is for us to come away from the low road, the inbetween and shiftless mood, and restrengthen ourselves from within. We must be of service to all mankind by the way of the high road, and be a friend to man.

The mistress of ceremonies for the meeting and the entire conference was the Regional Director, Soror Audrey B. Jones of Los Angeles, California.

Following the meeting Beta Kappa tendered a beautiful public reception in the dining hall of the church.

Beta Kappa was indeed privileged to be hostess, not only to the Regional Conference, but to three of its national officers, namely: National President Soror Edna Over Gray, Baltimore, Md.; National Secretary Soror Zenobia Allen, Los Angeles, California; Regional Director of Far Western Region Soror Audrey B. Jones of Los Angeles, California.

After this time he will return to his duties as Superior Court Judge and will be in regular attendance to all of his sub-committees.

Sunday, July 11, the regular meeting of this fast growing organization will be held at the Thomas Jefferson High School cafeteria, 8:30 to 10 a.m. The Sanitarium Association of the State of California will have charge of the program for the morning and will bring you up to date on happenings in the Get-Well-Institution world. You should hear them take the "fear out of cancer as an infectious disease."

Friendship is known throughout the county and state as an outstanding intercultural organization bringing programs to the community that will establish good fellowship and brotherhood between and among all men regardless of their color, race or creed. The membership roster numbers around 1100. The program committee at all times attempt to keep you aware of the activities of all groups working to make the community better for all. The public is invited to come out on time.

DELEGATES TO THE 19TH ANNUAL Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority's far western conference are shown above preceding the business, religious and social activities that marked the three day conclave at San Diego. Opening last Friday evening, the conference closed Sunday. National president, Soror Edna Over Gray, of Baltimore, Md.; Soror Zenobia Allen, of Los Angeles, National Secretary, and Far Western Regional Director, Soror Audrey B. Jones of Los Angeles, were the three national officers whose presence graced all sessions of the conference. Soror Audrey Jones was Mistress of Ceremonies for the conference and the public meeting, with Betta Kappa Chapter as hostess. Out of the conference came the determination of all AKA Sorors to strengthen themselves from within and be of service to all mankind. (See Story.)

Atty. Lawson Closes Alpha Regional With Program Stressing Liberal Leadership

Ending in the manner by which all Alpha Phi Alpha conferences and conventions close, the three-day Far Western Regional Conference of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, came to a brilliant conclusion Monday night with the closed conference banquet.

Although the meeting, which was the first of its kind ever held in the far west, was marked by outstanding social and business meetings, the individual high point came Sunday afternoon at Second Baptist church when the national president of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, Atty. Belford V. Lawson of Washington, D. C., addressed the public meeting of the conference.

Speaking on the challenges and problems that face the Negro people, and more specifically which must be met and faced by Negro fraternities and sororities, Lawson, known throughout the East and Midwest as one of the top public speakers of our time, was at his usual excellence.

The speaker's platform was also shared by National Secretary Bennie D. Brown of Chicago and Far Western Vice-President J. Barksdale Brown, who acted as master of ceremonies. Bennie Brown addressed the group shortly on the democratic spirit and liberalism which must become characteristic of Negro fraternities and sororities.

Hosted by the three local chapters, Gamma Xi (UCLA); Alpha Delta (USC), and Beta Psi Lambda (graduate) the regional conference was attended by delegates from chapters in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, San Diega and Nevada.

Due to pressing affairs in the East, National President and Secretary Lawson and Brown left for home early Tuesday morning. The conference was under the general direction of Far Western Vice-President Barksdale Brown, Southern Regional Director Lionel B. Cade; National officer Peter Doutrive, and local chapter presidents Henry Melton, William Freeman and Dewey D. Davidson.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE SOCIAL SET

Editor's Note: Peck's Bad Boy and everybody's friend, Joe Oliver Jr., pens the column this week as he hears "Carmel by the Sea" gets closer to 33rd street all the time, if not there now.
by Joe Oliver, Jr.

With the weather a picturesque setting, this 4th of July was a very eventful one. From San Diego to Monterey things were happening. The A.K.A.s having their Far Western Regional in Diego, the Alphas in Los Angeles and Leroy and Jessie Mae Beavers "Carmel by the Sea." Keeping with the old American tradition, people went everywhere—from the beaches to the mountains, and seemed to do everything, so pleace excuse the writer's ignorance of people, places and things not mentioned.

DOWN DIEGO WAY

Drove down to San Diego Friday, helping Bob Hannibal put miles on his new 1949 Mercury, along with Em Chapman. The city was humming with activity getting ready for the A.K.A.s. Had a swell steak dinner at the Black and Tan as Ione Johnson's guest. Saw Wallace Noble, the Temple Potentate of the local Masons. Talked with Ivan Robinson, Omega basketball star, for awhile. Jaunted down Tijuana way in the afternoon to see what was happening. The usual was going on ,nevertheless, Sapnish is still a language for me to learn.

Helen Maupin, who attended the regional at San Diego, said that a tremendous time was had by all. Edna Over Gray, the Supreme Basileus of the A.K.A. sorority, was the honored guest. Pan Hellenic gave an impressive cocktail party and dance on the outskirts, near Tijuana, Friday night, immediately following registration. The U. S. Grant Hotel was the scene for the closed banquet Saturday night, while the Bethel A.M.E. church featured the closed Saturday business sessions. The open Sunday meeting was held at the Bethel Baptist church. The keynote address by Mrs. Gray announced that the American Council on Human Reltaions Committee will open its offices in Washington, D. C., on October 15, 1948. This committee is a cooperative project of the various fraternities with the exception of the Kappas, Omegas, and sororities each of wrom donated $2,500 for its upkeep. The A.K.A.s added $1,000 more to their original donation because it was an outgrowth of one of their long standing organiaztions furthering human progress. With all the business at hand, Itrust that on Sunday night none of the delegates lost anyhing a he Dog Races.

PACIFIC TOWNERS ENTERTAIN

The Pacific Towne Club picnic, held at the Valley Country Club in Sherman Oaks, was indeed something to behold. The atmosphere was appropriate and the setting perfect in every respect of the word. Shady trees that covered the banque ables which possessed "muchO" ho barbecue and carloads of iced drinks. Over 225 persons attended the annual July affair. Watching the softball game were the Steve Rowlands, Eddie Atkinsons Sr., Randolpt Solomans, Gene Houstons, Jesse Robinsons, David Williams, and Ivan Jones' . . . tennis, ping pong and badminton found other groups including the Lawrence Wilsons . . . swimming was enjoyed by both young and adults, for there were separate pools for each. Saw the Jim Scotts Jr. and Sr., Normon O., Norman B. and Ivan Houstons and their families . . . Walter A. Gordon Jr., former Cal football star was a guest as well as Dr. E. Franklin Frazer on the staff at Howard Uni, at present teaching at U.S.C. . . . John Henry Lewis and family and the "ole champ" Joe Oliver Sr., were there too . . . Mrs. Oliver had as her guest Mrs. Frankie Henderson of Chicago . . . The success of the outing was due largely to the efforts of the Social and Entertainment Committees headed by Eddie Atkinson Sr., with members Millard Lacy, Lawrence Cloyd, Lawrence Lassiter, Gerald Barnum, Joe Oliver Sr., and Jesse Robinson. Hats off to a fine organization made up of some of L.A.'s finest.

CHICKENS INCORPORATED

The Wilson and Evans Ranch (ex-Jenkins) in Corona really jumped over the holidays. With Brooksie (Howard) and Mildred, Cliff and Bessie as hosts, people came from miles around . . . Bonnie Patterson with Czar Hanabawa, Eddie (Record Shop) Sneed and Marguerite Power, Bob Hannibal and the pretty Doris Knox from Berkeley, Frank Abneys, Dr. Andy Bassett, Muggins Williams, Raymon dand Rita Herndon, Jackie Qualls, she with beautiful green eyes . . . while Cliff paraded in his new white trunks, "Big Dan" Ferniel really enjoyed the pool, as did Wilbur and Ida Winston . . . Should have seen Marguerite Burke and Gloria Smith, both very "chic" as ever . . . Bal and Corine Kemp with the latest addition, the very likeness of Bal . . . Mr.and Mrs. Howard Wilson Sr. were also there, very proud of their three well-liked sons . . . Robert Wilson is down from Davis College up north . . . Dr. John Holloways . . . the very lovely Vaino Hassen and Dr. John Robinson, the new Deputy Sheriff Francis Garland made the trip . . . Living there while their home is being finished are Arthur and Thelma Houston.

Saturday night Herb Swanigan had some guests over . . . included in the party were Paulette Coleman and a friend, Bill Benfield and Janet Mabra . . . Doris Knox was also there as well as Marinnella Le Beouf with two friends . . . the group joined the crowds and pushed their way to Elsinore on Sunday.

CAVORTING WITH THE ALPHAS

They came from east, north and south of L.A. Leading the contingent was the general president, Attorney Belford V. Lawson, and Bennie D. Brown, executive secretary. Following the registration a conference headquarters, First A.M.E. church, delegates, wives and Alpha men throughout the city journeyed out to Brookside Park for the picnic . . . feature attraction besides free food and drinks was a softball game between the undergraduates and the grads . . . the game was called on account of sore backs and muscles with low basketball score 30 to 26 . . . that Saturday night a cocktail party honoring the visitors was given at Dr. Richard Hawkin's home (he of he West View Hospital). After that gay affair, everyone got up early to attend the breakfast at the Club Congo, Sunday, July the 4th . . . introduced at that time were the various delegates who had just arrived . . . following Sunday worship, the open public meeting was held at the Second Baptist church . . . Pres. Lawson was the principal speaker.

Sunday night J. Barksdale Brown, vice president of the Far Western threw a party that was "right out of this world" . . . serving champagne punch were pretty sisters Angelle Sratton and Jacqualine Jacquet . . . from Berkeley were delegates Tolan Draper and Leonard Jones (of Cal's football team) . . . Pres. Lawson and his attorney, columnist wife, the attractive Marjorie McKenzie Lawson . . . L.A. couples: the Carl Kings, Henry Feltenbergs, Ed Strongs, Dick Hawkins, Artis Grants, Fm. Freemans, George Walls, and Perry Parks were seen nibbling on knic-knacs . . . sipping found the younger lads: Al Tabor and Betty Gray of S.F., Sammy Miller and Doris Golden, Winston Sherard and Jo Ann Johnson, Don Wiggins and Vera Ford, both from up north, Jim McDanields and the charming Florance Edick, and Oscar Little with Mary Louise Whitley . . . around the piano played by Art Lewis (Peg Westerfield close by), Charles Caberllero, and Samuel Brown, we saw Jim Gordon, Clayton Moore, Delow Gray, D.D.S., from Kansas City, Harvey Wright of New Orleans, Lee Oliver of S.F., Lionel Cade and Daisy Dunn, Dr. Stratton, Early Giddings, Mabel Coleman and Ernestine Nickerson, two very attractive young ladies . . . late arrivals were the George McKennys, Ted Lumpkins, Ed Maddoxs, Lovejoy Crawfords, and Dr. George Murrays . . . talked with that perfectly matched couple, Jimmy and Tina Robinson . . . caught a glimpse of Leroy Milton and Grace Davidson, Peter Dauterive and Verna Johnson, Dr. Frank Peterson, Thad Hobbes, Owen Knox and Marguerite Young, not to mention personality plus Gerry Carter.

Grant Venerable brought with his gracious wife, Thelma, his wire recorder and with Rudy Henderson and ye ole scribe as MCs, recorded everyone's voice there, along with the traditional Alpha hymn, and two songs by Gerry Carter . . . Pledges who attended included the Hill twins, Kenneth and Hugo, with pretties Gloria Crouch and Charline Derrick, Lavert Patterson with Yvonne Cole, Roy (Frogie) Johnson and Eleanor Kline, Louis Robinson with Lady Mark Williams and Charles Broussard.

Monday afternoon found the serious element again with the closed business session.

Mondey evening came the closed banquet at Allen's clubhouse, which was a fitting climax to an eventful, gratifying, and pleaurable conference and week end to an Alpha man—I might add.

OLIVER SEES 'N' HEARS

Billie Roberts, who attended West Virginia State, will continue her maltriculation at Figueroa St. Insiue, known to many as U.S.C. . . . Dolores (Doty) Bell arrived at her home in Old Greenwich, Conn. . . . Alice DeCuir, with Henry Armstrong and his wife and daughter, were at the Coliseum on the 4th . . . Pauline Garner just returned via plane from Japan where she served as program chairman for the Tokyo area of the American Red Cross . . . Rev. George Garner III, Pauline's father, had as house guests Mrs. Ina Bolton, Dean of Women at Lincoln U.; Dr. and Mrs. George Lewis of Chicago just left for Mexico City . . . John Hill and his wife, Puffie, inaugurated their new barbecue pit with A land Marilyn Hudson, Bert and Ruth Kenner and those two newlyweds, Barry and Nita Tatse . . . Mrs. Celeste Green of S.F. visited the ever lovely and charming Mrs. Evelyn Coleman . . . Mrs. C. is planning on making the Olympic trip with her husband, Dr. John Coleman(personal physician for Herb McKinley). Doc and Ish Evans (Business Manager for Don Barksdale) will drive to Chicago, and on to New York for the plane trip . . . Speaking of Don, I just heard from the "tout" in Oklahoma; says people are treating him swell—he is even eating at a white sorority house—they are playing practice games against Kentucky in Tulsa and Oklahoma City—as the first negro on the Olympic Basketball team, his work is really cut out for him . . . Nate and Gloria Shaw had barbecue on the 4th. With them were Gene and Flo Williams, Maurice and Boots Jones, Norm and Ivan Houstons, Ed and Betty Henry, R. B. Porter with lovely Gloria Wolfe, Clyde Grimes and Fay Hopkins and Dwight Carter and Gladys Banks—most of the group were at the beach aSturday with their families . . . Dr. A. L. Wallace had as dinner guests: Mrs. Mabel Howard, Mrs. Walter Carter, Miss Emily Anderson, Miss Beatrice McBeth and Mrs. Pauline Earles . . . all from New York . . . the latter are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Rush.

Seen at Elsinore over the 4th were Pat Brown and Johnny Johnston, Henry Mingleton and Marjorie Garret, Freddy Haines and Ann Smith, Frank Harvey and Norma Williams . . . visitors with the group were Eddie Bryant (trac kman from Cal at Berkeley) and Andrea Rickmond, also up north way. Marvel Henderson's place had the roof rocking a wee bit we hear. An after part ywas held at Norma's following the trip back. By the by, mia madre (family plug), Mrs. Mae Oliver, motored up Frisco way with Randy and Ora Solomon—come back soon Mom, I am getting hungry.

Allied Arts League Closes Season With Brunch and Installation of Officers

The League of Allied Arts closed their 1947-48 year's activities and program with a Brunch at the Farber Park Manor Breakfast Room, 2200 W. 7th Street. A perfect setting for such a gathering as only the League of Allied Arts seemingly can get together. With the beautiful table decorations and the colorful fashions of each member and her guests, the beauty of the building and its overlooking scene "out on the lake," the affair holds honors to have been the best yet on L. A. social calendar.

The theme for the day was "Giving Honor Where Honor Is Due." Receiving these honors were the president and founder, Dorothy Vena Johnson, who has served as president since the League's first meeting 11 years ago, and Frances Henderson, faithful secretary. Each have filled their post unselfishly and unbiased, at all times giving the best they had or could find to aid the cause of the League to further cultural gain and better standards of the art for the good of the community .Orchids were placed on each of the Honoree Officers to tell them that their services had been rendered to us and the community with all the beauy of soul and sincere loyalty that any one could expect.

The spirit of the occasion was so full of appreciation for these officers that Harold Browning seemingly sang as he had never done. The surprise highlight of the morning was the presentation of an odd styled table brass lamp to the president, Mrs. Johnson.

Installation ceremonies was also a part of the morning program, those installed for the year 1948-49 were: Dorothy Vena Johnson, president; Betty Vaughn, 1st vice president; 2nd vice president, Dorothy Howard; recording secretary, Frances Henderson; corresponding secretary, Ethel Bell; treasurer, Maurine Browning; floor member representatives, Helen Garrott and Antoinette Atkinson.

Faustina Johnson, parliamentarian, served as Mistress of Ceremonies (throughout the program), and the installing officer.

League members and their guests numbered eighty. Each one said goodbye to the League program until September, when another hard year's work is planned.

The League gave their annual scholarship for 1948-49 to Harvey McClain, student of Jefferson High, who will enroll in California School of Art.

Talented Student To Take Summer N.Y. Drama Course

Recipient of a dramatic scholarship, Miss Florence Inez Smith, granddaughter of Mrs. Lillie B. Emmerly of 1027 East 43rd street, left Monday, June 28, for New York to begin a six weeks training course at Fieldston School in Riverdale, New York.

Miss Smith won this scholarship through the citizenship program of the Avalon Community Center, Mrs. Carnella J. Barnes, executive secretary. She received this award for meritorious work and outstanding ability in the dramatic field.

Credited with a large portion of the financial arrangements for the trip was the pastor, Dr. Hawes, and friends of Westminster Presbyterian church. Miss Smith, who is superintendent of the Intermediate department of the Sunday School, received her training in the Donahue Dramatic Workshop group.

She was acclaimed a promising star by the sponsor and associates. After completing dramatic studies, Miss Smith plans to visit relatives and friends in Washington, D. C. and other points East.

Vacation Tour

Mrs. Ina Howard, 1287 W. 36th st., has been on an extended motor tour vacation for the past three weeks, with her cousins, Mesdames Elizabeth Armstrong and Zeypher Ramsey of Pasadena, and John Knox, also of Pasadena.

The group began their tour with a visit to Las Vegas and Boulder Dam, with stopovers in Salt Lake City, Omaha and Chicago, where the Mesdames Ramsey and Armstrong have two sisters residing. They continued to New York, where they witnessed the Joe Louis-Walcott fight. Washington, D. C., and Baltimore, where Mrs. Howard has a sister, were also visited. The group expects to return to California by July 15, by way of New Mexico.

Mrs. Howard is a pioneer resident of Los Angeles, having come here in 1902 from Knoxville, Tenn., with her family. Mrs. Howard is superintendent of the Sunday school of Holman Methodist church, and is also a member of several social clubs.

KINLOCH'S ☆ KORNER

Dedicated to the memory of John Kinloch, who died in the struggle to destroy Fascism

Raisin' Cain

By CARL L. CAIN

PEACE OR MILITARISM

Last week, as the first of a few articles that I'd like to write in a campaign for peace, an attempt was made to discuss the practical things that individuals could do to help out — to help themselves and to help the peoples of the rest of the world. I mentioned turning the other cheek and trying to get along with the horrible people who live in that house next door. This week, we shall go further into the study of the question of peace, jumping to the national and international conditions.

By far the most important present issue is the question of militarizing in the United States. It is said that the Russians are already moblized and that there are about five to ten million men in the Soviet Uniform. What we have done in our own country is to pass a law drafting an annual two hundred fifty thousand men for twenty-one months' service, thus keeping an army of three hundred thousand at all times or more. Our leaders actually deny that this is a race for arms, but that we are merely maintaining sufficient forces for our 'national defense.' The bill recently passed has no clause or provision to outlaw the customary traditions of segregation and discrimination in the service. In substance, it's merely a wild attempt by Congress to get going down the political road that has a basket of ballots at the end. In the first place, if we're going to adopt peace-time conscription, we might as well stop shouting about how bad Russia or any other nation is, for we are equally guilty in promoting war. What they wanted was something — some insignificant law to show that they had planned for national defense, those crafty Congressmen. I think, however, that the time has come when we can no longer justify the acts of our leaders, regardless of what they are, and the draft bill is one of them. The rush for arms and therein the Third World War is on.

We have a choice, the peoples of the world, between peace and great militarism. I should think that we would know, by this time, war is outmoded and out of date. Modern minded people no longer build armies and attempt to destroy a type of life through the extermination of a race, or a people. If we dislike Communism, as we did Nazism, we have to fight it with a perfect nation —a democracy beyond fault. The eyes of the world will be filled always with suspicion and doubt and fear of the American people. We'll be known once more as 'the yankee with the big stick.' And such titles were and are true. In that day there was ground for such a statement. Today, with a gigantic army and air force, with men marching down our great boulevards with guns and drums, we'll become as much like the Nazis as they dared to be themselves. All the true respect that the common peoples of other nations had for us will be washed away, along with our hopes of ever building a means, and only through such means can we really hope to maintain it.

It is true that Congress has adjourned for the session and until January. By the time a new Congress is elected, and I assure you it will be new, the draft bill will be in full effect. We can hope to get it repealed with a new administration, but until then, what?

Well, there's a new movement in the country through which people plan to disobey on a huge scale when they are called by the draft board — or before the time of registration. They are going to disagree because they are opposed to the idea of war and a great military force and are in favor of peace through peaceful means. They know, and quite well, that nothing can be accomplished through force and violence; that much we learned from all the wars in the past. That brings us to the fact that its now a choice between arming and making peace work — making the organizations sponsoring peace work and develop an understanding of the people who live in the world about us. The great today is the complete abolition of the idea of military force and concentration of power for peace. The creation of fear and hate is arbitrarily the creation of war. And so the great step today is to rule out the idea that fear and violence perpetually rule. For that is wrong. They never have and never will. The desire and will of the majority will rule, whether it be centered about war or peace. There's noting peaceful and kind about machine guns and soldiers and atomic bombs.

THAT DONKEY CONVENTION

one certain man to regain an office has done him no

Apparently four years of hard work on the part of good at all. Factually the people behind him are quite dissatisfied with the things he has done. Cutting away the fuzz, it doesn't look like Mr. Harry S. Truman will win the Democratic nomination. The head of the party, James Roosevelt, ignored and such idea in the meeting when Mr. Truman was in the west ,and now they're talking of running Eisenhower. That's what it looks like. But the odds are ten to one thta Mr. Truman will walk away from that donkey convention a'totin the nomination. They might run James Roosevelt as vice-president.

20TH CENTURY CLUB MEETS

The 20th Century Girls Club held their June meeting in the beautiful home of Mrs. Olivia Chelette, 619 East 37th street.

Mrs. Irene Williams Preston, president, presided. A big surprise for the citizens of Los Angeles is being planned by the Girls, which will be announced later. Mrs. Jo Ann Slayton, who has been absent for some time, is expected to return soon. Refreshments were served after the meeting, with a beautiful table setting and delicious food.

Mrs. Anna Mae Rogers will be the next hostess. She is planning to take the members to Lake Elsinore. All mail should be sent to Mrs. Gertie Broussard, 1384 West 37th place.

Community Sing At Lafayette Center; Summer Program

A very interesting program was rendered at the Lafayette Center Community Sing, Monday, June 28.

Features were: Brownie and his New Yorkers — young adult orchestra from the Musician's Union No. 767. An appreciation is extended to President Bailey for making it possible for this aggregation to appear. Ruth Williams was pianist.

Jose Smith, a promising tenor, received a good ovation. Frankie Rays, a Mexican (Sinatra), had the teen-agers swooning. Natividad Vacio and his electric guitar were well received, and Butterfly McQueen, movie star, did a terrific comical song, "Spring." Miss McQueen also led the parents and youth in a big hit group song.

Ten families registered Monday for the family contest that began last week.

Representatives and leaders on hand to assist with the crowd were:

Mmes. Katherine Kinney and McReynolds, Board of Education; Mrs. Vacio, All Nations Foundation members of the Y's men club, sponsors of the Community Sing; Miss Burwell, director, Bureau of Music; Jewell Smith, pianist, Bureau of Music; Ruth L. Redd, publicity, social worker, Church Welfare Bureau.

Summer activities began last week at Lafayette Center for the four elementary schools in area III. Gates will be open from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. There will be movies each Thursday at 2 p. m., sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., and an orchestra concert Tuesday and Thursday. There will also be trips, swims, folk dancing, crafts, etc.

Jeff Hi Plans Summer Program 3 Nights Per Week

A committee consisting of Miss Alice Collins, of the Youth Project and Coordinating Council in Area No. 4; Miss Matred McKissick, Branch Executive Woodlawn YWCA; Mr. Bryce Taylor, coach at Jefferson High School; Mr. McMasters, supervisor of Recreation and Playground Area No. 4; Mr. McAllister, director Ross Snyder playground; Mrs. Harris, who will be director of the recreational program at Jefferson; and Mrs. Luvenia Towles, who will work a coordinator from the YWCA, met Friday afternoon, July 2 with Mr. Farmun, vice principal of Jefferson High School.

A program to meet the needs of both teenagers and adults was arranged. Three evenings a week will be given to carry out this program: Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. hTe school will be open from 7 to 11 p.m. and all activities will be carried out under direct supervision. It is hoped that both youngsters and adults will avail themselves of this wholesome recreation.

Wednesday evening will be given to the teenagers group with boys and girls from 13 to 19 years of age. There will be sports and dancing. Admission will be .05 per ticket out of which money will be used to buy prizes.

Another feature will be the evening for young adults. Young women and men, married or single, from ages 19 on are urged to come to learn to play volleyball, basketball, tennis, pingpong and other games.

Friday evening will be given over to entertaining youngsters and parents with motion pictures. Parents are especially urged to visit the school and enjoy these activities any evening that they can find convenient to do so.

The Knighs and Ladies of the Round Table, a boy and girl group of Jefferson High School, will assist in making this summer program a success by lending their assistance and serving each evening at the school.

The opening program will be held on Wednesday evening, July 14, at Jefferson High School at 7 p.m.

Roach Blasts 'Criminal' Comic As Demoralizers of Youth

The newest source of juvenile demoralization found on news stands was blasted by Supervisor Leonard J. Roach last week as he took action to stop the sale of crime picture books now being sold to children.

Armed with a stack of vividly colored, partially draped gun molls, Acting Chairman Roach charged that the pulp publications are being mixed in with comic books and sold to children as young as ten years of age.

"These are a splendid education in crime for children," Roach stated, "if you want your child to become adept in that profession."

Solidly backing Roach, the Board of Supervisors instructed the County Counsel to study the matter to see what steps the County can take to correct the situation.

"Even adults enjoy a good comic book," Roach said, "but these crime and sex books should not be mixed in with the comics to warp the minds of our children."

Among those speaking in support of Roach's proposal we Robert Davis of the Cou Grand Jury; Mrs. R. S. Gan stad, Chairman of the Juven Protection Committee of the 1 District PTA; and Mrs. C. Spradling, vice-president of Public Welfare Commission a member of the Youth Committ

Final Rites For Rev. White, Grant Chapel, Long Beach

The Rev. Henry Clay White, 911 East 10th street, Long Beach, passed o his reward after an illness of 2 years and 4 months duration. He kas born February 23, 1877. Died June 23, 1948.

Rev. Mr. White was a member of the A.M.E. Church Southern California Conference, and an elder in super-numerary relationship. He was converted at the tender ageof 8 years at Neylandville, Texas, the place of his birth. He married February 9, 1907, Miss Beulah Ann Crawford, of Anadorko, Okla., Rev. M. H. Hawkins officiating. This union was terminated only by the "grim messenger" after 41 years and 4 months.

Rev. White was ordained to the ministry in 1912, and has pastored the following charges: Wellington, Newton, and Winfield in Kansas; Pocatello, Idaho; Yakima, Wash.; Great Falls, Helena, and Billings, Mont.; Stockton, San Bernardino, and Long Beach, Calif. A total of 2171 converts and accessions are the result of his ministry, and the present edifice, Grant Chapel, in Long Beach, will stand as a fitting memorial of his labors and the friends he made in that community.

The body of Rev. White lay in state at Grant Chapel, Long Beach, Tuesday, June 29, from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Then it was taken to Grant Chapel, South Los Angeles, for final rites, with the Rev. Browning C. Allen, pastor, in charge.

The A.M.E. Alliance of Greater Los Angeles area participated in the services. Dr. S. A. Amos is president of the Alliance, and Dr. T. A. Patterson, secretary, who read the scripture and presented the resolution of condolence. Mrs. Hazel Sanders was at the organ.

Tributes were paid by Drs. J. W. Price, F. D. Jordan, and Jno. M. Brown. A violin solo, "Jesus Is All the World to Me," was rendered by Mrs. Evelyn Wade; vocal solos by Mrs. Susie McBride Johnson and E. R. Jackson; the obituary and resolutions by Mrs. Freda Taft, the announcements of telegrams, cards, etc., by Dr. Amos; prayer by Dr. Frank H. Mays. The I.B.P.O.E. of W. was present to pay homage to its fallen member. The choir of Grant Chapel with the pastor, Rev. C. B. Clements, and the choir of Long Beach, served jointly.

The Angelus Funeral Home was in charge. Interment was made in Long Beach cemetery.

The surviving relatives are: Mrs. Beulah White, widow; Will Brigham, brother, of Dallas, Texas; Meta Johnson, sister, of Dallas; Virgie Burris, sister, of Neylandville; 6 nephews and 10 nieces, and a host of other relatives and friends.

If you axe us what we think of the President's success in splintering the Democrat party we'll remind you of the old saw: "He's not the best carpenter that makes the most chips."

DOCTOR OF METAPHYSICS

REV. JOHN H. SPENCER who has finished the credit requirements; the one year's study and research in Metaphysical Theology; Metaphysical Bible Interpretation; Psychology and Philosophy; to qualify for the Doctorate Degree in Metaphysics and Spiritual Mind Healing. Mr. Spencer, after having taken his Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Religious Science and Healing here in Los Angeles, at the Institute of Religious Science and Philosophy, elected to take the doctorate work with the Chicago College of Metaphysics.

To the field of Metaphysical teaching and healing, Dr. Spencer brings a rich experience in education and the teaching field. Being a college graduate holding a B.S. Degree in that profession, too, and having for twenty years taught as principal-teacher in the schools of the great Southwest. In Metaphysics, he is author of several books and lectures: The Activities of the Subconscious Mind, Your Other Self, and Beyond the Normal Standard.

He also does family and marital counseling, metaphysical healing as well as the teaching of the above. An announcement will soon follow as to the location address and telephone number.

REV REDD SECURES CHURCH SPONSORED BOY SCOUT TROOPS

The Rev. Ernest S. Redd, field scout commissioner for interracial service, Los Angeles Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, scored in his contacts with the ecclesiastical brotherhood in an effort to secure more church-sponsored Boy Scout troops.

Rev. Redd, as a council leader, was successful in securing the approval of Dr. Grant Harris, Zion Hill Baptist church, 51st st. and McKinley ave., one of our leading churches in the community. Dr. Harris has already appointed a committee on scouting in the persons of Messrs. Ira T. Bound, Sammy L. Reed, Leon Singleton, L. M. Myles, Alvin Kachinsky and Josephus Dean. The committee on scouting is planning a "get acquainted with scouting" conference—date to be announced later.

The Rev. E. A. Anderson was interviewed by Field Commissioner Redd and he is reported to have agreed to the McCoy Memorial church to becoming a sponsor of a Boy Scout troop. W. J. Bogan was appointed by Rev. Anderson as the institutional representative.

The Mt. Zion Baptist church,

REV. ERNEST S. REDD

Dr. F. H. Prentice, pastor, is planning a conference with Boy Scout officals, states Thomas P. Jackson, in order to integrate the scouting program as a vital part of the church program. Rev. Washington is heading this project at Mt. Zion.

The Holy Name society of the Holy Name Catholic church, Jefferson at Cimarron, has launched the scouting program for boys of their parish, according to the president of the society. The committee on scouting has announced that Arthur Pickett will be the scoutmaster of the troop.

Rev. Redd also reports that the Mt. Sinai Baptist church, Rev. A. W. Hector, pastor, 27th and Western ave., has voted to become a sponsor for a Boy Scout troop. Rev. Hector himself will serve as institutional representative for the church.

The Rev. Redd is also director of Christian education at Trinity Baptist church, 35th st. and Normandie, Dr. J. L. Caston, pastor. He has reorganized the scouting program at Trinity, and John Allen, scoutmaster, is serving effectively as a Boy Scout leader.

Usher Board Union Convention Held At Independent Church

The Usher Board Union of the State of California was convened at the People's Independent Church of Christ, 18th & Paloma streets on the 23rd, 24th and 25th of June. Was well attended.

Delegates began to pour into the city on Tuesday evening, June 22nd by all means of transportation. About 150 out of town members of the organization attended the pre-convention dinner which was given in the dining hall of the Independent Church of Christ. A splendid and delicious meal was served.

The convention was opened Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, this was Junior's Day. All meetings were under the auspices of the junior organization with our own Mrs. Pauline James presiding. Official greetings were extended on Wednesday night from the Civil Judiciaries and Ministers of the city. After which a public reception was held.

Thursday was the first day of the Seniors. The Seniors State president, Mrs. Elmira Smith presiding. On Thursday afternoon the Health Unit was in charge. A picture, titled, "Danger is your Companion," was shown and interpreted by Dr. Eastin, which was very educational and timely. On Thursday evening, the oratorical contest was held in the auditorium of the Peoples Independent Church of Christ. Miss Agnes Moreland, of Pilgrim Baptist Church, whose subject "The Fortification of Youth for the World of Tomorrow" was the winner and was also awarded a $100.00 scholarship to aid her in the pursuit of higher education.

Friday morning, a tropical discussion, "Service," led by Mr. N. W. Tukes, was the high light of the morning meeting. Some very fine points were given which, if applied, will make the organization more outstanding in its work and endeavors in the future. Much praise is to be given Mr. Tukes and others who assisted him in this discussion. The president, Mrs. Smith's address was also very inspirational and was well received.

Friday afternoon the election was held. Mrs. Gertie R. Lee, president for the ensuing year and the election of Mrs. Emma J. Jones and Mrs. Elmira Smith to represent us in the National which will be held in Detroit this year. Friday evening was the closing program. It was well attended. The address given by Mrs. A. W. Jordan was very educational. Installation of officers by Mrs. C. K. McAlpin, vice chairman of National Board of Directors, was very unique in her presentation and in her charge to the newly elected officers.

We wish to thank all individuals, churches, auxiliaries, organizations, ministers, newspapers, photographers and businesses that helped it be a great or small and contributed to the success of the convention and helped us to make the stay of our guests most pleasant while in the city. We are deeply indebted to you and very grateful to you and yours. Thank you again and again.

Those wishing to procure pictures of the convention kindly contact Chairman at PLymouth 5-6620.

Baha'is Hear Report On Geneva Confer.

Leroy Ioas of Riverside, Illinois, Passenger Traffic Manager of the Southern Pacific R. R. was guest speaker for the Los Angeles Baha'i Assembly at a special meeting in the Los Angeles Center at 331 So. New Hampshire, last week.

Mr. Ioas was one of five accredited Baha'i delegates to the Human Relations Division of the United Nations Conference held at Geneva, Switzerland May 17th to 22nd. He was also one of the 90 Baha'is attending the historic first Baha'i European Conference in Geneva from May 22nd to 26th. Of this group 19 were Baha'is from California. Some had gone abroad to become resident teachers and settlers under the direction of the National Baha'i Teaching Committee.

Christian Science Subject 'Sacrament'

"Sacrament" will be the Sunday Lesson-Sermon subject in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text, chosen from John, reads, "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him."

It is related in Matthew that "the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them." And in The Acts it is recorded that Jesus "said unto them, . . . ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, . . . and unto the uttermost part of the earth. . . . And . . . as Peter . . . came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda. . . . he found a certain man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy. And Peter said unto him, Aeneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately."

"It is the living Christ, the practical Truth, which makes Jesus 'the resurrection and the life' to all who follow him in deed," writes Mary Baker Eddy in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Again she says, "It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman,—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness."
